It has occurred to me that readers of The Star would find it interesting and instructive to know how many minutes the average paid skilled worker had to work to obtain—a loaf of bread, a suit of clothes, one mile of railway transportation, one kilowatt hour of power and other commonly used articles and services in various cities all over the world. Such an investigation would I believe show that the average man is far better off in the democratic countries than in the dictator countries and circulation of such information would be a much more effective answer to Fascist and Communist propaganda than any padlock law.

J. A. CLARKE

• He Will Let the Courts Function

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

THE DECLARATION made at Port Arthur the other day by the attorney-general of Ontario will be applauded by the people of the province. Ontarioans share with their fellow citizens throughout Canada just pride in the integrity of Canadian courts. It is confidently expected that justice will be meted out by them without fear or favor.

It will be a source of gratification to all, therefore, to see what Hon. G. D. Conant said to the Lakehead, that he would not interfere, as attorney-general, in the administration of justice of courts of law. In support of his declaration, he stated that since he assumed office the average of clemency extended had dropped to about 8 per cent from 20 to 40 per cent of sentences imposed over a period of years.

"Never let it be said," he added, "that fixing of a magistrate, or any other official, concerned with the administration of justice, is possible in Ontario. This is fundamental to our very liberties and to democracy itself." Mr. Conant challenged the members of the Bar to give thought to the cost of litigation, by which many are defeated of their just claims because of their limited resources. In his opinion, in this way, equal justice to all the people was not possible under the existing system of civil jurisprudence.

Mr. Conant's conduct of his department of government at Queen's Park, and the reforms he has enacted since his appointment are decidedly in the interests of justice to every citizen. We are confident that the public will approve the course he has pursued.

WHY A HORSE SHIES

(Our Dumb Animals)

HORSES, DEPENDENT on fleet-footedness for safety, were creatures of the plains. They hold their head high so they can be on their feet instantly, ready to race away. A horse still shies because, in the wild, many enemies lurked in roadside herbage. When it lies at rest, it does so facing the probable point of danger, and rises on its front feet first, that it may the more easily discover it. A colt takes its nourishment in small doses, never gorging, ready to run at a moment's warning.

CAUSE OF BUSH FIRES.

(Sault Ste. Marie Star)

SEVEN OUT OF thirteen bush fires last week in the Blind River division of this inspectorate were caused, reports show, by smokers, while another three were caused by campers. Only two were the result of lightning. In one case the cause was unknown.

This illustrates once more the damage done by human agency and once a forest area is burned over it takes many years to replace it.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

LISTEN, O ISLES unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The Lord hath called me from the womb. . . . And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me; and said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.—Isaiah xlix, 1, 2, 3.

And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will not lay hold on it and lift it out? How much than is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth: and it was restored whole, like as the other. Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.—Matthew xii, 10-15.

CANADIAN LAWYERS

(Kitchener Record)

The last census showed over 8,000 persons occupied as lawyers in Canada, with 544 justices and magistrates, not all of whom were necessarily graduates of law schools, but most of whom are likely to be placed as such. There is thus one lawyer for every 1,200 of the population, and as there is one doctor for every 1,000, it would seem to appear that our bodily ills take more looking after than keeping us within the rules by which society governs its actions.

Mixed Ox-Horse Team Cross Road, Truck Is Ditched, Lad Hurt And Driver Faces Three Charges

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Sept. 7—Following an accident, during which it is said by police, that Jake Johnson, 8-year-old Tweed youth sustained an injured shoulder and fractured ribs when thrown from a motor truck near Thomasburg, Isaiah Woodock, Tweed, was arrested and charged with three violations of the highway traffic act by Motorcycle Patrolman Sam Ervine. Woodcock was remanded in custody until Friday.

The accused man was apprehended near the scene of the accident and later faced charges of criminal negligence, inadequate brakes and reckless driving. Constable Ervine stated Woodcock was driving in the wake of another truck near Thomasburg, when the lead vehicle stopped in order to permit a team consisting of an ox and horse, to cross the highway. Woodcock truck careened into the ditch where young Johnson, a passenger was thrown out and sustained injuries. Dr. Dales of Tweed attended the injured youth while Woodcock appeared before C. H. Kerr of Tweed, Justice of Peace.

Upon the examination the truck was found to have defective brakes, no rear vision mirror, no reflector, one headlight and a broken gear lever, the officer stated.

Millbrook Hears Talk On China

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Sept. 7. — Forty years of service in China, thirty-six of which were spent in association with the Bible Society, were the outstanding facts mentioned in connection with Rev. H. O. T. Birkwall, guest speaker in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning, when introduced by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Sisco.

Mr. Birkwall, who is at present home on furlough, but who is hoping to return to China when conditions are more settled, spoke at St. John's Church, Ida, in the afternoon, Venerable Archdeacon William Simpson having charge of the service, and in Grace Presbyterian Church at night, with the minister, Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., presiding.

Unfolding a tale of intense interest in connection with the work of the Bible Society, Rev. Mr. Birkwall, who chose as his text in the morning, "The word of the truth of the Gospel as it is in all the world, bringeth forth fruit" (Col. 1, 5, 6), stressed the simple reading of God's Word, and its power.

"One hundred and thirty years ago the Bible Society was organized with the Scriptures then translated into seventy-six languages. To-day we have passed the one thousand mark, and have the Bible translated into 1,013 languages and dialects, and from ten to fifteen new translations are being added each year. We have scores of missionaries at work on new languages, and last year the world-wide circulation of the Scriptures, through the Society, reached a total of 11,343,948 volumes, and still 'Man's response is inadequate to God's call'; the open doors for which we have prayed are confronting us, and in spite of all that has been done, much work waits to be accomplished."

Of interest was the explanation given by Mr. Birkwall when he said that none of the funds subscribed for the Bible Society are used for buildings—these have all been secured through special subscriptions; nor are any used for printing plants, all of this work being done by contract; nor are they used, except in a small degree, to pay colporteurs' salaries. "Save your used stamps, and send them to the Bible House; one lady there does nothing else but attend to their disposal, and the money obtained is devoted to paying colporteurs' salaries. So you may hape a definite part in this work."

Three methods of approach are used in carrying on in the Bible Society work in foreign lands — teaching the people to read, giving them the Scriptures in their own tongue, and by testimony of those who have been won for Christ through His Word. "Through its colporteurs and Bible women the Book goes to the ends of the earth, and so, in ever-widening circles, goes out this leaven for the healing of the nations."

6,000 To Go On Strike In 'Frisco Stores

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7—(AP)—The Retail Department Store Clerks Union, with more than 6,000 members in 27 major department stores, voted last night to go on strike today.

The action came after a final peace meeting with employers failed to break a deadlock in contract negotiations over the Union's demand for storewide seniority rights, against employer insistence on departmental seniority, and a method of hiring.

A group of 47 retail stores, including those against which the strike was called, issued a statement declaring they would open for business despite the walkout.

Police vacations were cancelled and plans were made to move 100 extra police into the shopping district.

Labor leaders said it was the largest department store strike ever called in the United States.

The store walkout is the first of a number of long-smouldering disputes here to come to a show-down. A total of 120 wholesale grocery, drug, hardware, dry goods, liquor and public warehouses remained closed in a battle between employers and warehousemen affiliated with the committee for industrial organization.

Faulty Table Manners Make a Bad Impression

Avoid Public Blunders

How embarrassing! When the sophisticated Witherspoons pause at Jim and Dora's table, she betrays her social inexperience by rising as she's introduced.

Nothing shows poor breeding so quickly as bad table etiquette. And some girls never learn the correct thing.

Nervous Nancy rearranges the food on her plate before she starts to eat, makes absent-minded gestures wiht her fork, pushes her plate away as soon as she's finished a course.

Why not be sure your table manners are pleasing. Our 32-page booklet gives course-by-course directions for formal dinners. Tips on erstaurants, buffet suppers, teas, clubs.

New York Mourns As Cardinal Passes

Official mourning clothes New York and an endless stream of sorrowers moved past the bier as preparations were made for the funeral of His Eminence Patrick, Cardinal Hayes, a man who was born and reared in east side poverty, yet rose to head the largest and richest diocese in the Roman Catholic Church. Cardinal Hayes, 70 years old and in poor health, died in his sleep at his summer home at Monticello, N.Y. This is a recent portrait of the beloved prince of the church, world-renowned for his charities; in the inset he is pictured as he conducted Good Friday ceremonies.

TWO WORLDS

BY MAUD McCURDY WELCH

CHAPTER 35.

On the way back to town after that long kiss in the rowboat, Julian said, his voice not quite steady, "Let's try to talk this thing over sensibly, my dear."

Nosl silently agreed.

"A mariage between us," Julian began, "would be doomed from the beginning. As I said before, you'd want to play while I have to work. Also, Noel, I never expect to make much money."

"You wouldn't need to—" Noel began, and in that very minute knew she had said the wrong thing.

For right away Julian said, "You certainly couldn't believe for one minute that I'd use—yours?"

"No, Julian, of course not," she hurried to say, and then stopped. After that, she didn't know how to go on. She couldn't see any reason in the world why Julian shouldn't use her money if they were married. But she knew she wouldn't dare let him know she felt this way.

"After all, Julian," she began again at last, "isn't this whole argument just a matter of silly pride on your part?"

"If it should be," Julian said slowly, "then the obstacles between us might easily be removed. But it's so much more vital than that. I dislike almost every kind of social diversion, abhor bridge, like dancing sometimes, not often, and I'd certainly hate trotting about Europe with an entourage of maids and valets and a couple of Pekinese—"

"Now you're being ridiculous," Noel said with reproach.

"I suppose I am," Julian smiled.

"But the point is," he went on after a pause, "you can't hitch a butterfly to a plow. I know that comparisons are odious, and this one is particularly so, perhaps," he smiled, "but he situation is something like that. We couldn't adjust our two worlds and strike a happy medium between them."

"But we're both human beings possessed of average intelligence," Noel smiled.

Julian, however, did not return her smile. "I had a friend a year or two older than myself," he resumed, "who made the mistake of marrying a society woman. He was a doctor and on the way to making a brilliant record among the same class of people who come to me, the 'little people' as they are sometimes called. But what happened after his marriage?" He did not wait for an answer, but went on, "It wasn't long before he was forced to make a choice between going on with the really great work he was doing and that of becoming a 'society doctor,' attending teas and functions because of his wife's demands, making calls on the pampered wives of the rich, patting their hands, prescribing pretty pink pills for their over-nourished stomachs and affecting a graceful bedside manner."

"Julian—really!" Noel began protesting, but he ignored her voice. "You couldn't blame the poor chap, either," he continued. "He faced a cruel choice, for there was a boy, a handsome manly little fellow. He would have lost not only his wife, but this son, for his wife threatened to divorce him unless he gave up his practice in the slums, as it seemed to her. So he became a 'society doctor.'" Julian's voice was tinged with contempt. "I never expect to face a choice like that," he finished abruptly.

Noel was strangely silent after that. There seemed to be so little left to say. Or else it was because there was really a lot to be said, but she could not find the words.

And then Julian was stopping the car before the shabby Court street house. "So you really have stuck it out here. I'll have to admit, Noel, that you have more grit than I thought."

That word grit — it had a strange, earthy satisfying sound, even after everything Julian had said.

Then Noel heard herself saying, her voice a little shaky, "Suppose I told you that I'm leaving tomorrow—going to Hollywood."

"To Hollywood? Just to be going?"

"That's what you like most, isn't it?" Julian's voice was low.

"No, it just seems to be my one accomplishment," she said lightly. Then asked, "What do you think?"

"If you really want my opinion," Julian began, "I'd much rather see you go back to your bridge-playing, cocktail crowd."

He sat there for a amoment in silence. Then his voice came again with an undernote of bitterness. "When one diversion grows stale, I suppose you must seek others. Hollywood is no better or worse than any other place. But naturally, it will be more thrilling."

"And, of course, it doesn't really matter to you where I am," she said, her voice breaking slightly.

Julian did not answer. Noel broke the silence by saying in a voice still not quite steady, "You once said that a girl like myself should belong to a man's lighter moments. But as for me—I want a secure place. That is, I—" but she stopped self-consciously.

Julian was still silent. At last he said, his voice poignant with feeling. "If I said that, I was very wrong. For I have found that our few hours together snatched in between my hours of work, give me a new inspiration to—carry on. A doctor always has his moods of discouragement, people being what they are, mulish and stubborn, often stupid and ignorant, but withal, gallant and brave as an army marching to a martial air. You help me, Noel," he added.

Strange, contradictory man. Noel leaned a little nearer. "If that is true, isn't it proof that we should be friends—at least?"

"Yes, friends, always," Julian murmured.

She lifted her head then and her face was so near that Julian bent and kissed her delicately. There was none of the fire and the flame of this kiss on the river. He had himself well in hand.

"Good night, my dear," he said "and since we've reached the understanding at last that we're to be friends, you'll let me see you again? I'm a very selfish man, I'm afraid."

"Yes, soon," she said in a happy whisper and went into the house.

Laurie was awake, and her brown eyes were round with excitement. "Chris phoned and said to get ready to start to Hollywood."

Noel sank into the hard wooden rocker. "I can't go. I can't They'll have to take the other girl. Shell probably be a hundred times better than I should anyway."

"It's Doctor Paige, isn't it?" Laurie asked.

"Yes, angel, it is," Noel said exultantly. "Tonight is one of the times I'm convinced Julian loves me. Tomorrow or next day I'll know better—but just for tonight I'm letting myself dream."

"He does love you, Noel," Laurie said confidently.

For the first time Noel looked directly into her face. Then she exclaimed, "What's the matter? You've been crying!" She went over and sat on the bed beside Laurie and put her arm around her, lifting her chin up with her finger. "Tell me," she urged.

"It's Pete," Laurie said in a stifled voice. "He's in love with me."

"Pete?" Noel echoed mystified. "Who on earth is he? And why should you care if he is in love with you? You're in love with Jimmy."

"I'm not—I mean, I'm — getting over it," Laurie contradicted.

"Who is this Pete?" Noel asked again.

"Pete Cointepas. He owns the De Luxe, don't you remember?"

"Oh, of course." Noel did remember the rather rotund, young-ish-old man she had seen so many times bustling importantly about the cafe,

"So he's in love with you, is he?" Noel asked thoughtfully, still not understanding the reason for the traces of tears around Laurie's eyes.

"Yes, he is. And why shouldn't I love him back?" Laurie exclaimed with a sudden hoarse emphasis that was entirely foreign to her usual voice. "I did love Jimmy," she went on in a lower tone, "I wanted to marry him, and have his babies. I've always been alone. I never had any family at all, and you just don't know what it would mean to me. And if I can't have Jimmy, then I can have Pete Cointepas. His children will probably be as nice as Jimmy's, except—of course, I know they won't," Laurie suddenly broke off with a sob.

Noel held her closer. "You funny funny kid. Don't you know a girl can't fool herself into thinking she can love a man just because he wants to marry her?"

Dates Expected In 4 Federal Ballots Today

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP). — The Cabinet will hold its weekly session late today and it is expected that polling dates for the four Federal by-elections will be announced as well as the appointment of a judge to inquire into the Bren machine gun contract with the John Inglis Company of Toronto.

The government is anxious to get the judicial inquiry into the contract, criticized by Col. George A. Drew in a magazine article, underway as soon as possible.

The Cabinet likely will hear latest confidential reports on the negotiations continuing in Washington for a revision of the Canada-United States trade pact. According to best information here the negotiations will be concluded in about two weeks.

Trade Minister Euler will arrive in Canada Saturday after cutting short his proposed extended trip to Europe. His decision to return along with the presence recently in Ottawa of several members of the Canadian trade mission sent to Washington lend credence to the belief that the new agreement is nearly completed.

There is no indication that the new Anglo-American agreement which also is being negotiated in the U.S. capital will be concluded simultaneously with the Canadian treaty. There is keen interest here in the Anglo-American pact as it is believed to involve Canada in sacrifice of some of its preferences in the British market.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King is still suffering from sciatica but he may come down from his Kingsmere estate in the Gatineau Hills to attend the Cabinet Council.

Goodnight Story

By MAX TRELL

It was very early in the morning when Knarf, the shadow boy with the turned-about name, came running over to his sister, Hanid. She was sitting very quietly in a corner of the playroom, waiting for the children.

"Hanid! Come into the kitchen! Something is happening!"

"Happening! What is happening?"

"I don't know exactly. Katybelle has a big pillow on the table and she's rolling it flatter and flatter!"

Hanid looked puzzled for a moment. Then she said: "All right, let's go in and see what she's doing. A pillow? I wonder what Katybelle can be doing with a pillow?"

Looked Like Pillow.

So they ran quickly down the hall

"Hanid! Come into the kitchen."

until they came to the kitchen. They stopped at the door and peered in. Sure enough, there was Katybelle, wearing her big calico apron and rolling something that looked like a pillow on the table.

"Didn't I tell you so?" Knarf.

But when Hanid looked more closely she smiled. "It isn't a pillow at all. It's a big lump of dough. Katy is making a pie."

"Oh," said Knarf.

"That's dough. It's for the pie crust."

"It doesn't look like pie crust. It's soft."

"It'll look like pie crust all right when it comes out of the oven. Besides, Katy isn't really rolling it. She's kneading it. That means squeezing it. She'll really start rolling it in a few minutes, though. You'll see. Look! She's reaching for the rolling-pin now."

Wants to Help.

Knarf saw that Hanid was right. Katy had stopped kneading the dough and had picked up a thick, round piece of wood. She laid the dough flat on the table, sprinkled a little flour over it, and began moving the rolling-pin back and forth over it.

"I'm going to help her," said Knarf. With that he made himself small and sprang upon the table. But Katybelle paid no attention to him. He stepped right in front of the rolling-pin and held up his hand. "Stop!" he said, just like a policeman stopping an automobile. Only Katy didn't stop. Neither did the rolling-pin.

"Knarf! Look out! O-oh!"

Do you know what happened? The rolling-pin rolled right over Knarf! My! How flat he became! He looked like a pancake with arms and legs. And if he hasn't changed, I guess he looks like that yet.

Council Wants Rip-Rapping To Be Extended

With Alderman Glover in Ottawa last night, having accompanied J. J. Duffus, M.P., to present several appeals for grants by the federal government for local projects that would incidentally provide employment, the council passed a resolution that the rip-rap embankment at Little Lake be extended around Point St. Charles to the George street wharf.

The resolution by Alderman Cotton, seconded by Alderman Bradburn, encountered sustained and caustic opposition from Alderman Gordon in a discussion that was chiefly a rehash of opinions already expressed in several other debates on this same subject.

The former McDonald Lumber Company property for the purchase of which the council has an option for two months at $1,500 was described by Ald. Gordon as a lot of tanbark, sawdust, swamp, filth and slime along the water front, and a constant washing of the shore that would require extensive filling at the cost of the city if the rip-rap was undertaken.

Alderman Bradburn said he seconded the motion mainly to bring the subject before the council. He said he was not altogether in favor of spending public money on the lake bank when other work of more definite advantage to the city needed to be done. Alderman Gordon suggested that the stone front should be extended in the other direction, along the front of the Little Lake Cemetery. IAd. McCannan supported the project on the ground that it was worth spending $1,500 to get an $8,000 appropriation from the government. The council's resolution would be a lever to support Mr. Duffus in his representations to the government.

"What does he want a lever for? Why doesn't he ask for it himself?" was Alderman Gordon's reply. "I don't feel like giving the Peterborough Lumber Company $1,500 for that place."

He declared that Sam Abbott did not own the property, to which Ald. Dutton replied: "We are dealing with Mr. Abbott and not with the Peterborough Lumber Company. "I feel we should have accepted the offer the company gave us in the first place when we could have the whole thing for $1,500. A government engineer has been here and prepared estimates of the cost of the rip-rap, and if he were not satisfied that it was practical he wouldn't recommend it."

Ald. Cotton—If the place is as bad as Alderman Gordon says it is, it is about time we did something about getting it fixed up.

"Nobody on earth can build that sawdust pile up," Ald. Gordon said, and Mayor Hamilton called for the vote. Those who supported the resolution were Aldermen Cotton, Juby, Stocker, McCannan, Wilson and Dutton.

An analysis of the concessions offered by the Praha Government to the Sudeten Germans led both French Conservative and Extremist commentators to declare Czechoslovakia could go no further.

Some observers believed France, far from advising further concessions, would raise strong objections. These sources consider French safety bound up with that of her ally, Czechoslovakia, might be endangered if Czechoslovakia weakened herself.

A few observers expressed the opinion it might have gone too far already—so far that the Czechoslovak Government would be unable to carry out he promised concessions because of the opposition of its own people.

Birthday Party Is Held By Guild

WARSAW, Sept. 7. —The regular meeting of the Anglican Ladies Guild was held at Mrs. Donald Davis home on Thursday.

The meeting opened with prayer, and a scripture lesson read by Mrs. Albert Cooper. The financial report showed a nice sum on hand. The finances were aided considerably by the meeting which took the form of a birthday party with each member giving a cent a year for her age. This created much amusement as nearly everyone tried to give her donation without anyone else seeing how much.

Tickets for the lucky jar were passed with Mrs. A. Cooper winning. She will refill it and bring it to the next meeting to be held at Mrs. Vivian Jackson's home.

Some quilt patterns were brought as it is planned to make a quilt during the winter months. The meeting closed with the hymn, "Blest be the Ties that Binds."

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Robert Tighe served a lovely lunch and a very happy time was spent by all, including three visitors, one being Mr. Robert Somers whom everyone was delighted to see.

There was a goodly number out at the Baptist service on Sunday afternoon. There had been no service during the pastor's holidays.

The paper then said that if the Sudeten Germans asked for more than now offered them it could only be inferred that the minority did not find itself "at ease with the Republic."

In that case it might well be worth the Czech Government's while to consider secession of the fringe. "The advantages of Czechoslovakia becoming a homogenous state might conceivably outweigh the obvious disadvantages of losing the Sudeten German districts of the border," the Times concluded.

An optimistic forecast of Chancellor Hitler's final decision over the Czechoslovak problem was made by the Daily Telegraph (Conservative).

"Up to the present every effort at conciliation has come from the side of the Czechoslovak Government," the newspaper said. "It would be a strange miscarriage of statesmanship if — when so much is at stake——the differences that may still exist could not be amicably composed."

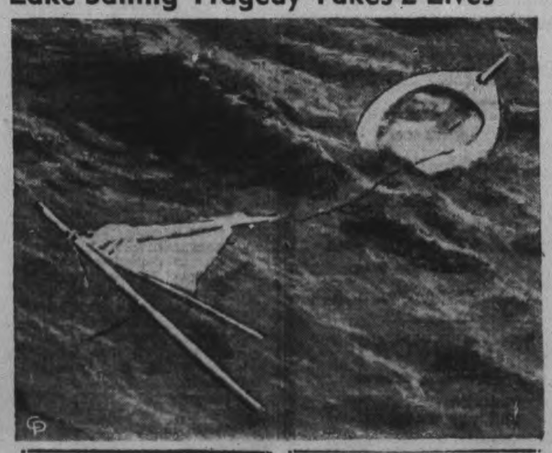
Lake Sailing Tragedy Takes 2 Lives



Lost when their 14-foot dinghy was blown out into Lake Ontario by a gale as they attempted to sail from Long Branch, near Toronto, to Hamilton, the bodies of Gertrude Ferguson, 19, of Long Branch and Alex Wheelans, 18, of Toronto were found in the wreckage of their craft by an aerial search party from Toronto. The couple had apparently drowned when their boat filled with water. The wrecked craft, its broken mast still dragging alongside, is shown here in a photography taken from the search plane which discovered the tragedy. The bodies are submerged in the water which fills the craft. Miss Ferguson and Wheelans are also pictured.

Farmers Holding Spotlight At C.N.E. Today

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (C.P.). — Ontario farmers have full run of the Canadian National Exhibition to-day on the annual Agriculturists' Day. Thousands of men of the soil from all parts of the province trooped into the grounds to examine the newest developments of the show that developed from a tiny agricultural fair of 60 years ago.

Selected members of the various farm groups will hear Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, as guests of the C.N.E. directors at luncheon. More than 500 junior farmers and girls of homemaking clubs who have won contests during the summer will compete in judging demonstrations.

Receptions for property owners of Toronto and many other municipalities are being held to-day and to-night in the Electrical, Engineering and Construction Building. Displays have been arranged to illustrate modern methods of home maintenance and repairs. Representatives of the Federal housing authorities also are on hand to give details of the new loan plan and to demonstrate model low-cost homes.

Judging of entries in the Dog Show which opened on Monday winds up to-day with the naming of champions. Agricultural, heavy draught and thoroughbred horses will be judged in the main arena of the Coliseum, and there will be auction sales of dairy products and carload lots of swine which have been on exhibit.

Angus, Herefords Judged

Judging of Aberdeen-Angus and Hereford cattle concluded last night in the Coliseum. Edwards Brothers of Watford, Ont., cleaned up most of the major awards for Aberdeens and W. A. Crawford Frost of Nanton, Alta., George Rodanz, Stouffville, Ont., and O'Neil Brothers of Denfield, Ont., were big winners in Herefords.

Hon. R. J. Manion, National Conservative Leader, delivered the main address of Tuesday's British Empire Day celebrations. His patriotic speech echoed the sentiments of several British leaders who have visited the Exhibition this year, including Lord Stanley, Dominions Secretary, Sir Earle Page-Croft, M. P., Viscount Greenwood, and Sir Harry Lindsay. All stressed unity and co-operation among Empire nations.

Attendance continues to climb with yesterday's 73,000 bringing the total to 1,261,000, close to last year's 14-day total of 1,302,000. An infantile paralysis epidemic marred attendance in 1937, but t his year's day-by-day totals are far ahead of any since 1931. Officials estimated this year's total attendance would be about 1,750,000 against 1,603,000 in 1936, 1,651,000 in 1935, 1,503,000 in 1934, and 2,039,000, the all-time record set in 1928.

Parents Feared She Would Enter Harem

Mr. and Mrs. Nijib Toonie are shown in New York today after U.S. commissioner Cotter had dismissed them and, presumably, permitted them to go ahead wiht their plans to head for the bridegroom's home in Iraq. Mrs. Toonie is the former Miss Doris Hisaw, of Neosho, Md., whose parents feared she was being "lured to harem." The "luring" angle was introduced by discovery of a bottle of liquid that might have been a "love potion" but turned out to be a harmless vial of perfume. Mrs. Toonie's mother announced she would put no more obstacles in runaway daughter's path.

TURNOVER TAX OF TWO PER CENT ON CHAIN STORES IS SOUGHT

Increase Small In Deposits In Penny Bank

Depressions and recessions would seem to have an effect on even the school children in this area, judging by a report on pupils' savings in penny banks at the city's schools.

During the entire year the total deposits made by pupils at the city's nine public schools increased less than $300. At the end of June the total was $17,205.37, as compared with $16,912.41 last year.

Poor Showing

The percentage of pupils depositing in penny bank accounts regularly in this city compared unfavorably with other centres. Only thirty-eight per cent in all the schools were depositing during May and June, a statement by the Penny Bank officials showed. That showing left the city in 62nd place among the communities of the province.

Mount Brydges and Nobleton led the way in savings each with 100 per cent of their pupils saving regularly during those two months. Ridgetown followed with 98 per cent, Strathroy with 97 per cent, and Fergus with 94 per cent. Braeside stood at the foot of the list with only four per cent of its pupils depositing money. Second from the end was Bronte with 6 per cent, and third was Prince Albert with 8 per cent.

Central Ontario Showing

But if Peterborough was low, it was still higher than other central Ontario communities listed. Bowmanville was nearest with 29 per cent, Oshawa and Port Hope had 22 per cent, and Campbellford trailed behind with 15 per cent.

In Peterborough Queen Alexandra school stood highest during the months of May and June with 76 per cent of pupils saving regularly. Next was King Edward, with 59 per cent. Confederation had 54 per cent; Central, 32 per cent; Queen Mary, 31 per cent; King George 28 per cent; Prince of Wales, 25 per cent; May's 19 per cent; and South Central, 18 per cent.

Cottage Lots Are In Demand

Purchase of lake properties in Haliburton county have greatly increased this season, as reflected by the additional work he has done in that area, J. W. Pierce, O.L.S., told the Examiner today. Some of the sites he has surveyed are along the Dorset Road and others on good lateral roads extending easterly into the county.

"There are hundreds of lakes in Haliburton," Mr. Pierce said, "and they have become accessible since the government opened up the country roads. Splendid locations for summer cottages are being bought, and from present indications many stretches of lake front will change hands in the next year or two."

Mr. Pierce has also had considerable work in the Loon Lake district surveying properties that have been purchased for summer homes.

Pirates Even Up Junior Series

Pirates evened up the Junior City Baseball League finals last night by a 6 to 0 victory over the highly touted Tigers. O'Toole for the winners pitched great ball, holding the Tigers to three hits and gave no walks while he struck out eight of his opponents. The Pirates collected eight hits off the delivery of Sanderson, Tiger ace. Both teams played errorless ball. Connolly and McKinnon led the winners' attack with two hits each, while Doris smashed out a long triple. Gordon starred on first with a good defensive display. The lineups:

Pirates — W. Bennett, O'Toole, Rochetti, Connelly, McKinnon, Gordon, Nicholls, Wildman, McBride, Doris.

Umpire—J. Barry.

New High Set In Attendance At Collegiate

Attendance at Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School soared to a new high on opening day, when 1,078 pupils registered, according to a report submitted to the Board of Education on Tuesday night by Principal Dr. H. R. H. Kenner.

Attendance on opening day last year was 960, he said. At the city's Public Schools 2,613 pupils were present, and Inspector K. S. Wightman expected the number to be increased considerably before the week is out.

The Board accepted the resignation of Donald Ross from the staff of the Collegiate, where he was a mathematics teacher for the past four years. Ill-health and the need for outdoor employment was the reason for his resignation. R. Howard David of Berkeley, former teacher at the Grove School at Lakefield, was appointed in his place.

The Board also extended for another year the leave of absence of J. Rutherford.

Noted Breeder To Manage Farm

On the Strickland estate, which recently changed ownership from T. J. Wood to M. G. Griffiths, he will be manager. He is bringing in a listed herd of Ayrshires, one of the few in eastern Ontario. From the Ruddy Farms in Pickering, Ontario, he is purchasing a prize bull of outstanding quality.

The Rambling REPORTERS

POLICE NAB TAXPAYER.

The period for payment of the second instalment of taxes ends today. Lines of citizens have reached out along the sidewalk Tuesday and today as money poured into the city treasury. A prominent citizen drove around looking for parking space, and then gave up the ghost, parking in double line in front of the city hall. After paying his taxes he found a police ticket on his car for double parking.—T.

BAD EXAMPLE.

Members of the Board of Education set a bad example for children returning to school when they held their first meeting since the summer holidays on Tuesday night.

The meeting, scheduled for 7.45 o'clock, failed to get under way until after 8 o'clock because several members came late and a quorum could not be obtained. Chief offender was the Board's chairman, Dr. G. R. Scott, who was last arrival. Like school children, they had only half a session, adjourned at nine o'clock.—J.F.P.

Returns to Daughter Charles Clark, 84-year-old former resident of Peterborough, and problem of United States immigration officials in Detroit for two weeks, has been returned to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Florence Jouch, in Michigan City, immigration authorities said today. Main Street Topics

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up By Examiner Reporters

NOT ENDORSED

The city council declined to endorse a London resolution asking the provincial government to increase the amount of relief allowances for rent to 300 per cent of the annual taxes.

WOULD BUY LOT.

J. B. Brown, 307 Pearl Avenue, offered the council, Tuesday night, $175 for a lot at the northwest corner of George and Rink streets. Its dimensions are 50 feet frontage on George Street by 110 feet depth on Rink Street. Mr. Brown's letter was referred to the property committee.

CONDITION POOR

Fears are entertained for the recovery of 72 year old Wheeler Patterson, North Monaghan township farmer who was knocked down and run over by a railroad jigger several days ago. The multiple injuries which include head bruises and a broken leg coupled with his advanced age are giving hospital authorities some concern. His condition is described as "fair."

SAYS STREET OBSTRUCTED.

"I think the citizens should have the council investigated for permitting so many things to favored ones but annoying to the public," J. O. De Laplante wrote the council Tuesday night in a complaint that trucks are allowed to straddle George Street at Canada Packers Limited. Some of them, alleged, extend six feet past the middle line of the main street obstructing north bound traffic.

TO ENLARGE DRAINS.

Expenditure of $400 on surface drains on Aylmer Street from Perry Street to Rink Street, and also on the connection of dead ends of drains at the C. N. R. crossing on Westcott Street was authorized by the council Tuesday night. The present drains on Westcott Street was reported by City Engineer Parsons as too small to carry off surplus water from heavy rains as in August when it actually discharged out of the catch basins on Westcott Street near the railway.

TRAFFIC COURT

Six motorists were fined on pleas of guilty to infractions of the Highway Traffic Act today. The charges were laid by Provincial Constables McClure and Broughton. George Bolton, Burleigh Falls, paid $5 and $2.50 costs for failing to stop at a stop sign. Mrs. W. Spooner, Havelock, $2 and $2.50 for failing to produce a license, and Huldah Weeks, 515 Cross Street, Peterborough, paid $5 and $2.50 for same offence. Other fines were Godfrey Jennings, Toronto, passing on highway; R. Glen Buck, Toronto, no license to drive; Archibald Chapman, Colborne, not obeying stop sign. Both cases of failure to observe stop sign took place at Havelock, the scene of the Preston fatality a few months ago.

ATTENDED 804 MEETING.

FUTURITY AT C.N.E. TODAY

The three-year-old Futurity Pace is the main race on this afternoon's card of harness events at the Canadian National Exhibition. Peterborough horsemen are especially interested in "Gratian McKillop" owned by Ted McLean of Toronto, and trained and conditioned here by Doc Kane who will be driving. There are eleven candidates for the Futurity honors and the purse of $3,500. The Futurity is under the direction of the Canadian Standardbred Horse Society. The Futurity trot is scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

WON EIGHT FIRSTS.

A high record for Clydesdale quality was rung up at the Belleville Fair by W. J. Ross of Campbellford, when he showed one stallion, 2 years old; two mares, three years old, and two mares, 2 years old. With the eight he won eight first prizes, three special awards, and one second prize. All are registered animals. They were shown by T. Patterson of Havelock.

MIDDLETON PLACE.

Plan of a subdivision of the property owned by Dr. J. E. Middleton on the West side of Monaghan Road was approved by the council Tuesday night, and City Solicitor W. F. Huycke was instructed to prepare a bylaw declaring the city's assent. Dr. Middleton is subdividing his property into fifteen lots and will designate it Middleton Place. North Monaghan council has already approved the plan.

WON WATSON SHIELD

Sam S. Staples of Cavan won the Watson Challenge Shield at the Canadian National Exhibition with his two-year-old stallion "Glengarry Chieftain." The trophy is of solid silver and was donated by Captain G. L. Watson of Cariboo, B.C., who was killed in action April 21, 1915 in the Great War. It was taken over by the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada in 1917 who give to the annual winner a miniature of the shield. The prize is offered for the best Clydesdale stallion born, bred, raised and owned in Canada, and cannot be won twice by the same animal.

CAR IS STOLEN.

Residents of this district are asked to be on the look-out for a car owned by the B. F. Ackerman Son and Company, and stolen on Thursday night at Orillia following a robbery of the Palmer House and the disappearance of the hotels night clerk. The license number of the car is 233-R-6. Should anyone discover the missing car, which may have been abandoned in this district, he is requested to get in touch with local or provincial police. The car is a 1937 Dodge sedan, dark blue in color.

City Trust Asked For $25,000 For Purchase Of Machinery To Resurface Streets In City

Three Resolutions Of Alderman Gordon Adopted By Council

Alderman Gordon struck out at the chain stores last night in a resolution proposing to the Ontario government that a 2 per cent turnover tax he levied on their sales.

His motion, seconded by Alderman McIntyre, encompassed chain stores whose head office is outside of Ontario "or where such chain stores are operated by a partnership conducting more than six stores, and also all chain stores operated by companies worth $100,000 or more," that the tax be paid within the municipalities, and that copies of the resolution be sent to other cities and towns in the province for their support.

Second Resolution.

Another Gordon motion, also seconded by Alderman McIntyre, asks the City Trust Commission to contribute from their surplus funds the sum of $25,000 for the purchase of paving machinery and paying for materials and wages in resurfacing and repairing city streets.

The motion carried by a divison of 5-4 Alderman Gordon contended that the money could be used to advantage this fall in helping to provide employment. A brief discussion simply touched again on the old dispute as to whether the Commission has authority to transfer any of its funds to the city treasury.

A third Gordon resolution, which was likewise adopted, demands from the Utilities Commission their cash balance which, Ald. Gordon said is at least $5,000. He asserts that the auditor's report shows the Utilities surplus to be $19,276.09, but apparently they have used a lot of it on their plant or something."

Fire Loss $15.

Chief Gimblett reported fifteen fires in August at an estimated total loss of $15. One dollar a fire for a whole month seems to be a new record of some kind.

Seventy-one building permits of a total value of $32,173 were reported for the month by City Engineer Parsons.

The city's relief bill for the month was $7,252.16 made up as follows: Provisions $4,549.59; milk, $502.21; fuel $262; clothing $14.19; medicine $4.26; rent, $1,438.31 doctors $481.60.

A motion by Alderman Cotton, seconded by Alderman Bradburn committed the city to assuming the future maintenance of the road along the east bank of the canal from Maria street to the old Norwood road providing it is improved by the laying of a new surface to cost at least $5,000.

This was another motion to "strengthen the hand" of Mr. Dutfus and Ald. Glover in their mission to Ottawa Tuesday. Ald. Gordon protested that the Dominion government was spending huge sums in Ottawa and also Kingston, and that if they wanted to "unload" the canal road they should lay a permanent paved surface. Ald Wilson seconded the Gordon resolution that the road be accepted only on that condition. The Cotton motion carried after Aldermen Dutton, McCannan, McIlyre and Juby had advocated it.

Dog Owners Are Hailed To Court

A small pomeranian that was given away twice and returned home both times, brought its first owner, Leonard Tobin, Park street before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in city court today. Tobin was charged with allowing the dog to roam at large, but when he told his story, the case was laid over to give the dog catcher time to investigate further. The owner said the dog was now in Toronto.

Six other dog owners charged with not having purchased licenses for their dogs, escaped with payment of costs, when the dog catcher explained he wished to withdraw all charges as the six had purchased licenses since being summonsed. They were Joseph Fontaine, Miss Lottie Hogan, Jack Livingstone, Wm. Dorrington, Wm. Hyslop and Mrs. Arthur Druce. One other charge was withdrawn as the man was found to have no dog, and three others were laid over for a week.

He Didn't Qualify

Russell Chambers, Los Angeles flier, emerges battered and blood-covered from his airplane after it had crashed near Rocky River, Ohio. Chambers was attempting to qualify for the Thompson Trophy race at Cleveland, when the crash occurred in a field. He was badly cut about the head and face and was rushed to the hospital shortly after this picture was taken.

Baby Swallows Poison Pills

Death struck with lightning suddenness at Villiers, near Keene, Tuesday night when a two-year-old baby swallowed some pills he had climbed atop a buffet to reach.

The boy was Kenneth Edwards, residing at the home of James Dickson in Villiers. Less than an hour after he had reached the pills he was dead. They had been left on top of the buffet by a guest at the home, and contained strychnine among other things, according to Dr. H. Wright of Keene, who was called in.

The youngster was playing alone in the room shortly before six o'clock when he reached the pills, which had been left unnoticed. County Coroner Dr. J. C. Smith of Lakefield was called in following the youngster's death. He said no inquest will be held. The funeral will be held privately on Thursday at 2.30 o'clock from the home of James Dickson to Keene Cemetery for burial.

Hastings Bowlers' New Club House

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 7. — Hastings Lawn Bowling Club have recently had one of the finest clubhouses to be seen in this district erected at the bowling green. It is equipped with all modern conveniences such as running water, lights, radio. A kitchen to provide hot meals at the tournaments occupies the north end.

The building is valued at approximately $650 and has a floor space of 15 by 40 feet. It was erected by James Calberry, Hastings contractor. Four active members forming the building committee were: Dr. W. N. Campbell, Frank Daly, Howard Fairman and G. D. Gowans.

The club have forty-six members this year and have but a small balance to pay on the clubhouse.

Tourney Nets $43

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 7.— After all expenses are paid, the girls' softball club here expect to net $43 proceeds from the ladies' softball tourney, Monday.

Shutters have been placed on the Catholic church bell tower to replace the heavy wire screens. The change adds much to appearance and protects the interior from the elements.

Children At Shelter Given Holidays Through Kindness Of Many Citizens

WARDS OF THE Children's Aid Society here were happy this summer because they did not have to stay at home during the holiday season, thanks to the generosity of a umber of people and organizations.

A two weeks' holiday at the "Y" camp was made possible for one of the girls by the Business and Professional Women's club. Another girl was given the same holiday through the kindness of the Excelsior Class, St. James United Church, Misses Marion Inches, Adelaide Munroe, Helen Lytle, and Mrs. Kelso. Miss Fusee arranged a camp outing for another girl.

Eight of the boys were guests of the Rotary club at their camp on Clear Lake. The Commercial Travellers gave a picnic for all the children at the shelter, ending the day with a substantial gift for each child.

Mrs. J. K. Hughes was hostess to the children at the Chemong Regatta, providing them with a delightful afternoon.

These outings mean a great deal to the children and the Society is very happy that its wards are remembered, said Superintendent Rachel M. Young of the Children's Aid Society.

City Derived Benefit Of Money Spent On Car Barns Council Told

AFTER SPENDING $6,000 on the King Street car barns, putting a drop ceiling and a heating plant, and building a gasoline service station out at the street line, John Douglas told the council Tuesday night the city was getting all the benefit of the money he spent. He asked for a hearing of his grievance and was told to attend the next meeting of the finance committee towards the end of the month.

Mr. Douglas declares that Border Transit Limited rented the premises from him at $300 a year and operated the service station only eight months. Then, to get possession he says he had to pay $1200 a year rental, and at the end of the year he issued a writ against the bus company for breach of contract. The trial lasted five days, but he didn't get the judge's decision until three years later, won the case, but the award was only enough to pay his lawyer's charges. He was also given permission to remove the pump and the heating plant.

After all that trouble and expense, the company is using the barn, the service station has been rented to the Burlington Oil Refineries, and Mr. Douglas is apparently only an aggrieved spectator.

MIDGET LACROSSE LEAGUE FINAL SEES DUNDAS TEAM CHAMPS

War Admiral Has Edge On Top Horse For 1938

By FRENCH LANE
Central Press Canadian Turf Writer

If there is to be a champion race horse for the year 1938, then that champion has yet to rivet down his claim to the mythical title.

It didn't take any crystal ball gazing and analysis of blood lines to show that Reigh Count, Gallant Fox, Twenty Grand, Equipoise and Discovery were cleancut champions of the past. Nor was there a dispute a year ago when War Admiral raced through a hard campaign undefeated.

But the title, always capable of producing some dispite, is more nebulous than ever this year. If these thoroughbreds could talk and write letters to the sports editors there would be as many claimants to the crown as there are heavyweight wrestling champions.

At the end of August, with a majority of the returns in, no one has been elected the outstanding horse of the year. Precincts yet to be heard from include Narragansett Park, Belmont Park and Hawthorne.

War Admiral Leads

Running first is War Admiral. Samuel Riddle's 4-year-old has only two black marks on his record for the year. One of these, a fourth to Menow, Busy K. and War Minstrel in the Massachusettes handicap, shows in the record books. The other, which was hardly War Admiral's fault, shows in no record books, but is to be found in the minds of the racing public. That is a supposed dodging of certain spots on the racing calendar and is best illustrated by War Admiral's scratching form the Suburban because of a bad track. When Snark set a new track record for the race, War Admiral's handlers lost some stature with the public. Since then successive victories in three stakes at Saratoga have regained for the son of Man o' War most of his esteem.

And there is Seabiscuit. But too much War Admiral-Seabiscuit ballyhoo, together with defeats for Charles Howard's stallion in the Santa Anita handicap and the Arlington Stars and Stripes have taken some of the lustre from his name. Match races on the west coast have not helped either and Seabiscuit, right now, has little claim to the title.

Both War Admiral and Seabiscuit have suffered some from undiplomatic handling by their owners and trainers.

Two Mares Next

Marica and Esposa, two outstanding mares, come next to mind. You can't find a blemish on Marica's record. Tom Taggart's star has started in three stakes this year. She has won three stakes. By twice defeating Esposa, she has stamped herself as rating with Top Flight and Myrtlewood as the best of her sex in years and perhaps a better router than either of those two. Against Marica is her comparatively easy campaign. Not spots have been chosen and she has picked up high imposts and should she go on through the fall specials with success equalling that of her earlier campaign, then Marica is the horse of 1938.

Esposa, capable of great efforts at times, nevertheless has been defeated by War Admiral four times and by Marica twice this year.

As for the 3 year olds, they have been unable to produce a champion of their own division. Early in the year it appeared that Stagehand was the big horse. Then Lawrin, capturing both the Flamingo stakes and the Kentucky Derby, was in the spot to become No. 1, but Lawrin while escaping the defeats that have come to others, has been out with injuries for most of the season and is hardly a champion.

All In a Heap

Dauber, winner of the Preakness; Pasteurized, winner of the Belmont; Nedayr, winner of the Classic, and Thanksgiving, winner of the Travers, have been beaten by each other. Put in The Chief, Fighting Fox, Stormscud, Bull Lea, Tiger, Mythical King and Menow and you have a situation no one can unscramble.

Three races remain to point the champion. The Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park is over a two mile route and not since Twenty Grand's victory has a real champion won over that rarely run distance.

The Narragansett Special, at a mile and three-sixteenths will draw Marica and possible give her her first crack at War Admiral.

The Hawthorne Gold Cup race on Sept. 17 also will have a bearing on the situation. Marica may move west for the race, and should she capture both the Special and the Gold Cup, there will be few to dispute her right to being queen of them all.

After Thingumabob's accident El Chico was left undisputed master of the juveniles. Rarely is a 2-year-old however, named best horse of the year.

War Admiral and Marica still can settle the question by meeting in either the Narragansett Special or the Hawthorne Gold Cup race.

SPORT SPICE

New York, Sept. 7 — (AP) — The Yanks are pulling for the Pirates because the seating capacity of Forbes Field is 43,000 compared to 26,000 at Redland Field, Cincinnati. . . . They say Don Budge is typing out that announcement right now. . . . Broadway is backing the pro Giants to pin back the all stars' ears tonight. . . . Jack Kearns has done a Dempsey and opened a bar in Detroit. . . .

The seventh place Brooks don't have to worry about the eighth place Phillies because the Quakers are just about as far behind the Dodgers as the Dodgers are behind the Pirates. . . . Hymie Caplin and his crew of tin ears are back from the coast. . . . Record: 10 fights; 10 wins. . . .

Babe Ruth still is the No. 1 baseball guy in Beantown. . . . One of the papers up there is plugging a Ruth All Star team contest with all the zip of the old days. . . .

Now that the Giants are out of it, Cliff Melton, who flopped when the race was hot, is pitching like a house afire. . . . Any talk about Henry Armstrong not going to fight Ceferino Garcia here in November is so much apple sauce. . . . Manager Eddie Mead simply is trying to cry his way out of Los Angeles where he is a close friend of promotor Tom Gallery, who naturally wants the bout there. . . .

Rochester baseball writers already have lined up Ray Blades as their candidate to succeed Frankie Frisch if Frank gets the air from the Cardinals. . . . Lou Ambers has more than 20 offers to fight around the country and pilot Al Weill will begin picking out the fat ones next week. . . . Old Casey Stengel may be a clown, but the other clubs see nothing funny about his ball team. . . . Ray Dumont sure pulled a winner out of the hat when he named George Sisler, the old first sacker, to be high commissioner of semi-pro baseball. . . . If there is a better card trick specialist in the country than Jimmy Grippo, the fight manager, you name him. . . . He's so busy with exhibitions at exclusive clubs and dinners that he can't find time to manage his pugs. . . . Which is to bad for the pugs, but all right for Jimmy.

Cricket Results

LONDON, Sept. 7 (CP).—The 1938 English county cricket championship concluded its four-months schedule Tuesday when Sussex gained a seven-wickets victory over Gloucestershire. The victory left Sussex in eighth position and Gloucestershire in tenth place.

The season again featured a leadership battle between Yorkshire and Middlesex, the White Rose County annexing honors early last week. The same clubs provided enthusiasts with the closest race in years last campaign, Yorkshire posting its nineteenth championship in a spirited end-of-the-season drive.

Final standings mark Glamorgan as the biggest "disappointment" of the schedule. The county ended the 1937 season in seventh place, but this year slipped to sixteenth, one notch up on the last-place Northamptonshire eleven. Gloucestershire slipped from fourth to tenth position.

Surrey and Lancashire improved this year, ending in third and fourth positions, respectively. Last year Surrey concluded its schedule in eighth position, and Lancashire one below.

Yorkshire's twentieth championship was all the more notable as the county was called upon by England's test selectors to contribute many players for the international matches against Australia. The fifth and final match for the Ashes saw five Yorkshiremen in England's line-up.

This Northern county also contributed the cricket world's most outstanding figure—22-year-old Leonard Hutton. The Pudsey-born batsman—in first-class cricket only four years—smashed Aussie bowlers' deliveries in the final test match for a world record test score of 364 runs.

Northamptonshire again ended in seventeenth places—and again went through the season without a victory. The team last obtained maximum points in 1935. Of twenty-four matches this year the county lost seventeen, won one on the first inning and collected 12 points, for three games in which the team led in the initial scoring but lost the match.

Yesterday's Scores

Gloucestershire, 488 and 156 for five wickets declared; Sussex, 341 and 306 for three (H. Parks 119, Holmes 78 not out, John Langridge 69); at Gloucester.

Australians, 390 and 327 for seven declared (McCabe 91, Fingleton 51 not out); Sir Pelham Werner's Eleven, 223 and 38 for no wickets; at Folkestone.

SPORTS -DAY BY DAY-

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By FRED CRAIG

THE FANS ARE STILL busy discussing Monday's ball game so that justifies a little more column comment on the big Labor Day event. Incidentally it will give us a chance to pay tribute to a Peterborough boy who came very close to turning the affair into an Oshawa victory. Yes sir, we mean Tommy Foley who set the pace for his team mates by slamming out three hits, scoring three runs, showing a world of speed on the bases and coming through with sparkling defensive work to back up his prowess on the offensive. Foley has played a lot of great ball games both for and against the Petes but it is doubtful whether he has ever looked better than he did here Monday.

• • • • • • •

BY THE WAY MISTER FOLEY, in addition to being a mighty fine ball player can also qualify as a prophet for it is recorded that after practising with the Petes for several weeks recently he went back to Oshawa and predicted that if Eddie Whitehill were sent in against the GM-men he would beat them. And it is now history that he was and he did.

• • • • • • •

AMONG THE CONGRATULATORY messages received by the Petes management after Monday's fine victory was one from none other than President S. S. Corbett of the Kingston Ponies who wired Secretary Dorris to express felicitations on the feat of the Murphyites in capturing the Central League. The message was appreciated not only for itself but for the evidence that it afforded that there is still Kingston interest in the Central League and that will be an important matter next year.

• • • • • • •

AS A MATTER OF FACT, neighbors, the future of the Central loop is something to cause a lot of concern even in the midst of the rejoicing over the Petes' most pleasing triumph. Certainly there will have to be a lot of rebuilding during the coming winter for it is obvious that the loop cannot expect to function with only a couple of teams. The Petes fine season and the interest that has been shown by the fans, culminating with that splendid crowd Monday are proof that there is room in the sport calendar for good baseball and it is to be hoped that before the next season blows around that it will be possible to line both Belleville and Kingston up in the C. O. B. L. Belleville always has been a good ball town and must be hungry for the senior brand again while the Ponies, always a fighting crew were a continuous source of color. There is room for a lot of missionary work in both towns and it would be a grand thing for sport in this part of the province if another Jake Solomon arrived on the scene in time to revamp the Central structure before next summer. Solomon organized the league in the first place when there did not seem to be a chance in the world to get such an organization under way.

• • • • • • •

This Is Good News

THE CHILL IN THE AIR DURING the last few days brings up a few thoughts about winter sports and while we have nothing new on hockey to offer our scouts inform us that outdoor facilities for Canada's winter pastime are to be materially improved during the season that is now only a few months away. The All Saints' rink is to be enlarged and provided with new boards at a cost of $300, the Quaker Oats rink in Ashburnham is to be made larger and it is reported there are to be improvements made to the Sacred Heart hockey cushion. This activity is welcome because it means a better chance for young hockey players and that surely is a move in the right direction.

• • • • • • •

SOME TWENTY-FIVE candidates for Peterborough's senior rugby club had a stiff workout at the Exhibition grounds Tuesday evening with "Curley" Krug in charge of the drill and quite a smattering of fans watching the doings. Among the newcomers out in addition to Krug himself were Hendry, Irwin and Shields while other players who took part in the setting up exercises, blocking and other work were Don Crowe, Ford Loucks, Don Hendren, the Spenceley brothers, Ross Pulkinghorn and other members of last year's Orfuns and Csumrik, Creighton and Curtin of the P. C. I. squad, last season's Interscholastic winners. Good progress is being made in manicuring Exhibition park in readiness for the playing season.

• • • • • • •

AFTER DESCRIBING MONDAY'S game here as one of the greatest ever played in the Central loop the Oshawa scribe pays this very graceful tribute to the winners—"Petes" are worthy title-holders and they'll uphold the C. O. B. L. status when they enter the O. B. A. playdowns. They've got a nicely balanced team, plenty of hitting strength, good reserve players, a strong pitching staff, steady infield and plenty of class in every department. And so, it's congratulations to the "Petes", they've got a swell team and the added strength this year of Bob Doll, stellar third-sacker, "Lefty" McNally, ace hurler and Mgr. Eddie Murphy and the return to star form of such players as Kearns, Whitehill, and Starr, all helped them in their title hunt. They should go far.

INCIDENTALLY THE SAME Oshawa scribe also hands out a very fine bouquet to Jim Ellis of the Westclox softball team upon his performance in the final game of the recent series with Oshawa Varcos. Says Scribe Campbell: We have never seen a one-man display such as that put up by Jim Ellis in his gallant attempt to win the series for Peterborough. His sensational stops at first-base, especially that diving stab of Kitchen's liner, his peppy chatter, daring baserunning and dangerous hitting stamped him as quite the best first baseman ever to show in this town's softball circles.

A Great Season

THE MIDGET LACROSSE LEAGUE wound up for the season last night with the Y's Men's team, coached by Ira Dundas cleaning up in two straight games from the Kinsmen youngsters. The League has been a great success. It has interested a large group of boys in lacrosse and the experience and coaching they have received during the season ensures a crop of players for the future. The folk who sponsored the organization and the players who have given the kids the benefit of their knowledge of the game by coaching the various clubs are entitled to thanks from lacrosse fans.

AN EFFORT MADE BY THE local management to have the Woodbridge team play the first game of the senior "B" playoffs here on Friday night with the second game in Woodbridge next Tuesday has proven unsuccessful and there will be no game here this week. The series will open in Woodbridge next Tuesday as originally scheduled but a change has been made in the date of the return game and it will be staged on Friday Sept. 16 instead of on the previous night as first arranged. It should be a most interesting series. The Petes have won two scheduled games and an exhibition fixture from the Woodbridge outfit this season but every game was a battle. The Woodbridge team plays a beautiful passing game and the local crew will have to be at their best to win the decision over them.

RUGBY FANS WHO WANT to help the Peterborough rugby club are to be given a chance to do so by indulging in a little swing stuff next Wednesday night at the Brock Street gardens when a rugby booster dance will be staged. It looks like a big night and with a little co-operation from the fans the affair should work right down the field and over the goal line for a major score. Keep the date in mind and be there.

DESE, DEM AND DOSE: Local lacrossers will practice tonight at 7.30 o'clock and a full turnout is asked for. . . . Eddie Leuer, little southpaw, who looked like the best of the three twirlers Knotty Lee unlimbered against the Petes in an exhibition game here earlier in the season, pitched a no-hit, no-run game the other day against Ottawa. . . . In the Toronto round-robin series last night Danforth Aces won their fourth straight victory to strengthen their hold on first place. They are looking more and more like the team the Petes will meet next. . . . We understand there is little chance of Doc Rowden winning a popularity contest in Oshawa just now. His team mates resented his absence here Monday. . . . Eddie Murphy and Leo Deadey took time out from baseball last night to drop in on the rugby practice. We hope the boys won't start kicking the ball around in the wrong place until the baseball season is over. . . . Incidentally Eddie Murphy looked more nervous in that wedding group than he did up there at the plate with the winning run on third in the 10th the other day. . . . Cut.

"Here, I Have the Greatest—"

Pie Traynor, manager of Pittsburgh's pennant-bound Pirates (touch wood) looks as if he's shouting the praises of the young man at his side. And well he might. The young man happens to be Johnny Rizzo, slugging outfielder the Pirates secured from the St. Louis Chain Gang, who has won a large portion of his team's games with extra base smashes, the kind Traynor's men have been lacking the past few years.

Grand Slam By Roy Tranter In Tennis Final

Roy Tranter scored a grand slam last night (Tuesday), when he added the mixed doubles and the men's doubles titles to the singles crown which he captured on Saturday last. In the men's doubles he was teamed with Yvan DeGuise, a French boy who used to play strong tennis in Montreal a few seasons ago, but who has only recently begun to strut his stuff on local courts. This pair defeated Jack Kirkwood and Bob Maybee with comparative ease after they had tucked away a shaky victory in the first set. Complete score was 7-5, 6-3, 6-2. Tranter's ground strokes were almost flawless, his volley was beautifully timed, and when DeGuise got his drive into focus the two were nearly unbeatable. Maybe and Kirkwood gave a mighty fine exhibition in the first session, but they began to fade in the second and after that they never regained their original stride. Of course, the winners' increasingly confident shots had much to do with that.

In he mixed doubles final, Tranter was partnered by Ruth McKee and the little lady gave a very nice performance indeed. Her chop ad baseline drives were exremely effective against Anna McKenzie and Jack Kirkwood, whom they dismissed from the tournament by scores of 6-4, 4-6, 6-3. Previous to the final match, Ruth McKee and Roy Tranter defeated Nan Boorman and C. H. Crowe, 6-4, 6-3, while Anna McKenzie and Jack Kirkwood were rubbing out Margaret Jackson and Ormond Benson 7-5, 6-3. Kirkwood was extremely unfortunate in being nosed out of each event after reaching the finals every time. And by the same player each time; that is rubbing it in.

Wins Ladies' Singles.

Vi Davidson became ladies' singles champion of the Kawartha Tennis Club when she won from Margaret Jackson, former junior city champion, in three exhausting sets 4-6, 6-1, 6-0. Particularly in the first set exchanges were long and tiring. Both girls were playing very carefully and each seemed afraid to take a chance on coming into the net for putaways. For this reason, the tennis in the early part of the match was hardly of the best class. After putting up a game battle and taking the first set, the tired Miss Jackson was scarcely a match for her more experienced opponents, and Miss Davidson was able to run out the match as the score indicates.

Belson Wins First 5 Of 19 Chess Games

TORONTO, Sept 7 (CP).—The Canadian Chess championship swings into the seventh of its 19 rounds today with Harry Belson of Toronto remaining undefeated. The Toronto expert has turned in five victories and is playing off an adjourned game with the veteran, J. S. Morrison of Toronto, this morning. Defending champion Boris Blumin is fourth.

Second place in the standing is held by Maurice Fox, Montreal, who has won five and drawn one game. A Westerner, Walter Holowach of Edmonton, who holds third position, is being regarded as the dark horse of the tournament, having won five and lost one.

In a sixth-round match, Holowach defeated the boy wizard from Winnipeg, 14-year-old Abie Yanofsky. Yanofsky is in fifth position, one below Montreal's Blumin who has held the Dominion title for the past two years.

Weather permitting, and we use that word very cautiously, the ladies' section will, to-morow, at 2 o'clock, hold a tournament for rinks. Skips are asked to enter rinks of schedule calibre. We understand there will be three 12-end games played. The fee is set at $2.00 per rink and good prizes will be offered.

We notice in the Mail and Globe Scotch doubles draw, scheduled to play in Toronto to-morrow morning, that Dr. Barr and E. Smith are drawn against rink No. 1 of New Toronto and Dr. Allan and J. Harrison are pitted against D. Rea and S. Adgey of Howon Park. The competition is run on the elimination bases and one bump and you are out. So good luck boys.

We are writing this column at 9 o'clock in the morning and we must admit the weather looks anything but promising for to-night's mixed tourament. However, it may break and be o.k. If it should remember 7 p.m. is the hour to commence play.

Clerks Are Out Of Playoffs

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 7.—The Clerks were eliminated from the playoffs of the local softball league when they went down to defeat before the Outlaws by a 7 to 3 score in the third and deciding game. The Outlaws will now meet the winner between Elgin and the Tanners. These teams are tied at one game each.

The Clerks opened the scoring in the second innings when they filled the bases and McKee, Outlaws pitcher walked one in. The Outlaws scored twice in the fourth when Walsh tripled and scored on Stickles' hit. Stickles scored on Dit Clapper's long triple. They made it 3 to 1 to open the fifth when they chased another run across. The Clerks got one back in the fifth when Stevenson scored Petticrew with a nice double.

The Outlaws got 2 more in the sixth on singles by Dit Clapper and Bonds and Scriver's long double. The Clerks scored their final run in the sixth on a hit and an error while the Outlaws completed the scoring in the seventh with 2 more.

McKee limited the Clerks to 5 hits while he had 7 strikeouts and passed 3 batters. The Outlaws got 10 hits from the offerings of Blackbourn. He struck out 4 and walked one.

Dit Clapper with a triple and a single led the Outlaws batters while Stevenson with a double and a single led the Clerks. P. Petticrew, right fielder for the Outlaws made the outstanding fielding play of the game when he took Gillespie's long drive to deep right to rob him of what looked like a sure hit.

The teams:

Y's Men Capture Midget Title By Second Win

The Y's Men's team, coached by Ira Dundas captured the championship of the Midget Lacrosse League Tuesday night when they defeated the Kinsmen 4 goals to 1 in the second game of the playoffs, the smart Y outfit thus taking the title in two straight games. Kinsmen played a hard game but they were just not good enough.

Outstanding for the winners was the work of Willshaw in the nets while Martin, Lands and J. Eason gave an excellent account of themselves. For Kinsmen Matthews, O'Toole and Miller were the best.

The teams were as follows:

Y's Men—Goal, Willshaw; defence, Dundas, J. McMahon; rover, Martin ;centre, Lands; wings J. Eason, P. Eason; subs, Joiner, Dundas, O'Connor, Dunsford.

Kinsmen—Goal, Miller; defence, Rochetti and Plumpton; rover, Mattuci; centre, O'Toole; wings, Bloom, Welch; subs, Courneya, Amyotte.

There will be a general practice of all teams in the League on Thursday night at 8 o'clock to pick an all-star team. The workout is scheduled for 6.15 o'clock.

Three Canucks Out After U.S. Golf Crown

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(CP)—An army of 169 crack amateur golfers, including three Canadians, will start after the United States championship at Pittsburgh's Oakmont country club Monday in the first qualifying round of the tourney.

The pairings show C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ont., who won the tourney in 1932, playing with Jess Sweetster of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., champion United States amateur in 1922.

Merlin Luther of Fort Erie, Ont., is paired with Verne Stewart of Albuguerque, N.M., while Joe Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., will go out in the qualifying round with Pat Malloy of Tulsa.

Brig.-Gen. A. C. Critchley, a native of Calgary who gained considerable renown as a sportsp romoter in London, Eng., isp aired with Art Doering of Medinah, Ill.

Like Somerville and other former champions, Critchley drew a starting berth in the tournament by virtue of his wins this year in the Dutch and Belgian open championships.

The field will be cut by about 20 or 30 players for Tuesdays second meda play round of 18 holes in order to leave ample time in case a playoff is necessary to decide the last few of the 64 qualifying places for the match play, which starts Wednesday.

Two 18-hole rounds of match play will be played Wednesday with two more on Thursday. The semi-finals of 36 holes will be played Friday with the 36-hole final Saturday.

Two hundred boys are kicking 80 footballs around in Towyn, Wales, during a "refresher" course of instruction in the game.

Leafs Abandon Their Playoff Hopes After Bisons Rap Them 9-4; Bears Win 100th, 10-4 Off Orioles

(By the Associated Press.)

You'd imagine a team like Newark Bears, which clinched its second straight International League pennant last Friday, would take things easy now that they had the pennant wrapped away. But not the Bears. They don't do things that way in the baseball chain owned by Col. Jacob Ruppert.

The Bears, who have been in a streak all season, scored their 100th win last night by trouncing Baltimore's last place Orioles 10-4. The triumph increased the champions' league-lead to 17½ games over the second place Syracuse Chiefs, who split a double-header with Jersey City, losing 5-2 and winning 9-2.

It was the Bears' sixth straight win and their ninth in 10 games, but they can't equal the mark set by last year's outfit which won 109 games in capturing the flag by 26½ games over Montreal. The Bears as well as the Chiefs have seven games to play.

Holm Lifts a Homer.

Every member in the Bruins' lineup, except Pitcher Nick Strincevich, hit safely. Charlie Keller led the parade with three blows in four trips, while Ernie Holm belted out a homer and single. Les Scarsella and Merrill May drove in three runs each. Meanwhile Strincevich hurled effectively, allowing the Orioles eight hits and fanning six.

Glen Gabler hurled seven hit ball and blanked the Chiefs in the last eight innings of the opener. He received the benefit of an 11-hit attack that was led by Jack Winsett. The Chiefs came back to annex the nightcap behind Ted Kleinhans' seven-hitter. The Syracusans, paced by Dee Moore's four-bagger and double, made their nine hits good for as many runs.

Toronto Maple Leafs gave up all hope of getting into the playoffs when they absorbed their third straight licking from Buffalo Bisons 9-4, and dropped seven games astern of the fourth place club.

Rochester Red Wings and Montreal Royals were idle.

Keeping In Shape For Record-Smashing

Hot on the trail of Babe Ruth's home run record of 60, set 11 years ago, Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tiger's slugging first baseman, receives the careful attention of the team trainer, Denny (Doc) Carroll. The Doc is shown as he gives the Greenberg left arm a heat treatment before a game. It's not entirely a matter of breaking records, of course, as Hank hammers over many a run for his team with his extra base blows, runs that come in handy as the Cochraneless Tigers strive for a first division berth.

Feller Hands Tigers 6-0 Shutout For Indians' 8th Win In Row; Davis And Cards Rap Reds 8-0

By Bill Boni
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Like the proverbial mice who play while the cat's away, Cleveland Indians have been going great guns since New York Yankees last were seen headed in the direction of their third straight American Baseball League pennant.

At that time the Indians had been driven 16 games down into third place after losing five out of six to the Bronx Bombers. But the Indians reacted as if they'd had a great burden lifted off their collective shoulders.

And today they are tied for second place with Boston Red Sox—a position they have achieved by winning nine of their 10 starts since the great Bronx massacre. The ninth, and eighth in succession, was nailed to the wall yesterday as Bob Feller pitched a four-hit 6-0 shutout against the Tigers.

It was Bob's best performance since early in the season, when he tossed a one-hitter his first time out and followed up two weeks later with a three-hit job for 10 innings. It also was the eighth time in those nine victories that the Cleveland starter went the route. Feller, with a seven-hitter five days before, Mel Harder and Willis Hudlin contributed two each, and Johnny Allen and Al Milnar one apiece.

Feller's job of whitewashing, marked by six strikeouts, was just the best of several notable pitching performances on the day's six-game program.

Reds Are Shut Out.

Most important to the National League race was Curt Davis's five-hit flinging that gave the Cardinals a 8-0 decision over the Reds. Davis, who didn't walk a man, thus dropped Cincinnati 4½ games behind the first-place Pirates, a location the Reds will seek to improve when they face the Buccaneers in the opener of a two-game series today. It also brought the third-place Cubs, who were idle, within half a game of Cincinnati

Another National Leaguer, chunky Vito Tamulis of Brooklyn, came up with eight innings of shut-out ball after a wobbly start to hurl the Dodgers to a 6-4 triumph over the Phillies.

In his own circuit Feller had two rivals for the day's honors—Monty Stratton of the White Sox, who quit the hospital list to pitch eight-hit ball and set back the Browns 8-2, and Rene Monteagudo, a Cuban recruit up from Trenton of the Eastern League, who pinned the Red Sox ears back 7-5. The 22-year-old rookie was clipped for 14 hits, but had enough on the ball to fan nine of the sox.

The list included Jimmy Foxx, who struck out in the eighth with the bases loaded after having clouted his 40th homer earlier in the game.

In the day's other game the Giants had to come from behind all the way to nose out the Bees in the 10th, 6-5. Home runs by Alex Kampouris and Jo-Jo Moore enabled the Terrymen to carry the game into overtime; Mel Ott's 33rd four-bagger, with two on, tied it in the 10th after the Bees had scored three, and Kampouris' single with the bases loaded won the game.

The Pirates, as well as the Cubs, in the National League, and the Yanks and Athletics, in the American, had the day off.

New York Giants Buy Tom Hafey

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (A.P.). — New York Giants to-day announced the purchase of Tom Hafey, a third baseman, from Knoxville (Tenn.) of the Southern Association for spring delivery.

Hafey, 6 feet 1 inch in height and weighing about 190, has hit around .295 for Knoxville this season.

Greyhound Fails To Break Mark

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7 (A.P.).—Strong-hearted Greyhound, champion international trotting gelding owned by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., failed on Tuesday in an attempt to break his 1-minute 56-second record, but hung up a new Indiana State Fair mile mark of 1.56¾ in the highlight of the Grand Circuit racing program.

He trimmed four seconds from the Hoosier oval mark and was at the quarter in 30 seconds, the half at 58¼, and went the last half without whip in 58½.

Nate Hanover, driven by Vic Fleming of Dundas, Ont., and Syracuse, N.Y., had little difficulty in taking the 2.12 pace in three straight heats.

Hanover the Great, undefeated on half-mile tracks last year, fell dead in the first heat of the Governor's Stake. The horse trailed the field a quarter of a mile and Driver Sep Palin pulled it up at the east-end of the stretch. It fell down and was pronounced dead seconds later. Ten thousand fans in the stands stood silently while the horse, for which its owner, E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., paid $6,000 last year, was dragged from the track.

Canada Wins Dinghy Race

Canada won the international 14-foot dinghy series yesterday when the Royal Canadian Yacht Club team defeated the British entry, the Royal Norfolk and Suffolk Yacht Club to take the series 3 to 1.

The R.C.Y.C. won the first race of the best-of-five series, the R. N. and S. Y. C. took the second and the last two races went to the Canadians.

Tuesdays race was the closest of the series, all six dinghies crossing the finish line within 45 seconds.

Jack Wright of the R.C.Y.C. with Burke Hynes as crew, was the first to finish in th elapsed time of 1 hour 15 minutes, 47 seconds for the six miles around a triangular course off Centre Island. Henry Hill, R. C. Y. C. was second just three seconds behind Wright. Hill's crewmen was Bill Gooderham.

Major Colin Chichester-Smith, with Keith George as crew, led the visitors by winning third place. He was followed by Charles Currey in fourth place, and Peter Scott, fifth, both of the English team, Charles Bourke, R.C.Y.C. was last.

With a brisk wind from the southeast filling their sails the dinghies got off to a fast, even start with Scott, captain of the British team, taking an early lead. At the two-mile mark Scott led Bourke by 20 seconds and midway through the race had a 30-second lead over Hill, who had moved up from fourth position.

Scott kept ahead of Hill for the next mile, then relinquished his lead in order to place Chichester-Smith in a favorable position by covering the Canadians. Chichester-Smith, last at the three-mile mark, was able to advance three places through the excellent sailing teamwork of his clubmates, particularly Scott.

Coming down the home stretch fast, Chichester-Smith got even with Wright, who was in second spot, but Henry Hill dropped back, covered the British boat and allowed Wright to cut through for first place.

Londonderry, Ireland, is to have a silent zone at night.

Western Rugby Very Interesting Says Foulds, But Doubts Combination With East's Game

WINNIPEG, September 6. — (C. P.). — W. A. (Bill) Foulds, chairman of the Canadian Rugby Union's rules committee, finds Western football "very interesting and pleasing" but doubts whether the game as played in the East can be combined with the Western game.

The Toronto sportsman, who saw Winnipeg Blue Bombers beat Calgary Bronks 6-0 here Friday night, finds the main difference is in the interference rule. In Eastern Canada interference is permitted three yards ahead of the line of scrimmage. In the West the interference limit is 10 yards.

"In the West, the advancement of the ball carrier depends largely on the protection he receives from the interference," Foulds said. "This makes the backfield more proficient for interference but puts it out of position to accept lateral passes.

"The East has a different style for the simple reason it's not essential to support a ball carrier. In this respect a player is always behind or outside the carrier, ready to accept any lateral passes. As far as gaining first downs, I can see little difference. They do it just as frequently in the East as in the West."

Guest of Western Teams

Foulds came here as guest of the Western Interprovincial Union teams to see the rules in play. Western officials have sought for several years to have certain phases of the Western game incorporated in the C. R. U. rules.

In addition to the interference difference, the West permits throwing of forward passes anywhere behind the line of scrimmage while in the East the pass must be thrown from at least five yards behind the scrimmage line.

In the West, too, no point is counted if a kicked ball rolls over the deadline but a point is given if the ball crosses the deadline without touching the ground first. Any kicked ball crossing the deadline counts a point in the East.

Davis Tells Court

Facing as a prosecution witness the New York court trying James J. Hines, Tammany leader for alleged connection with the policy racket, J. Richard "Dixie" Davis, one time lawyer for the Dutch Schultz gang, swore that Hines and the dead gang leader plotted to elect W. C. Dodge as district attorney, because he was "Hines' man." Davis weaved a web of evidence connecting the politician defendant with New York's gangdom. He is shown leaving court after his first day of testimony.

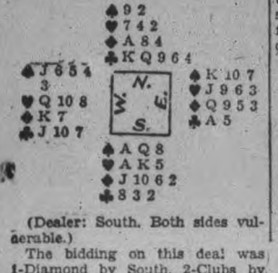
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER
By SHEPARD BARCLAY
"The Authority on Authorities"

PREFER NATURAL PLAYS

ALWAYS WIN a trick unless you have a special reason for not winning it. This does not constitute parsimony, but plain common sense. In all games the natural plays are preferred under ordinary circumstances. Such measures as hold-ups are advisable only when common logic dictates that an advantage of some kind may be gained by them.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

The bidding on this deal was 1-Diamond by South, 2-Clubs by North, 2-No Trump by South and 3-No Trump by North.

The spade 4 was West's original lead, which East took with the K. He returned the spade 10 to South's Q. The club 2 to the Q was South's next play and East held off on the first round. Declarer came to his hand with a heart and led another club. When the 10 was played by West, declarer guessed correctly and ducked, with the result that he lost only one club trick.

If East goes in on the first club trick, West makes the J, as East can clear the spade suit when in with the club A. Declarer could not afford to let West hold the trick with the 10 with two set-up spades. East had no good reason for holding up, as the entry in dummy made that play useless.

What is South's best play for 6-hearts after the lead of the club Q?

Council Sends Report To Commission

The city council formally received last night Judge G. E. Deroche's report of the inquiry he conducted into police affairs and administration in Peterborough, and instructed that a copy of it be forwarded to the Police Commission.

"Judge Deroche was very charitable," Alderman Stocker commented. "It was nothing but a first class beer investigation. I am satisfied that it be left with the Commission."

Alderman Bradburn suggested that the words "for action on it" be added to Alderman Gordon's motion, which Alderman McIntyre seconded. "After all, $600 of the people's money was expended on the inquiry."

"The Police Commission is an independent body," Alderman Gordon said. "They proposed that the investigation be held. Now the facts are there with a considerable section of the evidence, and we can have confidence the Commission will act as they feel they should act. I would hesitate to suggest how they should act. I feel they will act fairly and competently.'"

According to accounts listed in the report of the legal committee the investigation cost $602.05, itemized as follows: Cecil G. Frost, K.C., Lindsay, $250; Judge Deroche, Belleville, $195.20; A. G. Newhall & Company, Toronto, stenography, $76.20; Orville A. Moore, bailiff, $42; John A. Harstone, sheriff, $17.65; W. F. Huycke, (conduct money), $21.

Payment of these accounts was recommended except that of Sheriff Harstone, which was held in abeyance for information.

Judge Deroche's report was prefaced with the following reference to the Examiner's complaint against Chief Newhall:

"Harold L. Garner by letter intimated before the inquiry opened, that he did not wish to follow up his charge for two reasons (1) that he could not produce the then reporter on his paper, Copping; (2) The attitude of the Chief towards his paper had improved so that it was now all that could be desired. I nevertheless heard Mr. Garner, as well as the Chief, also a member of the Provincial Police and a County Constable as to what occurred.

This evidence established that the charge was a mistake and entirely failed. Also that the attitude of the Chief toward the paper had not changed, but the change noticed by Mr. Garner was really caused by the difference in the attitude of the reporter succeeding Copping."

U.F.W.O. Head Addresses Club

(Examiner Correspondence.)

COTTESLOE, Sept. 7.—The U.F.O. and U.F.W.O. held their opening fall meeting in the school here on Thursday evening.

George Barr, president, was chairman, Mrs. Anderson, Wingham, provincial president, gave a very fine address on co-operation. She spoke of the difficulties and discouragements on the farm but said one must be impressed with the progress through the farm movement.

Many concerns have started and died, but the business of farming goes on. It is often forgotten that all beinnings are in the soil.

She spoke of the trend of farm young people to the cities, not because of the bright lights, but because of conditions at home, which can be righted by co-operation. City dwellers who would rather receive help through relief than work on the farm for what the farmer could afford to pay were condemned.

If the price of what the farmer had to sell corresponded with the price of what he had to buy things would be much better. She advised the clubs to study the needs of their own communities.

Mr. Zeigman from Toronto stock yards, also gave a fine talk on rail grading of hogs..

The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which the ladies served lunch.

The October meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Patterson.

Information collected is expected to be of considerable social value and the survey authorities hope the public will co-operate. All agents will be sworn to secrecy and the information obtained will be treated in the same way as census data.

Dummer Council Strikes Its Rate

HAVELOCK, Sept. 7—The municipal council met in regular session on Thursday, all members present.

An offer was received and accepted for that part of Eaglemount owned by the township. The rates were struck for 1938, the township rates at 5 mills, county rate up 4 from last year at 13.2.

School trustee rates are mostly down owing to an increase in the general school grant. Some schools have put in a toilet system and consequently have had to strike their rates up from last year.

Considerable more and better work has been done on the roads of the township. While considerable improvement has been made in tax collection, the council was unanimous in their demands on the tax collector for clearning up outstanding rolls. Aybert Webster was re appointed tax colector for 1938.

Key French Generals Go To Front

Shift High Command To Face Germany In War Preparations

PARIS, Sept. 8. (CP). — The French army strengthened its high command today with a rapid shift of ranking generals who are experts on the German frontier zone.

General Edouard Requin, commander of the 20th Corps area which includes a major portion of the Maginot defence line opposite Germany, was promoted to the superior war council.

General Louis Hubert, who had been commander of the Metz fortified zone opposite the northernmost sector of the German border area, was given the 20th Corps area with headquarters at Nancy.

A member of the superior war council, General Jules Garchery, was made inspector general of infantry in addition to his other functions. General Garchery directed service and supply for the French army of the Rhineland after the Great War.

The government's precautionary measures to prepare the nation for war were intensified as labor swung into line on the national defence program.

Although workers' organizations still protested against Premier Daladier's methods to step up production of war material by abolishing the 40-hour work week, they indicated the seriousness of the crisis caused them to drop active opposition.

Marseille dock-workers submitted peacefully to a decree handing the port over to a military committee, which completed plans to mobilize stevedores and port facilities today.

The general confederation of labor, representing 5,000,000 workers, agreed after conferences with Premier Daladier that the union would prepare plans for a rapid increase in production for the armed forces.

Eastview Barbers Get Old Rates Back

EASTVIEW, Ont., Sept. 8 (C.P.). —Shaves and haircuts will cost less in this Ottawa suburb, to the satisfaction of both barbers and patrons, as a result of the efforts of Mayor Donat Grandmaitre and Romeo Begin, M.L.A., for Russell.

They obtained authority from the Ontario Labor and Industry Board for the local barbers to revert to the old schedule of rates in effect before Eastview was included in the Ottawa zone under the Industrial Standards Act. The standard charge in the Ottawa zone is 40 cents for a haircut and 25 cents for a shave. It is expected Eastview barbers will now charge 25 and 15 cents.

The barbers found their trade falling off since the higher rate was imposed, and obtained the assistance of the Town Council in pressing for their old and lower rates.

Japan Shakes Up 4 Major Envoys To Aid Anti-Communist Bloc

TOKYO, Sept. 8 (AP).—A comprehensive shake-up in Japan's diplomatic circles, affecting ambassadors to Rome, Berlin, Moscow and London, was predicted in informed quarters today.

Authoritative quarters said Mamoru Shigemitsu, ambassador to Moscow, would be appointed to London as a reward for his part in effecting the Changkufeng truce in the Manchoukuo-Siberian border affair. Ambassador Shigeru Yoshida was expected to be recalled to Tokyo from London.

Shigenori Togo, ambassador to Berlin, is reported going to Moscow, and the Toshio Shiratori, a staunch believer in totalitarianism, is reported slated for Rome.

The present envoy to Rome, Masaaki Hotta, is expected to return to Tokyo. Lieut. Gen. Matahiko Oshima, military attache in Berlin, is slated to succeed Togo.

The plan is designed, according to well-informed quarters, to strengthen the anti-Communist bloc movement as well as to place Shigemitsu in London during Anglo-Japanese conferences over British rights in China.

Killed Aboard Tug

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Sept. 8—(CP).—Arthur Donio, 34, was killed aboard a tug on Lake Nipigon Tuesday night, it was learned here to-day.

When the tug ran on a shoal, a line was put to shore to haul it off. While the tug was being removed, the winding cable slipped and the flying handle of the windlass struck Donio on the head, fracturing his skull.

Donio's wife and four children were aboard the tug at the time of the accident.

Mystery Vessel Goes Down With 3 Men

PEGGY'S COVE, N.S., Sept. 8.—(CP).—Residents of this Nova Scotia tourist resort sought today the bodies of three men and the identity of a two-masted schooner that foundered under them off the shore of the fishing village yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ricks, tourists from Plainfield, N.J., were the only witnesses to the sinking.

"So far as I could make out, the bow went down and the sail caught in the water," Ricks declared. "She sank almost immediately."

A single dory, filled with water and painted yellow with a red bottom was the only evidence of the tragedy.

Today, an organized party of fishermen from the surrounding villages set out to search for the bodies of the fishermen. Heavy seas and a thick mist balked attempts to start the search last night.

Fears were held in Halifax the boat might have been the 55-ton coastal schooner Clarisse P. out of North Sydney. The Clarisse had a cargo of coal loaded at North Sydney and sailed from Halifax two days ago for Tancook, on a course that would have taken her past the scene of the foundering. Aboard her were Captain Aubrey W. Fife, Edwin Cannana, Eldred Mercer, Cape Breton seamen.

See Hitler Decided Then On Length He Will Go To Protect His Sudetens

Dictator Reported To Have Told Sudetens To Resume Negotiations; Polish, Russian Envoys Call On Halifax

LONDON, Sept 8 (CP).—The Cabinet was summoned today to meet next Monday, a few hours before Chancellor Hitler is expected to make at Nuremberg, Germany, a speech which may tell Europe his intentions in regard to Czechoslovakia.

The German Chancellor's speech (about 2 p.m., E.D.T.) is scheduled as the climax of the 10th annual Nazi Party congress, now in progress. European statesmen have expressed belief that by then he will have made up his mind how far he will go as protector of the Sudeten German minority of Czechoslovakia.

Prime Minister Chamberlain issued the call for the Cabinet meeting after a series of conferences with key ministers on the suspension of negotiations between the Prague Government and the Sudeten Germans.

Informed quarters believed that Monday's session—at 11 a.m.—was called to reach a decision on what Britain should do if the Fuehrer heralded aggressive action.

Pole, Russian Call.

Perhaps the biggest development of the whole day was a call at the Foreign Office by the diplomatic representatives of Poland and Soviet Russia.

The attitude of Poland would be almost vital in any conflict with Germany and there have been reports of possible diplomatic exchanges with Britain on Central European affairs, particularly Poland's position as a buffer state between Russia and Germany, a position that depends on friendly support by Great Britain and France.

Orders Talks Resumed

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 8—(AP)—Informed sources today stated that Chancellor Hitler had instructed the Sudeten German leaders in Czechoslovakia to resume talks with the Czechoslovak Government.

The same sources declared it was Hitler who yesterday ordered the Sudeten Germans to discontinue their negotiations for self-rule when two deputies were allegedly mistreated by Czechoslovak police.

The reason for his change, it was said, was the desire of the Chancellor to convince the world he was leaving nothing undone to find a peaceful solution to the Czech-German crisis.

Informed quarters said "with this additional evidence of a conciliatory spirit to the Sudeten Germans' credit," Hitler could "all the more press upon the British to demand maximum concessions from the Czechoslovak administration."

German efforts will now be concentrated upon getting the British Mediation Mission to act quickly and decisively, these sources added.

Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German leader, returned to Nuremberg this morning after a hurried overnight journey to Czechoslovakia, which he took at Hitler's behest yesterday.

Whipping Shakes Europe.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 8 (A.P.). — The whipping of a Sudeten German legislator added measurably to the worries of Europe over night.

The war that statesmen feared was perhaps a step nearer, because a Czech policeman rode his black horse through a clamoring crowd at Moravska-Ostrava and brought his riding crop down on the shoulders of a Sudeten German member of the Czechoslovak Parliament.

In Prague, negotiations between Sudetens and the Government over minority rights collapsed. The report was flashed to Nuremberg where Chancellor Hitler was infromed, and the Sudeten chief, Konrad Henlein, was ordered to return here post-haste.

Sudeten Party leaders conferred until th early hours. A member of the Negotiations Committee said today there would be no more discussions "until the infamy of Moravska-Ostrava is liquidated."

Single Tax On Actual Land Value Held Key To Country Of Plenty

TORONTO, Sept. 8 —(CP)— The hope of solving the problem of poverty in the midst of plenty was held out by Margaret E. Bateman of Montreal in an address prepared for delivery today before the 13th annual Henry George Congress and Tax Relief Association.

Miss Bateman found the solution in the single tax principles laid down by Henry George, declaring that "if we could institute a just and equitable system of land value taxation in Canada and the United States that make up one-tenth of the land area of the world we could prove there is a solution to our problem."

Up to the present these two countries had copied the land systems of Great Britain and European countries. Taxation was levied against a multitude of articles and in a multitude of ways by a multitude of ublic bodies. Under the Henry George theories, taxation would come from the single source of land values.

"No such thing as unemployment was known here as long as the frontiers were still open," said Miss Bateman. "But, we have reached the place now where we must either find a way of releasing our natural resources to the people or continue to make the same mistakes that other countries have made."

Successful Tests.

The Congress opened yesterday with the Single Tax Association of Canada acting as host. Secretary Herbert T. Owens was among the speakers, declaring that the single tax theory had been successfully practised in Denmark, New Zealand, Queensland, Rhodesia and was placed partially in effect in some parts of the United States.

He said that the association did not favor a tax on buildings' or improvements and consequently the only tax payable by a business firm, under the system would be on the value of the land it occupied.

United States delegates said that if land in that country were taxed according to its value, the income would exceed $15,000,000,000 a year.

Salary Is Too Low

MONTREAL, Sept. 8 (C.P.). — Raymond Courtemanche, 34-year-old bank clerk who was paid $14 per week, was sentenced to-day by Judge Amedee Monet to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, for theft of $3,887 from his employers, Baque Canadienne Nationale.

The Judge suggested bank clerks would be involved in fewer thefts if they "were better paid."

Theft Shopbreaking Jobs Cost 4 Years

HAMILTON, Sept. 8 (C.P.). — Percy Abel, Hamilton boilermaker, was sentenced to four years in Kingston Penitentiary by Magistrate James McKay on charges of shopbreaking and theft and receiving stolen goods.

Before sentence was passed, Geo. Ballard, K.C., Crown Attorney, drew attention of the court to the lengthy record of the accused, including conviction on charges of burglary and shopbreaking.

"In view of his record, and the prevalence of shopbreaking at this time, I suggest that an example should be made of this case," Mr. Ballard suggested. "The accused is a repeated offender, and I suggest this case should be viewed as a serious one."

Abel was charged with the theft of $1,675 worth of jewellery from the store of Harry Minden, James Street North, which was burglarized on the evening of August 31. Half the jewellery was recovered. Some of the rings he concealed in his mouth.

Abel pleaded guilty to the receiving charge, but not guilty to shopbreaking and treft. When he refused to testify on his own behalf or give some explanation as to how he came into possession of some $800 worth of jewellery, Magistrate McKay convicted him on the charge of shopbreaking.

Toronto With 9,968 Babies Born In 1937 Slips To Level Of Population In 1911

Toronto, Sept. 8.

THE LOWEST birth rate per 1,000 population in the history of Toronto was recorded in 1937, Dr. Gordon Jackson, Medical Officer of Health, announced today. During 1937, 9,968 live births were registered, corresponding to a rate of 15.4 per 1,000 population.

"The current rate is 33 per cent less than it was in 1930, with the result that the actual number of births has fallen to the level of 1911 when Toronto had three-fifths its present population," Dr. Jackson said.

BIGWIN INN, Ont., Sept. 8—(CP)—W. G. Robertson, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Automobile Association, asserted in a speech prepared for delivery at the Canadian Good Roads Association convention today that since the organization was founded in 1914 there had been a revolution in transportation which restored to highways the ascendancy lost to railways in the middle of the 19th century.

Mr. Robertson said that in 1914 only 69,598 motor vehicles were registered in all Canada, compared with 1,314,382 last year. In 1914 the motor vehicles as but a minor factor in road transportation. Farmers as a class were hostile to it, their horses were even more so. Outside of urban limits there was not a mile of paved road in the Dominion. Few in those early days foresaw the future of the "horseless carriage."

The day had long passed when ownership of a car was regarded as evidence of either wealth or experience. A recent survey in the United States showed 33 per cent of the cars in operation were owned by families whose annual income was less than $1,000 and 90 per cent of families owning cars had incomes of less than $3,000.

Every other family in Canada and the United States now possessed a car and 26,500,000 passenger cars and 4,500,000 trucks operate on the 3,500,000 miles of roadway in the two countries.

Despite growth of motor coach travel, it is the privately-owned passenger car and not the bus which has most seriously affected railway passenger revenues. A Pennsylvania railway study, which showed "the motor bus has not deprived us of substantially more business than the interurban electric lines would have done had they survived and expanded," is borne out by the fact that while Canadian railway passenger revenues declined from $85,000,000 in 1923 to $31,880,000 in 1933, motor coach earnings in the latter year did not exceed $4,500,000 as against the railways' loss of $53,120,000.

Truck transport on the other hand has gravely impaired prosperity of the railways, due partly to such factors as greater flexibility, reduced handling of goods in transit and saving of time. More than 50,000 communities in the United States and Canada (over 2,000 in Ontario alone) depend entirely on the motor truck for goods transportation.

If highway engineers were unhampered by the problem of financing, design and construction of roads could be carried out to relieve congestion and greatly reduce accidents, Mr. Keefe said.

Legs Are Amputated

TORONTO, Sept. 8—(CP). — Attempting to board a moving freight train near the Don Station to-day, Donald Vance, 17 (27 Franklin Street), Paris, fell and had both legs amputated by the wheels of a box car.

The victim of the accident reached out to grab a bar and pull himself aboard. His grip slipped and he fell to the tracks in view of his friend.

Herd Of Midget Cows Halves Feed Bill Fills Bigger Pails

Stillwater, Okla., Sept. 8.

MIDGET COWS are bringing not only midget feed bills, but increased milk production to an Oklahoma dairy farmer. Otto Gray, who started experimenting with an undersized breed two years ago, reported today his pint-sized animals have surpassed other members of his herd in milk production although they consume only half as much feed.

The midgets were developed from an undersized angus cow and a normal hereford bull, stand from 30 to 37 inches high and weigh from 450 to 500 pounds, about half the heft of a normal jersey, Gray said.

Train Hits Truck Takes Fire 7 Die, 20 Hurt

PERPIGNAN, France, Sept. 8.—(AP).—At least seven persons were killed and 20 injured in the explosion last night of a gasoline-laden automobile truck which set fire to a railroad passenger train on the outskirts of Gerona, Spain.

The truck was part of a convoy carrying gasoline to Barcelona. It collided with a train at a gate crossing.

Two occupants of the truck, fearing an explosion, fled.

Two occupants of another truck, drawing up behind, got out, thinking the men on the other truck had been pinned in the wreckage and went to help them.

At that moment a gasoline tank on the first truck exploded and the two were burned to death. Fire spread to the wooden coaches of the train and nearby houses, which were destroyed.

Panic broke out in the crowded train, from which firemen later removed five bodies and 20 persons seriously injured. It was feared more victims still were in the wreckage.

At noon today rail travel between Gerona and Palmos, further down the Mediterranean coast, was still interrupted.

Turkey is expected to place large orders for military supplies shortly.

Probe Looms In Mental Hospitals

Hepburn Suspects Sane Being Held; London Head Ousted

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—(CP).— As the possible forerunner of a sweeping investigation of Ontario Mental Hospitals to determine if sane persons are being detained improperly, a Royal Commission of Inquiry assembled at Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn's office at Queen's Park to-day.

The Commission is composed of Clifford Magone, solicitor in the Attorney General's office as chairman, Dr. William H. Avery, Toronto physician and Lionel Conacher, M.P.P for Bracondale and vice-chairman of the Ontario Athletic Commission.

Creation of the Commisison was ordered by the Prime Minister himself as the result of his personal knowledge of the case of John R. Green, St. Thomas lawyer, held in the London hospital for two years and nine months after his committal for "observation" on an intoxication charge.

"In my opinion he was never a mental case at any time," the Premier said.

The Commission will inquire particularly into the Green case, but Mr Hepburn indicated that the Department of Health had the names of at least 30 more cases which would probably be investigated.

London Super Suspended

The Green case led the Premier to ask Hon. Harold J. Kirby, Minister of Health to order the suspension of Dr. George H. Stevenson, Superintendent of the London Hospital. Pending the investigation Dr. Stevenson's assistant, Dr. McGeogh, will be in charge of the hospital.

Mr. Green, the Premier explained, was released by order of the Minister of health after a thorough investigation of his case by medical officials of the department. The commisison will inquire into the circumstances surrounding his committal.

"We have a strong suspicion that many people are being held improperly," the Premier said as he made the announcement after consultation with Mr. Kirby.

In addition to the investigation, Mr. Hepburn suggested that chances would probably be made at the next session of the legislature in the Mental Hospitals Act. Consideration would be given, he said, to a suggestive that a "visiting committee" should be appointed for every hospital to ensure that patients would not be improperly detained.

Charge Average U.S. Home Rearing Little Fascists

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor.)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept 8—(AP)—Little Fascists, instead of democratic-minded children are being reared in the majority of homes and schools in the United States, the American Psychological Association was told today.

This assertion came out of an experiment at the Yale University Institute of human relations, made and reported by Dr. O. H. Mowrer. The average home and school, he concluded, has too much "authoritarianism" and too little self-government among children.

He tried self-government among children from two to 14 years old at the New Haven childrens' centre. Infractions, he said, decreased at a remarkable rate. When small boys made holes in window screens, mosquitoes drove home to the children the idea of co-operation.

Critics said he was making tattlers, destroying proper respect for adults and making the children sadistic. He claimed it worked the other way and that adults got more of the childrens' respect.

He claimed there were two general reactions to autocratic atmospheres in home and in school. One is life-long dependence on a so-called leader. The other is struggling "by fair means or foul" to become such a leader.

'Peg's Hungry Lions Taken Off Meat For Porridge Diet

Winnipeg, Sept 8.

THE TWO LIONS which the city is trying to get rid of because of the expense are being fed porridge at their Assiniboine Park home. It costs about 35 cents a day to keep them, now that the straight meat diet has been abandoned.

Steady Growth In Apartment Dwellers Said Hurting Neighborhood Church

Toronto, Sept. 8.

GROWTH OF apartment life, with its disintegrative effect on the family, is a considerable factor in undermining the power of the neighborhood church, according to the report of the commission on urban problems of the United church, to be presented to the general council of the church meeting here Sept. 21.

"The steady increase in the number of apartment houses means the driving out of the householder and his family who are the real backbone of the community church," the report says.

"The apartment house is almost a symbol of the unattached anonymity of the life of the people who live there. They belong to nothing and nobody. A removal, instead of being a kind of uprooting, is an incident."

The report submits that the attachment of this section of the population to the church is a problem of "desperate urgency but is attended with the gravest difficulties."

Defence Asks Hines Freed, Shown No 'Master Mind'

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP). — Defence counsel to-day urged dismisal of conspiracy charges against James J. Hines, 61-year-old Tammany district leader asserting that even on the basis of the State's accusations, Hines was only "one of the players on the team"—not a "master mind" of the $20,000,000-a-year Dutch Schultz policy racket.

By this legal strategy, Lloyd Paul Stryker, Hines' attorney, sought to prevent the four-week-old trial from reaching the "blue ribbon" jury.

Stryker asked Justice Ferdinand Pecora for dismissal of the indictment in a 27-page typewritten brief. He cited three major legal points in moving that the 13 counts in the indictment against Hines be thrown out.

He also cited 36 cases in support of his thesis, and in a pre-court interview, the booming-voice chief defence lawyer was emphatic in

Taxis Of The Marne Will Give Way To Buses Next War

Paris, Sept. 8.

THE "TAXIS OF THE Marne" which helped turn the tide of German invasion 24 years ago will be replaced with buses if the necessity of rushing troops from Paris ever arises again.

The War Ministry ordered the Paris Transport Company, owner of the Capital's buses, to turn over a number of their regular city buses for use in the recent army manoeuvres near Besancon.

If the French army is ever hard pressed before Paris again as in 1914, military experts say the general staff expects to find the big buses, each seating 48 persons, far more efficient than taxis for emergency troop transport.

Pioneer Prospector Lost 3 Days In Yukon Found Barely Able To Crawl

Mayo, Y. T., Sept 8.

SUFFERING FROM exhaustion and exposure after being lost three days and three nights in bush country above Middlecoff camp on Highet Creek, Jack Hawthorne, prospector and pioneer silver operator in the Mayo district, was in hospital here today.

Hawthorne, so weak he was hardly able to crawl on his hands and knees, was found about an hour's hiking distance from camp by miners who had been searching for him.

The prospector had wandered helplessly through the bush after he became ill Friday and his partner, Rudolph Rasmussen, left him to get aid from the camp, four miles down the creek.

Nazi Army General Scores Runciman Mission For "Dilly-Dallying"

"Will Never Make War Upon Czech People But When Sudetens Assaulted We Must Brand It War On Us," He Adds

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 8 (AP). — Germany's patience in negotiations for German minority rights in Czechoslovakia is near its end, an army general well aware of events said today.

"We never will make war on the Czechs," the general told this writer at the Nazi Party convention here," but if the lives of our German brethren are not safe the day may come when we shall consider that they (the Czechs) started a war with us.

"In such case, of course, we shall remember that attack is the best method of defence."

He spoke in the light of these grave developments in the crisis:

1. Action by a Czech mounted policeman who rode into a noisy crowd in Moravska-Ostrava, near the German and Polish borders with Czechoslovakia, and, Germans said, struck with his riding crop the shoulders of a Sudeten German legislator.

2. Decision by Sudeten German Party leaders to break off, for the time being at least, negotiations with the Prague Government because of the Moravska-Ostrava incident, which the Czech Government promised to investigate thoroughly.

3. The statement by a high government spokesman, speaking privately that Hitler in effect had instructed Konrad Henlein, Sudeten Party leader, not to accept the latest and supposedly "final" offer of concessions from the Prague Government and advised him to "ask for more and you'll get it."

Trouble Halts Henelin-Hitler Parley

Henlein came here to confer with the Chancellor but started back to Czechoslovakia last night to investigate the Moravska-Ostrava trouble.

In speaking of the Moravska-Ostrava disturbance, the general asked, "How much longer is this to go on?" He criticized Viscount Runciman's unofficial mediation mission in Prague for "dilly-dallying."

He expressed the opinion Lord Runciman should have asked the Czech Government whether it was prepared to grant the full autonomy demands of the Sudetens and, if they were not, should have "washed his hands of the situation."

It was indicated that Hitler was trying to convince British envoys that the Czech Government was not master of the internal situation and that, therefore, the Sudeten German minority could not be expected to owe it loyalty.

Hitler's objective was said to be to get the British to put pressure on Prague to make maximum concessions to the Sudetens.

This was outlined by a government informant, however, before the Moravska-Ostrava trouble was known publicly.

The British Ambassador, it was noted, was the only foreign envoy attending the Nazi congress who planned to remain for the rest of the week.

What the Sudetens want, said the spokesman, "is one complete section of Czechoslovakia in which they are the masters, where they can profess the Nazi Weltanschauung (Nazi ideology) and where Germans will be governed by Germans."

Sculptor Of Royalty Moulds Head Of Luise Rainer

Felix Weiss, celebrated Hollywood sculptor, is shown working on the head of Luise Rainer, motion picture actress who has "the most sensitive, soulful and beautiful" face he has ever seen. Weiss, who travelled 7,500 miles to do the sculpture of Miss Rainer, has sculptured such celebrities as King George VI. of England, and his late father, George V. the republic had hoped that at last they had worked out a compromise plan which would satisfy the Sudeten Germans, who yearn for self-government within the state.

Hodza Out for Coffee.

Premier Hodza had gone out for an afternoon cup of coffee, believing progress was being made, when the whipping incident upset statesmen's calculations.

The British Mission of Mediation speedily despatched an investigator to Moravska-Ostrava, city of 175,000 near the German and Polish frontiers.

Investigation at Moravska-Ostrava brought to light there was a second incident. Deputy Mai was struck by the riding whip, and Sudeten Deputy Koellner, also in the mixup, was thrust against the wall by the policeman's horse.

The Czech explanation was that several hundred persons were in front of the city jail, while the legislators went inside to demand release or better treatment of Sudeten prisoners.

Police said many of the prisoners were held on a charge of having smuggled arms into Czechoslovakia from Germany.

According to the police version, the crowd shouted Nazi slogans and the officers said Sudeten leaders to whom they appealed failed to establish order.

Police then tried to divide the crowd. One officer said that Deputy Mai rushed from the building to protest, that he was beset by several Czechs who held him by the coat when an officer with a bad aim swung with his stick.

War Very Near

BLACKPOOL, England, Sept. 8 (CP)—Extreme Czechoslovak concessions to the German minority in that country "must unavoidably lead to war in the very near future," Walter Schevenels, secretary general of the International Trades Union Federation, said today at a public session of the Trades Union Congress.

"War can be prevented," he declared, "and will be prevented if the governments take action with energy and good faith on the lines the public opinion of the world demands.

"The action pursued in the last week by the big democratic powers in the Sudeten problem is quite opposite to that policy. Compelling Czechoslovakia to make such concessions as they are making now must unavoidably lead to war in the very near future."

The Limit.

PARIS, Sept. 8—(CP-Havas).—The Czechoslovak Government can offer no further concessions to the Sudeten Germans, nor can other nations afford to let it do so, Paris newspapers said to-day.

The issue in Czechoslovakia has become an All-European issue and cannot be regarded as a localized dispute, these papers held.

Leon Blum, former Socialist Premier, writing in Le Populaire (Socialist) urged France and Great Britain to speak out in strong terms, for the issue now involves "far more than the condition of the Sudetens or the fate of the Czechoslovak state. At stake is the fate of Europe, the liberty or Europe, including France and Great Britain."

Runciman Is Said Resigning

Sudden Czech Turn Upsets Britain; Leaders In Session

LONDON, Sept. 8 (CP Cable).—Prime Minister Chamberlain today returned to London to give personal direction to British diplomatic efforts to settle the Czechoslovak-Sudeten German crisis. His first step was to have a long interview with foreign secretary Viscount Halifax.

The foreign office was visibly shaken by the Sudeten German action in breaking off negotiations with the Czechs almost when a basis of settlement had been reached. The sudden turn added to the gravity of the situation to such an extent that Lord Halifax now is uncertain whether he will go to Geneva on Friday.

Reports circulated in London but were immediately denied officially that Viscount Runciman was resigning his position as unofficial British mediator in the central European dispute.

A British observer attached to the Prague legation left there last night to make a report on the Moravska-Ostrava incident.

When it was feared some tavern brawl or trival incident might turn into a spark igniting the whole Czech crisis, the British government sent trained observers to make impartial reports which could be used to offset misrepresentations by either the Sudeten Germans, the Czechoslovaks or other interested parties.

Demand House Session

Meanwhile Labor formally demanded Parliament be summoned to confer on the critical situation. Clement Attlee, Labor leader in the House of Commons, gave the demand to Mr. Chamberlain.

Mr. Attlee's move was the result of a resolution adopted at Blackpool last night by a joint meeting of the National Executive of the Labor Party, the Executive of the Parliamentary Labor Party and the General Council of the Trades Union Congress.

Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent under-secretary for foreign affairs, were present with Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Halifax as they reviewed the situation.

One of the first decisions to be made by Mr. Chamberlain will concern the Labor Party's request.

The reason given by Mr. Attlee in his letter sent to Mr. Chamberlain this morning asking that Parliament be summoned to discuss foreign policy was that the serious International situation demanded immediate attention from parliament.

A 15-Minute Answer.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey has indicated that in contrast to the three hours Stryker said he would require for oral argument on his brief, the prosecution would only need "about 15 minutes" to answer it.

The States rested late yesterday after climaxing its maze of circumstantial evidence with testimony that Hines, as alleged political "fixer" for the Schultz mob, attempted to save "the Dutchman" from being "pushed around" by police in Troy, N.Y., and that Hines agreed to look into the pending appointment of Dewey as a special rackets prosecutor in 1935.

Blast Goes Off In Hand Killing Chathamite

CHATHAM, Ont., Sept. 8 (C.P.)—Inquest into the death of Henry H. Desaulnier, 23, of Chatham, who was killed in a dynamite explosion at Harwich Township gravel pit yesterday, will be held in Blenheim on September 21, authorities announced to-day. Coroner Dr. A. R. Hanks will preside.

Desaulnier was killed instantly when a bundle of dynamite exploded in his hand as he worked near a gravel pit on the farm of James T. Nash, his employer. Dynamite is used to loosen gravel in the 70-foot-deep pit.

Provincial Constable J. B. Sheff later recovered the mutilated body from the deep water in the pit.

'Frisco Strikers Tightening Lines

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8—(AP) — Department store owners and their thousands of striking clerks tightened battle lines today as their verbal skirmishing presaged a long struggle in San Francisco's newest labor battlefront.

A spokesman for the 27 affected stores and their eight branches said "The stores will stay open. We will not yield to any group of Union officials the control of who our employees will be."

The strikers, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, received pledges of Union support and set up a committee to conduct their campaign. Larry Vail, Union secretary, said 7,000 workers responded to yesterday's strike call. Store executives set the number at 4,000.

Police precautions brought 300 extra patrolmen into the retail section where a flurry of trouble broke out yesterday in front of two market street stores. The officers said flying fists and feminine hair pulling marked the passage of women employees through picket lines. The only arrests were two spectators who assertedly balked at officers' orders to "move on."

More than 26 other unions are indirectly involved in the strike.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 8—(CP). — Winnipeg wheat futures to-day fell back into lower price ranges after their first show of strength yesterday since August 27. Prices at the close were 1⅝ to 1¼ cent lower, October 57½, November 57¾, December 57½ to ⅝, and May 61⅜.

Despite Canadian export sales placed at 300,000 bushels, equal to about a third of yesterday's business, and unfavorable weather conditions in Western Canada for harvesting, support generally was thin.

Hedging sales sent the October future 1¼ cents lower near the close while some irregular intermarket spreading boosted May future higher at times.

Potatoes Blighted.

A number of potato patches here have been struck with a blight, and potatoes are going to be scarce. Belson And Fox Pace Chess Champion

TORONTO, Sept. 8. —(C. P.). — Twenty contestants in the hunt for the Dominion Chess title bent earnestly over their boards today as the championship tournament approached the halfway stage. With eight of the 19 rounds completed, Harry Belson of Toronto leads with 7½ points.

Belson is one point up on Maurice Fox of Montreal who has one adjourned game still to play. These two with defending champion Boris Blumin of Montreal are the tournament's three undefeated players.

The two leaders are threatened by the upsurge of two western Canada players. A chess prodigy, 14-year-old Abie Yanofsky, pulled into third position with six points after a victory last night over R. Drummond of Toronto.

The win sent Yanofsky ahead of Blumin who has 5½ points with two adjourned games to play. The western threat, Walter Holowach of Edmonton, also has 5½ points, but has played his full eight matches. He is looked upon as a dark horse in the tournament in which the cream of Canadian chess masters are competing.

Nazis From Toronto

The city of Kitchener had to decide what it was going to do about a reunion of the German-Canadian People's Society. In the end the Mayor of Kitchener decided he would not attend the gathering and bid the delegates welcome. The Chief of Police also did some deciding, and it was to the effect that there should be no parade allowed in Kitchener.

On top of that the German-Canadian People's Society decided to issue a statement, and it was so plainly worded that he who runs could read. In that statement we find that the Nazi element seeking to create recruits for Hitlerism had planned to make use of the social gathering in Kitchener to further their ends. There were many swastika emblems, there was much "Heil Hitler" in their methods and appearance, and it does look as though the Hitler element had been sufficient to dominate the situation.

The Kitchener Record editorially expresses thanks that the Mayor and Chief of Police would have no dealings with the gathering. In other times the gathering of German-Canadians had been a social affair, where German people came together to speak in their native tongue, to sing their folk songs and to live again old times. The Record says this year it was largely from Toronto that the Nazi element came, well organized and determined to impress their loyalty to Hitlerism on the organization and all its proceedings. We learn from the Record that the people of Kitchener and Waterloo want nothing to do with the new form of things in Germany of today. An editorial from the Kitchener paper which we produce elsewhere on this page, states the case plainly enough, and the Record has done a right and proper thing in saying clearly where it stands. Whether the people of its community are 100 per cent. with the Record is something we do not know, but right now when the issue was forced by the Nazi element, is the time for the Kitchener paper to speak, and it has not failed to do so.

Certainly there was a strong and well-organized group which arrived to take possession of the meeting and all the proceedings. They were not the old-time Germans, but were schooled and exuberant in goose-stepping Hitlerism. The Kitchener Record says these people came from Toronto and it might be well for authorities to find out why this cult is being allowed to become so proficient in the ways of Hitlerism under the protection of the British flag in Ontario's provincial capital.

Experts Consider Hens

Experts have been at it again. We read where they have been considering once more the hen and their finding is: "The average hen is good for 600 eggs during a lifetime. The best method is to so breed and feed that the 600 eggs can be secured in the shortest possible period." Of course there is no direct threat regarding what is going to happen when the hen has finally touched the 600 mark. But the mailed fist is not hard to discern. Experts do not keep hens after they are through laying eggs; they are not keen about regarding venerable old age and the quiet time toward the end of the road.

It seems to indicate the spirit of the age. The hen must produce her 600 eggs as quickly as possible, after which she is due to go the way of all hens. The fact that she may do her 600 in record time may mean that she will receive a few words of official praise and the newspapers may print something about it, but that's all.

Time was when the hen lived a better life and people did not know for sure how many eggs the hen would produce. They never did much counting and there was no score sheet kept, nor was the league standing published at the end of the week or month.

When it was between four and five in the afternoon, about time to feed the chickens, some person would think of gathering the eggs. They might be in the nests and again they might possibly be in the side of the straw stack. One had to think just about as fast as a smart hen in order to get all the eggs. But no person knew which hen was laying and which was not and no person cared a great deal. The eggs were placed down cellar and on Saturday morning they were put in the back of the buggy and taken to the corner store in the village. Hens did not have their life hanging in the balance then at 600 eggs. The season when the hens had cause to do some worrying was on in the fall when the chicken supper was due at the church. The hen that wasn't any too red in the comb or the one which had taken a long time to get over moulting was apt to be selected as the family offering for the great supper, and whether she'd ever laid 600 eggs no person ever knew, and no person cared

What Is The Reason?

The reason for Mussolini's drive against the Jews does not appear on the surface. The decrees which have been issued bearing on the subject lack clarity regarding cause, but they lack no clarity when it comes to action.

That is why there has been so much speculation. Certainly Mussolini is not trying to get rid of the Jews because he thinks it might please Hitler who has been doing the same thing. The Italian dictator knows too much for that.

A writer in the Toronto Telegram suggests that the situation in Palestine may have something to do with it. Britain is in a peculiar position there by reason of the Balfour policy of creating a national home for Jews under British protection, and doing it in a land where the Arabs, who hate the Jews, are tremendously in the majority. There was a time when Italy was making use of propaganda aimed to turn the Arabs against Britain, but in the recent agreement made between Britain and Italy that sort of business was to cease. It is suggested now that Mussolini by expelling the Jews from Italy may be making a hidden bid for the support and friendship of the Arabs, for driving out the Jews is very much to the liking of the Arabs. There is nothing of course to show that Mussolini has any such thing in mind, but when a clear motive is absent then the field is open for those who like to speculate.

The Same Poor Way

There was a short item in the papers the other day about a man in a Western Ontario town who tried to collect 50 cents which he had loaned to another man in town about two months ago. Apparently the man who lent the money wanted to be paid, because he stated when the case was being tried in court that he had asked for it several times, but there was always some excuse for not having paid and always another promise that the matter would be attended to.

The 50-cent man grew weary and took his own method of settling the account—and a very odd one. He doubled up his fists and went to work on the debtor, and apparently he did quite a job to the eyes and face of the man who owed him 50 cents.

But it did not end there and promptly came to court. The upshot was that the punching man was fined and he had to pay the costs as well. Combined it amounted to about fifteen times as much as the original 50 cents, and by the process the man with the fists had not collected his fifty cents. It is still owing to him.

That is just a simple sort of case and perhaps it is not well to draw it too far. But there is something in it which shows why the League of Nations will not work. There are nations which want to collect something and they want to do it their own way. They want to fight no matter if the rest of the world desires to arbitrate. And they do fight and the result is that in life, and treasure and human misery they are grossly overpaying for everything which they believe they are gaining.

Cases Look Similar

Canada is not taking any part in the war in Spain. Some of our young men have gone there to fight, but they did that entirely on their own initiative.

It is reported from Montreal that a vessel is in port there waiting for a cargo to be taken to the loyalists in Spain. One part of the cargo will be 1,000 pounds of zinc, and likely all the load will be made up of material which will come in handy during a war.

It may be the ship at Montreal is in some way related to the incidents which caused such upheaval in Britain some time ago when it was claimed that British vessels were being bombed by the Franco forces. There was demand made that action be taken at once but Prime Minister Chamberlain thought differently. He showed that the vessels although under British register were largely of foreign ownership and were engaged in running the blockade of war in the hope of making great profits.

It is stated the vessel at Montreal is under British register but its ownership is vested in Greek interests, and undoubtedly the purpose of the trip is to make large profits by getting war supplies into Spain. Actually it is not a British ship at all in the real meaning of the word, and we do not know if it is serving any particularly good purpose by having it load at a Canadian port.

A Minister of Trees

When Sir William Mulock in an address the other day urged that the creation of a ministry of reforestation in Ontario he did a great deal, it is hoped, to concentrate attention on a subject of vital importance to the people of this province. It is the simple truth that we have been careless and wasteful in our attitude toward this question of replenishing the forest wealth that Nature contributed to Ontario. Year after year we went on reaping the timber harvest, with no thought for the future and no plan of replacing what was being destroyed. The result is that large areas have been robbed of their wealth of trees and now are simple waste land, valueless until a systematic and business-like system of reforestation becomes a fixed part of government activity.

That kind of thing cannot go indefinitely and Sir Mulock does a public service by calling attention to the situation as he has done in his suggestion that reforestation has become a problem of sufficient importance to justify the creation of a department of the cabinet under a minister whose duty it would be to deal exclusively with this important job of replacing the forests we have so extravagantly destroyed.

True, Mr. Hepburn once said that Ontario had more trees yet than she knew what to do with it, but that was in the course of an election speech and is not to be taken too seriously. It should not be an impossible task to amass enough proof of the need of a more energetic and inspired reforestation policy to persuade the Premier that the time has arrived for action along the forestry front.

They're Still Hoping

Rural mail carriers, holding their annual meeting at Whitby, devoted most of their business session to discussing the subject of how to persuade the Federal government to deal more kindly with the men who carry the mails throughout rural Canada. What they want of course is the abolition of the present contract system which leads to cut-throat competition and the substitution for it of a regular salary on a mileage basis and on this occasion they felt that they made some progress.

The Examiner wished them luck in that regard when their annual meeting was announced and repeats that expression of good will now for we have felt for a long time that the whole system of remuneration for rural mail carriers is not sound in principle and leads to unfair results and to the absence of a sense of permanency among country courriers.

However it has been an impossible matter up to the present to get any government, no matter how constituted politically, to make any move in the direction of scrapping the contract system. Its injustices are admitted but its economy from the viewpoint of the public treasury looms larger than the plight of the mail carriers and accordingly nothing is done—beyond a speech or two in parliament which do not help a great deal.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Robbers took $1,700 from the safe of a store and postoffice at Gunworth, Sask., thereby dispelling the belief there was no money in the province.

We get the impression from reading the Queen City papers that Toronto folk are holding some kind of a fall fair there at present.

American Federation of Labor spent $1,000,000 in organization work during the past year. So if business is dull elsewhere it seems to have been fairly good in the organizing profession.

Fifty per cent. of the people in Manitoba in grade 2 failed in history and economics and a committee has been named to find the reason. Shucks, they didn't get enough marks.

A stout post saved the driver of a car near Hamilton from taking a plunge of fifty feet. After which the stout post could feel like the Boy Scout who had done his good act for the day.

When a Winnipeg man was asked for 25 cents by a tough looking chap he was so afraid that he handed over his purse containing $50, and he did not receive $49.75 in change either.

The school at Chance Harbor, N.S., has been closed because there was only one pupil ready to attend. A little hard on the one pupil, but one teacher for one pupil is somewhat in the luxury class.

Woman visiting Toronto Exhibition reported she had lost her purse in which she had placed her false teeth. We mention that just as a matter of news and record, having no desire to start in and jaw about her carelessness.

THE TEST

(By A. R. K.)

¶ My friends and I we gazed upon exhibits of the pioneer days, and we have marvelled at their skill, it's shown there in so many ways.

¶ A man who lived long years ago he'd need a fork to pitch his hay, he fashioned it from wood himself and made it in a goodly way. Another made a shovel, too, and it bears marks of years of wear. I gaze upon that thing today and call it quite a fine affair.

¶ The penmanship of other years is there for all to go and see, and it is plain and easy read in style that ran on true and free.

¶ The yokes the oxen used to wear were fashioned out of native wood, they stood for fifty years of wear, and yet today seem mighty good.

¶ It sets one thinking on a spell to years that have not yet arrived, when others will be looking on to see the way in which we strived.

¶ And I was wondering just a bit if jobs that we are doing today, will stand the racket of the years, if folk will lay them safe away.

¶ And if in future days they'll come and gaze on it with careful smile, and say as how the things we did were really counted being worthwhile.

From Toronto Came the Nazis

(Kitchener Record)

IN THE OPINION AND presumably in that of almost 100 per cent of Twin City residents, Mayor Gordon, the members of the City Council and Police Chief Hodgson deserve the thanks of this community for what they did, or rather did not do, in connection with the local observance of Canada's German Day over the week-end.

Evidently information secured shortly before the opening of the German Day celebration prompted the Mayor's non-appearance to extend a civic welcome, the absence of eight aldermen from the opening function, and the Police Chief's ban on a public parade under circumstances that might have caused serious disturbance.

The Record believes these actions express definitely the local sentiment towards a gathering, originally made to appear as a social get-together of former German citizens but apparently under outside manipulation intended to exert political pressure.

We say "outside manipulation" advisedly. Record representatives made earnest but ineffective efforts yesterday to find any Kitchener resident who might have had charge of the German Day celebration. As further proof of outside interest in the event let us point out that nearly fifty per cent of the advertisement in the German official program are from business firms in places outside of Kitchener, mostly Toronto.

A few months ago The Record stated that Kitchener was not disposed to tolerate Nazi, Communist or any other kind of undemocratic propaganda and that the community would resent attempts to turn good naturalized citizens into agitators against their adopted country.

Let there be no misunderstanding. We do not want to give offence to any good citizen. No sensible person objects to social gatherings of new, and older, Canadians to sing the old folksongs and to recall other pleasant memories of their former homeland. But it is dangerous to introduce any "Heil"-ing of foreign political leaders, no matter who they are.

Unfair Again

The Toronto Globe and Mail gives evidence of unfairness to the people of Kitchener and Waterloo in publishing in today's issue a picture carrying the statement that "the fifth annual gathering of German-Canadian residents of the Kitchener-Waterloo district was held during the holiday week-end."

As a matter of fact all obtainable evidence shows that the gathering consisted mainly of visitors from outside points, that it was under the management of outsiders and that numerous Kitchener and Waterloo people withdrew their support when they ascertained that Nazi influences from the outside, and mostly from the Globe and Mail's own Toronto, were directing the proceedings.

RELIEF—NO VOTE.

(Aylmer Express)

AT THE ANNUAL meeting of the Ontario Municipal Association in Toronto, we understand that Reeve Taylor, of South Dorchester, will submit a resolution giving authority to municipal councils to dis-franchise all recipients of relief within Ontario municipalities. The situation in some municipalities has become such that every member of the municipal council is on relief. These councillors, while in control of things, are themselves on charity and do not pay one cent to the municipality in any way. They are sitting in the seats of authority and have all the say how the money of the taxpayers (who are keeping them) shall be spent. Such a situation is not right nor just, in fact it is intolerable, and surely can be remedied if pressure is brought to bear upon the Government by the Municipal Association. Of course no man nor woman can be prevented from voting for Members of Parliament, nor for Members of the Legislature. We understand that no inmate of a House of Industry can vote for municipal councillors; and it seems only reasonable that persons on relief, (really in the same class) should be prevented from voting and from occupying a seat on the Municipal Council.

HERE'S AN IDEA

(Oshawa Times)

THE BRITISH have shown us the way again. We think we are smart on this continent, but we have not evolved anything like so well thought out a plan for reducing motor accidents as that recently proposed for the consideration of the British minister of transport, and which may be adopted.

Here it is:

All motorists now holding licences will be provided with new ones, "Class C." At the end of six months motorists who have not been concerned in accidents would get other new licences marked "B". At the end of a year drivers still accident-free would get "A" licences. An "A" licence would entitle a driver to cheaper insurance rates and a cheaper car licence, but only as long as he held it.

And he would only hold it as long as he remained accident-free. One accident and in six months an "A" driver would become a "B" driver again. Two accidents in a year and he would be down to "C" where he began. Three accidents in a year and a half would make him a "D" driver and four in two years years bring suspension.

The idea is to have every car-driver classed by his licence according to his accident record over the past six months, and treated accordingly.

OUTSPOKEN CONDEMNATION

(Hamilton Spectator)

For the second time the Pope has scathingly condemned race prejudice. It was only about a week ago that he spoke on the same subject in the strongest terms, but yesterday while not specifically naming any nation, he characterized exaggerated nationalism as detestable, un-Christian and unhuman.

NO AID TO DEMOCRACIES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: You are perfectly right in concluding that recent editorial on the price aspects of the wheat situation: "It is just possible that the Liverpool market has never heard of the $1.05 cost price for Saskatchewan wheat; and if it did possess that information, it would not be reflected or incorporated in the market price for wheat."

Nevertheless, Mr. Editor, it is still true that an intelligent measure of co-operation between London (i.e. the people of the United Kingdom rather than the private-profit grain trader at Liverpool) and Ottawa on this whole wheat-price problem is very desirable, in the long-range interests of the Empire.

At the moment, as you are aware, Liverpool is not overly friendly to the fact that North American wheat is in firm, if also willing, hands. The extension of that "intelligent measure of co-operation" to the governments of the Southern Hemisphere (Canberra and Buenos Aires) would play a further part in appeasing the insatiable hunger of Liverpool to win its wheat supplies at less than production costs. That process is no longer clever, and I think a case can be made for the claim that it is, finally, anti-social, for those who sell and those who buy "world wheat."

In the effort to beat down the price-level, Soviet and Danubian wheat is the weapon used by the Liverpool trader—at the same moment as the so-called "autarchian" or dictator countries move heaven and earth to avoid buying foreign breadgrain, though it washes against their tariff-protected boundaries at less than half the "pegged valuations" for inferior (but homegrown!) grain.

The Liverpool trader shuttles back and forth between the European and Empire camps. In this reader's judgment, those movements do no particular good to the so-called democracies!

A QUESTION FOR CANADA

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The startling statement by Father Tompkins of Nova Scotia that "the fishermen and miners of Nova Scotia have been sold out by the politicians" is from what I saw in my nine years at Ottawa unfortunately true. By this I mean and I fancy the reverend gentleman also means that political power in all its ramifications and advantages has been a first consideration and not the lives of these unfortunate people. The "people" have all remedies in their own hands and therefore it is not really the politicians who are to blame but the "people." Further, how far can Canada go in excluding immigrants? Can she do as Italy has done and declare that the incoming Jews are welcome to go with Italians to a Libya up-to-date but can not stay in Italy and displace Italians who have to get out? Or must she as the League of Nations once declared, let in the surplus populations of the earth? Is humanitarianism or self-interest to govern? This question is now at our doors.

• When A Railway Has To Quit

(Letter in New York Times)

THE THREATENED abandonment of the Rutland Railroad, with its approximately 400 miles of line, may well be taken as a portent of what may happen in other communities unless the railroads are given equality of opportunity with other forms of transportation and the same freedom of managerial judgment and initiative enjoyed by every other successful business in America.

The vital importance of the Rutland to the communities it served was not appreciated by most of the people until they were faced with its loss, including the $313,864 in taxes, nearly 10 per cent of its gross operating revenues, which they would have to make up themselves if the road's operations were discontinued. Abandonment of the road also would mean that other provision would have to be made for traffic, which last year required the movement of 15,000,000 freight train car miles to transport its 177,219,258 ton-miles of revenue freight. If this traffic were to be moved by trucks, it is fair to assume that it would require at least three times as many truck miles, or 45,000,000. Averaging this, on the basis of 300 working days of the year, we get 150,000 truck-miles a day.

With the average haul of freight on the Rutland 125 miles, it is easy to see what an army of trucks would be required. In addition, with three passengers in a car, provision would have to be made for 100,000 passenger automobile trips a year to transport the 300,000 passengers carried in 1937. With these additional trucks and passenger cars jamming the roads, in addition to the present congestion on the principal highways of Vermont, it is fair to expect that the State would be forced into a road-building expense exceeding the capitalization of the Rutland itself.

It is time for thrifty, middle-class citizens, those who have savings accounts and modest insurance policies and who are the real owners of our railroads as well as the principal sufferers from tremendous highway construction costs to awaken and defend their substance.

• Yield Better Than the Price

(By Rusticus in Stratford Beacon-Herald)

FOR WEEKS THE thresher had made itself heard down at the barn. Rain frequently halted the harvest, but whenever the sheaves were dry the tractor roared and the thresher—well, it is difficult to name the racket a threshing machine makes. There is such a variety of noises and groans coming from the old mill. Then one day the last sheaf was thrown onto the feeder carrier. The cylinder gave a final groan and for a few minutes the old machine just ran idle. The last of the straw came out of the extended blower-pipe and the last kernel of grain rolled down into the grain spout. Harvest was over.

There wasn't any more guessing as to what the final results of our labor would be. The grain was in the granary. The straw in mow and stack.

From a harvest standpoint at least the year has been a good one. In our immediate locality a few additional showers of rain during the Summer months would no doubt have somewhat increased the yield. Showers seemed to have an uncanny ability of passing off to the north or south, east or west, and yet the crop is probably above the average of the past ten years—and the quality of the grain, especially the oats, is of the very best.

There must be a large supply of grain in some localities; else the grain market would have declined to present most unsatisfactory levels. In fact, grain at present is practically unmarketable, and farmers are quite anxious to know what of the future. Will the increased yields of grain in Canada for which there is apparently no market except through animal products result in such an increase in the production of beef, pork, milk and its products that the market for these products will be lowered to an unprofitable level? No one knows. And that is one of the best things about the situation—no one knows.

Of course, farmers sometimes discuss that very question. The break in the grain market of 1929 with its break in produce prices in due course is not yet such ancient history that it has been forgotten. Will history repeat itself?

SO AUGUST HAS come to an end. The days grow shorter—and Fall ploughing proceeds. Soon the hum of the corn-blower will be in the air. Today on many farms the Fall wheat seed is being sown; and so preparations go on for another season. Possibly a feature of this season is the increased amount of after harvest cultivation and the earliness of ploughing. Given a fair Fall the farmer should have a reasonable chance of doing something about weed-control this Fall—and a drive through the country would convince one that the farmer is wide awake to the chance he has.

On the question of the proper method of weed-control in the Fall farmers are widely divided as on some other problems. For instance, some farmers sowed their fall wheat a week ago. They claim that is the best time. Others will wait another week, just as firmly convinced that that will be the best seeding date. Just so, some will use the gang plow right after harvest and then ploughing deep later on. Others plough deep early and then work the soil and, if possible, re-plow. Fact is the seeding date of wheat is not so important as the results of next harvest. The methods of killing the weeds are not as important as the results. Will they wither and die?—that is the question. And all methods that require early cultivation, either deep or shallow, will certainly be hard on the weeds—providing weather conditions are right.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

WHILE THE PHARISEES were gathering together, Jesus asked them, saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They said unto him, The son of David.

He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool? If David than call him Lord, how is he his son?—Matt. xxii, 41-45.

Now I say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all; but is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father.

Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world: But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.

And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.—Gal. iv, 1-7.

MARRY UNCLE OF 79

(London Sunday Dispatch)

NOTICE HAS BEEN given at Dartford, Kent, register office of the marriage of 79-years-old Mr. David Copus and his housekeeper, Miss Edith Yardley Pope, who is 39.

Mr. Copus who lives in a bungalow at Hartley, was a captain in the Indian Ordnance Corps, in which he served for 25 years.

He lost his wife in 1936, after being married for nearly 60 years.

"I was a great friend of Miss Pope's parents in India," he said yesterday. "I remember patting her head when she was a child of three. She is a very nice, pleasant girl."

Miss Pope, who addresses her bridegroom-to-be as "Uncle," said: "We are marrying for companionship. We have a perfect understanding. Uncle has been a dear to me."

NOT EASILY FOOLED

(Lucknow Sentinel)

AN ARRAN TOWNSHIP lady recently outwitted a trickster who offered to buy an old organ she had in her home, for a theatrical troupe. He agreed to purchase it for $35, providing it was in good shape, but on examining it complained that moths had done considerable damage, and offered to make the repairs for $4. He demanded the payment of $4, stating he would be back the following day and pay the purchase price of $35. However, Mrs. Morrow suspected he was not on the up-and-up, was agreed to take $31 for the old instrument, delivered at once, which offer was refused. It is only another instance of trying to pull a skin-game on the unsuspecting public, but this time it didn't work.

SHE WAS MRS. BERLIN.

A 52d STREET cab-driver, cruising near the Roxy Theatre, was hailed by a young lady who instructed him to go to Roosevelt Hospital. The hackie started to converse with his fare about "Alexander's Ragtime Band", which had opened that night. "That Irving Berlin sure can write songs," he volunteered. "Yes, he can," the lady replied. "I wonder if he and his wife are happy," the cab-driver continued. "Y'know—Clarence Mackay's daughter, and—" "They're very happy," the lady assured. "Well, I wonder," the hackie repeated as the cab drove up to the hospital. "They're very happy," he was assured, "and I should know! I'm Mrs. Berlin."

LINDSAY, Sept. 8. — Ald. Dick Butler's by-law, which prohibits dogs running around loose in public places, got a stormy passage at last night's session of the Council. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harrigan, who reside on the Portage Road, near Kirkfield, was totally destroyed by fire this week. The family was away at Brechin at the time, and the fire had gained such headway before being noticed that it was impossible to save anything. The loss is a heavy one, as it is understood there was no insurance on house or contents.

Three youths appeared in the local court on Wednesday charged with shooting wild ducks out of season. The offence was committed on East Cross Creek. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed in each case.

It is also announced that 250 railway veterans will visit Lindsay.

Hastings W.I. Has 33 Paid Up Members

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept 8.—The regular monthly meetings of the Hastings Women's Institute were resumed after the summer months, the first meeting being held in the council chambers, on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. A. Brown, the president, was in charge and a goodly attendance of members and visitors gave the meeting a delightful social atmosphere.

The roll call, "What community enterprise for the Institute this year" was well responded to; many suggestions being offered. Those suggested by the majority of the members and which seemed worth while discussing were: "Furnishing the town hall stage permanently" and "Decorating the council chambers."

Reports were read by the secretary, who reported that 33 members had paid their membership fees. Mrs. J. A. MacDonald acted as treasurer in the absence of Mrs. O. Phillips, and was later elected as the secretary for the year.

The Buymanship Course was discussed and a local leader suggested. Miss Collins of Toronto will conduct the classes in Warkworth on September 15 and 16 and October 10.

The members are very grateful to Mrs. C. Dodd, who offered to act as a refreshment convenor for the year. New programs were distributed to each member. Mrs. J. A. MacDonald gave a splendid report of the district annual, held in Smithfield.

Mrs. J. A. Walsh, in her capable manner, led in discussion on "What the Institute has done for Hastings," and also gave a splendid paper on Elizabeth Fry, philanthropist, called "The Female Howard," who devoted her energy to the betterment of prisons, and schools for poor children.

The refreshments provided by Mrs. G. Kerr, Mrs. J. A. Cruikshank and Mrs. J. A. Brown were served by Miss Flo German, Mrs. C. Dodd and Mrs J. A. Brown.

CITY OF WEEK-ENDERS

BELFORT, France—(CP).—This Normandy municipality has approved plans for a "week-end city," thought to be the first of its kind, to be inhabited only over week-ends and holidays. On other days it will resemble a deserted village.

Neighbors Aid In Harvesting Crop

A sight seldom seen in Canada is this harvest scene on the farm of Offa Staples, Lifford Line. Four neighboring farmers, each with three horses, joined forces to reap this field of oats in short order, in a manner reminiscent of the West in olden days. The drivers are Percy Preston, Gervin Mulligan, Willis Whiteside, and Walter Neals. (Examiner Correspondent's Photo.)

Sculptors Busy At Parliament

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP)—There's a lot going on under cover in the centre block of the parliament buildings these days — and it has nothing to do with politics.

Curtained off from the main foyer, workmen are busy in the inside entrance erecting scaffolding for cutting the boss' that finish off the tall columns. They will appear as medallions of leaves centred by a snail, bat, toad or cockle-shell or entwined by a graceful snake, designed by sculptor Cleophas Soucy.

Two full-length female figures of "agriculture" and "industry" are being molded in the basement sculpture room by Coeur de Lion MacCarthy, Dominion sculptor, and will shortly ornament the long columns at the top of the stairs from the main entrance.

Unnoticed by passers-by, a space has been canvassed off beside the peace arch where another sculptor is chipping the finishing touches on the Indiana limestone bust of Queen Victoria, using as his model the plaster of Paris bust done by Mr. MacCarthy last year, which stood in the senate chamber throughout last session.

When the bust is completed, it is expected it will be officially unveiled in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the coronation of the ruler who was crowned in 1938. Then it will be placed permanently above the governor-general's throne in the chamber.

Above the arch to the tower, where workmen have been cutting figures all summer, the beaver model stands clothed in brown canvas to withstand the wind, while workers finish carving the coats-of-arms of the provincial capital cities, topped by a small cluster of flora or fauna emblematic of each province.

Flood Gets a Barn

ST. CHARLES DE NOREAU, Que. Sept. 8 (C.P.). — Swollen waters of Petite Riviere St. Charles swept away the barn of Hercule Leclerc during last week's violent electrical storm, it was reported to-day. The barn was filled with 50 boxes of butter, 30 cords of wood, and several farm wagons.

Drunk Driver Gets 90 Days, $100 Fine

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 7 (CP). —Stiffer sentences for drunken drivers were promised by Magistrate James McKay as he sentenced Wallace Matthews to a total of 90 days in jail on charges of reckless and drunken driving. A fine of $100 was also imposed for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

"Anyone found guilty by me of being intoxicated in charge of a car need not expect any sympathy," the Magistrate announced. "There is no reason why people on the streets should be endangered by drivers such as these."

Crown witnesses testified to seeing Matthews drive his car up over the curb to a parking lot, strike a boy, and drive off again, being apprehended only after a chase.

Thinks Drowned Girl Lashed Boy To Boat

TORONTO, Sept. 8. — (CP). — Mrs. James Ferguson of suburban Long Branch, whose 19-year-old daughter Gertrude died with Alex Wheelans of Toronto when a week-end storm wrecked their dinghy on Lake Ontario, expressed belief today the girl "lashed Alex to the boat before she was either swept away or jumped off and tried to make shore."

Lifesavers late yesterday found Wheelans body lashed to the bottom of the waterlogged 14-foot dinghy but there was no trace of the girl. Mrs. Ferguson said she thought Wheelans was hit by the falling mast and knocked out "and Gertie's only thought was to keep him in the boat."

Clifford Ferguson, 18, the girl's brother searched along the shore today for the body. Farther west, at Oakville, police and lifesavers patrolled the shore. The lake was calm but a southwest wind blew. Police Chief David Kerr of Oakville, near where the dinghy was discovered yesterday, said it would be useless to put boats on the lake to-day. If the body was afloat, he believed it would be blown away from shore.

Yangtse Battle Costs 27,300 Casualties

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8.— (AP). — Japanese army headquarters said to-day fighting on the south bank of the Yangtse river between Aug. 19 and Sept. 6 cost 2,300 Japanese and 25,000 Chinese casualties.

Severe fighting continued in that sector to-day. About 300 miles to the north, Japanese troops advanced steadily toward the vital Peiping-Hankow railroad after having occupied Kushih, 95 miles east of the line in Honan province.

(Dispatches from Peiping quoted a Japanese army announcement that reinforcements of "young, fresh, excellent troops — reinforcements, not replacements" arrived Wednesday from Japan at Tangku, Northern China.

Chinese Central Government troops were reported moving into the front on the Kukiang-Nanchang railroad in an effort to block a Japanese drive on Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province.

Rolling In Records

With apologetic bows to old-timers who cling to memories of Frank Chance, Hal Chase et al., we present baseball's all-time, all-star first baseman, Henry Louis Gehrig, of New York Yankees. As his team steam-rollers to another pennant, Columbia Lou continues to shatter records with great gusto. While he has been compiling his phenomenal consecutive game mark he has also been collecting a few others at the plates. This season for the 13th straight time he has batted in over 100 runs and for the 12th straight scored 100 himself, two new major league marks.

Smudge Fires Barn

MOOSEHORN, Man., Sept. 8 (CP5)—An unguarded smudge, made in a barn in the belief it would cure a horse of distemper, caused a fire that destroyed the horse, the barn, an adjoining chicken house and a 30-ton stack of hay on the farm of Edmund Makus near this village 125 miles north of Winnipeg.

13-Pound Tooth

SASKATOON, Sept. 8 (CP)—Professor V. Vigfusson of the University of Saskatchewan today examined what was believed to be a dinosaur tooth, found by workmen digging gravel on the outskirts of the city yesterday. The tooth, broken in two by a workman's pick, weighed 13 pounds.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By FRED CRAIG

STATISTICS OF THE CENTRAL Ontario League playoffs offer some interesting evidence as to why the Petes triumphed over their Oshawa rivals. In the first place the figures show that the Murphyites outhit the GM-men in the series with a team average of .302 as against .292 for the losers, made 64 hits to 63 and outscored Oshawa 33 runs to 31 in the six games. But the big edge is found in the figures showing the defensive strength of the two clubs. The Petes had two errorless games in the series and only five fielding misplays in the whole six games winding up with the fine average of .978 while Oshawa on the other hand failed to go through a single game without a boot and made 13 of them altogether, their fielding mark being .946—quite a difference.

* * * * * *

THE INDIVIDUAL RECORDS SHOW that the Petes had six regulars who batted over .300 in the series and the leader logically enough, was Manager Eddie Murphy who in the five games he played kicked in with nine hits in 18 times at bat for the neat average of .500. Next came Al Clark who in four games slammed out six hits in thirteen official trips to the plate for the substantial mark of .462. Charlie Kearns made the most hits of the whole squad, coming through with 10 safe blows in 28 times at bat and a mark of .357. Bill Callaghne and Les Burton were next in line with a batting average of .348 each cashing in with eight hits in 23 appearances at the plate while Bob Doll, the sixth regular to hit over the .300 mark had a .333 average for his eight hits in 24 times up. Tommy Foley hit .435 for Oshawa in the six games.

* * * * * *

MANAGER MURPHY ALSO LED the parade in runs batted in, providing the motive power for six runs, while Burton, drove in five, Doll, Calladine and Kearns four each and Clark three. Doll scored the most runs in the series, six with Eddie Starr and Charlie Kearns each crossing the plate five time. The Petes had a wide margin on Oshawa in base stealing pilfering 21 sack's in the series as against 13 Oshawa thefts. Doll and Kearns led in this department with six stolen bases each while Starr was next with four.

Rugby's Big Night

THAT RUGBY BOOSTER DANCE scheduled for the Brock Street gardens next Wednesday night promises to be a wow and it is confidently expected that 500 faithful fans will kick in with a buck for a chance to do some of the light fantastic and at the same time boost the local club. The players and officials have the tickets ready for you now and neighors, you will have to build up some effective running interference if you expect to shake yourself loose from the crowd of paste-board merchants that has been turned loose on the public. It will be a big night and should prove a real help to the Peterborough club.

FOOTBALL PRACTICES WILL SOON get under way at P. C. I. and Coach Bamforth must be looking over the new arrivals on the Collegiate roster with a keen eye these days, hoping to dig up a number of fresh stars to replace the raft of first string players that have departed from the institution. Of last year's interscholastic champs, Al and Grant Clark, who have been carrying the mail brilliantly on the back division in recent years, Jerry Creighton speedy flying wing, Ross Thornton whose educated toe added many a point to P. C. I. scores last season, Haig Kelly and Curtain, crashing middle wings and secondary defense stars, and Bill Turner who played a whale of a game at inside wing, will all be missing from the first lineup and will be hard to replace. However the Collegiate coach has a habit of reaching down into the bag and coming up with a winning team and fans who appreciate the fast and colorful football dished out by the students will wish him luck.

PETERBOROUGH'S SENIOR ENTRY had another lively practise at Exhibition Park last night with 25 players out there battling and the coaching being done by Bill Irwin. The squad did some scrimmaging last night and prominent along the line were Hendrie at centre, Irwin, Flack, Shields, Joe McNulty, Don Hendren and Harry Marsh. Among the back field candidates who caught the eye of the fans was Jerry Creighton, flying wing of last year's P. C. I. interscholastic champions who was travelling at top speed and proving very elusive to the tackling brigade, Charley Kearns was on hand but did not get into the lineup, the Pete's centre fielder having a sore arm as the result of a ball injury.

A SHORT TIME AGO SPORT writers were seriously discussing the possibility of Hank Greenberg breaking Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in a season. Right now the question is not whether the Detroit first sacker can surpass Ruth's mark but rather whether or not he can keep ahead of Jimmy Foxx. The Boston powerhouse is murdering the pitching these days and is just four circuit clouts behind Greenberg. Yesterday against the Yanks all Foxx did was to homer twice with two mates on the sacks in each case and then double with the bases full to drive in two more, a total of ten bases and eight runs driven in in five innings which must come close to being a record. Foxx's runs-driven-in mark is now 150 and before anyone innocently asks if that is good we hasten to point out that the closest anyone else in either of the big leagues is to that record at the present moment is Joe DiMaggio's 123, which a little arithmetic shows to be exactly 27 runs behind the Foxx total.

Flyers To Perform

PETERBOROUGH FOLK WHO WANT an interesting afternoon's sport could do worse than take a trip down to Trenton tommorow, Friday, afternoon and glimpse the fourth annual field day of the Trenton station of the Royal Canadian Air Force. There is a splendid program of track and field events and this will be followed by a flying demonstration consisting of formation flying, individual aerobatics, ballon bursting and a parachute jump. The various types of aircraft in use on the station will be on display in an aircraft park. The whole show is free as no admission is to be charged and the public is cordially invited.

THE PETERBOROUGH BALL CLUB, waiting around for the Toronto clubs to get a winner to meet the Central Ontario loop champs in the O. B. A. A. series, has been keeping the wires busy trying to arrange an exhibition game here Saturday to keep the machine rolling. Four of the Toronto teams will be playing in the round robin series Saturday and will not be available while the Kiwanis seniors, a strong club which might have been obtained are booked for a game in St. Catharines. In an effort to get a proper opposition for the Petes the local management sent a wire this morning to the Fro-Joys inviting them to visit Peterborough Saturday.

THEY ARE GETTING BABY YACK, the Canadian bantamweight champion into fairly fast company. The Toronto battler is to be tossed in against the hard-punching colored fighter George Pace of Cleveland, the fight scheduled for the Maple Leaf gardens in Toronto on Monday September 19. It will be a real test for Yack, as the winner of the bout should be in line for a shot before long at Sixto Escobar and the world bantam title.

DESE, DEM AND DOSE: The Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians clipped a game off the Yanks' lead yesterday but we cannot imagine that the sleep of Manager Joe McCarthy was badly disturbed as a result. . . . Al Clark will be available for only one game with the Petes in the O. B. A. A. playoffs on account of the infielder's departure for college in the States. He will be missed. . . Alex. Ponton, Balmy Beach football coach is worried because a lot of his stars are tied up with baseball and softball and are missing rugby workouts. He is not the only pilot with that trouble. . . . The fact that Earl Cook has been purchased by the Cincinati Reds will recall to local fans the fact that the big right-hander once pitched here for Stouffville against the C. G. E. team in the O. B. A. A. intermediate series. . . . And that's that.

Owen Sound Team Beats Flyers 10-8

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 8.—The Owen Sound Trappers defeated the Royal Canadian Air Force softballers, 10 to 8, to take the first game of the O. A. S. A. Intermediate "B" playdowns, at Trenton Wednesday. The Trappers staged a ninth-inning rally to net four runs and win the game in a sensational finish.

Being two runs behind the Airmen, Brown walked, Lynn singled and Brown scored for the first run. Three more walks, a fielder's choice and two wild pitches allowed the four runs to cross the plate.

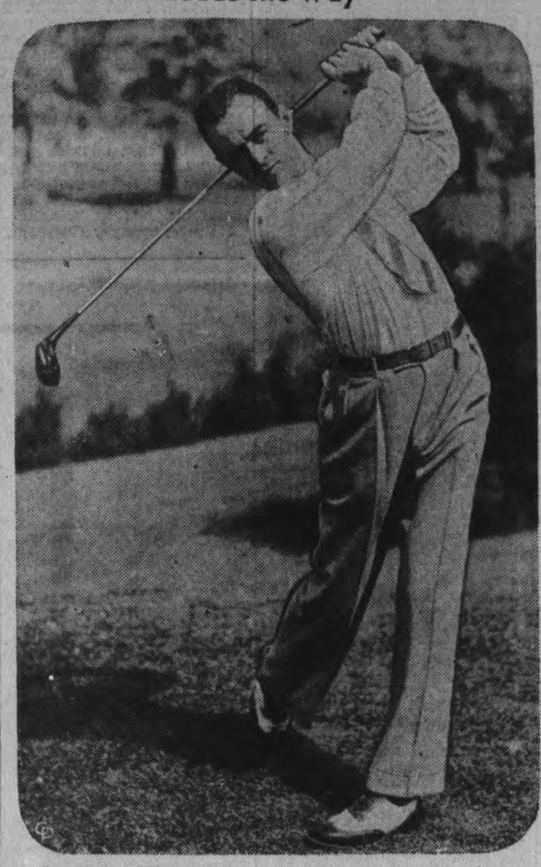
Sam Snead Leads the Way



Leading golf pro of the year, taking in all major tournaments, and winner of the recent Canadian open, is Sam Snead, the slammin' young man from Virginia. Sam leads the rest of the links stars for the Harry Vardon Memorial trophy, presented each year to the U.S. pro with the best tournament record and won last season by Harry Cooper. He also leads the money winners for the year and just prior to copping the Canadian crown was second to Ky Lafoon in the Cleveland open and to Paul Runyan in the P.G.A.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB. MARTIN

As we were walking home from the greens last night, after having taken part in the postponed mixed twilight tournament, we began to wonder which was the worst,—to be rained out or frozen out.

We have been warmer at curling than we were in the last game of the tournament—and judging by the way the boys and girls went for the hot tea and hot dogs we believe that they agree with us — If this kind of weather continues we can see where several of our local competitions will never be finished this season.

However, notwithstanding the weather 16 rinks made up a perfect draw and the games got under way shortly after seven o'clock. Three ten end games were played with the following results:

First—Mrs. E. Riley, V. Selkirk, Mrs. C. Williamson, E. L. Sackville, skip. Ladies, silver flower baskets; Gents, silver casseroles.

Second—Mrs. J. Cullen, E. Spurway, Mrs. W. Hepburn, J. Cullen, skip. Each a silver plated cream and sugar and tray.

Third—Mrs. E. Ward, G. Fee, Mrs. N. Killingbeck, K. Sloane, skip. Each a pyrex pie plate.

Down at Warkworth yesterday afternoon 18 pairs played in the "Scotch doubles" tournament staged by that club—2 pairs motored down from our club, but they report—no luck.

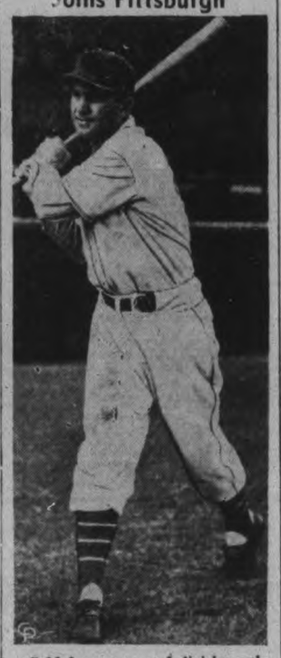
Joins Pittsburgh



Sold from a second division minor league team to a team that look as if it's headed for the world series, was the pleasant late season lot of Heinie Manush; ABOVE veteran outfielder. Manush was sold to Pittsburg Pirates by Toronto Maple Leafs in the International League, and while he won't be eligible to play in the fall classic, should the Bucs take the National League flag, he should add punch to their line-up for the stretch drive.

Soccer Notes

Only routine business was transacted at the meeting of the P. and D. F. this week. The referees reports were accepted as read.

It was decided that there be a double-header on Saturday when the Brinton plays the C.C.F. a league game. Kick off at 2 o'clock. Referee S. L. Hanlon. Immediately thereafter, the C.G.E. will play the Deloro aggregation in the semi-final of the Duffus Injured Players' Cup. Kick off, at 5.30. Referee S. L. Hanlon. In a previous notification, Deloro was instructed wrongly about the cup draw. The C.G.E. team did come out of the hat first, therefore the Smelters travel to Peterborough. If they cannot come, please notify secretary immediately.

To give the Deloro team plenty notice, Brinton Athletic travel to Deloro on Saturday afternoon, September 17th, to complete the league schedule with the Smelters. Then on September 24th C.C.F. meets the Deloro team to fulfill their engagements.

BOWLER AT 74

LONDON—(CP). — Age means nothing to Mrs. J. Groves. Seventy-four years old, she reached the final of the Ryde bowls tournament and lost on an extra end.

TORONTO, Sept. 8. (CP). — Twelve-man teams of Great Britain, the United States and Canada began play today for the George S. Lyon Trophy, symbolic of international seniors' supremacy in golf.

Missing was a figure familiar to the international competition, George S. Lyon of Toronto, greatest senior of them all. In memory of Canada's "grand old man of golf" who died this year, the United States Golf Association donated the team championship trophy.

Playing at Toronto golf club, the Canadian will have the advantage of a familiar course. All week they have been competing in domestic competition, concluded yesterday when Col. A. de M. Bell of Quebec and Joseph Powley of Lambton Club, Toronto, won the two-ball foursome title.

Scoring a gross 91 and a net 71, they held a 1½ stroke margin over Dr. J. R. Armstrong of London Hunt Club and Dr. Ed Spence of London Highland Club, whose card was 92-19½—72½. Best gross score was the 82 of J. Osborne and J. P. Mines of Montreal Marlborough.

Robert M. Gray of Toronto Rosedale, who retained his Dominion senior title in singles competition Tuesday, leads the Canadian squad in the matches starting today.

E. C. Gould, Brantford, Ont., is a member of the team.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD. — Four days in a movie sandstorm were so tough on the eyes and throats of the "Suez" troupe that Annabelle has been ordered to wear dark glasses and stay out of the sun for two weeks.... which means a postponement of her departure for France.

Twenty-four wind machines kept driving the sand at the players. Tyrone Power's eyes suffered, too. This was obvious to anyone who saw him at the "Marie Antoinette" premiere. Another thing. Hollywood is super cautius about eye infections right now. . . . with the Jack Dunn case so fresh in everybody's mind.

Six kids have been made very happy by the visit of a movie troupe to Father Flanagan's famous school in Nebraska.

Members of M.G.M.'s "Boys' Town" company have agreed to adopt half a dozen youngsters at the institution.

They'll furnish the money to see the boys through High School and will help them to get a start when they graduate.

The Hollywood sponsors are Spencer Tracy, Director Norman Taurog, Producer John Considine, his assistant O. O. Dull, Cameraman Sid Wagner, and Exploitation Director Frank Whitbeck.

Cost of maintaining a boy at Father Flanagan's institute is about $200 a year.

Looks as if Helen Twelvetrees and Jack Woody are making a serious effort towards reconciliation. The two of them and their six-year-old youngster were having dinner at the Cubanola....And Cecil Sillman, who used to escort Helen around, showed up at Maxie Rosenbloom's with Robin Adair on his arm.

After studying traffic regulations, Freddie took the official state examination and passed the driving test with a perfect score and failed on only one question in the written examination. The question was on the speed in a residential district. Freddie thought the speed should be 20 miles, but the correct answer is 25 miles. His score was 95 points, which was declared unusually high for a boy under 16.

The licence was then issued to him, with two restrictions, because of his being under age:

He must not drive at night.

At the completion of a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer short, not so long ago, Robert Benchley claimed that he was Hollywood's healthiest actor. He had consumed 14 plates of spinach and nine bottle of milk, making scenes in the short, "How to Raise a Baby."

HOLLYWOOD—In the series of pictures Hal Roach is planning for Oliver Hardy and Harry Langdon, both comedians will say goodby to eccentric makeup. Babe Hardy loses his derby, his mustache, his wing collar and his baggy trousers. Langdon drops the pasty-faced makeup with the accentuated line around the eyes, the trick clothes and shoes.

First of the series, "Zenobia's Infidelity," will find Hardy playing a small town doctor and Langdon a justice of the peace. The two will be forever trying to outwit their wives and get an evening together to play cards.

Silliest of the recent rumors had the Don Ameches quarreling. They returned to California separately but only because he wished to pack into the High Sierras on a fishing trip while she stopped off in Omaha to visit her family.

Intimates of both declare it is a real love affair between Janet Gaynor and Adrian, the M-G-M designer. You have only to see them together to realize that this is no publicity stunt. One of Janet's best friends, who poohpoohed from the first the rumors that she might wed Tyrone Power, will now tell you there is every possibility of her becoming Mrs. Gilbert Adrian.

Janet's trip to Honolulu, I gather, is to be a test of the romance. If both feel the same on her return, she and Adrian probably will make the announcement.

Asta, Hollywood's most famous dog actor, is now working in "Topper Takes a Trip." Only, in this picture, he'll be called Atlas. His real name is Skippy. Experience of this movie dog in England was interesting. Due to the British quarantine law, the only place Asta put his foot on English soil was in the studio. His owner carried him from the boat to the studio in a box. Asta never left the lot until he got into the box again to return to the U.S.

If Universal fails to deliver Constance Bennett to Hal Roach by Sept. 8, they pay a daily penalty. These penalty clauses are the nightmares of movie producers because so many things can happen to delay a picture. Take the case of "Listen Darling" at M-G-M. Mary Astor's fall from a horse may hold up production for days, even weeks.

When Producer Roach tried to get Carole Lombard for "There Goes My Heart," David Selznick asked a penalty of $15,000 a day. The deal fell through.

On the suggestion of both the studio and his mother, Mickey Rooney's orchestra, "The Swing Six," will have to get along without Mickey in the future. Film work will keep the boy star plenty occupied, they figure. Few people realize what a veteran Rooney is in the show business. He made his first appearance at the age of 15 months when he was carried onto a vaudeville stage.

Is it true that peacocks are better insurance than watch dogs against surprise visits by burglars? Mary Carlisle has bought one partly on this theory. She has to work so many nights at Paramount and her mother is left alone.

Cinderella Weds

Cinderella's legend of romance is a good one all right, but it does not better the true life romantic story of Emma Gayle Holdsworth, comely 18-year-old Pasadena, Calif., girl. To Miss Holdsworth's story was added its most brilliant chapter, when she became the bride of John Siesto Candelario, 22, reputedly New Mexico's wealthiest resident. The young girl was born of poor parents and later adopted by the Holdsworths. The couple met in school. Young Candelario's family have occupied an important place in historical records of the southwest for more than 300 years. Here are John Candelario and his bride leaving the church after their wedding.

The big grosses run up by "Algiers" prove that even the smartest studios make mistakes. M-G-M paid $50,000 for "Pepe Le Moko," the French picture from which "Algiers" was made. They sold it to Wanger and arranged for him to borrow Hedy Lamarr. Now Wanger has a smash hit.

Harry Richman is packing them in at the Clover club. On opening night, he got an ovation such as Hollywood has seldom given a cafe entertainer. The usually poker-faced Louis B. Mayer burst out with an "Attaboy, Harry!" Everybody was yelling requests for songs. For once a Hollywood cafe crowd really seemed to be having a heluva time.... Eleanor Powell and Billy Seymour are dancing together these evenings ....And Joy Hodges and Norman Krasna are a new twosome. . . Judith Allen and Nate Sontag were a twosome at Slapsy Maxies...Flynn's dog, Arno, is banished from the set after spoiling a take. So is Anita Louise's Irish setter....Anita, by the way, will fly east to visit her mother after she finishes the picture, "Going Places".....Everybody here excited about the $1,000,000 motion picture goodwill drive. Father of the idea, including the movie quiz, is said to be H. J. Fitzgerald, district manager of theatres in Milwaukee. He sent the original suggestion in to Sypros Skouras.

Fynnon Salt is doing as much for sufferers all over the country, as the constant stream of testimonials show. This treatment for Sciatica and other Rheumatic troubles is similar to a Spa treatment at Home! A ½ teaspoonful of the sparkling crystals in a glassful of water every morning gives you the relief-giving Spa elements of Sodium, Potassium and Lithium, which gradually remove from your system Uric Acid and health-destroying waste. MAPLE LEAFS TAKE TWO FROM RED WINGS BY 2 TO 1 SCORES

(By the Associated Press.)

Now that Syracuse Chiefs virtually have clinched second place about the only other unfinished business left in the International league, outside of the playoffs, is whether Rochester Red Wings can hold third place from Buffalo Bisons.

The Chiefs tightened their stranglehold on the runner-up spot yesterday by downing Jersey City, 3-1, the Wings were taking a double trimming from Toronto Maple Leafs by identical 2-1 scores. These were the only games played in the circuit as rain washed out the carded double header between Baltimore and Newark and Buffalo and Montreal.

The Chiefs are now six games in front of the Red Wings, who have lost seven consecutive contests, with six games to go for each team. Buffalo's Bisons, who have taken five of their last six tilts, have nine games to go and yet may overcome the Wings' 2½ game bulge.

Cook Outclasses Baker

Earl Cook outlasted Jersey City's Tom Baker in a pitcher's battle as the Chiefs got to the Giants' fireball flinger in the seventh and eight innings for all their runs. Cook, after having been tagged for a run in the second inning, held the Giants under control the rest of the way.

Bobby Porter, the Leafs' doughty flycatcher, proved to be the nemesis of Rochester's Si Johnson and Ken Raffensberger as he prevented both of these worthies from scoring their 16th victories of the campaign. He got three hits in the opener against Johnson, one of them a single in the eighth inning which broke up the ball game. In the nightcap he again came through with a single that drove in the winning run.

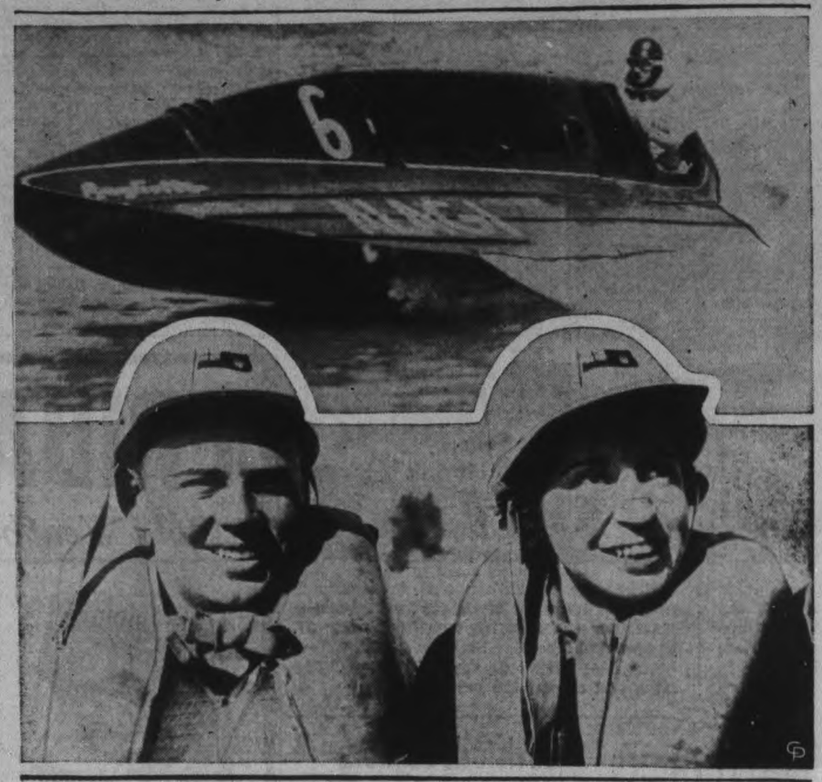
Italian Gold Cup Visitor and Loser



Symbolic of the speedboat championship of North America, the Gold Cup, famous trophy raced for every Labor Day on the St. Clair River at Detroit, was won this year for the first time by an invader to United States, when Count Theo Rossi of Turin, Italy, guided his hydroplane, Alagi, to victory in three straight heats. The winner is seen in action at the TOP. Accidents of various natures reduced the field of original nominees from eight to two in the first and third heats and three in the second. One of those in the second was Miss Canada III., driven by Harold Wilson, of Ingersoll, Ont. His average speed in the only heat he was able to finish was 57.582 m.p.h., compared with the winner's 66.030 m.p.h. Wilson and his wife, Lorna, who accompanies him as mechanic, are seen in the LOWER picture.

Bucs Whip Reds 7-1 In 6-Hit Tilt To Drop Them In 3rd Place; Cubs Sneak Up, Lacing Cards 7-5

By Sid Feder
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

They've ordered the lumber and started to build at Forbes Field in expectation of a Pittsburg half to the 1938 world series, but——

The Cubs are coming to life and have climbed back to second place.

The Giants are taking strides along the road back.

And everything's all set for a whacky climax to this daffiest of baseball seasons—something like a repetition of the 1921 affair, when the Bucs started the world series building additions while riding along on a six-game lead, then dropped five straight to the Giants, and were never heard from after that.

Still, they're five games in front of the pack today, as the result of the 7-1 whipping they handed Cincinnati behind Bob Klinger's six-hit elbowing yesterday. And with only 26 games to go, you can't sneeze at a five-game margin — particularly now that Rookie Klinger is definitely over his "sore-arm-itis."

The Reds, by losing to the Bucs, who are alternately blazing and frosted these days, dropped down to third place. And the Cubs took over the runner-up spot with a 7-5 decision over St. Louis Cardinals. This was the Cubs' fourth straight success, and it is interesting to note these four all have come at the expense of the "tough babies" — one over the Reds, two over the Pirates, and yesterday's over the Cards, who have been the league's ball of fire for the past month.

Wittig Takes Bees.

The Giants got some effective pitching from Rookie Johnny Wittig, recent importation from Baltimore, and made it two straight over Boston Bees—who are nobody's pushover—by a 6-3 margin.

All this made it appear none too certain that the building going on at Forbes Field these days is going to be of much more use than to house the Stadium pigeons over the winter months, although Pie Traynor's boys still hold the upper hand. But if they can duplicate yesterday's workout over the Reds in their arc-light larruping in Cincinnati to-night, then there will be little chance of overtaking them.

The American League, however, continues to be just a business of playing out the string. The Yanks, boasting a 13-game bulge, are due to arrive at the pennant clinching ceremonies in something less than two weeks, despite such interruptions on the way as the 11-4 kicking around they were handed by Boston Red Sox yesterday.

Jimmy the flailer Foxx had one of his large days in this one; whacked two homers and a double to drive in eight runs in a clash cut to six innings by rain.

Despite the victory, however, the Sox remained deadlocked for second place, since Cleveland's Indians continued on the warpath and stretched their undefeated string to 10 games with a 1-0 pitching classic over Detroit Tigers. Mel Harder's curves allowed the Tigers only two hits as he bested Slicker George Coffman.

George Caster tossed a six-hitter and the Athletics whipped Washington's Senators 5-2. Hugh (losing pitcher) Mulcahy fooled the folks by handcuffing Brooklyn Dodgers with three hits—an event in his young life—and pitching the Phillies to a 6-3 decision before a "tremendous" crowd of 500 fans.

Scots Defeat Irish Eleven

GLASGOW, Sept. 8—(CP Cable)—Scotland's representatives overwhelmed an Irish League eleven 6-1 in the first match of the inter-league soccer tournament at Ibrox Park Wednesday.

The contest was the 39th of the series started in 1893. The Scots are far in the lead with 34 victories against five for the Irishmen. Last year at Belfast the Scottish League triumphed 3-2.

Twenty thousand spectators saw the Scottish team open the scoring in the third minute of play and then pile up a 5-0 lead at half-time. The Scots displayed marked superiority throughout, but took things easily in the second half.

Martin, Clyde centre forward, twice netted in the first 45 minutes. Other goals were notched by McKennan and McSpayden, Par... .., Thistle players, and Black, Hearts' international star.

Black got the ball in the net on two occasions after the change of ends, but one point was disallowed for offside. Todd, Glentoran outside left, tallied for the Irish League.

Throat Trouble Keeping Budge Worried

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—(AP).—Donald Budge, the eminent amateur, has a great deal more on his mind than a shock of red hair as he starts out after his fourth major tennis championship of the year tomorrow at the West Side Club in Forest Hills.

If he wins this one, the Oakland swatter will become the first player in history to sweep the Australian, French, British and United States championships in succession and the value of such a feat will be more than considerable when he gets down to talking turkey with the professional promoters this winter.

Conversley, a defeat would stamp him as something short of invincible and would be taken into due account when the contract is drawn up for his grand tour with Elly Vines and Fred Perry.

Little Improvement.

That is why Big Red is carrying around a somewhat worried look—that and the fact that he hasn't been able to shake a sore throat he contracted in Australia six months age, or bring his game to anything like its peak. An examination by a throat specialist here yesterday gave him little encouragement.

No one who has seen Budge at his flamboyant best could doubt he was sorely afflicted in the Davis Cup matches at Germantown over the past week-end. His first service was worth almost nothing to him, and he went into frequent lapses where he netted or outed like a novice. It was with a visible effort that he pulled himself together and defeated Jack Bromwich, the Australian, in their singles match

Originally skeptical of Bromwich, mostly because he looks like an octopus in action, this critic now thinks he will be the next world champion. He's only 19 and looks better almost by the minute.

Scottish Union Leads Pack In St. Leger

DONCASTER, Sept. 8. —(C. P.-Reuters). —James Ranks Scottish Union, son of Cameronian-Trustful, yesterday won the 163rd renewal of the St. Leger stakes, last of the season's great classics for three-year-olds. Sir L. Phillips' Challenge was second and the favorite, H. E. Morriss' Pasch, Third.

Scottish Union was second in the Derby in June to Bois Roussel, the French-bred colt owned by Hon. Peter Beatty and not entered in the St. Leger. Pasch, third today, was also third in the Derby.

The winner started at odds of 7 to 1, Challenge at 100 to 8 and Pasch at 6 to 5. In special betting for place, Scottish Union was backed at 11 to 8 and the others in proportion.

The course was 1 ¾ miles. The weather was dull with visibility of the poorest due to mist. The going was good after an overnight rain, and the attendance large.

A pre-race feature was heavy backing for Ramtapa whose price was cut in half during the last few days in view of openly expressed optimism in regard to his chances by his owner, Sir Abe Bailey, South African sportsman.

The victory was the first for Mr. Rank's stable in the historic race. Last year Lord Glanely's Chulmleigh, an 18 to 1 shot, was the victor.

Carslake rode Scottish Union. E. Smith had the mount on Challenge and Gordon Rickards, the champion jockey of England, rode Pasch.

STILL HAS PUNCH

BRIGHTON, England—(CP). — Tom (Pedlar) Palmer, 64, last of the bare-knuckle fighters, once bantam world champion, in court here told how he knocked down a man aged 36 who had assaulted a friend. His last "official" bare-knuckle fight was in 1891.

Quebec Rugby Union Adopts New Rules

MONTREAL, Sept. 8 (CP).—Success of a new set of rules used last season by school teams to open up the game has led the Quebec Rugby Football Union to adopt the code.

Principal revisions in the Canadian Rugby Union regulations are the 10-yard interference rule, unlimited forward passing behind the scrimmage line and elimination of the deadline kick.

The changes were adopted last night.

Christening Of Largest Liner By Queen Elizabeth Be Gala Event For Scotsmen

September 27 Is Set As Day For Launching World's Largest Liner

Tuesday, Sept. 27, will find Scotland in festive mood, for on that day a Scottish-born queen of England will christen the largest ship ever built by the hands of man. The christening will be at Clydebank and when Queen Mary breaks the bottle of champagne across the bow of the mighty 85,000-ton vessel which is to be named for herself, King George VI. will stand beside her.

Arrangements have now been practically completed for the visit of the King and Queen to the Clydebank docks. They will arrive from Balmoral shortly after luncheon and on their arrival in the Royal Train they will receive from the citizens of the shipbuilding community a loyal address which has been prepared for their Majesties. It will be delivered in the municipal chambers before the launching ceremony.

This will be the first occasion in history when a Scottish-born Queen will give her name to a merchant vessel.

The Queen Elizabeth is being built in the yards that produced the Queen Mary, the Aquitania and the huge British battleship Hood. She will be ready for use in 1940 when the Cunard line will celebrate the 100th anniversary of its service between Europe and America.

New Mauretania to Sail

Another great passenger ship being constructed by the Cunard White Star Company is the new Mauretania, which will be the biggest vessel to sail regularly from the port of London. She will thus bring before the public's attention a fact seldom properly realized—that London is the largest port in the world and the greatest commercial gateway possessed by any country.

The very magnitude of this port perhaps tends to obscure its significance, for only small portions of it can be seen at a time.

The new Mauretania will be designed to carry an unusually large cargo. When completed, her holds will accommodate 390,000 cubic feet of merchandise, including refrigerated cargo in specially insulated spaces forward. Just below the upper deck will be garage space sufficient to take care of 70 cars of average American size. Travellers intending to take their automobiles to Europe will find the Mauretania ideal for this purpose.

Dewan Advises Ontario Farmers To Become Specialists

TORONTO, Sept 8. —(C. P.). — The great disparity between urban wages and the prices of farm products is the cause of the predicament of Ontario's Farmers and of farmers throughout Canada in general. Hon. P. M. Dewan said yesterday in an agriculturists' Day address to directors and guests at the Canadian National Exhibition.

"I admit," he said in addition, "that the farmer of today is practising a much higher standard of living than was enjoyed by the previous generation. For this extra money is required. The main answer, however, is the great disparity between urban wages and prices of farm products. After all, the prices received for things produced upon the farm constitutes the wages of the farmer.

As everyone knows, there has been an increasing tendency toward shorter hours and higher pay for urban workers, and this tendency in many cases has been bolstered by legislation, whereas the farmer has received little attention from the stand-point of fixed prices or bonuses. In fact, I am not particularly suggesting that he should receive such consideration, for every time that such effort is begun, a vicious circle is in the making.

"It remains, therefore, that the farmer must either obtain better prices for his produce or we must lower the price of what the farmer buys. This can only be done I believe by a better understanding of agricultural conditions and by urban dwellers making every effort to adjust their activities to the requirements of the farming industry.

Must Be Some Change

"We may as well conclude that conditions cannot go on as they are, for according to figures which I have before me, prices of farm products were, during July this year, only about 10 per cent higher than for the year 1913. On the other hand, the rate of pay of the urban workers has risen about 91 per cent.

"A person with little sympathy for rural life might indeed ask why worry about the economic condition of agriculture?"

"In my humble opinion, there is much need for concern for we must save agriculture, if we are to save our country."

"May I venture to say, as I have said on many previous occasions, that upon an enlightened and prosperous rural people rests the permanency of an advanced civilization."

Mr. Dewan said the farmer was becoming a more dependent individual, more a specialist, and therefore a purchaser of a greater variety of goods and needs than formerly.

"The more the farmer becomes a specialist the greater bargaining ability he acquires," he continued. "All of which means that the farmer of the future must be more of a scientist, more of a business man and more efficient than he has been in the past."

Virgin Pine Is Being Sawn At Local Mill

A stand of virgin white pine more than four hundred years old has fallen before the axe of woodsmen on the farm of R. F. Woods, R.R. 2, Millbrook and is being cut into logs for the Peterborough Lumber Company in this city.

This week trucks are hauling the logs to the sawmill on Monaghan Road, where saws are ripping the logs into choice lumber for local builders. The logs are what is commonly known as original cork white pine, and the trees towered close to 125 feet in height, and were clear of limbs for sixty feet from the ground. Many of the logs were close to three feet in diameter.

The farm on which the stand of pine was located is owned by R. F. Woods, and has been in the woods family for several generations. It is believed to be the last sizeable stand of this type of timber in the entire district.

Lumber is Treated

The logs when sawn are being treated in a tank of lignasan solution to prevent staining, and then will be air dried and kiln dried before marketed. The lumber is intended for the finest woodwork jobs, cabinets, doors and sash along with other special work. The balance will be piled as ordinary yard stock for the middle grades. As much as four hundred feet of lumber is obtained from a single log.

Tales of romance and adventure of bitter fights and tragedies will flash into the minds of veteran lumbermen as they note the size of these logs, and recall the days when lumbering was Peterborough's major industry. The white pine has disappeared and at present there are only a few scattered stands of it still in the district.

Lumbering days.

Fortunes were made a century or more ago, when Frenchmen were brought in from Lower Canada to cut the pine trees near Peterborough and hew them into full length square timbers usually sixty to eighty feet long. These were made into long rafts and floated or towed to Montreal where they were shipped to England and Europe for use as masts and other purposes in sailing vessels. The present owner's grandfather sold a portion of the pine for this very purpose years ago.

In later years and up to a short time ago, smaller white pine logs were floated down the Otonabee for the lumber mills in the city and below the city, but today other types of timber is getting the attention as the white pine nears depletion.

From One Of Last Stands Of White Pine

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 8.—John "Scotty" Carney, well known here, has crossed Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific seven times in the past five years, which would seem to be something of a record for Scotty's particular type of travel.

He is a self styled hobo, who worked on farms in this district about 1930 until he felt the urge to travel.

If he can get a job here for the winter he would be content to stay, but if prospects do not look very good, he will go to Vancouver.

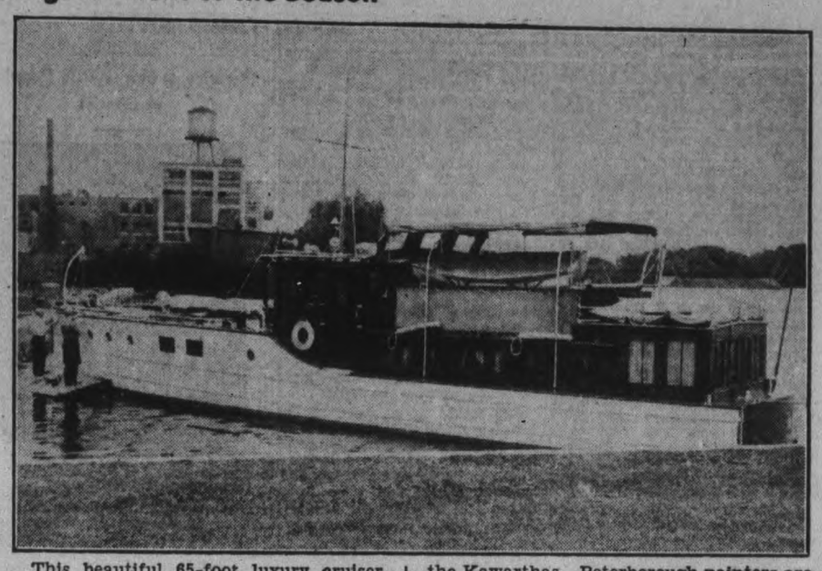
He does not hitch hike but rides freight trains exclusively. In box cars, "the rods" and brake beam is where he travels. "I once fell off a fast moving train between two box cars but managed to catch the brake beam or I might have been killed," he related. "An engineer tried to put me and two chums off the train near Calgary some tme ago and I got sore and hit him on the head with a lump of coal. I just spent three months in the "calaboose" for that."

It's a real education for a boy between 16 and 20 to travel around like I have, but after a couple of years it gets monotonous.

In his opinion, the Canadian Rockies present the best scenery to be found in North America. Vancouver is his favorite city.

Scotty told of cooking mulligan stew in the "jungles" and said it was the simplest thing in the world to get hand outs. "Money is the least worry a hobo has" he boasted. He defines the word "hobo" as a man who works frequently when he feels like it, but a "bum" is the lazy type who works only when he is forced to.

Largest Yacht of the Season



This beautiful 65-foot luxury cruiser, "Silverheels II.," is owned by Howard McNamara of Toronto, head of the McNamara Construction Company. It is the largest boat to dock at the George Street Wharf this year, and has just completed a cruise of the Kawarthas. Peterborough painters are giving it a coat of paint before it speeds on to Toronto. Powered with a diesel engine, it travels 15 knots, has captain and engineer for crew, accommodates 15 passengers with ease. (Examiner Staff Photo.)

MORE GRIEF

Home owners who already are annoyed by the early arrival of chilly weather will not feel any better when they recall that fuel dealers in the city will not extend the fifty cents cash discount to customers this winter. The plan of dropping a half dollar on every ton of coal for which cash was paid was stopped last spring and is still a thing of the past.

SCHOOLS IMPROVED.

Peterborough's Public schools took on an altered appearance for incoming pupils Tuesday. At Central school there was one towerless building and an entirely remodelled wing. Those unfortunate enough to have had to visit the principal found that his office had been completely done over. At King George school new wiring and fixtures had been installed.

GET MANUAL TRAINING

Pupils from St. Peter's school will receive instruction in manual training at Peterborough Collegiate on Fridays, it was arranged at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Education. New regulations make necessary such training and the Separate school is not equipped with staff or quarters in which pupils can receive such training.

ELDERBERRIES RIPE.

Elderberries, one of the most delicious wild fruits in this part of Ontario, are ready for picking at the present time. They may be found in clusters on low bushes, and when ripe are deep black in color. They are superior to huckleberries as pie fruit and many people use them in making wine. Many patches, acording to farmers, have been stripped by birds.

TEN SUMMONSES.

Ten tardy persons will be summoned this week to appear before the Magistrate for non-payment of dog licenses, and the dog catcher is continuing his check of the lists to determine how many others have failed to purchase this year's dog tag. To date only 656 licenses have been purchased while last year the total exceeded seven hundred.

DUCK HUNTING SEPT. 15

Favorite duck shooting spots on the Kawarthas are being given the once over this week by hunters, intent on learning whether a duck blind might be built with little trouble, in readiness for the season which opens on September 15th and ends November 15th, both days inclusive. All territory north of No. 7 Highway is free hunting ground after the 15th. The bag limit is 12 a day, and 150 for the season, and shooting of wood ducks is prohibited.

ULTRA MODERN FRONT

A powerful Neon sign in powder green shade that can be read as easily in the day time as at night coupled with an ultra modern vitrolite store front extending down the side on McDonnel street will make Tony Johnston's store on the corner of George and McDonnel one of the smartest on the main street. Work is being done now and the vitrolite will be in black, primrose and Chinese red with luminite bars flashing through it, and the entire front will be properly trimmed with stainless steel bars.

FARM WAGON DAMAGED.

A truck loaded with hay sideswiped a wagon load of grain on the long hill just north of the city limits on the Chemong road and smashed the reach in the centre. The grain was strewn on the shoulder of the road but prompt action by the driver, Harold Black, R.R. 2, Peterborough, prevented a runaway. The truck was driven by Harold McKay of Bridgenorth. Constable Gordon Broughton investigated.

CHIP ISLAND MUSKIES

A nine pound lunge caught in the river near Chip Island this morning was the seventh or eighth that has been hooked in that stretch of the river during the last week. This is another section of the Otonabee that has received more attention from local sportsmen this summer than at any other time in years. From C.P.R. to the Hunter street bridge and above the Quaker Oats dam have made the angling column fairly often since the season opened.

ATTRACTIVE BUILDING.

An architect's drawing of Peterboro's new telephone building now in course of construction is shown in the latest issue of the Bell Bulletin "Telephone News." The front and side walls, faced with brick, are graced with tall pilasters which extend from the stone base to the main cornice. A color effect will be obtained by the use of glazed tile panels in green tones over the main ground floor windows. The bulletin says the transfer to the dial system will not take place until September 1939.

HOOKED A BIG ONE.

Thomas Ainsworth of Stubbenville, Ohio, landed a 26-pound muskie during the week-end at Tom Curvin's camp, Clear Lake. It measured forty-eight inches in length, and will rate when the season ends as one of the biggest fish caught around Young's Point area this year. Mr. Curvin, himself, was with the Lionel Moore party from Stubbenville. A five pound bass was another prize, but Mr. Ainsworth's performance in battling the big muskie was the feature of their fishing. And as Tom Curvin often asserts, Clear Lake still has big ones if you can get them.

Their maneouvres completed, the Canadian army moved its heavy guns back to Petawawa Wednesday. Motorists on Highway No. 2 saw them stretched out, with gaps between each contingent, for twenty miles along the highway, speeding on their way back to headquarters.

PICTURE AT EXHIBITION

Ronald S. Dick Wins $600 Scholarship

Climaxing a brilliant high school record, Ronald S. Dick, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dick, 178 Rubidge Street has won the Leitch Scholarship in French amounting to $600, and will resume his studies at Queens' University this Autumn.

Dick's record at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute during his five years at high school is an impressive one. Every year he topped the class to take the $12 Nicholls Scholarship and added to this award in fourth form by gaining the special award for French. Last year as a Fifth form student he wrote nine subjects obtaining first class honors in every one. Last year also he was awarded the highest in the school, being named "Princeps Alumnus," leading boy, an honor which goes to the student who is outstanding in every phase of school work.

He is an only son and obtained his Primary education at the Prince of Wales School. He intends to take the combined courses at Queens' to secure B.A. and B.Ss. degrees.

The Rambling REPORTERS

PLAYING MACHINES.

Elaborate record playing machines are making their appearance in many stores and restaurants these days in places formerly occupied by pin games, now illegal. Nickel gamblers grumble at the change, say they don't get nearly as much fun for their money. But the city's jitterbugs give warm approval of the change, shiver with delight at the screeching wail they get for a single nickle.—P.

GIVEN FREE SAIL.

Bob McCabe, Weller street, and Clifford "Cap" Tivy, 312 George street, are boasting these days how they brought every canoe and skiff within miles to the vicinity of the C.P.R. bridge on the Otonabee river on Sunday. They had just landed a 12-pound lunge from that spot and other envious anglers came speedily to the scene. It is rumored that before the muskie was landed it pulled the boat around the lake.

Blame Rustlers For Theft Of Durham Cows

For the first time in almost a quarter of a century cattle rustlers are active in the County and stories of the wild and woolly west when the cattle thieves were in their heyday, are recalled by a complaint from Roy Northey, Smith township farmer, that two of his purebred Durham cows were stolen from the pasture field.

The two cows, both two-year-old heifers, disappeared on Tuesday night. They had been pasturing in a field apart from the rest of the herd and a little closer to the road. The cattle are valued at $250, and the farmer is satisfied that they did not break loose and stray into the woods. Provincial Constable David Silvester is investigating the theft.

25-Pound Muskie Caught At Chemong

It was a good thing for Ab White of Bridgenorth that he had two lines out from his boat on Lake Chemong on Tuesday when he landed this monster 25-pound muskie. Fishing near the floating bridge, he had out one line with a plug on it, the other with a spoon. The fish struck the plug line, snapped it. Believing the old adage that a lunge never strikes again immediately after it has escaped, he started to reel in both lines, when the big fellow smashed at the spoon line, was finally hauled in. Judge Dismisses Liquor Appeal

An appeal against a conviction on a charge of selling liquor contrary to the Liquor Control Act of Ontario by Mrs. Minerva Cheu of this city was dismissed with costs to the accused yesterday by Judge Sheldon S. Smoke, Peterborough County Judge.

Mrs. Cheu was found guilty of the offence by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., early in the summer, and her counsel W. J. Arthur Fair, appealed the verdict. Mrs. Cheu had been sentenced to two months in jail.

Transportation Ex. Feature Today

TORONTO, Sept. 8 — (C.P.). — Canada's great transportation system in all its branches and the commercial travellers who use these facilities most were keynote topics today at the Canadian National Exhibition.

N. B. Walton of Montreal, acting president in charge of operations of the Canadian National Railways was listed as chief speaker at the directors' luncheon. Representatives of several travellers' organizations attended.

Rain, which cheered farmers throughout the province with late-maturing crops, reduced Wednesday's attendance 16,000 from last year's 79,000, as the C.N.E. marked Agriculturists' Day.

Agriculture Minister Dewan, at the directors' luncheon, urged a study of the increasing debt of Ontario farmers and said farmers, to succeed, must be more scientific and businesslike.

Sifton Wins Touch and Go.

Purses totalling $7,000 were at stake to-day after rain postponed harness races yesterday. Trotting and pacing races for the Canadian Futurity were expected to attract classy fields.

TWO WORLDS

BY MAUD McCURDY WELCH

CHAPTER 36.

Laurie got up, found a handkerchief and walked to a window. Then she came back and faced Noel again. "I made up my mind I was going to be sensible," she began. "You can be sensible, you know, if you try very hard. I'm tired of living in nopes that Jimmy's mother will die. I admit that I've been doing that even though I know it's wrong. But she's as healthy as a 16-year-old. She'll never die," she exclaimed passionately.

Then suddenly contrite, Laurie went on, "Of course I don't really want her to die, Noel, it's just that sometimes—I almost believe I do. And it's not right for anybody to have to wait for somebody to die before she can have her happiness. And so Pete loves me, you see—"

"But, Laurie, even if he does, you can't, you simply can't make yourself believe you love him. You mustn't do anything reckless. There's a very special reason why I'm asking you not to. Promise you won't," Noel urged.

Noel didn't make any further effort to change Laurie's mind after she said so firmly that she intended to marry the cafe proprietor the next day.

But that didn't mean that Noel had given up trying to stop her. She remained awake until she was sure Laurie was sleeping. Then she tiptoed out into the hall to the telephone. Jimmy had given her his telephone number during the time Laurie was ill.

When she called his number, a rather harsh female voice answered. "I'd like to speak to Jimmy, please," Noel said.

"He's in bed where he ought to be at this time of night," the harsh voice came back. "I'm not going to wake him up to talk to anybody." The receiver came down with a bang, which hurt Noel's ear. She hoped her ear-drum had been spared. What an unpleasant person Jimmy's mother was.

But even after such a rebuff, Noel wasn't ready to give up. The next morning she was up before Laurie had awakened. Noel had a number of things to do: Pack her small effects. Get Jimmy on the 'phone somehow, someway. See Julian and tell him where she was going to work. Also tell him about Nick's ugly insinuation, which she hadn't done last night. See Chris.

First of all, Noel 'phoned out to Hichens and told him to tell Mrs. Garwood she would be there ready to go on duty at 11. He seemed about to remonstrate with her, insist that she come earlier. But evidently he changed his mind. For some reason she didn't understand, both Mrs. Garwood and Hichens were extremely anxious for Noel to have this place. So Noel felt that there was no danger of losing it now.

Laurie certainly didn't look like a girl who was facing her wedding day. Her eyes were swollen with tears, but when Noel came back from telephoning, she was up fixing some toast and coffee.

"It'll be the last time we have coffee together," she said, opening a can of evaporated milk.

"Of course it won't, you silly dear," Noel said cheerfully. "I'll have days off, and I'll also be seeing you at the De Luxe."

"Well, anyway," Laurie went on, "we're both getting out of this dump. That's something. Though, I suppose," she went on, looking around the room, "there are worse places."

Personally Noel doubted that. She, too, gazed about the room with unconcealed relief. Laurie had never stopped wrestling with the dust and grime, but the room had a tired, unhappy look, as if no effort on earth could possibly cause it to perk up.

After Laurie was gone, Noel went to the telephone again to call the Barton Stave and Spoke company. A pleasant voice answered, which she recognized as John Fletcher's. She told him that it was very necessary for Jimmy to see Laurie at the De Luxe cafe this morning before 10 o'clock.

"Anything wrong with Laurie?" John Fletcher asked interested.

"Something will be terribly wrong" Noel said. "She'll be married to the —wrong man, if he doesn't get there. You'll please see that he does, won't you?"

John Fletcher promised whimsically that he would have Jimmy there if he had to bring him himself in a wheelbarrow. Noel thanked him with a laugh.

The next thing she did was to go to Julian's office. It was 10 minutes past 9 when she went through the revolving doors of the Medical Arts and up to his floor.

When she opened the door of the waiting room, she was surprised to find it empty except for Ruth Chester, who was arranging some flowers in a tall vase on the table.

She looked up at Noel, her expression disdainful. "Surely you're not ill at this hour of the morning?"

"I was never better in my life," Noel rejoined: "I want to see Julian before he gets busy."

"He's always busy. Never has a minute to rest. He was up all night last night with a patient who died at sunrise this morning. I don't think you should insist on seeing him now."

"But I do insist." At that moment Noel heard Julian's step in the consulting room, so she moved to the inner door and knocked lightly. The door opened. Noel knew she had never seen Julian look so haggard and worn. He said quickly, "Anything wrong, Noel?"

She shook her head. "There were just some-things I didn't say last night. I intended to but didn't." Then she said, "I'm so sorry about your patient, Julian."

A shadow came into his tired face. "They called me this morning about 2 But there wasn't a thing I could do." Then he looked at her and smiled. "So you are just as pretty in the morning as any other time, aren't you?"

"I'm glad if you think so, anyway," Noel tried to say lightly. Then went on. "I came to tell you that I'm going to work out on Belvedere, the place I told you about, the governess job, remember?"

He nodded, and she thought his face lightened, but his voice came casually, "What about Hollywood"

"I decided not to accept the offer."

Julian walked to the window. Perhaps he didn't want her to see his face. He came back in a minute and said in a restrained voice, "Should you have done that?"

"Oh, yes, I'm quite sure I should have." Now was the time to tell him about Nick, though she had known from the first it wasn't going to be easy.

"Julian," she began, "Nick Luigi, the man who runs the Peacock, did —try to give me a lot of trouble. Somehow he also got an idea that we—you and I—were engaged. It didn't do any good for me to tell him differently. And he made a sort of threat against you. I've been uneasy and I thought you'd better know so as to be on your guard."

Julian threw back his head and laughed. "Don't you worry about that. A man like Nick Luigi is always a coward without a gun. He might make a threat but that's all there'd be to it."

"But, Julian, everybody says he's in some kind of racket. And I've heard that he carries a gun always, though I've never seen it."

"If he does, I'll be careful never to get within speaking distance of it," he promised with a smile.

"Just be on your guard, just in case—" but Noel didn't finish, for suddenly she saw that a grim expression had come into Julian's face.

"I want you to promise me, Noel, that if this man ever so much as speaks to you again, you'll let me handle it."

"I promise," she said.

Then Julian once again was looking at her with a smile. "So you're not going to Hollywood—you are going to stay here and stick it out?"

"Yes."

"The Garwoods are a very fine old family. One of the most prominent in town," he said. "You'll be protected there. I'll feel much better about you."

"I'm glad," Noel laid her hand in his. "Then goodby, Julian, until I see you again."

He held her hand for a moment, the whimsical smile coming again to his eyes. "Goodby, Noel. You're not forgetting that we have agreed to be the very best of friends."

"No, I'm not forgetting." With that she went out, closing the door softly.

Ruth Chester was not in the waiting room, but there was the tall vase of exquisite lilacs and baby's breath. The girl was clever — the flowers would be a constant reminder of her presence.

Noel went by to see Chris. Then an hour later she was on her way to the Garwood home.

Practice at Home—Be Popular at Dances

Your dreamy slump makes you heavy, hard to lead. Relax enough to respond easily to your partner's lead, but keep erect, be springy on your feet.

To get out of step may mean rhythm trouble. If your partner keeps time to the orchestra, but you don't know how, you're bound to tangle. Listen to tunes on the radio; learn to walk, trot, even run in perfect time to the music.

As for trampled toes, even if you're a short girl, you can avoid them. Practise long steps backward, reaching with your toes.

Be up on these points to be a success at dances. Our 32-page booklet by a famous instructor gives instructions and diagrams easy to follow for fox-trot, rumba, tango, waltz, shag. Learn basic steps; popular variations.

Send 15c in coins or stamps for your copy of HOME COURSE IN NEW BALLROOM DANCES to Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, September 9

Under the current lunar transits, this should be a ver ylively and eventful day, with some affairs of a sudden and surprising nature. These may effect unexpected journeys, removals or changes, probably in connection with promotion. Elders should prove friendly, contributing to the expansive and stabilizing influence.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which some substantial advantage or recognition in employment may call for a sudden change of environs and associations. Superiors and elders may contribute to the stability of the position, with their friendly interest and co-operation, but shun friction in intimate relations.

A child born on this day may be studious an ddependable, although its high ambitions may lead it away from the routine and commonly-accepted ideas and vocations. It may be nervous and adventurous, needing the co-operation of its superiors or elders.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I have a husband who does not philander (I wish he would, for I would gladly give him to any woman who would take him); who does not drink to excess; who has none of the standardized vices; who is mild and kind before people, but who makes my life a hell on earth with his contrariness. For no reason at all he is against everything I want to do and have. If I want to go to see one movie, wild horses couldn't drag him to it. We must go to see another. If I like a person, he hates him. If I have chicken for dinner, he wants to know why I didn't have mutton. And so on. And the worst of it is he will ask me solicitously where I want to go, whom I want to ask for dinner, just in order to make me go somewhere else and have an entirely different set of guests. Of late I have had to go into business to make our living, and I do not make half the money I should because he countermands my every order, interferes with my every plan and then thinks he should have all the profits. What can you do with that kind of a man?

MRS. A.

ANSWER:

Very little, I am afraid, unless you have the patience and the ingenuity to beat him at his own game by being more contrary than he is and pretending to want the things you don't want. If you want to go to the symphony concert, for instance, descant on how classical music bores you and grow enthusiastic over jazz; if you have set your heart on doing over the living-room in blue, show him samples of red upholstery and paper and draperies and impress upon him how you dislike blue and how unbecoming it is to you, and blue it will be.

Of course, it takes time and trouble and a greater knack at dissimulation than most wives possess to work a husband in this roundabout way, but it saves arguments and promotes peace in the household, and that is worth buying at any price.

The thing that inspires a husband's contrariness is vanity. He wants to show that he is the head of the house and his wife a mere slave who must do his bidding. His will must be law and her tastes and desires of no moment, and it is to keep her reminded of her inferiority that makes him object to everything she suggests. Also, in the contrary husband's make-up there is a cruel streak that gives him a sadistic pleasure in thwarting and disappointing his wife and making her unhappy.

No man is meaner or smaller than the contrary husband, but he has a twin brother in the discouraging husband who throws cold water on his wife's every plan until he takes every bit of pleasure out of it. He really wants to go places and do things and to have things, but when his wife suggests them to him he raises a thousand objections, and by the time she has persuaded him into doing the thing that he intended to do anyway all of her enthusiasm is gone, and she is so worn out that all she wants to do is to take an aspirin and go to bed with an ice pack on her fevered brow.

Not all the bad husbands are libertines and drunkards and wife-beaters. The worst husbands in the world are the men who deliberately make their wives unhappy for no other reason than because they get a kick out of torturing any helpless creature within their power.

* * * * * * *

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 18, entering college. I want to live in the dormitory, but my parents want me to stay with my grandfather and grandmother, who live in the town in which the college is located. If I stay with my grandparents there will always be a houseful of company, which annoys me. Also there will be my aunt, whom I have never liked, and her children, who are the noisiest, meanest brats who ever lived. I would feel obligated to work while my grandmother worked, which is every second of her waking time, and I would not feel free to have any company or to go out with boys, because grandmother would think she would have to sit up and see that I returned safely. Don't you think it would be better for me to go to the dormitory instead of to my grandparents? M. V. B.

ANSWER:

I certainly do. The experience that a girl gets in going off to college and being on her own and living in a dormitory with other girls is just as valuable to her as anything she is taught in her classes.

As long as a girl is at home she is more or less of a baby. Her parents do her thinking for her and make all of her decisions. They tell her what to do and what not to do. Mother picks up after her and takes care of her clothes, and she has no responsibilities whatever.

But when she goes off to college she is chucked out into the world where she has to stand on her own feet and make her own way. Nobody pampers and spoils her. Nobody puts up with her selfishness and unreasonableness because they are Mary's little ways. Nobody is careful not to wound her feelings that she keeps spread all over the place. She has to observe rules and take discipline, and like it, and be a good scout, or else be ostracized.

Also, one of the things that makes going to college worth while to a girl is that it leaves her so many pleasant memories of dormitory life, of innocent pranks, of midnight suppers and all the foolish fun that girls have together, and this she misses if she is a day scholar and does not stay within the school walls.

Every adolescent girl should be sent off to school if it is possible, because at that time of life she needs to get away from home into a new environment and among strangers. It bridges over that dangerous period when a girl thinks she is a wise and sophisticated woman of the world and her parents think she is still a baby, and they rub each other raw.

By the time she has been away four years Mother and Father have got used to thinking of her as grown up and having a right to adult privileges, and she has found out how ignorant and helpless she is and is willing to be guided by her elders.

But no young girl should go to live with her grandparents. It isn't fair to either of them, because Grandpa and Grandma should not have their peace of mind wrecked by coming in contact with modern manners and customs and clothes, and the girl should not have her happiness destroyed by being forced to dress and do as Grandmother did when she was a girl.

X-Ray An Elephant

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP).—A Colossal job of x-raying was done at the Prospect Park zoo in Brooklyn yesterday and the oversize batch of film may reveal the fate of Hilda, the ailing lady elephant. The technician who delved photographically into the 1¼-ton pachyderm said he didn't know how it would turn out. Hilda's sickness was caused when Bill, her mate, pushed her into a moat surrounding the elephant stockade last week.

By MAX TRELL

"Let's go off on a long trip," Knarf the shadow boy with the turned-about name, said to his sister Hanid the other morning.

"A long trip? Where can we go?"

"Well," said Knarf, "I've thought about the whole thing. We'll build a boat and go for a long sail down the river. I'm sure we'll have lots of adventures and see many strange things."

"But how can we build a boat? It isn't easy, you know."

Knarf laughed. "It isn't any trouble at all. I've already spoken to Mr. Punch about it. He used to be a sailor."

So Hanid went with Knarf to have another talk with Mr. Punch. They found him sitting on the stage of his theatre.

"Hello, Knarf! Hello Hanid!" he greeted them. "What's on your mind?"

So It's Easy.

"Can we really build a boat and go for a sail down the river?" Hanid asked him.

"Of course you can! Building a boat is one of the easiest things in the world. All you have to have are some pieces of wood, some nails to hold the mtogether, a big piece of cloth for a sail, and a cap for the skipper to wear. If I didn't have so much to do I'd build you one myself."

The two shadows said good-by to Mr. Punch and went out to the shed in back of the house where father kept the wood, and the nails, and some pieces of canvas to use for the sail. But it really wasn't nearly as easy as Knarf thought. The wood didn't seem to fit, and the nails got bent, and the canvas tore.

"Humph," grumbled Knarf at last. "I think we ought to go on a walking trip, Hanid. Then we wouldn't have to build a boat at all."

Hanid shook her head. "No — we've got to go down the river on a boat or I'm not going at all. Now there must be some way of building a boat!"

Queer Facts About Flowers

There are flowers that act as timekeepers for those who have studied their ways and habits. So punctual are they that laboring men in some countries tell from them when the hour for dinner and leaving work has come, while in certain districts of Scotland where clocks are not numerous, the school children are said to be dismissed when the goat's beard closes, which it does at the same time every day.

The gardener to a millionaire has provided a flower clock in the shape of a circular-flower bed, with 12 divisions. Each of the divisions, from 1 to 12, contains flowers which open or close at the corresponding hour. Thus the two space is occupied by a figure made of hawkesweed, which closes at 2 p.m. precisely, and so on.

He had no difficulty in finding flowers to suit the several hours, and in some cases the figure has been made of more than one flower.

Amongst the flowers used are the snowthistle, blue chicory, pimpernel, marigold, Star of Bethlehem and evening primrose.

The shortest-lived flowers are the dew-flowers of the Death Valley in California. Heavy dews are wafted from the mountains over the parched plain, and an hour or two before sunrise the moist sand, with the under current of warmth, gives life of the dew-flower.

When the light begins to glow in the east, myriads of tiny pink flowers burst into bloom, hugging the sand for the few minutes they are destined to live.

The sun's rays come slanting along the surface, and, as though a touch of fire had passed over them, the dew-flowers wither and disappear.

The Yellowstone Park contains the most unique greenhouses for flower cultivation in the world; the heat being obtained from one of the natural hot springs, or geysers, the water of which issues from the earth at a temperature near boiling point.

Meteor Starts Fire

OLA, Idaho, Sept. 8—(AP).—Tom Cherry, Palette forest fire lookout reported today a meteor started a timber fire Sept. 3 near his isolated station at High Valley. He said the meteor, a piece of heavy metal about the size of a football, was found lodged in a tree. The first was extinguished.

Bedspreads Are Sturdier Today

Time was when the bedspread was so delicate a creation that it had to be handled with care.

Today's bedspread still serves the purpose of beautifying the bed by day, but washable fabrics have made it a useful all 'round covering that can be thrown over the footboard and pulled up for service on tempermental summer nights.

Although flimsy fabrics are still used to some extent, unbleached muslins dressed up with chenille, little candlewick tufts, or other simple trims; seersuckers, and sturdy rayon and cotton weaves predominate in homes where furnishings are chosen with an eye to how they wash and wear. When the children curl up on the bed, when creams and other bedtime cosmetics rub off, when coffee or crumbs from the breakfast tray spill, the simpler type of bedspread can be easily refreshed with soap and water even if its weekly quota of service isn't up.

Cotton bedspreads need no special treatment to come out of every washing looking like new. For rayons or rayon mixtures, the washing formula consists of a continuous lather of abundant mild soapsuds, water of an even lukewarm temperature for washing and rinsing, and careful handling when wet. Many of the cottons need no pressing, but chenille or candlewick spreads should be shaken to make the tufts fluffy before they are thoroughly dry. Rayons are best smoothed with an iron regulated to moderate heat.

WOMEN'S WORK AND INTERESTS

Pickle Recipes Offered For Homemakers' Approval

(By Mary Moore)

This page of pickle recipes is much less than I hoped to give you this year—I wanted to compile a small pamphlet with a strong cover giving detailed accounts of pickling facts, but my old trouble (too-much-pressure-from-current-work) is chronic (but I hope not incurable for I have a fond hope of publishing a cook book before I get too old to tap a typewriter and before you are too disgusted and aged to read it. I'll keep hoping if you will!)

MAJOR PICKLING CAUTIONS

1. Make every effort to pickle your vegetables the same day they are picked.
2. Use either bottled vinegar—or boiled, strained and cooled bulk or barrel vinegar.
3. Wash pickle ingredients in at least 3 waters,—clean cucumbers by scrubbing each one with clean stiff nail brush rinsing them after this at least twice.

Pickels SOFTEN for several reasons:

1. If vinegar is too strong.
2. If overcooked.
3. If dirty—crevices are not scrubbed clean of insect eggs and bacteria.

PICKLES SHRIVEL for several reasons:

1. Picked too long before using.
2. Too much salt.
3. Too much sugar.
4. Skin too tough to allow absorption of brine,—in which case slit the blossom end (this applies to cucumbers particularly) ⅛ inch with sharp knife to facilitate absorption of brine or vinegar.

Pickles SPOIL for several reasons:

1. Because they are not clean.
2. Vinegar is impure.
3. They are not covered with vinegar or not sealed properly when sealing is specified by recipe. When pickling process is cold stronger vinegar should be used, whether it is bottled or not.

RECIPES FOR PICKLING CUCUMBERS

PICKLED GHERKINS (sweet)

Fifty 3-inch cucumbers (large gherkins) or 65 2½-inch cucumbers, 3 cups bottled vinegar, 1 cup water, 2 cups sugar, 1 bunch dill, mixed spices. Soak the scrubbed and rinsed gherkins in brine over night (1-3 cup salt to 1 quart water). Drain well. Boil vinegar, water and sugar 10 minutes, add washed gherkins and just keep hot until they change color. Pack into jars, add 1 teaspoon whole mixed spices (the grocers carry a standard mixture) and about ½ teaspoon crumbled dill blossoms to each quart of pickles, then cover with the boiling syrup and seal.

PICKLED GHERKINS (sour and easy)

Soak 100 medium sized gherkins (2½-inch) in weak brine overnight (a tablespoons salt to each quart water).

Wash and dry gherkins in the morning.

Boil together 2 quarts vinegar, ½ cup salt, ½ cup fresh grated horse radish, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon mustard (or ground mustard is preferred by many), ¼ teaspoon alum. Cool.

Place washed and dried gherkins in quart jars which have been washed, sterilized and dried by inverting to drain. Pour over them the cooled boiled vinegar mixture and seal. These may be kept in sterilized crock, if you can cover it snugly. All pickles must be submerged in the vinegar mixture.

MIXED SWEET PICKLES

Four medium sized heads cauliflower, 2 quarts 1-inch onions, 1 small head of celery (use the heart stalks), 6 sweet red peppers, 50 2½-inch gherkins. Wash the cauliflower and separate into small flowerets. Peel the onions, and cut the cleaned celery stalks into 1 inch pieces. Slice the peppers after removing seeds, into ⅛ inch slices. Wash the gherkins by scrubbing and rinsing. Soak all these prepared vegetables in brine overnight—3 tablespoons salt to each quart of water to cover. In morning drain well, cover with cold water and bring to boiling point and immediately drain. Boil 2 quarts mild vinegar with 2 lbs. brown sugar, 2 tablespoons mustard seed, 1 tablespoon whole cloves, 1 stick of whole cinnamon bark, (½ teaspoon turmeric, and 1 tablespoon mustard may be added if desired). Immediately pour this over the prepared parboiled vegetables, and pack into sterile jars, and vinegar poured over when ready. This vinegar sauce could be thickened by making ½ cup flour into paste with 1 cup cold water and stirring into the hot vinegar mixture before it is poured over the pickles — it must be stirred until thick.

MIXED SOUR PICKLES

Use same vegetables as in Mixed Sweet Pickles. Use same vinegar mixture as in Sour Pickled Gherkins. Vegetables are prepared as in Mixed Sweet Pickles and packed into jars that have been sterilized, and sour vinegar mixture is poured over while boiling hot. The main difference in this is that the brown sugar is omitted.

DILL PICKLES

Scrub and rinse enough 3½ to 4-inch cucumbers to fill 10 sterilized quart jars. Make a brine by boiling together 3 quarts water, ⅞ cup salt, 1 quart bottled vinegar. Pour this while boiling hot over the pickles in jars and add a well packed tablespoon of crushed dill blossoms to each jar or whole flower head of dill to each jar. These are ready after standing 4 weeks.

NINE-DAY PICKLES (crisp)

Cut 7 lbs. (4 to 5 inch) pickles into ½-inch slices. Soak in brine (1 cup salt per gallon for 3 days, then rinse off and soak in fresh brine each day for three days longer, rinsing off each day and draining well—if you have the time these are better if each pickle is dried. On seventh day scald for 2 hours in enough weak vinegar to cover (about 2 quarts) which contains 1 oz. alum, then drain and discard this vinegar mix. Prepare 3 pints fresh strong vinegar, 2½ lbs. sugar, 1 oz. each of celery seed, whole allspice, stick cinnamon, and a few cloves if desired. Tie spices in thin cloth. Pour this mixture over pickles, bring to simmering point and pour into 2-gallon crock. These are ready to eat in 2 days but will keep indefinitely without sealing—however all pickles must be submerged in the vinegar mix and the crock should be snugly covered.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES.

Two quarts sliced 6 or 8-inch cucumbers, 1 cup sliced onions, 2 chopped sweet red peppers, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, 2 teaspoons celery seed, 1 teaspoon mustard seeds, ½ teaspoon turmeric, 2 cups vinegar, 2 cups white or brown sugar (it is customary to use brown), 2 tablespoons salt. Wash and dry the cucumbers (they must be as frseh as possible and crisp). Slice them and mix with the onions, sprinkle with 2 tablespoons salt, and let stand about 3 hours, then rinse off the salt with cold water and drain. Bring the other ingredients to the boiling point, add pickles, and onions and stir several times a minute, until the mixture reaches the boiling point again, then pack in jars and seal at once. This amount makes about 2 quarts, but proportions are easily increased—this is a highly recommended way of using large cucumbers in a pickle that can be used on an hors d'oeuvre tray.

MUSTARD PICKLES.

Two quarts small white onions, 2 quarts small or sliced gherkins, 2 heads cauliflower, ½ cup salt in enough boiling water to cover the pickles (cucumbers) and onions, 6 sweet red peppers, seeded and chopped. Let the cucumbers and onions stand overnight in the brine. Drain in the morning and add the peppers, cauliflower (broken into small flowrets), and 2 quarts clean weak vinegar. Cook the vegetables in the vinegar till onions are a little tender (but still crisp). Add the following dry mixture moistened with 1½ cups water; 1 cup each sugar and flour, 1 tablespoon turmeric, 4 tablespoons dry mustard. Stir this until thick into the vegetable and vinegar mixture, then pour into sterile jars, and seal.

PICKLES WHERE TOMATOES PREDOMINATE

SWEET CHILI SAUCE.

(This is a very popular chili sauce and highly recommended by me—we are to thank Mrs. Nan S. for it).

Fifteen medium-sized choice red tomatoes, 3 large onions, 1½ hot red peppers, 1 point white vinegar, 3 peaches, 3 pears, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 oz. whole mixed spices, 2 cups brown sugar.

Cut up tomatoes, chop onions, peaches, and pears fairly fine, cut peppers very, very fine. Mix vinegar, salt and brown sugar, then stir the mixture into the fruits and vegetables, add the whole spices (which should be tied loosely in a bag—leaving a long piece of string for easy removal). Remove spice bag when spiced to taste. All tastes differ—use your own good judgment for spiciness. Cook mixture for about 2¼ hours in large pot, pour into sterilized jars and cover at once with hot paraffin, cover again when cool. Store in cool dry place. This quantity makes 4 one-pound jars and is a real "party" relish.

REGULAR CHILI SAUCE.

One peck of choice ripe tomatoes, 8 large red onions, 4 sweet red peppers, (1 large bunch of celery may be washed and cut finely and added if desired—I recommend this), 1½ tablespoons black pepper, 2 tablespoons ginger, 5 cups vinegar, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup salt. Chop the vegetables finely and boil carefully for 2 hours—there should be an asbestos pad under this unless it is stirred very frequently. For shorter cooking much of the juice may be strained off. Seal in sterile jars as soon as finished—this is not like cucumber pickles—it will mould if not sealed while boiling. (This makes an excellent cocktail sauce if tabasco and horseradish are added.)

TOMATO CATSUP.

Six quarts chopped ripe tomatoes, ½ cup sugar, 1½ to 2 tablespoons salt (depending on your tastes), 1½ tablespoons white pepper, 1 tablespoon whole cloves, 1 oz. stick cinnamon, 1 tablespoon powdered mace, 1 teaspoon celery salt, (½ teaspoon hot paprika or cayenne may be used if you like your catsup hot,—the paprika makes it a nice bright red). Put the tomatoes in a kettle, sprinkle with ½ cup salt, and let stand several hours or overnight, then drain off the juice. This makes the mixture thicken sooner. Add the other ingredients and 1 pint choice vinegar, then boil covered in the oven for 1 hour. This saves scorching. Strain, reheat to boiling point and bottle and seal corks with sealing wax. If preferred spices may be increased in amount and put in bag and removed half way during cooking—to keep catsup light.

TOMATO RELISH (Uncooked).

One peck ripe tomatoes. Chop and drain off juice or it thins the relish too much. Three onions, 3 cups finely chopped celery, 3 sweet green peppers sliced or chopped, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup salt, 1 oz. mustard seed, 1½ pints scalded vinegar. Mix and can cold without cooking. All vegetables should be submerged in the juice to keep them. Only the best vinegar and cleanest ingredients should be used in this relish if it is to keep well.

GREEN TOMATO PICKLE (Sweet)

Three lbs. Bermuda onions, 1 cup salt, 2 quarts water, 3 quarts vinegar, 2 lbs. sugar, 2 tablespoon whole cloves, 1 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons each ginger, whole allspice, mustard seed, cinnamon. Slice tomatoes and onions, sprinkle with the salt, let stand overnight and drain. Add the sugar, the 2 quarts vinegar, and the spices tied in a thin bag. Boil carefully about 1 hour or until the syrup is somewhat thickened. Pour into sterile jars and seal.

Pepper Relish

One peck mixed green and red peppers, 2 cups cold water, 1 cup salt, 2 cups vinegar, 1 cup brown sugar, ½ cup white mustard seed. Wipe peppers, cut in halves, remove seeds, put through meat chopper. Put in kettle and add water and salt; cover and let stand overnight. In the morning drain and pour over vinegar, sugar and mustard seed which have been brought to the boiling point and boiled 2 minutes. Fill jars to overflowing and tighten covers.

Nearly 26,000 tons of sulphur will be produced in Chile this year.

By MARY MOORE

Cantaloupe Balls in Lemon Syrup
Rolled Prime Rib Roast of Beef
Pan Roasted Whole Carrots
Crumbed and Fried Sliced Eggplant (see note)
Fresh Pear and Cheese Salad
Wafers Iced Coffee.

Note.—If you will slice your pared eggplant at least ¾-inch thick and parboil it 8 minutes, it will retain its shape and yet fry (French or pan) in a minimum time. It is best if dipped first in sifted cracker crumbs, beaten egg diluted with two tablespoons water, then in crumbs again.

Inside Tip.—We have discovered recently that cocoanut oil is only 8 cents per pound from the wholesale grocer and is rand for French frying. Why don't you try getting it by the gallon through your retail grocer—it would still be very cheap if you had to pay 10 or 12 cents. It will not do alone for mayonnaise, but makes good French dressing.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"So long as a man fears, it matters little what he fears; whether it be death, or poverty, or his next-door neighbor, it is all one so long as the fear is vital. So long as a man is a slave, it is of comparatively little importance whether his master be a sugar planter, or a creed, or public opinion; there are only the two classes, the slave and the free."—C. B. Wheeler.

Dear Friends.—Yes, all of us are the slave of fear at different times in our lives, and how it robs us of courage and self-esteem, how it turns our heart to water in our breasts and makes us wake up in the night to worry and wonder.

We were told to "take no thought for the morrow," but we persist in doing just that. We know we are alright to-day, we may not be successful as we would like to be, but we are getting by, and the sheriff is not on our trail yet.

But, does that comfort us? Not a bit, for we tremble to think what might happen if business does not pick up, or what the neighbors may say if they know we did not have such a big income as they thought we had. So we let fear rule us.

Well, I got tired of it long ago, so whenever fear pokes its nose into my life, I push it out again by reminding it how often it was wrong in the past. I tell it too about the way it held me back and will not let it master me again.

We sneer at some because they fear such and such a thing, but are their fears any worse or more contemptible than ours? I think not. Don't ours get us down as theirs do? Of course they do. But it is a curious thing how often fears are routed when we face them boldly and dare them to do their worst.

Just sit down for five minutes and consider how many fears you have. Which reminds me of a lady I knew in a western city. We were sitting talking and her young son cameand asked if he could go skating. The ice was not very good but she told him that, then said if he would promise not to go far from the edge in case it cracked, he could go.

Afterwards I said, "Anne, are you not afraid to let him go? Will you not be afraid all the time he is away, thinking that ice will crack and he will drown?" And she said, "either I let him go and forget all about fear, or he stays at home. I will not put up with fear." Afterwards I pondered these words. "I will not put up with fear." And so at different times I would bring up the subjects I feared in a most casual manner, asking if she was afraid of this or that. I found she had fear for the things I was brave about, but the little naggling ones that bothered me never troubled her.

She took life more easily than I did and came out the winner. She could not understand my having any fear at all, for, she said, it is quite evident that God looks after you specially. That was hard to believe, but not so hard now.

So, gradually I got rid of most of my fears. I took them out and examined them and found them to be little piffling things not worth bothering about. If I am spoken about okay, I speak about others, and if I am kindly in doing so others can be like that too.

And I realize that my new dress or hat is only important to me, so if anyone looks at them I think they may admire them. You can not be happy while you fear, they do not mix, so cast it out. Let tolerances, and sympathy, and understanding, and love, and friendly interest fill your mind, then there will be no room for that mean thing fear, which makes cowards of us all.

Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Miscellaneous Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Ruth Murray and Miss Velma Scott were joint hostesses at the home of Miss Scott, 305 Mark street, this week, when a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Marion Wood, a bride-elect of September.

The evening was spent in games, a contest and music. The contest prize was won by Miss Jennie Butcher. A highlight of the evening was a mock wedding, where the part of the bride was taken by Miss Gladys Walker, the groom by Miss Ruth Murray, and the part of the minister by Miss Jennie Butcher. Wedding music for an amusing mock ceremony was played by Miss Velma Scott. Afterwards a basket, prettily decorated in pink, white and silver, was brought in, loaded with gifts, by the two hostesses.

Guests included Miss Marion Wood, Mrs. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Scott, and the Misses Ruth Murray, Velma Scott, Gladys Walker, Marion Turnbull, Marcella Healey, Margaret Selkirk, Bibi Benson, Marjorie Clarke, Zoe McDonald, Madeline Allen, Jean Murray, Audrey Murray, Ruby Gray, Jennie Butcher, Gertrude Butcher, Anne Wright, Jessie Wright, Norma Adlam, Leone McGee, Birdena Graham and Mrs. A. 85 Young People Enjoy Clear Lake Camp

A happy week-end was spent by eighty-five young people at the Rotary Camp on Clear Lake during the Labor Day holiday, when representatives of Alliance Young People's Societies for the Ontario district were guests of Peterborough Bethany Tabernacle.

An interesting program had been arranged for the young people and an out-door Campfire service started the ball rolling Saturday evening.

Representatives of the different branches brought their greetings from the Society in their district, and a sing-song was enjoyed. Sunday services were held around a large stone fireplace in the living room of the camp, and Monday was spent in sports and recreation, including swimming and boating. The camp broke up about four-thirty Monday afternoon, after a successful week-end of spiritual education and healthful recreation.

Special speakers for the occasion were: Rev. D. C. Copp, pastor of Ottawa Alliance Tabernacle, Mr. John Dade, Christian business man, Toronto, Canon J. D. Paterson, Peterborough, and Rev. David Mason, District Superintendent of Alliance Churches, Toronto.

...And in the shops....a simply-styled little frock in a color the shade of red Autumn leaves. It was made with the popular shirred waistline, which was girdled by a narrow leather belt in brown. A high, stitched collar and square stitched pockets trimmed by novelty buttons wth clock faces were accents to make any high-scool girl's heart beat a little faster!

To clean a marble bust, you should scrub it with a solution of soap powder and hot water? Rinse. Make a paste with ordinary whitening and cold water. Work well all over the marble. When dry rinse off with warm water. If the marble is very badly stained, several applications of whitening may be necessary.

Gallon-size Teapot Made For John Wesley

MONTREAL, Sept. 8 — Josiah Wedgwood, famous English potter, with whose work a shade of blue is always associated, was the maker of one of the world's two most famous teapots. Made in 1761, the gallon-size pot was presented by the potter to his friend John Wesley, founder of the Methodist church. It now reposes in the Wesley Museum, London.

Wedgwood made the teapot following his first meeting with Wesley in 1760 when the preacher received somewhat boisterous treatment from the potters who attended his meeting. One of them threw a lump of potter's clay that struck the evangelist in the face.

The teapot was beautifully decorated on the front with the Blessing Hymn and at the back with the Benediction. Both of these were enclosed in a pattern of flowers from Wedgwood's own garden. For the pattern on the spout Wedgwood chose the national flowers of the British Isles: the thistle, the leek, the shamrock, and the rose. They are also repeated as the decorative motif above the spout.

For the pattern around the top of the pot and on the cover Wedgwood chose the pattern of his sweetheart's blue calico dress. Wedgwood married his blue calico sweetheart soon after. One of their grandchildren was Charles Darwin.

The Wesley teapot is the most famous piece of pottery extant from the Wedgwood establishment, which has been in existence for a longer time than the Methodist Church.

Plaids for Fall

PARIS Sept 1—It's more than a bit o' plaid we'll be wearing this fall, and there's certainly nothing warmer in color or fabric than a tartan to ward off winter chills. But the plaids far from limit themselves to orthodox woollens; they burst forth on velvets and silks as well

Perhaps Erik the hatmaker should be given credit for promoting the plaids, because almost his entire hat collection boasts a Scotch twang. However, all the dressmakers—undoubtedly helped along by Scottish Queen Elizabeth's visit to Paris — have the same idea.

"Wear your plaid for evening" is Molyneux's daring suggestion, which coldblooded people should find most acceptable. He makes his plaid evening scarf, of a very loose-woven wool plaided in black, red, green and white and wears it with a bright blue silk crepe evening dress sprinkled all over with sparkling blue sequins. A sash of the same wool plaid is wound around the waist of the evening dress to complete the Scotch effect.

Plaid lame, with black, red and white squares on a gold back-ground, makes the top to a black wool crepe skirt. Skirt and top are stitched together at a low waistline to make a dressy but useful one-piece afternoon dress.

Another combination of plaid with plain materials makes a neat and youthful wool daytime dress. Short puff sleeves of gay plaid wool are set in a simple black wool dress; there is no other plaid used on the dress, but a plaid jacket—matching the dress sleeves—goes over.

Plaid jackets and coats, in fact, are made to go over almost any color dress you might want to wear underneath. Creed makes a striking and almost "collegiate" swagger coat of huge blue and yellow plaid, cut on the bias and with raglan sleeves and high neck. It's worn over a straight angora-finished material in slate blue.

Equally smart is the red, navy and white plaid wool fitted jacket which Vera Borea combines with a slate blue wool skirt. Another house goes so far as to make a plaid blouse for a checked skirt! The skirt is green and rust check; the blouse is green, black and yellow plain; the jacket is of the skirt material, but lined with the blouse plaid.

Varieties In Woman

There are litle woman and the big woman. There are the thin woman, the stout woman and the woman in between.

There are the quiet woman, the noisy woman, the talkative, the gossipy and the silent. There are the brain woman, the heart woman and the woman who makes good use of both of these organs.

There are the bookish woman, the trim, the prig, the slattern, the lazy, the alert, the worrisome, the troublesome, the cheery and the sad woman. We have the mannish woman, the flirt, the gay, the coquette, the pious and the slinging vine.

And let us not forget the crying woman and the shrew, and the womanly woman who strives earnestly to cultivate the best of qualities and to eliminate her faults and frailties.

Verily there is no lack of variety in woman.

Say Girls Hide Mental Upsets

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 — (CP).— Boys outnumbered girls two to one in the total of "problem children" treated by the Child Guidance Bureau of New York City schools, according to the report of the Department of Education.

The cause of this wide deferential was attributed, in part, to the sympathetic treatment girls receive from teachers and, in part, to the inclination of girls to hide personality disturbance.

The report shows that nearly 75 per cent of "problem children," taken under the bureau's wing, had been helped to satisfactory or partial adjustment of neuresic and other pyschiatric, psychological and physical troubles.

Five years ago the department of education inaugurated the Child Guidance Bureau which, in addition to treating children for various disaffections, undertakes to train teaches and parents to detect many causes of youth disturbances.

Cases studied were cited to show the important bearing home conditions have on a child's school progress. A boy of nine, normally brilliant who failed constantly, was found to be the butt of a bitter fued between his mother and grandmother who lived with them. When the situation was cleared up the boy became a model pupil.

Parental harshness was found to handicap many boys and girls. Repressed at home, the children sought emotional release at school. The reverse was often the case where teachers attempted to wield more discipline than the parents. The report also found a high correlation between malnutrition and mental defects, and suggested that since school failure is often the forerunner of misbehavior, malnutrition should be detected and remedied at once.

Children entering school for the first time are in need of careful attention and handling. In the early grades the teacher becomes a mother-substitute and depending upon the child's upbringing the teacher becomes either a sympathetic friend or a bitter enemy.

"The extent to which it is possible to improve the conduct of children is determined by the degree to which it is possible to change the attitudes and methods of training used by adults," the report concluded.

A good way of utilizing small soap scraps is to put them in a jar of warm water where they will dissolve into a soft soap, or, if dry, grate them into soap granules on a coarse cheese grater.

Frozen foods may easily be removed from refrigerator trays if each tray is lined with waxed paper before filling it? When the food is frozen, lift it out by the edges of the paper, which may then be torn off.

To Set Off Flower Beauty

As each picture requires a certain setting to show it off to advantage, so does each species of flower require a style of vase to bring out the color and lines of its own particular beauty.

The background for a lady speaker in a large theatre was three dozen prize gladioli set in a huge flat brass bowl in the centre of the stage. The bowl was set on a table against a dark blue velvet drop curtain. Several good-sized Boston ferns were placed on high stands on either side to help set off the coloring of the gladioli and the effect was really beautiful.

To Suit Their Beauty

Gladioli simply shout for a big low bowl or a holder tall and stately, but a spray or two with a mixture of different sized flowers can be arranged artistically in almost any vase or bowl.

Large flowers often combine nicely with small flowers as sprays of wild plum blossoms with daffodils or tulips.

Simple outdoor flowers as daisies, marigolds and the like, look best in pottery.

Some people prefer white porcelain containers for white flowers and white or pastel colored table accessories are very new this year.

Crystal is also the newest of the new and designs are numerous and interesting from which to choose. Some of the smaller crystal centrepieces are almost decoration enough in themselves. Using these accessories when flowers are scarce, two or three roses and a few smaller flowers are quite sufficient to set off your table. Incidentally, delicate, rare flowers as roses, lilies, etc., look their best in crystal or cut glass. Goldfish bowls of different sizes make inexpensive crystal containers.

Never overcrowd a vase and don't be afraid to use plenty of foliage in the arranging of flowers. Everyone knows the beauty of a single rose in a bud vase or bowl.

It is not necessary to have a set of expensive flower containers. A few different sized ones, black or plain colored, crystal, wooden or wicker, porcelain, pottery and perhaps a Chinese vase and you are ready to frame any set of flowers. Flowers in a room add to its attractiveness and a dramatized table setting makes good food taste better.

Hose May Come Higher—In Price

Women's stockings may be increased in price as a result of a drastic restriction of color shades being considered, due to increase charges for dyeing, coming into effect September 1.

Dyers suggested 12 standard shades and offered to dye small quantities at the usual rates. Advance in price for dyeing any other than those shades will be considered.

If the public demand is for other shades, then increases in the prices of stockings are inevitable, it is said.

The new price-list for dyeing apples to practically all stockings except lisle and all-wool, and includes silk, artificial silk and rayon and wool mixtures.

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!
Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!
If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.
If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1.
Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Drove Death Car

Mildred Gaydon, 25-year-old cigarette girl in a Miami night club, pictured in bed at her home recovering from injuries she sustained in an automobile accident which cost the life of the Count of Covodonga, former heir to the throne of Spain. She may face a charge of manslaughter. Miss Gaydon was driving the car which went out of control and crashed into a pole. The count suffered from the dread haemophilia, was cut about the head. He died in hospital.

Railroader Is Shot As Wife Watches

REGINA, Sept. 8.—(CP).—Royal Canadian Mounted Police pressed investigation to-day in two violent deaths at Palisade, litte southwestern Saskatchewan railway siding, in the belief the deaths were murder and suicide.

According to word reaching here, Fred Shofstak, section foreman at Palisade, was shot dead in his bed early yesterday morning, while his wife looked on powerless to assist him. Three revolver shots ploughed through his head, killing him instantly.

Several hours later, Sam Myronjuk, section man at Eastend, a short distance from Palisade, entered a shack a short distance away. Another shot was heard, and residents found him dead on the floor of the shack with a revolver beside him.

Details of the shooting were lacking.

Woman Bag-Puncher Held Annoyance

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—(CP).—In an effort to prove her contention that she was not an annoyance to neighbors, 60-year-old Mrs. Mary Sullivan was slated to-day to give a bag-punching exhibition in her own back yard before a Superior Court master.

The master Peter Borre, decided "to take a look" to determine if the exhibition was as "noisy" as owners of an adjoining apartment house complained it was. In fact, they said Mrs. Sullivan's fists, bouncing off the bag, sounded similar to a "trip hammer," and that one tenant threatened to vacate unless the noise ceased.

The elderly woman, who contended the exercise was necessary for her arthritis and that it was a noiseless performance, already was under a temporary order forbidding her to punch the bag between 9 p.m., and 9 a.m.

False Holdup Tale Gets Taximan Year

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 8 (CP).—Geoffrey Reade, 29, Windsor taxi driver, was sentenced in police court yesterday to one year determinate in Ontario Reformatory and three months indeterminate because of a false story he told to explain two bullet holes found in his taxi. He pleaded guilty to a charge laid under the mischief section of common law.

"I hope this will serve as a lesson to people who provide police with false information," Magistrate David Brodie said.

Reade led city and provincial police on a false chase two weeks ago when he reported that a man he had picked up in Windsor as a fare had attempted to hold him up in a secluded Sandwich West township woods. He said he escaped but that the armed man fired two bullets into the car.

Later Reade admitted he had taken the wife of another cab driver to the woods but denied he knew identity of the person who fired the shots.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

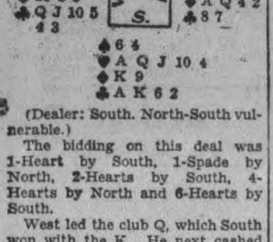
"The Authority on Authorities"

SAFETY PAYS PROFITS

MOST SO-CALLED "safety plays" involve the sacrifice of prospects for overtricks in order to insure the success of the contract. Some of the most careful measures, however, make the contract sure and at the same time develop a chance for extra tricks which would not exist if the more risky plans were followed.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

The bidding on this deal was 1-Heart by South, 1-Spade by North, 2-Hearts by South, 4-Hearts by North and 6-Hearts by South.

West led the club Q, which South won with the K. He next cashed the hearts A, Q and J, and followed with the ruff of the club 2. Next came the leads of the spades A, K and Q and on the latter the club 6 was discarded. The diamond 3 was next led, and because the declarer was fortunate in finding the diamond A with East, he made his contract.

His correct play is to attempt a squeeze for seven against whoever holds four spades, if that player also has the diamond A. He should win the first club and ruff the club 2 with the heart 9. Then a trump should be led to the closed hand for a club ruff with the heart K. Next should come a trump to the South hand and the remaining hearts cashed. East must either discard a spade or blank his diamond A. When the high club is then cashed, East is in a hopeless position.

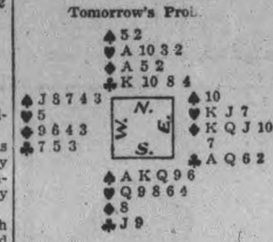
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

South had been doubled by East at 4-Hearts, which he redoubled. After the lead of the diamond 3, how should he proceed to make game?

U.S. Press Fights Massey In Lincoln Role

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (C.P.). — The prospect of a Canadian actor playing the role of Abraham Lincoln on a New York stage was too much to-day for tabloid daily news.

The News, worked up over the idea of a British subject playing such a "thoroughly American" part as the great emancipator, shoved the subject of international affairs to the tail end of its single editorial column and gave the leader space to discuss the question: "A Canadian as Abraham Lincoln?"

Prompting the editorial was the much-heralded performance of Raymond Massey of Toronto in Robert E. Sherwood's "Abraham Lincoln in Illinois," scheduled to open early in the new threatre season.

Sherwood himself picked Massey for the part.

The News thinks Massey as an actor is "fine" and "he certainly does look like Lincoln," but it finds the nationality angle a big hurdle.

Some Dissatisfaction.

"We think he is going to stumble over something. In the sub-conscious mind of those who watch him, unable to unify the actor with his part, there is bound to be this question: 'Why in the world should a Canadian (you might say an Englishman, in view of his years of experience on the British stage) play the part of so thorough an American as Lincoln?'

"A few years ago, when Philip Merivale (an English actor) played George Washington in Maxwell Anderson's 'Valley Forge,' there was the same question. He played the part superbly, but 'Valley Forge' wasn't successful as it might have been because the audience kept mulling over the same question: 'Why an Englishman for George Washington, of all people?' Of course, the answer was that George Washington was born an English colonial, but the prejudice still remained."

Does YOUR System Make Excess Acid?

Acid Indigestion, Colds, Headaches, Bilious Attacks, Constipation OFTEN START THIS WAY

Some people are what are known as acid-makers. They can't help it—and often they don't know it. The results of an excess of acid may seem just like ordinary stomach trouble — but they can't be put right by ordinary stomach remedies! Excess acid may be the reason why you wake up flat, sour, bleary-eyed, bilious — and the reason why fierce purgatives only leave you in the grip of a weakening habit and the same old symptoms.

But there's one thing that acid can't face. That's the neutralizing power of Vange Salts, the alkaline remedy with the natural mineral spa action. A teaspoonful in warm water surges through your system just like the medicinal spring water far away in England where Vange Salts come from. Excess acid is neutralized quickly, painlessly. Your blood is purified of poisons. Your sore stomach walls are soothed. And that mass of hard, poisonous waste matter lying in your intestines is softened gently, naturally, and passed out of your body. Then do you feel good! It's marvellous! But the most marvellous thing is that Vange Salts are only 60 cents a tin! At your druggist now—but if you're wise, on your bathroom shelf tonight!

BRITISH MESSAGE SETS HITLER THINKING

Claim Hitler To Demand Plebiscite

Defiant Nazis Think Move Would Satisfy Britain

By Louis P. Lochner
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 9 (A.P.).— High Nazis party members, in defiant mood, predicted to-day that Chancellor Hitler would demand, and get, a plebiscite in troubled Czechoslovakia.

By advancing that scheme at what he deemed an opportune moment, they argued, the German Chancellor would provide a solution to the problem acceptable to Great Britain, because "the plebiscite is a democratic idea."

He was said to have called them "not subject to discussion" and to seem determined, after another day of numerous conferences behind the scenes of the annual Nazi Party Congress, to wear down British patience.

Referring to the mission of Viscount Runciman (unofficial British mediator in Prague), prominent party members said:

"The British fail completely to understand that Nazism is a highly dynamic movement which wants clear-cut decisions—no dilly-dallying."

The incident at Moravska-Ostrava Czechoslovakia, on Wednesday when a Sudeten German duty allegedly was struck by the whip of a Czech policeman, was exploited to the limit in the Nuremberg press.

If the Prague Government cannot keep order, the Nazis asked, how can it have authority to conclude binding agreements?

It seemed clear that the public mind was being prepared carefully for the idea that Germany must help the Sudeten German brothers in the name of humanity and to establish law and order.

Elderberry Time

It is elderberry picking time in the district and luscious black berries shown in the picture frame the pretty face of Miss Muriel Elliott, Carlisle Avenue, who has just filled a basket with the fruit. The berries grow in clusters, first turning red and then black as they ripen. They are sought by many people for pie fruit and tart filling, and are said to be more delicious than huckleberries.

Italy Ready For Any Eventualities But Hopes Czechs Knuckle Down

ROME, Sept. 9—(AP). — Italy stood ready to-day "for any eventualities" as she watched allied Germany's manoeuvres on behalf of the Sudeten German minority in Czechoslovakia. With the whole Fascist state organized along semi-military lines, special mobilization is not needed to be prepared for action.

At the same time hope was expressed in Fascist circles that Czechoslovakia would grant autonomy to the Sudeten Germans and avoid armed conflict.

The Informazione Diplomatica, to which diplomats attribute the importance of a government communique, advised the Czechs to take a realistic view of things and forestall a "very grave crisis."

How far Italy would go with Germany in case of a showdown, however, was not made any more clear than in the past.

German sources asserted, when Hitler was here, that Mussolini promised him a free hand in Czechoslovakia but expressed the hope Germany would solve the problem "on her own strength."

Virginio Gayda, an authoritative editor, declared "in 24 hours the situation has been overturned" and blamed the Czechs for "deliberate or unrestrained exasperations of open injury" which he said Germany would not suffer indefinitely.

Nazis' Chief Skips Talk To Rally

Stays Home Figuring After Henderson Talks To Ribbentrop

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 9 —(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, apparently too deeply engrossed in the crisis over Czechoslovakia, failed today to deliver a scheduled address at the 10th annual Nazi Party Congress.

The explanation was given that "business of the state prevented" his appearance.

He was understood to be studying the Czechoslovak situation after Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop reported to him on a conference with Sir Nevile Henderson, British Ambassador to Germany.

It was the Fuehrer's first failure to attend the annual women's auxiliary rally during the decade of Nuremberg Congresses.

Von Ribbentrop attended the rally after conferring for almost an hour with Sir Nevile. What they discussed was not disclosed.

Nazis advancing the Plebiscite idea argued that Hitler would press Great Britain to support a vote in the Germanic regions of Czechoslovakia because "the Plebiscite is a democratic Institution."

A Compromise Plan ?

PRAGUE, Sept. 9 (CP-Havas).—The newspaper Mittag today said a compromise plan for settlement of the Sudeten German problem in case proposals of the Czechoslovak Government are rejected has been worked out by Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator, and submitted to the Foreign Office at London.

Suggestions that a plebiscite be held in the Sudeten German areas will be rejected, from whatever source they may come, said the newspaper Lidove Hoviny. There is no legal or constitutional basis for the holding of a plebiscite in this country, this paper declared. "He who speaks of a plebiscite is provoking war.'

Meanwhile, hopes for peaceful settlement of the problem were weakened by two new incidents.

One man was knocked down and trampled at Cesky Krumlov, where 4,000 Sudeten Germans shouted: "One Reich, one people, one Fuehrer! We want to return to the Reich! We want a plebiscite!"

Fighting was avoided when police prevented the demonstrators from entering a street in which a group of opponents had formed.

A crowd at Fryvaldov threw stones through the windows of the district headquarters building. The

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 9.

EDWARD YARDAS, 37, Toronto, "never thought of crying" until he saw a mother and four children killed by a bomb in the village of Taragone, Spain. But when he saw the "pitiful bodies of those five peasants, I wept."

Twice wounded during 16 months of active fighting, Yardas, of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion for the Loyalist Forces in Spain, a company commander, returned to his home in Toronto two weeks ago and is visiting here. He has partially lost the use of his left foot because of a "dum-dum" bullet wound.

Yardas said that 1,100 Canadians in Spain, were the "real fighters of the war." They bore the brunt of a recent severe offensive in the Ebro front and held a position for four days against "more than 5,000 Insurgent soldiers."

Suspect Ribbentrop Advising Dictator Britain Will Not Fight If Czech Land Made 2nd Belgium

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP Cable).—The British Government may try new tactics to prevent war in Central Europe — a blunt, plain approach to German authorities leaving no doubt what may be expected should Chancellor Hitler order his troops into Czechoslovakia.

What form such a warning might take was a matter of conjecture but the whole purpose would be, informed sources declared, to acquaint Germany of this country's attitude before any military moves were taken.

There always has been speculation as to what would have been the effect if Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, had dispatched a strong note of warning to the Kaiser in July, 1914.

There were indications today that Prime Minister Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, do not want to repeat the tragic indecision of 24 years ago.

Just As In 1914.

The positions were regarded as somewhat parallel. In 1914 the Kaiser was sure Great Britain would stay neutral long enough to permit him to win the war. Today Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop of Germany is said here to be advising the Fuehrer Britain would not fight if Czechoslovakia became a second Belgium.

The purpose of a British move would be to impress upon Hitler the gravity of armed intervention in the Czech-Sudeten German quarrels and not to take it for granted Britain would stay neutral.

Indicating mounting public support for a strong stand by the government the Daily Telegraph (Conservative) to-day declared:

"It should be made plain beyond possibility of all misunderstanding that efforts of the Czech government to satisfy the minority demands are watched with sympathy and approval, and that an endeavor from any quarter to reach a settlement by force would involve risks no man can calculate."

Chance To Speak Ont.

Prime Minister Chamberlain is to open new college buildings at Newcastle to-morrow and could take advantage of that opportunity, it was pointed out, to make stronger his and Sir John Simon's declarations that Britain might find it impossible to stand aside from a conflict developing over Czechoslovakia.

At the same time he might disclose military precautions for an emergency—such as France was said to be urging in conjunction with her own extensive preparations.

The Prague government also was urging Britain to show publicly more support for the far-reaching concessions it has offered the Sudeten Germans, it was learned in reliable quarters.

A stiffening of the Sudeten German stand in the face of these concessions led to outspoken suspicions in some quarters here that the Sudetens might be preparing to set up their own state within a state on the grounds that Prague

Governing Idea Runs Bone Into Dispute

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 9 (CP).—Ontario Mayors' Association today passed a resolution declaring a proposal by Mayor Jamieson Bone of Belleville that the mayors "take over the reins" of the Ontario government if steps were not taken to improve economic conditions did not represent the feeling of the organization. Only Mayor Bone and Mayor McLeesh of Oshawa opposed it.

The question was raised by Mayor E. S. Wigle of Windsor who said newspaper accounts of Mayor Bone's resolution "make us look like a bunch of children."

"I can hear the Premier of Ontario express his opinion of the mayors of the province if we allow the publicity to go unchallenged," said Mayor Wigle. "I think the resolution was a foolish one and I ask this association to announce publicly that the resolution did not express the feeling of this organization."

Kirby Would Free 1,011 Patients

Claims That Many No Longer Mentally Ill

TORONTO, September 9—(CP)—Hon. Harold J. Kirby, Ontario Minister of Health, said to-day 1,011 patients in Ontario's mental hospitals are in sufficient mental health to be released.

That number, the minister said, was made up of many aged patients who had no place to go and no one to care for them, as well as many who should not have been committed to a mental institution in the first place or whose confinement was no longer justified.

Mr. Kirby emphasized that the commission announced yesterday would study the whole question in the hope its recommendations would go far towards "cleaning up the present unsatisfactory situation." The commission was not appointed merely to investigate one or two cases of suspected "railroading" of patients to mental hospitals, he said.

He indicated that a complete reorganization of the mental hospital situation would be begun at an early date.

An important new feature will be district committees appointed to pronounce upon the mental condition of all patients, rather than leaving the matter to hospital superintendents who are psychiatrists.

Too Big for One Man.

"The liberty of the individual who, under the present system may be committed and held indefinitely in a mental institution, is too important to be left solely to the discretion of one man, a psychiatrist, who happens to be in charge of a hospital," Mr. Kirby said.

"It is getting to be that if a person smiles out of the side of his mouth, he is decreed mentally ill. The tendency of psychiatrists is to declare any abnormality in an individual a symptom of insanity or mental illness sufficient to certify him mentally ill.

"It should be remembered that nearly all of us are 'a little off' under any such ruling. Caesar spent some time in a mental hospital and so did one or two presidents of the United States. We want to inaugurate some regime of common sense which will protect the really mentally ill, the public and all those whom we believe have been detained —or who may be."

Hint Ottawa Trade Pacts Impoverished Europe

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 9 (CP Cable).—General modification of the Ottawa trade agreements was advocated today by most delegates attending the British Commonwealth relations conference here, to provide the Dominion with the wider markets essential to the absorption of their primary products.

At the same time, freedom from the Ottawa agreements was suggested by some British delegates to permit trade agreements with Europe, as an aid to soothing the troubles of the European situation. Some considered the Empire agreements had impoverished Europe by transferring purchasing power to the Dominions.

The trade agreements made at Ottawa six years ago came under fire as the unofficial conference continued its private sessions by discussion of Australia's particular economic interests.

Development of secondary and tertiary industries here, in a trend to less dependence on Britain for imports, was indicated as a major feature of the Austrian economic situation.

Australian Criticism

The Australian delegation, headed by Sir Thomas Bavin, criticised the Ottawa agreements as an emergency economic measure against world deflation. They were considered inadequate as a basis for long-term policy. Trade expansion within the Empire was partly the result of the Ottawa conference and partly due to internal measures taken by the individual commonwealth countries themselves. Britain's trade with the Scandinavian countries had expanded faster after the Ottawa agreements that it had with the Dominions.

Dr. Higginson, driving home along the highway near here, paid no attention to two men who emerged from a parked car and motioned him to stop. When he heard two shots, one of which struck his car, he stopped and gave the bandits his money. No trace has been found of the two.

Paris Cancels Civil Staff Leaves, Atlantic Fleet Loads Supplies

By Taylor Henry
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

PARIS, Sept. 9 (A.P.). — Leaves of employees in the government-owned communications system were cancelled by Premier Daladier today, extending precautionary measures already applied to the Army, Navy, and Air Corps since the Czech-German crisis arose.

Naval reserve officers in Paris received official notices this morning advising them to be ready for duty if necessary.

Telegraph, telephone and postal workers disclosed they were ordered to remain near their posts in view of "international difficulties of these critical days."

While officers and sailors of the French Atlantic Fleet hurried back to their warships which were loading supplies and munitions for 60 days of service, the Army checked up on its defences of the Pyrenees frontier opposite insurgent Spain.

In Paris, political observers attached considerable importance to the fact that Premier Daladier, who also is Defence Minister, had long interviews yesterday with both the British Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps, and the United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt. Bullitt also saw Foreign Minister Bonnet.

Along the Maginot Line new commanders, named yesterday, quickly took over their posts. With the underground fortresses in second line defences virtually at full wartime strength, the stream of reservists moving to the frontier began to dwindle.

Many of the troops, as they left trains and marched into the vast subterranean network, sang the British National Anthem as well as that of France.

Some roads to the border now are blocked at night by great steel pole barriers, which ordinarily are let down only to halt smugglers

MATTOON, Ill., Sept. 9 (AP). — Mrs. Maxine Lake, a young bride who dropped from a fourth storey hotel window a few minutes before her wealthy husband plunged to his death, remained in a critical condition today.

Attendants at Memorial Hospital, to which she was taken yesterday unconscious and suffering from a broken back, said her condition was unchanged.

Her husband, M. E. Lake, 35, vice-president of the Coast Line Oil Corporation and the Lincoln Petroleum Company of San Antonio, Tex., was killed almost instantly as he landed on the body of his wife.

Mrs. Lake, 20-year-old former New York professional model, married the oil executive in Corpus Christi, Tex., three months ago. She was the former Maxine Dunson of Arkansas Pass, Tex.

Coincident with the investigation the police spurred a hunt for an imposter who took a wallet containing $200 from Lake's pocket as he lay on the sidewalk fatally injured.

The coroner said after preliminary investigation that Lake committed suicide, but further investigation of circumstances surrounding Mrs. Lake's fall would be necessary.

An associate of Lake said the couple quarrelled at a party last Wednesday.

Kitchener Man Robbed

MONTREAL, Sept. 9 (CP)—Ernest Bastow, Kitchener, Ont., complained to provincial police today two men robbed him of $30 last night after giving him knockout drops.

Bastow said he was leaving Granby, Que., 40 miles south of here, after finishing work at an exhibition when two men offered to drive him to Montreal. They offered him a drink from a bottle of liquor, and he fell asleep immediately, he told the officers. He awoke lying in a field on the outskirts of the city, his money gone.

Countryless Negro Jailed As Swindler For Passing Notes Up TO $100,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Cary Burns, 53 a Negro without a country appeared in police court here today on a conspiracy charge as police in various cities of the U. S. and Canada aided by Better Business Bureaux, pressed a hunt for victims of an old swindle that officials say has taken a million dollars or more from the pockets of the gullible.

Burns, slight-statured and well-dressed, was not asked to plead or elect. Neither was Amelia Monique, 40, alias Jackson, his white secretary, who was arrested when police raided a hotel apartment here yesterday and took both into custody on conspiracy charges. Both today were remanded to jail.

Police allege Burns scattered promissory notes for sums ranging from $5,000 to $100,000 in Quebec and Ontario and in the mid-western states, the notes being given in exchange for sums ranging from $5 to $100 and payable at "earliest convenience," the note-holders being told that this earliest convenience was when the exchequer court of Canada should decide a patent suit.

The patents on which the money was to be claimed were issued by the United States patent office to Elbert Robinson, Nashville, Tennessee blacksmith, who became a chiropodist and then an inventor, receiving six patents from 1905 to 1914. Robinson, who died in 1925, was Burns' foster father.

10-Ton Steam Roller "Tossed For Loss" As Trailer Stalls Upon Tracks

NORTH BAY, Ont., Sept. 9—(CP).—Divisional headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway today reported the Montreal-Vancouver train was delayed a few minutes this morning at Verner, on the line between here and Sudbury, when the locomotive struck a 10-ton steam roller on a trailer which had stalled on the tracks.

"It was a miracle the train was not derailed," officials stated.

The roller was being brought from Toronto for use on a highway construction job. As the truck hauling it was about to cross the tracks, the trailer stalled in the path of the oncoming train.

A. Curtiss of Toronto, riding in the truck cab, saw the train coming and ran up the tracks in an effore to flag it. He travelled only a few feet before the train, with brakes screeching, slid by. Engineer J. Cummings of North Bay saw the stalled trailer and applied the emergency brakes.

The train was travelling about 15 miles an hour when it struck the trailer. The roller was carried 150 feet before it rolled into a ditch beside the right of way. The shock was not sufficint to throw passengers from their berths.

T. McNenley of Toronto, the truck driver, and his machine escaped damage.

Czechs Fight Further Concessions

Flood Of Telegrams Sent Hodza Demanding a Halt

By Alvin Steinkopf
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

PRAGUE, Sept. 9—(AP)—Premier Milan Hodza received a flood of telegrams today from Czechoslovaks who opposed more concessions to the autonomy-demanding Sudeten German minority.

More than 500 messages and telegrams of protest were on the premier's desk this morning.

Most of the appeals repeated the new Czech slogan: "Not one millimetre farther!" Many of them were from groups of citizens and political organizations.

The messages, a government spokesman said, indicated a stiffening of Czechoslovak opinion outside the regions inhabited by the 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans, whom Adolf Hitler supports in their demands for self-government.

Accept "no solution which endangers the sovereignty, integrity or unity of the state or which in the slightest degree diminishes the ability of the republic to defend itself," urged a resolution adopted by the executive committee of the National Union, an intensely nationalist party.

The Communist party, the third largest in Czechoslovakia but without any representation in the cabinet, sponsored a mass meeting in downtown prague tonight to protest against some concessions held out to the Sudeten Germans.

The newspaper A-Zet warned that disorderly Sudeten deconstrations "recall only too well the manner in which the attack on Austria began." It referred to the German annexation of Austria March 13.

The paper and the government press demanded stringent police measures to prevent further disturbances by any faction.

Chinese Halt Japs On Yangtse Banks

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9 (AP).—Reorganized Chinese units reported today they had halted Japanese advances on both banks of the Yangtse River in mid-China.

The reports followed assertions that Japanese had started new bombardments of Wusueh, north-bank terminus of a river barrier about 80 miles southeast of Hankow.

Chinese military authorities also had admitted previously that the Japanese were within 80 miles of Hankow, the provisional capital and Japanese objective, and that a Japanese overland column had approached within 80 miles of the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

The Chinese said they had recaptured Kwangtsi, 15 miles north of Wusueh, after heavy counter-attacks in which they said the invaders suffered 1,000 casualties.

Tourist Catches 19-Pound Muskie For His First Fish

Campbellford, Sept. 9.

"IT WAS THE first lunge I ever caught and I was so surprised I nearly fell in the water" said Jim Brown, 11 of Pittsburgh, Pa. Jim was out trolling with his older brother, both of whom are guests at Cole's Point below Healey Falls, when the big one took hold of the jointed pikie minnow which hung from his steel pole. It was nearly half an hour before the big fish was played out sufficiently to attempt landing it. This is one of the largest fish cauzht in these parts this season tipping the scales at 19¾ pounds and forty five inches long.

Youths May Get Mining Course

Three lucky Peterborough youths may be placed in the Government's special mining course at Haileybury, according to Dan Douglas, manager of the Employment Service of Canada.

Out of the applicants who called at his office, three young men were extraordinarily qualified for the course, he said, and their applications have been forwarded for consideration. Mr. Douglas has hopes that all of them may be accepted. The course lasts three months and graduates are assured of permanent employment in the mines. Despite his warning that strict adherence would be paid to the necessary qualifications, several applied who were far from qualified, he said. "Of course, the answer to that is easy," he said. "These men are desperately in need of work and will jump at anything."

Slackening work on Farms in the vicinity is causing the registration rolls at the Employment Service to mount still higher. "We are still getting a few calls for farm help, but most people want elderly men who will stay the winter months and do the farm chores," he said. Younger men who have been employed during the busy summer are now being laid off work and are returning to register for employment once more. "There is very little stirring in the nature of work these days," according to Mr. Douglas. Jobs open in other parts of the country and listed at the Employment Service are all for highly experienced men.

Mrs. Moffatt is suffering from ankle and back injuries and shock and is confined to bed at her home and her son has numerous body bruises and cuts on the head. The driver escaped with minor cuts and bruises. The car is extensively damaged.

Ontario Farmers Win 95 p.c. C.N.E. Prizes

TORONTO, Sept 9.—(CP).—Parade of the champions, with 1,000 of Canada's finest cattle, horses, swine and sheep, will be the feature to-day for the livestock review day, penultimate showing of the 60th Canadian National Exhibition. All animals in the parade will be prize winners in their classes, judged in the past two weeks.

About a dozen trophies will be presented to exhibitors whose animals won special awards.

Meanwhile agriculturists whose exhibits have won prizes will be handed cheques whose total value is about $100,000. About 95 per cent of the total goes to Ontario farmers.

Agricultural Minister Bona Dussault of Quebec, will speak at the luncheon of C.N.E. directors preceding the parade.

Bobby Pearce will defend his world's professional sculling title over a three-mile course at the waterfront to-night. His opponents, as in the half-mile tests, will be Evans Paddon, Percy See and George Cook, all of Australia.

Loyalists Retake Mountain Lines

HENDAYE, France, Sept. 9 (A. P.). — Spanish Government despatches said to-day Spanish militiamen had succeeded in re-occupying Caballos mountain positions taken by insurgents this week.

Heavy rain slowed insurgent General Franco's drive on two hills of the Gandesa sector of the Ebro River, or eastern, Spanish front.

The government said a heavy attack, preceded by mass shelling from 30 artillery batteries, resulted in the temporary loss of Hill 356, but that a government counter-attack soon drove out the insurgents.

All insurgent efforts to take the other hill, 287, were repulsed.

Other fronts were quiet.

Scaffolding Tips Upsetting Painters

Maurice Leonard and Fred Flaherty employed by a local factory in repainting the outside walls of the building narrowly missed death Friday when the scaffold tipped and threw the two off balance, one falling 15 feet before the safety belt rope took up the slack.

One of the two toppled backwards towards space but the safety belt rope was short and he was held on the scaffold which tipped rather crazily, while the other man was flipped into midair and would have probably been killed if his safety belt had not worked perfectly.

Neither of the two showed any ill effects for the unusual experience and were back at work this morning. A checkup of the scaffold revealed it to be in first class shape and a sharp gust of wind while the weight of the men was unevenly distributed is believed responsible for the near accident.

onies, had been aroused by the closing of Britain's colonial empire to the rest of the world, it was submitted.

India and South Africa, both with a substantial proportion of export trade outside the Empire, supported the Australian general position for an easing of trade lines. British delegates themselves, headed by the Marquis Lothian, felt Britain got the worst of the bargain at Ottawa.

Canada Satisfied

Canada and New Zealand alone seemed generally satisfied with the Ottawa agreements, although some doubt was expressed as to their importance to Canada except regarding wheat, apples, timber and bacon.

South Africa, largely dependent on gold exports, was pictured as greatly affected by any change in the price of gold, as half the profits of its gold mines go to its government. The mines employ 40,000 whites and 300,000 natives.

South Africa was represented as also producing about 200,000,000 pounds of fine wool a year, most of which was spun in Europe. This was done mainly in France and Germany under a barter arrangement with the latter.

See German Snag

Delegates suggested this arrangement might prove a disadvantage due to the loss of other markets and the possibility of Germany refusing to take the wool. South Africa provides an annual subsidy to the industry of approximately $75,000.

The Indian delegation, under Pandit Kunzru, told the conference expansion of Indian trade required development of trade with the world, since two-thirds of Indian trade now was done outside the Empire.

India, now developing its own secondary and tertiary industries, was anxious to finance Indian development with Indian money. It was not prepared to support an imperial preference arrangement based only on political reasons.

A current flow of capital from New Zealand was attributed partly to the attractiveness of Australian investment and partly to fear of the policies of New Zealand's Labor Government.

More Demonstrations.

PRAGUE, Sept. 9 (A.P.). — Several thousand Sudeten Germans shouting Nazi slogans, demonstrated for an hour to-day in front of the police station at Jaegerndorf, near Czechoslovakia's German and Polish borders.

The clamor added to the pressure on the harried government from both sides.

Premier Milan Hodza received a flood of telegrams from Czechoslovaks who oppose more concessions to the autnomy-demanding Sudeten German minority.

The demonstrators at Jaegerndorf obtained permission to make a Sudeten German Party affair tomorrow of the funeral of Alfred Knoll.

Knoll, a former Sudeten German functionary, was killed when he fell from a railroad train while in custody of a military guard. He had been charged with espionage and Sudeten Germans have demanded an inquiry into his death, intimating he was killed after a scuffle with the officers.

Fearing violence, officials had refused permission for the funeral to be held under Sudeten German auspices.

A crowd quickly gathered at the Jaegerndorf police headquarters when the decision became known, angrily shouting "Hail victory!" and "One people! One state!"

Officials were persuaded by a Sudeten German committee to grant a permit for marching and music at the funeral and the crowd dispersed.

Authorities began preparations to prevent disorders to-morrow.

In Prague Sudeten German deputies Ernst Kundt and Alfred Rosche wore mouring bands on their arms in tribute to Knoll.

seconded a resolution to that effect, declared: "We have a hard enough time to run our municipal affairs without suggesting that we take over somebody's job. The relationship between the province and the municipalities never was better. I feel something has been put over on us by the Belleville mayor. We will never get anywhere unless we run our own affairs in a sensible manner."

Time Someone Acted.

"I don't care if not another Mayor here subscribes to my resolution," Mayor Bone said. "There are 240,000 young men who have never had a day's work. It's time someone work up to the government.

"You can hold up your heads in pride of Canada if you want to. I won't hold up my head with you in the greatest defaulting country in the world, where 20 per cent of the municipalities are bankrupt.

"The other resolutions here don't mean any more than asking for a good five-cent cigar. I won't be a party to any poppy-cock resolutions.

"It would be much better for the Mayors to take over the government than to have someone else do it. Where two years ago one man was ready for drastic action, you will now find 100."

Mayor Carl Hanniwell of Niagara Falls, also found a reply for his statement yesterday that "the city hall has become a clearing house for chisellers."

"The Windsor mayor's office is not run by chisellers," said Mayor Wigle.

Lad Clings To Upset Boat For 72 Hours Watches Chums Sink One By One

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 9.

HOLGER NELSON, 19, only survivor of a sailboat tragedy, described 72 agonized hours in which four companions dropped, one by one, from the wreckage almost within shouting distance of shore in San Francisco Bay.

Near death from exposure, Nelson was found yesterday clinging to the overturned craft only two miles from the San Mateo-Hayward bridge which spans the lower bay.

Through parched lips he asked for water, then collapsed.

Today from a hospital he said he watched helplessly as his companions slid off into the water, and death.

"I couldn't do anything but hang on with cold, numb fingers," he said.

Nelson and the four other youths, Stanley Nordstrom, 18, Floyd Hatley, Howard Larsen and Everett Cole left Alameda Sunday to sail to Paradise Cove, a northern arm of the bay.

Nelson said a sudden squall Monday snapped the mast and the boat capsized.

Canadian export sales were placed at 1,000,000 bushels or more, making the best volume for several days. Selling that was believed hedging of Western Canada's new crop was well absorbed by exporters and millers.

Duck Feathers Used To Catch Pickerel

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 9. — A new wrinkle for daytime fishermen off the bridge here is proving very satisfactory for catching pickerel, but it does not seem to work very good after dark.

The fishermen attach ordinary duck feathers to a bass hook and have two such hooks on the line. They do not use sinkers but allow the bait to play on the surface at the edge of the swift water. Charles Dodd caught five nice pickerel early last evening by this method. The fish also bite good on frogs for those who stand on the bridge these past cool evenings.

TO CEASE NEGOTIATIONS.

BLACKPOOL, England. — The Trades Union Congress voted to-day in favor of ceasing negotiations for unity with trades unions of Soviet Russia.

It supported the view of its General Council that the Russian terms would give the Soviet unions undue control over the International Federation of Trades Unions.

Malcolm Tucker Has Best Horse At Apsley Fair

APSLEY, Sept. 9 (By Staff Reporter).—A 4-year-old Clydesdale mare, "Lucy Bloomfield," owned by Malcolm Tucker and bred by Sam S. Staples of Cavan, was awarded the R. Simpson Company special prize for the best horse on halter at the Apsley Fair on Thursday afternoon. The six entries in this class presented an outstanding group of horses, most of them of draft class confronting Charles E. Moore of Smith Township, judge, with an obviously difficult task in making his selection for the award of a silver-plated rose bowl.

Mr. Tucker also won the W. J. Charlton, Lakefield, special for the best team of horses with wagon, both of them Clydes bought several years ago from Sam Staples. They also won first money in the regular class of heavy draft team and wagon, with second prize going to Frank McFadden, who also took second in the special for the best horse on halter, and the third prize in that class went to Mr. Tucker.

In the light draught class, Clarence Campbell of Clysdale won first and John Tucker of Chandos second for the span of horses in harness and wagon; and Mr. Campbell also took first money for the brood mare and her foal, separately.

Competition was also close in a class for calves, and also vegetables, these sections being especially notable.

Attendance was somewhat less than last year, one of the directors suggesting as the only reason the probability that the first fair in the county, after the Peterborough Exhibition, was not advertised. Incidentally, Kinmount Fair was also held on Thursday, the two in the northern fringe of the county coinciding.

The display of women's work was attractive and extensive, and some of the vegetable classes were almost as well filled as the Peterborough Exhibition. Mr. Moore and Mrs. M. Osborne of Lakefield divided the judging responsibility between them. Fifty exhibitors competed, nearly all of them from the Apsley countryside and several from Coe Hill. Among the exhibitors were two former Reeves of the township, Russel Hales and Vernal Windsor.

Three horse races were directed by Dr. D. Munro of Warsaw, Gerald Dunsford of Peterborough winning two firsts with "Billie Chilcott"; in the third he was thrown from his gig and did not finish. He was not hurt by the mishap. "Rosalee Grattan" was second with one first and two seconds, and Vernal Windsor's "Dale Direct" got third money with one second and two thirds.

The officers of the Apsley Agricultural Society are: Joseph Tucker, president; John Tucker, first vice-president; W. Johnston, second vice-president; Mrs. R. Tucker, secretary-treasurer; and the directors, Roland Tucker, A. Downing, Mrs. W. Staples, Mrs. W. Lean, M. Reddick, F. McFadden, C. Campbell, Mrs. F. J. Bullied, and Mrs. N. James.

What The Farmers Say

Apparently farmers themselves do not believe families from the cities would make much a success at farming, especially if they had been unemployed and were therefore without funds. A staff writer of the Stratford Beacon-Herald was asking about it and those who answered spoke plainly. We quote:

Reeve J. N. Corry, Elma Township: "I would be pretty skeptical of such a plan. The average unemployed men in the city has worked in a factory or shop and his knowledge of farming would probably be negligible in most cases. To set up relief families on farms in the first place would require much money. They could not start on nothing; they would have to have implements and some stock right off the bat. I don't think the plan is practicable, and I doubt if few of the families would make a success of it. Experienced farmers these days have all they can do to make both ends meet."

Mrs. Ivy Walkom, Fullarton Township: "You can't make a living on the farm unless you have funds to buy stock, implements, seed and a lot of other things. It would cost a lot of money to establish these relief families on the farm to begin with. Moreover, farming is not a hit-and-miss business as it may have been at one time. It is more of a science or a profession. It would be a hard struggle for inexperienced families to make a success of it."

Fergus Lannin, farmer, Hibbert Township: "Unemployed families from the city couldn't make a go of it on the farm. They would have not one chance in a million unless they had a good deal of practical experience under their belts. If the government were to establish relief families on the land the best thing for them to do would be to have a supervisor for every ten farms or so. This supervisor would superintend and advise the families what to do. There are problems arising on the farm every day which are difficult enough for the farmer to solve, let alone an inexperienced man. Poor judgment and incorrect decisions mean dollars and cents to the farmer."

Those answers appear to be sensible. There is no prejudice in them and no desire to keep any person from trying farming. Rather we look upon them as the honest belief of plain people who are merely talking about something on which they are rather well-informed. And yet there are times when a good many people who live in cities seem certain the solution for our whole problem of relief and unemployment is sending more of our people out to become farmers.

Can't Live Alone

United States has within recent years tried to live its own life and go its own way. If one were to suggest to Uncle Sam that he make some form of foreign alliance he would refuse. The ocean is between him and Europe and another between him and Asia and he has been aloof.

In theory it is fine, but in practice it is sour. Wall Street in New York is where the nation does its trading; its buying and its selling, its speculating and its downright gambling. Securities representing anything which exists in United States can be traded in there. It is quite American.

But the thing gets jumpy. The other day when there was word that things looked a little better in Czechoslovakia prices for good old United States securities started to go up; they seemed to feel better right away.

A few hours after there was word that things away over in central Europe were not looking quite so good and so the prices began to drop, and they dropped a little faster than they had gone up.

Truth is United States is not out of the world at all. It is just as much concerned as Britain regarding what takes place in Czechoslovakia. Its securities and its own sense of security go up and down based on what is taking place in Europe rather than what is taking place in United States.

It's Hard To Explain

The Brantford Expositor records that police undertook the uprooting of a large growth of marijuana in one section of that city. The work was entrusted to no one else and when it was completed there was a great stack of the weed piled and waiting for it to be dry enough to burn.

In the Brantford Expositor there is a story which says the value of the marijuana destroyed would be close to half a million dollars. And marijuana is a weed!

Before it got that fancy name it was known as wild hemp, although there never was a great deal of it growing in this province. It became valuable when it was found to be good for the making of a cigarette which was equal in intensity to a drug spree. When the leaf of the weed is dried and cured it is rolled into cigarettes known as "reefers" and they sell readily enough in the larger centres for 25 cents each. So the only thing that gave value to that great pile of weeds in Brantford was the known inclination of some people to put them to injurious purpose.

We learn it is not merely the effect of being drugged and therefore unconcerned with what takes place that police fear. The use of marijuana in cigarettes is for the purpose of preparing one for the business of crime, for deadening the fear which comes from a knowledge of right and wrong. Professional criminals are known to make use of drugs in preparation for a crime, and this weed made into cigarettes is effective and apparently easy to secure.

After all it's a queer commentary on life and civilization in general. In a time when there are thousands of people who find it hard enough to get sufficient to eat and wear — a pile of weeds is given a value mark of half a million dollars because it contains dope!

Tradition Its Asset

There was a time when the London Times was referred to as "The Thunderer," and there has been a tradition built up about and around that paper which is undoubtedly its chief asset. Quite recently an editorial article in the Times suggested that the Czechs should cede to Germany the section in which the Germans lived—the Sudeten area, and thus settle the whole business in dispute.

At once there was an uproar; the protests came from Czechoslovakia and they came from France, and more of them came from England. Those abroad said they regarded the Times as a semi-official paper and had therefore taken it for granted it was speaking for the British government. The government was annoyed and issued at once an official statement saying that the Times in no way reflected the views of His Majesty's government.

Apparently they have their own way in London for keeping the Times in line. No person rushed in and desired to use fisticuffs on the editor; it is not recorded that people phoned and said they desired to stop their paper. None of that. It is recorded that Lord Halifax and Geoffrey Dawson, editor of the Times, went out and had lunch, and following that there was another editorial in the Times but it was quite different and people breathed easier.

If one were to visit in London he could be there a good many days without being aware of the existence of the Times. It is not frequently offered to one for sale on the streets; it does not keep on pouring out extras every time there is a new angle to an old story. The paper has to be sought in a sense if one wishes to secure a copy. In matter of circulation it is not at all impressive. In popular fancy it could not compete with such papers as the Express or the allegedly pro-Nazi Mail. But there is a section of English population which feels that an atmosphere of respectability has been created when one comes into possession of the Times. The upper strata of life longs apparently to write a letter to the Times on some pet subject and if it is published then it is something to hand down to posterity—grandfather wrote a letter to the Times.

The revenue of the paper is said to be enormous and its editor and owners undoubtedly sit close to those in places of authority and of power. We doubt whether there is another newspaper in the world in its class. It has that peculiar and valuable thing called tradition, and it was considered of sufficient importance to have it cabled the world over that Lord Halifax had gone out to lunch with Geoffrey Dawson, editor of the Times.

A Bull Is a Killer

William Lindsay, who farmed near Milverton in Perth county, was killed by a bull. Killed almost instantly when the animal charged him in a field. The bull had broken into the field of a neighbor during the night and attempts to bring it home brought about the fatality. The way in which the story is told makes it easy enough to understand just what did take place.

A son of Mr. Lindsay's went first to see if he could induce the animal to come home, and he did not like the looks of things. He had always been more or less fearful of the bull, but the father had always taken care of the animal, so he insisted on going. He had worked around the bull for the full three years it had been on the farm; others might have thought the animal was cranky or dangerous but the father had always been able to manage him and as a result felt no fear. We dare say there are other farmers just the same. Their day to day occupation gives them a feeling of assurance and possibly causes them to believe they are actually in control of the situation even where a bull is concerned.

But a bull out in a field is a different proposition for a man of 74 years to handle than a bull in a stall. When a three-year-old bull charges, head down he means business, and a man of 74 is well-night helpless. He cannot match the strength of the animal nor can he equal its speed. It is an entirely different situation to having the bull tied in a stall and being able to attend to it there. It is related the infuriated animal struck Mr. Lindsay just once; he was tossed in the air and was dead shortly after.

Some well-known cattle breeders have informed the Examiner at various times that they never yet have learned to trust a bull. There is never any warning given when they intend to make an attack, but they always feel that the attack will be made if opportunity is given. They may feed the animal, attend to it thoroughly and with kindness, but all that means nothing to a bull. He should be regarded as something separate and apart from anything else on the farm—a source of danger and of death and as something which can never be trusted.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A government hospital for fish is to be opened at Seattle. It will include a rest home for weak fish we presume.

The extent to which people change their minds has been reduced to hard figures. In New York last year there were 8,000 marriage licenses issued which were never used.

Selassie's crown is said to be on sale in London and the price is £500. He may have trouble securing that much as the market for used crowns is a little glutted at the moment.

It is now recorded that during the Yukon gold rush a $100 piano was sold for $1,800. That's the beauty of being in the piano business when there was no competition.

A cow living on a farm near St. Mary's fell into an old well. She was taken out by the wrecking car from a garage just the same as a broken car is hauled from the ditch. So the farm seems to be going a bit modern.

According to a new zone rate for wages carpenters in the Brantford area are to be paid $1 per hour for overtime. The one thing remaining to be done is to find a number of people in such a rush that they will pay the $1 per hour.

Viscount Greenwood, speaking in Toronto, said that Premier Chamberlain would yet save the world from chaos and disorder. Well, it cannot be urged against the British premier that he has not at least tried.

Magicians are gathering for a convention at Fort Erie and police object to one trick of catching bullets fired from a gun in the teeth. It is explained that the magician can see the bullet coming with his eye teeth.

Near Dayton, Ohio, ten persons were killed in two separate motor car accidents, showing clearly and painfully how the individual hazard of the driver is multiplied by the number of folk who are riding with him.

Grace Moore, sweet singer of the movies, has been notified by the U. S. government that she owes $109,292 more as income tax for the year 1936. The tax people are not artistic and can be counted on to inject a sour note some place or any place in the score.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner says we need capital to develop industry before bringing more people into this country. Truth is we have a great deal of capital in this country but for some time it has been seeking safety rather than going out and taking a chance on finding a day's work.

A man in London, Ont., drove his car in such a wild manner that when police found him he had struck a church and made a hole in the wall. Possibly he was not accustomed to the more genteel method of parking the car outside and then entering by the front door.

They are feeding corn to hogs in the corn belt of United States. They have a rule of their own which says it is profitably to feed corn when 18 bushels buys a 100-pound hog. When 11 bushels will pay for the hog it is not considered profitable to feed corn. So the hogs get their fodder on the idea that when corn gets high they have to eat something cheaper.

TWO MEN

(By A. R. K.)

¶ Two men I know, I see them oft, they live right in the town with me, so I will call one Mr. A, and name the other Mr. B.

¶ Now Mr. A. he talks a lot, and words flow from his mouth with ease, you'd think when he got up to spout sweet phrases cased him to the knees.

¶ He heard hard luck the other day about a chap who lost his home, and when I heard from Mr. A. it was a sad and fearful groan.

¶ It was a shame such things should be, there was no justice done here now, there should be something done at once, and he would raise an awful row.

¶ And Mr. B. he heard the news, I met him on the street that day, and he was asking how to find the man whose home had gone away.

¶ He made a little note of it and passed along upon his way, he headed for the man in grief, and found him out that very day.

¶ For Mr. B. he had a place where he could put the family in, he saw their stuff was moved at once—to leave them out would be like sin.

¶ Then Mr. B. he got some fuel, he got some fodder for them too, he had them fixed before 'twas dusk and they felt better through and through.

¶ So Mr. A. he only talked and wrung his hands in deep despair, while Mr. B. he went to work as though it was his own affair.

¶ If I was needing help at all and things had got too tough for me, I think I'd dodge from Mr. A, and seek around for Mr. B.

Weeds Worth Half A Million

(Brantford Expositor)

ONE OF THE LARGEST "takes" of marijuana ever recorded in Western Ontario was removed from backyards of the Terrace Hill district by local police officers. With an estimated retail value of over a half million dollars, between 35,000 and 50,000 weeds were lifted while bewildered citizens looked on, unaware that they were guilty of committing an offense, punishable by a heavy sentence, in allowing the weed to grow on their property.

Following the "tip-off," the police officers started on their job and worked for three hours, the weeds being taken to the city yards where they were piled to dry preparatory to burning. The pile of plants was 15 feet square and six feet high. The abundant growth was even more astonishing in view of the fact that none had been found in the city before. Chief Stanley of the Brantford city police, Provincial Constable Carl Farrow, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Corporal P. V. Monahan and Constable Payzant were among those who worked on the eradication of the plant in the city.

Provincial Constable Farrow said he believed that there would be considerable quantities of the weed scattered in the district around Brantford. Chief Stanley asked for full cooperation from citizens in the drive for extermination of marijuana, the use of which causes death and suffering to untold numbers of addicts. He pointed out that to have the weed on the premises is a criminal offense, whether the owner was aware of the growth or not and suggested that the best way to avoid trouble in that connection was, if in doubt, to notify the police who would investigate the matter. The plant is really wild hemp, and can grow as a result of scattered bird seed and many other accidental means. Some of the weeds taken in the drive towered to a height of nearly nine feet. It grows on a fairly slim stalk and has thin leaves with jagged edges. Before being converted into use as a drug it must be cured and then is rolled into "reefers" or cigarettes, which are sold at about 25 cents each.

Used For Cigarettes

About two or three leaves are needed to make a cigarette, which, in turn, is smoked by the drug addicts. It is one of the commonest forms of "dope" and is in wide demand because of the low price.

Citizens who lived in the houses little realized that the incredible fortune of illicit raw material was growing around their doorsteps. Some of the dense patches, growing from waist high to over a tall man's head projected out into the street. The police kept the object of their work hidden until after they had torn up all possible plants, and are now keeping strict guard over it till it becomes dry enough to burn.

County Constable Farrow, Chief Harry Stanley and Corporal Monahan are working hand-in-hand in the drive to halt the drug racket which results from the growth of the weed. They believe that as the marijuana was destroyed before it went to seed, the majority will be exterminated, although they realize that there are many patches, with almost untold value if circulated in the "proper" channels, growing in the city and vicinity. Provincial Constable Farrow said that the weed had probably been growing for years, but that no extensive drive had been organized till recently when the police from coast to coast decided to wage war on the drug racket. The work is really in the hands of the R. C. M. P., but fullest co-operation is being given by all branches of police departments everywhere.

A smaller patch of marijuana was found near Blenheim where several thousand dollars worth of the weed was destroyed after it was found growing wild near a tobacco field by workers. In this district the police worked in yards along Buffalo, Sydenham, Terrace Hill and Broad Streets.

PERSONAL COLUMN

CHICKEN PIE. Cherishing thoughts of 26th ult.'

This is one of those engaging "personals" that appear in the London Times and amuse those who have nothing better to do than speculate on their meaning an implications. What has chicken pie to do with romance, or is it political intrigue, or international atrocity? What sentiment, merely, if nothing more, must have clug to those memories of the dainty crust, the tender flesh, the jellied contents?

Next day or so we turn to the column again and find "Cinderella. —More than ever in all ways for always." Here is a basis for romantic speculation. Day after day one reads these cryptic messages if one has nothing better to do, and wonders why the post office is not available or the telephone, or, like those classic letter of long ago, "Letters Left at the Pastrycook's," a simpler and less expensive means of correspondence is not adopted.

IGNORE RUMORS.

(Ottawa Journal)

IN THE EVENT, it might be well if more of us paid less attention to war reports and rumors emanating from nowhere in particular. If there be probability of an outbreak in Europe the great news agencies of the world—the Associated Press, the United Press and the Canadian Press—will hear about it as early as anybody and report it as early; that is their job. Ticker tape gossip and wild radio rumors may be disregarded entirely.

WINDFALL FOR HIM.

FOR YEARS AN Elgin, Ill., pig farmer combed through the city's garbage that was dumped at his piggery. When he married recently, he presented his bride with a 400-piece set of silver assembled from the knives, forks, spoons, etc., that Elgin citizens had carelessly tossed in their garbage cans.

• Aha! A New Phrase Is Born

(J. Butterfield, in Vancouver Province)

I HAVE TO GIVE credit to my able and energetic colleague, Bruce Hutchison, for the invention of a new and pleasing form of words in the discussion of political possibilities. Writing of the epoch-making doings at the Liberal convention at Kelowna, and dealing with the stirring question of health insurance, he writes: "He (Dr. Weir) hoped for an agreement with the medical profession in the visible future."

It is one of the greatest trials of a colorful journalist that the language of journalism is so very limited, and that he is forced against his will to use so many cliches and aged forms of expression. If he can get a new word in and make it stick he is on the road not only to fame, but, what is far more important, to a greater self-satisfaction and professional pride.

The "near future" is sadly overworked, "shortly" is banal and vague, "presently" is a little academic, "pretty soon" smacks of the sixth grade, but the "visible future" is a triumph. It indicates a power in politics that transcends all other earthly power, it brings the future into the realm of definite things, it tears the veil of circumstance that has for so long hampered and stultified the full and free discussion of things that are to be—and it sounds good.

• Why Is Board Being Criticized?

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Since the close of the local Exhibition, anonymous letters have been appearing from time to time in The Examiner, referring to the engagement of Mr. Peryer's band by the Exhibition Board. The last letter particularly referred to the amount paid the Band for its services. The members of the Board are quite in the dark as to what the writers of these letters are driving at, having felt that relations between the band and the Board have been altogether satisfactory for years past. There has never been any cutting down in the amount the band has asked the Board for its services. It has received $450.00 each season for the services of twenty men. This year the committee assumed the amount was satisfactory and in addition when the band was asked to have a rehearsal so that it would know the music, they said they would rehearse for an extra $25.00. This was agreed to by the Committee without any discussion whatever and the band therefore received $475 for this year's engagement, which was every dollar they asked for. We were to get twenty men each performance. We pay Union Wages, as the men each receive $5.00 for the afternoon and evening or $20.00 for the four days, and Lieut. Peryer, as Bandmaster, receives double or $10.00 per day, making $40.00 for the four days.

Reference was made to outside bands being brought in. No outside band has been at the Exhibition for more than ten years. The Board year after year has given Mr. Peryer's band an engagement at its own figures and have not been critical. It is the public the band has to please. The Exhibition Board would like to know what they are being criticized for by Mr. Peryer, members of the band or its friends, and feel that if they have any grievance it should be taken up with the Board direct and not through anonymous letters in the Press, and are ready to meet to discuss any matter the band desires to take up with them.

In conclusion the Board feels that it should know what it is being criticized for and who is the critis.

Yours very truly,
R. M. Glover.
Chairman Attraction Committee.

• When Death Leaps From Gasoline

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

VICTIMS OF A TRAGIC combination of mishaps, Mrs. Louise McAllan and her younger daughter, of Vansittart avenue, were fatally burned on Sunday afternoon in an accident which deeply shocked the community and marred a holiday week-end. It began with an error which every motorist has made or is likely to make, namely, starting a motor with the gear engaged. Often nothing serious results, but this car backed down a slight incline and collided with a gasoline pump, contents of which showered the automobile and ignited at once. The identical force which at that very moment was driving thousands of cars smoothly on their way was here unleashed from control. A garage mechanic and several by standers who attempted resuce of the car's occupants were driven back from the flamnig death which took the mother almost immediately and the daughter within a few hours of admisison to hospital.

Mrs. McAllan was the widow of W. J. McAllan, a former city assessor and highly regarded citizen, and was herself greatly esteemed in the circle of her friendships. The sympathy which would be felt for the surviving daughter and others related, in any such bereavement, is deeper, no doubt, because of the sudden and terrible nature of the double tragedy.

Unstinted commendation is due those who risked their lives in attempting rescue. Some names have been mentioned in this connection, and the inquest proceedings may disclose others.

Some citizens discussing the accident have referred to the street-line location of the gasoline pump, and it is true that for some time permits for new pumps have been conditional upon their erection back from the street or highway, but those already in use at the curb are approved for a specified term which has not yet expired. In any case, such location apepars to have no bearing upon the mishap here. The pump was one of the longest established in the city and so far as one can recall had never been the cause of an accident. A car out of control is as likely to hit an object in one place as another, and it is a fact that pumps under service station portiocs and raised on a concrete base have been smashed by misdirected motorcars. Whether or not the container from which car tanks are filled should be of glass as a matter which seems entitled to consideration. If glass is to be used at all, one would think it ought to be of the shatterproof variety now compulsory in windshields, but it is understood that the government now requires all-metal construction when new pumps are erected.

• Lakefield's Clever Chinese

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

FOR THE SECOND year in succession a family of four Chinese pupils at Lakeview High School have headed their respective classes. Each boy and girl also won the school's general proficiency prize in his or her classes. We believe it is the invariable experience of teachers that Chinese children, no matter how humble their origin, are clever pupils. They study their lessons in English, and in their spare time at home they learn the language of their parents.

The Chinese are the most studious race in the world, notwithstanding the prevalence of illiteracy, which is due to lack of opportunity more than anything else. The student and the teacher are looked up to in China as the highest type of citizen. They rank higher than any other calling. Illiteracy is rapidly decreasing and has done so since the period of the revolution and particularly so since the simplification of the ideographic symmols which correspond to our alphabet. Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, who is so well-known to Western Ontario audiences as a lecturer, was at one time inspector of schools for a large area, and during his term of office converted 12,000 Buddhist temples into schools. But for the present war much more rapid progress would be made.

As a fighter and a scholar the Chinese now commands the respect of the rest of the world—including Japan.

• Trying To Save A Railway

(From the New York Times)

THE RUTLAND Railroad, one of the oldest railroad properties in the United States, whose main line stretches 400 miles through upper New York State and the Green Mountains of Vermont to the Canadian border, is fighting abandonment with its back to the wall, or to the right of-way. The road, which is controlled jointly by the New York Central and the New Haven, has exhausted all ordinary means of obtaining financial relief. It went into receivership last May, bond trustees instituted foreclosure proceedings in mid-July, and the court last month warned the receiver that it would not permit him "to operate the railroad many days at a loss of $2,400 a day." Not only is the road unable to pay even part of its bond interest—it is unable to meet its fuel bills and pay-rolls in full. Now the citizens of the communities served by the road have taken a hand. With Rutland, Vt., as the rallying point, the citizenry has organized a series of parades to "Save the Rutland." Bands, drum corps and according to local reports, an elephant enliven the processions which are designed to stir passenger and shipper interest in the road. If this method fails, the automotive competition that has bested the Rutland will become a monopoly, since nobody wants to buy the Rutland. Passing of the Rutland would mark the first complete abandonment of an interstate railroad in the United States.

Four thousand German and Austrian Jews are reported to be seeking admission to Australia.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

AND IN THE sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came unto her, and said, Hail, thou art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David:

And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. . . .

And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.—Luke 1, 26-33, 38.

ATTENTIVE DUMAS

(Christian Science Monitor)

WHEN IT CAME to judging the quality and appeal of his works, Alexander Dumas took criticism wherever he could find it.

At the final rehearsal of his "Three Musketeers," he observed a fireman, charged with guarding the theatre, listening attentively. In the middle of the seventh scene the man went out, and Dumas followed him.

"Will you tell me why you left?" inquired Dumas.

Not knowing the identity of his questioner, the fireman answered quite bluntly, "Because that scene did not amuse me like the others."

Expressing thanks to his critic, Dumas repaired to the manager's room in the theatre, removed his coat and rolled up his sleeves, and demanded a copy of the seventh scene. He glanced at the manuscripts, threw it into the fire, and, procuring writing materials, went to work on another.

Two hours later, when the actors had finished their rehearsal, Dumas gave them a fresh and better version of the seventh scene and requested that they be prepared to rehearse it on the morrow.

GUNS ALL LOADED

(London Correspondence Ottawa Journal)

WHEN THE German Fleet surendered in November, 1918, a good many of us were preoccupied. The writer was personally otherwise interested, nursing a war leg in a St. Thomas' splint away in the wilds of Scotland. So the full details of that historic episode may have escaped us.

Dining the other night with two Fleet Street colleagues, who were with the British Fleet on that memorable occasion, I gathered what to me were interesting details. Both my friends agreed that the pageant enacted on the grey North Sea that morning was the biggest thrill of their lives. The first signal received on board the battleship under Beatty's command was from our sea scouts, and to the effect "contact with enemy established."

What impresses me as significant of that German naval surrender, however, is the fact that every gun in our Fleet was loaded, and every man ordered to action stations. Even then we were taking no risks. And, in view of the known temper of the Germans and their record in the War, who can blame us?

Jewry's Faith In Old Europe Cradled In Praha; 186,642 Jews Reside In Land

10th Century Synagogue Tells Of Glories Of Race In Czechoslovakia

By Gladys M. Arnold
(Canadian Press Correspondent.)

PRAHA, Sept. 9.—One minority voice not heard in the clamor of the fault-finders in Czechoslovakia is that of its 186,642 Jews. After observing the fate of their brothers in neighboring states they assure us they have no complaints.

"A visit to the ghetto of Praha is worth the trouble," the department of foreign affairs told us. "In it is to be found the oldest synagogue in Europe."

We remembered the historic old synagogue of Nuremberg, now being destroyed. The Nazi authorities who ordered its destruction explain that it is a "home of filth and a breeding place of vermin." Such a "disgrace" is not to be tolerated in a national-socialist city.

A Jewish Cemetery

Dipping into the shadowy arcades of the "old town" which lies in the heart of Praha, shielded from the fresh breeze which ripples the broad Vltava by the Houses of Parliament and the university faculty buildings, we suddenly came upon the Jewish cemetery. A high stone wall, worn by the passing centuries until cracks and fissures sprout grass and clumps of flowers, encloses the small area less than an acre in size which for hundreds of years was the sole burial ground for the Jews of Praha. No more land could be sold or granted to them, so they were forced to bury their dead ones on top of the other until the earth was so crowded with tombstones that not another could be added.

They stick out of the ground at all angles, leaning this way and that or piled in grey broken piles, many so old that the rain has effaced the names and dates once engraved upon them. When the Jews were free to build another, they left this old cemetery in its original state — a symbol of the oppression of their race.

The City Hall of Praha is reassuring after the melancholy engendered by the old cemetery. The chains which one closed the entrances of the ghetto at night imprisoning the population have been gilded and today are used in the municipal council chamber to fix the heavy chandeliers to the ceiling—a symbol of the equality of the Jews with other nationalities in Czechosolvakia and in recognition of their help in establishing the democracy, their fidelity in conserving Bohemian culture during the years of its oppression.

Cradle Of Jewry

There are several synagogues in Praha but that which was first built in the 10th century is the cradle of the Jewish religion in Europe. Half-a-dozen steps lead down into a dark entrance because in the thousand years which have passed since it was built the street level has risen about five feet. A curious feature is its gothic construction, probably the only synagogue of its kind in existence. It must have been embarrassing for the architect to discover that he had placed gothic crosses in a Jewish synagogue (produced by the arches of the ceiling) but he overcame the difficulty neatly by adding a fifth, but false, arch and thus destroying the cross.

We waited until the service had finished and then the rabbi, who spoke perfect English, took us into the inner part to which Jewish women are not admitted. A narrow gallery runs around the whole inner room and openings about 18 inches by 10 inches are cut in the walls thus permitting the women to watch and take part (though hidden) in the service.

Treasures from all parts of the world are collected there, including the lamps which light the synagogue. Each is from a different country, including one from Canada.

"And what are the complaints of the Jews in Czechoslovakia?" we asked the rabbi.

"We have none of a political nature," he replied. "In Czechoslovakia we are considered a separate nationality like the others; we are free in every sense of the word democracy; our children in general speak Polish because the biggest Jewish population is to be found in Slovakia and the South Carpathian province, but we have no language problem and we are justly treated."

All Jewish Villages.

At Praha the Jews form only about two per cent. of the total population, but at Bratislava the ratio rises to nearly 40 per cent., while other small villages are sometimes completely Jewish.

The men wear black with a loosely-fitted coat which reaches the knees, a black hat with a round flat crown and a very large flat brim which actually sits upon their ears. But the unusual and amusing feature is that the men wear heavy black beards, shave their heads except for a small tuft of hair in front of each ear which is allowed to grow and is curled into long curls which hang down about six inches—one only on each side. The effect is irresistibly funny, and is certainly the origin of most of the caricatures of the Jews.

The saddest story is told, however, every day at frontier towns which link Austria and Czechoslovakia. There the Jews come, hoping to enter Czechoslovakia and at the line may be seen their friends, often relatives, there to receive them. But they have no passports, and however sympathetic the Czech authorities may feel, they have no other choice but to turn them back.

One of these told us that one old man slept in the fields and waiting-room at a frontier town for nearly three weeks while friends willing to accept him waited on the Czech side. Nearly every day he received other papers and tried new arguments, but it was of no avail, they could not allow him to enter because his papers were not in order—nor could they be put in order.

Hay Fever Victims Advised To Walk Past Gas Works

Oshawa, Sept. 9.

HAY FEVER sufferers might try walking past the gas works for relief, for while probably not the most pleasant remedy, it is considered beneficial. This was brought out at tonight's meeting of the Board of Health when a gas company, replying to complaints regarding the odor of its plant, claimed the odor was not dangerous, but actually healthy. Dr. T. W. G. McKay, M.O.H., smilingly declared, "When I was a medical student we took whooping cough patients down to the gas works for relief." Dr. Archer Brown commented that he had heard of the odor also being used as a relief for hay fever. Mrs. E. Patten completed the suggested uses when she pointed out that in England she had heard of insane patients being taken to the gas plant, where the odor was considered soothing to the nerves.

Persecution Of Jews Goes On

Here is evidence of the purge, efficient, though bloodless, of the last remnants of Jewish-controlled business from Germany. The photograph which escaped strict Nazi censorship shows the Brunn department store in Berlin, its windows and walls smeared with the word "Jude" (Jew) and the six-cornered star. It's a pointed way of telling Germans not to patronize the store because it is run by Jews, and, therefore, offends the race-conscious Nazi regime.

"If I say favorable things about China," he told interviewers yesterday on the Empress of Britain boat train from Quebec, "the Japanese will jump on me. If I say them about Japan, the Chinese won't like it. If I say good things about both of them, I'll get it from both sides."

McQuesten Chosen Good Roads Head

BIGWIN INN, Ont., Sept. 9—(CP).—The 24th annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association stood adjourned to-day, but members have a program of advancement to strive for before next year's meeting is held.

Ontario's Highways Minister, Hon. T. B. McQuesten, is the newly-elected president, succeeding Hon. F. M. MacPherson, British Columbia Minister of Public Works, who now becomes honorary president.

The association went on record at its final session yesterday in favor of bypassing congested roads. Its membership will also work for close control by provincial governments of roadside development and a resumption of interprovincial highways conferences. Recommended also are uniform restrictions on heighth, width and length of motor vehicles and trailers.

J. P. Bickell, Ontario Registrar of Motor Vehicles, spoke of the driver control sister in his province. The Ontario system is based on the thesis driving is not a right but a privilege available only to those found fit to operate motor cars and one that can be withdrawn at any time.

Euler's Arrival Stirs New Trade Rumors

OTTAWA, Sept. 9—(CP).—With Trade Minister Euler back in Canada after his European trip, speculation increased here to-day concerning possible conclusion of negotiations for revision of the Canada-United States trade pact.

Negotiations have been continuing in Washington since early Spring, but there have been no definite indications when the treaty will be signed. Several weeks ago it was rumored that it would be concluded next week.

It is believed, however, that Mr. Euler's return is connected with the treaty. He arrived in Quebec yesterday and went to his Kitchener, Ont., home by train. A spokesman here for the minister would not state whether he planned a trip to Washington.

Apart from trade treaty considerations, Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his colleagues are faced with a rapidly increasing volume of work. The Prime Minister is still suffering an attack of sciatica which has kept him at his Gatineau Hills estate for the past few weeks.

Four Federal by-elections are pending, but the date has not been set. It has been anticipated that these by-elections in London, Waterloo-South, Montreal-Cartier, and Brandon will be held this Fall.

Other problems include filling six Senate vacancies, appointment of three or more ministers to Canadian legations abroad and some judicial and administrative appointments. Cabinet changes also are rumored.

Mrs. Hepburn Is Winner Ladies' Tourney

The tournament staged by the ladies' section of the Peterborough Bowling club yesterday was practically a local affair all the way through—only one outside rink was entered and that one from Hastings was successful in getting into the money. Three 12-end games were played—two in the afternoon and one in the evening.

The bowling on the whole was just a little above the average. Many nice ends were built up and many nice shots were played and the winning rink of Mrs. Hepburn was not decided until an extra end was played.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By FRED CRAIG

IF THE OLD SAYING about clothes makes the man really holds good, Peterborough's senior rugby club is in for a great season. The members of the squad are being measured for the new outfits which they wear in the senior O. R. F. U. loop and they should look about as well dressed as any gridiron outfit of 1938. The new regalia will be burnt orange and black, the sweaters, pants and helmets all carrying the two colors and the ensemble effect should be something to remember when the squad trots out there at Exhibition Park for their first game of the season.

* * * * *

Another workout was hung up by the senior outfit at the Exhibition grounds last night with a big squad out including Joe McNulty, former St. Mike's star middle winger, who is now definitely located here and sholud be a big help. Bill Irwin put the squad through its paces in setting up exercises and afterwards some scrimmage work was done and the back division had a good workout in running back kicks. There will be a heavy session at the Exhibition grounds tomorrow afternoon. The Petes are having the same trouble as some of the other clubs in that the rugby season is overlapping other sports and such players as Bob Doll, Charlie Kearns and Eddie Murphy are tied up with baseball and Mick Magee with lacrosse.

* * * * *

AVAILABLE FOR THE senior football squad is a famous quarterback of a great Ottawa team, Charlie Lynch who was quarter for the Rough Rider gang, Joe Tubman, Miller, Emmerson et al who gave the Capital its only Dominion football title. Lynch's work with that starrey outfit was so good that he was named for Mike Rodden's mythical all-star Canadian team, which incidentally also included Dr. Dick Sheehy of Peterborough. The Ottawa quarter who is now in Peterborough and will turn out with the local squad was coach of the Ottawa Rangers of the Quebec Rugby Football Union four years ago and played quarter for that club which had a record of only one loss that season.

* * * * *

FORTY MEMBERS OF THE Argonaut football club are to spend Saturday and Sunday at the Ontario's Athletic Commission's camp at Lake Couchiching as part of their training and it is announced that the Commission is prepared to place its field and facilities at the disposal of Balmy Beach, Peterborough, Ottawa, Hamilton or Sarnia. Perhaps later in the season would suit the local gang who might be glad then to look at some other beach than Balmy or Ormond.

When Cook Pitched

THE OLD MEMORY SLIPPED a cog yesterday when this column stated that Earl Cook, Canadian pitcher who has been bought by Cincinnati for next season's use had pitched an intermediate O. B. A. A. game here against the C. G. E. Cook did toss a game here for Stouffville but it was against the Raybestos team who beat him 5 to 2 with Sailor Maudsley doing the hurling for the local crew. Cook showed plenty of stuff on that occasion, striking out eleven of the Rays and allowing only seven hits but he was the victim of some very costly errors on the part of his team mates. Incidentally that game was exactly ten years ago.

* * * * *

TORONTO PAPERS ARE chortling over the fact that the Argonauts have lined up three great kickers Bob Isbister, Johnny Munro and Earl Selkirk, calling the trio the outstanding kicking corps in the country. It looks to us as if this is a case for the Rowell Commission, the Inter-state Commerce Commission, Premier Hepburn or the Supreme Court to investigate. If it isn't a combine in restraint of trade it will do until such a combine comes along.

* * * * *

PETERBOROUGH'S MIDGET lacrosse players are not through for the season by any means, despite the fact that the local league has wound up. From the players of the various teams in the league an all-star team is to be selected to compete in the O. A. L. A. midget series and it is hoped to be able to pick a squad that will give an excellent account of themselves. All the teams in the group are requested to turn out at the lacrosse cushion on Saturday afternoon for a practice after which the O. A. L. A. team will be selected.

* * * * *

BELLEVILLE'S JUNIOR SOFTBALL team vanished from O. A. S. A. competition Thursday when they were bumped off by Toronto Riverdale Grads in a sudden-death game played at Cobourg. Meanwhile in the intermediate series Oshawa Varcoes and the Point Anne team are battling for the right to represent this end of the province and will clash tomorrow in Oshawa.

* * * * *

THERE SHOULD BE SOME very interesting doings at the local ball yard tomorrow when the Buffalo Fro-Joys, one of the strongest semi-pro outfits in New York State will do battle with Eddie Murphy's Petes, Central Ontario League champs, in a tuning up fixture preparatory to the O. B. A. A. playoffs next week. The Fro-Joys played here in July and greatly to their astonishment found themselves at the small end of a 4 to 1 score when firing ceased. They did not expect to run across such opposition in an Ontario town and when they left they expressed the hope they could come back here later on and wipe out that trimming. They will get their chance tomorrow and the Petes claim that by the time the ninth frame is over the Buffalo semi-pros will have two defeats instead of one to avenge. However it should not be forgotten that it took about the greatest pitching exhibition Lefty McNally has given this season to stop the boys from New York State. The southpaw was in rare form that day and he retired 11 of the invaders by the strikeout route and held them to two hits. The Fro-Joys have some smart pitchers themselves and one of the best will be tossed in against the Petes in the Saturday afternoon fixture which is billed to start at 3 o'clock sharp. There will be a big crowd out as the fans are hungry for baseball after the thrilling battle with Oshawa on Labor Day.

Here's a Busy Club

THE C. G. E. GYMNASTIC club is showing great activity these nights and in view of the interest that is being shown in fencing, boxing and wrestling it is not surprising to find that the C. G. E. Social and Athletic Club, the parent body, has secured a gymnasium in the armouries for the use of the members of the gymnastic club and it is already being prepared for use. This week the boxing and wrestling classes have worked out several nights at the Pla-More sports room and Thursday a large numer of members of the girls' fencing club turned out and judging from the way they practised the boy fencers will have to look to their laurels. Some sixty girls have registered for the fencing class and forty boys are also taking up the sport while the boxing and wrestling classes have fifty-eight members.

FOLLOWERS OF CRICKET WILL get an opportunity to see an interesting game at Nicholls Oval tomorrow afternoon when Whitaker's will play the strong Oshawa Cricket Club. This should provide good entertainment for patrons of the game. The Peterborough Cricket Club has an open date tomorrow.

SATURDAY'S SPORT CARD is not as lean as it promised to be a day or two ago. It runs about as follows: Baseball — Exhibition game at Riverside Park at 3 o'clock between the Buffalo Fro-Joys and the Peterborough Central Ontario League champions. Cricket—Oshawa Cricket Club vs. Whitaker's at Nicholls Oval. Rugby—Practice of Peterborough senior squad at Exhibition Park at 2.30 o'clock. Lacrosse—Midget teams will practice at the lacrosse stadium at 3 o'clock to select an O. A. L. A. team.

DESE, DEM AND DOSE: Senior lacrossers will workout at the stadium tonight at 7.30 o'clock. . . . Smokey Joe Holtz, former Buffalo Bison may do the heaving for the Fro-Jays against the Petes tomorrow. He would like to even things up. . . . Montreal Nationals have secured a good wing man in McLean, formerly of Queen's. He was rated highly in the Intercollegiate . . . . Canadian Rookie Heath Tops Finds

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—(CP). — There has been a bumper crop of rookie diamond stars this year, and one of the brightest gems is a young Canadian—John Geoffrey Heath.

Jeff is perhaps the pick of first-year men in the American Baseball League, and Manager Oscar Vitt has built the hitting forces of his second-place Cleveland Indians around the husky slugger who was born in Fort William, Ont.

In his first full season against major pitchers, Heath has been batting .330. He now holds the Indians' clean-up spot, something rare for a rookie.

Heath, who bats left-handed and weighs 190 pounds, has knocked in 84 runs with 135 hits.

Jeff still was a boy when his family left Fort William and settled in Seattle, their present home. He starred at footpall and baseball in his school days, and in 1935 toured Japan as a member of an All-American ball team.

Nicaragua will tax cosmetics.

Buffalo Outfit Are Booked For Game Here

Anxious for strong opposition to keep the Petes on their toes for the senior Ontario playoffs with the Toronto winners next week, the local management has made arrangements for the strong Buffalo Fro-Joys, one of the most capable semi-pro outfits in upper New York state, to play the Central Ontario title-holders at Riverside Park at 3 o'clock, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon. This will be good news for the fans, who, after the brilliant exhibition given by the Petes last Monday, want to see them in action again against a club that will make them show their best brand of ball.

The Buffalo semi-pros are making their second appearance of the season in Peterborough and thereby hangs a tale which explains why it was not difficult for the local management to get them to accept an invitation for a return visit. When they played here in July and tossed one of their ace pitchers Smokey Joe Holtz in against the Central Leaguers, they were shocked to find themselves beaten. They left town that night vowing that if they ever got another chance they would wipe out that defeat and make the local fans and players like it. Now when the Petes give them a bid to come back to Riverside they lost no time in wiring an emphatic "yes" to the invitation. They will be along tomorrow with their strongest line-up, confident of taking the Murphy squad into camp. Mebbe they will, too, but the Petes have improved since they bashed the Fro-Joys the first time and the Buffalo club will find them plenty tough tomorrow.

Manager Murphy will probably give all his patchers a chance to loosen up against the Fro-Joys but just which one will start the affair has not been announced. The Buffalo team may come back with Holtz, in view of the fact that the great majority of the Peterborough hitters do their swinging from the third base side of the plate. In any case it should be a close, interesting battle, especially if Lamendola, Graeber, Kenney and the rest of the Buffalo powerhouses have their batting eye sharpened for the occasion.

Bluenose Aging Skipper Admits

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the schooner Bluenose, with which he has kept the International Fishemen's Trophy under Canadian colors since 1922, arrived Wednesday by steamship to make final plans for his meeting next month with the United States challenger, Captain Ben Pine's Gloucester schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud.

Captain Walters said he believed the two schooners would go to the starting line virtually on even terms. Although the big salt banker from Lunenburg, N.S., is considerably larger than the Gloucester vessel, Captain Walters pointed out that Bluenose is nine years older.

Bluenose was launched in 1921, and Thebaud, last schooner built for the New England fisheries, in 1930.

"Like the rest of us," he said, "you can't expect her to be as good as she formerly was. Bluenose now is going down hill."

Records Even

The Canadian fishing captain pointed out that on their records, also, the two schooners would start on even footing, referring to Thebaud's victory over Bluenose off Gloucester in 1930, when the title was not at stake, and Bluenose's victory in a series for the trophy the following year off Halifax, N.S., their only other meeting.

Captain Walters declared that everything posible had been done to get his charge into peak condition, except remove her auxiliary engines.

"We haven't been able to afford that yet," he said. "We've already spent about as much as she's worth, getting her into condition. But we didn't want to bring her down here unless she was a credit to the folks back home. She's been overhauled from topmast to keel and we've given her a new suit of sail and new rigging."

Take Off Screws

Captain Walters said he expected to leave with Bluenose for Gloucester and Boston after the Fishermen's Exposition at Halifax, which ends Sept. 18. The opening race off Boston has been set for October 9.

Hampered by lack of funds, preparation of Thebaud has lagged far behind that of Bluenose, and the challenger has not yet received her new canvas, nor have her lofty topmasts been sent up.

If the engines are permitted to remain in the schooners, the propellers will be removed.

"That bum pneumonia" was really given a beating by Tony Galento, out-size heavyweight contender, seen here proving that victory is complete by getting out in the wide open spaces at what is called his "Pocono mountain retreat," and doing some roadwork. Tony was stricken just before a scheduled fight with John Henry Lewis, lightweight champ. Running beside Tony is his manager, Joe Jacobs, but just for photographic effect. Bobby Riggs Is Chief Threat To Don's Grand Slam Try

(By Central Press Canadian.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. — Chief threat to the vaulting ambition of Don Budge, red-headed meteor from the west coast, appears to be young Bobby Riggs, sensation of the current tennis season.

Budge hopes to complete his grand slam of the tennis world at the United States championships at Forest Hills this month, when he defends his national singles title. He has already won the Australian, French and British crowns and has only to repeat in the American tourney to accomplish something no racquet wielder before him has ever been able to do — hold the four major singles titles of the world at one time. Such a feat would correspond to the grand slam made by Bobby Jones in golf when he captured four major titles, the British amateur and open, and the American amateur and open.

Budge Still Favored.

Despite the manner in which

young Riggs has been burning up the courts in tourneys this season, prospects are bright for Budge's chances of taking the United States singles championship again. Authority for such a prediction is none other than Gene Mako, his fellow-Californian and doubles partner, who claims that Budge is playing the best tennis of his career.

In weighing the comparative merits of the two, there is much to be said in favor of both. Riggs now is the second ranking player in the country, having shot up in the past year from considerably down in the ratings. He has won 14 important tournaments this season.

Bitsy Grant Type.

One of the distinguishing features of his game is his tenacity and determination, a bulldog fighting spirit reminiscent of Bitsy Grant, the diminutive southerner, at his best. Riggs is also known as "iron man" of the courts as he stands up under the most gruelling strain and seems able to play one tournament after another without a letdown in his game.

On the other hand, Budge has much more tournament experience than Riggs and is one of the coolest players ever to take the court. He has another major advantage in size, since Riggs is a little fellow and harder put to cover court than the angular Budge.

It was the second important victory for Mr. Rank's stable this week. His Scottish Union won the St. Leger on Wednesday.

Epigram was backed at 7 to 4; Slip On at 6 to 1, and Fairing at 7 to 1.

SIR LEE AND BARONESS LEE WIN THE RICH C.N.E. FUTURITIES

Winners Of 3 Races On Card All Get Of Same Horse; Sixteen Starters In Two Races

TORONTO, Sept. 9. — Sir Lee and Baroness Lee, both sired by Lee Harvester, won the rich pacing and trotting futurities that featured yesterday's big harness-horse racing program at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Sir Lee, a bay colt owned by J. Abbott of Toronto and driven by Giguere, took the first two heats of the $3,500 three-year-old pacing classic, with Unko Bars landing in the second slot on each trip. The second heat was negotiated in the fast time of 2.11¾. Third heat was taken by Albert E. Grattan, when Sir Lee dropped back to fifth place and Unko Bars once again furnished the contention. Albert E. Grattan is owned by Charles Lawrence of Durham, and Unko Bars by Gordon Knight of Blenheim. There were nine starters in the pace.

This is the second time that the Owens Stable has won a Futurity race at the C.N.E. The other victory for the Tillsonburg trotters came in 1935.

The $3,500 Futurity for three-year-old trotters was taken by Baroness Lee, owned by the Owens Stable of Tillsonburg and piloted by Owens. Baroness Lee, a brown filly, annexed the second and third heats after finishing third behind Leah McElwyn, a bay colt, owned by James Gordon of Hamilton, in the first mile. Betty Lee, with Litt on the bike, was second in each heat. Faste.. time was 2.14¼, hung up in the second heat. Seven faced the starter in this event.

It certainly was a big day for the sire, Lee Harvester, because the winners of all three races on the card were his get. Victor Lee, owned and driven by A. Hopkins of Cooksville, won the last two heats of the $500 2.17 pace after Bert Patch, owned by E. Wilson of Mono Mills, had copped the opener. Third heat of this race was done in 2.09¼, fastest time of the big day that saw Canada's two richest stakes for harness horses decided on a single program after rain had caused postponement of the pacing Futurity on Wednesday.

Powerful Hitter

Last year's major league home run sensation, Rudy York, ABOVE, cumbersome catcher with Detroit Tigers, has not been quite so much to the fore this season, but he's still pounding the ball. He is in third place in the American League home run race behind Jimmy Foxx and Hank Greenberg and is batting in clusters of runs with great regularity. Among his clouts have been four circuit swats with the bases full.

The building is valued at approximately $650, and has a floor space of 15 x 40 feet.

Dean Brothers May Meet In Mound Duel

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9—(AP). — Brothers have played with brothers and against brothers in major league baseball, but the possibility that "Me 'n' Paul" may meet in a pitching duel appeared to-day to be a fraternal "natural."

Paul Dean's return to the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, after a year of nursing his arm in the minor leagues, brought the chance he may oppose his brother Dizzy in one of the Cards' six remaining games with Chicago Cubs.

Trying to keep pace with his famous brother at the time, Dizzy was at his peak may have been the reason Paul almost threw his arm out of joint. The brothers, then teammates, pitched the Cardinals to a world championship in 1934, each winning two games from the Detroit Tigers.

Before the Dean-Dean duel comes off, if the baseball fates let it, Paul has a big hurdle to leap. He is slated to start against the Pittsburgh Pirates Sunday. Just what he'll do is problematic, but when he pitched in batting practice yesterday, Manager Frankie Frisch said, "Paul looks darned good."

Massucci Trims Imperials From 60 To 29

SARNIA, Ont., Sept. 9 (CP).—New and bolder opposition lies ahead of Sarnia Imperials this season, but there are few signs of worry in the camp of the Ontario Ruby Football Union champions.

Coach Art Massucci has been too busy trying to cut down the biggest training squad in the east, and the players have been too involved in the scramble for positions, to bother about high-sounding advance notices from the other three senior O.R.F.U. clubs. Massucci has trimmed the number of candidates to 29 and he was willing to admit today the newcomers "look pretty good."

The Imperials' spring training brings out a squad of 60 to 70 and from that the coach has a task of selecting his squad a couple of weeks before the season opens.

Take the group of good youngsters who come up every year and put them beside the dependable veterans like Orm Beach, Hugh Stirling and Gordie Paterson. It's little wonder, then, that Massucci's biggest worry isn't about who will play for the other clubs, but rather who will play for the Imperials.

4 Out for Hayes Place

The club has lost quarterback Alex Hayes. The veteran drop-kick artist is retiring to a post as backfield coach. But Massucci's biggest job will be to select a replacement from among the flock of players trying for Hayes' place, including Arnie McWatters, Mike Hedgewick, Dick Oulmet and Jimmy Geary.

Massucci will field a better-balanced line than last season, with Henry Living, erstwhile St. Michael's College and Michigan State heavyweight, lending power. Living is expected to play inside and give relief to Ralph Burr, who has been a 60-minute snapback too many years.

Cliff Parsons, Mike Clawson, Paterson and Pat Butler are getting opposition for line positions from Ellsworth Pierce and Trip Trepanier, Windsor boys, and Red France has decided he will be a lineman permanently.

Beach and Stirling, who rate among the best backfielders on the eastern scene in the last three years, will be the back-division aces again.

Recruit Pitcher, 2 Demaree Homers See Cubs Take Cards 7-4; Reds 5, Pirates 3; Giants 6, Bees 4

By Sid Feder
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

As though that weird National League race itself would make even the most confirmed teetotaler see pink elephants dancing all over the place, the first division clubs now have it even whackier with as creaky a collection of patchwork pitching staffs as ever came down the pike.

Of course, the "sore arm-itis" for which this year is famous has a lot to do with it. Even the oldest inhabitant can't remember when the four top outfits in as tight a fight as the current scramble found it necessary to rely on such makeshift flinging staffs in the stretch drive.

Take the Cubs. It wasn't enough that they had to lug old Charlie Root out of the bullpen for starting duty. Yesterday, they decided to ring in one Walter Kirby Higbe. A search of the books revealed he was making his first start since he was recalled from Birmingham.

For the moment, the move paid dividends. Young Mr. Higbe held the Cardinals at bay for six innings, then gave over to old Jack Russell, and the Cubs took the ball game in the 10th on Frank Demaree's second homer of the afternoon, to climb within four games of the first-place Pirates.

So it has been all down the line. Cincinnati's creaky Reds are now leaning on Red Barrett, fresh up from the International League, as a regular starter.

The Giants are trying to make up for the loss of Carl Hubbell with the importation of Johnny Wittig from Baltimore and Dick Coffman from the relief lines as regular starters. And Pittsburgh's pace-making Pirates have had to summon Red Lucas, who's no spring chicken at 36, and Dutch Brandt, a distinctly overlooked quantity in the early-season prospecting.

Reds Trounce Pirates

Some of this pitching pressure has been lifted off Pittsburgh and Cincinnati with the recent return from the hospital lists of Bob Klinger and Johnny Vander Meer. Klinger, his sore arm right again, has taken two straight for the Bucs. Last night Vandy came back and pitched the Reds to a seven-hit, 5-3 win over the Pirates.

This, coupled with a 6-4 decision the Giants took by outlasting Boston's Bees, left the Pirates a slim four games in front of the Cubs, with the Reds ½ game farther back, and the Giants the same distance behind Cincinnati.

The American League race, meantime, rapidly nears its windup. The Yankees blanked the Red Sox, 4-0, yesterday behind Lefty Gomez's five-hit elbowing, and now need 11 wins—or any combination of victories and Boston and Cleveland losses to make that total—to clinch their third straight flag. The Indians remained deadlocked with the Red Sox in second place by dropping a 4-1 decision to Alton Benton and the Detroit Tigers.

Ken Chase's six-hitter was enough to give Washington a 5-2 edge over the Athletics. Like Hamlin closed out the night baseballing in Brooklyn by pitching the Dodgers to a 5-0 shutout over the Phillies. The Browns and White Sox were rained out for the second straight day.

Cattle And Hogs Gain 15 Cents Lambs Hold Own

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (CP).—Cattle prices advanced 15 to 25 cents cwt. on all grades except weighty steers and stockers on Toronto livestock market this week, the Dominion livestock branch reported. Calves were steady to strong while hogs gained 10 to 25 cents. Lambs and sheep were generally unchanged.

A lighter run of cattle met with a better trade and a good cleanup was made. Weighty steers sold about steady at $7 for tops with others from $6.60 down to $5 cwt. Good butcher steers and heifers closed at $6 to $6.25 with the bulk of butchers between $5 and $5.75. A few common butchers ranged down to $4 cwt.

Butcher cows brought $3 to $4.25 with some at $4.50. Canners and cutters were unchanged at $2.25 to $2.75. Good butcher bulls sold for export at $4.25 to $4.50 and bolognas brought $3.50 to $4. Choice fed calves were priced at $9.50 with mediums downward to $6.50.

Movement of stockers was rather slow with prices steady to a shade easier. Good western store cattle sold at $4.75 to $5.15 and common as low as $4. Milkers and springers were steady at $65 to $70 for tested tops.

Export movement was light with some stockers and bulls going to United States and around 250 cattle shipped to Great Britain.

Calves Up to $10.

Calves were active and firm at $9 to $10 for choice vealers, with common heavy calves downward to $5. Grass calves were mostly $4.50 to $4.75. There was good export demand for good and choice vealers.

Hogs opened steady at $9.50 off trucks for bacons and gained to a general $9.60 Wednesday with a few up to $9.75. The closing market was easier with no sales above $9.60 and with packers talking lower prices for the week-end. Sows sold at $6.50 to $7 cwt. off trucks.

Good ewe and wether lambs went generally at $8.50, with some picked lots of better quality at $8.60 to $8.85 cwt. Bucks were mostly $1 cwt. discount; culls going at $6.50 to $7. Sheep ranged from $2 for culls up to $4 and $4.50 for good light ewes.

Ducks Live Well On Uncut Grain

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Sept. 9.—Attracted by the fields of uncut grain on farms south and west of Lindsay, hundreds of wild ducks can be seen daily helping themselves to the products of the fields. On a great many farms grain cutting has been held up owing to the condition of the fields of recent heavy rainfalls. It has been found impossible to start cutting, and the delay has resulted in the ducks flocking to these feeding grounds.

CHAMBERLAIN

"was no longer able to preserve order."

Cabinet ministers were said to be deeply worried over the possibility that any attempt by Prague to put down such a movement might result in a Sudeten call to Hitler for armed help.

Few doubted that this would be forthcoming quickly unless Hitler were convinced it would bring concerted military action by Britan, France and Russia.

A Brutally Clear Warning

The News Chronicle (Liberal) said the only way to stop deterioration of the Czech situation "is for the British government to find some method to make it finally, even brutally, clear to Berlin that invasion of Czechoslovakian soil will immediately find the British ranged on the side of the Czechs and their allies."

In the same editorial the paper said there was a conviction among extremists in Germany "that the British have been bluffing and that Hitler has only to make sufficient threats for Whitehall to beat a retreat."

The Manchester Guardian (Liberal) declared:—

"It is obvious that since no one knows how Hitler's mind is working, steps should be taken some how to make him understand that neither the new Czech plan, nor any incidents, could in our opinion justify the use of force, and should force be used involving France he would find the inxeorable facts would involve this country too."

The Yorkshire Post (Conservative) contined in the same vein:—

"There is no question of playing politics, far less of panic, in the public mind, but there is a definite realization the liberties of the civilized world are being deliberately challenged and are in danger of forcible subversion.

"Aggression is the enemy and until aggression is met by resolution and courage, no peace will be gained and no peace will be likely to endure."

2 Coe Hill Men Held For Theft

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Sept. 9. — Culminating nearly a year of police investigation, a father and son, both residents of the village of Coe Hill, were arrested yesterday by Provincial Constable Palmateer of Bancroft.

George Rosebush, the son was apprehended on a charge of breaking and entering the garage of Clark Rollins, Coe Hill and stealing therefrom a quantity of tools and garage equipment, while his father, William Rosebush, was charged with disposing of the stolen goods, which were recently recovered by police.

The Rosebush pair appeared before a Justice of the Peace on Thursday and were remanded to the custody of the Hastings County jail awaiting County Police Court session to be held on Tuesday before Magistrate J. L. Lloyd.

Millbrook St. Andrew's Abandons Fowl Supper As Too Much Work

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Sept. 9.—Mrs. A. L. Sisco was hostess for the initial meeting of the Women's Association of St. Andrew's church after the holiday season, the gathering being at the parsonage on Wednesday at 8 p.m., with the president, Mrs. P. I. Bentley, in the chair. The atttendance was most gratifying.

Following the devotional period, the president called for the report of the parsonage committee, Mrs. P. Stinson convenor, accounts amounting to over thirty dollars, including some work at the church as well as renovation in the minister's residence, being read and passed. The treasurer, Mrs. J. McKnight, reported total receipts from the garden party as $55.05; expenses $25.70; cleared $29.35. From the demonstration of the Canadian Cookware Company, $30.75, expense, 40 cents, balance cleared $30.35. Some commission from sales is still due the association.

Out for Subscriptions

After a lengthy discussion, it was decided on motion to give up the annual fowl supper this year, and try, through a house-to-house canvass to raise, by voluntary subscriptions, as much as is usually cleared from the supper and thus avoid the immense amount of work which such an event entails. Canvassers were appointed as follows: East end, Mrs. Ross Edmunds; west end, Mrs. F. A. Kidd; centre, Mrs. F. J. Smith; Fallis Line, Mrs. G. E. Burnham; Zion Line and Seventh Lines to be appointed; Tupper street, Mrs. J. A. Brown, 4th line, Miss Josie Sutton.

Mrs. P. Stinson's invitation to hold the October meeting at her home was accepted with thanks, the same to be at 3 p.m. Canvassers were urged to do their work at once in order to keep from interfering with the church thank-offering to be taken on Sunday, October 9, with Rev. Principal Kent, of Queen's University, Kingston, as the guest speaker for the anniversary services.

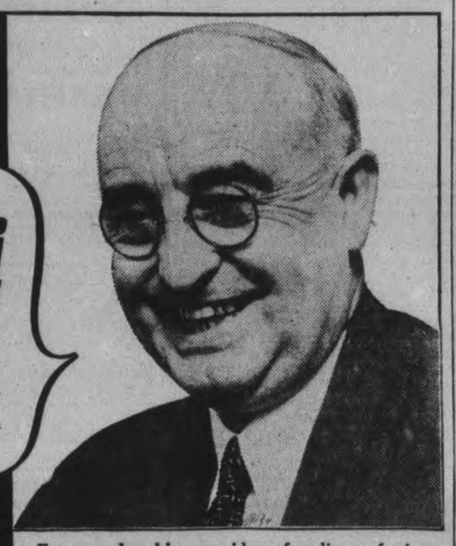
I like Marconi

THE RADIO THAT HAS EVERY MODERN IMPROVEMENT



Everyone has his own idea of radio perfection. Some like cabinet beauty; others go for easy tuning or revel in engineering precision or are thrilled by super-tone. Marconi genius has combined all these features in its new 1939 models; a feat unparalleled in the history of radio. Marconi sets a new high in value and entertainment. That's why everyone says: "I like Marconi". That's why you'll say it too, when you see and hear the Marconi Console or Mantel masterpiece with band-spreading and automatic tuning, created to fit your budget.

CANADIAN MARCONI COMPANY
MARCONI BUILDING, MONTREAL
Vancouver Winnipeg Toronto Halifax St. John's, Nfld.

AUTOMATIC TUNING

"Electro-Tune" is a Marconi development of automatic tuning that is instantaneous and simple in operation. Any station can be tuned in automatically by pushing the proper button. Instantaneous in operation — Simplicity of setting—No tools required — Highly efficient — Rapid tuning—Individual tuning of all automatic circuits—Ease of operation.

BAND SPREADING

It is actually easier to tune in short wave on the new Marconi band spread dial than to tune in your local station on standard broadcast. Here's the reason: by opening out the bands, there is now several times more tuning area than on the old hard-to-read dial. Hair-line tuning has been eliminated, making the dials easier to read and the stations easier to locate than ever before.

Trinity Club Re-elects Dr. Cameron

Dr. G. S. and Mrs. Cameron, at their summer cottage in Bridgenorth, entertained at tea the Trinity College Club of the Midland district of Ontario on Wednesday. The Rev. Dr. Cosgrave, Provost of Trinity College, Toronto, was the guest of honor and sixty graduates, undergraduates and friends of Trinity were present from Campbellford, Cobourg, Colborne, Downsview, Lakefield, Millbrook, Ottawa, Port Hope and Peterborough.

A very pleasant social hour was much enjoyed after which the president, Dr. Cameron, presided at the annual meeting of the club. In a most interesting address the Provost told of the progress being made at Trinity, and announced that the new St. HiHilda's College (the residence for women students) is ready to be occupied and will be officially opened on Sept. 17. The Provost outlined the history of St. Hilda's from the time of its foundation by the Rev. Dr. Body, the second provost of Trinity, in 1888, when its habitation was a house on Euclid avenue, to the present—the year of St. Hilda's golden jubilee—when the college is moving into the beautiful new building in Devonshire Place. The college has been erected at a cost of approximately $260,000, and is the gift of graduates and friends of St. Hilda's and Trinity. The ladies of St. Hilda's council have undertaken the raising of funds to help furnish the rooms. Thus a dream of many years has been realized for Trinity in the year 1938.

The report of the nominating committee was read by the Rev. R. T. F. Brain, as follows:

Honorary president, the Provost of Trinity College; honorary vice-president, the Venerable Archdeacon Simpson, Millbrook; president, Dr. G. Stewart Cameron, Peterborough; vice-president, Rev. W. B. Jennings, Port Hope; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lilian Benor, Campbellford; executive committee—Miss W. M. Wilson, Cobourg; Mr. P. G. C. Ketchum, Port Hope, Mr. K. A. Mackenzie, Lakefield, Magistrate Langley, Lakefield, Miss E. Munro, Peterborough, Mr. E. F. Borbridge, Peterborough—with power to add to their numbers.

An invitation was received from Mr. P. A. C. Ketchum, Headmaster of Trinity College School, Port Hope, to hold a meeting at the school, and it was gladly accepted by the club.

A sincere vote of thanks was tendered Dr. and Mrs. Cameron for their kindness in entertaining the Trinity Club, and many thanks were expressed to them for the delightful afternoon spent at their summer home.

"Radio General" Show Them How

Spanish boys, all dressed for battle, here were trying to present arms to General Quiepo de Llano, commander-in-chief of Franco's southern army, and radio broadcast for the insurgents. But the general had to make some minor adjustments—as shown. The boys are members of Insurgent Spain's Youth Movement whose members are being trained in the use of arms. The general came out in civvies to make an inspection, as the boys drilled at Seville.

The Rambling REPORTERS

BRAVE WOMEN INDEED

Barbed wire entanglements stopped the German troops on many fronts during the World War, and even small boys "the bravest of the brave" think twice before invading a field protected by barbed wire. Two women in Ashburnham however take the medals when it comes to tackling barbed wire barricades in a fearless manner.

Yesterday afternoon two middle-aged women armed with shopping baskets started to go downtown, via the London Street Dam route. When they reached the east end of the structure they saw the six foot steel fence erected recently with three strands of barbed wire on top bristling with sharp points. Do you think they were dismayed by this stout fence. Not on your life. First one and then the other climbed gingerly to the topmost bar, carefully stepped over the wire, untangled skirts that could not be kept free of the barbs and finally made the other side safely, without even a run in their stockings.—McG.

Flightly Jack Frost

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Sept. 9 (C.P.).—The whims of Jack Frost had a farmer on the Belleville-Trenton Highway worried the other morning. He first saw the tips of a neighbor's field of corn frozen black, useless. When he ran over to his own field less than 100 yards away, he found it had not been touched by frost.

Peterborough's Birth Rate In 1937 Was 17.4 Per 1,000 Of Population

TORONTO'S birth rate of 15.4 per 1,000 of population was the lowest in the city's history, according to the report of Dr. G. P. Jackson, Medical Officer of Health. The highest Toronto birth rate was in 1913 when the figure reached 30.9.

Just as a matter of comparison, Peterborough's birth rate in 1937 was 17.4 per 1,000 of population. There were 620 recorded births here last year but only 413 of them were children of residents. The 207 others were born to non-resident mothers, most of them having come into the local hospitals from the district.

The birth record per 1,000 of population last year was 26.2, but that includes the 207 children of non-resident mothers.

The birth rates for the last five years on the basis of actual residents of Peterborough were as follows:

1937, 413 births, 17.4 per 1,000;
1936, 432 births, 18.7.
1935, 384 births, 16.7.
1934, 394 births, 12.8.
1933, 375 births, 16.5.

These statistics were obtained from Dr. J. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of Health. Peterborough's birth rate last year was 2 per 1,000 more than Toronto's.

Mr. Justice Davis To Probe Gun Contracts

COL. GEORGE DREW

MR. JUSTICE DAVIS

MAJOR HAHN

Following publication of a magazine article by Col. George A. Drew questioning awarding of a contract for 7,000 Bren machine guns to the John Inglis Co. of Toronto, the Federal Government has appointed Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, of the Supreme Court, as a one-man commission to investigate the contract. Head of the Inglis Company is Major James Hahn, Toronto. Col. Drew charged that full details of the contract and the profits to be made by the company from its production were not divulged by Defence Minister Ian MacKenzie.

Kiwanis Told Stories True About Privation

"The plausible, educated politician has been the curse of Nova Scotia," declared Rev. Cuthbert MacLean, closing an address to luncheing Kiwanians today on the controversy that is raging between the press and Nova Scotia's Premier on the condition of fishermen in that province.

"In reading over the situation in Nova Scotia in the Globe and Mail, I have come to the conclusion that somebody is a liar," said Rev. Canon J. D. Paterson when he introduced the speaker as a native of Prince Edward Island who had lived four and a half years in Nova Scotia. He invited him to say who was the liar. "Mr. MacLean has very carefully called none a liar, which was what we expected," said Chairman L. J. Pettit at the conclusion of the address.

Only Too True.

But if Mr. MacLean called no one a liar, he at least agreed whole heartedly with newspaper accounts of the poverty of Nova Scotia's fishermen. He knew little of conditions among the miners, he admitted. "The articles about the fishermen are only too true and it's no use for anyone to deny them," he stated.

"The people I had to deal with were mostly German and Dutch descent—hard workers who formed, I think, a good average of the people of the province." Their main industry was fishing. "They get up in the morning at about half past two or three and by daybreak most of their haul is taken into the boats. They get to shore at about 10 o'clock and have breakfast or dinner as the case may be." Immediately afterwards they repair their equipment, prepare for the next day's fishing, a task that takes until the middle of the afternoon. They retire early in preparation for the next day's outing.

Life of Strenuous Toil

"You can see it is a life of strenuous toil, not the year around, but in their season of harvest. The rest of the year is barren for them." They can do little farming because the land is not suited to it, he said.

The fishermen must live on credit to a great extent until the fall reckoning. "You may say it is a poor thing to live too deeply on credit, but what else can they do. Consequently the people must take their fish for sale, as they are caught, to the merchant who finances them. "He may take in a ton of fish, but no buying price is mentioned," he pointed out.

The fisherman has to await the merchant's pleasure for his reckoning, which comes in the fall. The merchant stands to lose nothing for he has quoted no purchase price, has sold the fish at the best possible price which is known only to himself. He purchases the fish for about a cent and a half a pound, sells them for about 14 cents a pound. The purchase price is for live weight, the selling price is dressed. The difference between the two weights would amount to about two or two and a half cents a pound, and men who dress the fish for market are paid only 10 to 15 cents an hour for their labor. Then chunks of ice are thrown on the fish and they are ready for sale. That work represents all the merchant's dealings with the fish, yet the price has jumped from one and a half cents to 14 cents.

In the fall, in conjunction with other merchants—for they all work together—the price to the fisherman is fixed and there can be no appeal from that decision. "Then the fisherman's bill is figured out and he gets what is left over. And there is very little left usually."

"The condition is one that is difficult to remedy and the only step being taken at the present time is the cooperative movement, which is now gaining hold." It forms the only opponent to the big fish companies, he said. He said he did not like to leave the impression he was entirely "down" on the merchants. "A good many of them do great work by their own lights, but there is no freedom of trade in the province," he said.

Gov't Done Little.

"The cooperative movement seems to be bringing quite a good deal of help," he said. "I am not an entire convert to the cooperative movement but speaking from experience in Nova Scoia, it is deplorable the conditions taht have been allowed to grow up," he said. The government has done little or nothing to ease the condition among the fishermen, indeed has often attempted to frustrate their efforts to better hemselves by cooperaive movements, the speaker claimed. He told of one instance in which the government allowed a loophole in a provincial law to destroy a cooperative movement by some fishermen who were attempting to better their community.

Fish are perishable and must be sold immediately. Only a company with a great deal of money or the government can build fish plants and these hold a corner on the market, and able to dictate prices absolutely. The people have been kept down for years, and deserve a better fate, was his opinion.

"I recall some of the finest, most industrious people I have known who have saved with the greatest frugality you can imagine to eke out a living," he said. "They have taken in maybe a hundred dollars during a year, and have grown a garden in order to be able to live. Is it any wonder they are trying to better themselves?"

Disregard Promises.

Sometimes fishermen are coaxed from one company to another with verbal promises of higher prices for their fish. When the day of reckoning comes the companies pay just what they want to pay, utterly disregarding any promises that may have been made, and with complete impunity for nothing had been placed in writing.

"There is an earnestness, a simplicity about Nova Scotians that has been to their disadvantage," he said. Uneducated for the most part, they listen and are swayed by anyone with a plausible tale. "The plausbile, educated politician has been the curse of Nova Scotia," he concluded.

Drug Store Clerk Taken For $5.00 By Two Smart Looking Gents

Hastings, Sept. 9.

BERNARD McCARTHY, drug store clerk here, was the victim of two quick disappearing artists Wednesday when they took him for $5.

The two strangers walked into the store together and one walked up to the counter asking for change for five dollars. The clerk produced the money but did not receive any in exchange as the stranger said he had changed his mind and required ten dollars in small bills. When the clerk again produced $5 the pair had skipped out with the first $5.

Constable William Wellman said a similar stunt had been pulled in Brighton recently by a answering the same description.

Millbrook Student Wins Scholarship Offered By Queen's University

Marian Belch (at Right) of Millbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Belch, won the Forbes Hardy scholarship in Latin, at Queen's University, in passing her senior matriculation examinations at Millbrook Continual School this year. The scholarship is for $20. Miss Belch also won further awards this week at the Canadian National Exhibition, first prize in the open class of the junior judging copetition on Wednesday, receiving $11 in all. With Ruby Fallis as team member of the Millbrook Klim Club Miss Belch also took part in demonstrating "Milk for the Invalid's Tray," the two young ladies winning first place in the nutrition class for $6 in prize money. Mrs. W. H. Armstrong is the leader of the Klim Club.

Lakefield Girl Is Awarded Scholarship

More honors came to the Peterborough district schools today with the announcement that Pauline Riggs-Story of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Natalie Lampman of the Lakefield High School had won major scholarships from the University of Toronto on their fifth form examinations. This with the Queen's University award to Ronald Dick gives a good share of the Province wide awards.

Miss Story, a student at P. C. I. last year wrote nine subjects including six language subjects trying for senior matriculation and took first honors in all. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Story of Toronto who lived on Homewood Avenue until early in August of this year. She has been awarded the Maurice Hutton Scholarship for Moderns, English and Latin, amounting to $100 with free tuition to the extent of $100 and a total possible value of $500.

Miss Lampman is 17 years of age and has a brilliant record at Lakefield High School. She obtained first class honors in eight of the nine subjects and second class in the other. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Lampman of Lakefield and has been awarded the Dickson Scholarship in English, History, Latin and French.

Another difficult scholarship although worth considerably less has been won by Miss Marion Belch, Millbrook Continuation School and she is listed in the Queens University winners, taking the Forbes McHardy Scholarship in Latin, worth $20.

Kinsmen Club Honors Departing Member

The Peterborough Kinsmen Club opened its fall activities with a dinner at the Kawartha club on Thursday evening. President Dr. E. M. Crough presided and welcomed the members back after the two months' vacation from club meeting.

Bert Lacey former pianist for the club and also the editor of the bulletin who has been moved to Toronto was the guest of honor and during the evening was presented with a pen and pencil set.

Alex Sollitt announced that the Brock Street Summer Gardens had been engaged for the annual Hallowe'en Frolic on Monday, October 31.

Responsibility Is Accepted By Department

The Department of Transport has acknowledged responsibility for the settlement of guides and other dwellers on the rocks west of Burleigh Falls, according to Reeve Wallace Shearer of Harvey and Reeve Roy Brown of Burleigh-Anstruther who were in Ottawa on Monday.

At the June sessions of the county council Reeve Shearer demanded that some action be taken to determine liability for these residents on property adjoining the Trent Canal and owned by the government. The question of the education of the children and the general health of these settlers was discussed, and it was decided to consult the federal department. It is understood the department now for the first time acknowledges a responsibility which the county council contended to be entirely in the hands of the government, and it is expected that some inspection of the locality will be made by a representative of the Department this fall.

Walter Ferris Named To Y.M.

Walter Ferris, 25-year-old assistant physical director at the West End Y.M.C.A. in Toronto for the past three years has been named successor to James McClenaghan at the local Y and will assume his new duties next Monday.

Ferris brings a wide experience in such work with him in taking the job in Peterborough, and his associates in Toronto speak highly of his achievements during the three years he spent at the West End Y, one of the largest in the Queen City. According to G. H. Roper, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. here, Ferris had wanted to come to Peterborough and his transfer here not only pleases the local board of directors but is the move he had hoped for himself. Local Y.M.C.A. officials feel they are fortunate in getting a man of his calibre to succeed McClenaghan.

Next Monday night at 6.15 a farewell banquet will be held for Jim McClenaghan and any person wishing to attend should get in touch with G. H. Roper before Saturday evening. McClenaghan is leaving the Y, after nine years of outstanding work. He has set a record for performance that will be hard to beat, and his genial personality has endeared him to a host of local people both young and old. He has accepted a position at the St. Catharines Y.M.C.A. where there is a new half a million dollar building and one of the most progressive Y.M.C.A. organizations on the continent.

Supper At Oregon Trail Camp Found To Be Filling And Also Most Appetizing

Willingness To Take On Job Reliefers Resulted Unfavorably

On the way home from the Apsley Fair Thursday evening an Examiner reporter had supper at the road camp of Johnston Construction Company on the Oregon Trail.

It was no set-up for publicity purposes. The home bound reporter did not decide to make the turn from Burleigh Falls until a stray idea prompted the diversion to see for himself the work done on the old Trail and the stage of its progress.

So, it was a case of "dropping in for tea" and taking pot-luck, or rather of being invited to stay on stopping for a moment to observe the contractor's headquarters, a double row of buildings, including office, work shops, bunk houses and dining-room. The menu for supper was roast beef, home-fried potatoes, boiled cabbage, tomatoes, bread and butter, cookies, two or three kinds of cake, apple pie, and such extras as pickles and various standard sauces for meats. The room was clean, meal well cooked and served, and the meat was up to the quality of the best stores and homes in Peterborough. Not only was it a filling meal, but it was also appetizing.

Unfavorable Publicity

From several Buckhorn men The Examiner heard something more about the Johnston staff, and the general impression from the first visit to the camp and the Trail seems to be that the company has been subjected to unfavorable publicity as a result of their willing to engage so-called relief labor. The reporter was told that Walter Snider, the general foreman, "is a splendid fellow, and the longer you know him the better you like him." Mr. Ccad, the camp clerk and head of the office, was a kindly and attentive host. He told the reporter "you are sitting in the boss' seat when he is here. It is the first inside the door from the cook's quarters and he gets the first helping, just the same as the rest of the men. And we feel our meals should be acceptable to the boss, Mr. Johnston, or anybody else."

Show Motion Pictures

The Examiner was told that Mr. Snider had arranged for a showing of motion pictures in one of the bunk houses last night. He had bought the projecting machine himself, had previously brought in reels of film on two occasions, and for last night's affair he had been lent some films from the Grove School at Lakefield. The men have a little orchestra that plays at occasional affairs of that kind, and apparently the atmosphere of the place is all one might expect of a camp that is designed for sleep and rest at the end of a long day's work.

The truck drivers and some of their helpers were working late Thursday, catching up for some of the time lost by rains, and meals were sent out to them along the road. The company hopes to complete their contract within the next three or four weeks and are now hustling along the spreading of crushed gravel. The men are paid thirty-five cents an hour, and their payroll, once up to 110 men, is now down in the forties.

Incidentally the Oregon Trail is intended as a link between the Bobcaygeon highway and the Peterborough-Bancroft highway. It was not undertaken solely for local purposes, but because cross-country traffic was using the old Trail and its continuous turns and windings were regarded as a menace.

Reliefers No Help

Buckhorn opinion inclines to the conviction that the Johnston company would have been better advised not to have engaged city men on relief.

"Some of them certainly wanted to work, others didn't; they were more interested in seeing how little they could do. Some of the willing ones were not accustomed to it. They went on the job in the hot weather, and that was a hot spot along the rocks in July and August, and they weren't accustomed to slugging work of that kind. As to the company, I know one man who worked for these people last year. During the winter he wrote them that he had a chance of going somewhere else, and they sent him a cheque for $100 to hold him around here for the work of this season."

So much for opinions and impressions gleaned along the Oregon Trail as the details of road construction are nearing completion north of Buckhorn.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

By an Examiner Reporter.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

A charge against Steven Melch, 413 Bethune street, of keeping a disorderly house was dismissed this morning when the Crown offered no evidence. Charges of being found in, laid against three local men, were also dismissed.

RUBBER STORAGE

Residents of Havelock say there's enough rubber stored in their town to stretch around the world. One of the largest rubber companies on this continent is said to have moved large stores of rubber from British Columbia, storing it in vacant railway sheds in the village.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER

Graham Robertson Macdougall of Whitby High School has been awarded one of the four Reuben Wells Leonard Scholarships each of the value of $300 with free tuition. Total possible value $800. He is a nephew of Dr. and Mrs. H. Moore of Lakefield and a grandson of Mrs. Robertson, also of Lakefield.

A GOOD CATCH.

Four Americans, Bill Benedict, Harry Sherrick, Joe Tieno, Jack Starost all of Sinlay, Ohio, wound up with a holiday at Webster's Island in Lake Katchawanooka yesterday and left for home with 32 splendid bass and two muskies, weighing 20 and 18 pounds. They claim this lake tops any they have visited in the last ten years of fishing.

BEAVER INCREASING.

Beaver are multiplying at a fast rate in this county, according to reports from farmers and settlers in several townships. The valuable animals have proved a nuisance in a few localities and farmers have applied for permission to break dams in order that valuable crop lands will not be inundated by the water which is backed up when th dams are built.

CLOTHES RECOVERED.

Several articles of women's clothing including a caracul fur coat stolen from a clothesline at the rear of Mrs. Ethel Primeau's house on Charles street early this week were recovered yesterday. Inspector James Reid and Acting Detective Piercy were making a search of the hobo jungle on Burnham's Point for possible suspects when they discovered the clothing hidden near one of the large barns on the property. There were no transients in the buildings.

BEACHES CLOSED.

Premature chilly blasts have made the beaches and bathing spots in the city deserted during the past week, and Thursday night Inverlea Bathing Beach was officially closed, and the lifeguard was laid off for the year. Usually the swimming season extends at least into the first two weeks of September but the weather recently has made people don top coats instead of bathing suits, and only a few hardy souls have braved the cool waters of the river and canal. The pool in King Edward Park was also closed.

Trinity College School Student Won Five Matriculation Scholarships

PORT HOPE, Ont., Sept. 9—(CP)—J. R. C. Cartwright, a student at Trinity College school Port Hope, won five matriculation scholarships in mathematics at University of Toronto. P. A. C. Ketchum, head master of the school, states Cartwright tops the list of scholarship awards for all Canada.

F. A. Bethune scholarship at Trinity College which was awarded by Reversion to W. S. Ross also of Trinity College school.

CHAPTER 37

AT THE Garwood home the door was opend by Hitchens, who greeted Noel with his usual stiff impassivity, and at once showed her to her room. It was on the third floor back, furnished in maple, with delicate lace curtains, a blue oval rug and several comfortable looking chairs. The room opened into a neat bath.

Here was luxury indeed, Noel thought, as she unpacked her few belongings. A few minutes after, she was ready to go down the flight of stairs to the second floor where Hichens waited to show her to the room of the little girl who was to be her charge.

The room which she now entered was large, furnished as a sitting room in heavy upholstered furniture. It opened into a small bedroom.

Sitting in a chair was a pale little girl, who gazed at Noel without interest and then leaned back in her chair and closed her eyes lislessly.

Noel thought she had never seen a more unhappy looking child. Her sympathy was instantly aroused as it had been on the day when she had glimpsed this child from the upstairs window.

Hitchens withdrew stiffly. Noel went over and took one of the child's pale little hands. "Hello, Betsy, dear," she said softly.

The child murmured a word of greeting and again dropped her eyes, the long curling lashes making little hollows on her thin delicate face. Then she withdrew her hand from Noel's and turned her face away.

Noel took a seat beside her and waited a few moments, hoping the child would look at her again. Then at last Noel said, "Do you like to play games, Betsy?"

The little girl opened her eyes then, looking at Noel in surprise. "Oh, no!" she said with emphasis.

"But wouldn't you like to?" Noel insisted.

Betsy shook her head. "It would be noisy."

Noel felt at a disadvantage. After all, she knew nothing of children and would have to be guided by her instincts. If she had acted on her first impulse, she would have taken the frail little girl and held her close in her arms, for there was something about her pale face that went straight to the heart. But Noel felt that was probably not the best way, remembering how firmly Betsy had withdrawn her hand.

So Noel said lightly, "One can play lots of games without making noise." She wracked her brain to think of a game of this kind. And then said with triumph, "Checkers, for instance."

But Betsy's expression remained blank. Was it possible she knew nothing of checkers? Had no one felt it their duty to amuse her? It seemed to Noel, even though she was ignorant of child psycholoy, that what this little creature needed most was to have her young mind stimulated. Listlessness in a child of this age was far from being natural.

Noel decided to try for another vantage point. "Which of your studies do you like best?" she asked.

Noel had already noticed that there were no toys to be seen, not even a doll. If the child possessed any, they were evidently put away. In one corner of the room there was a small desk on which a number of books were piled. Noel went over, selected one, which happened to be an arithmetic. Then glancing up from the book, she saw a slight shudder come over Betsy's little body. Noel put the book down.

She saw a look of relief come into the child's eyes. "I can't do sums," she said, plaintively. "They make my head ache. I can't learn—anything," she finished, sudden tears gathering in her eyes.

"Here, this won't do." Noel said tenderly. The next thing she was following her first instinct and was holding the little girl in her arms. "Of course you can learn," she told her soothingly.

Betsy seemed surprised and embarrassed. A flush came into her face, and she tried to pull away. Noel waited a few moments, then she released her. Lifting her in her strong young arms, she placed her back in the big over-stuffed chair and walked to the window. She could see that she would have to use a world of tact with his child. She was evidently shy, even afraid of people for some reason. A passionate desire rose up in Noel's heart to help her. It was plain enough that Betsy was seriously neglected.

After standing at the window thinking for a few moment, Noel decided not to attempt to use any text books. She would give Betsy a test to find out how far she had gotten in arithmetic and make it appear more or less as a game.

She went to the door and called Hichens. When the butler appeared with surprising quickness, she asked him to bring her a dozen oranges, a basket of cherries and some apples.

Noel thought in such a house as this that the larder would be well filled. She was right. Hichens had gone away, a look of disapproval on his face. But a few minutes later a Japanese servant came up with the fruit.

He was followed a short while afterward by Hichens who told Noel that Mrs. Garwood wished to see her at once in her boudoir. Except that Hichens pronounced it "boodoar."

When Noel knocked on Mrs. Garwood's door, and was told to come in, Hichens was there, adjusting the silk curtains. Mrs. Garwood evidently had just awakened. A silver breakfast tray rested on a small table beside the chaise lounge on which the woman was half-sitting, half-reclining, wearing as before an elaborate negligee of chiffon and lace. Her right arm was bound in tape and hung in a sling from her shoulder.

"I—er, broke my arm," Mrs. Garwood said rather abruptly.

"Oh, I'm sorry," Noel began, but the woman wasn't paying Noel any attention. She was looking at the butler. "Hichens, look in the—my desk, and bring me my check book. I'm going to have—" she stopped and, turning to Noel, inquired, "What is your name? Can't remember."

Noel told her. "All right, Noel," she resumed, "I'm going to ask you to make out a check for me. Bills have to be paid even though I've got my right hand in a splint. Make it for a thousand."

Noel took the check book Hichens handed her, and wrote out a check for the amount of a thousand dollars. Then she was instructed to sign the name of Fay Garwood. She looked up at the woman in surprise. "But my signature—I mean—will it be accepted?"

Mrs. Garwood gave a shrug and an angry light came into her protruding eyes. "I do not see why I've got to—why I should make explanations to my servants. Do as you're told."

Noel still hesitated. Hichens moved up then and said suavely, "You understand, of course that—er—Mrs. Garwood will phone the bank and explain why someone else made out the check."

Noel made no further objections. She signed the woman's name and rose. "Now as to Betsy," Mrs. Garwood began, "she is a very bad child. Stubborn. What she needs is discipline."

"Oh, no, Mrs. Garwood," Noel exclaimed impulsively, "What she needs mostly is fresh air and to be amused. After that, her studies."

"I didn't give you this job to tell me what my child needs," Fay Garwood exclaimed shrilly. "You do as you're told, do you hear?"

Noel stood there meeting the woman's angry eyes, without wavering. And there must have been something about her clear, cool gaze, or else it was a discreet little admonitory cough from the butler. Anyway, Fay Garwood unexpectedly apologized. "You can see that my poor nerves are simply—ruined," she said with a half-sob. "Betsy is just a—an ignoramus. She has to be forced to—put her mind on her studies. And we wouldn't dare risk any excitement for her, because you see—the doctors, they say she's a mental case. Now maybe you understand."

Easy - Growing Plants For Winter Loveliness

Callas Bloom Gloriously

Let the stately calla add beauty to your home this winter.

A favorite in sunny old-fashioned gardens, the calla's rich blooms and classic lines accent the charm of modern rooms.

Easy to grow if you understand them, calla roots need a sunny window, lots of water. Potted in September or October, they'll bloom from January until spring.

Select a six-inch pot for the average root.

Set pot in dish of water after putting drainage material—cinders or pebbles—in bottom of pot. Make the dish of water attractive with colored pebbles, perhaps of bright glass.

Remember that your calla will bloom year after year if properly cared for. Let foliage dry back to give the root a complete rest during the summer. Repot in fall.

Fragrant bulbs, graceful ivy, handsome foliage plants—our 32-page booklet tells how to make them all thrive indoors. Which ones to start now. How to obtain luxuriant bloom during cold months, avoid plant pests.

Send 15c in coins or stamps for your copy of MAKING PLANTS AND FLOWERS GROW INDOORS to Examiner Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, September 10.

A day of rather perplexing problems or peculiar adventures may be read from the prevailing lunar and mutual aspects. There seems to be an undercurrent of the subtle, secretive or even sinister that should be handled carefully.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of expansion and promise, although there may be very peculiar, intriguing, or mysterious problems to confront and manipulate with tact and shrewdness. This subtle situation may concern mergers, rings, political or foreign bodies, secret societies, or other undercover contacts.

A child born on this day may be disposed to attain its ends by subtlety, tact, collusion, or other undercover methods, although it may be friendly, responsible, and have noble ideas and noble aspirations.

Zoo Elephant Killed To End Suffering After Fall Into Pit

New York, Sept. 9.

HILDA, PLAYFUL elephant, pride of Prospect Park Zoo, was shot to death today to end her suffering from the effects of injuries caused when her male companion, Billy, pushed her into a pit in the elephant house.

This morning, Captain R. Cheyne Stout, zoo director, had granted the 3,000-pound beast five days of grace in the hope that veterinarians could rig up some sort of splint. Later, however, it was decided nothing could be done for her.

DOROTHY DIX

Nothing Equals The Happiness That Is Brewed Right In The Home By Tender Love and Consideration For Each Member of The Family

THE very best brand of happiness is strictly a home-made product. Nothing that you can buy in the market places of the outside world has the sweetness, the flavor, the heartening and strengthening qualities of that which we brew on our own healthstones.

To each of us the most important thing in our lives is our family relationship. Fame is as empty as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals if we have none of our own to rejoice in it. Riches are counterfeit money that cannot buy what the heart craves most. A man's life work goes for nothing in the end if his children have no affection for him and regard him only as a cash register. You can have a thousand palaces and still be as homeless as any tramp unless there is some one to watch for your coming and draw you across the threshold of your dwelling with tender hands.

It does not matter how successful we are in our careers, how much wealth we pile up, how loudly the public applauds us, we are lonely and desolate if we have no one close to us who loves us, and miserable if our homes are places of turmoil and strife.

Nor does it matter how little we have nor how obscure we may be, we are happy if we find in our own households sympathy and understanding and companionship; if we know that whatever else fails, love and loyalty will not; if all the world turns against us, there will still be our families to which we can flee as to a rock of reguge.

Such being the case, and all of us knowing that our happiness and well being depend more upon our family relationship than upon anything else, it is a strange and stupid thing that we do in trusting this all-important matter to luck instead of using all the skill and intelligence we possess to cultivating and preserving it.

Take husbands and wives, for instance. The dumbest of them know that whether their marriage is a success or a failure depends upon their making themselves persona grata to each other. No man can be happy if he has a peevish, fretful, nagging wife. No woman can be happy if she has a surly, disgruntled, fault-finding husband. Nor can there be any happiness in a household where the husband and wife are in a perpetual fight.

But, knowing that the price of their quarrels is an unhappy home and probably a divorce, do the average married couple take the trouble to make their relationship to each other pleasant and agreeable? Not at all! The husband often doesn't treat his wife with even common politeness. He never pays her a compliment, or gives her any indication that he regards her as anything but a burden and an expense.

And the wife on her part makes no effort whatever to make herself attractive to her husband, nor to interest him, nor to do anything that would make him glad he married her. And so, between them, they let the bond that should have been a silken one that bound them closer to each other as the years went by turn into a ball and chain that clanks as they walk.

The only reward that parents can get for the trouble, sacrifices and cost of rearing their children is in the love and honor that their children give them. But how seldom do you see fathers and mothers trying to sell themselves to their sons and daughters? They depend on what they call natural affection, which doesn't exist after a child can stand alone. After that parents must win their children's friendship by tenderness and understanding and justice; not alienate them, as so many fathers and mothers do by their petty tyrannies and continual fault-finding.

Then there is the in-law relationship, which can be turned into a blessing instead of the curse it usually is by the use of a little tact and common-sense and upon the ability of a daughter-in-law and mother-in-law to see that their happiness is going to depend upon the way they treat each other.

One of the most beautiful and sustaining relationships in life is that of brothers and sisters who love each other with a devotion that goes back to the cradle and that is interwoven with all the precious memories of childhood. It is a love that does not criticize, that knows all your faults and loves you still, a love that you can call upon in time of trouble secure of help. And yet how many men and women throw away this treasure because they are too lazy to preserve it. They drift apart without even a letter or a visit to keep them in touch with each other.

Queer, isn't it, that we go abroad seeking happiness when it is buried right under our own doorsteps.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have found out how to handle a husband and his mother, both good people, but who go periodically into dour dark anger in which they do not speak over some real or fancied fault of mine. It made life like living in a tomb, for I could never find out what was the matter. I found my nerves breaking under the strain and during one of their sieges I took to my bed. I was exhausted and defeated. Imagine my surprise when the clouds lifted immediately. They were lonely and disturbed by my lying-in strike. Now when I see the storm signals going up I take to my bed and remain there until the domestic atmosphere clears. I find this method of dealing with their intolerance simple and soothing. WIFE.

ANSWER:

A grand recipe for dealing with those who pass into the silence. Try it.

GOODNIGHT STORY

By MAX TRELL

"I know just how we can build our boat," Hanid, the shadow girl, said to her brother, Knarf. "But first," she added the next moment, "we must make ourselves small."

"How small?"

"As small as a match stick."

Knarf was puzzled. "Why just that size?" he asked. "Why not some other size like as small as a pencil, or as small as a pin?"

"You'll see. I'll show you our boat and you'll see that we have to be as small as a match stick. No other size will do." With that she took Knarf down to the edge of the river. It wasn't really a river. It was just a little trickle of water which ran in a ditch along the side of the road. But they decided to call it a river.

He gave it a push.

"There's the boat!" Hanid said, pointing to something lying on the ground.

"Oh, it's the bottom of a matchbox," said Knarf. "It isn't a boat at all." He was quite disappointed. But Hanid smiled. She said the matchbox could be made into a wonderful boat.

She Shows Him.

"How? Show me how!"

Then Hanid looked around until she found a straight little twig. She stuck it straight up. Then she got a leaf and tied it to the twig.

"There! That's the sail."

Then she got a tiny piece of bark and fastened it to the end of the matchbox.

"What's that?"

"That's the rudder," she explained.

Then Knarf said: "All we have to do now is get the boat into the water. That won't be hard. I'll just push it in."

He gave it a push. It didn't move a bit. Do you know why? It's because shadows haven't any strength. They can't move anything. And what good is a boat on dry land? That's what they both sighed as they sat disconsolately down on a pebble, wondering what they could do next.

Fishermen's Find Ends Search For Body

Search for the body of Daniel Dodge, Detroit automobile heir who plunged into Georgian Bay after incurring severe injuries in a dynamite blast at his summer camp, ended when Albert Bateman and Wesley Ryder, Little Current, fishermen, found the body floating about a quarter-mile from the scene of the tragedy. Seagulls hovering low over the water attracted attention of the men. They may share a $1,500 reward posted by Dodge's family for recovery of the body.

Ford Tops Movie Directors, $6,250 A Week

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9 (AP).—Salaries of Hollywood's ace directors were of public record today—introduced at their own behest in an effort to win the right to bargain collectively with motion picture studios under the Wagner Act.

John Ford topped the list with $6,250 a week. Ernst Lubitsch, before leaving Paramount, received $5,000. Others include Roy Del Ruth $4,873; Al Santel $4,000; Wesley Ruggles $4,025; Frank Lloyd $3,500; William Seiter $3,250; David Butler $3,000; Irving Cummings $2,500; Sidney Lanfield $2,250; Walter Lang $2,000; George Marshall $1,500.

Directors seek to show that they and their assistants are "salaried employees" rather than "contract workers" as the studios contend.

Belleville's Mayor Proposes Mayors Take Over Gov't Calls For National Ministry

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 9—Mayor Jamieson Bone of Belleville startled the Ontario Mayors' Association Tursday, meeting at the General Brock Hotel in annual convention, by suggesting that Mayors "take over the reins" of the Ontario Government if immediate action were not taken by Provincial and Federal Governments to relieve economic conditions.

He also suggested that "immediate steps be taken to give the public the opportunity of expressing themselves for or against a National Government," in order, he said, that national issues could be discussed without political bias.

Deluge of Resolutions.

His recommendations precipitated a long list of sweeping resolutions, ranging from sterilization of the feeble-minded to the St. Lawrence seaways project, presented by mayor from all over Ontario. Mayor R. J. Watrous, Brantford, objected strenuously to the presentation of resolutions on the floor before their submission to a resolution committee, but his objection was overruled by the association's president, Mayor R. K. Serviss of Galt.

They were not discussed, however, but merely read, and then turned over to committees headed by Mayor G. W. Gordon, Kitchener; Mayor Howard Talbot, Leaside, and Mayor Fred Pelling, Sarnia, for consideration, and will come up for discussion by the association tomorrow morning. It was expected the committees would work half the night "weeding" out those unlikely to receive more than a small section's support.

There were approximately forty municipalities represented at yesterday's meeting of the association, which includes in its membership seventy-three of the 168 Mayors of Ontario. Mayor Ralph C. Day of Toronto was represented by Controller J. D. McNish.

Majority of resolutions urged reduction of taxation on real estate, curtailment of social services and new sources of taxation other than property. There seemed a sharp cleavage of opinion on suggestions that the Federal Government be asked to assume full cost of relief.

Would Ask for Mandate

Climaxing a long list of recommendations, Mayor Bone urged the association to support his motion that: "Failing immediate action by our Provincial and Federal Governments to carry out important improvements that have been urged and re-urged by the great majority of thinking citizens, we, the Mayors of Ontario, shall forthwith ask our citizens of every and all political viewpoints for a mandate to take over the reins of government ourselves first of all, as regards our own municipalities, which are being completely ruined by present conditions, and, secondly, with a view to constitutionally taking over the government of the Province of Ontario so that the exodus of our citizens may not develop into a rout, and so that our financial problems may not involve all of us in complete bankruptcy."

Mayor Serviss, as Chairman, immediately stopped discussion of the resolution, pointing out it first must go to the resolution committee.

Mayor Bone also suggested that a maximum rate of 35 mills be decreed in all municipalities as the absolute limit of taxation on real property, that municipalities honor their debts by special taxation on other than real estate, that the full cost of education be charged elsewhere than on real estate, or failing this, be seriously curtailed, and that relief recipients be disfranchised and relief costs removed from municipalities.

Calls for Definite Decision

"We have been pussyfooting long enough on this relief question, and the result is that the Federal Government has reduced its grant-in-aid to the Province and the Province theirs to us," declared Mayor E. S. Wigle of Windsor. "There must be some definite conclusion reached at this meeting, for with us relief is a real problem, and we've got to take something definite home."

He moved a resolution urging the Federal Government to assume the full burden of relief, and another that, if no change were made in the present relief set-up, the Provincial Minister or Deputy Minister, instead of inspectors, sign all relief regulations, and that they be made compulsory throughout the Province. He also recommended that the Provincial Government be requested to assume greater cost of social services, such as child welfare and hospitalization.

Legislation to permit doctors to sterilize at a patient's request, or in the case of feeble-minded, at the patient's parents' or guardian's request, was recommended by the Municipality of Elmira, and Mayor J. D. Wright of St. Catharines urged the association to go on record as unanimously favoring the St. Lawrence seaway project.

Milk Regulations In Ontario Are Highly Commended

Ottawa, Sept. 9.

A RESOLUTION of Congratulation to Ontario on the enactment into its statues of legislation looking toward the pasteurization of all milk sold at retail in the Province was adopted today by the Council of the Association of French-Speaking Doctors of North America.

The resolution recommended to all other Provinces the adoption of a similar law. The association tonight with a banquet and dance concluded its four-day biennial Congress here. In 1940 the Congress will be in Three Rivers, Que., home of the newly elected President, Dr. Charles DeBlois.

Health Campaign Is Advocated

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (C.P.). — Provincial Health Departments were urged to undertake an educational campaign pointing out the benefits of periodical health examination in a resolution adopted yesterday by the Council of the Association of French-speaking Doctors of North America as the annual convention closed.

The resolution mentioned cancer, tuberculosis, and other maladies that might be prevented or arrested by medical examination. Lack of methodical examination systems added greatly to the budgets of governments and hospitals.

Another resolution congratulated the Ontario Government on enacting legislation aimed at pasteurization of all milk sold retail in the province and recommended that the other provinces adopt a similar law.

Provincial Health Departments were asked in a resolution to undertake campaigns of pre-natal education with which would seek particularly to prevent convulsions of pregnancy.

A bonfire blazed merrily at the waters edge Thursday evening on the lawn of Mr. Hurrell Dodd's home Engleburn avenue, when about 100 choir members and their friends from St. Paul's Presbyterian church gathered to enjoy a menu of corn, coffee and cake, which was the happy climax to an evening of games, singing, and music supplied by a ladies' kazoo band garbed in amusing costumes.

The grounds were gay with lights, and chairs and benches were arranged on the lawn for the comfort of the guests. At the close of the evening, Miss Marion Armstrong moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Dodds, and the "corn boil" was concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Murphy—Shine

A very pretty wedding took place Monday, September 5, at St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, when Viola Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Shine of Downeyville, became the bride of Vincent, son of Mr. Patrick Murphy and the late Mrs. Murphy of Lindsay. Rev. Father McFadyen officiaed and sang the nuptial mass.

The bride, given away by her father, was charmingly gowned in white chiffon over satin with long veil. She carried white gladioli and maiden hair fern.

Miss Mary Shine, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid, gowned in yellow silk organdie and yellow ribbon and net headdress. Her bouquet was mixed sweet peas.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Adrian Murphy of Lindsay. During the mass and signing of the register, Mrs. H. J. Gleeson sang, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Walter Herlihey.

For travelling the bride wore a champagne coat with brown accessories. After a wedding trip to Detroit and points west, the couple will live in Lindsay.

We Noticed

..Hurry happily off to school this morning, a little girl scarcely bigger than a doll, lesson books tucked under one arm. She looked very sweet in a gay little frock of plaid wood, and a scarlet ribbon tied up wark brown curls.

..At one of the Autumn weddings, a bride donned for travelling a chic tailored suit of nubbly green wool that had a velvet ascot of tawny red. Her hat, gloves and shoes matched the scot, and a large square bag of dusky yellow suede added clever contrast.

..That a make-up bracelet in gold metal with a wide domed top can be purchased with all toilet accessories inside, which includes powed compact, lipstick, rouge and mascara.

Two Girls in The Family

These two pretty children are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wright, 305 Louis Street. They are Beverley, aged two and a half years, and Marilyn, aged 15 months. They are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wright, William Street, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Freeburn, Aylmer Street.

Do You Know?

Varnished surfaces can be brightened by wiping over them with cheese cloth moistened with linseed oil, a liquid furniture polish, or wrung out of a pint of hot water containing one desertspoon each of turpentine and linseed oil? Afterwards rub with a heavy woollen cloth until the gloss is restored.

A clogged sink pipe can be clear by soda and vinegar. Pour a little soda over the drain, follow it up with vinegar. This causes effervescene, which clears the pipe.

How to clean copper utensils thoroughly? First wash them in hot water, then rub on a mixture of salt, fine sand and vinegar with a piece of flannel. Afterwards wash thoroughly again in hot water and dry well. Polish with metal polish. A little sweet oil rubbed on every few days will help the metal to retain its brightness.

WATER FLEX MODEL
No Moving Part Touches the Clothes!
That's the big difference between the Eureka Water Flex Washer and agitator-type machines. In the Eureka Water Flex there is no agitator of any kind. Clothes are not rubbed or even touched by any moving part. The washing action is accomplished entirely by the continuous surging and circulation of water under pressure. Clothes float in the current of water and alternately contract and expand so that the washing action is one of general squeezing by water action alone. Soapy water percolates through the fabric and fushes away every particle of dirt. Because no mechanical part flushes the clothes, shrinkage is greatly reduced.
Less soap is required—the water action dissolves it completely, making rinsing far easier and eliminating the possibility of scorching, frequently caused by "free" soap in the wash water. Water remains hot longer, due to the terrific forceful water action. What little lint is removed from clothes (tests show it is only a fraction of the amount removed in ordinary type machines) collects on the perforations on the bottom plate where it is easily removed when washer is cleaned. Tangling is also eliminated.

Radio Artist Is Soloist At Hespeler Wedding

St. Joseph's Church, Hespeler, was decorated with roses and ferns for the wedding at nine o'clock Thursday morning of Annette Claire Dandeno, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dandeno of Hespeler, who was united in marriage to James Patrick Butler, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. Butler of Peterborough. Mr. Golloher, Kitchener, well-known radio artist, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Austin Dandeno of Niagara Falls, the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of pale pink sheer, and pink picture hat. Her bridal bouquet was of roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Dandeno of Loretta Abbey, Toronto, gowned in a frock of pale blue sheer, made with close-fitting bodice and full, bouffant skirt. She wore a pale blue picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The maid-of-honor Miss Mary Ryan, was gowned in yellow sheer, made in matching style. Her bouquet was also of roses.

Mr. Frank Butler, Peterborough, brother of the groom, was best man.

A wedding dinner was served at Forest Hill Gardens, Kitchener. On their return from a wedding trip to Buffalo and other points, Mr. and Mrs. Butler will live at 117 Queen Street, Hespeler.

Rev. Father P. Butler of this city, brother of the groom who was to have solemnized the marriage was unable to do so, owing to illness.

Enquiry Column

Conducted by
Mrs. MARY MOORE

Question—Will you kindly at your own convenience oblige me with recipe for Chili Sauce also a recipe for making Blue Damson preserves? There is another recipe that I would appreciate and that is how to make a good French Dressing for vegetable salads. The French Dressing I have in mind is made from oil and vinegar etc. M. T.

Answer—Kindly see elsewhere on page recipe for chili sauce.

Damson Preserves

Wash Damson plums well and cut in halves and stone them. To each pound of stoned plums use ¾ pound sugar. Make a syrup of the sugar and one quarter of the amount of water and when it boils add the plums and cook at fast rolling boil until of desired consistency—try a spoonful on a cold plate—it does not need to set of course but is nicer if rather thick. Plums should cook quickly—I prefer Green Gage plums for jam.

French Dressing.

One small onion or clove of garlic sliced, ¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon sugar, ¾ cup salad oil or best quality olive oil. Add onion to vinegar, let stand 20 minutes, then strain out onion or garlic. Combine salt, pepper, paprika, and sugar in a jar or large bottle, add vinegar and oil, cover closely and shake vigorously or make in bowl and beat with rotary egg beater. This makes about 1 cup — lemon juice makes a milder dressing. Always shake well just before serving.

We hope these recipes are what you want and that we can help you again.

Question—A few years ago you published a recipe for round cheese made from skim milk. I have mislaid this recipe and would like very much to have it again if possible as it was a very good cheese when made.

I take an interest in your page but find very few recipes that are of use to me as I have a very limited income. Mrs. H.M.C.

Answer—Thank you for your letter.

Homemade Cheese

Warm three gallons of milk to 85 deg. Fahr. Then add 1 tablespoon rennet extract and mix thoroughly and cover and let stand at this temperature for one-half hour, or until the curd will break leaving the whey clear. Then cut each way, leaving it in columns one inch square. Let stand until whey rises an inch over the curd—then warm the whole gradually to 98 deg. Fahr. taking 2 or 3 hours, lifting it and stirring it gently with the hand all the time until the pieces of curd are about the size of grains of corn. Let it stand at this temperature, stirring occasionally, until the curd when squeezed in the hand, and the hand opened, will separate into particles again. The whey will taste acidy. Then dip the curd into a basket lined with a heavy cloth and drain. Use 2 oz. salt to each 5 lbs. curd and add at this stage, mixing it in thoroughly.

Pressure must be gentle at first, then increase it, and in a few hours take out the cheese, change lining and press as before.

The storeroom for curing must be kept between 50 and 60 deg. Fahr. The Cheesecloth should be greased and rubbed and the cheese turned over on the shelf every other day for a month. Later this need only be done once or twice a week. If the cheese should crack place strips of cloth or stout paper over the opening.

You may write to the Dominion Dept. of Agriculture for other formulas for making cheese. Kindly watch our columns for economical meals and suggestions.

Question—I have been an interested reader of your page for many years and I have received much help from it.

I am writing now to ask you how to make dill pickles. I have tried many of your other recipes and we have always enjoyed them. Thanking you MRS. W.W.

Question—I enjoy your page very much and I have got a lot of helpful advice from it. Now I have a favor to ask. I wonder if you could tell me how to make javelle water, also a good hand cleaner. My husband has a very dirty job and it is so hard for him to get his hands clean. I thought by making it myself it would not be so expensive. Wishing you the best of luck. MRS. H. M.

Answer—Thank you for your letter.

Javelle Water.

Four lbs. bicarbonate of soda, 1 lb. chloride of lime. Put the soda into a kettle over the heat, add 1 gallon water (boiling hot, let it boil from 10 to 15 minutes, then stir in the chloride of lime, avoiding lumps. When cool it is ready for use.

Hand Cleaner

Melt down in top of double boiler 2 lbs. of plain hand soap, (ivory, castile or homemade soft soap) and to it add 2 cups boiling water and stir until all are mixed well. Then add ¼ lb. borax, and ½ lb. plain pumice, and pour into small cans or old cups that can be tightly covered to mould and harden. This is much like some of the hand cleaners that you buy—the borax has a strong cleansing property and the pumice acts as a grit—in this proportion it is gentle enough to do no harm.

MICE STOWAWAYS

Having stowed away in a bunch of bananas in South America two night mice, about twice the size of a house mouse, were captured in London.

Silver Fox Adds Still More Triumphs

By ALICE ALDEN

The pot of gold at the end of fashion's rainbow is likely to be not gold at all, but silver—silver fox. This beautiful pelt goes on year after year adding to its triumphs. The silver fox cape, nice as it is, has had to bow before the silver fox coat, and the smart woman prefers even a short bolero of silver fox to a cape. The coats shown here, luxurious as they are, really represent an economy, especially to the woman who goes out a great deal, since they can be worn for day and for evening, and give even the simplest frock or suit a luxury look.

Ruby Keeler, cinema star, is shown, above, wearing her gorgeous silver fox coat. It is collarless, with squared shoulders and straight sleeves. Adrienne Ames likes white fox and uses this snowy pelt for the novel jacket she is wearing at left.

"It is never foolish to do a thing because we want to do it. The folly lies in doing a thing because other people think we ought to want to do it, and we do not."—Fowler.

* * * *

Dear Friends:

This, on the face of it would seem to imply that we should all be selfish and go about doing as we please without consideration for other people. But that is the wrong interpretation.

How many have started on the wrong road, not because they wanted to do things that would lead them there, but because they knew other people expected them to want to do these things.

No, is a very small word; Yes is not much bigger; but there is a surprising difference many times when we say yes instead of sticking to no. After all, you are a person with a mind of your own, you know what is good for you and what will harm you, so why should you let anyone else persuade you against your will.

You may do things like that to please them, to be a good fellow if you are a man, to be a good sport if you are a woman, but if in the doing you let yourself down, you are the one who will have to foot the bill eventually.

And not one who ever persuaded you will feel the slightest bit sorry if you come a cropper. How many men who did not care to drink, yet let themselves be shunted into doing so, have found little or no sympathy when this habit got a hold on them. They did not start this because they wanted to, but because someone else thought they ought to want to do it.

Learn your own weakness and your own strength. We do so many things we have no desire to do, simply because another expects it. I remember once in the West, and the lady who lived next door to me would not pour the wash water down the sink ,she threw it outside, and assumed I should do it too.

Now, apart from it being a filthy practice, for soiled water will always bring flies, I was new at housekeeping and wanted so much to do things the right way. So, one day I clutched the tub after the wash was finished and carted it outside.

As I was doing it I felt a terrible pain, and later when the doctor came he found I had a bad hernia. All that pain because I did something I did not want to do, but that someone else thought I ought to want to do. Since then I do things because I want to do them, not on someone else's say so.

I admire people who are strong enough to do things requiring strength, but if I were to attempt them I would be foolish in the extreme. But even in my feminine weakness I can have strength of will, strength to stick to my own opinions, strength to do what I think is right.

You have your life to lead, they have theirs. If they have a large capacity for food or drink, are you going to make yourself ill trying to keep up with them? If they can stand late hours and your health requires a certain amount of sleep, are you not foolish to do what they think you ought to want to do?

If you get satisfaction and peace of mind in prayer while they get none, are you going to lose that because of them? What will you gain by it? Even God allows us freedom, and the ones who would take this freedom of thought and action from us, are the first who would raise a howl if we tried to do the same to them.

So, do things because you want to do them, and you will be happier and those who are trying to change you will have more respect when they see it cannot be done. Why be a pale copy of someone else when you can be—yourself.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Edison's Daughter To Enter Politics

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Sept. 9.—(CP).—Mrs. John Eyre Sloane, of Llewellyn Park, the former Madeleine Edison, daughter of the late Thomas A. Edison, announced yesterday she would seek the Republican nomination for representative from the 11th congressional district in opposition to Recorder Arthur L. Vreeland, of East Orange, the Clean Government movement's candidate for the nomination.

Mrs. Sloane, whose brother, Charles Edison, is assistant secretary of the navy, was one of the original backers of the Clean Government forces, which wrested Republican leadership in Essex county from the late Jesse R. Salmon a few years ago.

Utensils Make Unusual Toys

Household utensils make ideal playthings for the young child. The baby does not recognize the animal in the top elephant and is just as happy with a red tin can. If a marble is dropped inside so that the thing rattles when shaken, that is an added charm, and if he is able to learn to screw and unscrew the top he is not only entertained but has added an item to his education. The kettle cupboard is an unfailing lure to the small child and is readily available in emergencies or as a last resort.

Doll Hats Are Young And Gay

Everyone is talking about the doll hats. Started by Schiaparelli this amusing gay, and young fashion has taken hold with amazing speed. Descat, Legroux Soeurs, Suzy, Louise Bourbon and Molyneux, have all taken up the idea of the diminutive shape and developed it in more practical fashion than the originals—still small, still trimmed, still colorful, and still showing as much of the coiffure as possible. They are worn tilted forward sometimes high in back, sometimes flat. They are adapted to a number of different silhouettes, including the tricorne, tapering pillbox, high draped turban, Watteau beret, tiny brim and pedestal crown.

What will they be worn with and who can wear them? They will be worn with every type costume. Already style leaders in our own resorts have selected prototypes of the orginals, and worn them with beach clothes. Paris milliners find them entirely practical and chic with fur-collared coats. For the cocktail and dinner costume, they are a "natural."

Dolls' hats are very young and very gay. The gaiety is contributed to by color and trimmings, the youthfulness by line. A third and very important slant is that they are equally becoming to the young girl and the mature woman. In the latter case, exceptions must be made in the case of the very large woman, or the one who has a wide-heavy face. But for the woman of mature years who is slender and has a finely chisselled face, the doll's hat is becoming, especially the tiny marquis or tricorne.

See Reds Shying Off Bears Round 1 As Leafs Hand Them 8th Loss; Bisons Trounce Royals 2-1 and 6-4

(By the Associated Press.)

It may be just a plain slump or a strategical manoeuvre to avoid meeting the champion Newark Bears in the first round of the International League playoffs, but in either case the Rochester Red Wings appear to be heading toward the bottom of the first division.

While the Red Wings were dropping their eighth straight game to Toronto, 4-3, last night, the Buffalo Bisons swept a double-header from Montreal Royals, 2-1 and 6-4, and moved within a game of the third place Wings.

Since the third place club will meet the Bears in the first round of the playoffs, either the Wings or Bisons, who have been taking it on the chin from the champions all season, will be facing almost certain elimination.

The Bears, who never let up, trimmed Baltimore Orioles in both ends of a bargain bill, 8-7 and 7-6, and, ran their current winning streak to eight games.

The second place Syracuse Chiefs split another twin bill with Jersey City winning the opener, 4-0, behind Johnny Gee's two-hitter, and dropping the wind-up, 5-4, in eleven innings. Roy Joiner, Jersey hurler, won his own game by driving home the winning run after Ray Honeycutt had tied the game.

FISH STORY!

— but the fish is jellied which is a good way for a fish to be in summer

Jellied Tomato-Salmon with Cucumber Cream Dressing is a hot weather dish the whole family will enjoy.

By Dorothy Greig

THE nation is turning to jelly. Five years ago, I am told, we used a mere five million pounds of gelatine a year, now we're up to thirteen million pounds. Jelly eaters, that's what we are!

Summer time is the big jelly season. Not only are dessert jellies popular but good hearty foods like meat, vegetables and fish find themselves dished up in jellied form. Spicily seasoned, served on crisp greens they are an appetizing delight for warm days. Since every meal should have something hot as an aid to digestion, it is a wise idea to start the meal with a hot soup such as tomato, consomme or chicken. Then bring on the jellied main course. Jellied fish is especially good. Nourishing, yet light, fish takes to jelly almost as well as it does to water. One of my favorites is this—

Jellied Tomato-Salmon

I make it in a fish shaped mold because someone gave me one, but it tastes equally good made in any type of mold or even in a round bowl. Here's how it goes:

1 can Tomato Juice (14 oz.)
1½ tablespoons gelatine (softened in ¼ cup cold water)
1 can (1 lb.) salmon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
Pinch white pepper
¾ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise

Sprinkle the 1½ tablespoons (4 teaspoons) of gelatine on the cold water and let stand for five minutes. Heat the Tomato Juice and when hot pour over the softened gelatine and stir until dissolved. Cool.

Remove all bones and dark skin from the salmon and flake; then add lemon juice, salt and pepper. When tomato juice and gelatine begin to thicken, fold in the flaked, seasoned salmon and salad dressing. Pour into a mold which has been rinsed with cold water. Place in the refrigerator and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce, watercress or chicory. Serve with Cucumber Cream Dressing. Serves 8.

Cucumber Cream Dressing

1 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
½ cup whipped cream
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons onion, finely chopped
1 cucumber, chopped
2 tablespoons parsley or watercress, chopped

Peel the cucumber and cut or chop into small pieces; then drain. Fold the whipped cream into the mayonnaise; then add the salt, finely chopped onions, chopped cucumber and chopped parsley or watercress. Makes 2 cups.

If you want something that looks all dressed up and yet is fairly simple to do, try this—

Jellied Shrimp and Vegetable Salad (the quantities given make eight generous servings, which is a good thing because folks always pass back for more.)

1 can condensed Consomme
1 tablespoon gelatine (soaked in ¼ cup cold water)
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
Pinch white pepper
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Sprinkle the gelatine on the cold water and let stand for at least five minutes. Heat the condensed Consomme to boiling point and pour over the gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Then add ¾ cup cold water, salt, pepper and lemon juice.

1 pound fresh shrimps
1 cup cooked green peas
½ cup diced celery
1 hard cooked egg for garnish

Cook the shrimps in boiling salted water with stalk of celery and sprig of parsley for 15 minutes. Drain and cover with cold water to chill, then drain, remove shell, legs and intestinal vein (the black line running along the back).

To fix up the mold:—Pour a small amount (¼ to ½ cup) of the seasoned consomme in the bottom of a mold and place in

Beloved Cardinal Lies In State

With an imposing catafalque for a resting place and a guard of honor drawn from the New York police force around it, the body of the late Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York, lies in state at his residence adjoining St. Patrick's Cathedral. Countless thousands, rich and poor, streamed past the bier paying their last respects to the beloved prince of the Roman Catholic Church.

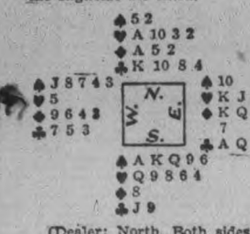
JUST A BIT EXTRA

ODDS IN FAVOR of redoubles are so great that it is surprising how few of them are made. If the chances appear to be about even to make your contract, after you have been doubled, it will pay you in the long run to redouble. In a major suit game, you stand to win an extra 240 points by redoubling and to lose only an extra 100 points when not vulnerable, 200 when vulnerable. So you don't need a pile of additional unshown strength to render your redouble sound, only the slightest bit extra.



(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North's opening bid here was 1-Club, which East overcalled with 1-Diamond, South called 1-Spade and West passed. North's next bid was 1-No Trump and South bid 2-Hearts. When North raised to 3-Hearts, South went to 4-Hearts. East doubled and South redoubled.

The diamond 3 was West's original lead and was won with dummy's A. The heart A was then cashed and followed with a heart. East went in with the K to lead his singleton spade 10. South captured this with the A and drew East's last trump. Then followed the spades K and Q, a diamond being discarded on the latter. The club J was next offered and the finesse lost to East's Q. East returned a diamond for a ruff by South. The club 9 then followed, which East won with the A. The diamond K was ruffed with the heart 9, the spade 6 with the heart 10 and the club K was the last trick. Declarer lost one heart and two clubs.

Press Hits Times For Czech 'Cession Idea

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP)—An editorial in the Times (Independent) sugesting to Czechoslovakia that she might permit Sudeten Germans to secede and join Germany, was criticized generally by the press today.

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to London, Protested.

A foreign office denial was issued stating the editorial had no official sanction and that it did not reflect the views of the United Kingdom Governmen.

"No more sinister blow could have been struck at the chances of settlement," said the Daily Telegraph (Conservative.)

"Such encouragement to intransigence of Sudeten Germans must embarrass the Czech government and make infinitely more difficult the task of Lord Runciman (unofficial British Mediator in the Czech-German dispute) and encourage German resistance to every effort at settlement.

"There could be no more dangerous or deplorable misrepresentation of the British view at this crisis."

The News Chronicle (Liberal) defined the editorial as "one of the most damaging indiscretions in the records of responsible journalism."

Damage Done Now

The paper lauded the government for disclaiming the Times' view but remarked, "the damage has been largely done."

The Times in it's editorial this morning explained that it did not "of course profess to represent the official view" but added that "it is one that has consistently been borne in mind by this journal as a possible solution which should be considered if others fail."

The Times said the Sudeten attitude in breaking off the negotiations was "either an ill-considered gesture" or was "dictated from outside."

The Times concluded: "It seems somewhat childish of the Sudeten leaders to suspend a process which was designed to remedy major injustices because minor injustices are alleged to have taken place."

The Times said it had for months been publishing editorials on the problem in which this particular solution had often been envisaged. It observed it was moved by its desire to see the problem settled by anything but recourse to force.

There was not reason yet to conclude that a peaceful solution is unattainable, the Times said. "The one solution that is barred by the moral sense of the whole world is a solution based on force or— what is the same thing—a threat of force."

The Yorkshire Post described the Times' suggestion of yesterday as "singularly maladroit."

France Mobilizes Her Armed Might As Warning

While the world awaited outcome of the still critical Czech minority problem and Nazis were gathering at Nuremberg for the annual party congress, France moved an undisclosed number of her 8,000,000 trained reserves toward German frontier fortifications as a "precautionary measure." The move, virtually a partial mobilization, followed concentration of Nazi troops in the Reich's new defence works, recently inspected by Hitler. Here are some views as the poilus of La Belle France started to march again. Camouflaged field gun and crew are moving up to a new position, TOP, while operating near Valdahon, in a heavy rainstorm. Shock troops of the French infantry are the men pictured BELOW, marching into Besancon. Reports indicate that the mighty Maginot line of fortifications has been fully manned for any eventuality.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9—(CP)—Generous allowances should be given to governments in Canada to ensure adequate medical care for expectant mothers, Dr. Donatien Marion of Montreal, chief of the obstetrical service of Notre Dame Hospital, told the congress of the association of French-speaking doctors of North America.

Hepburn Mulls 3 Sources For New Tax Revenue, May Jump Gas Levy Cent

Determined To Lift Heavy Load Off Real Estate

TORONTO, Sept. 10 (CP).—Premier Hepburn disclosed today that the Ontario Government in its determination to lift the tax burden from real estate was considering a choice of at least three new sources of taxation.

The Premier listed these items as being under consideration for action at the next session of the Legislature:

1. Re-enactment of the amusement tax, repealed in June, 1937, with the municipalities rather than province being given the right to collect the tax. Previously the tax went to the province.

2. Passage of legislation giving municipalities the right to impose a sales tax.

3. Increase of the provincial gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon, with proceeds of the increase —about $3,000,000—turned over to municipalities.

Regarding the suggested gas tax boost, Mr. Hepburn said the Government had made no decision and none would be made for several months.

(Ontario motorists pay an average of 26 cents a gallon for gasoline, including tax.)

The gas tax increase was discussed yesterday when Mayor Ralph Day and Toronto Board of Control interviewed the Premier and Welfare Minister Cross regarding Toronto's relief costs.

"We must find some way to assist the municipalities since we have no hope of further support from the Federal Government," the Premier said. "When, in my last budget, I suggested the hope that we could reduce taxation further I did not anticipate increased relief costs and the callous indifference of the Government at Ottawa. Why the amount of assistance we get from Otawa—$465,000 monthly — would not be enough to pay the cost of relief in Toronto alone."

Mr. Hepburn said that before the Cabinet made any decision on the several tax suggestions, proposals would be submitted to a caucus of Government members. Study of the matter will be continued until the first of the year, and it is probable no final decision will be made until just before the next session of the Legislature. Generally, the Legislature meets in January or February.

Cent More In Gas Tax To Cost Motorists $5 Each 10,000 Miles

$5 additional cost if he drives. 10,000 miles per year.

$7.50 additional cost of he drives 15,000 miles per year.

Czechs At Limit Confident In Fair Offers

By Alvin Steinkopf
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 10 —(AP)—Czechoslovak officials held to the conviction today that they could face the world and Adolf Hitler with a clear conscience in their fight with the Sudeten German minority over self-government.

Czechoslovakia, they asserted, has done its utmost to preserve an honorable peace with a far-reaching appeasement plan, beyond which it can not go.

"There was a well-founded presumption that these points would be stressed by President Eduard Benes in an address tonight before an expectant nation and world.

The Prague government published last night 12 terms under which it is prepared to call off the bitter argument with the Nazi-supported Sudeten Germans.

New York, Sept. 10.

WILLIAMS S. KNUDSEN, president of General Motors Corportation, predicted today that automobile production for 1939 would show an increase of 25 to 30 per cent over 1938.

Knudsen¼ sailing for a five-week tour of his company's European plants, based his prediction "on the fact that new and used car stocks are so low."

The motor executive said there was "definitely a possibility" the new models would be lower priced.

Canada With Most Wheat Since '32 May Have 230,000,000 Bus. To Sell In The World's Markets

OTTAWA, Sept. 10 — (CP). — Canada probably will have more than 230,000,000 bushels of this year's wheat available to sell in world markets, government figures showed to-day.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics in its first estimate of this year's Canada field crop yield set the wheat harvest at 358,433,000 bushels, nearly double the final estimate of last year's crop which was 182,410,000 bushels, and the highest production since 1932 when 443,061,000 bushels were harvested. Average yield from 1928 to 1937 was 329,761,000 bushels.

Home consumption of wheat likely will be between 110,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels, leaving more than 230,000,000 for export.

In Washington, the United States Agriculture Department estimated the U.S. wheat crop would be 939,972,000 bushels. The U.S. has announced a subsidy program for export of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and 5,000,000 of flour.

It is expected here that practically the entire Canadian crop will be handled by the Canadian Wheat Board which will pay the Western farmer 80 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Fort William. The price also has been fixed on other grades and any losses suffered by the board in marketing the wheat at a lower price will be met by the Dominion Treasury.

"It was the largest ice pack I have ever seen, said Macmillan. "Although we were caught in the pack for eight days, there was no real danger."

Michigan Health Law Checks 553 Cases

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 10—(CP) — Dr. Donald Gudakunst, state health commissioner, said today that Michigan's pre-marriage health law, which makes physical examination compulsory, has found 553 positive or doubtful cases of syphilis in the nine months of its operation.

"This in itself is evidence that the law is much worthwhile," Dr. Gudakunst said. "Almost all o these cases must be assumed to be persons who did not know they were diseased and who are now being treated."

"If they had married without a health examination, the disease would have spread and syphilitic babies would be born. The law has forestalled in these cases two of the greatest tragedies possible in our day."

All Speculation Says Britain Of Press "Tips"

LONDON, Sept. 10 —(CP)— The British government moved brusquely today to quell a welter of speculation over what Great Britain planned to do in the German-Czechoslovak crisis.

An official statement from No. 10 Downing street at 12:25 p.m. today said:

"In view of statements which have appeared in the last day or so regarding reported decisions of the ministers it can be stated authoritatively that no such statements should be regarded as authentic."

The statement obviously embraced the whole range of newspaper speculation.

Prime Minister Chamberlain began a series of conferences at No. 10 Downing street. In succession he received Sir Samuel Hoare, Home secretary, Clement Attlee, leader of the opposition, and Winston Churchill, Conservative veteran and former cabinet minister.

Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax received the United States Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, at the foreign office.

The usual crowds who gather when important decisions are regarded as near assembled in Downing street.

There was a wide range of reports about British intentions in the German Czechoslovak controversy over minority rights.

Another Note To Hitler?

One report was the unqualified state in an editorial in the Daily Mail (Independent) that Britain was sending a note to Hitler to tell him she would not stand aside if he marched into Czechoslovakia.

New naval orders for complements to board the first mine-sweeping flotilla, comprising seven ships, and for full commission from reserve status on four mine-layers were issued.

They seemed designed to avoid a situation such as existed in August, 1914, when Britain's entire mine-sweeping fleet was composed of six old gunboats.

The orders found the home fleet in the North Sea; the battle cruiser Repulse and the 4th destroyer flotilla at Portland, important naval base at the western end of the English

Massed Nazi Cohorts Assure Dictator 100 p.c. Backing In Any Move As Fuehrer Tests Nations Feeling

Million Heils Echo Adolf's Boast 'We Bow To Nobody'

By Louis P. Lochner
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 10—(AP).—Nazi spokesmen said today Adolf Hitler now demands nothing less than German annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German area and its 3,500,000 inhabitants.

Der Fuehrer had his followers' assurances they would support him 100 per cent, come what may in the German-Czech crisis, although he warned them "there are clouds on the horizon."

Hitler on the huge Zeppelin meadow last night carefully tested out how his followers might respond to his call in the event of trouble ahead in the controversy in which Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German minority, under Hitler's protection, demands autonomy.

The response was perfect. Pledges of complete loyalty came from 280,000 persons, 180,000 of them trained political subleaders and organizers attending the annual Nazi party rally here.

"We Bow to None."

"The Nazi spirit capitulates before nobody," Hitler shouted with a voice full of conviction. His followers shouted "Heil" for minutes on end.

"At a time when there are clouds on the horizon," he proclaimed, "I can rely blindly upon you." Again a million "heils" were shouted in reply.

"I see about me those millions of unflinching, nay fanatical, national socialists, whose leadership you constitute and for whose leadership you are responsible.

"Just as I could rely upon you in the days of our struggle (for power), so today again Germany and I can depend upon you."

The zeppelin field was lighted by 150 huge searchlights whose beams were so slanted upward that they formed a cathedral-like dome of light over the vast arena on which stood the political organizers, 36,000 of whom carried the banners of their local organizations, and over the grandstands crowded with 100,000 cheering spectators.

Bennett In England Plans 'Some Walking'

LONDON, Sept. 10—(CP Cable)—R. B. Bennett, retired leader of the Canadian Conservative party, arrived in England today in the liner Empress of Australia. He was greeted in London by a representative of the staff of the Canadian High Commissioner.

"There can be no unusual significance in my visit, and now I am no longer in public life, I have positively no statements to make for publication," he told newspapermen.

Earlier in the day when he landed from the liner at Southampton he explained he made the journey because he wanted a rest.

The former Prime Minister asked for the latest news of events in Central Europe at Southampton but declined a statement when asked if his visit was connected with the situation.

He said he did not know how long he was staying in England. Asked if he would see members of the British government, Mr. Bennett said: "Well, I walk about a lot."

BULLETIN

PRAGUE, Sept. 10 (CP-Havas)—'Unshakeable faith' that Czechoslovakia will successfully solve the problem of the Sudeten German autonomy demands was expressed by President Eduard Benes late today in a broadcast appeal to the nation to remain calm in the present critical period.

The government resumed negotiations this morning with Sudeten German representatives on the government's proposals for a final peaceful settlement of the status of this minority.

These proposals, Benes said, should permit a solution of the only difficult problem remaining to a country which had calmly and in an orderly manner solved problems which in other lands led to troubles.

Of the total the greatest number were in Quebec with 601 and in Ontario with 252.

Red Jew Moscow Runs Czechs Shouts Goering

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 10. — (CP-Havas). — Field Marshal Goering, in the first open mention of Czechoslovakia at the Nuremberg Nazi Congress, to-day asserted it was "intolerable that this people without culture should be able to conduct itself thus toward a great civilized people.

Speaking before the Nazi Labor front, Goering, who is Air Minister and chief of Germany's four-year economic plan, charged the Czechoslovaks unceasingly molested Sudeten Germans.

"We know who is behind the ridiculous dwarfs of Prague," he shouted. "It is Moscow and the eternal Jewish instigation."

Goering affirmed that the Rome-Berlin axis was "more solid than ever."

"Great Britain, she who chatters so much about peace, would do well to give peace and order to its old country of Jews (Palestine)," he went on.

Enough to Eat for 30 Years

He repeated Chancellor Hitler's announcement made earlier in the week that Germany was "assured against any blockade." "The Reich and Italy constitute in Europe, with Japan in Asia, the sole rampart against the world pestilence of Bolshevism."

"Even if a war were to last 30 years the German people should have enough to eat," Goering said. "That was my first worry."

He said of the Czechs: "This small fraction of Europeans haggle with other men entrusted to them and

German Troops Said Massing Behind Austro-Czech Border

LONDON, Sept. 10 (CP Cable)—The British government has not sent fresh instructions to Sir Nevile Henderson, ambassador to Germany, to see Chancellor Hitler, it was stated officially today.

The announcement came a few minutes after an official statement was made public at No. 10 Downing Street which was interpreted as a denial of newspaper reports Great Britain was preparing to send a note to the German government.

A whole welter of reports, rumors and predictions were heard on every side. It was at these the official statement was aimed. It read:

"In view of statements which have appeared in the last day or so regarding reported decisions of the ministers, it can be stated authoritatively that no such statements should be regarded as authentic."

Nothing From Henderson

The foreign office has received no report from Sir Nevile Henderson relating to his conversation with Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop at Nuremberg yesterday. London was not sure of his movements, but it was stated definitely he was not instructed to seek out Hitler.

Meanwhile London afternoon papers featured the reported massing of German troops along the old Austro-Czechoslovak frontier. One report had 200,000 men in a belt 50 miles deep.

There was no confirmation in official circles of these reports.

Among delegates seeing Lord Halifax were the United States and Japanese ambassadors.

Crowds Await News

Meanwhile, big crowds gathered in Downing street to watch the procession of ministers and advisers who entered No. 10 to confer with Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Clement Attlee, leader of the (Labor) opposition in the House of Commons, was there in response to an invitation to talk over the international situation. So was Winston Churchill. Cabinet Ministers who entered were Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax.

The foreign office could not say whether negotiations had been resumed at Prague between the Czech government and its Sudeten German minority. But it was indicated a resumption would not be surprising. It was seen here as likely a settlement would be reached over the "riding crop incident" and the parties would get together again.

Brantford Shack-Dweller Dies In Night Blaze

BRANTFORD, Ont., Sept. 10. — (CP).—The charred remains were all that were found of Pete Nicholls, 45, early to-day after the shack which he used as his dwelling was completely razed by fire. The partially destroyed torso was found by firemen who were probing about the ashes seeking to find the cause of the fire.

When firemen arrived on the scene all that remained were the four corner posts of the 10-by-18 feet shack. Water from the booster pump was used to cool the embers and then the body was discovered. Chief Coroner Dr. A. J. Craven, Crown Attorney F. E. D. Wallace and Provincial Constable C. W. Farrow investigated.

Firing Squad Ends Career Of Russian Woman Spy

MOSCOW, Sept. 10.—(AP). — A firing squad has ended the career of a dangerous woman spy, according to the Soviet Russian army newspaper, Red Star.

It told this story to-day of how "Xenia K" succeeded in getting a job in the Red army military institute and obtained military information for a foreign power:

"Xenia K" was the daughter of a big gold field operator and was married to an officer of the anti-Communist White Guard, with whom she escaped to Manchuria after the collapse of the White Guard forces.

She became a waitress and dancer and, finally, an agent for a foreign military service.

She married a Soviet worker on the Chinese Eastern Railway in order to re-enter the Soviet Union when he was ordered home. She was refused permission to return to Russia, however, and was smuggled in 1932.

After her husband's death in 1934, she found employment as a telephone operator in the military institute, and later was given an office job where she had access to military information.

Red Star did not name the power it accused her of serving. It said her espionage was discovered by the secret police. She was tried and sentenced to death here.

Driver Watches Plane Runs Red Light, Alibi Saves $1 Fine

Indianapolis, Sept. 10.

ARTHUR BIRDWELL escaped a traffic fine of $1 and costs today with a brand new alibi. Charged with "running" a red light, Birdwell told the court:

"We had stopped for the red light. Also we were watching a lighted airplane in the sky. Suddenly my daughter said: 'The light has changed'. I thought she was talking about the traffic light, so I drove ahead. Instead she was talking about the lights on the plane."

The Judge was convinced.

Mapper of the Moon Suspects Peaks Hold Form of Fungus Life

Barnehurst, Gent, Sept. 10 (CP).

FOR FOUR YEARS H. Percy Wilkins, A Welsh engineer, has been engaged on one of the world's biggest mapping jobs and he is only half finished. For amusement Wilkins is working on a 25-foot map of the moon, a task that has led him to believe there is some low form of vegetable life on the earth's apparently-dead satellite.

Among ragged, unweathered mountain peaks, some of which rise higher than Everest, astronomers have spotted dark patches which move along the moon's face.

"Personally, I think they are some low form of fungus in the damp spots," says Wilkins. "There are other things that lead me to believe there are traces of moisture and some slight atmosphere on the surface of the moon. Life, maybe, but human life, definitely not."

Children's admission was reduced to five cents to ensure juveniles would enjoy a last fling.

The annual horse show will conclude tonight before the official finale, the pageant at the band shell honoring the Canadian National Exhibition.

Looking Back
On This Date

SEPTEMBER 10

On this date (September 10) in 1864 the citizens of Halifax had their first view of statesmen from "Canada." The conference at Charlottetown at the first of the month having decided to shelve the question of a maritime union in order to consider the greater one of a union of all the British colonies in North America, the delegates from the Province of Canada were invited to visit both Halifax and Saint John before returning home. And Halifax, which had long dreamed of being the gateway to a British country which would stretch to the Pacific Ocean, waxed warm in its welcome.

Party lines were sunk for the occasion. Dr. Charles Tupper, who had long preached unity, presided at a banquet and made one of the most eloquent speeches of his career. The Nova Sectians were much impressed with the calibre of the delegates. The Scottish accents of both George Brown and John A. Macdonald sounded familiar to the citizens of "New Scotland." Curiously enough, the date was the anniversary of the day in 1621 when James I granted that immense tract of country to Sir William Alexander who named it Nova Scotia. The Gallic-born words of George E. Cartier convinced the Haligonians that French Canada was both loyal to the crown and eager for a united country. And then to complete the pleasure, came the eloquent utterances of that famed orator from Erin, Thomas d'Arcy McGee. The fact that both Cartier and McGee had at one time been in rebellion against the crown but added to their importance in the great task which was to be attempted.

From Halifax the Canadians went on to Saint John. There, the Loyalist City was equally hospitable, and when the delegates left for home they took with them a conviction that the provinces by the sea were ready to join hands and make a greater Canada. The Canadians had, of course, to return home by way of Portland. It was not until 1876 that travelers were able to proceed to Quebec over the Intercolonial, one of the first fruits of Confederation, and urged by Lord Elgin as far back as 1848.

thus cause trouble in Europe, but instead of seeking the centre of the troubles all that is sought is their periphery.

"We know that it is intolerable that this people without culture—no one even knows really whence they come—should be able to conduct itself thus toward a great civilized people."

Goering warned Czechoslovakia that "a small part of the European population is frivolously harassing human being but we know what's behind it."

Concerning German fortifications on her western borders, Goering said, "never in history has Germany been so strong as today.

Forts Impassable

"Never had we a better fortification zone than in the west. No power on earth will get through it."

His hearers stood shouting.

The Reich could build her western fortifications only because "hundreds of thousands of workers were taken from their jobs and sent there for this essential task," Goering declared.

"It simply was a matter of life and death that invincible barriers be erected in the west. Our workers realized its necessity and gladly and heartily obeyed the decree which I hesitantly issued but which was necessary for safeguarding the nation's defence."

"The world resounds with war and talk of war," he said," he said. "Immediately the guilty ones are discovered: the states of order, Italy and Germany. Yet these two peoples have proven they of all nations could establish peace at home. That is because they didn't have anonymous parliamentarians to run them but two great men have taken responsibility."

Air Force World's Best?

Air Minister of Germany and director of its four-year plan for economic self sufficiency, Goering called Germany's air force the best in the world, declared the Reich was winning the world armament race and announced Germany could resist any blockade.

"What our Fuehrer does is always right, therefore we will follow him wherever he leads us," he thundered amid tremendous applause.

Regarding aviation, he asserted: "Our air force is technically the most perfect and numerically the strongest, the most ready to give all for the Fatherland of any country in the world."

He declared Germanys fortifications "of enormous extent" protect the nation against all attacks, and that "no power in the world" will ever pass across Germany."

Loud Speakers Introduce Newlyweds Amidst Horn-Blasting and Shouting

"LAADIESSS and gentlemennn! At last they've done it. Bert Cowan and the beautiful Ruth Chambers are married. They're married!"

Tony Johnston's sound truck blatted these words at hundreds of shoppers in the heart of the city this morning as it dragged Cowan's car slowly down George street, followed by dozens of horn-blasting cars filled with jubilant friends. It was a royal sendoff Bert Cowan and Ruth Chambers received to-day, the most elaborate one to be staged in this city in years. Peterborough's nerves have been frayed before by horn-tooting wedding celebrants, but never before has a loud speaking system been pressed into use for such an occasion. The show had all the atmosphere of a circus come to town.

It all started when one of Bert's friends tricked Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr into revealing that the ceremony, a private one, was to be held at Miss Chambers' home. "I think I'll keep out of Dr. Barr's path for a while until he cools down," said the successful trickster.

Dozens of the couple's friends crept up on their automobile while they were in the house being married. They disconnected the distributor head to avert any attempted get-away, plastered the car with signs and wrote on it with soap, finally fastened it to the back of Tony Johnston's sound truck. The newlyweds' first intimation of their horror-ride came when they left the house and were smothered under by a few bushels of oats, kindly provided by one of the Examiner's carrier boys. Despite the fact Cowan is circulation manager and direct boss over the carrier boys, there were no bricks in the oats.

The procession ended on the outskirts of the city on number 7 highway, on the way to Ottawa. Only there did the celebrants discover that Cowan had intended to go out by way of Port Hope.

Fast-Growing James Bay Beavers To Be 'Life' For Waning Indians

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—(CP)—There are many more beaver than expected in the game sanctuary on James Bay recently set aside by the Dominion government for the exclusive use of Indians, Dr. H. W. McGill, Director of the Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, said today.

Dr. McGill said it had been expected that Indians would be allowed to start trapping the beaver within 10 years but he was reporting to Resources Minister Crerar that a start could probably be made earlier.

Mr. Crerar has been greatly concerned over the 4,000 Ojibway and Cree Indians in the James Bay agency who have been having a difficult time of it because of the shortage of fur and good animals. On instructions of Mr. Crerar, Dr. McGill made a tour of the hamlets along both sides of James Bay and as far north on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay as Great Whale.

"Depletion of food and fur-bearing animals in this area is a serious matter for the Indians," said Dr. Magill. "Even rabbits are scarce now. Moose and caribou are rarely seen." For the past two years the government has supplied summer relief to some Indians who could not find food enough. The Hudson's Bay Company also supplied relief.

Dr. Magill reports that the Indians show no desire to come south, nor indeed any interest in what is beyond their natural habitation. At Great Whale there is some mingling of Eskimos and Indians but interracial marriages are rare.

Reports said quantities of fuel oil had been taken to Portland in the past few days, where the fourth flotilla was ordered to engage in anti-submarine practice.

The minesweepers, attached to the first mine-sweeping flotilla based at Portland, are the Hebe, Hazard, Sharpshooter, Hussar, Salamander, Speedwell and Niger—all in the 815-ton Halcyon class.

Naval reserve officers attached to the 1,100-ton destroyers Versatile, Vimy, Vortigern and Walker were ordered to report for duty by the Admiralty. The Versatile is at present stationed at Chatham, the Vimy and Vortigern at Portsmouth and the Walker at Devonport.

All sections of the British press advised more action by the government.

Tot, Prisoner Years Still Cannot Talk

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 10. — (AP). — Alice Harris, six-year-old child, babbled incoherently in the Fayette county home to-day, still unable to talk or walk because of her long confinement in a farmhouse storage room where she was found eight months ago.

The child, grown seven pounds heavier with careful diet, supervision, has a mental age of about an eight-months-old baby, said Home Matron Mrs. A. M. Mead.

The matron disclosed that the child's grandfather, David Harris, a Perryopolis farmer, has arranged to pay for her care. She will begin living with a private family next week.

Harris and the child's unmarried mother, Martha Harris, 27, were charged with cruelty to an infant but the charges were later dismissed.

Humane agents found the girl, emaciated and crippled, last February in the second floor room. Agent E. M. Smith said she had been wedged in a broken chair and her frail arms tied above her head. She then weighed 31 pounds, 21 below normal.

HUTTON WAS MAGNET

LONDON—(CP).—A juror, late for sessions here, said an accident at the Oval delayed him. The "accident" occurred during the final England-Australia test cricket match when Hutton made a record score of 364.

Rudy and Judy Stir Romance Rumors

Accessory Aids Pocketless Jap

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 10—(C. P.). — Mrs. Seth Comstock, West Hartford, has a collection of Japanese "netsuke." The items were acquired by her husband, the late Dr. Seth Comstock, when they visited Japan in 1905.

A netsuke is technically a toggle. That it, it is a sort of button which may be affixed temporarily to a cord. Actually it is a bit of ivory, horn, bone, metal or wood, used in the kimono sash to balance whatever the Japanese wants to carry. The Japanese, in the hereditary costume of his race, has no pockets except the ends of his sleeves. Consequently when a man or woman wants to carry a fan, a make-up kit, a pipe-case, a medicine chest or any other small article, he or she attaches the object to a cord and a netsuke to the other end and slips the cord through the obi, the sash. The netsuke balances the object on the other end.

The netsuke is carved, inland or lacquered to become often a true and important work of art. Although it is usually small — two or three inches in diameter—the greatest artists of Japan have not hesitated to give it their loving attention, and most of the best netsukes bear famous signatures.

The Golden Text

1 Samuel 15:22—"To obey is better than sacrifice."

Biblical Thoughts For the Shut-Ins

By Rev. E. R. James Toronto

WHAT DO I KNOW OF THE BIBLE. EZEKIEL, THE PROPHET OF THE EXILE.

THE LORD said unto me;— Son of man, stand upon thy feet and I will speak unto thee. Ezekiel 2:1.

What a command to a downcast prisoner. Ezekiel was a captive in the land of Mesopatamia He had been carried away with the princes and the flower of his people by Nebuchadnezza about 587 B.C. Like Jeremiah he was a priest living towards the end of Jeremiahs life and ministry

It is very helpful to remember the principle underlying the carrying away of a people from their own land into a new. It was religicus. It was the outward and visible sign to the conquered people that their national god was not able to deliver them out of the hands of the gods of the Babylonian King.

Can you not hear the scorn in the voice of Rabsheka when he cried in the Jews language:—"Beware, lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying:—The Lord will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the King of Assyria." Is. 36; 18.

The Jews believed that Jehovah was their special God and that He was able to deliver them out of the hands of their enemies. They did not doubt the existence of other gods. So when the flower of Israel was carried away captive into Babylon it was an outward and visible sign that Jehovah was not able to deliver His people.

In the fifth year of his captivity the call came to Ezekiel. "In the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar the Hand of the Lord was there upon me." 1:3. He was sure Jehovah was speaking to him in the land of the captivity. But his fellow-countrymen could not believe it. Jehovah was the God of Palestine. It was absurd to think that He could sppeak to an exile priest far away in Mesopatamia. Do you blame these Jews for their unbelief? Six hundred years later the same principle was in the minds of the religious leaders of Our Lord's day when they asked with scorn:—"Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" So for eleven long years Ezekiel had to fight against the unbelief of his own people. Jerusalem had not yet fallen and he constantly prophesied its capture. It would happen because of their terrible idolatry. Their leaders had even fallen into sun worship—the Egyptian cult.

Others offered their children in sacrifice to Molach:— "Thou hast slain my children by causing them to pass through the fire." 20:31.

Therefore Ezekiel prophesied nothing but disaster to them as a nation. and, about all, the destruction of their Temple. One day a young man, who had escaped, brought Ezekiel the awful tidings: "The City is smitten."

It meant utter desolation and break up of the people's faith and hope. Jehovah had forsaken them. Jehovah was too weak to save them from the hands of their enemies.

Then in that darkest hour Ezekiel begins his new Evangel. Jehovah will save his people through the faith and hope of a remnant. They will pass through the fire and come forth from the exile purified from their idolatries. Slowly they are to learn that Jehovah is not only a national God, but the living God, the only God, the Almighty God. Can you read more thrilling words than these, uttered by a man living in the midst of a mighty and all-powerful nation:— "I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen; which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes." 36:23.

Slowly, gradually, as they are able to bear it, God is revealing to His ancient people that He is not only their God, a national God, but He is the only living God, the Father of all mankind. He gave them this revelation that they might pass it on to others. It was a trust. The Jews knew the truth that Jehovah is the One living God. They learnt this through the fires of persecution. But it made them hard, self-righteous. They believed their blood was superior to the blood of the gentiles.

It is important for us to remember today the profound truth, which is the reason for foreign missions.

"THAT GOD HATH MADE OF ONE BLOOD ALL NATIONS OF MEN."

Saul—Moral Failure

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. AVLIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for September 11 is I Samuel 10:17-25; 15:10-23; 28:3-25; 31:3-6, the Golden Text being I Samuel 15:22, "To obey is better than sacrifice.")

SAUL, first king of Israel, is the most tragic character of the Old Testament. He started well; he had the guidance of Samuel, the loyalty of David and Jonathan, the opportunity of a great national service; but he made shipwreck of it all on the rock of his own willfulness. All could have been different had he, with that other Saul of the New Testament, only been willing to say continually, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

"Make Us A King"

The crushing grief of Samuel's life was the nation's rejection of God's ideal for them in the theocracy for their own plan of a monarchy. This people, whose Ruler was to have been Jehovah, grieved Samuel with the demand, "Make us a King to judge us like all the nations." God intended them to be "a peculiar people"; they rebelled and insisted on being "like all the nations." Therefore God said to Samuel, "They have rejected me that I should not reign over them."

"God Save the King"

Thus it came about that God acceded to their demand and directed Samuel to select and anoint Saul to be Israel's first king. "And when he stood among the people, he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders and upward." And Samuel said to all the people, See ye him whom Jehovah hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted and said, "Long Live the King." And this man of the people's choice had kingly qualities other than that of a good physique. Chief among these was his humility. He demurred to Samuel on the grounds of the smallness of his tribe and the obscurity of his family; he hid among the baggage when they sought for him to crown him; he refused to punish those who objected to the choice of him as king; when they taunted him with his unfitness "he was as though he had been deaf."

Had Saul thus continued to follow the leading of God's Spirit in obedience to God's word through Samuel he would not have made shipwreck of his throne and of his soul as he did. Within 20 years from his accession we come upon an entirely different man in King Saul. Years of success have turned his head and hardened his heart. He has become willful, arrogant and disobedient, even usurping the priestly functions of Samuel in his vanity. Ordered to utterly exterminate the wicked Amalekites and their cruel king, Agag with all of their possessions, Saul turned the crusade into a curse by turning the conquest to his own selfish gain and vain glory. He spared Agag to adorn his triumphal return and the best of the sheep and oxen for his own prfoit. "I have performed the commandment of the Lord . . . the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen to sacrifice unto Jehovah thy God.'

To which sickening alibi Samuel replied, "Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice and to hearken than the fat of rams."

In other words, empty, loveless worship, from rebellious and willful hearts can never qualify as religion in the sight of God. Saul's doom is sealed by his own rebellion. He has forsaken God and as a result God forsakes him. He may resort to the devil and the works of darkness with the witch of Euder and thereby only add to his sin, but judgment fell speedily in his death on the battlefield of Gilboa.

Will Ordain Deaconess

An unusual and very interesting service will be held in All Saints' Church on Sunday, at the 11 a.m. o'clock service, when Miss Grace Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tucker of 529 Romaine Street is to be set apart and ordained to the Order of Deaconess in the Church of England. Miss Tucker is a graduate of the Church of England Deaconess and Missionary Training House and afterwards went to Japan to study the language. Her present work is in Holy Cross Mission among the Japanese in Vancouver, B.C. She is at present home on leave of absence but returns to the west coast at the end of this month.

Bishop Hamilton, under whom she worked in Japan, will be the officiating Bishop, and representatives are expected from the Dominion and Diocesan Board of the Women's Auxiliary and also the Principal and other representatives of the Deaconess House.

Cathedral Musings

Always toward the end of each zodiacal cycle, a great spiritual unrest and fermentation arises among humanity. Men begin to question, to seek for a new presentation of truth, to look for a great spiritual leader or teacher to arise, to look for the return of the golden age, a new coming of the kingdom of heaven and a finish to the evil conditions that enslave them.

Conditions, that in reality, they have created for themselves, and that only they can destroy. The present time is no exception, for there are many to-day who, in all sincerity, are looking and awaiting the end of all things. It has all happened before and doubtless, will all happen again in the future at the close of another two thousand years or so. Man is still much as he has always been. The kingdom of heaven is not a matter of outward pomp or circumstances, but a matter of inward change and becoming. If this world was man's true home, if man was solely an animal being, then the current crassly materialistic conception of heaven would be logical. But man is a spiritual being, created in the spiritual image and likness of the Living God, who is pure Spirit and man's higherstate is not material, but spiritual likeness. Hence it is idle to look for the coming of the kingdom in the outward sense, compared with the fitting of ourselves for the coming of the kingdom inwardly. For we may rest assured that if it does not come to us within ourselves, it will never reveal itself outwardly to others. So that, while it is our plain duty to do all that we can to better this life, yet the fact remains that the present purpose of this world is to serve as a training school for our evolving personalties. We may overcome the problems incidental to our present stage of growth and rise above them, but we then find that our very advancement has presented us with other difficulties to overcome. And ever, as we rise, we find this is so. For man's goal is toward the Infinite Perfection of the Father, which is within him.—

Story Of Japan Is Sermon Topic

Regular services will be resumed in St. Andrew's Church on next Sunday morning and evening. Rev. E. W. Young has returned from his vacation and will have charge of both services. The Sunday School will be held at 3 o'clock with Dr. C. M. Scott, superintendent in charge. Teachers and scholars are requested to attend in full numbers.

In the evening at 7 o'clock a picture sermon will be given entitled 'It Happened in Japan.' Many strange things are happening in Japan in these days. The story of them would be interesting to us, but it is doubtful if it will ever be told. Our newspapers tell us of cruelties which make us shudder. A military clique has risen to power in the nation, and the common people have little influence.

This story however is one of Christian heroism and devotion. It is told by Rev. M. M. Whiting, a missionary of the United Church of Canada, a native of Ontario who was a delegate to The General Council in Hamilton in 1932. The story has reference to a boy pupil of Kwansei Gakiun, Christian College of which Rev. C. G. L. Bates, M.A., D.D. is principal. Dr. Bates is a delegate to The General Council to be held in Toronto the closing two weeks of this month.

It is refreshing to hear that missionary work in Japan is being carried on vigorously in these days, and that the native Christians are showing a fine spirit in their dealings with people who are supposed to be their enemies. A Korean labourer and his family come into the story, and exhibit a spirit of kindness, and charity which show that our religion has put its stamp upon their lives.

Some people question the value of Christian missions, and refuse to support them. Such folk should hear this simple story, told by a native of Ontario who has made good in the far East.

The Human Side of the News

By EDWIN C. HILL

A rare picture taken in St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome during a beatification ceremony, an occasion both solemn and impressive, when the Roman Catholic Church designates as saints those who have been credited with good works in the name of God and the Church. Frances Xavier Cabrini, an Italian nun, who did remarkable work among the poor and suffering in United States, and who died in 1917, will be honored with a beatification on November 17.

The baby was just one hour old. Yet it was blind, its mite of a body was already racked with suffering. It was suffering from double pneumonia and from two large burns caused by the mistake of an exhausted nurse. The doctors looked at the little creature and shook their heads. Its case, they said, was hopeless, beyond anything that medical science could do. The spark of life in that tiny body was barely alive, must go out within hours, probably minutes.

It was sightless a few minutes after it was born, in the city of New York, and afflicted with double pneumonia from the moment it came into the world. A tired nurse had bathed the baby's eyes in a 50 per cent. solution of nitrate of silver instead of a one per cent. solution less than an hour after the child had been delivered.

The mucous membranes and the cornea of each eye were badly burned and the conjunctiva was destroyed. Both eyes were blackened and down both cheeks, to the chest, burned furrows ran to the baby's breast. You could have laid a pencil in any one of those furrows.

A Request

As the doctors stood by and the nurses wrung their hands a missionary sister of the Sacred Heart of Jesus timidly requested permission to pin a relic of Mother Cabrini to the infant's clothes.

"Please let me," said the good sister. "Everything else has failed. Perhaps God will help."

The physician gave permission.

"The case is hopeless," they told the sister. "Do as you wish."

Gently she pinned the relic to the baby's clothing, bowed her head in prayer and left the room. The physicans and nurses who had looked on respectfully placed gauze strips over the suffering eyes and the burns which marked cheeks and breast. They waited for death.

But death did not visit that hospital ward to claim a victim so small, so helpless, so seemingly doomed. Seventy-two hours after the sacred relic was pinned to the baby's clothing not a trace of the burns remained, and eyesight had come to the child. The double pneumonia had vanished. The child was normal in every way. These are the simple facts as vouched for by the doctors and the nurses connected with the case, particularly by Dr. Michael H. Horan, who was in charge. He said:

Baby Now at High School

This is the story of the preservation of Peter Smith, 18-year-old, in the city of New York. The miracle—call it what you will—is attested to by Cardinal Mundelein, who was then Archbishop of Brooklyn. Peter Smith is now a promising high school student and a fine athlete. The story comes back to me as I read that a final decree, authorizing the beautification of Frances Xavier Cabrini, an Italian nun, who came to this country and did remarkable work among the poor and suffering, has been read before the congregation of rites in the presence of Pope Pius in Rome.

The beautification ceremony has been set, tentatively, for Nov. 13. A decree permitting beautification was approved by the congregation of rites on July 19. It decided that two recoveries from what seemed to be fatal illness must be attributed to the intervention of Mother Cabrini and be listed, if that is the word, as authentic miracles. The other case was the recovery of Sister Delfina Grazioli, in Seattle, in 1925.

Mother Cabrini first came to this country in 1894. She founded the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. She died in Chicago in 1917 and was buried in New York. The Roman Catholic church will sanctify her at the approved date following the ceremony of beautification next November, and another saint will be added to the long roll of the men and women credited with good works in the service of God and the church.

Impressive Ceremony

No one who has ever witnessed a ceremony of beautification in the great basilica of St. Peter in Rome, could fail to be impressed, whatever his or her religious faith, with the tremendous solemnity and atmosphere of faith which hangs over all.

His Holiness on his throne. The vast cathedral barely filled with 50,000 worshippers. The majestic intonations of the Gregorian chants from the lips of the choir. The gorgeous spectacle of the cardinals in their crimson robes. The medieval atmosphere of the Pope's guard, wearing their uniforms of the 16th century. But most of all the rise and fall of that stupendous sacred music as the beautification takes place, like nothing so much as the beating of vast wings.

Fire In Mattress

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 10 (CP).—Constable Louis Cartmell, patrolling his beat to-day, saw smoke pouring from a window on the third floor of the hotel. Rusing Thomas Dean, night man at the hotel, he rushed up the stairs and discvered that a guest had fallen asleep while smoking a cigarette.

They wakened the man, grabbed the bedding and dumped them into the bath tub in an adjoining room and drew a pan of water to extinguish the fire in the mattress.

Saul: Moral Failure — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—I Samuel 10:17-25; 15:10-23; 28:3-25; 31:1-10.

God wanted Israel to be a theocracy with himself as king. But the people demanded a king like the nations about them. So God commanded Samuel to anoint Saul as their king.

The people were delighted with Saul as their first king. He stood head and shoulders above them and they shouted, "God save the king." Saul started out very humbly but soon became vain.

After defeating the Amelekites under Agag, Saul disobeyed God in sparing Agag and the best of the spoil, pretending to use the animals as sacrifices to God.

God allowed Israel's old enemies, the Philistines to triumph over them. Saul's sons were killed in battle and he committed suicide.

Facing a Hard Time

San Francisco is the hotbed for strikes. We believe it has had more large-size strikes than any city of its size on the continent. Right now it faces another strike of clerks, and reports say it is expected 6,000 of them will leave their places in department and other retail places.

The stores make the announcement they are going to remain open and do business as best they can and they claim they can secure all the help they need. That of course is rather an exaggerated statement.

But there is not much more exaggeration to it than there is to the method of this strike. From what can be learned the clerks have but recently formed a union, and that in itself would mean their union would have no strike funds. And when it comes down to the serious business of having something with which to buy groceries and pay the rent during a strike the business of strike funds is something which cannot be overlooked. It may be a hard way to look at a strike and it has in it no sympathy, but the law and history of strikes shows plainly that calling a large strike without financial backing is the first step toward defeat.

Might Shock Economists

When the Canadian Good Roads Association starts its annual session we expect to be presented with a good many facts and figures. One of the most amazing statements presented was that given by W. G. Robertson, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Automobile Association. Just this—that recent surveys made in United States showed that 33 per cent. of the cars in operation were owned by families whose annual income was less than $1,000 per year, and 90 per cent. of families owning cars had incomes of less than $3,000 a year.

The word amazing is not too strong to apply to the first part of that statement—that 33 per cent. of all car-owning families in United States have incomes of less than $1,000 per year. If a similar survey were to be made in Canada it would probably show results much the same. And "less than $1,000 a year" means less than $20 per week.

Perhaps the easiest thing to say about such a situation would be that there should be a law passed, or that something should be done about it. But that would mean little or nothing. The broader picture shows that a good deal can be done on a salary of less than $1,000 a year, and that figure is of wide interest because it is known that many workers in our industrial centres are not paid much more than the $1,000 mark.

The economist may say it is all wrong and cannot be done and should not be attempted, but against that is the cheerful and slightly heroic fact that the lack of a large income does not mean that people have to sit on the steps and watch the wealthy of the world go by. The 33 per cent. class cannot afford the type of car used by their financial superior; they cannot stay at the well-appointed places which he frequents; they cannot afford to have people driving their cars for them. But they can and they do go. They see places and do things they never thought possible a few years ago. If they have to stint and save and do without several things in order to make the family car go then that is exactly the course they follow.

And there is something about that phrase "family car" which we like. It has a sort of inclusive meaning which is wholesome. It means that the front seat and the back seat are probably full and that things are often enough tied on the side. No—we are not at all inclined to do some editorial scowling and begin scolding the thousands of people in the "less than $1,000" class because they have been able to secure and operate a family car. Rather do we regard it as a delightful example of what people with a limited salary are able to do.

The Worst Thing To Do

The Examiner's correspondent at Hastings had an interview with a hobo who said he had crossed from Atlantic to Pacific seven times in five years. We have no hesitation in referring to him as a hobo because that is the word he applied to himself, and as words go it correctly enough describes his state.

This hobo at Hastings said he believed it "would be a good thing for any young fellow from 16 to 20 years to travel around like I have for a while." And right there we have to disagree with the hobo. We consider it the worst thing that could happen to any youth.

The hobo's own explanation of his method of existence proves our contention. He says getting a "hand-out" is not difficult, and we are inclined to believe he is telling the truth. It would probably be comparatively easy for a young fellow as his youth would create sympathy and make his appeal harder to resist. People would feel sorry for him and he could play on that sentiment to better advantage than an older man.

Several people who have travelled in Germany this year have informed this paper they saw no evidence at all of the hobo variety of people there, and their belief is they would not be tolerated. There may be something strict or perfunctory about the methods used in Germany which would not appeal to us, but their system of dealing with such a situation would probably be better than ours for the simple reason that we have no system. If an individual decides to start riding railway trains and securing a living by asking people for hand-outs then he is at liberty to go ahead and spoil his life and make a general nuisance of himself and collectively we do nothing about it, and as long as we are complacent enough to look at it that way we shall continue to have an abundance of hobo recruits.

We Have Taken It All

Peterborough Lumber Co. has been doing something which lumber companies rarely have an opportunity to do any more—that is, putting through great logs of white pine. Time was when there was a good deal of it in many parts of Ontario, and we have heard of days when it was so plentiful that boards with several knots in their entire generous surface were looked upon as second-rate material.

These logs came from the farm of R. F. Woods in the Millbrook district. The trees were giants for any virgin forest, being 125 feet high and with no branches within 60 feet of the ground. It has been found that many of the logs are three feet in diameter and they are sound.

Years ago a cut of white pine coming to a mill in Peterborough would have created no particular interest; it would have been just another incident in the ordinary day's work. There was so much of it coming then. Today it produces interest because there is so little of it. We have pretty much exhausted the supply and while we have been doing that we have paid little attention to the need of making sure that we had planned for another crop for some future generation. It is quite correct in this way to state we are leaving the country poorer in natural wealth than we found it.

Doesn't Seem Right

Perhaps it is difficult to try to add figures and circumstances together to produce a reasonable answer. To illustrate: In spite of the fact that there is more swimming instruction given today than ever before figures show there are more drownings.

In Toronto there have been more drownings in the first seven months of 1938 than there were in all of the year 1937.

The idea of learning to swim is that one may enter the water in an intelligent and reasonable way and with the minimum of danger. Whether a knowledge of swimming makes one take greater risks is something to which we cannot supply the answer.

There is evidence though that a thorough knowledge of swimming and diving which many of our young folk are acquiring has been the means of preventing fatal accidents in the water. The ones who have gone to the rescue knew exactly what to do; they could not only go to the scene and return in safety themselves, but they knew how to bring a distressed person back to shore and safety.

Even so, those figures are not exactly pleasing and they do not seem to give the right answer—more people learning to swim and more drowning cases in the same year.

Does He Know For Sure?

Ontario is to have another Royal Commission, this time to investigate charges that people are being detained in our provincial mental hospitals who should not be there at all. Premier Hepburn says he knows of one man in St. Thomas who has been held in London for two years and nine months after being sent there for observation, and in Mr. Hepburn's opinion he never was a mental case at all. It is also stated there are the names of 300 patients which are going to be looked into. Before there is any inquiry at all Mr. Hepburn announces the suspension of Dr. George H. Stevenson, superintendent of the London Hospital, and that of course is quite sufficient to ruin a man's professional standing.

There has been for a number of years a consistent tightening up of regulations having to do with the sending of an individual to a mental hospital. There was a time when the family physician was required to sign papers saying that the individual was in a condition which was virtually the equivalent of insane. Doctors felt that was asking too much of them; many of them realized they were not competent to pronounce on so serious a matter. Today it is necessary to have the signature and testimony of two doctors and they go no farther than attesting that the patient is apparently suffering from some form of mental illness which requires proper treatment. It was at the suggestion of the doctors themselves that this change was made; they felt that having the dual form of certificate was more just to the profession and fairer to the patient.

It seems most unlikely that there are 300 patients in our mental hospitals who should not be there. Those in charge of these institutions are honorable people; they do not have to go and seek patients to come to their places of treatment in order to make a statistical showing because they have more now than they can handle. They would be glad enough to thin out their patient list as their own hard problem always has been to show any increase in their discharge rate. If they were honestly able to do that then they could feel they were not working in vain.

If there is something which needs doing and of which Premier Hepburn is aware then there are several more effective ways in which the thing could have been done. It is not at all advisable to create the wholesale belief that everything in connection with our mental institutions is wrong and in need of a great overhauling. Such a method creates too much distress for the thousands of people who have relatives in these places.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Half a million dollars worth of marijuana weed has been destroyed at Brantford by the authorities. It is not explained however to whom the stuff was supposed to have been worth that much.

According to an American scientist ten per cent. of auto drivers are blind at night. There seems fully as many as that who can't see very well in the daylight either.

It is explained that the object behind modern motor highways is to make it rather difficult to get on them. We understand it will not be very hard to get off them if the drivers are not careful.

Toronto tax collections have shown an increase of half a million dollars for the first six months of the year and that means a lot of Toronto folk must feel considerably relieved.

The horseshoe champion of the United States pitched 500 shoes for 351 points, including 335 ringers. They can hardly beat that mark down at the firehall.

Just after it has been decided the new highway will go round Oshawa comes another blow. It is proposed in council to scrap the street railway system in favor of buses.

According to an American scientist, 20 per cent. of the United States drivers avoid head-on collisions by less than a second. That is close enough to hear Gabriel's horn.

The German Consul for Western Canada was talking common-sense when he told German immigrants at Calgary that the best service they could render the fatherland was to be good Canadians.

Canadians are warned about going to England to join the Royal Air Force until they are aware of the qualifications required. It is timely advice but discouraging to those young Canucks who just want to climb into a plane and fly.

Prime Minister Chamberlain is going to visit in Scotland and the freedom of the city of Dundee will be conferred upon him. We understand that is one way of making a fine generous gesture without having it bear down too heavily upon the taxpayers.

Trades and Labor Council in Toronto says Premier Hepburn did not reply to a letter from that body, so instructions were given to write another which is to be made "harsher and stronger." And that of course will give Mr. Hepburn opportunity to answer "I heard you the first time."

SYSTEM

(By A R K.)

¶ A chap who works a lot at books he says I am a careless jay, I do not budget up my cash nor watch the way I spend my pay.

¶ He scolded me a lot of times, he said that he could save me cash, and he was sure I'd have enough to buy my artichokes and hash.

¶ He come along the other night to try and drill me on his stuff, to show how I should keep some books and know when I had spent enough.

¶ He asked me how much rent I paid for living in this goodly town, and then he drew some rules and things and started putting figures down.

¶ What did I pay to heat my shack, what did I pay to light the place, what did I pay for underwear, for taking whiskers off my face?

¶ What did I pay for shoes and socks, what did I pay for liver too, what did I pay for doctor's bills, what for each little boot and shoe?

¶ And he asked questions while I thought about the kale I'd spread around, the list it grew to quite a length as things I'd clean forgot he found.

¶ And then this clever friend of mine he started adding up the stuff, I waited till he finished it, I wondered if I'd spent enough.

¶ He told me what the figure was, it well nigh took my breath away, for it was much more in a year than what I'm drawing in my pay.

¶ He looked triumphant like at me, he said I had a goodly roll, I did not tell him by his plan that I'd sunk badly in the hole.

Beer Interests Short Sighted

(Ottawa Journal)

THE ARNPRIOR CHRONICLE has a long editorial under the caption "Drunkenness Increases Here" which was written, the Editor says, after a month of consideration, after hope died that the situation would adjust itself.

We quote from the editorial:

"Night after night there has come to the Editor's ears news of fights, for the most part drunken brawls, occurring in the two beer parlors which this community boasts. Nightly, too, members of the staff of the Chronicle have seen disgusting evidence on our dark streets that too much beer and other liquid refreshment is finding its way into the stomachs (and brains) of our fellow-citizens. . . .

"Nightly the clamor arising from the beverage rooms of the two local hotels is something to be reckoned with by respectable citizens in the neighborhood who are endeavoring to obtain a comfortable night's rest...

"Drunks are a source of almost continual annoyance to storekeepers and their customers, the former daily being compelled to summon taxis to rid their places of business of these offensive persons. Case after case of persons on relief applying for same have come to council, only to be forced to admit they have been seen in a drunken state previously.

"It would appear that two beverage rooms in Arnprior are just two too many, for it seems that most drinkers here don't know when to stop. And when added to these we have bootleggers to whom drunks may appeal for intoxicants after the beverage rooms close, and on Sundays, the situation becomes altogether too insidious to be dealt with by ordinary means. Something drastic should be done."

The Chronicle thinks the only real solution is "to cut off the source of supply", would "put the question to a vote". But we should like to suggest another plan, and we think a better plan: that the liquor law in Arnprior should be enforced.

The Editor of the Chronicle could have found no pleasure in presenting such a picture of Arnprior, and we have no reason to doubt that it is a fair and impartial picture. If what he says is true it is clear the regulations of the Ontario Liquor Control authority are being violated in the sale of beer to drunken men, in permitting clamor and "drunken brawls" in licensed premises. For such breaches of the regulations a remedy is provided. The Liquor Commission can close up a beverage room, the courts are open to him, he has inspectors and police at his call. It is clear, too, that bootleggers cannot operate in a town the size of Arnprior if there is a determined effort on the part of the authorities to put them in jail and out of business.

The really upsetting feature of the Arnprior Chronicle's complaint is its evidence that those expected to enforce the law are not doing their duty. The co-operation of the Ontario Government should be demanded.

In the most rigid observance of the rules made for beverage rooms no one should have a keener interest than the license-holders, the brewers. If present conditions are allowed to continue in Arnprior an aroused public opinion will demand a referendum, which possibly would bring prohibition to the town—and the weaknesses and consequent evils of prohibition are so fresh in our minds that it has little attraction for us. But its return is inevitable, and not alone in Arnprior, if those with a profit-interest in the sale of beer are so short-sighted as to abuse the privileges they now possess.

JAPAN WANTS HANKOW.

(Detroit Free Press)

THE JAPANESE, if they can take and hold Hankow, will be in possession of more than the temporary capital of China.

The Wuhan cities—Wuchang, Hankow and Hanyang, a triple municipality, at the junction of the Yangtze and Han Rivers, about 600 miles up from the sea—are vital factors in the industrial and commercial life of Central China.

They have a total population of upwards of 1,500,000.

At Hanyang are located the Hanyeh-ping Iron and Steel Works, which have given that city the name of "China's Pittsburgh."

The Japanese have tried in the past to get control of these steel works by means of financial and political pressure, but without success.

The capture of them now would both weaken China and strengthen Japan, whose own steel industry is largely dependent upon imported raw materials, which would be shut off in case of war with the countries from which they are now obtained.

The Wuhan cities are, therefore, a prize which, from the Japanese point of view, warrants the expenditures of men and money that will be required to take them over the dead bodies of their Chinese defenders.

FIGHTING A LA CHINESE

HERE'S A LITTLE tale we ran across the other day which is full of suggestion for both hasty tempered individuals and nations:

"Bishop Francis J. McConnell, standing on the streets of Shanghai, year's ago, saw two Chinese coolies shouting at each other, their noses but two inches apart. They were surrounded by a big crowd of spectators.

"What is the matter?" asked the Bishop.

"There is a Chinese fight on."

"I have been here five minutes and nobody has hit anybody yet," said the Bishop.

"You don't understand," said the observer; "in a Chinese fight the man that strikes first indicates thereby that his ideas have given out."

This would be a lot better world if we did more of our fighting Chinese style. When nations and people resort to force it is an indication of lack of brain power.

• Lloyd's Find It Too Risky

(New York Times)

"THE WORLD'S shock absorber" is a title earned by Lloyd's of London. For years the underwriters of this historic British institution issued any kind of insurance policy except life, offered protection against all possible financial losses.

They were said to have paid $20,000,000 when the Titanic went down in 1912, and $500,000 when Edward VIII abdicated in 1936. They have insured against bandits in Tibet, the likelihood of twins, rust in garden roses, eclipses being hidden by clouds, riots in Chicago, hurricanes in Miami, earthquakes in Tokyo, floods in China and against a man's laying violent hands on his mother-in-law.

Last week it was disclosed that Lloyd's underwriters were refusing to insure against two possibilities: (1) war in Europe; (2) a third term for President Franklin D. Roosevelt. British landowners and property holders will be unable to get financial protection against bombing damage unless their government assumes the risk.

Insurance against a Roosevelt third term was sought by some Washington publishers who had decided to promote a new weekly by offering it for a nominal sum "until the end of the Roosevelt Administration."

• Forcing of Loans in Russia

(Hamilton Spectator Editorial)

WRITING ON MODERN Russia, Miss Cicely Hamilton says: "Truly a paradoxical region, this land of the Soviet Union! Preaching internationalism, it cuts itself off from the outside world and takes the utmost precaution against intercourse therewith. Holding it a crime to draw money as interest, its citizens are not merely urged to invest—in defiance of their own first principles they are practically forced into investment at ten per cent." Light is thrown on this observation by the explanation given by Sir Walter Citrine of Russia's financial measures. Though government loans are described as voluntary, it is said that pressure is brought to bear on the workers to lend the state at least three to four week's wages. The names of subscribers are placed on a notice board in the factory, and says Sir Walter, "the fellows who failed to subscribe would have a bad time."

The odd thing about it all is that the principle of lending money at interest is supposed to be anathema to communism, yet, when the Soviet overlords found, because of their repudiation of state debts, that they were unable to obtain credits abroad, they proceeded to imitate the hated methods of capitalism and issued internal loans at high percentages. But investors did not enjoy these generous terms. A system of compulsory conversion at greatly reduced rates was devised, by which bondholders who neglected to exchange old bonds for new were deprived of their holdings altogether.

Many large loans have been floated in Russia in recent years, such as the "bread" loan, the "sugar" loan, the "industrial restoration loan," the loan for "strengthening of peasant economy," the first and second five-year loans, loans for strengthening the national defence, etc. Lottery features are introduced into some of the transactions, to make them more attractive. One commentator expresses the opinion that Soviet methods of financing industrial development and national defence are "particularly harsh", because, in spite of the low rates of wages and standards of living prevailing, and the high cost of food and clothing, "the Soviet worker is compelled to part with a further portion of his sweated wage towards the state loans."

To The Editor

"DISASTROUS TO CHURCH"

Editor Examiner:

Sir: In a featured front-page report of religious conditions The Globe and Mail gives prominence to the praiseworthy efforts of the executive of the United Church to find out why those conditions are proving "disastrous to the church." To make a long story short the United Church finds that apartment houses and a fad for the open country and week-ends are the main cause of the financial and attendance slump in religious circles. As a layman interested as other laymen are in the more serious things of life as well as in the more diverting or frivolous let me say that at this very moment super-science has reached the end of its tether in the investigation of the material makeup of the universe and declares that the physicist must now to look to the metaphysical basis of science which is as we understand it the philosophical or spiritual basis and that scientists must realize that there is something beyond what they have found out or can find out. Here is where the United Church should look for the cause of its failure. Men are thoughtful and agree with the scientists who acknowledge their error in the past in supposing that the universe is governed by law and that man is amenable only to that law as other things are. This idea of law has disapeared. It is now found that the universe just goes on its way governed by obedience as Professor Whitehead says to some "focal point," oft in the face of this many ministers of all denominations insist that the solution lies in and with human reason! Eliminate this false idea of reason as a governing faculty and go back to the inexplicable mystery of it and the churches will regain their influence.

It is hopeless to go on groping in the name of science and modern knowledge for that which science now suppressly repudiates. The subtle sense of humanity sees the danger and the futility of it. It has not lost its regard for religion but has lost all respect for founding it upon reason.

INSULL FOR INSTANCE

(Brandon Sun)

OF COURSE, NO one will ever make the poor richer by making the rich poorer. Maybe it will be fun to impoverish the rich but it cannot make the rest of us richer. The soak-the-wealthy demagogues can fool a lot of people on this very talk but facts are stubborn things. For instance, when Samuel Insull died he possessed but a thousand dollars. His personal fortune had never been but a tiny fraction of the value of the utilities he once controlled. When he put that fortune up to avert the collapse of his financial structure it was like trying to dam the Mississippi by hurling a teaspoon full of sand into its tawny flood. And what good did the skinning of Insull do the people of Chicago or the people of the United States? Has business improved since then? Have the poor got more and the rich less proportionally?

BOOTLEGGING.

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

WHEN THE Liquor Control Act came into force and also when beverage rooms were licensed we were told it would mean an end to the bootlegging of liquor. But bootlegging still thrives. In St. Thomas we have one establishment that has been serving liquor almost openly, day and night, for many years without molestation of the police, although frequent protests have been made previously and through the press. There are many other bootleggers in the city and suburbs, all doing well.

This activity is not confined to St. Thomas. It is quite general, both in places where there is legal distribution and sale of liquor and in towns and villages where local option exists and is done so brazenly that any half-awake enforcement officer given authority would have no trouble securing evidence for convictions.

So little attention is being paid to the activities of these illegal peddlers and dispensers of liquor that one wonders if the authorities have not arrived at the conclusion that the bootlegger is a necessary evil. If this is not the case, then the Ontario Government's law enforcement department should make a determined effort to put an end to the practice.

THE STARLINGS

(Our Dumb Animals)

FORTY YEARS AGO, we are told, a few English starlings were released in Central Park, New York. Today there are millions of them throughout the eastern section of the United States and southern Canada. Have they any friends? As a rule we have found them thought of by farmers and others as most objectionable visitors to our rural sections, and as veritable enemies of many other birds. However, Nature's News tells us that they are one of the most effective enemies of insect pests in this country. We do know that they are foes of bluebirds and also, to a certain degree, of martins, house wrens, robins and sparrows. Yet investigations of the United States Biological Survey show that nearly half of their entire diet consists of insects, and that where the Japanese beetle has become a destructive insect pest, it has been found that practically all of the diet of the starlings consists of this pest.

LET'S HAVE A LAW

(Los Angeles Times)

LEGISLATION FOR human welfare will never be complete until it embraces provisions for compulsory cures for returned summer vacationists. A man who aches all over from hauling big fish out of the water and whose imagination and tonsils are frayed from telling about the bigger one that got away can't be expected to hit the ball the day he drags himself back to office, factory or store. A three week's rest after a two weeks' vacation would be just about right.

And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation:

And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?—Dan. iv, 34, 35.

SAID IT WITH LIGHT.

(Shining Lines)

LONG BEFORE the slogan, "Say it with flowers," became popular, foremen in old time composing rooms had learned how "to say it with light." Henry John Mintrup, one of the Chicago Tribune's old compositors, says that if in the old days a man set so bad a proof that the foreman felt he had to fire him, he simply turned out the light over the man's case. That meant "Put on your coat and go home." There was no argument about it.

BRITISH FLEET.

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

HITLER MAY HAVE thought he was impressing the Hungarian Admiral Horthy by displaying the German fleet, but an old sea-dog like the Regent realizes that at its maximum the German navy can only be one-third the size of the British and that Britain has greater tonnage under construction than comprises the whole German navy today.

A Bit of Nonsense

Ontario Harvest Yield Tops Crops Of '36-'37

TORONTO, Sept. 10. — (CP). — Harvesting of spring grains in Ontario is practically completed and yields are considerably higher than the below-average crops of 1936 and 1937, according to the monthly crop report published to-day by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Present indications are that the yield of spring wheat, oats and barley will be up to average. In Southwestern Ontario a week of rain in August delayed harvesting, but subsequent dry weather made possible completion of this work with only slight damage from weathering.

In Eastern Ontario weather was generally ideal. The quality of this year's grain crops varies considerably. Fall wheat was below average with a large quantity of the grain produced in the north counties of Western Ontario rather poor due to rust and late frosts.

Oats are generally reported to be of good quality, but barley is only fair to good with some discoloring and considerable light grain. Non-resistant spring grain was affected by rust, particularly in the east. In eastern districts of Northern Ontario grain cutting has been retarded by heavy rain. In the west harvesting is well advanced, but hot weather at filling time has resulted in light crop.

Yield of Spring wheat for the province as a whole is now estimated at 18.6 bushels per acre as compared with 17 bushels in 1937 and a preceding 10-year average of 19.2 bushels.

Indications are that sugar beet crop will yield well above average, while weather during August was favorable for harvesting in the tobacco-growing districts. Eighty per cent. of this year's record crop —estimated at 55,000,000 to 60,000,000 pounds as against 54,000,000 last year—has been harvested.

Here is the fruit situation:—Western Ontario—Weather and growing conditions during August generally favorable for good development and harvesting of all fruits. Eastern Ontario—Apple crop favored with good weather conditions, apples continuing to size well.

Inspection for the European corn borer has not yet been completed for the province, but data for Essex and Kent indicate a small reduction in these two corn-producing counties compared with 1937. Some anxiety is caused by presence of a wheat stem sawfly in Hastings, Prince Edward, Durham, Northumberland, Ontario and York counties.

"This insect has been in the province only a very few years and is spreading rapidly," the report says.

Japs Assure Nazis Of Moral Support

TOYKO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Without any solicitation from her anti-Communist ally, Japan has assured Germany of "moral support" in the German-Czech dispute, an informed source said to-day.

The German Ambassador, Major-General Eugene Ott, saw Kensuke Horinouchi, Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, to-day but did not ask for such assurances, the Foreign Office spokesman said.

He added, "I do not think so," when asked whether Japan previously had assured Germany of support, but other informants said moral sympathy had been extended in return for similar expressions from Germany during Japan's dispute with Soviet Russia over the Siberian border.

Hotel Dining Room Beer Vetoed In N.B.

HAMPTON, N.B., Sept. 10 (CP). —A resolution calling upon the Provincial Government to permit the sale of beer and wine in hotel dining-rooms was killed when it came before the convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities yesterday.

Only 12 of the 55 delegates supported it. Heated discussion preceded a standing vote. Some maintained such a resolution should not even have been proposed. Mayor D. L. MacLaren of Saint John, replied that beer and wine in hotels would be a step toward temperance, the present system was making "bottle drinkers," and that because these beverages were unavailable at hotels the tourist business was suffering.

"If tourists only come to our province to drink beer and wine, let them stay home," declared Councillor E. Claude Seeley of Saint John Coutny.

Among resolutions passed to-day were ones asking the Government to permit liquor stores to be taxed by the cities and towns in which they are located.

To assume responsibility for the support of dependents of family heads imprisoned under the New Brunswick Intoxicating Liquor Act.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, September 11.

Sunday's horoscope is a very significant one, with promise of sudden upheavals or drastic visitations of far-reaching effect on the life and its destiny. This may not be interpreted as ominous or sinister, although it may be deep and devastating. Danger may result from personal carelessness, excitement or contacts with strangers. With precaution, there should be excellent prospects of expansion and progress of surprising character.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a year of sudden upheaval, promising a profound influence on the life. This may bring about new surroundings and strange contacts and associations. Be wise, careful, alert in such readjustments, and there should be great gain, expansion and progress, with adventure and probable romance.

A child born on this day may be talented, original, independent, audacious, and brave, although nervous. It may crave high adventure and romance, and may travel far from its birthplace to attain its heart's desires.

For Monday, September 12.

Monday's astrological forecast is for a day of rather conflicting conditions, with many hopes of progress, financial prospects and friendly co-operation, although it may be attended by obstruction, delays, quarrels and vexations. Writings may give concern or be at the root of frustrations, although friendly intervention of elders may be helpful.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of contradictory experiences, with splendid promise for progress and success, but, at the same time, there may be impediments, delays and vexatious situations to manoeuvre satisfactorily and harmoniously. A change of ideas, plans or even environs may prove beneficial, but consultations with elders may help iron out perplexing problems.

A child born on this dy may be friendly, just and generous, but its nervous, highstrung, and probably irritable nature may make it hard to get along with. Its elders should stand by with wise counsel and true insight and even generosity.

MOUNT JULIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reid and family of Peterborough spent Sunday visiting relatives here.

Miss Mary Clink, who has spent the summer at Rameses, Stoney Lake, returned to Toronto on Monday.

Miss O'Conner has commenced her duties teaching at No. 1A Burleigh School.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sutton have purchased the Maloney farm, north of Haultain, and have taken up residence there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McIlmoyle and family have moved to the Burleigh Ranch.

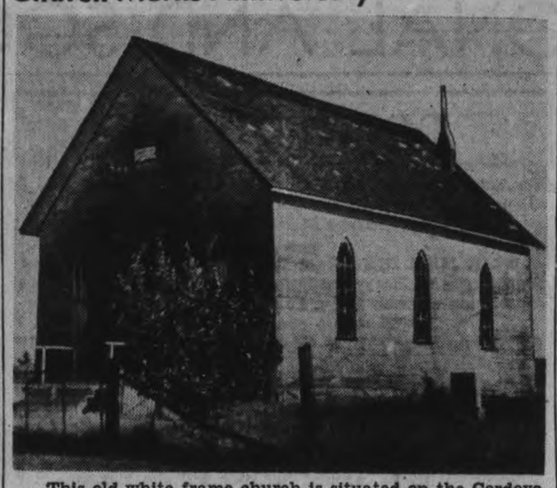
Church Marks Anniversary



This old white frame church is situated on the Cordova Road five miles east of Havelock. Built in 1893, anniversary services were held on Sunday with a large crowd in attendance. Although there is no permanent pastor at Victoria Church, services have been conducted regularly this summer by Mr. L. E. Jones, an evangelist and graduate of the Toronto Bible Class. TWO WORLDS

BY MAUD McCURDY WELCH

CHAPTER 38

NO MATTER what Mrs. Garwood had told her, Noel just simply could not believe that little Betsy's mind was impaired. It was Noel's firm conviction that if the child could live a normal life, she would be as healthy, both mentally and physically, as any child her age. Noel made a firm resolution that in so far as it was possible she would do everything to make Betsy's life a more normal life.

That night, by dint of much coaxing and persuading, she finally induced Betsy to eat a wholesome supper of milk, toast and fruit. By 8 o'clock the child was asleep.

It had been a long day, and this was the first chance Noel had to get in touch with Laurie. She had been thinking of her all day, wondering just what had happened. Had Jimmy gotten there in time, or had Laurie gone through with her determination to marry the cafe proprietor?

Noel phoned the cafe, to find that Laurie wasn't there. She then called Mrs. Blarsom only to find that Laurie wasn't there either. Where was Laurie and what had happened? Noel felt as if she couldn't bear the suspense of not knowing. She went to bed feeling a little sick at heart for it certainly looked as if Laurie had carried out her avowed intention. By now she was probably Pete Cointepas' wife—married to a man she did not love.

With the morning, Noel again faced the problem of trying to persuade Betsy to eat her breakfast. The Japanese servant had brought up a tray containing food suitable only for adults. Noel sent him back for whole milk and cereal. After some delay, it was brought.

Betsy looked at the food with indifference.

"You will eat a little cereal and milk just to please me, won't you, Betsy?" Noel coaxed.

"I did that last night," Betsy reminded.

"But this is breakfast, and you must do it again," Noel explained patiently.

But Betsy shook her head in distaste.

Noel gave a minute to thinking. Then she said, "Look here, Betsy, we're going to be friends, aren't we?"

Betsy looked up in surprise, a litle flicker of interest coming into her pale face. "Friends can play together and have good times. Could we?"

"Of course, dear. And friends, remember, always do things to please each other. So you must eat your cereal to please me."

"I will try," Betsy assented.

After that, Noel believed she was making progress. Betsy managed most of the cereal. Then she leaned tiredly against her chair and closed her eyes.

Noel studied her pale little face for a few moments. To force this child to study, to discipline her as her mother had instructed, seemed to Noel to be an almost inhuman thing to do.

When Betsy's tired blue eyes were open again, Noel said, "See, darling, we're going to play a game with these oranges. I'm giving you half and I'm taking half."

"You're not going to make me do sums?" The look of relief on the child's face made Noel's heart ache.

"No, indeed," she reassured her. "We're going to play store. It's a nice, quiet game."

They spent an hour with the oranges and cherries. First Noel would be the storekeeper, then Betsy would be, taking turns at buying and selling the fruit, counting it, adding or subtracting as the case might be.

Noel was rewarded at last to see a bit of color come into Betsy's face and a look of interest in her eyes. Noel found that her mind worked clearly. There was no reason at all, Noel decided, to fear mental trouble or arrested development. The truth was, that although Betsy tired easily, her mind seemed quite alert.

When they finished the game, Betsy rested for an hour. Then Noel suggested that they go downstairs to the terrace and walk around a bit. But the look that came into the child's eyes at the suggestion caused her to quickly withdraw it. "You'd rather not go to the terrace?"

Betsy shook her head quickly. "Oh, no—no."

"Then we won't go. We'll just open the windows in here and walk around a while. And then I bet when you see your lunch tray coming, you'll want to eat it all yourself and not leave me a bite."

Betsy actually gave a hoarse little laugh at that. She slipped out of the chair, arm in arm, she and Noel walked around the big room a number of times. Then they went and stood in one of the big open windows and drew in deep long breaths of the cool air.

But the windows were closed and Betsy and Noel were playing store again when the Japanese servant brought up the tray for lunch. Noel was gratified to see that Betsy did not regard her food with quite as much distaste.

After lunch, Noel tucked Betsy up on the couch and said she was going to read to her. Noel had found a book, not a child's book, but one she believed she could couch in simple language so that it would be interesting to a child of Betsy's age.

After reading a while, she saw that Betsy had fallen asleep. There was a bit of color in her cheeks, which had been so waxen and white.

The rest of the day passed uneventfully, Noel didn't hear anything from either Laurie or Julian. In spite of being absorbed in the child, she was feeling lonely in this big handsome house. Everything was so quiet. The servants—Noel had seen but two, the Japanese who brought in the meals and Hichens, whose manners were still reminiscent of the movies—seemed to glide around the house on rubber heels.

Noel had felt from the first there was a sort of sinister atmosphere about the place. Now, after a night and two days, she was more convinced of it than before.

And even though she was certain there was nothing wrong with Betsy mentally, the child was very weak, and really should be under a doctor's care.

The next day was Wednesday. Mrs. Garwood sent word that Noel's day off would not begin until next week. Noel had expected this and didn't mind, though she had cherished a faint hope of seeing Laurie and perhaps Julian.

But she really didn't want to leave Betsy yet. And she had made up her mind to speak plainly to Mrs. Garwood about the child's weakness. Noel didn't believe she was such an unnatural mother as not to be interested in helping her child to get strong and well.

As Noel walked downstairs, she heard Hichens coming down the formal hall to answer the door. Noel could not see who was outside but she heard a woman's pleasant voice saying: "I'd like to see Mrs. Garwood. This is the second time I've called. Tell her it's Cora Atwood.

"Mrs. Garwood is facing a nervous collapse, madam, over the condition of her child. The doctor says she mustn't see anybody."

"But Fay and I were always such intimate friends," the voice protested bewilderedly. "She will want me, I know."

"I have my orders, madam," Hichens said coolly and closed the door in the woman's face. He did not see Noel standing there, but went to the door of Fay Garwood's room, just opposite the staircase, and left the door ajar.

Noel couldn't help seeing inside. And what she saw gave her a shock. Fay Garwood was playing cards with some of her friends. Her arm was no longer bandaged. She was using it quite easily.

Also Noel recognized one of the men at the card table. It was Luigi's henchman—the man who had twice followed her home!

Goodnight Story

By MAX TRELL

Just then the sky grew dark with clouds. The sun was hidden. There was a flash of lightning and a crack of thunder. The next moment the rain came beating down.

Knarf and Hanid, the shadow children with the turned-about names, sprang up from the flat stone on which they were sitting and started to run. But they were far from the house.

"If we don't find some place to hide under," Knarf said, "we'll get all wet."

Just then they heard a pop-pop-pop coming from the little patch of grass along the bottom of the garden wall. They loked and saw that three mushrooms had sprung up.

"They're just like umbrellas!"

"Quick, Hanid! Let's get under them. They're just like umbrellas!"

So Knarf stood under the first mushroom, and Hanid stood under the second.

You mustn't be surprised that Hanid and Knarf were able to stand under a mushroom. You remember, they had both made themselves as small as match sticks. That was because they had both wanted to fit in the new boat they had just made out of a matchbox.

The little matchbox boat was still standing on the edge of the road, not far from the three mushrooms. Knarf and Hanid had been wondering how they could get it to the water. Now Hanid exclaimed: "Look, Knarf! Our boat is beginning to float!"

"Hanid! We've got to get in it!"

"But it's raining!"

Knarf quickly broke off the top of one of the mushrooms and put it on top of Hanid's head. "Now you've got a hat," he said. Then he broke off the top of another mushroom and put it on his own head. Then they both ran as fast as they could and finally jumped into the boat.

And then suddenly the rain stopped and the sun came out again.

"Now we'll have a nice sail," said Knarf. "We'll float right down to the ocean. We'll go far, far away. Oh, we're going to have lots of adventures, Hanid. You'll see."

Easy to Give Yourself a College Background

Ann has everything! She is pretty. No one plays better tennis than she does, nor dances more gracefully.

Everything? Not quite. Ann can't carry on a serious conversation. Through no fault of her own she had to leave high school in her sophomore year. When friends went on to college, she went to work.

Now, when her college friends talk of current questions, economics, literature, drama, pretty Ann finds herself a mental wallflower.

Who is Thornton Wilder? Who are the Sudeten Germans? Where is Hankow? Ann doesn't know. She feels lonely, slighted.

Yet she could enter into the bright alert chatter of cultured young people. And so can you.

Begin by reading your newspaper, its international news, special features, editorial pages. Did you see "Good Earth" in the movies? Read Pearl Buck's book about the poor Chinese farmer.

Our 32-page booklet gives you an absorbing plan for acquiring culture at home. Book lists recommended by the Committee on College Reading.

French Reduce Rhine Traffic

HUNINGUE, French-German frontier, Sept. 10 (AP)—French military authorities intermittently blocked traffic today on a pontoon bridge across the Rhine into Germany. Soldiers stationed on the bridge moved three pontoons out from a roadway from time to time to maintain strict control of vehicles across the river.

The region guarding the Burgundian gateway into france from Germany was alive with soldiers. Machine- gun emplacements on the French side of the Rhine have been occupied by troops.

Coming from the southward past Colmar, I saw troops scattered in open fields. Each little group was centred around machine-guns.

Troops concentrated in the area lent a warlike atmosphere to the valley which France is not permitted to fortify because of its proximity to the Swiss border.

French military planes droned over the banks of the Rhine, keeping in touch with ground forces.

Cabinet Crisis

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 10 (CP-Reuters). — J. H. Hofmeyr, Minister of Mines, Labor and Education, to-day resigned from the South African Cabinet, precipitating a Cabinet crisis caused by Prime Minister Hertzog's desire to reintroduce A. P. J. Fourie into the Cabinet.

General Hertzog wished to make Fourie a Senator and a Cabinet member to represent the colored races. He was defeated in the general election of last May. Prior to that election Fourie was Minister of Commerce and Industries.

The executive of St. Andrew's Young People's Union met Friday evening in the school room at the church, with the president, Gordon Harle, in the chair.

It was decided to begin the session on Tuesday evening, September 13, with a Christian citizenship meeting, the topic to be taken by the convenor, Alec Young. The following Tuesday a wiener roast will be held in the country.

Correspondence was read from Ralph Gordon, the celebrated entertainer and cartoonist, who has been engaged for Friday, October 7. Hurl—Webdale

St. John's Anglican Church, Lakefield, was the scene of a pretty Autumn wedding on Monday afternoon at three o'clock, when Mary Winifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Webdale of Lakefield, became the bride of James Clifford Hurl, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hurl of Lakefield. Rev. H. R. Howden officiated during the ceremony.

Gladioli and fern decorated the church. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. John Twist, organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attractively gowned in white silk lace over satin. Her dress was made on princess lines with short puffed sleeves and a slight train, and she wore a matching cape of lace. Her full-length bridal veil of tulle was caught in cap effect with clusters of orange blossoms and pearls. The bride carried a shower bouquet of red roses and asters.

Miss Grace Watson, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a toe-length gown of blue embroidered lace over taffeta, with matching shoulder length veil, and blue net mittens and carried red roses and pink asters.

DOROTHY DIX

Everybody Loves a Lover, But The Billing And Cooing Must Be Done in Private And Not Become a Public Spectacle, Or The Lovey-Doveys Become Objects of Derision

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in love with a young woman who refuses to marry me because of my small income, because I am an inch and a half shorter than she is and because she doesn't like my religion. I have offered to join her church. I have got a good start in my profession and will soon be able to support a wife comfortably. But I have long since stopped growing. What worries me most is that when we are in public she will not permit me to hold her hand or put my arm around her, nor will she kiss me. Her excuse is that Main Street is no place for petting, while I contend that I don't care who sees me kissing her, and that when a person in love gets the desire to kiss, the place and public are not important enough to stop it. Now can you determine whether she really cares for me or not, or what?

SHORTY.

ANSWER:

Well, Shorty, women are kittle-kattle and it is hard to tell what motivates them, but it would seem that the young lady isn't just wildly crazy about you and maybe that is the reason she says "no" when you pop the question.

For on every side you see girls marrying poor boys without giving a thought to where the next meal is coming from, You see girls marrying boys of a different religion and spending the remainder of their lives fighting a holy war. You see tall girls marrying short boys. And in most of the petting parties we are called upon to witness the girl is doing the petting and the boy is sitting up as stiff as a stone and with a heaven-help-me-have-I-got-to-stand-this expression on his face.

So you see when a girl is really and truly in love with a boy it doesn't make much difference what he has or how he looks, or what he believes, or what he does. She is for him just because he is he, and that's all there is about it. When she begins to get choosey and fault-finding and demanding, it is because he doesn't hit her fancy. Women pick out their husbands with their hearts instead of their heads, which is why there are so many marriages.

But I am all for this girl who has the good sense, the good taste, the good manners and the consideration for other people's feelings to refuse to do her love-making in public. It shows she is a lady and that she has delicacy, refinement and a realization of the fitness of things. Nothing is so common and vulgar nor shows such utter lack of sophistication as for sweethearts to parade their affection before a gaping and derisive crowd.

Yet you see it every day. Girls riding in automobiles with their arms around boys who show that they realize they are being made figures of fun and loathe it.

Girls with their heads pillowed on boys' shoulders at the movies with everybody around snickering at them. Girls and boys jay-walking down the street holding hands. And everybody thinking that petting parties should be a private function and not a public exhibition.

Everybody loves a lover, says the old proverb, but it loves to laugh at them when they do their billing and cooing at the wrong time and place.

• • • • • •

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—For two years I have been corresponding with a girl whom I have never seen. She likes to do all kinds of housework and I am sure she would make me a good wife. Do you think it best to send her an engagement ring by mail and then marry later? I am afraid if I do not act soon some other man may get her. How will I go about asking her to marry me? HENRY.

ANSWER:

My earnest advice to you, Henry, is not to get yourself mixed up in any entanglement of a sentimental nature with a girl until you have gone to see her, given her the once-over and are certain you like her looks. Surely there are enough risks in marriage, even when you tie up with a girl you have known ever since her kindergarten days and with whose every quirk of disposition and character you think you are familiar, without courting danger by uniting yourself to a perfect stranger whom you have never even seen.

Have a little sense. Use a little prudence. Show a little judgment. You know perfectly well that you can't tell a thing about a woman from her letters. Of course, in writing, the girl is going to put her best foot foremost, so to speak, and describe herself to be just the kind of a woman you have pictured as your ideal.

When you ask her if she is a good cook and if she simply dotes on housework, she is going to say "yes," just as she would if you had told her that the wife of your dreams would be an airplane builder. She would say there was nothing she enjoyed so much as making a China Clipper in her odd moments.

And there is this to consider, Henry: Looks count for so much in marriage. I don't mean beauty. I mean a woman's personality. Whether she is easy on the eyes. Whether she is neat. Whether she has a nice "way" with her. Whether she is entertaining. Oh, all the little things that would make a wife agreeable to live with and pleasant to have around, or just a pain in the neck. Lots of women are good as gold. They are good cooks and thrifty managers, but they are just the kind of women who would spoil the best meal that was ever cooked if they sat across the table from you; who would bore you to death if you had to listen to them, or who would have such cantankerous disposition that they would make you long for death to get rid of them.

Believe me, marrying a girl you have never seen is buying a pig in a poke. Don't do it. Spend at least the price of a railroad ticket to take a look at what you are getting.

DOROTHY DIX.

Lovely Autumn Wedding

One of the loveliest early Autumn weddings this season took place recently in George Street United Church, when Irma Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beatty, Stewart Street, was united in marriage to Cedric Arthur Robson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Christie Robson, Waterford Street. Reading from LEFT to RIGHT, the wedding party pictured here includes: Mrs. M. C. Beatty, bridesmaid; the bride and groom; Mr. Donald Moore, best man.

Paint brushes can be easily cleaned if boiled gently in pure malt vinegar and water? Rinse afterwards in warm suds then in clear warm water. Some boil brushes in soda water, but vinegar is better.

Potatoes that are to be baked under meat will taste much better if they are first parboiled and drained, then dropped immediately into boiling fat?

Assunta Aspero Saturday Bride

St. Peters Cathedral, decorated with gladioli and ferns, was the setting of a lovely Autumn wedding Saturday morning at eight o'clock, Rev. P. J. Kelly officiating, when Assunta Aspero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Aspero, Park Hill Road, became the bride of Mr. Guido Azzano, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Azzano.

Wedding music was payed by Miss Veronica Scollard, and during the signing of the register Miss Phyllis Cowie sang "On This Day."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin and lace. The bodice was buttoned down the back with satin-covered buttons, and the long sleeves formed a point at the wrists. Her veil of cloud-like white tulle flowed gracefully from a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white lilies.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Anne Aspero, wearing a frock of pink net over taffeta, with fitted taffeta jacket, and pink accessories. Her shoulder-length veil was caught with blue forget-me-nots, and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Mr. Ernest Houlahan of Ottawa was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Aspero, mother of the bride, received the guests in a gown of navy blue with navy accessories and corsage of roses.

For travelling the bride wore a copper red suit with black suede accessories. After a wedding trip to Roseto, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Azzano will live in Ottawa.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a gold locket and chain; to the bridesmaid a black and gold compact; and to the best man a pair of gold cuff links and tie slide.

Be Artistic When Arranging Flowers

If you have a flair for flower arrangement, try to achieve the unusual. Have an assortment of flower holders for shallow bowls handy. Select carefully vases and bowls which will harmonize with the room you wish to decorate as well as the blossoms you use. A few blooms with buds and leaves, gracefully arranged, will give a more restful effectt than an overcrowded vase of miscellaneous flowers. If your bouquet appears topheavy, cut the stems shorter or use a taller vase; if your bouquet looks as if it were going to sink into the bowl any minute, use a bowl more shallow or cut flowers with longer stems. Try to achieve proportion and balance between your container and bouquet. Generally speaking, you will like undecorated containers best—unglazed pottery clear crystal, burnished metal.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

When you have acquired all the wisdom which philosophers can offer you and you can receive, you will find that none of it will be of any service to you until you have thought it out for yourself.—Archibald Weir.

Dear Friends:

If you want the benefit from an egg you must break the shell. Same with fruits and nuts, you must get to the kernel of this wisdom you acquire, you must fit it to your needs, sugaring it a bit if it is too sour for your stomach, getting it down fine if you are not to get indigestion from it.

Many's the one I see suffering from mental indigestion. They have read but never studied, accumulated but never used, and what good is anything to you if you never use it? None at all.

Weir goes on to tell us: "Above all, you must remember that you can gain no final illumination from what others may tell you. Others can only put you in the way of thinking to the purpose best suited to yourself."

So, when you have learned something of vital importance, figure out how it can be used in your life for your betterment. I hate waste of any kind, waste motions, wasted time, waster of food, but most of all waste of wisdom.

And speaking of waste of food, I remember several times using dried out bread to make puddings. First time it wasn't used, no one wanted it. Next time I tried it a different way, but still they turned me down. Then I thought of the eggs and the fruit and the milk and the sugar and the gas and my time, all that wasted in trying to save on a little dry bread. So I did not make the same mistake again.

Because there has to be a certain amount of waste in the world, no matter how we try to save. If there weren't we would not need incinerators, nor garbage collectors, no one would buy new clothes nor new shoes, old hats would be worn, and we would all look as if we came out of a rag bag.

So also do your old ideas need replenishing. They may not be worn out, you may have used them so seldom or taken care of them that they show no signs of wear, yet they are outmoded, out of date, out of step with a changing world.

What do you think men and women put ideas on paper for? Not just for their own benefit, but because they helped the writers and these writers try to help others. But, if all you do is read them or store them up, you are wasting wisdom and that is a sad waste.

Right now I am trying some eye exercises which are supposed to strengthen the eyes so much that one would not have to wear glasses. I read of it in an English publication, but until I use this that I read I will not know whether it will help the eyes or not. So, as I hate wearing glasses I shall try them faithfully, for I cannot lose and I may gain my good sight again.

See what I mean? Nothing you may read, nothing anyone may tell you will be of any help unless you use it, and if you have to keep at it to get results, doing it once will be no good either. We learn from those who have worked out those things, but we must work them out to suit ourselves and our circumstances.

Not all we learn can suit us, just as not every suit or hat will fit us. But try this wisdom carefully and if it fits you make it part of your life. If it doesn't fit discard it and find something else. But you will never know if it is a fit or a misfit unless you try to use it. Wisdom in your brain is good, but wisdom in your life is better. How about a letter from you.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Margaret Beavis Bride of Walter H. Jones

Palms, ferns and gladioli decorated All Saints' Anglican Church to-day (September 10), for the wedding at two o'clock p.m. of Margaret Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Beavis, Colborne, to Walter Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, Cambridge street; the Rev. Canon J. D. Paterson officiating.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Logan, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. James Goldie sang, "Beloved It Is Morn."

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of Italian lace over satin, fashioned on Princess lines. Net gores inset in the skirt formed a short train, and a bolero jacket was caught at the neck with a cluster of lily of the valley. Her veil of silk embroidered net fell softly from a tiarra of tiny orange blossoms and Calla lilies; she wore satin slippers and carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Daisy Reid was bridesmaid, frocked in white silk with allover floral design in pastel shades, and shoulder bows and girdle of pansy and maroon velvet. She wore a tiarra of velvet flowers in matching shades, and carried a nosegay of violets and Talisman roses.

Mr. Edward Jones, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Gerald Beavis, brother of the bride, and Mr. Frank Jones, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Walkerfield House, where the bride's mother received in a gown of delphinium blue triple sheer with navy accessories, and corsage of pansies and roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a gown of wine triple sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of violets and roses.

Later the bride and groom left for New York City, the bride travelling in a navy and white sheer frock with navy jacket and navy accessories. On their return they will live at 416 Rubidge street.

Match Makeup To Your Costume

The woman who is interested in the fine details of the subject of beauty knows that it's a mistake to try to wear the same makeup with black, blue, mustard yellow and half a dozen other colors.

She knows that her skin tones remain the same regardless of the color of her costume, of course. But that they appear to change. If you doubt this, hold a piece of scarlet silk against your throat, stand before a mirror in a bright, sunny room and look carefully at the shade the skin on your face and neck now seems to be. Repeat this examination several times, using a different color of silk each time. You'll see that purple throws a purplish light across your skin, that yellow reflects yellowish tones, and so one.

Therefore, it would be a poor idea to wear yellowish red or orange red rouge and lipstick with a red dress which gives your skin a pink glow. Or to wear clear, bright red rouge and lipstick with a wine or purple dress. The smart idea is to have special makeup for bright or unusual colors, then stick to items which match exactly your natural skin tones when wearing black or gray or white.

Gave Diamonds To Mayor's Kin

MELBOURNE, Sept. 10—(CP)—Presentation was made recently to Sir George and Lady Wales and their daughter, Mrs. L. Callaway, of diamond bracelets and a magnificent carved blackwood china closet, in recognition of their services to the city during the Lord Mayoralty of 1934-37.

Though there was a lot of feminine cooing over the diamonds, it was the blackwood that was most admired. For a century or more it grew in a gully of the Baw Baws, for 15 years it seasoned, and was given to an expert to polish.

It was curious and significant that diamonds from South Africa should seem almost commonplace when compared with wood from one of Australia's forests, an observer wrote in The Argus.

Youth Lost Seat Of Trousers When Caught Stealing Walnuts

Ray Collins of Elm street lost the seat out of his trousers on Friday night and received a wound requiring four stitches, all because he didn't get through a wire fence fast enough when chased by a large black police dog.

Collins and Bill Huard and the Murphy brothers, Pete and Paul, decided early in the evening they would visit a farm on the western outskirts of the city and hook a basket of walnuts. Such a prank like hooking apples is not a serious offence but a police dog owned by the tenant of the farm had other ideas. Huard climbed the tree and the others were busy picking the nuts from the ground when the dog rushed at them. At a lightning rate of speed the three raced for the wire fence, and the Murphy brothers being a little longer in the legs reached the barrier and slid under to safety. Collins had his head and shoulders through when the dog arrived and sank his teeth into the squirming youngster.

With a screech of pain and terror Collins completed his exit from the field and Campbell Rowatt who happened along in his car took him to Dr. Bob Young's office where the youngster was repaired, refusing to take anaesthetic while the minor operation was performed.

Huard was still up the tree, and decided that his best plan was to stay there until the dog forgot about the walnuts and went home. The animal however took his time getting back to the farmhouse and when he finally got there, the fourth member of the quartet dropped to the ground and set a speed record crossing the field. He arrived breathless without attracting the attention of the dog and later rejoined his comrades. The basket half filled with walnuts was left behind, and the unanimous verdict of the four is that the basket will stay there.

Four Dogs On Leash Of Catcher Start Battle Royal On Street

MANY AND VARIED are the tribulations of the dog catcher. Day after day and far into the night he hunts stray canines and answers complaints from all parts of the city receiving plenty of abuse and little praise.

A few nights ago he was homeward bound at three in the morning after rounding up four dogs which had been disturbing the sleep of west end residents. All was serene and he hoped soon to be resting in bed but half a mile from home he ran out of gas. There was no service station close, so he improvised a leash arrangement hooked up the four dogs and started to hoof it the remainder of the distance. He had not gone a block before two started to fight and in a split second four snarling dogs were tangled in battle. Before peace was restored one had broken free and immediately raced away. He continued his journey with three on the rope but had to separate them twice before he finally locked them up in the pound for safe keeping.

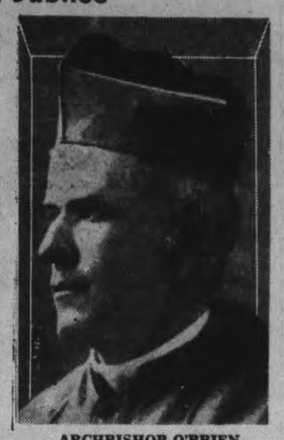
Archbishop O'Brien To Celebrate His Episcopal Silver Jubilee

Archbishop M. J. O'Brien, D.D., LL.D., will celebrate his episcopal silver jubilee in Kingston on September 29. As pastor of the parish of the Sacred Heart in Peterboro, Archbishop O'Brien was consecrated Bishop of the diocese of Peterborough at St. Peter's Cathedral on September 24, 1913, but the celebration has been deferred until September 29th, for the reason that the 24th falls on ember Saturday. A feature of the jubilee ceremonies will be the presence of Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec. Pontifical high mass in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Kingston, the archiepiscopal church, will be solemnized by His Grace, Archbishop O'Brien, whose boyhood and consecration to the priesthood are remembered by older citizens of Peterborough who were his contemporaries.



ARCHBISHOP O'BRIEN

Memory Is Foggy Man Gets 10 Days

"I just met an old friend whom I had seen at the reunion and we had a few drinks together," was the explanation given by Scotty Maguire when he appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., on a charge of being intoxicated on the Market Square.

"It's been a long time since I had a drink, Your Worship, and it went to my head," added the prisoner, and continuing he told the Magistrate he had two or three jobs to go to and wished to get off lightly.

Evidently Scotty's memory was a little at fault over the incident for Inspector James Reid told the court Maguire had been begging at several houses and when the people refused him, he became very abusive. He was picked up by police following complaints from the residents. Maguire was sentenced to the usual ten days in the country jail, which he took because he didn't have the ten dollars and costs.

$2,853 Remains Of Budget Set For Relief

Of the city's relief appropriation for the year $2,853.25 remained as a balance at the end of August, the Relief Commitee was informed at its meeting last night. The disbursement last month amounted to $7,252.16, as compared with $4,336.66 in August 1937. The number of families receiving assistance was up from 199 a year ago to 319, but there was some encouraging improvement over the 363 total for July this year.

The number of persons registered was 973 in August, 1,109 for July, and 559 in August a year ago. Several resolutions last night recommended that men receiving relief who frequent beverage rooms be put on the prohibited list, and also that the reduction of their relief allowance be considered.

In the case of men losing their jobs through their own negligence or other fault, the chairman was authorized to use his discretion in regard to cutting down the amount of their relief.

Canadian Legion Notes

The arrival of much cooler weather has depopulated the park benches, and increased the population of the Legion Hall, both during the day and evening, with the result that cribbage and carpet ball have again resumed their old-time popularity.

We have to date twenty entries for places on the carpet ball teams and a meeting has been called for next Monday evening at eight to consider the number of teams to enter the City League and to apportion the members to the various teams. All members who have entered their names are urged to attend, and also any other members who feel interested.

The plans for the season's euchre parties are well under way, and the opening date will be Thursday, September 22.

A vast amount of work has been put in on the hall during the past summer, the main auditorium and the ladies' parlor have been tastefully redecorated. The cloakrooms have been painted and all the staircases also. The building generally has been overhauled and everything made clean and comfortable, and will bear comparison with any hall in the city.

The usual monthly meetings of the branch will be resumed on September 19, and it is hoped that a large turnout of members will be persent as there will be business of importance to be considered.

Peterborough Branch No. 52 has been invited to attend the annual decoration day parade of the Lindsay Branch of the Canadian Legion. All members wishing to attend please give their names to R. Mitchell at the hall. Cars will leave the Legion Hall at 12.45 p.m. on Sunday, September 18.

Three delegates from the Legion attended the meeting of the City Carpet Ball League held in the Sons of England Hall on Friday last. We understand that the league will consist of 18 teams this season, and it promises to be a very successful eason.

Vitamin B-1 Is Used To Treat Dread Disease

The eyes of medical profession in the province are focussed on the sleeping sickness case now being treated in St. Joseph's Hospital by Dr. J. C. Smith of Lakefield, owing to the fact that the man is making a recovery from the dread disease with the aid of a new preparation.

The 38-year-old Dummer township farmer contracted the ailment a week ago and sank into a coma. He was removed immediately to the hospital and isolated and Dr. Smith commenced giving injections of synthetic Vitamin B-1. In a short time the patient started to rally and is slowly but surely shaking off the coma.

Dr. Smith predicted that if the synthetic vitamin B-1 continues to prove as successful in the treatment of infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness as observations of a few cases would indicate it might be taken over by the government of the province.

Treatment Considered.

Dr. B. T. McGhie, Deputy Minister of Health, declared last night the treatment described by Dr. Smith had been fully considered by the Department of Health and his consultants a year ago, and that neither Governmental use nor approval of it at that time had been felt justified.

Notwithstanding this announcement it was learned on authority that 12 cases of infantile paralysis in the Turner Valley of the province of Alberta were now being given the synthetic vitamin treatment.

The Dummer township farmer was only the second case of sleeping sickness in medical history in which synthetic vitamin B-1 had been used exclusively, Dr. Smith believed. The other case was that of a woman in Guelph last year who recovered rapidly and completely from the dread disease after being given only the special treatment.

"I saw my patient last night and he is coming along fine and is over the main part of the attack," Dr. Smith reported.

In answer to a question, Dr. Smith admitted that he had used the new treatment in both of the recent polio cases in the Lakefield district along with the usual serum. Both of these have recovered and neither have developed paralysis.

"Those two cases are not sufficient by any means to form an opinion on the value of the vitamin B-1 as a treatment," Dr. Smith remarked but added when one considers that 20 cases in the west and 50 treated last year in Toronto with this injection have all recovered without paralysis should undoubtedly prove the treatment has more

Good Roads And Cars Killed Small Town Grocery Business

The money went out of the grocery business in small towns at the same time good roads were built, cars were owned by farmers, bread companies began making rural deliveries, according to T. C. Yonge, of Lakefield, who has been a grocer thirty years this month.

For nineteen years Mr. Yonge was a grocer in Peterborough. He had stores at one time or another during that period at the corner of McDonnel and Water streets, at the corner of McDonnel and George streets, and at Park and Lansdowne streets. Then a price war started here and, in disgust, he moved to Lakefield. "Everyone was cutting the other person's throat, selling at cost and below in an attempt to get all the business," he said.

He has been in Lakefield for 11 years, this year moved to a new location on one of Lakefield's oldest corners, and is busily remodelling it at the present time.

30 Years Ago

There used to be good money in the grocery business thirty years ago, said Mr. Yonge. He recalled wistfully the days when Peterborough gave fortune to Hamilton Brothers, Connell and Son, Mason's, J. T. and R. C. Braund, Routley's, and J. C. Sullivan's stores. But to-day the pull is away from the villages and toward the big cities, he said. Roads are good and most people have fast cars that make the trip from Lakefield to Peterborough a mere joy-ride. "And the city has a thousand and one attractions."

Even in big cities the corner grocer is at a disadvantage, for the pull is still away from him and toward the central streets, he said. He blamed bread companies for loss of much business. In the old days a farmer or a town dweller had to come to the grocery store to purchase his bread, and when he came he bought. But nowadays the companies are making rural deliveries—to their own loss and to the consumer's loss. "For it's the last man who always pays. If bread companies would drop their rural deliveries the cost of bread would drop by at least a cent and our business would be doubled overnight," he said. In the present day the farmer does not make nearly the large purchases he used to. "It used to be an ordinary thing to sell a man seven or eight dollars worth of groceries at a single call, but not any more. Saturday nights we used to be so rushed we couldn't think. Now we wait on a few customers and then sit and wait for the next ones to come in."

T. C. YONGE

Born at Apsley

Mr. Yonge was born at Apsley. His father, John Yonge, was the first settler back of Burleigh. In 1859 he carried a pack on his back over the surveyor's trail into that then wild country. "I don't know why he did it, I'm sure," he said. T. C. Yonge was born in 1874 and lived in Apsley until he was 28 years old when he came to Peterborough where he was employed as electrician with the Quaker Oats Company for four years before going into the grocery business.

His family have been constant readers of The Examiner almost from the day it was first published. "I've been reading it myself for the past thirty-seven or thirty-eight years and I think it's a fine paper," he said.

YANKEES WILL RATE 2 TO 1 FAVORITES AGAINST THE PIRATES

Reds Regarded As Tougher In Big Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—We are making preparations around here for three big World's Series days at the Stadium, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 7, 8 and 9. Some of the super-enthusiasts say the Yankees will have to redeem tickets for the Sunday game, and advise Judge Landis, Will Harridge, Ford Frick and the magnates not to start the series on Wednesday, October 5, as seems to be the plan, but on Thursday, so as to make certain of Saturday and Sunday games in the stadium. However, there is a bit of baseball history to counterbalance the four straight the Yankees won in 1927 from the Pirates, possible opponents for the Ruppert Rifles this year. In 1926, you will recollect, the National League had one of those staggering carnivals a la the one current, and the Cardinals were able to win the pennant by two lengths with only 89 victories—the low mark for the majors. The Yankees went into the series 3 to 1 favorites. They came out of the seventh game whipped.

At that, we expect the Yankees to be 2 to 1, if the Pirates oppose them, for Pittsburgh does not seem to have the kind of pitching that would be likely to stop the Bronx Bombers.

Rooting For Reds

It is an open secret that the National League has been rooting for the Reds to win the flag. The league as a whole regards the Pirates as the best balanced team and the best run-making combination. But it is believed that, with Johnny Vander Meer, Lee Grissom, Paul Deringer, Peaches Davis, Whitey Moore and the rest of the Rhine staff, Bill McKechnie would present a very serious problem to the Yankee hitters. Which he would.

The Giants resigned from the race by losing seven out of 11 in the West, dropping three out of four in the final series in Pittsburgh. It was there that Bill Terry announced that he no longer harbored any pennant ideas, but faced a serious battle to prevent a slide into the second division. Having nine games yet to be played at that time with Boston, Terry's pessimism was not unfounded.

Rattles a Few Skeletons

Terry told Pittsburgh newspapermen that the Pirates were the best in the league, should win, and then give the Yanks a hot fight.

"If the Pirates do not win, they should quit playing ball," said Memphis Bill.

This did not go well with Pie Traynor. He felt Terry had placed him in too difficult a position.

"I recollect that in 1934 the Giants had a bigger lead than we now have, at a much later stage of the season, and yet blew the pennant," said Pie.

"Looking over the line-up of the Giants, I find that many veterans of that sad experience still are playing for the New York club. They did not see fit to retire from baseball. How come?"

Cubs Lace Cards 4-2 For 6th In Row Cut Pirates Lead To 3 1-2 Games;

By Sid Feder
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

That shining sun you see popping out of the home team dugout in Wrigley Field today isn't the sun at all, brother. It's the round, happy face of your old pal Gabby The County Fair Hartnett, lit up by a smile that would make any sun look like a cold pancake.

And why? Because his Bear Cubs are on the prowl again. They've won six straight now, including the 4-2 decision Clay Bryant took from St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, and they're closing in fast on Pittsburgh's hot - and - cold Pirates. They're only 3½ games back at this writing, they're taking the close ones again, they're hitting when hits count.

For all anyone knows about this silly race, they may be the team to take advantage of the fact that for weeks the pennant has been going around begging.

Most surprising of all is that they've done it with The County Fair on the bench, shackled there with a broken finger. Hartnett, you know, wasn't supposed to be a good bench manager. They all said he could inspire his men only while on the field.

Yesterday's win, coupled with the scheduled off-day for Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and the 7-1 beating Brooklyn's doddering Dodgers pinned on the Giants, left the pennant picture in this condition:

	W	L	Pct	GB	TP
Pittsburgh	76	53	.589	...	25
Chicago	74	58	.561	3½	22
Cincinnati	73	59	.553	4½	22
New York	72	60	.545	5½	22

Fitzsimmons Back

That Brooklyn victory over the Giants, incidentally, was the nine-hit knuckleball work of fat Freddy Fitzsimmons. You recall the Terrible Terry said a couple of years ago the Giants would always find a place in their organization for fat Freddy, an old timer of the McGraw era. Then Fritz's health went bad and his pitching suffered, and first thing you know Terry had traded him "down the river." The payoff is that Terry sent $20,000 to Brooklyn with Fitz to get Tom Baker, a yes-and-no youngster still in the minors, and now fat Freddy has come back to pin two beatings on the Giants in seven days.

Another old time tosser who's been booted around considerably, Bump Hadley, is doing right nicely with the Yankees these days. Yesterday he pitched an eight-hitter and blanked the Senators, 2-0, as Iron Hoss Lou Gehrig collected four hits to boost his batting average over the .300 mark for the first time this year. That hitting spree was in the nature of a celebration of Gehrig's 2,100th consecutive game.

The Yankee triumph, coupled with defeats for Boston and Cleveland, left Murderers' Row 15 games in front in the American League, and needing only nine more victories to clinch the pennant. Boston ran into trouble against the Athletics and dropped a 4-3 decision, and Cleveland was cuffed around, 11-5, by Detroit Tigers paced by Hank Greenberg's 47th homer.

English Hockey Teams Cut To 11 Canadians

By Jack Brayley
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(CP).—English hockey's 30-game season, which will be preceded by a round of exhibition games, swings underway early next month and fans already are wondering about new names beside looking forward to the day when the brand of play might compare favorably with the professional game demonstrated in Europe by National Hockey League teams.

Each team in the seven-team National League will be allowed to draft 11 players from Canada this season, compared to an allowance of 12 last year. However, the British Ice Hockey Association will permit teams to sign as many home players as wanted. The supply and quality of home-breds has developed in recent years and the London Provincial League, used for this purpose, is a 14-team affair.

The National League, as usual, will divide its playing season into three sections. Clubs play first in the London Cup tournament, then the National League tournament and the National tournament, with trophies for each section. The B.I.H.A. intends to experiment with a new point scoring method in the opening London Cup series.

The New Method

Each period of each game will be scored as a complete game and the higher-scoring team will receive one point. In the event of all periods being drawn extra time will be played until one team scores, thus receiving the point. If officials consider the idea a success it may be used in the two other sections of play.

The move is aimed at opening up play, extending excitement until the final bell and preventing "kitty-bar-the-door" tactics after a comfortable lead has been established. Another change in London Cup competition will be that teams will meet only once instead of in home and home games.

British officials admit that the biggest problem on their hands at present is the producing of "local boys." The fans, who now number 100,000 in London alone, want native stars, but they also want the brand of hockey played in the best Canadian circuits.

Players are being groomed in the Harringay and Wembley junior and intermediate loops and in time are expected to supply suitable replacements for the National League teams. Then, too, the five-team Scottish League is a stepping stone for native talent. It had been hoped to embody the circuit in the National League this year, but the brand of play is not considered strong enough yet.

This year, in the National League it will be left to the referee's discretion to delay stopping the play if he sees an offside offender making an honest attempt to legalize his position. The introduction of this delayed whistle governing offsides is one of the few important departures made this year in rules.

The first exhibition game this year will bring together Earl's Court Rangers and Brighton Tigers at Empress Hall Sept. 24.

Finland Changes Olympic Dates

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 10 — (CP). — Finland is doing everything possible to assure a record entry in the 1940 Olympics. The first thing Finland intends to do is change the date for the Games so that college athletes can compete and still get back to America for the opening of the universities.

Japan, due mainly to the demands of her climate, had moved the date to September. Finland has decided to move the Games up to July. No definite day has been set for the start, but it will likely be some time between the 10th and the end of the month.

More than that, the Finnish Olympic committee has started a move to keep propaganda out of the Games. Consul Ernst Krogius, Finland's representative on the International Olympic committee, has consulted the president of the I.O.C., Count Baillet Latour of Belgium, about the Games and has been advised to return as nearly as possible to the old Olympic ideal and program.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By FRED CRAIG

BOB DOLL, STELLAR THIRD baseman of the Peterborough Central Ontario League champions, rather stole the show at the Friday night practice of the senior rugby club by the manner in which he was tossing forward passes all over the place in the style of Sammy Baugh. For twenty minutes Doll was kept busy shooting forwards from scrimmage formation and the way he rifled that ball down the field to the pass receivers brought a sparkle to the eye of Coaches Gil Putnam and Bill Irwin. He was throwing strikes on practically every toss and the speed and accuracy of his passes had both the players and the fans talking.

• • • • • • •

DOLL WAS NOT THE ONLY member of the ball team to get some action at Exhibition Park last night. Charlie Kearns, Eddie Murphy and Leo Deadey also took part in the workout wihch in spite of the enforced absence of some of the squad was a lively session. Putnam and Irwin put the players through their paces, the practice opening with a little physical training, then some tackling work and for a windup a number of plays were run off. Among those out in addition to the players already named were Hendrie, Shields, McIntyre, Crowe, Curtin, Creighton, Spenceley, Prete, Grozelle, the Lindsay outside wing player, Williams and several others. Charlie Lynch, former Ottawa quarter, had no outfit and contented himself with watching the doings from the sidelines.

• • • • • • •

A NEW CANDIDATE FOR THE Peterborough senior rugby club is Thompson the big boy who will be remembered by the fans for his successful line-plunging against the Orfuns last year as a member of the Toronto City club. Thompson is anxious to get a berth with the Petes and was out at last night's workout, although he was minus a uniform and did not get into the formations.

HONEY TOMPKINS, WHO STARRED on the forward line of the Peterborough junior team last season and then finished the season brilliantly with the senior squad has received an invitation from the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League to try out with the Flying Frenchmen and has decided to accept. He will report to the Canadiens' training school when the players are called together next month. If the youngster makes good with the Canadiens he will be a big loss to local hockey.

Looks Like Keene

THE KEENE MEN'S SOFTBALL team looks like being the Eastern Ontario winners in the intermediate C section of the O. A. S. A. The boys from the Otonabee village journeyed to Deseronto Thursday and won hands down by 13 runs to 3 in the first game of the playoff series. The second game is scheduled for Keene on Monday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock and judging by the ease with which Keene won the first game, they should have no difficulty in repeating and earning the right to play Collingwood in the next round. Hero of the Thursday game from a Keene viewpoint was Don McCarthy who held Deseronto to five hits, three of them coming in the ninth and struck out eleven batters.

• • • • • • •

PETERBOROUGH SENIOR lacrossers have worked out several times this week and reports from headquarters are that the squad is in good shape and all ready for the important playoff series next week with Woodbridge which starts in Woodbridge on Tuesday night and winds up with the return game here Friday, total goals to count. Although the Petes opposition in this series finished in third place in the other group they are not to be regarded as push-overs in any sense of the word and the local squad expect two close, tough matches next week.

• • • • • • •

THE PETES HAVE DEFEATED Woodbridge three times this season but the significant thing about the record of the two clubs is that while the first two games, one an exhibition in May and the second a league game in June, were easy for the local gang, there was quite a different story when Woodbridge played here some five weeks ago On that occasion they were short of subs in the early portion of the game and the homesters set up a lead but when the visitors got organized in the later stages they swept through the Petes for seven goals in a row and the Randle outfit just managed to win out 12 to 9. Woodbridge, coached by Rowntree who also coached the Aurora junior "C" champions in hockey last winter, showed a marked improvement over early form and displayed speed and a clever passing attack. . . ..

• • • • • • •

WE MENTION THAT FACT IN PASSING to prevent any danger that the local squad may make the mistake of selling Woodbridge short. A team that can improve in style as this outfit has done is always dangerous and the Petes would be merely playing it safe to keep that fact in mind.

First In Canada

THERE IS A STRONG POSSIBILITY that this district may see the first six-man rugby leage organized in Canada as the result of the interest that is being shown in the proposition at the Lakefield High School and the campaign that is to be staged to get the Norwood and Havelock and Campbellford high schools to organize six-man teams and join with Lakefield in forming a league. Bill Irwin of the Peterborough seniors has been doing some missionary work along this line and the idea has caught on wherever it has been mentioned.

• • • • • • •

THE SIX-MAN STYLE IS IDEAL for smaller schools where there is not the material to build up regulation-sized teams. A squad of about twelve, allowing for half a dozen subs is all that is required, the equipment needed is not so elaborate or costly, the game is played in rubber running shoes instead of football boots, and the fewer number of players makes for open, fast, football and very materially reduces the chances of accidents. The six-man brand has become very popular in the United States and there is no reason why it should not go over big here.

• • • • • • •

JOE McNULTY, FORMER ST. MIKE'S star, who has joined the roster of the Peterborough senior rugby club, in addition to being a very capable footballer, is also a hard-hitting and steady defenceman in hockey and a good pitcher in baseball. He sounds ilike a useful citizen whom the fans in all three sports should be delighted to welcome to Peterborough.

WALTER GEROW'S NAPANEE Gibbards won the second game of their playoff series with The Bowmanville team in the O. B. A. A. intermediate "B" series in Napanee Thursday but they had a close call, finishing in front 4 to 3 in 10 innings when Lefty Witheridge on the mound for Bowmanville wild-pitched the winning marker home. Both teams slipped badly defensively and Napanee scored the only earned run of the game. Spratt, young right-hander who did some gunning for the Gibbards when they were members of the Central Ontario loop struck out twelve of the Bowmanville team. The third and deciding game of the series was billed for Port Hope this afternoon.

Down to Shoestring and Back Again

That's been the way the fortunes of pudgy Eddie Mead, RIGHT, have flowed and ebbed. He's riding the crest again now after taking charge of the affairs of sensational Henry Armstrong. Fighter and manager are seen together, no doubt contemplating new worlds to conquer, after taking charge of three fistic crowns.

Armstrong's Manager Borrowed Ten Grand When Flat Broke

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—How does a man go about the business of borrowing $10,000 when he is broke? And when I say broke I mean without a visible asset in the world that might be put up as collateral for such a loan.

For the answer, we have to turn to Eddie Mead, the fat bird who steered Henry Armstrong to the world's featherweight, welterweight and lightweight championships.

And it's a simple answer.

"You gotta live right, I guess," says Fat Eddie Mead, with a wide grin. "Live right, and be lucky."

Eddie Mead hasn't lived just exactly right, of course. Not many of us can stand up in school and say that we have. But in one respect Eddie never has swerved from the straight and narrow line. He has wasted years and money, but his name is down in the books as a straight shooter. In prosperity and hardship Eddie has always been the same, a right guy. That is more than a mouthful to say of a man who for years has been associated in the fight business with crooks, chisellers, "wrongdoers," gyppers, petty people with all kinds of shady schemes. But it must be said of Mead.

Shooting Square Pays

And that's why Eddie Mead, flat broke, was able to borrow $10,000 when he needed it most. That's how he was able to buy Henry Armstrong when the little buzzsaw of the ring was just another fighter in Los Angeles. That's how he came back to the top again with Henry. Now the future looks bright for the fat guy in his forties. He's in the dough again. But he hasn't changed an iota. Give it to the gent for that, too.

We have known Eddie since his ample frame burst into public view, something like 16 years ago. He took Joe Lynch off a dray wagon in New York's Hell's Kitchen and steered the little Irishman to the world's bantamweight championship, saw him lose the title and win it back. He earned a small fortune in his association with Lynch. But he was always a soft fellow for a touch himself.

He went to Cleveland broke. We remember when Eddie's office was the lobby of a hotel near Cleveland's public square. He borrowed fifty to a hundred here and there, managed mediocre fighters, fell upon bleak days. Finally he left Cleveland for the coast, travelling by bus. He had borrowed the fare.

One Look Enough

When he saw Armstrong beat Baby Arizmendi in Los Angeles, he determined to get Henry if it was humanly possible. Something in the style of the tireless little puncher told Eddie that this was his big chance. He asked Henry's manager how much he wanted for his contract. The answer was $10,000. Ten grand! And Eddie without a dime!

But he got it. He went to Al Jolson for $5,000. And when he asked George Raft for $5,000 George was sore because Eddie hadn't come to him in the first place and asked him for the whole thing.

The rest of the story is pretty well known. Henry started on a streak of knockouts that carried him to the featherweight, the welterweight and the lightweight titles. Eddie paid back tab after tab, wiping out his debt with Jolson and Raft, erasing the slate in 20 cities and towns. He didn't forget. And now the cuff is clean. Eddie is back on top, and somehow we hope he stays. And that all his parlays click, in boxcar numbers.

U.S. Golf Teams Hit Finals Well On The Top

TORONTO, Sept. 10 (C.P.). — Veteran golfers of Great Britain, the United States, and Canada reached the final stage of their week's competition at Toronto Golf Club today with play for the Founders Trophy, symbol of the senior individual championship of the three countries, and the North American championship, a net-score event.

After a sweep of other contests, the United States is favored to win, to-day's individual titles. The second event, open only to players from the United States and Canada, will be for the George S. Lyon Medal, named in honor of a famed Toronto player who died this year after a glowing record in open and senior competition.

The United States won both of yesterday's team competition, the first over the other two countries and the second over Canada alone. Seven United States players defeated both their opponents in singles matches. Only Canadians to win both their matches were J. W. Nicol and Joseph L. Lewis, while Lieut.-Col. F. J. Popham was the only British player to win both his singles.

Keene Winners In C Series Over Deseronto

KEENE, Sept. 10.—In the first game of the O.A.S.A. Intermediate C. series to decide the Eastern Ontario winners Keene journeyed to Deseronto Thursday and won handily over the team representing that town by 13 runs to 3. The second game will be played at Keene on Monday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock Standard Time and the winner of the series will clash with Collingwood in the next round.

Keene started off in fine style when three perfect bunts filled the bases with nobody out in the first inning. A smart double play by Deseronto halted the attack momentarily but Ibey shot a double to left to score two runs.

Deseronto got one back on a hit, a sacrifice and an error in the second. There was no further scoring until the fourth when Keene scored two more. The winners really went to town however in the fifth when they registered eight runs on seven hits and a walk to put the game on ice.

Deseronto rallied in the ninth to push over two runs on three hits and an error.

Gall, Whalen and Renwick were the big hitters for Keene, Gall coming through with five safe blows in six trips to the plate while Wood, McCarthy and Renwick shone in the field. For Deseronto Fraser with two hits led the batters while Houle at third and Lindsay at second were best defensively.

Don McCarthy pitched great ball for the winners striking out 11 and allowing only two hits until the ninth when Deseronto raised their total to five. Green, on the Deseronto mound, pitched steady ball apart from the disastrous fifth frame. His support was shaky at times.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB. MARTIN

It looks as if these cool nights are making the bowlers back up—only the die-hards came out last night and not many of them—8 rinks was the sum and total of the tournament. The skips to pilot their rinks into the "peach" orchard were—R. Hendry, B. Chesler and R. Anderson.

The report of the ladies Irish Trebles tournament held in Cobourg yesterday show that two rinks from our own club finished 1, 2.

Winners

Mrs. L. Beome, Mrs. E. Crowe, Mrs. W. Hepburn, each a set of bed linen.

Mrs. L. Yeotes, Mrs. H. Beatt, Mrs. J. Coursey, each silver plates.

The last open tournament of the season, as far as our club is concerned, will be held on Wednesday next at 1.30 p.m. standard time. It will be for mixed rinks. Lots of time to get up a rink and make the final tournament a big one.

PEARCE RETAINS HIS SCULLING TITLE BY WIN OVER PADDON

On A Rough Sea Pearce Wins Eight Lengths

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—(CP).—It's still Bobby Pearce first and the others a proverbial mile behind in the sport of professional sculling.

On a rough sea off the Canadian National Exhibition waterfront, Pearce demonstrated to 15,000 spectators and young Evans Paddon of Australia last night he has retained all the power and skill that have made him tops of the game for 10 years. He defeted Paddon by eight lengths in a three-mile match for the world professional championship.

When it was all over the sculling greats of other years, including Joe Wright, Sr., and Jack Guest, a diamond sculls winner, agreed there still wasn't' an amateur or professional who could extend the great Hamilton, Ont., oarsman, undefeated since 1928.

Pearce licked the Australian champion with almost ridiculous ease in the worst possible conditions. A hard east wind blew into their faces for all the second mile, and the water was rough enough to have warranted a postponement. Considering the elements, the time of 20 minutes, 35 4-5 seconds was fast.

Cricket Results

LONDON, Sept. 10—(CP Cable)—A representative team of England's professional cricketers gained a five-wickets margain over an amateur eleven in the Gentlemen-Players match concluded at Scarborough Friday. The contest between Sir Pelham Warner's eleven and England Past and Present was drawn. The scores:

Gentlemen 325 and 233 for six wickets declared (Yardley 84, B. O. Allen 68); Players 429 (Hardstaff 100, Sutcliffe 63, Fishlock 60) and 133 for five wickets; at Scarborough.

England Past and Present 256 and 329 for eight declared; Sir Pelham Warner's eleven 173 and 39 for no wickets; at Folkstone.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (A.P.). — Bill Coyne, pitching for Tucson in the Arizona-Texas League, has what it takes in the clutch....Against El Paso, the sacks were filled three innings in succession with none out but he did not allow a run....Up at Syracuse they figure they gave A Grade a squak because Gene Hopkins, a local lad who carried a lot of football at Peekskill Military Academy the last two years, has decided to enter Fordham....What makes it all the worse is that Gene's grand daddy has charge of supplies in the Syracuse Athletic Department.

Red Wings Hand Leafs 5-2 Setback Hold 1 1-2 Game Lead On Bisons Who Split Twin Bill With Royals

(By the Associated Press.)

The International League's Governors' Cup playoffs will get under way Tuesday in Newark and Syracuse but whom the champion Bears and runner-up Chiefs will play is still to be decided.

With just two days left before the season ends Sunday, Rochester Red Wings and the fourth place Buffalo Bisons still are battling for third place, with the Wings holding a 1½ games lead over the Bisons as the result of their 5-2 victory over Toronto last night.

The Bisons, who have been moving fast, lost a chance to gain on the Wings, yesterday when they split a twin bill with Montreal, dropping the opener, 4-1 and winning the nightcap by the same count.

The Bears, as pennant winners, will meet the third place club in a semi-final four-out-of-seven series while the Chiefs will play the fourth place team in a similar series. Both the Bears and Chiefs have elected to play the first two games of their series at home, with the next three contests scheduled to go to the grounds of the third and fourth place clubs. If other games are necessary, they will be played at Newark and Syracuse.

$4,000 Reward

The survivors of these two series will meet in another best-of-seven series with the victors dividing $4,000 and earning the right to meet the winners of a similar playoff series in the American Association in the "Little World Series." The second place playoff club will divide $2,000.

Howie first pitched six-hit ball to break the Wings' eight-game losing streak while his mates took advantage of Joe Mulligan's wildness in the crucial spots. But the upstaters lost the services of young Cardin Gillenwater, who was taken from the game in the sixth inning and rushed to St. Michael's Hospital where an appendectomy was performed.

ANOTHER PADGHAM

LONDON—(CP).—H. A. Padgham, cousin of Alf Padgham, 1936 British open champion, had the best scratch score in the Artisan Golfers' Senior Tournament recently and became the champion artisan golfer. He is 22 years old and a gardner.

Recognition Sought

Official recognition of a new Canadian high jump mark is being sought by sponsors of the Labor Day sports meet held at Nelson, B.C., after Joe Haley, ABOVE, of Trail went over the bar at 6 feet 4⅛ inches, ⅝ inch above the recognized Canadian open and native record set by Jack Portland at the 1932 Olympic trials in Hamilton.

Trot Record Is Broken By Walter Grattan

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Walter Grattan swept up the winnings in the 2:13 trot with two firsts as the harness racing meet at the Exhibition Track came to a close here yesterday.

A field of nine entries scored for the $500 event, and Walter Grattan came down in front every trip, but was set back to last place by the judges for running in the first heat. However, he won the last two heats quite handily, leading first Axe Lee and then Calumet Bradley to the wire to take first money. Axe Lee's second in the middle heat, combined with his awarded first in the initial race to give him second place among the winners. Walter Grattan bettered the track record for trotters in the first two heats with his ime of 2:10. The previous record was 2:10¼

Silver Bars also ran afoul of the judges in the 2:22 pace, and was set back to seventh place in the final heat for cutting in at the turn. However, her pair of wins in the first two heats were sufficient to give her the honors for the event. Sally Anne Grattan was awarded the third heat, with Margaret Dale second and Axworthy Grattan in third place.

Tramp Abbe walked off with the $300 classified race, placing first to all three heats. He was followed to the wire on every occasion by Saint Peter.

TRY for AN ART SCHOLARSHIP

Copy this girl and send us your drawing — perhaps you'll win a COMPLETE FEDERAL COURSE FREE! This contest is for amateurs, so if you like to draw do not hesitate to enter.

Prizes for Five Best Drawings—FIVE COMPLETE ART COURSES FREE, including drawing outfits. (Value of each course, $215.00.)

FREE! Each contestant whose drawing shows sufficient merit will receive a grading and advice as to whether he or she has, in our estimation, artistic talent worth developing.

Today design, color and illustrating influence the sale of most merchandise. Trained commercial artists have, therefore, become important in industry. They are in demand, — well paid — machines can never displace them. Artistic talent is comparatively scarce. If you can draw, why waste this rare gift? Train yourself to do work for which nature has fitted you and which few people can do. Success nowadays comes easier to those who develop natural ability. We have trained many young men and women now capable of earning up to $5,000 yearly as artists. Use this opportunity to test your talent. Read the rules and send us your drawing.

RULES

This contest open only to amateurs, 16 years old or more. Professional commercial artists and Federal students are not eligible.

1. Make drawing of girl 6 inches high, on paper 7½ inches high. Draw only the girl, no lettering.
2. Use only pencil or pen.
3. We return no drawings.
4. Print your name, address, age, occupation on back of drawing.
5. All drawings must be received by September 30th, 1938. Prizes will be awarded for drawings best in proportion and neatness by Federal Schools Faculty.

MARRIED

DUNLOP—SAVAGE. — The marriage was solemnized by Rev. B. E. Newnham of Southampton, Ont., on Monday, September 5, 1938, of Ruth Newell Savage, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George A. Savage of Guelph, to Wilson Bradburn Dunlop, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Dunlop of Peterborough.

ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McAdams, Chamberlain street, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Irene Elizabeth, to Harry, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, Rubidge street, Peterborough. The marriage will take place quietly on September 17.

IN MEMORIAM

MILLAR.—In loving memory of Arthur Henderson, who died September 11, 1935.

Deep in our hearts is a picture
Worth more than silver or gold;
It's a picture of our dear Dad,
Whose memory will never grow old.
Quickly and quietly came the call,
This sudden death surprised us all;
We have lost, but God has gained
One of the best the world contained.

—Sadly missed by Family.

MILLAR.—In loving memory of a dear husband, Arthur Henderson, who was accidentally killed September 11, 1935, in his 48th year.

Had I but had one last fond look
Into your loving face;
Or had I only got the chance
To kneel down in that place.
Could I have held your dying hand
Or heard your last farewell;
The parting would not have been so hard
For you I loved so well.
No one he loved was at his side
To hear his parting sigh,
To whisper just a loving word
Or even say Good-bye.
When alone in my sorrow and sad tears flow
There steals a dream of long ago,
And unknown to the world they stand by my side
And whisper these words, "Death cannot divide."

—Ever remembered by Wife.

FLEETWOOD.—In loving memory of our sister Helen, who passed away September 11, 1919.

You are not forgotten, sister,
Now ever will you be,
As long as life and memory lasts
We will remember thee.

—Belle and Madeline.

How Jap Armies Are Closing In

This map illustrated the method by which the Japanese forces are surrounding Hankow in the undeclared war with China. North of the Yangtze River the invaders, moving from Liuan and Yehkiatsi (1), are nearing Kushih and Shangcheng, while their distant objectives are Sinyang, Macheng and Lotien (2). Fresh divisions are reported being held ready around Pengpu (3). To the south a Tokyo force has entered Kwangtsi (4), another has reached Mahuiling (5) and still others are converging on Teian, although the Chinese hold strong positions in the hills in this area.

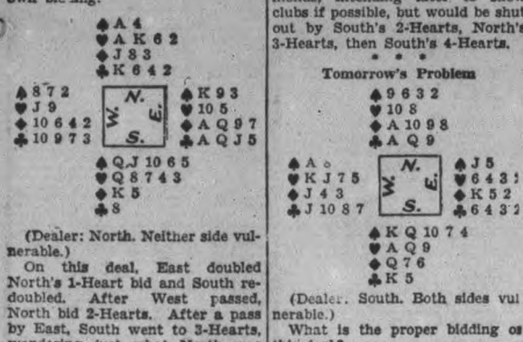
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER
By SHEPARD BARCLAY
"The Authority on Authorities"

REDOUBLED INTO GAME

IF YOU HAVE bid a major suit, the first opponent doubled and your partner redoubled, your side is in a game contract. If the second opponent now passes, there is no need to raise your own bid. Making redoubled overtricks would be a fine gift from the foe. By all means pass in this situation. The opponent doesn't dare leave it in, and maybe he will have to bid something which your partner can double for a penalty worth much more than a game. If he doesn't, your partner can carry on with his own bidding.



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

On this deal, East doubled North's 1-Heart bid and South redoubled. After West passed, North bid 2-Hearts. After a pass by East, South went to 3-Hearts, wondering just what North was striving for. To South's dismay, North passed this bid. Four was easily made, with the loss of one spade, one diamond and one club.

North should have passed the redouble, as had East allowed it to play there game would have been scored. The correct bidding should have been 1-Heart by North, double by East, redouble by South, pass by North, 2-Diamonds by East, 2-Hearts by South, 3-Hearts by North and 4-Hearts by South. But East, with two biddable 4-carders, ought not double. He should, after 1-Heart, bid 2-Diamonds, intending later to show clubs if possible, but would be shut out by South's 2-Hearts, North's 3-Hearts, then South's 4-Hearts.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

What is the proper bidding on this deal?

W. I. Visits Elizabethville

The local branch of the Women's Institute motored to Elizabethville on Wednesday afternoon, and were guests of the W.I. of that village at its regular meeting, with a pleasant social hour following.

The chair was taken by Mrs. Clarence Beatty, in the absence of the president of the hostess society, Mrs. Soden acting as secretary, and routine business being conducted. A warm welcome was extended from the chair to the visiting members, about twenty of whom were in attendance, a past-president of the Millbrook W. I., Mrs. Charles Thorndyke, taking charge of the program.

After a reading, "The Large Heart and the Shrunken Purse" by Miss Pearl Burnham, Mr. F. C. Scott gave a most interesting travelogue covering his fourteen-thousand mile trip last winter through the States by the East coast to Florida, then across California and Mexico and home by way of the Pacific Coast to Chicago, Detroit, Toronto and back to Millbrook. Three months were taken up with the holiday, departure being in January and return in April.

The hostess society served lunch during the social hour, after the meeting had been closed with a sing-song, and were heartily thanked for their hospitality before the visitors left for home.

Those providing cars were Mrs. G. E. and Miss Burnham, and Mr. Scott, and Mrs. H. Carr; others going including Mrs. C. Thorndyke, Mrs. D. Olan, Mrs. W. West, Mrs. P. Handley, Mrs. G. O. Fallis, Mrs. M. Sloan, Mrs J. W. Hilton, Mrs. G. Harkness, Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, Misses M. Fee, and Martha Lunn.

Miss Winifred E. Needler, B.A., of Toronto, niece of Mr. A. A. and Miss Henrietta Needler, of Millbrook, has been successful in winning a Fellowship in connection with her art work, at the Royal Ontario Museum. This entitles her to a year at Yale University, and will give opportunity to study in the art galleries and museums of New York city, particularly the Egyptian art and history, in which Miss Needler is especially interested. She is leaving this month for New Haven, and is looking forward with much pleasure to pursuing her studies at Yale.

Miss Bernice Smith has returned home after holidaying at Lakefield, the guest of Miss Helen Porter.

Miss Kathleen Smith will attend the Peterborough Normal School this year. Local young people who are attending Peterborough Business College include Miss Bessie Dawson, Reg. Edmunds and Lloyd McMahon.

Jack Arundel is taking a special business course at the Peterborough Collegiate this term.

Mr. Gerald Raper, and little son, Donald, of Cargill, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Raper.

Miss Mary Burnham is in Toronto this week, attnending C.N.E., and visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. McConnell.

The many friends of Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., who is holidaying in the Maritimes where his son, Richard, has been preaching through the summer vacation, are glad to learn that he suffered no injury in the car accident, when a truck sideswiped his motor and tore out the whole side. The driver of the truck was said to have been intoxicated. Mr. Williams' car was so badly wrecked he was given a new one to resume his vacation trip. The accident occurred during a drive through the State of Maine.

Ploughing Atlantic Cables in Ocean Bed Succeeds After 4-Year Experiment

New York, Sept. 10.

THE SUCCESSFUL completion of a four-year experiment to plough Transatlantic cables into the bottom of the sea, safe from damage by trawlers, was announced today by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The cable ship Lord Kelvin, which left New York last March 29, has been working 100 miles southwest of the Irish Coast and has succeeded in burying portions of three Transatlantic cables in the bed of the Atlantic Ocean.

The experiment to plough cables into the ooze of the ocean bottom comes on the 80th anniversary of what was once also regarded as impossible—the laying of the first Atlantic cable by Cyrus W. Field in 1858.

The operation was made possible by a new cable plough and the technique of ploughing ocean bottoms will save cable companies thousands of dollars in cable repairs annually, the announcement said, particularly as regards cables damaged by fishing fleets off the Irish Coast.

'World's Fair Exhibit Up To King'–Hepburn

TORONTO, Sept. 10—(CP).—Premier Mitchell Hepburn today asserted that Ontario was not participating in the Canadian pavilion at the New York World's Fair next year because it was a national exhibit.

"We have offered to lend the Dominion anything we have to improve the exhibit," he said, commenting on a statement by Hon. W. D. Euler at Quebec that "it is a great pity Ontario, most populous of the provinces, has declined to participate."

"There was a request by the Federal authorities that the provinces pay a share of the cost of the national showing," Mr. Hepburn said. "It is ridiculous to expect the provinces to provide individual exhibits."

"It is only an attempt of the Dominion to shirk its own responsibility once again," he added.

When the Judge demurred against the alternative, the warden imposed a fine of six ears of corn—when it ripens.

Czechs Limit

Then it wiped out a specific grievance by taking disciplinary action against a Czech policeman who allegedly struck a Sudeten deputy on the shoulder with a whip at Moravska-Ostrava on Wednesday. Because of that incident, the Sudetens promptly cancelled negotiations with the government.

The negotiations were scheduled to be resumed to-day the Sudetens expressing satisfaction over the "liquidation of Moravska-Ostrava."

The government's concessions provide for reorganizing Czechoslovakia into self-governing cantons grouping various nationalities—German, Russian, Czech and Slovaks—together.

Plan Has Runciman Sanction

An unofficial British mediation mission, headed by Viscount Runciman, was said to approve the plan which, if the Sudetens accept it, for approval. The concessions inwould be submitted to parliament clude:

1. An undisclosed number of districts are to be formed on the basis of nationalities, geographical features and natural communication lines.
2. All public jobs are to be appointed among the minority groups.
3. Government purchases of goods are to be apportioned in amounts corresponding to ratios, of population groups.
4. Government loans of $30,000,000 are to be made to depressed regions, including $21,000,000 to Sudetens.
5. Equality of German, Russian, Little Russian, Hungarian, Polish and Czech languages.
6. Secret voting and universal suffrage.
7. The districts are to be financed by the central government until the tax system is reformed.
8. Racial minorities within the districts are to be protected by associations to defend collective rights.
9. Special courts are to decide nationalities disputes.
10. Each citizen is to register his nationality.
11. A central nationalities commission is to administer the law.
12. Police are to remain under central control but districts are to organize their own police froces.

Labor Conscripts' Terms Lengthened

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 10 (CP-Havas). — General Constantin Hierl, chief of the German labor service, today announced that the term of compulsory labor service which was to have ended October 1 has been extended until the end of October.

Gen. Hierl told the Nazi Party congress that without the labor service the harvest could not have been gathered this year. The work of the labor corps had resulted in recovery of about 86,500 acres of arable land. Reforestation has been accomplished on about 6,150 acres.

Agriculture Minister Walther Darre stated: "Germany now has sufficient grain reserves to feed the German people for two years and vegetable fats sufficient for 7½ months." Even a bad harvest could not compromise the food supply.

His speech supplemented a more general statement made by Chancellor Hitler Monday in which he said Germany could not be starved by a blockade.

Leather Shoe Output Slumps In Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 10 — (CP). — A steady decline in the production of leather footwear in Canada has been shown since March and the July output was the smallest recorded for any month of the year with the exception of January, the Dominion Bureau of Statictics said today.

The July production totalled 1,626,772 pairs compared with 1,714,770 in June and 2,056,533 in July, 1937. Aggregate output during the seven months ended July was 12,573,625 pairs compared with 14,538,744 in the corresponding period last year. July imports of footwear totalled 30,641 pairs against 33,712 in July, 1937, and exports 31,001 compared with 32,076.

Mayors Demand Transient Training Plan

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 10 (CP)—Ontario Mayors Association in convention here today passed a resolution calling on "the proper authorities" to consider some plan for training young men, particularly transients", in some worthwhile and gainful occupations." A copy of the resolution was sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Premier Hepburn.

The convention decided relief and its administration were mainly a Dominion responsibility and called on the Federal government to introduce legislation at the next session of parliament, putting such a policy into effect.

The Association placed itself on record as favoring that any money earned by relief recipients and used to pay the difference between the shelter allowance granted and rent charged should not be deducted from their relief allowance. The landlord's receipt, however, must be filed with the municipal welfare department. The Association favored this rent policy except in cases of permanently unemployable families where the rent would be allowed in full or up to 300 per cent of yearly taxes.

Poll Tax On All.

The mayors passed several other resolutions, similar to proposals adopted last week by the Ontario Municipal Association. They asked the provincial government to bear the entire cost of provincial voters' lists, amend the Assesment Act to provide for a poll tax on all persons gainfully employed between the ages of 21 and 60 whose names do not appear on the assessment rolls and give municipalities the right to tax chain stores.

Another approved resolution asked the Provincial Government to pass legislation permitting physicians and surgeons to perform sterilization operations, with consent of persons to be operated on or, in cases of unsound mind, with consent of parents or guardians.

The Mayor asked the Provincial Government to pass legislation giving municipalities power to pass on Board of Education estimates when the majority of council considers such estimates too high.

A resolution asking cancellation of all tax exemptions on federal, provincial and religious buildings was struck from the agenda.

Approval was given a proposal asking the Provincial Government to pay cost of maintenance of all provincial highways within municipal boundaries.

The Association asked government action to enable destitute families to become self-supporting, presumably through a back-to-the-land scheme.

Midway Crowds Are Spending More Revenue Increased 28 Per Cent

Toronto, Sept. 10.

THE HUGE CROWDS which have thronged to Frolexland ever since the Canadian National Exhibition opened have spent 28 per cent more money this year than they did last. Only one day during the current Exhibition has fallen below last year, and that was Wednesday, when the deficit as compared with last year was only $80.

Last Friday was the day on which the greatest increase was reported, J. J. Conklin, manager of Frolexland, stated. On that day the increase was 51 per cent over the previous year. Labor Day crowds spent 38 per cent more money than last year, while several other days have been over the 40 per cent increase mark.

Mr. Conklin said he believed the main reason for the increase was the fact that people are beginning to realize that Frolexland is no longer just a midway but a street full of a wide variety of entertainment.

Times Surprised Over Furore

LONDON, Sept. 10 (CP Havas)—The Times (Independent) today expressed surprise at the international furor aroused by its editorial of Wednesday suggesting that the Sudeten German districts of Czechoslovakia be handed over to Germany should all other efforts to solve the problem fail.

"It is really grotesque that so much righteous indignation should be expended on a mere suggestion which has frequently been made in these columns before — that revision of boundaries should not be excluded entirely from the list of possible approaches to a settlement," the newspaper said in an editorial.

"It is not certain that Chancellor Hitler is anxious to have the Sudetens," the editorial continued. "But the fuehrer's own recent protestations, both of his love of peace and of his desire for no more than justice for his nationals, have been so emphatic and so widely discussed that it would be ungenerous to assume his responsibility for it before he speaks."

The Times said Prime Minister Chamberlain's return to London and his consultation with several cabinet ministers, yesterday could not be interpreted as an indication that the European situation had taken a turn for the worse.

"There is nothing to provoke fresh anxiety, rather the reverse, in news that the prime minister returned to London. The situation in central Europe has not become more alarming."

An Irish Warning?

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Sept. 10—(CP).—So many inquisitive people have been wandering around the "big bunch of buildings" being erected south of here for the new provincial mental hospital, a workman was instructed to post a sign at the door of the new power house there. The workman, more than a little Irish, placed his handiwork in a few minutes. It read: "Kipout."

Judge Purchases Wood To Settle Case Makes 2 Men Happy

Goderich, Ont., Sept. 10.

JUDGE T. M. COSTELLO conducted so successful a piece of arbitration between a debtor and creditor in division court here that now he owns two cords of wood for which he will pay $6.85—the amount involved in the debt argument.

"I can pay it in wood but I have no cash," the unnamed debtor told the proprietor of a baking establishment seeking payment of the debt.

"I can't pay my own accounts with wood," the baker replied. "I want cash."

Then the judge interposed: "Very well. Deliver to me the two cords of wood and I'll pay the money to the bakery."

The baker beamed thanks, the debtor grinned his pleasure.

Dignitaries Rally For Hayes Mass

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP).—Ecclesiastical dignitaries from all parts of the United States and Canada were in New York to participate in the solemn pontifical requiem mass before the burial of the late Patrick Cardinal Hayes.

Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago and Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia were on the altar. Two thousand or more priests, about 60 bishops and 13 archbishops honored the spirit of the East Side orphan who became a prince of the church.

Everywhere the ancient habits of various orders of the church were in evidence, the brown robes and cowls and white knotted cinctures of the tonsured Franciscans, the black and white of the Dominican Fathers and Nuns, the light blue tunics of the Sisters of Mary, the flaming red crosses of the Sisters of Divine Compassion.

Cardinal Hayes' final rest will be in a crypt under the altar of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Ex-Convict Kills Club Hostess At Her Request

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)—An ex-convict was pressed today for additional details of the slaying of Mrs. Marie Lamont, night club hostess, after confessing he strangled her because "she begged me to kill her."

Chief of Detectives John Sullivan and John Boyle, assistant state's attorney, announced that William Raab, 38, a night club bouncer, admitted last night he throttled the woman in his hotel room.

The nude body of the 27-year-old victim was found on a bed in Raab's headquarters at the Lorraine Hotel Wednesday. Raab was in an alcoholic stupor when the police found him wading in a Garfield Park lagoon yesterday.

Chief Sullivan quoted Raab as follows:—

"We loved each other desperately but there was no chance of our being together. She begged me to kill her. I placed my fingers around her neck and chorked her. I don't know whether I held her throat five minutes or a half hour. She didn't struggle."

Mrs. Lamont was estranged from her husband, an office manager for a real estate company. She was the mother of an eight-year-old girl.

Two Jap Moderates Named Advisors

TOKYO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Appointment of two men who as foreign ministers in former governments advocated moderation toward China to be special advisers to Foreign Minister General Kazushige Ugaki was announced today.

The two are Hachiro Arita, Foreign Minister in 1936-37, and Naotake Sato, who followed him for a brief period in 1937. Both served before the outbreak of the war with China, July 7, 1937.

The Foreign Office said Arita and Sato would assist General Ugaki, who had no diplomatic experience prior to his appointment to the Foreign Ministry last May, in handling Anglo-Japanese and other questions arising from the China war.

Arita's direction of China policy drew opposition from the army during his term in the Cabinet of Koki Hirota. Arita is a former Ambassador to China, Sato former Ambassador to France.

HITLER STALLS ON SUDETEN QUESTION

French Army Poised To Fight

Premier Sits Beside Open Line To Chamberlain

PARIS, Sept. 12 (AP).—The French Cabinet today completed plans for general mobilization in case it becomes necessary in the critical Central European situation, informed sources asserted.

The Ministers, who reviewed the nation's preparations in a meeting with Premier Edouard Daladier, were also said to have drawn up measures for evacuation and protection of the civil population if war should come.

PARIS, Sept. 12 (AP).—France's cabinet sat with Premier Edouard Daladier today, reviewing the nation's preparations, and planning further preparations in the event of a menacing turn in the critical central European situation.

An open telephone line connected the premier's office with 10 Downing Street, London. Daladier and Prime Minister Chamberlain were said to have conversed frequently while their countries awaited Chancellor Hitler's pronouncement tonight of German foreign policy.

In Paris and throughout France crowds gathered before news bulletin boards, anxiously watching latest reports from Nuremberg, Germany, where Hitler was to address a Nazi party rally. Many Parisians abandoned work to gather on street corners and cafe terraces.

Cobb Fails By Less Than 3 Miles An Hour To Beat Eyston's 345 World Mark

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 12.

JOHN R. COBB, London Fur broker, made a courageous attempt to shatter the world's automobile speed record here to-day, but fell short by less than three miles an hour.

The wealthy Briton, piloting a 7,000 pound shark-shaped facer, was clocked at 342.53 miles an hour on two flashing drives through the measured mile, but his gallant bid was not enough.

Captain George E. T. Eyston's mark of 345.49 miles an hour, made here August 29, thus stood an assault which far exceeded the retired army officer's original average last year of 311.295.

Cobb was timed officially at 343.8 on the south run and at 341.6 on the backward jaunt.

Sudeten Street Rioting Spreads, Mobs Yell For Plebiscite, Government Appeals For Calm

By Larry Allen
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

PRAGUE, Sept. 12 (A.P.). — Mounting Nazi enthusiasm in Sudeten territory and demands for a plebiscite were watched with growing concern to-day as Czechoslovakia awaited Adolf Hitler's speech before the Nazi Party congress at Nuremberg.

The Sudeten Germans, in a series of demonstrations in many towns and cities, chorused demands for a plebiscite on Sudeten autonomy. They also appeared to be raising an issue of "saving Czechoslovakia from Communism."

Although Communists hold but 45 of the 400 seats in the Czechoslovak Parliament and no Cabinet positions the Sudetens pointed to the republic's alliance with Soviet Russia as a possible evidence of Communistic influence. This was in line with charges repeatedly carried in the German press—and denied by Prague officials—that great numbers of warplanes from Russia were being maintained in secret hangars in Czechoslovakia.

Excitement Grows.

As the nation watched Nuremberg for the declaration by the German Fuehrer, developments in the Sudeten territory reflected increasing excitement.

Eight policemen were injured in street fighting at Liberec after a crowd, singing "Deutschland uber Alles" and other German songs, clashed with police. Four demonstrators were arrested.

In Prague, a youth wearing white socks, regarded as the Sudeten emblem, was attacked in a downtown street. Police rescued the youth and dispersed the crowd.

Disturbances late last night seemed to spread over a wider region with incidents reported at Fischern, Aussig, Maehr, Trjebau, Teplitz-Schoenau, Joachimstahl, Mueglitz, Hartmanitz and Winterberg.

Swastika flags were flown from houses in Beschafteinitz and road signs were defaced. A shot was fired at a Czech soldier at Troppeau, but he was not hit. A priest left Triebendorf, declaring Nazi sympathizers threatened him.

In the scattered disturbances, police used no weapons except light sticks.

Call Goes Out For Calm.

The government-controlled radio carried new appeals to the people to keep calm and maintain order pending settlement of the minority dispute. The broadcaster observed that many of the incidents apparently were caused by irresponsible Sudetens, since a large number of the adherents of the Sudeten leader Konrad Henlein, were co-operating with the authorities.

$25,000 Alberta Grant Has Ottawa Upset

OTTAWA, Sept. 12 (C.P.). — The mystery of an Order-in-Council under the terms of which the Alberta Government says it received $25,000 of $200,000 promised her but of which no record can be found in Ottawa is puzzling Federal Departments here.

Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta Minister of Public Works, wrote Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Resources, to say that Rt. Hon. R. B. Alberta got the leases, wrote Mr. Fallow, and "he (Mr. Bennett in 1935) immediately authorized me to spend $25,000 in the improvement of this grade, with the understanding that the other $175,000 would be

Revision Of Railway Wages Is Hinted By Beatty

EDMONTON, Sept. 12 (CP) — Canadian railways will have to consider the question of employees' wages after the present wage dispute in the United States is settled, Sir Edward Beatty, president and chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said on a visit here today.

Sir Edward, who arrived in Edmonton yesterday on an inspection of western lines, was asked if a cut in employees' wages was likely in Canada in view of the announced decrease for American rail employees.

"The wage negotiations in the United States are taking the course prescribed by the law of that country and when a final solution is reached, the Canadian railways will have to give consideration to their position," he replied. "It will be recalled that the present wages scales are higher and revenues lower than when the voluntary cut, recently restored, was put into effect.

The rail president declared he knew of nothing since the depression began which equals the expected large western grain crop in importance as a stimulus to general recovery throughout the country.

Hepburn Onion Crop Of 30,000 Bus. Overflows Storage

St. Thomas, Sept. 12.

HARVEST of an onion crop that will run to at least 30,000 bushels from the reclaimed black muck areas on Premier M. F. Hepburn's farms south of this city has been completed. The Premier's onion crop is so large this year that his storage warehouse is filled to capacity, and barns and other buildings have had to be placed in service to take care of the overflow. The Premier grew field onions entirely this year, but has announced that he will plant an acreage of Spainish onions again next Spring, as he has learned that he can again get good seed from Spain.

Nearly half of Brazils coffee crop is being sent to the United States.

Workers Dig To Recover Cobourg Man

Workers dug frantically for hours today amid the wreckage of the Canadian Canners company, at Port Hope, in a search for a workman who was buried alive when the front wall and the floors of the plant collapsed. Loaded to the ceiling almost with canned goods of all kinds, which may have been a cause of the collapse, the wall burst open about eleven o'clock this morning.

Demands Oppression End And Right Given Of Self-Determination

Dictator Holds Out Olive Branch To France, Then Boasts Of Western Forts; Hammers Democracies For Red Hookup

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 12 (CP). — Chancellor Hitler demanded tonight that Czechoslovakia give 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans "their rights" but did not indicate precisely what his intentions were toward Czechoslovakia.

Hitler talked passionately for 78 minutes. It was the climatic event of the 10th annual Nazi Party congress.

But he left unanswered the question the world had waited anxiously to hear him discuss — will Germany use force to achieve her ambitions for the Sudeten Germans?

Hitler made clear only that Germany was standing by to see that the Germanic minority obtained their "right of self-determination."

NUREMBERG, Sept. 12 (CP).—Chancellor Hitler told his cheering followers tonight that "we see democracy and Bolshevism arrayed in a solid front" against Nazi Germany.

The Fuehrer, opening the speech for which the world was waiting, spoke at length of what he called "the sufferings" of Nazi adherents in Austria before the annexation.

The first portion of his pronouncement before the climatic meeting of the 10th annual Nazi Party congress was devoted entirely to recalling the party's fight for supreme power in Germany.

Then he turned to his attack against the democracies and Bolshevism, asserting that they were united against Naziism under "the slogan of 'liberty, equality, fraternity'."

"It is a bloody mockery of history," the Fuehrer continued, "that the democracies are allied with the most brutal dictatorship in the world.

"It was they which attempted to hinder Italy's action in Ethiopia."

Hammering home the point that the Nazis had built Germany into a mighty nation again, Hitler turned to Czechoslovakia.

"Scorn is being heaped on us today, but thank God we are in a position to prevent any rape of Germany," he declared.

Claim Millions Being Manhandled

"I am now speaking about Czechoslovakia. This state was founded according to democratic principles.

"As these democratic principles are applied, millions of people are being manhandled and suppressed. The great democracies went to convince the world that Czechoslovakia has a special political and military mission to fulfill.

"Three and a half million Germans in Czechoslovakia are being systematically ruined and doomed to slow extinction."

"The depriving of these human beings of all rights must come to and end," the Fuehrer thundered.

But again the German Chancellor held out an olive branch to France.

"Strasbourg means much, but we have surrendered it in the interests of peace, to settle for once and for all the eternal strife with France," he said, referring to the cession of Alsace-Lorraine after the Great War.

"On other frontiers too we have made sacrifices. We have acted more than loyally."

"I believe that the cause of European peace is not served by creating the impression that Germany is indifferent to the fate of 3,500,000 (Sudeten Germans) in Czechoslovakia," he went on.

"Let the gentlemen in London be assured of this."

Plebiscite A Farce?

"A pebiscite in Czechoslovakia," the Fuehrer said, "would only be conducted under brutal oppression."

Reviewing the first weeks of the crisis arising from the autonomy demands of the Sudeten Germans, Hitler denied Germany had any intention of marching into Czechoslovakia at that time, four months ago.

Assertions to the contrary he branded as "lies."

"I demand that the oppression of the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia shall cease," he told the cheering audience.

"The right of self-determination must be given to them!"

The Arabs in Palestine "may be alone and defenceless, but the Germans in Czechoslovakia are not," he said.

Hitler said that he gave orders on May 28 to begin immediately with hurried completion of fortifications on the western frontier which had been under construction for two years.

He disclosed that Fritz Todt, noted as Germanys builder of highways, had been placed in charge of these operations.

Hitler finished his speech at 8.33 p.m.

He Reviews History

The Chancellor began: "Men and women! On Sept. 29, 1923, there took place at Nuremberg the first Nazi congress, which was attended by the storm troops of the party.

"Since that day one could not but notice that something had occurred in the political life of German nation. Other parties or similar groups recruited followers principally from Bourgeoisie, but from that moment the national socialist party was recruiting among the great masses, among the sons of workers and peasants.

"Our name as the German labor party clashed with the national party, as did the apearance of our uncouth soldiers, but this name of the workers' party was from the first day our name of honor. We had a popular party. We had many more manual laborers than intellectual workers, and because of this the opposing parties thought it would be impossible for us to assume any higher task

Tramp Skipper Keeps Fingers Crossed As He Loads For War-Torn Spain

Montreal, Sept., 12.

RED-HEADED Captain S. L. Spence says, "they haven't got me yet," but he keeps his fingers crossed when he says it.

Captain Spence and the tramp freighter Stancroft do business with Loyalist Spain, and it's dangerous business. They used to run cargoes in for the insurgents, but now they dodge insurgent bombs and insurgent gunfire in Spanish waters.

"She's only a wee coaster, and she really has no business trading to Spain," the skipper said last night as his ship loaded zinc for the wartorn country. "But so far she's served me well, and as long as I keep quiet and my luck holds out, I guess she'll keep on serving me."

The captain and his crew minimize the danger they run. The chance of getting to Spain and back, an officer said, are "all right." They figure, he said, that six ships bombed out of 200 operating for Loyalist Spain "isn't much."

Cannery Wall In Port Hope Collapses Burying One Man And Injuring Three

PORT HOPE, Ont., Sept. 12. — (CP).—Burying one man under tons of debris and injuring three others, the east wall of the Port Hope plant of Canadian Canners, collapsed without warning this morning. Body of Thomas Boyace, aged about 20, Cobourg, had not been recovered early this afternoon, although rescue workers under Fire Chief John Record worked feverishly, hoping against hope the buried employee might still be alive. Also injured in the collapse were Frank Vogam, 43, Toronto; H. L. Boyace, Toronto; and Garnet Russell, Port Hope.

Hip Thought Fractured.

Vogan, talking with Blake and Wallford Vick, manager of the plant at the doorway of the wrecked building, was struck by a falling pole and is believed to have suffered a fractured hip. Blake, struck on the head by flying debris, was only slightly injured.

Russell, working with the buried man on the south-east corner of the third floor of the building and pinned in by the wreckage, crawled out over the debris after the collapse. Extent of his arm and chest injuries are not yet known. Wallford Vick, manager of the plant, said the wall collapsed without warning. "There was a crack like a pistol shot," he said, "and the wall tumbled down."

"We saw the wall belly out, and started to run," Blake said.

"Frank Vogan, my brother-in-law, who had accompanied me to the plant, was struck by a falling pole. I think a piece of brick struck me on the head, A. Blake, a commercial traveller, was just leaving the plant when the wall collapsed.

One hundred and twenty-five employees mostly women, were at work in the 53-year-old building when the wall gave way.

Only a few men, however, were working in the Eastern portion which was devoted chiefly to storage. The building of brick construction, consists of three storeys and a tower which housed a huge tank. The tank, approximately 18 feet in diameter and 15 feet in height, and half filled with water, fell 50 feet from the tower when the wall of the building fell out.

Hampered Rescue.

Tons of canned tomatoes from broken cartons and cases which had been stored in the wrecked portion of the building, were spilled from two floors. The canned goods hampered efforts of rescue workers.

Boyace, married, is the father of a six-month old daufhter. His wife and sister are both employees of the plant, and, with other employees, they witnessed rescue operations.

The building, recently inspected, originally was built for a brewery.

Czechs Toss Out Sudeten Idea For Plebiscite

PARIS, Sept. 12—(CP)—A Havas News Agency dispatch from London today said Jan Masaryk, Czech minister to Great Britain, had delivered a note rejecting the idea of a plebiscite to permit the German minority in Czechoslovakia to vote on the question of annexation of Sudeten areas to Germany.

The dispatch said the note was handed to William Strang, chief of the Central European section of the foreign office, while the cabinet was meeting at 10 Downing street today.

(Sudeten Germans shouted for a plebiscite during demonstrations in Czechoslovakia Sunday. Some observers have predicted Germany will demand such a vote.)

A Havas dispatch from Nuremberg reported Germany had sounded out Poland and Rumania as to their probable attitude in case of war.

The dispatch connected the report with conferences yesterday be-

Britain Calm, Silent Ready To Act

Cabinet Stands By, Defence Plans Believed Complete

By J. F. Sanderson
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(CP Cable). —The cabinet spent two hours reviewing the European situation today and then adjourned to clear the stage for Chancellor Hitler's pivotal speech at Nuremberg tonight.

The fact the cabinet adjourned for the day seemed to be an indication the government feels it has taken every step advisable in advance of Der Fuehrer's pronouncement in the Czech crisis.

The cabinet session closed without a public communique, which was felt to be unnecessary in view of the government's accomplishment of impressing upon Chancellor Hitler that Great Britain would fight if the integrity of France were menaced through an invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Elaborate plans have been made to bring Herr Hitler's speech to foreign office experts as quickly as possible. It is believed the inner cabinet—Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, Viscount Halifax and Sir Samuel Hoare—will study it at 10 Downing street in relay, almost sentence by sentence.

Defence Plans Secret.

Official secrecy surrounds any defence plans taken by the cabinet but it was reliably reported this phase of the European crisis had been paid particular attention during the last few days. It is believed British and French military experts are working in closest harmony.

(The Associated Press said precautionary measures on a considerable scale were believed to have been taken already. The agency cited the concentration of warships off Northern Scotland. This sturdy gray line, three miles long, stretched down Cromarty Firth from Invergordon.)

While the cabinet was in session Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to London, was summoned to the foreign office. It was believed he saw Sir Robert Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser to the government.

Veteran Is Killed In Brawl Over Woman—2 Held

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 12. (CP).—Hugh Odey, 35, Windsor negro, and Mrs. Janne Stein, 37, rooming house proprietor, were charged today with manslaughter in the death of Thomas "Bud" Syer, 41-year-old war pensioner whose battered body was found early Sunday in the kitchen of Mrs. Stein's home. Syer was a roomer at the house.

Police said Odey, in a statement, admitted he and Syer quarelled over Mrs. Stein and that he struck Syer. He told police there was a general brawl at the time the blows were struck. Eight witnesses, said by Odey to have witnessed the fight, will be questioned. Several witnesses who told police yesterday they knew nothing of the brawl will be recalled for further questioning.

Mrs. Erma Kelly, another roomer, found the body lying in a pool of blood on the floor. His clothes were torn and his trouser pockets turned inside out. The room bore evidence of a struggle. Coffee grounds were scattered on the floor, one glass was broken, a tuft of reddish-brown hair, not Syer's, was found near the body.

Joseph Kelly, husband of the woman who found the body, said he drove Mrs. Stein, Odey and three other men to the rooming house about six hours before the body was found. He said all five were intoxicated.

Coroner Dr. James Young said Syer had been five or six hours dead before the body was found.

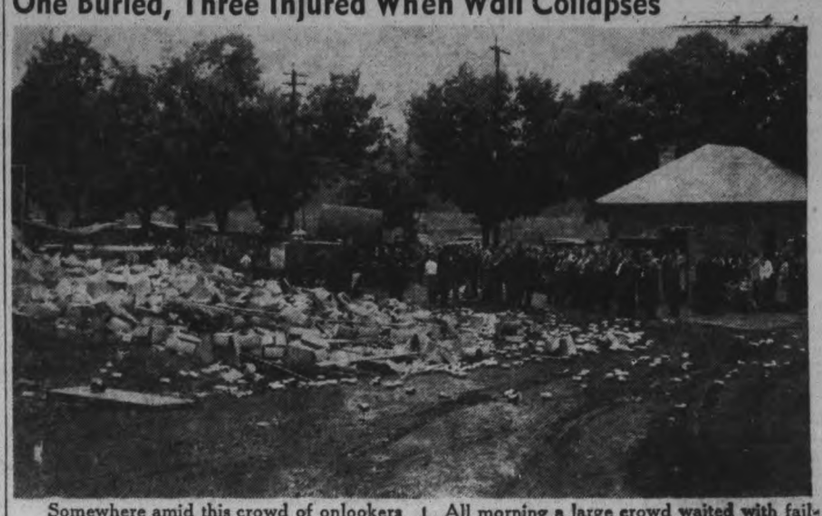
One Buried, Three Injured When Wall Collapses



Somewhere amid this crowd of onlookers are relatives and friends of Thomas Boyace, 20-year-old Cobourg lad, who was buried beneath tons of debris when the east wall of the Port Hope plant of the Canadian Canners collapsed without warning this morning. All morning a large crowd waited with failing hope, just in case the youth should be brought alive from his tomb. Three others were injured and one car almost totally wrecked by the collapse.

Nazis Hold Sudeten Fate Matter Of Honor To The German Nation

Ominous Sign Seen As Hitler Sidesteps Sudeten Case In Press Talks; Day's Address To Reveal Teuton Aims

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 12 (AP). — The fate of Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia now has become a matter of national honor for Germany with all that this implies, the highest of Nazi officials revealed a few hours before Chancellor Hitler's speech on foreign policy to close the Nazi Party tonight.

There were none here who would predict the tenor of the speech, but there were two things that to veteran observers seemed to indicate Hitler was likely to act soon on the world-troubling Sudeten questions.

Speaking yesterday to 110,000 storm troopers (SA) and Elite Guardsmen (SS), the Chancellor declared:

"A new Germany stands before us and we have the good fortune to live in it. To other Germans this still is denied for the time being. Our hearts go out to them just as we know their hearts are with us and they are in spirit right amongst us."

The second indication was that Hitler studiously refrained from touching the Sudeten German demands for autonomy from Czechoslovakia during his chat with foreign correspondents yesterday.

The first was seen as a strong hint that union of the Sudeten German region of Czechoslovakia to greater Germany alone can satisfy Nazi ambitions.

The second was typical in Hitler's career as statesman, that he always has been most silent about his plans when the moment for action is about to be reached.

The Matter of Honor

It was in conversation with the foreign correspondents that high Nazi officials referred to the matter of honor in the Sudeten dispute.

Field Marshall Hermann Goering, on Saturday, had said that "Our honor is one thing nobody can besmirch with impunity."

A French correspondent attempted to point out that France's treaty obligations towards Czechoslovakia, whether rightly or wrongly incurred, rendered her honor bound to come to the little republic's assistance.

To this, several high officials interposed that only German honor was at stake, that the honor of France was not involved.

British fears of possible conflict involving France were held to be unfounded, and yesterday's outline of the position that Britain could not stay out of any war endangering France was looked upon as an

Woman Suffers Broken Arm In Car Crash

Four traffic accidents were reported over the week-end, with three being inside the city limits and the other on Highway 28 near Bewdley.

The most serious occurred at the intersection of Water and McDonnel Streets on Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Francis McGee, 175 Douro Street, received a compound fracture of the right arm, and other less serious injuries. The woman, who is 80 years of age, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where her condition is reported as fair. Mrs. McGee was crossing Water street, when she came in contact with a north-bound car said to be driven by Campbell Rowatt, 537 Elm Street. The driver told police the woman walked into the right rear door handle and received the arm injury.

Collides With Transport.

A motorcycle being driven south on George Street by Douglas Ford, 20 Western Avenue, collided with a Beatty Transport being driven east on Dalhousie Street on Saturday afternoon also. The cycle struck the truck on the left front fender.

The other accident took place on Rubidge Street and the cars involved were driven by George Pogue, 522 Romaine Street, and Harold Porter, 75 Orpington Road. Porter was attempting to pass Pogue when the cars came in contact with each other and damaged fenders resulted.

On Highway 28, near Bewdley, a car said to be owned and driven by Thomas Carey, Otonabee, skidded on a curve and turned over twice. The driver and three passengers, all of Peterborough, Bill Collins, Harry Lowe and Joe Carman, escaped with minor bruises.

Child Welfare Is Institute Topic

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 12. — Health and child welfare was the interesting topic dealt with at the monthly meeting of the Seymour East Women's Institute which met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jesse Locke. Thirty-nine members answered the roll call "Emergency Suggestions" and a very interesting program was offered despite the general disappointment expressed when it was learned that A. A. Martin, District Agricultural Representative who was to address the meeting was unable to attend. During the business session of the meeting the correspondence was read and the treasurer's report was presented by Miss Evelyn Stotts. Mrs. Jesse Locke was appointed local leader and Mrs. Alex Milne the alternate to attend the Buymanship Course which is being held in Warkworth next week. Marian Walker and Evelyn Stotts were appointed to attend the Institute Convention in Belleville this fall. Following a discussion of the Fall Fair prize list and a display of the various entries from the Institute the program for the afternoon was begun. Mrs. George Craighead and Mrs. J. A. MacMillan offered a vocal duet, followed by a reading by Mrs. George Ingram, piano solo by Elsie Rannie; vocal solo, Susan Atkinson; piano by Josephine and Doris Locke.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. John Rannie on October 13. A 10 cent tea brought the afternoon to a close.

They Meet Again

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 12—(CP). It takes on a war or a veterans' re-union to bring John Bennett and Arthur Frood together, it seems. Almost 40 years ago in England the pair joined the Bedford Yeomanry and served in the South African war. Demobilized, they went their separate ways. Chance threw them together again in France where they both turned up in the 16th Canadian Scottish. One was invalided home and they did not see each other again. Bennett settled in Winnipeg and Frood here. This weekend they met again, by accident, at the First Contingent Club here. A private re-union is under way.

Nine Fatalities In Ontario Over Weekend

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (CP).—Six traffic deaths, a fire, an airplane fatality and a suspected murder sent Ontario's weekend fatalities list to nine. Police are seeking a hit-and-run driver as the result of one of the motor accidents.

Near Glencoe a United States army plane crashed during a storm, carrying Lieutenant James Breathitt of Selfridge Field, Mich, to his death.

At Windsor, the body of Thomas Syers, 41-year-old war pensioner, was found amid evidence of a fight in the kitchen of his boarding house. Two persons are being held for questioning in connection with the case, labelled by the corner as "suspected murder".

Other fatalities:

Brantford—Pete Nicholl, 45, burned to death in shack fire.

Windsor—Seward Isaacs, an Indian, struck by automobile.

Bracebridge—Frederick C. Few, 60, died of injuries suffered in crash Sept. 3.

Kingston—Harry Johnston, 40, struck by car on highway.

Belleville — James Orser, 16, Frankford, killed in two-car crash.

Toronto—Hilliard Hanna, 52, injured fatally when truck hit car he was cranking.

Victim of Collision.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 12. — James Orser, 16-year-old Frankford, Ont., youth, died en route to the Belleville General Hospital on Sunday as the result of fatal injuries received in a motor accident on the Seventh Concession of Sidney, nine miles north of here, early in the afternoon.

City Carpetball

The City Carpet Ball League held the first fall meeting when the officers were appointed for the season of 1938-9 and the closing date for entries into the league was named. D. Leether was again the popular choice for president and was returned by acclamation. Messrs E. Heap, F. J. Parsons and W. G. Howden were appointed 1st, 2nd and third vice presidents in the order named. G. E. Groombridge was again acclaimed secretary treasurer. G. Gimblett Sr., still holds the post of immediate past president, and it is felt that this slate of officers with the club representative will do much to the advancement of the league.

Starting in 1929 with 10 teams, the club grew to 22 teams in 1936-37, whilst last year it slumped to 14 teams. The season seemed very short and every one is looking forward to an 18 or 20 team league.

According to reports received the following teams will be entered: St. Georges 2, St. Lukes 2, St. Johns 1, Moose 2, All Saints 1, Fire Hall 3, Legion 3, L.O.L. 2, Trinity 2. It is also expected that the A.O.F. and the W.O.W. will endeavour to re-enter the league this season. All clubs or organizations who are considering entering teams should note that all entries must be sent into the secretary on or before Saturday, September 24. Also every one is asked to attend the general meeting that will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 29th at 8 p.m. sharp. The S.O.E. Hall when acceptance of entries will be passed, members drawn and schedule drawn up. It is hoped that the league games will start during the first week of October, so it is hoped that every one will co-operate toward this aim.

One change of rules should be noticed—that in future all games shall consist of 12 ends instead of the 10 ends as heretofore. One item of importance should be thoroughly thought out and suggestions brought forward at the next meeting. What must be done with games played or to be played in the case of a team dropped out during the season. Last season this happened and the results were really unsatisfactory to all concerned, so let us get this matter fully settled before the season starts.

Peppy At 87

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 12 (CP) —Milton Lowden's 87 years mean little to him. Every morning before breakfast he milks two cows at his son's farm out on the Mohawk road. He wields a scythe as well as anyone, keeping the weeds down around the place. He did some ploughing last spring, too. Mr. Lowden is particularly proud of the fact he has missed only one Sunday this year from teaching his Bible class, and that day it was a case of visitors.

Eden Speaks Out In Warning Of General War

LONDON, Sept. 12—(CP)—Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary, who broke with the government over foreign policy last February, supported the government yesterday by warning Germany not to seek a violent solution to the Czechoslovak crisis.

In a letter to the Times he said it "is a dangerous illusion to assume that once conflict has broken out in Central Europe it could be localized."

Writing of the difficulty confronting Prime Minister Chamberlain in trying to make clear to Chancellor Hitler what would happen in Great Britain if Germany attacked Czechoslovakia, he said: "It would be the gravest of all tragedies if from a misunderstanding of the mind of the British people, the world were once again to be plunged into conflict.

"We have often been told that the war of 1914 would never have come about had the attitude of this country been clearly understood in time.

"Whatever we think of this statement, it is the duty of each one of us, press and public as well as the government, to take every step in our power to prevent such a repetition of tragedy.

Goering Is Taken Ill On Day Of Vital Speech

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 12. —(A. P.). — It was officially announced today that Field Marshall Hermann Goering, chielf Lieutenant of Chancellor Hitler, had become ill Sunday night and would need several days "of absolute rest."

The absence of the No. 2 Nazi from this morning's military display on Zeppelin Meadow was noted and at first it was reported he was with Hitler in the hotel where the Fuehrer was preparing tonight's speech on which may hang the fate of Europe.

But the doctors' communique announced:

"Field Marshal Goering has contracted inflammation of the lympathic glands in the right leg. In addition he has catarrh of the throat. His feverish condition demands several days of absolute rest in bed."

Goering became ill toward the end of yesterday's strenuous participation in the 10th annual rally of the Nazi party, now nearing its climax in the anxiously-awaited speech of the Fuehrer to be delivered tonight.

Notre Dame's trip to Southern California in December has South Bend so hepped up already that some of the boys are planning a 10-day party through Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico and points north for everybody who wants to come.

Joe DiMaggio polled 61 per cent of the votes to win the centre field spot on a cereal company's popularity team . . . Earl Averill, who was second, drew only 12 . . . ASPHODEL FARMER GROWING GINSENG ON COMMERCIAL SCALE

Five To Seven Years Required To Grow One Crop; Must Be Kept Under Cover

China Chief Market Where It Is Used Medicinal Purposes

They call it ginseng (with a soft g") and it's the most valuable crop grown in this entire area. A pound of it sells anywhere between two and twelve dollars, has sometimes gone as high as twenty-four dollars. And there are five and a half acres of it within five miles of Norwood.

Ginseng is a root crop virtually all of which is sold in China, for medicinal purposes. In Canada practically its only buyers are the Chinese here. The five and a half acres, only known crop in all eastern Ontario, is growing on the farm of W. G. Barrie, five miles east of Norwood on the county line between Peterborough and Northumberland.

Started 7 Years Ago.

Owners of the five and a half acres are W. G. Barrie, on whose farm it is located and who supervises its growth; Dr. Don Holdcroft of Havelock, and S. G. Tatham of Toronto. Seven years ago the three of them read in a weekly paper about some western Ontario farmers who were growing the root crop, and they decided to try it themselves.

Five Years To Get a Crop.

But lest anyone think that he will grow rich quick by growing ginseng, let it be noted that the crop is not ready for harvest until it has been in the ground for five or more years. And to ogrow, it must be kept under shelter during all that time, which means erection of elaborate shelters running for acres and acres.

Chinese believe that ginseng which they boil into a sort of tea, stew into a sort of porridge, or nibble away at raw, aids stomach troubles. Particularly do they use it in extremely hot climates to ward off fever. And some missionaries and physicians in China agree that the herb has great medicinal qualities.

Carry A Root in Pocket.

Peterborough Chinese to whom an Examiner reporter showed a ginseng root, recognized it immediately, most were astonished that it was grown in this district. Willie Hum, proprietor of the Mayfair cafe, said he had often brewed ginseng in China and that many Chinese use it in this country. Most Chinese carry a root or two in their pockets, he said. He showed it to his Chinese staff, all of whom recognized it as ginseng, and he kept it to dry out on his shelf.

Tom Long, proprietor of the Canton cafe, said he did not know any Chinese in this country who used the root. It was only in hot climates that it was of value. A good deal of it is grown in the United States, more in Korea and Manchuria, he said. It varies in quality, the best being grown in the latter two countries and being even more expensive. Some grows wild, is better than the cultivated root and is most expensive of all.

Covered With Brush.

W. G. Barrie's farm takes on a strange appearance because of his ginseng crop. Five and a half acres are covered over with brush and laths laid atop seven-foot poles, lending a foreign, secretive aspect to the farm.

This is the way Mr. Barrie describes the growth of ginseng: deep red seeds from a grown ginseng plant—each stock of which has two to fifty berries—requires two years in which to germinate. The first year they are placed in sand in boxes and allowed to remain there from one fall until the next. Then they are sown in the ground, do not come up until late May and early June of the following year. That year their plant has only three leaves; the following it has five; the next, ten; the next and each succeeding year it has 15 or more leaves.

Produce Berries.

In the third, fourth and succeeding years it throws out a seed stem in early spring. These stems develop into berries late in August and early in September, although they do not all ripen at the same time.

It takes at least five years after the seed is first planted before the root is suitable for marketing. These roots have to be dried after digging so that they may be shipped overseas "because the Chinese are our main market. The present war between Japan and China has had a decidedly sobering effect on the market," he said. "However, they are still buying. The roots are used for medicinal purposes in China, also they claim it helps them to stand the heat. Missionaries and physicians substantiate that claim."

The root is similar in appearance to parsnip only in place of the crown being hollow it is raised. Each year a distinct "step" is formed on the crown. The roots are easily transplanted and the more this is done the better the root becomes.

Production Cost High.

Cost of growing the crop is high. There must be an overhead shade approximately seven feet in height from the ground so that the ground can be worked beneath it. This construction is made of cedar fence posts nine feet in length, placed in rows twelve feet each way, thus making an arrangement suitable for twelve-foot beds of the crop. Mr. Barrie has more than four thousand such posts in the five and a half acres. The shade is usually made of laths, but he has had considerable success by using wire supports and covering them with cedar brush. He is even experimenting—apparently successfully—with grape vines.

A great deal of labor is required in growing the crop. Weeds must be kept out and the crop should be sprayed at least every ten days during the growing season. The entire plot must be fenced against rabbits, groundhogs and other foliage pests "because they all like ginseng as well as the Chinese do."

"At present we have five and a half acres under one roof and we are expecting to sow about two more acres this fall," he said. Drying operations take about ten days with a commercial dryer, and then the crop is ready for shipment.

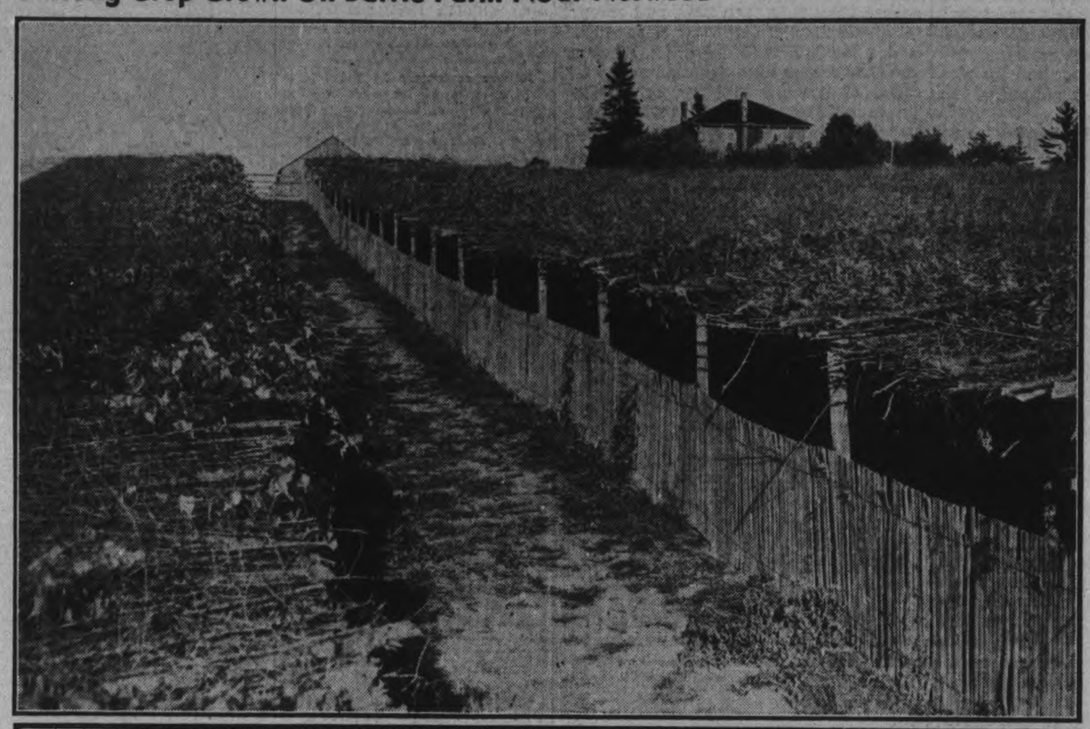
Ginseng Crop Grown On Barrie Farm Near Norwood



If you could sell an acre of the crop that is under this strange roof at TOP you could forget all about financial troubles for a year or so and go cruising about the world in luxury. For this is a ginseng crop, on the farm of W. G. Barrie, near Norwood. The roots of ginseng seel for anywhere between two and twelve dollars a pound. BOTTOM LEFT is the ginseng crop as it looks beneath its covering, which protects it from the sun. Mr. Barrie has five and a half acres of the crop under cover, has more than 4,200 posts erected. Market for ginseng is in China, where it is used for medicinal purposes. Local Chinese recognized the root as soon as they saw it, were surprised it was grown so close to Peterborough. At LOWER RIGHT is Willie Hum of the Mayfair Cafe, holding a root of ginseng.

Broadway's Burlesque-Tease Gone —But Only Off Bill Boards

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(CP). —"This here theatre is offering the most daring book of sex ever presented in this here town," the barkers croak nightly outside New York's former burlesque emporiums.

But burlesque is not back nor is the strip-tease back on Broadway. Even the mention of either is forbidden by the rules set last year by License Commissioner Paul Moss.

Broadway now has its "girlie shows."

Inside the theatre the same old crowd packs every seat and standing place. The same old cries ring out, the same heads crane expectantly over the first row of the balcony. On the stage the same old routine is gone through by the same old performers, but it's different. It is no longer called burlesque or strip-tease.

Those of the customers given to thought puzzle over the difference and fail to solve it. But the management tells all.

"See them posters?" they ask. "Any mention of burlesque is gone and so is the strip. The law is against them—can't even mention them on the poster. Now all we got are "girlie shows."

But the girls say it's the same old show—same old strip.

Marie Cord (successor to Gypsy Rose Lee, by her own admission) said:

"Stripping is supposed to be cleaned up, but it impresses me as being the same. I strip the same as I always did."

Lakevale Corn Roast Splendid Success

(Examiner Correspondence.)

FOWLER'S CORNERS, Sept. 12. —Cool weather did not hinder the corn roast sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society of Lakevale Presbyterian church from being a complete success, when the receipts totalled more than fifteen dollars.

The event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McAdam on Wednesday evening. Rev. J. M. Young was chairman for a short program, which included the following numbers: Community singing and "Oh Canada," with Mrs. Lemuel Pammett at the organ; chorus by pupils of S.S. No. 2, Eunice Moncrieff, Ruby Kerr, Merle Moncrieff and Joyce Deyell, accompanied by their teacher, Miss Ruth Jones; Hawaiian instrumental by pupils of Mrs. Pammett, Jean and Elva Graw, Marion Edmison, "Toots" Dobson, Allan Boate, John Edmison and Bobbel Milburn; vocal duet, Shirley and Elva Boate, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Arnott Boate; readings by Mrs. J. M. Young and Miss Ruth Jones; recitation, Phyllis Rowland; Hawaiian instrumentals and community singing with guitar accompaniment.

The serving of corn, sandwiches and cake brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Fishers Use Plane

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25¢

A FEW CANDID WORDS ABOUT BANK EARNINGS

Half of one per cent. a year on total assets is not much of a profit margin for any business, corporate or individual.

Yet that is all the "velvet" there is in the business of Canada's chartered banks.

Banks pay interest on personal savings deposits. They charge interest on loans.

The difference is not all "velvet" by any means—for these reasons:

(a) It costs money to operate a bank.
(b) The cash reserves held by the bank earn nothing.
(c) A bank must provide for losses.
(d) Earnings on a great deal of a bank's assets are very low.

More than 25,000 people are employed in Canada's banks. In the last ten fiscal years Canada's chartered banks have paid in wages and salaries, some $376,000,000 — purchasing power distributed over the Dominion.

In the same ten years banks paid in taxes to municipalities $40,831,930; to provinces $14,429,320, and to the Dominion, $24,027,324, a total of $79,288,574.

Banks have other costs, too: Rent on premises; stationery and printing; light, water and fuel; contributions to pensions and group insurance for employees. Depreciation on buildings takes a large amount each year.

Any money a bank pays—taxes, wages or other costs—can come only from the bank's resources—and must be paid in cash. No magic can produce it.

Banking is not all sunshine. It has its cloudy aspects too. Banks must stand ready to pay their creditors—the depositors and note-holders — a hundred cents on the dollar; but banks unfortunately cannot always collect a hundred cents on the dollar! They have losses, inevitably, and must set aside substantial sums to meet them.

A bank must keep itself in such a cash position as to be able to pay you your deposit whenever you see fit to withdraw it.

Chartered banks are required by law to lodge with the Bank of Canada, or hold in Bank of Canada notes, five per cent. of their depositors' funds; but, in practice, they always carry about twice that percentage. Deposits with and notes of the Bank of Canada earn no interest for the chartered banks.

It is necessary also to keep a further amount in short term investments readily convertible into cash. The yield on such investments is low, firstly, because Treasury Bills and other short term securities mature at short date; secondly, because—banks having no monopoly of money or credit — cash reserves of many industrial concerns compete for this type of investment.

Bank earnings depend very largely upon loans, but a bank can lend only when the customer wants to borrow.

Ordinary bank loans in 1929 averaged $1,342,000,000; in 1937 only $731,000,000.

When business falls off or prices slump, businessmen borrow less money. A given volume of business is handled on less money, too. It would take $150,000 to handle 100,000 bushels when wheat is at $1.50 per bushel, but only $100,000 to handle the same volume when the price is $1.00 a bushel.

When ordinary loans are not in demand, money, instead of lying idle in the banks, finds investment in Government bonds. These earn substantially less than ordinary loans.

Very obviously bankers would prefer commercial loans.

Money invested in Government bonds is, however, just as much a loan for the Government's purposes as a loan to a farmer is a credit for his purposes. In 1937 the average of bank loans and investments combined was $2,158,000,000; in 1929, $1,841,000,000.

Thus bank credit in Canada was actually greater in 1937 by $317,000,000 than in the same period of 1929, the boom year.

As with credit, so with cash. As of October, 1937, over $17,000,000 more in bank notes were in the hands of the public than in October of the boom year 1929.

A word with you about dividends.

The Bank Act fixes the par value of bank shares at $100. The average price paid to banks by the shareholders when shares were issued was $165 per share. Of this, $100 has gone to Capital Account, and $65 has been placed in Reserve.

Over many years undivided profits, now amounting to $34 per share, have been left in the business by shareholders and added to reserve, for the greater security of depositors and noteholders.

The average shareholder's investment in Canada's chartered banks now, therefore, amounts to $199 per share. A dividend of say 8 per cent. on the $100 par value is, in fact, only slightly over four per cent. on the money actually invested, or left with the bank by the shareholder.

When Soldiers Talk

One report from a border point in France tells of the army manoeuvres now going on, and it is recorded in the despatch that "there are places in the front lines where the French and German troops are so close that they can speak to each other."

Whether they are doing much speaking we do not knew, but it would be the most natural thing in the world for men to do.

Men used to speak across the lines in the days of the World War and there were places where they were doing so much of it that headquarters decided it must stop. The soldiers were out there for the purpose of killing each other and it was not the time or place for them to come to good terms with those whom they were supposed to hate and kill.

Philip Gibbs, high-ranking correspondent of the World War, in his book, "Ordeal in England" (it's in the public library and worth reading) tells of meeting in 1937 a Scottish officer whom he had first met at the front some 20 years before. The conversation turned to the unseen agencies which seemed bound to drive the world into another war, a thing which no person wants. From this book we take the liberty of quoting:

"We are all marching toward war," he said. "Who can doubt it? There's no feeling against the Germans. They have no ill-feeling against us. But we are being dragged into a state of things which can only lead to another conflict. Democracy has no power over its own fate. It's at the mercy of those on top."

It was then that his memory went back to a date in 1914, at Christmas time, when there was a truce between the lines, and his men and the Germans went out into No Man's Land to bury the dead, and started talking to each other. It lasted for three days, that truce did.

"Do you want to go on fighting?" asked this Scottish officer to one of the German soldiers.

He answered with one of the titles to an English song:

"Home, Sweet Home! That's all I want."

They all wanted that, on both sides. If it had been left to them they would have stopped killing each other. They had no enmity at all. They hated the war. They could see no sense in it. It was the men on top who were going on with the war."

The men who are going through war manoeuvres today in France and Germany are undoubtedly the same stock as those who knocked off fighting for three days in 1914 to go out and give burial to their dead. They have guns and munitions but until some person gives the word these men would not start shooting each other. If left to their own resources there are probably a number of more pleasant things they could think of doing. It looks as though the soldiers of the world who get placed close enough to talk to each other would have to start doing just that. Then they would probably find they did not hate each other, they did not want to take each other's territory, and they would freely admit that they desired nothing more than being left alone and having opportunity to work out their own problems, large or small as they might be.

Laying The Right Charge

It appears certain the end has not been heard of a case which has its start in Toronto court several months ago. It has to do with the raiding of a place called the Brown Derby where it was found that gambling devices of various sorts were employed. Those operating the place were given sentences which they are now serving.

When the raid was conducted it was necessary to use axes and other implements of force to gain admittance. Plainly the building had been so planned and constructed that it would be difficult to secure entrance. It was not such an establishment as the police in the discharge of their rightful duty could readily enter for purposes of inspection whenever they desired to do so.

The Examiner questioned at the time the right of any individual to build such a place and inquired whether there had been any inspection made of the premises during the time of construction. One could readily understand the erection of a vault or a strong room in a legitimate building, but the creation of barriers to doors is another matter.

The latest word is that this phase of the case is to be brought to the surface under the charge of obstructing police, and that is the charge which we believe should have been laid in the first place.

Made a Difference

Pierre Brunelle of Montreal died a few days ago. For years he had been attending to furnaces and gardens in his district and doing odd jobs. He lived alone in a little wooden house and no person paid much attention to him. If he had any relatives they did much the same. Pierre was supposed to be a poor man and he died and was buried as he had lived—pretty much to himself.

We are certain nothing would ever have appeared in the papers about Pierre Brunelle had not some of the relatives decided to take a look through the little house after he had gone. They pulled up an old rug and turned over the mattress on the bed where he had slept and where he had died and it was not long before they had found $160,000. They did some more searching and found that he owned property and mortgages. Then it was that the reporters came into the case. Pierre had never had his picture taken so they took a picture of the house.

So Pierre Brunelle, the hard-working little man of 97 years, who had attracted no attention during his years of life, and whose death appeared to interest so few people, has occupied quite a good deal of space in the newspapers. And the only reason for it all is that he was found to be possessed of a good deal of money when it had been taken for granted all along that he had nothing at all. The gold standard may be out of commission as far as our monetary arrangements are concerned, but it is firmly fixed in the minds of the people as the measure they use in appraising their interest and concern in human beings.

You Are In It

Perhaps you do not own an acre of ground, and therefore you do not grow a bushel of wheat. Your interests and your method of making a living lie in some other direction so you come to the conclusion that what happens in the wheat markets makes little difference to you. If your considered the matter you might conclude that published wheat or grain prices are of interest only to those who have wheat for sale or who speculate in it.

But you are wrong. In July wheat prices were at the dollar mark, after which they started to slide. On the financial pages of newspapers today it is considered rather important news that wheat should have topped the 60-cent mark. Your concern comes in here: The Wheat Board—backed of course by the Canadian Government—has pledged a price of 80 cents for wheat based on delivery at Fort William. That means the farmer in the West may be getting 60 cents and the rest of the price is taken up in elevator charges and shipping the wheat to Fort William.

When the world price is 60 cents, then the Wheat Board price is 20 cents per bushel on the high side. If we have a 300,000,000 grain crop and if the Wheat Board takes in only 200 million of those bushels then the Government is out $40,000,000.

The price may go up; we hope it does. But when the price is at 60 cents you are interested because the Government finances its business by calling on you to pay a portion of the money it needs. The power of the Government to compel revenue is what caused it to take it for granted that you would go into the wheat business. If the Government is handling only 200,000,000 bushels of wheat—and that is a low figure—a drop of one cent per bushel means a loss of $2,000,000. You are very directly responsible for that loss so whether you believe it or not you are in the wheat business.

The Search For Revenue

When the Mayors of Ontario municipalities gathered for their annual convention they discussed revenue. In doing so they were probably reflecting the problems with which they have been living at home for months. They would all be aware of the manner in which unpaid taxes had bothered their financial plans in recent years, and if unpaid taxes mean anything then the meaning is that people who are expected to pay them cannot do so.

That is why every municipal convention brings up the question of revenue. It may come under the guise of relief problems, of social service expenditure or any other heading, but back of it all is the problem of revenue. The mayors claim they cannot get any more out of real estate taxation, but with the gradual growth and development of any community, with the erection of new homes, there will be more revenue forthcoming. Truth is they feel the need of more money right now because right now is when the costs are mounting.

It is being drawn to public attention now more than ever before that it is costing a great deal of money to operate a municipality. In 1906 when Peterborough was a place of 14,391 people the per capita cost of civic government was $8.73. Thirty years later in 1936 with a population of 23,072 that per capita cost had grown to $40.04.

The mayors at their most recent meeting felt that if the tax on gasoline could be increased from 6 to 7 cents per gallon then that extra cent per gallon could be turned over to the municipal treasuries, and it would be used to reduce existing taxation on property. It might work that way and it might not. Earmarking revenue does not always make certain that it goes to the purpose for which it is designated. The gas tax which we now pay to the provincial government is, according to theory, supposed to be used for purposes of highways, but it has not working out that way.

The suggestion was also offered that there should be a head tax on all women workers in the province, more evidence of the quest for increased revenue. In recent years the Federal government has increased its rate of taxation for revenue, and the provincial governments are doing the same thing. The same people are paying these increases and their ability to pay has not increased in accordance with the demand that they should pay more. There is cause to fear that with this increased demand for more revenue our governing bodies will find that the law of diminishing returns will become active to a more pronounced degree than it is even now, and arrears in taxation is plain enough evidence that such a law is now in operation. Whether you take money away from a man in the office of the tax collector, or whether you take it from him in the form of sales tax or ask him to pay it at a gas station—it is all coming out of the same pocket. And unless there is more going into that pocket the time is going to come when he will put his hand there and find the thing empty.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mahatma Gandhi is not doing any talking at present as it raises his blood pressure—and at times the blood pressure of a good many others.

Germany is conducting a gas mask week; just another reason why folk in the years to come will look back at 1938 and wonder if the world was peopled with lunatics in that year.

W. R. Hearst's castle in Wales is being offered for sale and we imagine you could buy a lot of Stoney Lake cottages for what he is asking for the property.

It is reported that our lake levels are slightly higher than they were a few years ago and the same can be said of our national and provincial and municipal debts.

South Waterloo Conservatives will not oppose the return of Hon. Norman Hippel now that he has been made Minister of Labor. And we can think of no good reason why they should.

We have been expecting a correction to come but so far it has not arrived. It had to do with that statement credited to Hitler saying Germany was not yet ready for war.

Ontario is criticized by the Hon. W. D. Euler for not planning an exhibit at the New York World's Fair. Most people will agree with him that Canada's largest province is missing a good opportunity for publicity.

The United Electric, Radio and Machine Workers' Union has passed a resolution urging President Roosevelt to run for a third term. Republican headquarters is not expected to endorse the motion.

The outlook of the Chinese people can probably be well judged by the fact that never in its history has China raised a monument to a fighting man. Such honors are reserved for thinkers and philosophers in China.

Robert Robinson of Aurora, Ill., offered to let C. Miller of Chicago, said to be the world's best archer, shoot an apple off his head. While Miller was taking a few practice shots at a mark Robinson noticed his aim was none too good and walked away. It's a wise man who knows enough to change his mind and do it in time.

The Association of Ontario Mayors asks for an increase of one cent in gas tax, the revenue to go to the municipalities where the gas is sold. Thus a farmer comes to town and buys five gallons of gas and pays 5 cents to the municipality. The question is—what right has the municipality to take five cents from the farmer?

During the Oklahoma oil boom there was a time when Jackson Barnett was in receipt of $2,500 each month from wells on his property. The other day in court his widow admitted she was entirely dependent on her daughter for support as they had saved nothing at all in the good days. Possibly she had never read of Joseph's plan for storing away corn in the good years to provide for the lean ones.

END OF DAY

(By A. R. K.)

¶ I sometimes sit at close of day, when all the chores are put away, when working hours have run; and then perhaps in pensive mood, I ponder for a while or brood, on things I haven't done.

¶ There is a chap across the way, I heard about him just today, and things go hard with him; he's been off work two months I know, he'll start when things quit being so slow, he's waiting to begin.

¶ I should have gone to talk with him, for things in there might be quite thin, perhaps he's feeling blue; it might have cheered him in the mind, if I'd drop in and try to find, if something I might do.

¶ I got a trifle cross today, when things weren't coming all my way, I sort of lost my head; I guess perhaps that I let fly, to check my tongue I didn't try—hard words I know I said.

¶ A letter too I should have sent, a friend I know is down and bent, he walks with grieving men; I thought of it throughout the day, and figured partly what I'd say—I wish I'd done it then.

¶ And so when comes the end of day, such thoughts as that pass on their way, some kindness mixed with hate; I might have made a sad man smile, so he'd think trying more worth while—I found it then too late.

Maps, Gambling and Marriage

MAPS, during the Middle Ages, showed the geographic location of Paradise on the earth. The heavenly kingdom was given a position to agree with its importance—at the top of the may. To indicate its location the map usually bore a picture of Eden.

It was customary in the Middle Ages, for map-makers to fill in blank areas. On one ancient may there were the words, "Here lions abound," in the extreme north-eastern part of Asia, a place where it would be impossible for lions to exist because of cold climate.

A map of England—drawn in the 13th century—contains a note in Latin stating that if the space available on the manuscript had been larger the length of England would have been shown to have been greater.

The Russian Court, before the World War, sought friendship with the French by presenting them with a map of France made entirely of gold and jewels. This extraordinary man—the most costly ever made—may be seen today in the Louvre.

Americans touring Europe may see in Vienna a map made in 1507, on which the name America appears. This is the oldest known map bearing the name.

HOW PEOPLE GAMBLE.

IN some parts of Mexico there are lotteries for dead souls. The names of departed persons are listed, each with a number and a mass is promised to the winners. The remaining luckless ones receive a blanket mass.

The Chinese are incorrigible gamblers, and in the city of New York the frequent turn-over of Chinese laundries is not because of buying or selling; the game of fan-tan is to blame. In their native country innumerable Chinese have gambled away every item in their possession within a few hours.

A Georgia mathematician says the fellow who plays the football forecast pools ought to get odds of 17 to 1 in order to break even.

A Pennsylvania jury was fined recently for reaching its decision by tossing a coin.

The gambling chips used at Monte Carlo Casino are made "somewhere in Germany" by a process as secret as the manufacture of United States money—in order to make difficult phony imitation chips being played at the roulette tables.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

During the past 13 years over a thousand couples who took out marriage licenses in Fresno, California failed to go though with the weddings. In New York City during the course of a year some 8,000 licenses taken out are never used.

It was unnecessary to sign marriage licenses in Milwaukee until as late as 1911.

A prospective bride and bridegroom must take a medical examination before they can get a license in Wisconsin, Wyoming, North Dakota, Oregon, Alabama, Connecticut and Louisiana.

In Juiz de Fora, Brzil, police discovered a marriage license "factory" to which authorities attributed some 3,000 fraudulent weddings.

It is impossible to get a marriage license in Turkey today unless you can show a certificate proving you know the country's new alphabet.

The marriage license clerk in Denver, Colorado was amazed recently when an apparently sane man asked for a license to marry the woman to whom he was already married. He explained that he wanted to get a license in every state of the Union, and marry the woman 48 times.

Etta Lawson, 42 years of age, a resident of Des Moines, Iowa, went to get a marriage license to marry William N. Parker. She brought along her former husband as a witness.

THE WORLD'S BOTTLES.

Bottles for beverages are still made with long necks to accommodate long corks—in spite of the fact that in most instances corks are no longer used.

Thousands of the 70 million bottles which the milk industry in England loses every year lie in cemeteries. Others are used by British housewives as pickle jars, flower pots, tea caddies, jam jars, and drawing-room ornaments. Gardeners use them to border their plots. England has a trade protestion society called Milk Vessels Recovery, Lts., which does its best to get back missing bottles.

In Washington, D. C., you can be fined $50 for using a milk bottle for anything other than milk.

Any bottle of any size or shape is a milk bottle in Haiti; for milk is sold in containers ranging from vinegar bottles to cold cream jars.

For every bottle of milk delivered to you the company requires four bottles; one you are using; a second is waiting for delivery; a third is being washed and sterilized; the fourth is kept in reserve against breakage, loss, and so on.

In 1915 a bottle was picked up off the coast of Boston. This bottle had gone around the world three times. It was thrown first of all into the Hudson River by a New Yorker who enclosed his card. Later it was picked up off the Canary Islands by an English ship's officer, who enclosed his card in the bottle and sent it on its way. Half a dozen men in various parts of the world found the bottle, each enclosing his card and returning the bottle to the sea. Finally the Bostonian found it and got in touch with the New Yorker who had started the bottle on its travels. The two men eventually entered into a business partnership!

• Little Nation Has A Great Queen

(Cleveland Plain Dealer).

"FAITHFUL to the constitution, I wish to enchance the respect for lands."

These words were part of the oath taken by Queen Wilhelmina on Sept. 6th, 1898, in the New Church opposite the royal palace in Amsterdam when she ascended the throne of Holland, a girl of 18.

The Netherlands culminated a week's celebration of the 40th year of Wilhelmina's rule with services in the same church. The significance of that ceremony touches more than the Netherlands—it carries implications for the world.

The Netherlands are a small country, but a great country. Thanks in no small part to the wise administration of the remarkable woman who has guided their destiny, the Netherlands are stronger today than many of their larger neighbors. She has proved herself a worthy daughter of the illustrious house of Orange-Nassau which brought Holland into being in the sixteenth century.

The reason is to be found chiefly in the fact that under Wilhelmina the Netherlands have been concerned only with improving their own condition by their own efforts. They have not looked abroad for greener pastures, for conquests at the expense of neighbors. The national energy has been concentrated on bettering the life of the people. In 40 years the population has increased 70 per cent., from 5,074,631 to 8,639,539. Industry and commerce have boomed.

Like every country Holland was struck by the depression, but it weathered it and recovered more quickly than many others because its economic base was sound and its government was wise. It has lived through the storms of war and social revolution. Through them all Wilhelmina has stoood at the head of her people preserving the old traditions, meeting new problems in a modern way and preserving the integrity of the nation.

• Where A Nation Finds Strength

(By Norman Vincent Peale, D. D., Marble Collegiate Church, New York City).

AS we study the conflict between Totalitarian and Democratic philosophy in the world today, two facts emerge: (1) Autocracy seems to grow best in the sail from which religion is being eliminated; (2) Democracy grows best in a soil fertilized by religion—this, doubtless, because Democracy, like religion, is based on faith in the individual soul, its potential powers and superior quality.

What can the individual citizen do to preserve the ideals and institutions of our country?

To answer that question look back and consider the outstanding fact about religious men. They had a sturdy faith in God. They did not depend for their strength upon machinery nor the gadgets upon machinery nor the gadgets of a prolific scientific age for they had none. Nor did they depend upon the ability of their own minds alone, but in the last analysis their dependence was upon Divine guidance.

The two great figures of our national life—Washington and Lincoln—teach us that. Washington said in his Farewell Address, "Of all, the dispositions and habits which lead to prosperity, religion and morality are indispensible supports."

Saw Lincoln Praying.

Mr. Murdock, the great reader and actor, was once a guest at the White House during the administration of Lincoln. He said:

"I was disturbed. I could not sleep I got out of my bed, it was 2 o'clock in the morning. I went out into the hall. I heard a strange moaning. Going along the hall I saw a door open a little way, and looking in, I saw Mr. Lincoln lying prone on his face one the floor, praying mightily t God to give him wisdom and save the Republic.

"I turned around," continued Mr. Murdock, "and went away softly as I could over the velvet carpet, feeling every step I took that I was in the presence of Almighty God."

It was not Washington or Abraham Lincoln alone who guided the destinies of their Republic in the critical days of the Revolution and of the Sixties. It was Washington and Lincoln and another; and the third was God.

I recall once years ago walking for the first time through Wall Street New York, in the great canyon of lower Broadway. I looked up at the towering buildings. I felt of the massive gates of iron in front of a financial structure and I said to myself:

"Here, in government and sovereign of finance and business is the secret of America's greatness."

Secret of Greatness.

Some time later I walked up the steps of the great Capitol building in Washington, which symbolized government and law. I thought of the long and honored history of our country and said:

"Here, in governemnt and sovereign power, here, in our great leaders, is the secret of America's greatness."

Not many days after I found myself in a simple farmhouse down among the hills of southern Ohio. It was evening and a quiet hush had settled over the earth. The farmer's wife, wiping her hands on her apron, went out into the yard where she rang a bell and its sweet notes wafted over the fields, called the men in from toil to their evening meal.

They came up to the back door where there was a bench with several basins of water. There they washed their hands and faces and combed their hair in a cracked and imperfect mirror hanging by the back door, which gave a distorted image of every man's face. The comb hung by a chain and was missing several teeth.

The Nineties Psalm.

Then, with an abashed air, they trooped through the spotlessly clean kitchen into the dining room, where each took his place at the table. At one end sat the farmer, at the other end, his wife. On either side were members of the family and the hired men.

The table literally groaned under the weight of good things to eat. The steam rising from the hot dishes was intercepted by the rays of the late afternoon sun falling through the window. The delicious aroma of a farm-cooked supper filled the air.

The farmer opened an old Bible which lay at his place. I noticed that he took it in his great, rough tenderly ed hands and handled it as tenderly as amother would lift a baby. Finding his place with expertness, he began to read in a deep, rich voice the sonorous words of the Ninetieth Psalm:

"Lord, thou has been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, ever from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God."

As I looked and listened, suddenly it came to me:

"Not in the temples of finance, not in the halls of government, but here in a strong sturdy God-like man like this man is the strength of America."

TEN YEARS OF PEACE.

(Ottawa Journal)

It is just ten years since the nations of the world, declaring they would outlaw war as an instrument of national policy, adopted the Briand-Kellong peace pact.

Last week military experts at Washington took stock of the toll taken by war during those ten years, reached this calculation:

1932-35 Bolivia vs Paraquay	100,000
1935-36 Italy vs. Ethiopia ..	55,000
1936-38 Spain	1,000,000
1937-38 Japan vs. China ..	1,000,000

And the end is not yet. Bolivia and Paraquay have ratified a peace treaty and Ethiopia is an Italian colony, but bombs and machine guns still slaughter thousands in Spain and China.

In 1935 Premier Hepburn went from coast to coast touring for Rt. Hon. Mr. King. In 1939 or 1940, he will afford the big question mark. A Bible Message For Today . . . .

NOW there cried a certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant did fear the Lord: and the creditor is come to take unto him my two sons to be bondmen.

And Elisha said unto her, What shall I do for thee? Tell me what hast thou in the house? And she said. Thine handmaid hath not any thing in the house, save a pot of oil.

Then he said, Go, borrow thee vessels abroad of all they neighbours, even empty vessels; borrow not a few. And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and shalt pour out into all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full.

So she went from him, and shut the door upon her and upon her sons, who brought the vessels to her; and she poured out. And it come to pass, when the vessels were full, that she said unto her son, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is not a vessel more. And the oil stayed.

Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, Go sell the oil, and pay the debt, and live thou and they children of the rest. (II Kings iv. 1-7).

THE PRICE OF APPLES.

(Regina Leader-Post).

Statements have been appearing in British Columbia and have been reprinted on the prairies to the effect that the apple grower in British Columbia receives only 35 or 40 cents for a box of apples that sells at Regina for $1.60 or $1.75. It is well known that the B. C. apple grower has been protesting vigorously against the price he recives for his apples.

The spread appears to be a big one, and is worth inquiring into.

In all probabilitiy it can show that the wholesalers and retailers receive but a small profit for handling fruit. There doesn't seem to be a fortune in the grocery business.

But the point is that the spread appears to be a big one and anyone who can demonstrate how the goods can be moved and handled at a smaller spread will confer a benefit on the apple producer and the public.

25 YEARS AFTER.

(Overseas Daily Mail).

Leaning on the gate of St. Martin's Church, Guernsey, one August afternoon in 1913, Charlie Benwell, a 21-years-old private in the 2nd Battalion, The Yorkshire Regiment, asked Violet Rogers, who was 19 and a nursemaid, to marry him. She said "No."

Twenty-five years later, leaning on the same gate, Mr. Benwell, now retired from the Army and living in the Far East, asked Miss Rogers the same question. Home on furlough, he had discovered that she was holidaying in Guernsey, and went there to find her. An occasional Christmas card had been the only link between the two.

Miss Rogers accepted him and the couple left Guernsey to get married.

British and French cabinets met in emergency sessions, agreeing that they will unite to defend any Hitler invasion of Czechoslovakia. At the same time, possible allies such as Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia and Roumania, stood by awaiting developments. Meanwhile, European might was being displayed, in manoeuvres on many fronts. Some of the preparations are illustrated here.

Day in and day out for the last 14 years I have been dealing with the hair troubles of hundreds of men and women, always gaining experience—striving to perfect a treatment to check baldness and to correct poorness and thinness of hair. Now I am in a position to offer a Treatment which has not only helped renew the hair growth of partially bald men, but which has immensely improved the general hair condition of those who have used it. Aberhart Advocates All Read Brief

EDMONTON, Sept. 12 (CP).— Premier Aberhart said at the Edmonton Prophetic Bible Conference last night that "every home and every school" should have a copy of the Alberta brief recently submitted to the Dominion government.

(Alberta refused to make a submission to the Rowell Cimmission on Dominion-Provincial relations. Released Aug. 29, the province's brief was sent to the Dominion government. The brief attacked the present financial system and suggested a "new social order.")

Mr. Aberhart told his audience "quack remedies get us nowhere" in efforts to solve present economic problems.

The premier asked why the United States, with less natural resources and a smaller area than Canada, is able to support 12 times the population of Canada "in at least comfort generally."

He added the question should be put to the Dominion government.

HAVELOCK WRECKERS CAPTURE JUNIOR "B" SOFTBALL TITLE

Brighton Beach Team Beaten In Both Games

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Sept. 12.—Taking the second straight game, in the two-out-of-three series, with Brighton Beach, winners of the Western Ontario group, the Havelock Wreckers, winners of the eastern section, and last years' Ontario champions, recaptured the Junior "B" O.A.S.A. title Saturday afternoon for the second time. One of the largest number of fans to assemble at the local park so far this season were present to watch the Wreckers take the Brighton Beach boys in a very close and exciting game; the score being 9-8.

"Beatty" Brunton, the local hurler, again starred in the box, showing his superiority especially in the pinches. He allowed 14 well scattered hits, fanned 12, and passed 4. Dashper, on the visitors' mound, exhibited plenty of speed but appeared to loose some control, when his manner of delivery was checked up by the ump. He was nicked for 10 hits and three walks, and stuck out three of his opponents.

Beaches Take Lead.

Brighton Beach took the lead in the very first inning, when Hevoux, their brilliant short-stop, hit the lone homer of the game, with one runner on bases. Havelock batters for the first few innings had difficulty in keeping the ball on the ground and popped out quite frequently to the infield. Bedford, second up in the third stanza, scored the initial run for the locals, when he crossed home plate on a wild pitch after hitting into deep right. Bedford, demonstrating exceptional ability in running the bases, easily stretched a two-base hit into a triple.

The visitors notched their third run in the fourth stanza, Beauvois crossing the plate on an overthrow to third, after hitting a nice triple. For the next three innings, Brighton Beach were held scoreless, while Havelock forged ahead to take quite a commanding lead.

On the short end of a 2-1 score in the fourth, the local boys, hitting their stride scored four runs in the fifth to take the lead for the first time. Brunton, first to bat, walked and Haggerty, next up, drove him home with a double into deep centre. Bedford bunted safely, Ketchen flied out, and Pollock reached first on Allch's error at second. With two on and only one down, McCutcheon knocked out a double, scoring Bedford and Pollock, but was called out a minute later on a close play at third.

Continuing their scoring drive in the sixth, the locals added another run, Haggerty scoring Aboud on a long drive into right, after the latter had singled. The Wreckers increased their lead to five in the last of the seventh, the score at this point being 8 to 3. Ketchen, first up in this stanza, got a single; Pollock reached first on a fielding error by Pitcher Dashper, and McCutcheon walked, thus loading the bases with none away. Puffer coming up sacrificed to the outfield, scoring Ketchen, and Kennedy duplicated this, scoring Pollock. Aboud flied out to retire the side.

Visitors Step Out.

Five runs down going into the eighth, the visitors tried desperately to pull themselves out of the hole and succeeded in reducing the margin to two runs. With one down, Dashper and Beauvois both singled, to be driven home by Scheer's triple, a hard line drive down first base. Scheer scored later on B. McQuarrie's single.

Going into the last of the eighth, Brunton singled, but Haggerty, next up, knocked into a double-play, neatly executed from Allch to Hevoux to Scheer. Trying hard to add to their slight lead, Bedford tripled to left field and scored, what proved to be the winning tally, when Allch fumbled Kitchen's drive.

With the championship at stake and two runs down, Brighton Beach entered their last inning full of fight. L. McQuarrie, third sacker, first up, fouled out. Hevoux, the Beaches heavy hitter, got a double and scored when Cruden also hit a two-bagger. Dashper got to first on a single and things began to look pretty bad for the Wreckers, with two runners on bases, only one down, and the score now standing 9 to 8. A tough spot for any pitcher, Brunton rose greatly to the occasion, striking out the next two batters in succession, burning them across the plate with dazzling speed and perfect control.

Bedford Leading Hitter.

Bedford was heavy hitter of the day for the Wreckers, having two triples and a single in five trips to the plate. Hevouxs homer highlighted the Beaches batting, the former also collecting a two-bagger. The teams:

Brighton Beach.—B. McQuarrie, c; F. Allch, 2b; L. McQuarrie, 3b; L. Hevcux, ss; G. Cruden, cf; B. Dashper, p; L. Beauvois, lf; B. Scheer, 1b; B. Kellar, rf.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By FRED CRAIG

THE PETES showed one of the essential features of a good ball club in that exhibition with the Buffalo Fro-Joys Saturday when they did not allow a disastrous start to get them down.. The Buffalo crowd built up with seven new players since their last appearance here, went to town in the first two innings and piled up an 8 to 0 lead, with the Petes helping them with some sloppy defensive work. Then the homesters found themselves and for the next ten innings—the game went 12 frames before being called with the score tied 9-9—they played grand baseball, fought every step of the way and were finally rewarded by finishing on even terms with a team that apparently had had the game in the bag.

AND that was no set-up club, the Buffalo gang trotted out here Saturday. Holtz, the starting pitcher is an ex-Bison, and Williams, the shortstop and Youra, the third baseman have both had professional experience while Heller, the big first sacker who finished the game on the mound is billed for a trial with the Boston as a hitter. The others are experienced simi-pros; in fact, one reason why the visitors wanted the game called after it had gone into extra innings was the fact that on Sunday they were billed to play an important game in the semi-pro league in Buffalo which they are leading. The Fro-Joys recently defeated the Ottawa team of the Canadian-American League and they are tough opposition for an amateur ball club, so the Petes deserved plenty of credit for having the gameness to spot a gang like that eight runs and then avert defeat.

BUN KINGDON got into the game at second base in the seventh frame Saturday and his fielding was one of the features. Incidentally Kingdon figured in an unique record in that he pivoted on two double players on two different bases which is a new mark for a second baseman. On the first twin killing he covered first when Cadd fielded a sacrifice bunt and then shot the ball over to Doll in time to nip a runner trying to go from first to third on the play and later he was the middle man at second on a double play started by Doll. Kingdon left Sunday on a trip to Chicago and he will be absent for part of the play-off series.

SOFTBALL fans will get an unexpected opportunity Tuesday afternoon to see a rattling good battle at Riverside Park by reason of the fact that Point Anne and the Oshawa Varcoes who are tied up in their series for the Eastern Ontario honors in the O. A. S. A. intermediate A series have been ordered to settle the argument with a sudden death game here tomorrow afternoon with Peterborough umpires officiating. Both teams are well known here as the Point Anne team includes Johnnly Bawden and other Belleville players who have often played against Peterborough teams while the series between the Oshawa Varcoes and the local Westclox is still fresh in the memory of the fans. Tomorrow's game should be a tidy battle as both the othe games between the two clubs have been close, Oshawa winning Saturday's affair 7 to 6 after being nosed out by a run in the first struggle.

Students Start Drills

COACH BAMFORTH'S P. C. I. squad were billed to start practice this afternoon and from now on the students will get daily drills. Of last year's inter-scholastic champions, the Collegiate pilot has a few members left around which to build his 1938 team. On the back field Ab Leether, quarter back and Don Diplock, half-back of last year's squad are still available as in Ernie Ward who played flying wing. Other members back at school are Ralph Johnston, snap, and Bob Parnall who was a sub last year while Les Ascott, husky middle wing will return to his studies in a week or two. Among the new players available is "Bill" Harle who was with Orfuns last season.

ALTHOUGH Irwin, Hendrie, Shields and some of the other players were out of town and the baseball members of the squad were battling the Buffalo Fro-Joys at Riverside Park, Peterborough's senior rugby team had a profitable workout at Exhibition Park, Saturday afternoon under the coaching of Curly Krug. About 15 players were out, among them Giardino who has returned to the football wars. Nightly practices will be the order for this week.

SOFTBALL records were set in the Chicago World's Championship Tourney Sunday when the United Cleaners of Toronto and the Phoeniz Ariz. Lettuce Kings battled 22 innings before the Toronto team was eliminated one run to nothing. Had it not been for a bad throw by Pete Glenn the teams might be playing yet. The Canadian gang outhit their opponents 11 to 6 but could not bunch their hits. They made a great showing defeating two strong teams before being defeated in Sunday's sensational game. Now they are out it is to be hoped the hardball members of the team will hustle back to Toronto and help get this round robin tangle unravelled. The Petes are awaiting anxiously to know which team they will be called upon to play in the next round of the O. B. A. A. series.

WALTER GEROW'S Napanee team has been eliminated from the O. B. A. A. intermediate playoffs, losing the third and decisive game of their series with Bowmanville at Port Hope Saturday by 5 to 1. Many local fans felt that Napanee after beating the Kingston Locos with Jamieson, Joyce, Arniel and other former Central Ontario leaguers on the lineup would take Bowmanville but the rubbertown team proved too good for the Easterners.

Port Hope Club New Champs Kawartha Tennis

Port Hope Tennis Club are the new holders of the Kawartha Tennis League hampionship by virtue of their victory over the Peterborough "A" team in matches played on Peterborough courts on Saturday afternoon. Of the six scheduled matches, both clubs won three which necessitated a further play-off match. This was a mixed doubles affair composed of the two singles players on each team. In this contest the Port Hope crew came out on the long end of a 7-5, 6-2 score to romp off with the cup.

In men's singles, L. Harvey of Port Hope, who has greatly improved this past year defeated Jack Cowling by scores of 7-5, 6-4. In ladies' singles Miss Dorothy Davidson turned back Miss Helen Cole two straight after a very close first set in which Miss Davidson several times held set point. 7-5, 6-1 were the scores. Both men's doubles matches went to Peterborough, the first by scores of 6-3, 6-1 with Harry Marsh and Andy Rutter doing the honors in shellacking D. Walden and E. M. Wynn. The second men's game was very much closer. In this one, Jack Patte and L. Storey of Peterborough eased Marsh and Millson out of the running on a 7-5, 9-7 count.

Ladies' doubles was all Port Hope as the Misses Armstrong swept over Mrs. C. Wasson and Miss J. Ottewell to the tune of 6-1, 6-0. In mixed doubles, Peterborough knotted the total count by winning 6-3, 6-4 behind the stout racquets of Miss E. Kirn and Walter Perks. They trimmed Miss Bulkowski and Fitzsimmons in a fine battle.

In the mixed doubles play-off which followed Miss D. Davidson and L. Harvey were, of course, paired against Miss H. Cole and Jack Cowling. The Peterborough team kept in sight of their opponents in the first session, but as the Hopers got steam up, the local tandem disappeared from the picture under scores of 7-5, 6-2.

T.A.B.A. Playoff Is Headache For Everybody

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Toronto Amateur Baseball association officials are witnessing a bad case of "the merry-go-round broke down" with their 1938 championship playoffs this season and it's beginning to look as though the local titlists won't be declared in time for the Ontario playdowns.

All the trouble began when someone thought up the idea of having four teams in the championship round instead of three. The three angle developed with the fact that there were only three senior leagues in the city, Danforth-Viaduct, West Toronto and Western City.

So the bright idea of having the second place teams of these three leagues playoff against each other in an effort to name the so-called fourth team to fit in with the three respective league champions was brought into vogue. But another snag appeared here with only three second place teams so the third place team of the Western City loop, Columbus, was also allowed in.

More Delays

That kept the championship round waiting for another week, in the meantime the Danforth-Viaduct league had finished their league playoffs and had their championship team, Danforth Aces, waiting for three weeks.

All set to run through a four-team, home-and-home, round-robin series for the declaration of their 1938 champions, the T.A.B.A. proudly sat back and viewed their fine work with pride. Then the trouble started. Danforth Aces were handicapped with the well known "softballitis" and were granted the odd day off in the final round so that they could field their best team. Then a couple of tie games appeared and made things look a little more gloomy. Along with this a pair of postponements made things look even worse with the crowning episode of all coming with the fact that several of the better known baseball players are now away from home playing with Uniteds in Chicago and that their home teams here can't play any more games without them.

It all boils down so that Saturday's game between Danforth Aces and G. and W. at Viaduct Park had to be postponed and the game scheduled between Brights and Danforth Aces for next Tuesday night is still in doubt. In the meantime Brights defeated Webbers Saturday afternoon.

Still Trying

Taking the bull by the horns the T.A.B.A. have ordered that Danforth Aces and Brights meet on Tuesday next week with Danforth Aces playing G. & W. on Wednesday night or they might even have this game Monday. As these two games hold the solution as to whether the tie games already played in the final round schedule need to be replayed it was decided that they would be run off as quickly as possible.

At present Danforth Aces are leading the loop with four wins and no losses while G. and W. have one win, three ties and one loss with Brights having two wins, two ties and one defeat. Webbers have tied one and lost five. If Danforth Aces can keep on winning, taking both their remaining games, then it will be all over and the T.A.B.A. stands a good chance of being ready for the Ontario playdowns.

On the other hand, should the Aces not win their next two games, G. and W. and Brights will want their tie games replayed as they will then have a chance of catching the Danforth nine.

And if that happens there'll be a run on the aspirin market!

O'Toole struck out 12 batters and allowed only five hits while the winners secured seven off Sanderson and Shea.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB. MARTIN

Competing at Toronto Saturday, in the Loblaw doubles, with close to five hundred lawn bowlers from all parts of the province of Ontario, two from our club were successful in winning all three games and were therefore in on the prize distribution.

Eight pairs in all of local bowlers entered the contest and twenty-five per cent got in on the money—and when you consider that for every pair entered from outside Toronto—Toronto had two pairs, the percentage is not bad.

At the conclusion of play all bowlers met at the St. Matthews Club and looking over the crowd we noticed that the Central Ontario Association was well represented—Bowlers from Cannington, Lindsay, Peterborough, Oshawa, Kingston, Stirling and Belleville being quite conspicuous.

Besides creating a great day's sport for lawn bowlers it is also a swell "ad" for Loblaw and Co.

Winners:

E. L. C...ville and G. Gimblett, 19th, 3 wins 52 and 6, each an occasional chair.

H. R. Martin and E. Wall, 26th, 3 wins 45, each a lace table cloth.

Notwithstanding other games scheduled, the following games must be played on Tuesday night in order that the final playoffs may be staged before it is too late. These games were rained out on Monday, Aug. 15th.

GAME CALLED AT END OF TWELFTH WITH SCORE TIED NINE-ALL

Fro-Joys Lead Of Eight Runs At Close Of The Second Wiped Out By Petes By Sixth

Manager Eddie Murphy's Peterborough Central Ontario League champs had to come from a long way behind in Saturday's exhibition game with the Buffalo Fro-Joys at Riverside Park to get up on even terms with the reinforced semi-pros but they finally succeeded in turning the trick and the teams finished all level with nine runs each after three extra innings. The game was called at the end of the 12th at the request of the Fro-Joys who had two important games scheduled for Sunday and were anxious to hit the trail for home.

Eager to avenge their earlier defeat at the hands of the Petes, the Buffalo team blew into town Saturday with seven new players and for a while it looked as if they were not going to have much trouble getting their revenge. They knocked Eddie Whitehill, the Petes' starting pitcher out of the box in the first inning and scored five runs off Lefty McNally in the second to lead 8 to 0 at the close of two frames.

Then the Petes levelled away and for the next ten innings the invaders got only one more run and that was unearned off McNally in the 7th, while Russ Kitchen blanked them for the last five innings.

Meanwhile the Petes were hammering away at Smoky Joe Holtz, the veteran Buffalo right hander and closing up the gap until finally they cut loose with an assault in the sixth that drove Holtz to the showers and yielded six runs, putting the Central Leaguers in the lead 9 to 8. Buffalo sewed it up again in the seventh and from then on it was an airtight pitching duel between Kitchen and Heller the big right-hander who succeedd Holtz and held the Petes hitless and runless for the last six frames.

Quite A Game

It was quite a ball game in a way, with some loose defensive stuff but also a lot of smart fielding. After the Petes found themselves after the sour opening they went along in great style, Bun Kingdon who got into the game after Murphy retired in the seventh coming through with some fine fielding plays, while the homesters reeled off three double killings. Williams at shortstop and Youra the rangy third baseman were the best defensively for the Fro-Joys.

Bill Calladine led the Peterborough hitters with a double and three singles in six times up and drove in three runs while Kenny, Conrad and Chipple each cashed in with three safe blows for the Buffalo club. Cliff Cadd had two doubles for his share.

It was a bad start for the Petes in the first. Duke got on an error by Clark and Chipple hit the first ball to the left field fence for two bases. Williams walked to fill them and Duke and Chipple scord on Conrad's single to left. Whitehouse passed Heller to pack the cushions again and was relieved by McNally. Youra flied to Kearns, Williams scoring after the catch. Kamp rolled to McNally and Kenny struck out.

There were two out in the second when trouble started again. With two out Chipple beat out a roller to Murphy. He started to steal second too soon and should have been out a block at second but McNally threw wide and that bad toss caused plenty of grief. Doubles by Conrad, Heller and Kenny and singles by Williams and Kamp, the latter a cheap one when Clark and Calladine collided, followed with an error by Bob Doll and before the third out was hung up five runs were in and the Fro-Joys were in front 8 to 0.

The Petes got one back in the third when McNally singled past Duke and advanced on an infield out and scored on Calladine's single. They picked up two more in the fourth on singles by Murphy and Burton, a wild pitch and infield outs by Cadd and Whatley.

Petes Big Inning

The big inning came in the sixth, however. Cadd opened with a double and after Whatley had popped to second, McNally, Kearns and Clark had singled in a row over second to score two runs and chase Holtz off the mound. Heller came in from first base and was greeted with a single by Calladine that scored Kearns and Clark and Bob Doll followed with a long double to centre to score Calladine, the batter going to third on Conrad's bad throw home. With the score tied the Petes took the lead with a perfect squeeze play, Doll dashing home as Murphy laid down a bunt.

Fro-Joys evened it up again in the seventh. With two out Kenny singled to centre and took an extra base when the ball went through Kearns. Holtz followed with a scratch single to centre which Kearns failed to hold after a diving attempt and Kenny scored.

From then on until the game was called at the end of the 12th the pitchers had the batters sudued.

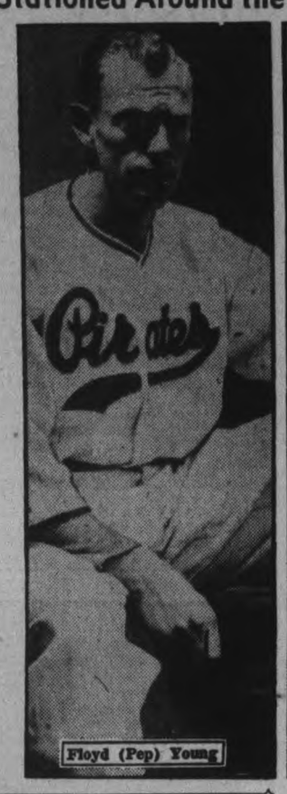
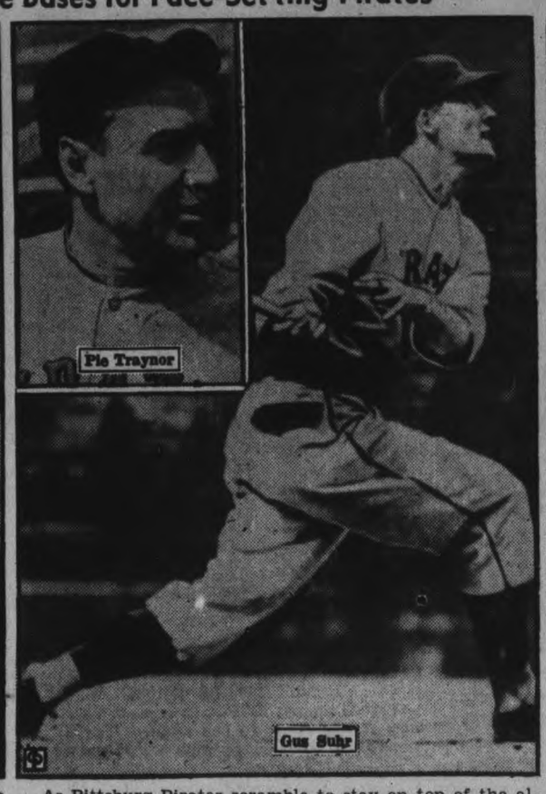
Stationed Around the Bases for Pace-Set ting Pirates

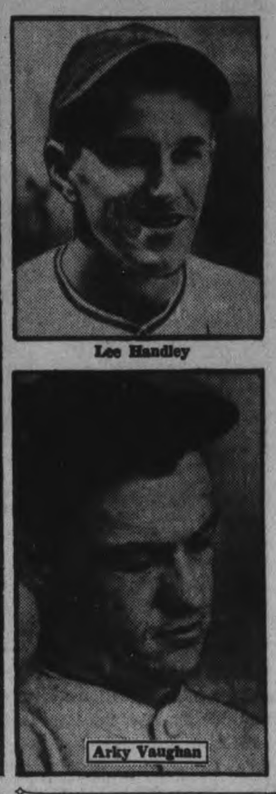


Floyd (Pep) Young

Pie Traynor



Gus Suhr



Lee Handley

Arky Vaughan

As Pittsburg Pirates scramble to stay on top of the always hectic National League pennant race, four of the important cogs in their machine are the members of the infield, presented here, along with Manager Pie Traynor, himself a former all-star at third base. Gus Suhr and Arky Vaughan were with the club when Pie took over the reins, Gus being the durable first baseman who holds the National League record for playing in consecutive games, and Vaughan the circuit's ace shortstop, who led the loop in batting in 1935 with a mark of .385. These are the two who, with the addition of Outfielder Johnny Rizzo, have been driving in the runs for the pace-setters. Lee Handley, third baseman, was purchased when a free agent, for the neat sum of $20,000, and is only just coming into his own as one of the best hot corner guardians. He's the "holler guy" of a team more noted for mechanical perfection than any rah-rah spirit. Pep Young has been tried out all over the infield, but, stationed permanently at second, he has blossomed into the best fielding second sacker in the league . . . to which he adds a wallop at the plate.

OAKMONT, Pa., Sept. 12.—(AP).—One hundred and sixty seekers of fame, ranging in age and hope from 15 years to 54, ventured to-day into golf's notorious "haunted house," known as terrible Oakmont, in pursuit of the national amateur championship.

The week's struggle of chance, luck and skill, opening with two 18-hole qualifying rounds to-day and to-morrow, was led by Omaha's Johnny Goodman, now fat and 28 but still rated as the man they must beat for the tall, solid gold championship trophy that has been won twice n a row by Lawson Little since the immortal Bob Jones retired with his grand slam eight years ago.

C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, of London, Ont., many times Canadian amateur champion and United States amateur king in 1932 when he won at Baltimore, tees off in company with Jesse Sweetster, New York 1922 winner of the tournament.

The other Canadians on hand for the championship were Joe Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., and Merlin Luther of Fort Erie, Ont.

Somerville, as a former champion, qualified automatically for the tournament. Another automatic qualifier was Brig.-Gen. A. C. Critchley, Calgary-born sports promoter of London, Eng., who this year won the Belgian and Dutch open golf championships.

Playing a strong role was Ellsworth Vines, Jr., the world's professional tennis champion. Though he insisted he didn't even qualify "Elly" impressed many railbirds with his game.

Dean Whips Pirates 6-4 For Cards As Manager Frisch Is Released; Cubs2, Reds 0; Dodgers 3, Giants 0

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Frankie Frisch couldn't get St. Louis Cardinals into the close National League race this season, even though they have been playing at least as well as any of the contenders during recent weeks, and as a result he's looking for a new job and by coincidence, the man who might have made Frankie a hero again this year, Paul Dean, picked the day Frisch was released to make his successful comeback on the mound. If Paul had been pitching all season the way he did to beat Pittsburgh's league-leading Pirates, yesterday, the Cards likely would be right up there.

Frisch, Cardinal manager since the middle of the 1933 campaign, was handed his release before yesterday's game because, as president Sam Breadon explained, "a change in manager of the club is necessary for 1939." Coach Mike Gonzales will handle the club the rest of the season. Frankie later explained he and Breadon couldn't agree on a 1939 salary.

Right afterward, the younger of the famous Dean brothers, who has been recovering from a sore arm by pitching a lot of games in the Texas league, returned to hurl his way out of a couple of tight spots and win from Pittsburgh. He gave 12 hits, got into trouble in the first inning when Johnny Rizzo hit a home run, but showed a lot of his old-time form after Johnny Mize's circuit clout put the Cards into the lead.

Cubs Paste Reds 2-0.

While the Cards couldn't move out of sixth place, the defeat reduced Pittsburgh's lead to 3½ games over Chicago Cubs, who broke a second-place deadlock with Cincinnati by beating the Reds 2-0 behind Bill Lee's four-hit flinging. New York Giants also were whitewashed, 3-0, getting only seven hits off Brooklyn's Luke Hamlin.

As a result here's how the race stood to-day:

	W	L	Pct.	Games Behind	To Play
Pittsburgh	75	54	.588	——	23
Chicago	75	59	.560	3½	20
Cincinnati	74	60	.552	4½	20
New York	73	61	.545	5½	20

Hank Greenberg again eclipsed the pennant "race" in the American League as he belted his 48th and 49th home runs while Detroit's Tigers took a double-header from Chicago, 10-1 and 5-3. These two clouts left him one behind the pace Babe Ruth set when he made his record total of 60 in 1927. Rudy York followed Hank's example by smacking his 33rd to win the second game.

These blows overshadowed New York Yankees' 6-3 defeat by Washington as young Joe Krakauskas finally combined control with his speed which limited the champions to seven hits. Boston's Red Sox hammered out 19 hits and a 12-7 victory over the Athletics and took second place, 15 games behind the Yankees. New York still needs seven games to clinch the pennant.

Cleveland skidded into third place by splitting a double-header with St. Louis, winning the opener 6-2 when Bob Feller pitched a five-hitter for his 15th win of the year, then losing 4-3 as Russ Van Atta bested Mel Harder. The Phillies and Boston Bees divided yesterday's other twin bill, Philadelphia winning the first game 11-2 and Boston the second, 3-2.

Shotton Hinted To Take Frisch Post

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Frankie Frisch, the Fordham Flash, and the gas house gang parted company today on an upbeat—pitcher Paul Dean's potential comeback.

Frisch was paid off for the season yesterday after the younger brother of Dizzy Dean had subdued the National league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4.

The victory, climaxing Paul's uphill fight in the minors to iron out a sore arm, perhaps means a stronger pitching staff for the Cardinals—Frisch's greatest need this season.

Among the prospects rumored to succeed the veteran field boss were Burt Shotton, manager of the Columbus Redbirds of the American Association, and National League managers Jimmy Wilson of the Philadelphia Phillies and Burleigh Grimes of Brooklyn Dodgers.

Shotton was described as "Branch Rickey's type of manager." Columbus, a Cardinal farm, finished next to last this year.

Grimes, mentioned in the past as a prospective Cardinal manager, has been reported quaky with the seventh-place flatbushers. Wilson's last-place Phillies leave him in the shadow of the boot, also.

Mike Gonzales, Cuban-born Cardinal coach, will replace the 41-year-old Frisch the remainder of the season, but president Sam Breadon indicated Gonzalee would not continue into next year.

Brights Defeat Webbers 4 To 2

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Roy Downing's Bright's team, West Toronto Senior Baseball League champs, stayed in the running for city championship honors by blasting out an 8-2 win over Webbers, Pitt-loop titleholders, at Willowvale Park on Saturday. Leading 4-2 going into the ninth frame, Brights definitely settled the issue when, after (Snubber) Flake had squeezed Stav. Spero in with the fifth run, Gord. Young connected for a long home run with two mates aboard.

Leafs Take Royals In Two Games To Keep Pilot Burns; Bisons Split Double With Wings

(By the Associated Press.)

The International League "race," lacking in excitement since the middle of the season when Newark Bears moved so far ahead they were virtually certain to win their second straight pennant, is ready to start afresh with four clubs battling for the Governors' Cup and the right to play in the Little World series.

The regular season wound up yesterday with a round of doubleheaders which decided only one important question—whether Rochester or Buffalo would finish third and have to tackle Newark in the first playoff series. The Bears, of course, won the pennant but with only an 18-game margin over the second-place Syracuse Chiefs as compared to their 25½ game lead in 1937.

Buffalo, intentionally or otherwise, managed to take an 8-6 beating in the opener despite home runs by Joe Boland and Hank Nowak. Comfortably settled in fourth place, they cut loose against Rookie Bob Doyle in the afterpiece and won, 7-1, to finish only half a game behind the Red Wings.

As a result Rochester will face Newark to-morrow when the first playoff round opens and Buffalo will tackle the slightly less dreadful job of playing Syracuse. Each semi-final series will be the best four out of seven games. The first two games will be played at Newark and Syracuse; the next three at Rochester and Buffalo, and the final, if they go the limit, back at the starting points. The two winners will meet in a final four-of-seven series with $4,000 going to the winning team and $2,000 to the runner-up.

Syracuse to be Watched

Second place Syracuse, "dark horse" of the regular season, may take a similar role in the playoffs.

The Chiefs finished the regular campaign by dividing a twin bill with Newark. The Bears took the first clash, 3-1, when Jack Puilon gave only two hits and retired 18 successive batsmen after Al Gloppop socked a homer in the first inning. Syracuse then came through, 5-4, as Reg Grabowski hurled a five-hitter.

Jersey City and Baltimore also divided their concluding bill, the Little Giants taking the opener, 8-5, and the Orioles the nightcap, 3-1, for their first victory of the year in Jersey City. Toronto's Maple Leafs, top team of the second division made a real finishing splurge, however. They walloped Montreal Royals, 8-6 and 12-2, then decided the results of a mid-season managerial change had been so good they could stand for next year. Jack Burns, who succeeded Dan Howley as pilot, again will pilot the team.

Great Quantity Of Produce Is Offered For Sale On Market

Of the fulness of the season and the fruits thereof local producers assembled and displayed a great quantity on the market on Saturday.

And it wasn't all cabbages and onions and squash, either. Did you notice the jars of cider, sweet and fresh from the presses, and the wild grapes and the elderberries? Of course, if you prefer to tilt a glass of tomato juice instead of the sparkling, amber, liquified concentrate of North Monaghan apples, or wherever they are grown, you are not a prospective customer for a flagon of cider next Saturday, or the week later. If cider isn't a natural tonic, distilled in the sun, then you simply can't rely on the approval of your sensory agents that record the impression it is good. Later on in the winter or thereabouts when it "hardens," they say it is a different story.

And the baskets of grapes and elderberries suggest their theme song: "Shine on harvest moon away up in the skies," but possibly this little digression from a prosaic market report might be suspected of extolling two of the three reputed companions of pleasure. Some folks are mighty sensitive about mentioning anything in the wine list, even wild grape and elderberry, and they might put the finger on it. For their information, according to some persons who did a lot of domestic research work a few years ago, the grape and berry product is wishwashy stuff compared with a parsnip concoction that has been bottled up until it is as full of ferment and fight as rubbydub. And that is leading up to the fact, really of no importance, that parsnips were 25 cents the six-quart basket, with carrots alongside them and in the same quantity for 15 cents.

More Disp'ay Noticed.

It was an autumn market with warmy sunny weather and a repletion of produce; in fact, as full a larder as it is lean before the first maple syrup breaks the monotony of winter fare. Some of the growers evidently made a little extra effort to display their stuff, but they have a long way to go before they catch up with the retailers. On the main street on Saturday, peaches were prominently marked with signs, "49 cents." Buyers didn't have to hang around and ask how much they were. They beat you to it; and it was not their fault if you didn't get some cheap peaches for the week-end. Some day the market will be more or less like that, either in its present location or elsewhere.

It was a big market, but there were no outstanding features outdoors. The leek arrived to keep company with his first cousin of the onion family; and only a nickel a bunch.

Sold His Broccoli.

One gardener told the Examiner he had only three bunches of broccoli left at eleven o'clock, "and I brought in quite a load of it." Maybe a little publicity helps, but why look for a bow. The "broc" is good stuff, but it is a diffident vegetable, just like some people; rather slow to get acquainted; and you just have to push it out into the middle of the floor. And it is still five cents a bunch; not a bit high hat.

Apples were the outdoor feature of the market; they had the tomatoes backed to the outer fringes. St. Lawrence at 40 cents a peck as quoted by one man, and 35 cents by another; Alexanders and Wealthies, 25 cents a basket; and Harvest the same price. One gardener said the Alexanders are becoming scarce. Some of the orchard men were from this county, others from the Bowmanville country, and one or two from the Warkworth-Castleton section of Northumberland.

Pears and Plums.

Pleasant View Gardens of Bowmanville quoted Bartlett pears at 35 cents and Clapp's Favorite at 40 cents; plums, 45 cents for 6 quarts.

Tomatoes were 11 quarts for 25 cents and six quarts for 15 cents; huckleberries from Kosh Lake were 15 cents, up five from last Saturday; and new Logans were 15 and 20 cents; some persons call them thimbleberries.

Celery of extra good quality was ten cents a bunch or two bunches for 15c; red cabbage, 5c; corn, 10 cents a dozen; potatoes unchanged at 75 cents a bag.

E. R. Bush & Son of Castleton quoted clover honey in the comb at 20 cents; extracted white honey, four pounds for 55 cents; and the amber variety, 4 pounds for 45c.

Muskmelons Cheap.

Cantaloupes were 35 cents for a sixteen-quart basket; and if you wanted only one melon you could get a fairly large one for five cents. They were all sized. New turnips were 3 for 10 cents; sage, 10c a bunch; watermelons, 20 and 25 cents; vegetable marrows, 5c, the biggest nickel's worth on the market; Hubbard squash, all the way from 5 to 25 cents.

Green peppers, 2 for 5c; winter radish, 2 for 5c; Chinese lettuce, 10 cents a bunch; cabbage, 5c and up; string beans, 10 cents a quart; onions and cucumbers, the same prices as last week.

Eggs Are Dearer.

Spring chickens were 23 to 25 cents a pound, and the year-olds 20 cents.

The first grade of eggs, the largest size were 35 cents, a sharp advance in price, and pullets' size were 25 cents a dozen. Butter was steady.

George Benton quoted gladioli at 25 cents a dozen. The "glads" and asters were abundant, and with other later flowers added a lot of brightness to the market.

High-Heeled Pickets March In Frisco's Labor Dispute

San Francisco's incipient labor troubles took a fresh turn when 4,000 store clerks in 26 major department stores walked out in a strike which while it failed to close the city's stores, produced several fracases. The stores remained open for business despite the strike call and the fact that cordons of pickets tramped the sidewalks. One girl clerk attempting to pass the picket line is shown, LEFT, as a striker tried to halt her entry to the store. The girl at right is apparently ready to lend the worker physical assistance. At RIGHT is shown part of the army tapping its high heels on Frisco's sidewalks.

C.N.E. Ends Show With 354,000 Over Last Year

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (CP) — The Canadian National Exhibition is over for another year but behind the scenes officials are planning a greater show than ever for next year. Mayor Ralph C. Day has pledged increased grants and many renovations are planned.

Elwood Hughes, general manager of the exhibition, said total attendance at the two-week fair which ended Saturday was 1,656,000, an increase of 354,000 over last year. Attendance figures and business reports from exhibitors Hughes said, showed Ontario could expect heavy fall business.

Cool weather several days last week kept the exhibition from reaching the 1,750,000 mark set as an objective. Total attendance closing day was 167,000.

Table Tennis Feature

Sport events featured the closing day of the exhibition. Sol Schiff of Brooklyn, N.Y., won the mens senior title in the Canadian table tennis tournament and teamed with Ruth Brewer of New York to win the mixed doubles, and with Dan Kelpack of New York to win the men's doubles. Miss Brewer won the women's singles. Abie Spector of Montreal won the Canadian junior title.

Carnation from the Toronto Sifton Stables won the Touch-and-out stakes at the horse show and Watch Me, owned by George McCullagh of Thornhill, won the Knock-down-and-out Stakes. Barbara Spence, 17, of London won a trip to New York's national horse show. She was chosen as the best rider among the 18-years-and-under entrants.

International amity was the closing keynote of the whole show when the Czechoslovakians and Germans from the government exhibits staged a joint party for representatives of other nationalities.

Bride Is Honored By Her Friends

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 12.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orr of Percy township was the scene of a happy social gathering on Wednesday evening when well over one hundred friends and neighbors gathered for a community shower in honor of their only daughter, Grace, whose marriage to Donald Pollock took place recently.

Many beautiful gifts, including silver, china and linens, were bestowed upon the happy young couple who were called to a prominent place by Ed. Clancy prior to the midnight luncheon, served by the ladies. The bride and groom were asked for speeches to which they gratefully responded thanking one and all for the kindness shown them, after which everyone sang, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Dancing proved a pleasant entertainment, music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. William Hedger.

Women's Week

According to the number of meetings held by the women's associations in this district it appeared as if last week was ladies' week.

The women of the Friendship Circle of the Fleming neighborhood held their monthly sewing meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Bibby on Thursday afternoon, when a beautiful quilt was pieced ready to be quilted next month at the home of Mrs. Gordon Johnston. Following the quilting and a social chat, Mrs. Wm. Fleming and Mrs. Gordon Johnston were hostesses for the delightful refreshments.

The members of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church, motored to Westwood on Wednesday afternoon to attend the Westwood W.M.S. quarterly tea, which was a most successful affair. The ladies from Hastings were responsible for an enjoyable program. Mrs. Metcalfe gave a reading and as Mrs. A. M. Brooks gave her reading on "The Shepherd God," it was interspersed with verses of the hymn "The Ninety and Nine," beautifully rendered by Mrs. F. W. Newell. Mrs. A. German contributed a temperance reading and Mrs. H. Edwards and Mrs. G. Faux sang a duet "Messengers for Christ." The worship and business period was in charge of the Westwood President, Mrs. E. Sargent. Following the program the ladies enjoyed a bountiful supply of good things provided at the tea.

The members of St. George's Women's Auxiliary held their opening meeting for the fall term at the home of Mrs. Roy King in Percy township on Thursday afternoon when the majority of the members were present. Rev. Wm. Stocks led in the devotions and Mrs. J. Dainard presided. Business centred around the new study book on India, the Little Helpers' Party, the bale for the white settlers, and on preparations for materials for the bazaar.

Four quilts were sent by a lady to be quilted by the auxiliary. The treasurer reported that one half of the Diocesan pledges had been paid.

The hostess served refreshments before the close of the meeting.

Nine Fatalities

The victim was known to have a weak heart.

An inquest was ordered to be held on Monday. Provincial Constable William McBrien of this city investigated.

Rainstorm Fatal to Flier.

GLENCOE, Ont., Sept. 12 (C.P.). —Two separate inquiries proceeded to-day in the death of Lieutenant James Breathitt, United States Army flier, in an airplane crash near this Middlesex town on Saturday night. Glencoe is 30 miles south-west of London.

During a rainstorm, the pilot from Selfridge Field, Mich., cracked up in bushland on the Lee Simpson farm. Evidence indicated that he attempted to bail out, but was held strapped in the machine as it crashed and exploded.

The straps were still intact when he was found lying beside his unopened parachute, 400 feet from the wrecked plane. Part of the seat had been torn away in the blast and Breathitt's body was decapitated.

A coroner's inquest was opened last night by Middlesex authorities, while U.S. Army experts came to the scene to open their own investigation. The body was sent to Fort Meyer, Va., for burial.

The plane crashed an elm tree, leaving part of one wing in the branches. Two machine guns, loosened by the blast, were carried away by souvenir hunters and the police blamed two youths whom they traced. Later a detail of soldiers from London was sent to relieve a guard of police over the wreckage.

Lakefield Choir Honors Couple

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 12.—"Pine-Song", the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Renwick, at Chemong Lake, was the scene of a jolly party on Thursday evening, when Dr. and Mrs. Renwick played hosts to the members of the choir of Lakefield United Church, with a number of their friends.

The crispness of the early autumn air, drove the merry-makers indoors where a general atmosphere of coziness contributed toward a most enjoyable evening. A program of peppy contests and active games led by Rev. G. F. Kelly, was followed by the presentation of a green satin chesterfield cushion to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall of Peterborough (nee Mildred Purdy). Mrs. Marshall, before her marriage in July last, had been a member of the Lakefield choir for many years. Mr. Alfred Higgins made a short speech expressing regret that Mrs. Marshall was no longer able to be with the choir and asking her to accept this gift as a token of the regard in which she was held by the choir members. He expressed also best wishes for the couple's happiness. Mrs. W. M. Millage made the presentation.

Mr. Marshall replied in a few well chosen words and Mrs. Marshall added a word of thanks to those already expressed by her husband.

Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies, after which a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Dr. and Mrs. Renwick for their hospitality. The party joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Havelock W.M.S. Funds Up To Mark

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Sept. 12. — The Women's Missionary Society of the Havelock United Church met for their regular meeting, on Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Peter Haig.

The usual opening with hymn and prayer was conducted by Mrs. Thos. Easterbrook, vice-president. The monthly study was taken by Mrs. A. Anderson, and a devotional leaflet read by Mrs. Charles Spencer. A questionnaire on the blue books was conducted by Mrs. Easterbrook and Miss M. Seeney.

The finance committee reported that the allocation was up to date at the first of September.

Rose-Colored Glasses Halt Warfare

Warden Floyd Hamma, of the Essex County penitentiary at Caldwell, N.J., is shown with one of the 3,000 White Leghorn fowls from the prison's poultry farm that see the world through rose-colored glasses. Sight of blood used to infuriate the birds to such an extent that they fought until scores were dead. The warden fitted the chickens with tiny spectacles of red glass and leather, fastened to their bills with wire. Now they can't tell blood when they see it, so there's peace. The experiment works and part of the spectacled flock is shown at TOP. Now if someone could only induce certain powers that be in Europe to don rose-colored glasses.

Convict Escapes

KINGSTON.—No trace has been found of Convict Gordon Barrett, who escaped from the farm at Collins Bay Penitentiary last night. It was suspected the prisoner might be in the Westbrook district, only six miles from the penitentiary, as there were a couple of break-ins during the weekend.

Squaw Critically Injured

MANIWAKI.—Mrs. Joseph Cesar, 75-year-old squaw from the Indian reservation near this town, 80 miles north of Ottawa, was in a critical condition in hospital today, suffering from knife wounds to the scalp, face and hands. Police said the wounds were inflicted by another woman during a fight on reservation Saturday.

C.G.E. Testers Hold Reunion Kawartha Club

The tenth annual re-union of the C.G.E. Test Alumni Association was held on Saturday at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club with 188 Testers, Ex-Testers and guests registered for the day's activities.

The early arrivals were conducted on a tour of inspection around the Peterborough factory and then met the others at the Kawartha Club for the buffet luncheon at 1.30 a.m. After lunch the gang split up for the afternoon sports program under the supervision of Gordon 'ollington and his cohorts. Bill McMullen and his helpers dispatched 26 golf foursomes for a 9 hole tournament and at the same time Roly Hull handled 22 men's doubles teams in a round robin tennis tournament. A running commentary on the efforts and personalities of the members was broadcasted by Stan. Shields during the afternoon from a mobile loud speaker.

At the conclusion of the golf and tennis tournament sandwiches and tea were provided for all those interested. Jack Cameron and Doug. McGregor handled the onerous duties of the refreshment committee to the entire satisfaction of all present.

A softball game between the new Testers and the old Testers ended with a win for the old Testers with a score of 7 to 5, proving that brains are better than brawn. Ev Thomas and Art. Jones handled the game to the complete satisfaction of the winners, anyway. After the last man was called out and the last argument settled Ian McRae got the horseshoe pitchers underway and at the end left the four finalists to settle the championship by the aid of lights from two cars. When the first two rounds of would-be horseshoe pitchers had been eliminated a tug-of-war elimination contest got under way. The District Office team pulled the feet from under the Head Office team and the Engineering team were too good for the Test team. In the final pull between the District Office and the Engineering teams the District Office team was declared the winner, although the referee, Gordon Langley, couldn't make out who was winning. Possibly the District Office team had more moral and physical support from the spectators. In this case brawn triumphed over brains.

Having developed a healthy appetite by this time, everybody gathered at the Club House for dinner at 7.30 p.m. At the conclusion of the dinner B. I. Burgess, the president, extended a welcome to all members and guests, and then following the usual custom called on the member from the most distant point, A. L. Tennyson from Rio de Janeiro, to say a few words. E. J. Tett of Newboro, Ontario, had the honor of being the oldest (not in years) Test man present, having joined the Test Course in October, 1894.

Elect New Officers.

In as much as this is the second and final year for the present officers of the Association, the retiring president, B. I. Burgess reviewed the activities of the past term and expresed on behalf of the retiring executive, their appreciation of the assistance and cooperation given by all members and particularly the members of the various committees. The secretary-treasurer, D. J. Emery, read the annual report which was duly approved.

Honorary president— L. D. W. Magie.

President—H. Rose.

Toronto Vice-President— R. M. Love.

Peterborough Vice-President— D. V. Canning.

District Offices Vice-President—G. H. Gillett.

Other Companies Vice-President—T. W. Brackenreid.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. T. Holgate.

was submitted to the meeting for approval and duly elected. Mr. H. R. Sills in charge of the Entertainment committee, then proceeded to install the new officers in accordance with time honored ritual.

Honor L. D. W. Magne.

L. D. W. Magie who was re-elected honorory president, was presented with a set of books in commemoration of his recent retirement from active service with the C.G.E. Co. Ltd. Mr. C. E. Sisson acting on behalf of all members of the Test Alumni Association, conveyed to Mr. Magie the appreciation and gratitude of all Testers for his personal interest and guidance in the affairs of the Association and in the Students' Test Course. Mr. Sisson outlined the progress and growth of the Test Course from 1900, when Mr. Magie first assumed the duties of Peterborough Works Engineer with a staff of two engineers and four test men until the present year of his retirement, at which time there are approximately 60 engineers and as many as 30 test men, and a total of approximately 500 who has passed through the course under Mr. Magie's guidance and leadership.

In reply Mr. Magie expressed his appreciation and gratitude to the members for the gift. He drew attention to the many changes in the electrical industry from the time he was first a Test man himself in 1891 with the Stanley Elect. Co. in Pittsfield, Penn., and which later became a part of the General Electric Co., up to the present day. Such changes, and future advances in the industry required men of specialized training and ability, and it was in order to meet these requirements that the present Test Course was developed. In conclusion Mr. Magie assured all members of his continued interest in and active support of the Test Association. A hearty and robust rendition of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" expressed the feeling of all those present.

Introduced New Men.

I. F. McRae and D. A. Drynan introduced the 1938 Test men and welcomed them as new members of the Alumni Association. The 21 members present were individually presented and paraded before the gathering. The personal history covering the past and present activities of each member were disclosed to the edification of all those interested.

The final item on the evening's program was the presentation of prizes to the winners of the sports events by G. R. Langley. First prize in golf for low gross went to G. S. Stewart for a score of 44. J. W. Smith won the prize for the average golfer with a score of 89. The most consistent golfer was J. A. McKenzie who had seven 6's in nine holes. The high gross score (and we mean high), went to A. J. Girdwood for 117 strokes It is doubtful whether it would be possible to better this score for nine holes and still finish within the allotted time of three hours.

A. M. Thompson and R. M. Robinson copped the prize for the round robin tennis tournament. The perennial winners of the horseshoe contest, E. H. Tracy and R. M. Jennings again eliminated all competitor sto win the honors in this event. The T.A.A. softball trophy was presented to Mr. K. C. Hendry as captain of the Old Testers and members of the team received individual prizes. J. W. Smith, captain of the winning tug of war team received a new trophy shield on behalf of his team members. Three special attendance draw prizes went to C. E. Crease, J. S. Kyle and Y. R. Tasse.

The tenth annual re-union then broke up to the strains of Auld Lange Syne.

Deaconess Is Ordained

The first deaconess ordination ceremony in the history of All Saints' Church was solemnized Sunday when Grace Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tucker, 529 Romaine Street, was elevated to the ancient office of Deaconess in the Anglican Church. Rt. Rev. Heber J. Hamilton, D.D., formerly Bishop in Mid-Japan, officiated. Miss Tucker will return to work in late September to the tween Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Radu Djuvara, Rumanian Minister to Germany, and Joseph Lipski, the Polish ambassador.

The talks took place at Nuremberg, where the Nazi party Congress is being held.

Swiss Take Precautions

BERNE, Sept. 12 —(AP)— The Swiss government ordered military authorities to take full measures beginning today to fortify the frontiers against possible invasion from "foreign territory."

The official declaration mentioned specifically the mining of railroads and highways at border points looking toward their possible "destruction" in case of aggression.

Denmark Uneasy.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 12—(AP)— Denmark was reported taking precautionary measures today along her Schleswig border with Germany. King Christian postponed his departure at Scaw because of the situation.

May Use Marital Law.

PRAGUE, Sept. 12.—(A. P.). — The Czechoslovak Government today reached a decision to invoke martial law in sections of the Sudeten German region tonight if serious disorders develop following Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg speech.

Martial law will be imposed "only in case of extreme necessity," according to the decision reached by premier Milan Hodza and his chief ministers.

But in government offices it was said that order would be maintained at all costs.

Officials emphasized that adequate measures had been taken to resist any display of force by Germany in the dispute between Prague and the autonomy-demanding Sudeten Germans but reiterated there had been no general mobilization.

They said no military measures such as strengthening of garrisons in the Sudeten regions were contemplated, nor was it considered necessary to have soldiers on patrol.

The Government decided to rely chiefly on the civil authorities. It was hoped the police would be adequate to meet any emergency.

EFFECTIVE SALESMANSHIP

One local gardener had 400 bushels of tomatoes on his hands and another had half that quantity and both figured much of the crop would spoil because of slow selling. Both spent twenty five cents on a for sale advertisement in the Examiner last week, and both were cleaned out by Saturday. The ads run at the height of the pickling season placed the product before the housewives who were seeking bargains, and they soon took advantage of the offers. One man reports he had buyers motor to Norwood and Hastings as well as Norwood, Hastings and Havelock as many from this city.

Miss G. Tucker Is Ordained As Deaconess

All Saints' Church was filled at the morning service Sunday when Miss Grace Tucker was ordained to the office of deaconess in the Anglican Church by the Right Reverend Heber J. Hamilton, D.D., formerly Bishop in Mid-Japan. It was the first time in the history of the Rubidge Street edifice that an ordination ceremony had taken place within its walls.

Miss Tucker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tucker, 529 Romaine Street, and is a graduate of the Church of England Deaconess and Missionary Training House. She studied languages in Japan, and her present work is in the Holy Cross Mission among the Japanese in Vancouver, B.C. At the present time she is at home on leave but returns to the west coast at the end of September.

A procession prefaced the regular service with visiting clergymen taking part, and later the candidate dressed in black, and wearing a hip length white tulle veil, knelt before the Bishop to profess her vows, while His Excellency read the charge to the candidate outlining the duties and responsibilities.

Outstanding Example.

Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, rector of All Saints', preached the sermon in compliance with the request of the candidate to be ordained, who has the privilege of naming the speaker at the service. After paying a warm welcome to Bishop Hamilton, he lauded Miss Tucker as an outstanding example of Christian womanhood. He explained that members of the parish first knew her as a young and efficient business woman, and remembered when she had been accepted by the Women's Auxiliary and sent to Japan to learn the language.

"I am perfectly certain that those of you who know her will agree with me when I say she is worthy of the office to which she has been called."

Rev. Paterson gave a vigorous discourse on wasted lives and rapped those intelligent and talented people who expend their ability and energies in aimless and worthless pursuits, instead of seeing the challenge and doing something to help save souls for God. "We get altogether too much publicity on the rich young men who are squandering their money and doing outrageous things, and we cannot help but meditate on the good they might have done."

Many men, said the speaker, go on year after year wasting their lives, having no thought of contrition and soon death strikes them and then it is too late to return to God.

Jesus came to seek and to save a lost world; He did not reckon the price, because the need was so great. Today it is different, every Christian must do the seeking and bring souls to Jesus. Each of you share this responsibility for the saving of souls.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Hamilton was the speaker at the evening service.

Attacks Czechs' Right

Delving further into the Czechoslovak situation the Fuehrer said:

"The overwhelming majority of this state was forced without being consulted to obey this state. They were suppressed and their right to live taken from them.

"Among the majority of the suppressed nationalities are 3,500,000 Germans, nearly as many as the total population of Denmark.

"These (The Sudeten Germans) are creations of the Almighty, and he did not create them to be surrendered to foreign force.

"He did not create 7,000,000 Czechs to act as guardians of 3,500,000 Germans!"

Forts Ready By Winter.

At present, he said, 362,000 workers, 100,000 labor service men, and numerous army engineering and infantry battalions were at work on the fortifications.

Daily 8,000 freight cars transport material amounting to 100,000 tons into this region, he continued, "and I can assure you the work will be completed before winter sets in."

"The aim of the Jews and Marxists was to destroy the National Community and to deliver to the unscrupulous Jewish lawyers the masses of the German people.

"From its beginnings the name 'National Socialism' was suspect as well as the garb of its followers. These people hoped for the hour when the drummer that I was would be replaced by a so-called true statesman.

"At that time everyone spoke of the necessary interests of the German people, but we National Socialists were the abandoned of all.

"The whole world hated us. The condemned number of our storm troopers could be counted by the thousands, but nevertheless we recall with a feeling of joy that period of combat."

Hitler then spoke of those who fought in the East March (Austria). He spoke bitterly of the Germans who had been imprisoned and reduced to misery for many years.

"In the Great History of the World," he continued, "we see a renewal of the same thing that we then suffered.

"Since the first congress at Nuremberg 15 years have passed. Today the party has taken the lead and become the representative of the German Reich. The party has achieved a miracle.

A United Reich.

"I believe I am dreaming when I think of the first congress and compare that day with this one. Since those days the whole Reich is once again united in our movement in this city. The division of the nation no longer exists. The veritable unity of the Reich is formed because it has found national unity.

"The National Socialist movement has become the movement of the German masses. It has concentrated the strength of the nation and saved the German people.

"Enormous problems remain to be settled. When the movement is constrained to solve such problems it must solve first the problem of organization. It is necessary first to create unity between manual and intellectual workers. This unity called for the banishing of a foreign element which could never be integrated with our people.

"If it is asked why National Socialism to-day fights the Jews so fanatically, one can only answer that a foreign race, which has nothing in common with us, cannot be called upon to take the lead.

"The enormous tasks which lie before us cannot be accomplished unless we put behind them all our strength and thorough discipline.

"The preliminary condition for all this is absolute authority of leadership. The principal care of the state should be to find the means to encourage the energy and arbor of each individual to permit him to make progress.

Chance For Poorest

"In this national socialist state, the poorest must be given the chance to rise to the supreme class. Each worker, each peasant must know that the leaders of all are also their leaders because they are born of the nation.

"It is uniquely due to the organization of the national community that we have been able to resolve the task before which our adversaries failed.

"We have suppressed economic distress but we have also succeeded in breaking the political bonds in which we were enchained.

"This national community is not theoretical.

All Belong to the Party.

"The National Socialist Party is the organization of this national community. That is why it exists.

"It is the arm of the national in the interior. In the present hour, there is hardly a German who does not belong to some National Socialist organization.

"This penetrates throughout, to the last workshop, to the last home, to the last village.

"Everything this national community, based on the National Socialist Party, has wanted and realized in the last six years has been in the interest of the German people.

"It is the first time in history that we have been able to raise and organize our right to action in the national community.

"It can take the most unpopular measures if they are of national interest. Individual interests are without importance.

"We desire to present ourselves each year before the people to obtain this assent. We obtained this assent on April 10 (in the plebiscite on Austrian Anschluss) in a greater degree than ever.

timated 2,000,000 men, 2,000 fighting planes and 200 ships were in readiness.

(A Havas News Agency dispatch from London said the British cabinet today was officially informed France has completed preparations to go to Czechoslovakia's aid if the latter is the victim of unprovoked aggression. A communication to this effect was received from the British Ambassador to France, Sir Eric Phipps, the dispatch said.)

An atmosphere of sharp tension spread through the capital despite officials' assurances that whatever Hitler's spech portended, many days might pass before any decisive steps were taken.

Road Through Rumania

One unconfirmed report in Paris, published in the newspaper L'Oeuvre which is an organ of Premier Daladier's radical socialist party, said Bonnet had persuaded Rumania to permit Russian troops to cross her soil should Czechoslovakia be attacked.

That, with the notice that Great Britain would fight with France should a general war result from Chancellor Hitler's efforts to force concessions for Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German minority, left little to be done.

After the two and one-half hour meeting, the French cabinet issued this communique:

"The cabinet examined recent diplomatic documents and external political events which were related by M. Bonnet. The cabinet paid homage to the nation's patriotism, to its calm and to its sang froid (coolness). It also received expressions of fidelity to France from North Africa and the Entire Colonial Empire. This worthy and sensible attitude of the nation is particularly useful for the defence of peace."

Military Chiefs Meet.

Three of France's highest military chiefs met at the war ministry for a long night conference, the generals, who conferred with Daladier immediately after the cabinet session, were Marie Gustave Gamelin, chief of the General Staff: Alphonse Georges, member of the Superior War Council, and Gaston Billotte, Military Governor of Paris.

Raymond Patenotre, Minister of National Economy and Production, said in answer to questions that "we have taken all necessary economic measures and we will not be surprised as we were in 1914."

Albert Sarraut, Minister of Interior, said after the cabinet meeting that he "personally" was "completely satisfied" with the British Government's attitude in the czechoslovak crisis. He declined, however, to speak for his colleagues in the Government.

Vegetable Exhibitor Challenges Exhibition Board To See His Crop

J. M. LOWES of Otonabee came to bat on Saturday against charges levelled by directors of the Peterborough Exhibition that some exhibitors made a practice of combing the country for blue ribbon produce to show as their own.

"Here's one man at least who doesn't have to ring in his vegetables, declared Mr. Lowes. He said that produce "all the way from little onions to big pumpkins" had been named as being rounded up and passed off as exhibitor's own. He won first prize in both those classes and his were grown on his land, he said.

He has invited members of the Exhibition board to visit his farm, less than 2 miles beyond the city limits, and see for themselves that he has still growing the same quality vegetables which he showed at the Exhibition where he was a first prize winner in many classes.

The practice of ringing in vegetables is general throughout all the fairs in the country, he claimed. He admitted having shown melons that were not his own at the fair just closed here, but said he had admitted to the board that he had not grown them. The only reason he had shown them was that his own were not ready, he claimed. "I didn't need to ring in any others," he said. "I had them already growing on my land and they're still here for the board members to see any time they want to."

New Fair Building

MAIN STREET TOPICS

NO WEEKEND FIRES

Firemen had an easy time of it over the weekend. Not a single fire was reported during all Saturday and Sunday but the one hitch in the whole things was that engines still had to be polished, drill carried out, inspections made, and the station cleaned.

SOME GOOD CATCHES

The Otonabee River yielded up two nice catches over the weekend for holidayers at Fred Bissonnette's on the River Road. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Watson and son James of Toronto, left with a good catch of bass and Fred Immings, Park Hill Road, landed a 12-pound lunge.

HOBBY FOR EVERYBODY

It's the odd boy who has no hobby, but when that boy is a scout and has no hobby, it's almost sacrilege. At the last meeting of the Scouts a plan was adopted whereby all boys must have hobbies, must show their work to other Scouts. Only one scout in the entire meeting had no hobby of any kind.

WAR SCARE REACHES

The present war scare reached a high peak in Peterborough on Sunday when no newspapers were available and wild rumors began to circulate. "Is it true that war has been declared? Someone told us he had heard on the radio that war had started," was the gist of dozens of telephone calls that came into the Examiner office on Sunday.

TIN SOLDIERS

Tin soldiers with uniforms of every hue, seen usually only at Christmas, are making their appearance in large departmental stores downtown. Possibly the serious threat of war at the present time has something to do with it, for even guns and warplanes are to be found on sale.

PARENTS WELL KNOWN HERE

Peterborough citizens will be surprised to learn that the boy that died suddenly in Hamilton after playing rugby is well known in this city. His father, James Stevenson, Wentworth street, Hamilton was for many years associated with the Canada Packers and Mrs. Stevenson, is a daughter of the late James Ball who was an employee of J. J. Turner & Sons.

A BIG CONVENTION.

Five hundred delegates are expected in the city between October 20th and 23rd for the annual provincial convention of the Anglican Young People's Association. The convention will conclude with a monster banquet to be held probably in the Market Hall. All arrangements for the three-day meet are being worked out successfully by a competent committee of local members.

LEADING FISHERMAN

Nelson Davis, 272 Rogers street is setting a fast pace for the rest of the veteran fishermen in the district and to date appears to have set a record. During the past 10 days he has landed 10 fine muskies and topped the catch off with a 17-pounder which he finished after a tough battle near Bensfort Bridge on Sunday morning.

PAPER COLLECTION

The Cub Packs of the city's Boy Scouts certainly know when to collect their paper. With nearly every householder in Peterborough beginning to wonder just what to do with those bundles of paper that have accumulated since the furnace was put out last spring, they come along with the announcement that they are having their annual paper collection on Saturday, September 24. So when that uniformed youngster calls at your home on that day, be sure to have your paper ready. If he can't take it all himself he'll get plenty of help.

CLOTHES FOR SMALL BOY REQUIRED

Pyjamas and under clothing are required for a delicate boy, aged 6 years. If you have any such articles 1095, and they will be called for.

BUSINESS MEN TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Business Men's Association will be held tonight at 7.45 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. Election of officers and executive for 1938-39 is the main item of business to be brought up.

Knox Winners Over Saints Church Tennis

By winning three out of the five matches with All Saints' Church in the Church Tennis League finals, the Knox Church Club captured the league title.

There were six entrants in the league this year, All Saints "A", All Saints "B", Trinity, St. John's, George Street and Knox Church. The championship was won last year by All Saints.

In this year's finals Knox won by victories in the men's singles mixed doubles and ladies' doubles while All Saints' won the ladies' singles and the men's doubles, the latter by default.

In the ladies' singles All Saints won decisively when Connie Coughill defeated Hazel Bradley of Knox 8-6, 6-3. The Knox player put up a good game in the first set but faded in the second.

In the men's singles H. Charlton won from C. Palmer of All Saints 6-4, 6-4. Last year's champion met up with unexpected opposition but pulled through for a Knox win.

The third Knox victory came in the mixed doubles when Grace Stewart and Ralph Charlton defeated Mary Cavalier and Cooper 7-5, 6-2. Cooper's chop service and volleys gave Knox trouble in the first set but they found how to get at them in the second.

These three matches were played on the All Saints' courts. Knox had to default the men's doubles of Ron Bassett and Fred Watson to Don Menzies and Sid Townsend of All Saints', owing to the absence of a player, leaving the two clubs tied with two victories each.

The deciding match, the ladies' doubles, was played at the Oval on neutral grounds and Helen Beatty and Marjorie Lewis of Knox teamed together for the first time to win from Jean Ball and Mildred White of All Saints' 2-6, 6-1, 6-2. The first set was All Saints' all the way, but the Knox players found themselves at the start of the second to show much better team-work and they won the last two sets quite easily.

The Road Fades.

Now, says the Alberta Minister, abnormal weather has "practically reduced the Jasper Highway to an impassable trail." Alberta wants the $175,000 Mr. Fallow says was promised.

But a search of the records of several Federal departments here failed to reveal any record of the $25,000 additional said to be promised

Mr. Crerar thereupon telegraphed to Mr. Fallow as follows:

"No available funds in the tourist highway vote which would permit the Dominion making any contribution and have no knowledge that other provinces will be unable to spend their allocations from this vote."

The last part of the telegram referred to Mr. Fallow's suggestion Alberta might get more if tourist highway grants to the provinces were reallocated.

The search for the Order-in-Council, if such there be, is going on.

TWO WORLDS

CHAPTER 39

NOEL HURRIED back upstairs after she had seen the group around the card table in Fay Garwood's sitting room. It had been a real shock to see the man who twice had followed her home from the Peacock. She had believed she was through with Luigi forever, had hoped that she would never see him again or anything pertaining to the Peacock, now here was his henchmen calmly enjoying a game of bridge in the house where she was employed.

But Noel finally convinced herself that it was purely a coincidence and had nothing whatever to do with her own presence here.

She dismissed it from her mind and went to the telephone to call Laurie again. This time she found her at the cafe.

Laurie, Noel was overjoyed to find, did not marry Cointepas. "Because of Jimmy," Laurie explained happily. "The minute I saw him I knew I couldn't." Then she added, "Thank you, Noel, for what you did."

They talked a few minutes. Just before hanging up the receiver, Laurie told Noel to buy The Press-Scimitar. There was something about Julian on the first page.

Noel went out at once and bought a paper from a thin little newsboy who was on the corner in the mornings and again at night.

She found it at once, a picture of Julian, and underneath the following paragraph:

"Doctor Julian Paige, young physician and sugeon, who recently performed a rare operation, only one other successful operation of its kind is known to medical science. It is predicted that this conscientious young physician will go far in his profession."

Noel read the article with unconcealed happiness. She had heard Julian speak of this particular operation. He had said that he was piting his judgment against that of much older men in the profession. It had taken courage to do that, but he had won.

Noel decided that she would call Julian tomorrow and congratulate him. It was quite possible that he had attempted to get her over the telephone and had failed, for Laurie had mentioned the fact that she had called there, had asked that Noel be called to the phone, but that she had waited in vain. Noel thought it rather strange that she should not be permitted to answer telephone calls.

The next day passed uneventfully, although Betsy didn't seem as well as she had the day before. Noel worried for fear that she might be feverish.

So Noel went downstairs again to see Mrs. Garwood, who received her with her usual ungraciousness. When Noel told her why she had come, Mrs. Garwood became angry. "I've had the best doctors in Europe," she exclaimed, "and nothing could be done. Now you go back upstairs and stay there where you belong."

There was nothing left for Noel to do but obey. But on the way back, a daring thought came to her. If Julian could see Betsy—if there was some way she could get the child to him—

At 6 she called him at his office. She found out that Julian had endeavored to get in touch with her without success. When she had congratulated him on the successful operation, he said, his voice a little wistful: "Am I never to see you again?"

She told him she would be off the following Wednesday and would meet him at the De Luxe. It was agreed they would have dinner there, although Julian reminded her that Wednesday was a long way off. "I suppose I'll have to make the best of it," he finished.

"I'm afraid so," Noel said lightly. Then she added teasingly, "But you still have Miss Chester—you couldn't be really lonely."

Julian gave a short laugh. "If I were there with you, I don't know whether I'd shake you or kiss you. Probably both, one first, then the other."

"Now, really, Doctor Paige—," Noel drawled teasingly.

The afternoon was sunshiny, the outdoors so inviting that once again Noel suggested to Betsy that they go downstairs for a little while. But the same look of fear, or something akain to fear, came into the child's blue eyes. So once again Noel did not press the subject. But she couldn't help wondering why the child should be afraid of going downstairs.

Noel was beginning to feel the long unaccustomed strain of remaining indoors. It seemed ages and ages since the evening she and Julian had said good night and had kissed each other very lightly, and decided to be friends, at least. There were times when Noel was very lonely, when she suffered an actual nostalgia for the dingy little room on Court street.

Somehow the days went by and it was Tuesday. Betsy refused to touch her breakfast his morning. And Noel was trying to persuade her to drink a glass of malk about 10 o'clock when Hichens came in and told Noel that Mrs. Garwood wanted to see her. Betsy was at last about to yield to Noel's persuasion, so Noel did not go down at once. After all the child was her first responsibility.

The next thing Noel knew she heard the sound of French heels outside Betsy' door. Fay Garwood came in, her face white with anger. "I sent for you. Why didn't you come?"

"I didn't think there was any hurry," Noel's voice was quiet. She was surprised to see that the woman's arm was again bandaged.

"When I send for you, you are to get there at once, do you—" Mrs. Garwood began angrily.

But the air was suddenly split by a high hysterical voice, "GET OUT OF HERE! GET OUT! You're mean and I hate you. I hate you!"

It was all Noel could do to keep Noel realized that the excited, hysterical voice came from Betsy and that she was glaring at Fay Garwood, her little face distorted with rage.

Mrs. Garwood took the child's thin shoulder with her unbandaged hand and shook her viciously. "If I had two good hands, I'd spank you until you couldn't sit down, you little imp"

It was al Noel could do to keep her composure. Betsy was sobbing now, helplessly, bitterly. Noel started over to comfort her.

"Leave her alone," Mrs. Garwood commanded sharply. "I've told you this child needed discipline. Now you see for yourself. You come downstairs with me."

Noel followed the woman downstairs, making a mental note to hurry back to Betsy at the earliest possible moment.

"First, I want to have you write out another check. My arm, as you see, is still in bad shape," Fay Garwood began.

Noel took the checkbook Fay Garwood handed her and wrote out another check, signing Mrs. Garwood's name as she had done before. The amount of the check was $3,000.

When Noel finished, the woman said: "You can see now that Betsy's trouble is mental. In cases of this kind, the—er—one who is unbalanced always turns against their—er—the one she loves the best. That is why—well, when you're a mother yourself you will understand why I am the—unhappiest woman in the world. I'm not even allowed to see my own child, because—er—the doctors say it will aggravate her condition."

Fay Garwood had spoken slowly, as if measuring every word. Noel had a queer feeling that her whole speech had been carefully rehearsed. It seemed that Mrs. Garwood had suddenly assumed the role of a broken-hearted mother. But the role didn't seem to fit her any better than Hichens' movie version of a butler fitted him.

Nevertheless, in spit of Noel's conviction that the woman was acting, she murmured something about being very, very sorry, and at last went back to Betsy.

The child was slumped in a chair, her eyes tear-stained and her face again waxen white. She had never looked more exhausted and forlorn. Noel lifted her up. Then she said gently, "Darling, you were very naughty to talk to your mother like that. But you won't do it again, will you? You must promise Noel that you won't."

Betsy sat up in her lap, her tear-stained eyes very bright and feverish. "But she is not my mother," she said.

In Homes Where Mothers Have The Entire Control Over Rearing The Children You Are Likely To Find Them Unruly And Not Trained To Meet Life's Problems

"NO MAN," said a man to me recently, "ever faces a more heart-breaking and insoluble problem than does the one who sees his children, who have the making of fine men and women in them, being ruined by their mother and realize that he is powerless to save them.

"Yet that is the situation in which millions of us fathers find ourselves. We know the world too well not to know what is bound to be the ultimate fate of children who have been pampered and spoiled all of their lives and who have known no law except their own wills.

"We have seen too many boys and girls who are drunkards because they have never been taught any self-control; too many young couples getting divorces because they have never been held to any duty or obligation or made to do anything they didn't want to do; too many weaklings who threw up their hands and quit whenever the sledding got hard, not to know what happens to youngsters who have not been disciplined at home and had the courage and the strength bred in them that would enable them to fight the battle of life and win out.

"Knowing these things, as every man must know them, the question naturally arises: Why don't we try to prepare our children for life? Why do we apparently consider that we have done our full duty as fathers when we support our youngsters? Why do we wash our hands of all responsibility in their upbringing and turn them over to their mothers to rear when we know that their mothers are incompetent to do it?

"The answer is that not once in a thousand times will a mother concede the children's father any authority over them or co-operate with him in rearing them. Worse than that, almost every mother is a monopolist so far as her children are concerned. She is deadly jealous of their affection for their father and determined that they shall love her best. To gain their favor she makes them feel that SHE is the one who indulges them and saves them from having to do tasks, and that their father is a grinding tyrant who metes out punishment and doesn't care whether they are happy or not.

"My experience is not different from that of the great majority of fathers. If I say 'no' to anything the children want to do, their mother invariably vetoes my decision in the children's presence, and that's poor psychology even in training a dog. If I correct a child, she accuses me of 'picking' on poor little Johnny, and wonders how I can be so hard on a helpless creature. That gives Johnny a grand case of self-pity and puts Father in the light of a brute.

"When I try to teach Bobby some habit of industry and reliability by giving him some small chore to do around the house she negates my efforts by doing it herself or letting him leave it undone, because he wants to play. When I attempt to punish one of the children she flies at me like a tigress and snatches the child to her bosom and 'poor things' it and 'Mamma darlings' it until it ends in my being the culprit instead of the child. She even balks my efforts to give the children an education by always taking the child's part in any difficulty between it and its teacher and making the child believe that the reason he was kept in and got poor marks was because Teacher was an old meanie who for some unknown reason was prejudiced against her little angel.

"I am not exaggerating when I say that I have not only drawn my own portrait, but that of a multitude of other fathers and our position in reference to our children. It isn't because we don't love our youngsters and don't realize our responsibility to them that we take no part in their rearing. It is because our wives won't let us. If we attempt to interfere in any way or assert any authority, it brings on a fight in which the child sees its mother and father reduced to the level of snarling animals. It hears them bring accusations and counter-accusations against each other that is bound to destroy its respect for both of them.

"Nothing can be worse for children than to be brought up in a home that is a place of perpetual conflict between their parents, so rather than inflict that fate on my youngsters I bought peace for them by stepping out of the picture, except as bill-payer, and am letting their mother work her will with them. Perhaps we fathers who do this make a cowardly surrender, but what else can we do?"

Make Your Wedding a Dream of Loveliness

Budget and Plan in Advance

An autumn wedding! How serene and beautiful this day of days, if you've already planned every detail.

Shall it be a formal church ceremony? You, in fitted satin gown with clouds of tulle sweeping behind you. Or shall it be a simple home wedding with old friends and neighbors to wish you joy? For this, you might wear a smart afternoon dress of soft blue crepe.

Your own taste is the deciding factor. That, and what you can afford to spend. Because, of course, you'll make a careful budget suited to your purse.

The bridegroom is responsible for the clergyman's fee, the ring and license, the bride's bouquet and wedding trip.

What does the groom wear? What refreshments are correct? Our 32-page booklet answers all your wedding problems. Duties of best man. How to mark bridal linen.

GOODNIGHT STORY

By MAX TRELL

HAVE YOU ever gone sailing down a rain-river in a matchbox boat? That's what Hanid and Knarf, the shadows with the turned-about names were doing. Shadows are luckier than children in some ways. They can make themselves any size they please. Just now they were as small as match sticks. So they fitted very nicely inside the boat.

It had rained quite hard. And now the rain-river was rushing along the edge of the road, down to the foot of the hill where the frog pond lay. The matchbox boat sailed along swiftly.

"It's drowning, Knarf!"

All at once Hanid, who was standing in the front of the boat near the mast (which was made of a twig with a leaf for a sail), shouted back to Knarf, who was steering: "Look out, Knarf! There's a grasshopper ahead of us! It's drowning, Knarf! It can't get out of the water! Oh, we must save it!"

Grasshopper Saved

Knarf quickly threw out the anchor (it was just a bent pin tied to the end of a thread) and the boat stopped. Then Knarf got out a life preserver, made of a bit of cork tied to another piece of thread, and threw it to the drowning grasshopper. "Hold on! Hold on a... we'll pull you in!" he shouted.

Fortunately, the grasshopper seized hold of the life preserver with one of its legs and the next minute it was safetly inside the boat.

The grasshopper was quite pale with fright. "Thanks.....thanks for saving my life," it said.

Meanwhile, Knarf pulled up the anchor and the boat continued sailing down the rain-river again. "Are you going very far?" the grasshopper asked.

"We're going to sail far, far away. We're going to see the world," Knarf explained.

"Do you know," said the grasshopper, "I've never seen the world, except just in little hops. Would you mind taking me along with you? I'll do anything you say. Please take me along."

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

Be still, my soul, be still; the arms
you bore are brittle,
Earth and high heaven are fixt
of old and founded strong.
I think rather,—call to thought, if now you grieve a little,
The days when we had rest, O soul for they were long.

—A. E Houseman.

Dear Friends:

How hard it is to bid our soul be still. There is an unrest within each one of us, so that even in our happiest moments we are reaching out for the things that are yet to come.

And the only time we had rest was before thought awakened within us, before we began to wonder the why and the wherefor of things that have been, and things that are now.

And when we try to still our soul, there seems a stagnation, a lack, a weariness and "virtue semes to be only and solely its own reward," and this stillness seems to make us wonder the more.

"Men loved unkindness then, but lightless in the quarry
I slept and saw not; tears fell down, I did not mourn;
Sweat ran and blood sprang out and
I was never sorry:
Then it was well with me, in days
ere I was born."

I have been reading of one of the Caesers who had the right hand cut of thirty thousand men for some small mistake. Thirty thousand mark you. And in history where young girls were sentenced to twenty years banishment in a penal colony for stealing a bit of ribbon or a few handkerchiefs.

"Now, and I muse for why and never find the reason,
I pace the earth, and drink the air, and feel the sun.
Be still, be still, my soul; it is but for a season:
Let us endure an hour and see injustice done."

And right now we can muse about certain things and never find the reason, why this is as it is, and why that should be like that. We believe in a just God, a righteous one, but still our minds quest forth in the old wonder of—WHY?

I think that, just as a group can overcome another group, so can we if we truly line ourselves with God. But there are only a few here and there who will do it.

Some give lip service, but nothing else. Some give attendance to church and think they have done their part. Some give nothing at all, but leave it to the other fellow, thinking it means nothing to him. And some there are who truly and earnestly do their part, but they are too scattered, too far apart to do all the good they can do. Some are torn apart by creeds and symbols, and all the time these horrors of war and poverty and crime torture and bewilder those who think.

What happens in all parts of the earth affects us, shut our eyes to it as we like. And the power to change things for the betterment of all mankind is in our hands, did we but know it.

There is no glory in some men with so many millions they do not really know how much they are worth, and in others with the barest of living conditions. There is no glory in being blown to bits in war to fill the pockets of some other man.

And not one of the isms has worked, communism, fascism, socialism, radicalism. What we need is God-ism, and until we get it the world will go on making the same mistakes, enduring the same horrors.

"Ay, look; High heaven and earth
all from the prime foundations;
All thoughts to rive the heart are here, and all are vain;
Horror and scorn and hate and fear and indignation—
Oh, why did I awake? When shall
I sleep again?" —A. E. H.

Costly Monkey Business

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Monkey business proved expensive to Henry Trefflich, animal dealer. A female rhesus monkey led three of her pals on a three-hour rampage after breaking out of their cage in his store. They broke a window, damaged a fruit stand and caused a pursuing policeman to tear his pants. Trefflich got a ticket for speeding while hurrying to the scene.

Saturday Wedding

We Noticed

—That many shops are showing slim, untrimmed wool coats for fall, and they are sold with their own separate fur bolero, the two making a warm winter garment.

—Beaver suggests a possible successor to Persian lamb as a trimming on coats and suits.

—Straight uniform coats are to be worn above a short swinging kilted skirt this year. The coats are drab colored, the skirts multi-colored (but resembling no known tartan).

—Fur is used a great deal in trimming. Some attribute this to our Queen's fondness for this style. But while she wears soft pale colored furs, those on next season's frocks will be very different.

Rochester Wedding Of Interest

An interesting wedding took place recently in the Immaculate Conception church, Rochester, N.Y., when Miss Emelda Guerin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Guerin, of Rochester, and formerly of Peterborough, became the bride of Mr. Richard L. Leecox, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Leecox, Rochester, N.Y. The church was adorned with roses and palms, and the ceremony was conducted by Monsigner Cameron.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white, with lace bodice that flowed from the hips into a long, tapering train of mesh. Her long, mesh veil fell from a crown of lace, and she carried a graceful bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Edna Guerin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a floor-length gown of pale blue marquisette. Her matching marquisette veil fell softly to the hips from a wreath of American Beauty roses. The two bridesmaids, gowned in similar style in pink marquisette with rose wreaths in their hair, were Miss Alice Elisson and Miss Doris Berger.

Mr. John Deafendorf was best man, and Mrs. John McKenna and Mr. Harold Deafendorf acted as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leecox will live in Rochester.

Fenella Church Holds Anniversary

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Sept 12.—Aniversary services were held at Fenella, an appointment on the Roseneath charge, on Sunday morning and evening, September 11. Rev. D. M. Smith of Baltimore, delivered inspiring addresses at both services. Mr. Smith's subject in the morning was 'The Parable of the Lost Sheep,' and in the evening he spoke from three standpoints: "God Working In Us, in the World, and in the Cross."

Roseneath United church choir led in the morning service of song, also singing three special numbers, an anthem, "I Will Sing," by the full choir, a quartette, "Have Thine Own Way," sung by Mrs. M. Davey, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Roberts, and Melville Macklin, and a quartette, "Sweet Chiming Bells," sung by Messrs. Lewis Roberts, Alvin Kelly, Willis Dowler, Melville Macklin and Renslow Joice.

The male quartette from Bethesda South United church choir led the service of song in the evening, rendering three selections, a quartette, "The Homeland of the Soul"; a solo, "O Saviour Hear Me," sung by Gordon Bickle, and a quartette, "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me." The singers were Sam Philp first bass, Gordon Bickle second bass, Everett Philp first tenor, and Gordon Macklin second tenor. Mrs. Campbell presided at the organ.

The chancel was banked with masses of autumn flowers.

Jones—Beavis Nuptials

Downeyville Wedding Party

Chow Chow (Picalilli)

One-half peck (7 lbs.) green tomatoes, 2 small heads cabbage, 6 large onions, 6 cucumbers, 2 green peppers, 3 sweet red peppers, ½ cup salt. (If desired 1 cabbage may be omitted and about one-third of the salt, add one chopped head celery in their place). Seed the peppers and put all the vegetables through the food chopper when they are clean. Let stand 4 hours then drain off the juice. Mix 1 tablespoon mustard seed, ¼ cup grated horse radish, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1½ lbs. brown sugar, 1 quart vinegar. Bring the vinegar mixture to boiling point, add the drained vegetables, bring to boiling point, but do not boil—this is to keep the vegetables crisp. Pour into small sterile jars and seal. This added to mayonnaise, a good barbeque sauce, or if added to mayonnaise and chopped meat a good sandwich spread.

Corn Relish

One and one-half dozen ears corn, 1 small cabbage, 1 bunch celery, 4 onions, 2 green peppers, 2 quarts choice vinegar, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup flour, ½ cup salt, ½ teaspoon each mustard, cayenne, turmeric. Cut corn from cob. Force cabbage through meat chopper. Separate celery, wash well, chop finely. Peel onions and cut in thin slices. Wash and chop peppers after removing seeds. Put all in preserving kettle and pour over half the vinegar; mix sugar, salt, flour, mustard, cayenne, and turmeric and add remaining vinegar. Combine mixtures, bring to boiling, let simmer 40 minutes, stirring often, and fill in sterile jars and seal.

Pickled Onions

One-half peck small silver skinned onions, ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1 stick cinnamon, 2 teaspoons chopped horseradish, 2 teaspoons whole cloves. Peel the onions. Place in cold brine allowing ¼ cup salt to every quart water and let stand 24 hours. Drain and pack into clean jars which have been sterilized, with thin layers of the seasonings between the layers of onions. Fill the jars with boiling syrup made by cooking vinegar and brown sugar together until dissolved, in the proportion of 1 gallon vinegar to 1 quart brown sugar. Adjust the rubbers and seal.

Pickled Red Cabbage

Four quarts red cabbage, 1 quart white onions, 12 green peppers, salt, 1 cup white mustard seed, 2 cups brown suar, 2 dozen cloves, 3 pints vinegar. Chop onions, cabbage, peppers. Sprinkle with salt (about ½ cup) and let stand overnight. Drain and add remaining ingredients. Can without cooking.

Apple India Chutney

Fifteen medium sized sour apples, 6 sweet green peppers, 2 cups preserved ginger, 2 chili peppers, 3 cups vinegar, 10 bay leaves, 1¼ teaspoons whole allspice, ¼ teaspoon black mustard seed, ¼ teaspoon cloves, 1 lb. brown sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup water. Cut the ginger in small pieces, pare and slice apples thinly, remove the seeds from the peppers and slice them thin. Place spices in cheesecloth bag. Put all ingredients together and boil gently until thick. This is best done in over or on asbestos pad. Remove spice bag. Bottle while hot and seal.

Readers will kindly clip the above recipes or tear out the whole page and file it in their pickle files. In this way we can eliminate some of the repetition of favorite recipes that are so common during the pickling season.

RHEUMATIC VICTIMS

Was there ever a more distressing ailment than Rheumatic aches and pains?

Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, Sciatica—what does it matter what you call them? The root cause is generally the same—Uric Acid in your joints—and the usual cause of Uric Acid is a liver that's out of order. Strike a blow at the cause and begin to enjoy real relief.

Take a glassful of water. Stir a ½ teaspoonful of Fynnon Salt into it and drink before breakfast every day. Soon Rheumatic aches and pains will begin to "let up". They'll become less frequent.

Remedy lies in the combination of Sodium, Potassium and Lithium in Fynnon Salt. These elements are similar to those from Mineral Springs which have brought fame to Spas the world over. But spas cost time and money to visit—Fynnon Salt comes to rheumatic sufferers in their own homes. Start today, get relief from rheumatic pains the Fynnon way. At all druggists', 75c a large bottle. 31

Whitaker's Win By 46 To 37 Over Peterboro

At the Oval on Saturday, through a last minute default by Oshawa, the two local clubs were able to stage a local cricket "derby". The first game on May 24 had resulted in a win for the older club by 48 to 32, but on Saturday Whitaker's reversed the result by taking a low-scoring well-contested game by 46 to 37.

The bowling was always on top and Hamilton for Whitaker's, bowled splendidly, hitting the stump 8 times and only conceding 11 runs, while Lawrence for Peterborough took 6 wickets for 12 runs. Both these players also starred as batsmen. Hamilton with a freely-hit 21, which included a sixer and 3 fours and Lawrence with a strictly defensive innings of 13 single. These batsmen were the only ones on either side to put up any show against some really good bowling.

Peterborough batted first and lost 2 wickets before a run was scored. Lawrence and Dyer put on a dozen but 6 wickets were down for 18, and at 36 Lawrence was 9th out for the only double figure innings of the side, the total being 37.

Whitaker's soon lost 4 wickets for 15 but on Wild joining Hamilton the match was won, the winning stroke being a brilliant cut to the boundary by the latter. Wild was fifth out at 41 and the remaining wickets only added 5 to the total leaving Whitaker's the winners by 9 runs. The Whitaker men gave a fine display of fielding and J. Bell made a great catch in the long field to dismiss Hamilton.

For two successive Saturdays the local cricket clubs have suffered from last minute defaults by prospective opponents. The previous Saturday Toronto West Indians cancelled their match against the P.C.C. by telegram on the morning of the game. This Saturday Whitaker's had a similar experience at the hands of Oshawa. On Monday the local secretary wrote to Oshawa the usual letter as to the game and receiving no answer by Friday eve, phoned to Oshawa and was only then told that they could not play.

In both cases these were the second of home and home games and the local clubs had travelled to Toronto and Oshawa, respectively, to keep their part of the contract.

It did not improve matters to see Oshawa play a "friendly" against Toronto Grace Church on Saturday in Oshawa.

Next Saturday, Sept. 17, Peterborough will definitely play Toc H at the Oval for the last scheduled home match and Whitaker's play Scarboro in Toronto.

Brintons Beat Politicians

The Brinton Athletic made their tenure of league leaders more secure on Saturday afternoon when they defeated the Politicians by the score of three goals to nothing in a league encounter in their final scheduled match. The losers have Deloro to play at the Smelters ground to make their total complete.

An Easy Goal

The C.C.F. defence controlled the issue through their effective defensive tactics which culminated in off sides prevailing against the Brinton right-winger, in the early stages. Denisin, at full back, repulsed the attack time and again with his anticipation or positional play thereby forcing the Carpet boys to shoot outside the goal area. Smart dribbling by Richardson terminated repeatedly in shooting wide of the mark, also he would go right through to find Dyer intercepting his progress to send C.C.F. left wing into dangerous position. Smelt and Land outplayed the full backs to make Adams, Brinton custodian, come out of his citadel to offset the scrimmage in front of goal. After a steady 10-minute period by the Politicians, Jones, Brinton, transferred the play to the other end where Foster, Junior and Richardson worked in close to get an easy goal. The outside right shot the ball across the goal mouth where the custodian misjudged the flight of the ball to find his defense man colliding against him and the ball resting in the net. Thereafter, the C.C.F. carried the play into the vicinity of Adams charge. Combination by Lang, Jones and Smelt being very advantageous until they found themselves in front of the custodian, then they would bang the ball past or miss their objective by inches. The Politicians were pressing at the interval. Brinton Athletic 1, C.C.F. 0.

Exchanges Even

On resuming, the play run from end to end to test the ability of the custodians. First note of interest resulted in Henwood breaking fast on the wing and centering the sphere across the goal. Jobe was well set to score but he struck the ball with the toe of his boot to deflect it skywards. On the next visit, Dyer beat three Brinton men as he travelled towards goal. A nice pass up the centre on a bouncing ball about got past the Brinton goalie who dropped the ball but a C.C.F. foot again diverted it skimming over the bar. Exchanges continued even for a while until a stinging shot got away out of the reach of the Politician goalie. With seven minutes to finish another peculiar fate fell upon the losers. When Curtis, C.C.F. goalie failed to hold the close-in drive from the foot of Tommy Foster, Sr., who turned out for the winners the first time this year after having served so well in the capacity of official referee. Brinton Athletic 3, C.C.F. 0.

Brinton Athletic—H. Adams, goal; A. Downer and E. Jones, full backs; Art Downer, H. Castle and D. Leather, halves; T. Foster, Jr., D. Richardson, G. Downer and T. Foster, Sr., forwards.

C.C.F.—W. Curtis, goal; W. Denisin and Art O'Halloran, full backs; A. Denisin, F. Dyer and F. Mayette, halves; S. Henwood, E. Jobe, J. Jones, Matt. Lang and R. Smelt, forwards.

Bradburn Wins Club Title After Good Game

The club championship final of the Peterborough Golf Club was played off Saturday. H. T. Bradburn against W. A. Elliott. Both these players are left handers and a rare battle over 36 holes resulted in H. T. Bradburn winning by 4 up and 3 to play.

The junior championship was also up for decision between Harlow Cutting and Ron Akers. This was a close battle, Harlow winning out by 1 up.

Saturdays sweepstake of the Peterborough Golf Club was a two class affair, Group A for 20 and under handicap, Group B, 21 and over. In Group A G. H. Ackerman came first with an 84-15—69. R. Abbott copped second with a net 73. While Terry Hall took third place after the tie was broken. In Group B, Henry Toole led his club mates by scoring around to the tune of a 65 net. In second place came C. B. Shaver with a net 67. J. H. Vernor copped third place with one of his best games of the year, netting a 69.

Right Handers Win.

Played here over the week-end the right handers took a close decision over the southpaws to win the H. L. Garner Trophy. The teams consisted of:

The Caddies Tourney

Caddies had their day of days on Saturday when their tournament was played. Fred "Pop" Montgome made it two in a row by winning again this year. His score of 41 was too good for the other boys. Stewart Montgomery came second with a 46. Best net prize went to Oliver "Babe" Allen, his score being 27, 2nd net, Bat Vinnette 30. Other prize winners were: Slaming Sammy Jack Guerin, Don Vyse, F. McCormick, F. Heslip, Tom Spencer, Hugh Heslip, Hugh Blodgett, Leo Grisdale, Don Smith, Jerry Condon, Bob Grisdale.

Fox Threatens Chess Title

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (CP).—The Dominion chess championship went into the final round today with Maurice Fox of Montreal in the lead and threatening to lift the title held for two years by Montreal's Boris Blumin.

Fox needs today's victory, but is looked upon by critics as an almost-certain winner over the low-ranking William Zombory of St. Catharines, Ont. Indications are that the fight for second position will be exceptionally keen.

Fourteen-year-old Abie Yanofsky, turning in three successive victories over former Dominion champions, is hard on the heels of the second-place Harry Belson of Toronto. Belson has 13½ points, while the Winnipeg boy has 13. Each has tough opposition in the final round.

Yanofsky meets S. Kitces, Montreal, while Belson faces a crucial match with Blumin. In his victory spurt in the last three rounds, Yanofsky overcame Blumin, Belson and another ex-champion, R. E. Martin of Toronto.

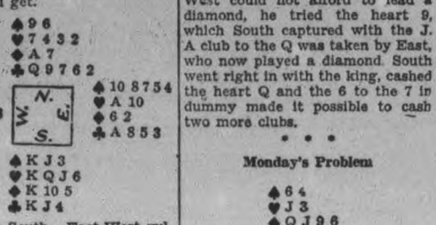
THE COUNTER-ATTACK

GOOD DEFENSE against a No Trump game usually has to take the form of a counter-attack, repeated and repeated each time it is repulsed by one of the declarer's stoppers. You can seldom beat such a contract except by setting up the small cards of some long suit, and you can seldom do that except by keeping at the suit each chance you get.



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

This deal arose in a duplicate tournament and at one table the North-South players made a game at No Trump which they did not deserve. South opened with 1-Heart, and instead of raising hearts, North went to 2-Clubs, South to 2-No Trumps and North to 3-No Trumps.

At other tables the contract was played at either 3-Hearts or 4-Hearts. Perfect defense set the 4-Heart contracts.

Where the No Trump was played West led the diamond Q, which was won with dummy's A. The club 2 was led and taken with the K. This was followed by the J, which East also refused to win. Then came the heart Q, which East won with the A. Then, instead of continuing with his partner's original opening, East switched to a spade. South played low and the Q was forced to win the trick. As West could not afford to lead a diamond, he tried the heart 9, which South captured with the J. A club to the Q was taken by East, who now played a diamond. South went right in with the king, cashed the heart Q and the 6 to the 7 in dummy made it possible to cash two more clubs.

Lakefield Women's Institute Lays Plans For Fair Exhibit

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 12.—"Infantile Paralysis" was the subject of an address given by Mrs. W. G. Hendren, Reg.N., at the regular September meeting of the Lakefield branch of the Women's Institute, which was held at 2.30 p.m. on Wednesday, in the Memorial hall here. "Health and Education" was the theme of the meeting.

There were sixteen members and one visitor present. The president, Mrs. Stanley Higgins, presided and led in the opening ode and the Lord's prayer. The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. White and showed a balance on hand of $22.19.

Letters from Mrs. W. A. Payne and Mrs. C. Foster, expressing their thanks for flowers and fruit sent during illness, were read. Correspondence was received from Miss Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, Peterborough, regarding a tag day to be held by the Institute in aid of the Children's Shelter. On motion of Mrs. Touchburn, seconded by Mrs. S. Pearson, it was decided to hold a tag day for the Children's Aid again this year.

After considerable discussion the meeting decided that the tag day should be held following October meeting when it is expected Miss Young will address the branch.

Donated Scrap Book

Mrs. Howard Bullock donated a scrap book to the Institute Branch and a vote of thanks was extended to her by the society. This scrap book is to be used to record events of importance which occur in the local branch or in this district.

It was moved by Mrs. J. Ridpath that the same committee which was preciously appointed to arrange the list of prizes for the Lakefield Fair, be appointed as a committee to arrange the entries at the Fair; and that they be given the privilege of adding to their number if they see fit.

Before the roll call, the members were asked to stand, and a two minutes silence was observed in memory of one of the members, Miss Mary Adams, who passed on in August.

It was moved by Mesdames S. Pearson and O. Kingdon that a letter of sympathy be sent to the Adams family.

The president, Mrs. S. Higgins, then called on the convenors of the committees on health and education, Mrs. Touchburn and Mrs. A. E. Higgins, to take charge of the meeting. Mrs. Touchburn came forward and took the chair. She called on Mrs. W. G. Hendren, Reg.N., who gave a most instructive talk on the subject, "Infantile Paralysis." Mrs. Hendren explained very clearly the symptoms and treatment of the different stages of the disease, and explained the use of the much talked of "iron lung."

Mrs. A. E. Higgins then gave a short reading entitled "Our Neighbors," after which Mrs. Touchburn read a short article on "Cancer."

It was moved by Mrs. J. W. Ridpath and seconded, that a vote of thanks be extended to Mrs. W. G. Hendren for her splendid address, and to the convenors for their fine program.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

Hastings W.I. Pay Westwood Visit

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WESTWOOD, Sept. 12. — Thirty-five members and guests of St. Andrew's United Women's Missionary Society met in Wesley Hall on Wednesday afternon for the regular monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. E. W. Sargent, took charge of the worship serivce and conducted the business discussion. Mrs. J. Clysdale read the devotional leaflet and Mrs. John Hope led in prayer. A reading, "A Japanese Soldier's Penance," was given by Miss Mary Cameron, and a short poem, "My Day," by Mrs. Aubrey Wood. After the closing hymn of the worship service, the president welcomed the members of Hastings Auxiliary, who were guests for the meeting, and Mrs. A. E. Metcalf of Hastings took the chair for the program. This included a temperance reading by Mrs. German, a beautiful vocal duet by Mesdames Edwards and Faux, and a reading based on the Twenty-Third Psalm, by Mrs. A. Brooks, with musical interludes by Mrs. F. W. Newell, was very much appreciated. A reading by Mrs. Metcalf was followed by the hymn "Blest be the Tie that binds," and Rev. F. W. Newell pronounced the benediction. Refreshments were served by the Westwood ladies and all enjoyed a social time.

"Reich Impregnable" Hitler Tells Nazi Congress

Here is the scene, brought to you by radiophoto from Berlin, of the huge Nazi congress at Nuremberg as Chancellor Adolf Hitler prepared to address 40,000 members of the Labor front and 2,000 girls. Der Fuehrer, though omitting direct mention of Czechoslovakia or the minority crisis there, shouted from the rostrum a defiance of the world and a declaration that the Reich frontiers are impregnable. Labor Service Leader Hierl, LEFT, is greeting Hitler as the latter mounts the speaker's platform in foreground to deliver his harangue.

Maginot Line

This map shows where French and German soldiers are facing each other across the heavily fortified frontier, in a major concentration of troops. France's Maginot line, fully completed, is matched by Germany's Siegfried line, a similar network of underground fortifications which are still being rushed to completion. Full strength of the defensive works or the number of troops they contain remains a closely guarded secret in both nations.

Three Youths Let Off On Tire Stealing

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Sept. 12.—Three Toronto youths faced Magistrate Campbell Friday charged with wilful damage and pleaded guilty. Their ages were fourteen years, and they were arrested on complaints from residents of Pleasant Point that car tires had been punctured and also slashed. The father of one of the boys had already made restitution. The boys were placed on suspended sentence following a severe lecture by the Magistrate.

A large truck used on highway construction, and driven by John Dingwall, was ditched on No. 35 Highway near Powles' Corner, on Thursday. When the truck was rounding a curve, heavily loaded with road material, it apparently went out of control, turning completely over in the ditch. The driver and another man named Jack Quillen suffered extensive cuts and bruises. Damage estimated at $300 was done to the truck.

Traffic Officer Kennedy, of Lindsay, investigated a serious accident on Highway 12 Thursday night when a car, driven by Charles Raper of Toronto, crashed into a buggy occupied by E. Reazin, of Blackwater and Morley Smokum. Mr. Reazin who is an elderly man, was thrown with considerable force against the back of the buggy and sustained serious back injuries. He had previously suffered a broken back some time ago. The buggy was completely wrecked and the horse was severely cut and bruised.

Corp. T. J. Woods arrested a Kinmount man on Thursday with a quantity of alleged illicit spirits in his possession. Accused appeared in court Friday morning and was remanded for a week.

Kinmount Far was held on Thursday and the event attracted a large crowd from the north country. The live stock exhibit was not up to the standard of past years, but in the vegetable, grain and domestic departments the exhibits were doubled. Horse races and ball games were on the day's program with a boxing match for the evening performance.

Underground Boundary In Europe

One of the strangest of all boundary lines, and one which is very much in the news in these days of international tension is the underground line that divides Hungary from Czechoslovakia. The Aggtelek caverns extend into both countries, far beneath the ground here, and are a popular point of interest to tourists. With the unsettled conditions existing in Europe, an iron gate at the boundary line separates one country from another, as shown in this picture. This scene is on the Hungarian side of the line.

British Big 4 Stiffen Their Stand

Defence Staff Chiefs Meet Premier As Outlook Darkens

LONDON, Sept. 13 (C.P. Cable).—A stiffening attitude on the part of the British Government was seen to-night, 24 hours after Chancellor Hitler's speech on the Czech crisis and after its line-by-line examination in Whitehall and Downing Street.

After the "Big Four" Defence Ministers of the Chamberlain Government and Foreign Office experts had given the speech careful consideration, these reactions appeared:

1—It would be morally unjustifiable to break off negotiations with Prague for a peaceful solution of the Czech-Sudeten problems.

2—It would be impossible for Germany to suppose that Great Britain could stand aside if the integrity of France were menaced.

3—Events in Czechoslovakia today, including a series of riots and killings, added extreme gravity to the already critical situation.

It is realized here that Hitler's speech banged no doors—perhaps the door to an amicable settlement was left ajar since it would be possible for negotiations under Viscount Runciman to continue.

On the other hand the speech did nothing to provide solutions, nor did it contain concrete specific suggestion on how a settlement may be reached. Therefore, from that angle, the speech did little to remove the menace facing Europe and the world.

Cabinet Called.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(CP Cable)—Prime Minister Chamberlain has called a session of the full cabinet for tomorrow morning to consider Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg addresson the Czech situation.

The Prime Minister, it also was announced today, has turned down the request of the Labor party that parliament be summoned before its regular date for convening to consider international affairs.

Mr. Chamberlain, in a letter to Clement Attlee, leader of the opposition, stated:

"We appreciate the reasons which have led you to make this request (summon parliament) but our conclusion is that it would not be opportune to call parliament together at this time. You may, however, rest assured that I will not fail to bear the request in mind should circumstances arise which in the judgment of my colleagues and myself might render it desirable to recall parliament before the due date (November 1).

Absorbing Of Sudetens Is Inevitable

By Louis Lochner
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

NUREMBERG, Sept. 13 (AP). — German Nazis looked beyond Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg address today and saw only one, inevitable end—the German absorption of 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia.

The Chancellor, as Nazis summarized his speech, stood firm against British and French pressure with a promise of aid when needed by the Sudeten Germans; he left the way open for peaceful settlement by admonishing the Prague Government to negotiate an understanding with the Sudetens.

Hitler did not in specific words say that armed force would be used to assure the right of "self determination" to the Sudetens; but he announced the building of great new fortifications on the French frontier.

The Chancellor enunciated his policy, without narrating specific details of future action, in four portions of his 78-minute address closing the 10th annual Nazi Party rally yesterday.

He said:

"What Germans demand is the right of self-determination which every other people possesses, and no phrases."

"I assure the democracies that the

Rome Advises Czechs To Bow Down

Says Giving Sudetens Right To Secede Is Way Of Justice

ROME, Sept. 13 (AP).—A bulletin issued through a government department today urged Czechoslovakia to give Sudeten Germans the right of determining their own destiny as a means of avoiding "disorder and war."

The bulletin, information diplomatica, given out by the minister of popular culture, declared the world does not want a war designed to maintain "the lordship of Prague over the Sudetens."

It added that "giving the Sudetens the possibility of separating from Prague" would be "choosing the way of justice and above all the way to peace."

The authoritative Fascist editor, Virginio Gayda, who often reflects Premier Mussolini's views, said today that Prague now holds the key to Europe's "grave crisis" and advised the Czechoslovak government to grant Germany's demands.

Puts Blame on France

He described Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg speech as "a timely warning to all agents of adventure," whom he blamed for the "artificial atmosphere of war" spreading around Czechoslovakia.

This atmosphere, he said, was caused by an idea in France of a "preventative war" against Germany, counting on her supposed unreadiness; hence the "timeliness" of Hitler's reference to Germany's armed forces.

Gayda, writing in the newspaper Il Giornale D'Italia, noted Hitler's reference to what Gayda called the "spiritual and political solidarity" between Germany and Italy.

"At this tormented time in Europe," he said, "the union of two great nations as neighbors in boundaries and hearts is a certain clarifying and admonishing force."

Little Optimism.

PARIS, Sept. 13 (CP-Havas). — French press reaction today to Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg speech was calm, but optimism was excluded.

"An immediate crisis has been avoided and a military invasion of Czechoslovakia seems to have been escaped," Leon Blum wrote in the Socialist newspaper Le Populaire. "Chancellor Hitler will now attempt infiltration and decomposition from within."

"A certain prudence and policy of delay won the day at Nuremberg," said the Petit-Parisian (Independent). "The German eagle has

Paris Bolsters Her Air Defences, Iron Cotton Exports Banned, Civilians Begin Leaving Border

By Taylor Henry
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP).—A ban on the exportation of iron, cotton and other products valuable for national defence was invoked as an emergency measure today by the French Government.

The step was taken in view of the continuing tense international situation as the Cabinet met with President Albert Lebrun to discuss necessary military and other measures to tighten French defences.

All permits for the exportation of the banned products were cancelled promptly. Customs posts were ordered to hold up such shipments. The list includes iron, iron and steel scrap, cotton, cotton by-products, wool, hides, silk in cocoons, linen, hemp, jute and sisal.

Border preparations were accelerated. Troop movements continued in the first defence lines. Reserve units continued arriving.

At Nancy, only 20 minutes' flight from the nearest German airdrome, machine-guns were placed on high structures. Squadrons of pursuit and fighting planes were stationed at various frontier points to be ready for any attacking fleet.

During the night rubber-tired trucks loaded with men and military equipment rolled quietly along the great boulevards of Paris. The government was reported strengthening the capital's anti-aircraft defences. Premier Edouard Daladier conferred late yesterday with General Gaston Billotte, military governor of Paris.

Think Hitler Means Business

French official circles considered Chancellor Hitler's address yesterday as "menacing." The most disquieting portion was considered by the French to be his pledge to obtain their "rights" for them if the Sudeten Germans asked him to come to their aid.

Violence between Sudetens and Czechs appeared to the French as most likely to provide an excuse for Hitler to redeem his promise.

With Hitler's implied time limit for finishing border fortifications—"the beginning of winter"—not far away, the French speeded up their military preparations. Additional troops were reported from Strasbourg to have swelled to 400,000 the number in the Maginot line.

Civilian families are beginning already to leave the border region. More than 1,000 "refugees" left Strasbourg alone yesterday by train and highway.

Spiked Tractor Driven Three Miles Over New Paved Road

Goderich, Sept. 13

A most disgusted man in this town was T. Patterson, County Road Engineer, after he learned that a heavy spike-wheeled tractor had driven over three miles of freshly laid bituminous or asphalt roadway between Varna and Bayfield.

Mr. Patterson said he was more heartsick than angry after looking over the damaged highway.

"Of course, we will have to prosecute," said Mr. Patterson. "We can't have this sort of thing going on. The road will have to be rescarified and rerolled. The man was warned several times to desist, but continued making trips."

Hunt Girl Teacher Missing For 2 Days

CHATHAM, Ont., Sept. 13.—(CP). —Provincial police officers here stated to-day that as far as they know no trace has been found of Ethel Wilkinson, 18-year-old Ridgetown school teacher, missing from her home since Monday morning.

"All we know is that she is reported as missing," said the officer on duty at the provincial police headquarters.

Miss Wilkinson failed to report for duty at Reeders school about two miles from Ridgetown, Monday morning. Searching parties combed the district between Blenheim and Ridgetown all day yesterday and last night: The search is continuing to-day.

Sudeten Deal All Off Say Leaders

Prague's Martial Law "Provocation" Nazi Heads Protest

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A Nazi spokesman today called the action of Czechoslovakia in imposing martial law on eight Sudeten German communities an "outright provocation."

Nazis generally expressed bitterness over developments in Sudeten areas following last night's speech by Chancellor Hitler at Nuremberg pledging aid to the Sudetens.

They took the position that the clamping on of martial law and the death of three persons—said here to be all Sudetens—in demonstrations after the Hitler speech constituted Czechoslovakia's "answer to Hitler."

Der Angriff, organ of propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels, declared, "the cup is full!"

The newspaper Nachtausgabe, referring heatedly to the latest events, demanded "immediate and complete freedom of the Sudetens from their Czech enemies with completely free opportunity to decide their own destiny."

Negotiations At An End?

Sudeten German leaders declared tonight that all negotiations with the Czechoslovak government for settlement of their bitter dispute had been broken off.

"There has been no formal notice that discussions have ceased, but there can be no conversations in this atmosphere," said Oscar Ullrich, the party's propaganda chief.

"Our committee does not intend to approach the government again.

"It is impossible to talk reasonably with people who argue with bullets."

Man Dies, Girl Hurt As Car Rolls Over

HAMILTON, Sept. 13.— (CP). — Harold Gage, 26, of Bartonville, brother of George Gage, former chairman of the Hamilton Board of Education, was killed and his companion, Miss Evelyn Green, 24, suffered severe injuries early today when their car was wrecked near Stoney Creek.

Investigation has not disclosed what caused the accident, W. I. Moore, district inspector of provincial police, reported. But conditions at the scene indicated the car had gone out of control and rolled over several times on the pavement.

Mr. Gage suffered skull injuries and extreme shock and died an hour after he was admitted to the General Hospital. Miss Green suffered a severe scalp laceration. Her condition was reported favorable.

Industrial Spy Probe Asked By Labor

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 13 (CP).—Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today voted to urge the Dominion government "to initiate a widespread investigation into industrial espionage in Canada." It adopted a Hamilton steel worker's resolution which said industrial espionage had become widespread. Northern Ontario miners were battling one of the biggest systems of espionage, said Mike Mokray of Kirkland Lake, organizer for the mine, mill and smelter workers.

"Hundreds of workmen had sacrificed their jobs," he said. "The mining industry has instituted one of the most vicious espionage systems in any industry. It has spent thousands of dollars to organize spies who trail miners to their homes."

Later, Mokray charged, "officials occupying government positions are actually leaders in espionage systems." He did not specify what government he meant.

J. R. Pattison of Fort William declared it was "common knowledge" that men could hardly attend union meetings in the north.

Martial Law Must Go Czechs Told

6000 Sudetens Aid 500 To Jump Border; Runciman Moves

PRAGUE, Sept. 13 (AP). — The Sudeten German Party presented an ultimatum to the Czechoslovak Government at 7.30 p.m. tonight demanding that the martial law and extraordinary police measures imposed on Sudeten communities be revoked within six hours.

The party in a memorandum to the government stated that if martial law continued it could not "be responsible for developments."

The Sudeten demand came as a climax of a day which saw emergency measures imposed on eight Sudeten communities following disorders in which at least eight persons were killed.

PRAGUE, Sept. 13 (CP-Havas).—Six thousand Sudeten Germans today cowed Czechoslovak border guards and tore down the frontier barriers at Varnsdorf, in extreme Northern Czechoslovakia. Five hundred of their number then crossed into Germany, where the barriers were already down in anticipation of their entry.

PRAGUE, Sept. 13 (CP-Havas).—The entire staff of the Runciman mission tonight moved into the British Legation, abandoning their headquarters at the Hotel Alcron and taking all their baggage with them.

PRAGUE, Sept. 13 — (AP). — Czechoslovakia was swept today by a wave of disorders which caused eight deaths and resulted in the Government imposing martial law in eight Sudeten German districts.

Most of the disturbances occurred during the night and in the early

Probe Woman's Death At Nursing Home

TORONTO, Sept. 13. — On instructions of Attorney-General Gordon Conant, Dr. Smirle Lawson, supervising coroner for Ontario, will conduct an inquest into the death of Mrs. Thomas Gilruth, 60, of Elmsdale, who died on Sunday in the Rene Caisse Nursing Home at Bracebridge.

Dr. Edgar Frankish, pathologist, performed a post-mortem at Bracebridge on Monday afternoon, and his findings will be submitted at the inquest which is scheduled for next Thursday at Bracebridge. It is due to open at 8 p.m.

Miss Caisse, who became Mrs. Charles S. McGaughey in a quiet ceremony at Peterborough last July 28, said that Mrs. Gilruth should never have been brought to her hospital, as she was in an advanced stage of a fatal disease.

"She was not in my hospital more than 15 minutes before she was stricken with a heart attack and died," said Miss Caisse, who intends to continue her work under her maiden name. "In that time I gave her the essiac treatment which I had previously given to about 50 of my patients. Nothing that I did contributed in any way to her death. It was most unfortunate, but could not be helped."

An inquest jury was impaneled at Bracebridge on Monday night and after preliminaries, the inquest was adjourned until Thursday night.

The marriage of Miss Caisse to Charles McGaughey, North Bay barrister, was not known beyond a circle of friends.

Sharp Decline On Markets

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—(C. P.). — An early advance, inspired by hopes for peace in Central Europe, gave place to a sharp decline on the Toronto Exchange this afternoon. The drop was the most rapid in the final hour, carrying nearly all the medium-price golds to new low for the current movement. Losses of 1 to 2 points or more were boarded by the senior mining issues, both golds and base metals. The industrial list was slower but weak and the western oils showed only moderate declines. Trading speeded up on the decline, bringing the day's turnover to around 600,00 shares.

On Wall Street.

The Wall Street Market had difficulty finding its bearings today in a confusing array of news from Europe and at home and quickly reversed itself after a forward start in early dealings.

Near the final hour, moderate gains and losses ruled. Traders were alert to take profits as leading shares in the forenoon approached the highs of the preceding rally. The early buying matched other indications that world financial centres breathed somewhat easier after overnight study of Nazi leader Hitler's Nuremberg speech, leaving the question of war or peace much as it was before.

Transactions ran at the rate of about 900,00 shares.

See Fliers, Munitions, Food Dominions' Share In War

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 13—(CP). —Should the Empire be at war the contributions of the Dominions to a European struggle would be limited to aviators, equipment, munitions and food, one authority said in discussion of foreign policy and defence at the British Commonwealth conference to-day. The conference is being held behind closed doors.

The authority declared Britain does not expect to send an expeditionary force to Europe in the event of war. It would depend upon the Royal Air Force and the Navy.

It was suggested that the Dominions should be responsible for their own defence and should in time extend this responsibility to neighboring areas. Under this set-up Canada would assist in protecting commerce on the Atlantic and Pacific near her shores and would form a cooperating link with the United States for the defence of North America and for the supply of munitions to the United Kingdom.

Australia and New Zealand would protect the South Pacific area and lend assistance at Singapore. India would help with the Indian ocean and Persian Gulf areas and South Africa would advise and assist with Africa. The United Kingdom would be specially responsible for Europe and for the Navy.

PARIS.—The French Government decided tonight to ban all outdoor street meetings and demonstrations staged in connection with the international situation. A meeting organized for tomorrow by extreme Leftist groups immediately fell under the ban.

TORONTO. — Premier Mitchell Hepburn said to-day decision would have to be made soon whether to abandon or rehabilitate the Cochrane-to-Moosonee extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. "If the line is to be continued, it will call for the expenditure of $750,000 on ties alone within the next few years," he said.

Police Ban Hitler's Picture In All Kitchener Clubs

KITCHENER, Ont., Sept. 13. — (C. P.). —Orders to remove pictures of Hitler and Swastika flags were issued last night by Chief Constable William Hodgson following a tour of Kitchener German clubs, it was learned today.

"And I'm going back tonight to see the order has been carried out," the chief said in admitting the order had been given.

As far as could be learned today, the Nazi symbols were found in only one club room. There, a large picture of Hitler adorned the wall, and from it led Swastika streamers.

It is understood the chief consulted Mayor George W. Gordon and Crown Attorney W. P. Clement before making his round last night.

His visit came as an aftermath to a labor day re-union of Ontario, German-Canadians during which Hitler was heiled and Nazi flags flaunter at public meetings.

Local ex-service men, business men and board of trade executives have protested strongly against a possible recurrence of such a demonstration.

On Feb. 13, 1937, night of the Falls Department Store fire, someone got away with a quantity of clothing from Blume's Shop, a few doors away in the confusion. A year later, on Feb. 13, 1938, thieves broke into the store and took $650 worth of men's wear.

Pipe Smoker Since 8 Lumberman Dies 105

SAINTFIELD, Ont., Sept. 13.—(C. P.).—Richard Connors, a pipe smoker since he was eight, died on Monday in his 105th year at his home in this Ontario county.

One of the Province's oldest residents, Mr. Connors spent most of his early life in lumber camps, river driving and farming. In his youth wolves roamed the district and he recounted many stories of wolves who had killed men.

His big regret in life was that he never learned to read. He always had his pipe with him and to those who attempted to check his smoking habits, he said: "I've attended the funerals of many men who didn't smoke."

Newest U.S. Army Gun Able To Wipe Out Whole Enemy Tank Offensive

Washington, Sept. 13

GENERAL Malin Craig, United States army chief of staff, said today the army has developed new anti-tank guns, which would wipe out an enemy tank offensive.

General Craig said he believed the United States gun, a 37-millimeter mobile unit, was unequalled in the world. With an extremely high muzzle velocity, it was an overwhelming fire power at long range.

General Craig authorized the army and navy register to announce that experiments have reached the point where production will be started soon. Experiments are continuing, he added, with a smaller weapon powerful enough to pierce tank armor and better for use at close quarters.

Labor Demands Boycott On Aggressors

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 13 (CP)—Foreign policy of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was on record today as the organization's 54th annual convention prepared to tackle a list of miscellaneous resolutions on various phases of labor matters. There was no indication the congress would take up the vexing question of internal unity at today's sessions.

The convention voted to call on trade unionists "to take the lead in organizing the Canadian people in an intensified boycott against all goods from aggressor nations such as Japan, Italy and Germany."

Adopted after one sided debate in which speakers either wanted more teeth in the resolution or thought it was a little too strong, the boycott resolution called for an embargo on arms shipments to aggressors, expressed sympathy with war-torn Spain and China and condemned bombing of civilian populations.

Prior ot the vote, the convention voted down an amendment by John Conton of Toronto who sought

Toronto, Windsor Men Held For Bank Job

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 13—(CP)—Police said today one Toronto and one Windsor man had been identified as bandits who held up an imperial bank branch here Wednesday and escaped with $1,800. Charges will be laid later against the suspects who had been picked up and booked for investigation.

J. B. Duncan, assistant manager of the branch bank, and Russel Tozer, teller, identified one of the men from a lineup as the bandit who forced them to lie on the floor at the point of a revolver, then scooped the money from the teller's cage into a lunch pail he carried, police said.

Tozer also identified the other man as the person who 10 minutes before the robbery entered the bank and changed a $5 United States bill. The money changer acted as a lookout during the holdup, the teller told police.

The suspects were taken into custody by detectives who surrounded a store operated by one of the two men held. The proprietor was behind the counter and the other alleged bandit was found in the basement.

Good Advice About Constipation!

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with any ailment is to get at its cause. If you're constipated, don't fiddle with makeshift remedies. Find out what's giving you the trouble!

Chances are you won't have to look very far, if you eat just the things most people do. Most likely, you don't get enough "bulk"! And "bulk" doesn't mean just a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the intestinal tonic, vitamin B1.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars"! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Plumbing Inspector Claims To Be King's Representative

Weston, Sept. 13.

MEMBERS of Weston Town Council looked in amazement at one another Monday when George Keyes, local plumbing inspector, declared during an argument with Councillor Foster Rowntree, that the Council had no jurisdiction over him.

"Although my appointment was made by Council, I am directly responsible to Dr. W. E. Henry, the Medical Health Officer," he said "I am a representative of the King," he added. His status was referred to the Legislative Committee, and he was told to appear before Council when the committee report was ready."

Tribute Is Paid James McClenaghan

Appreciative reference was made by President James Dutton at Monday's luncheon of the Peterborough Rotary Club to the services that had been rendered by James McClenaghan as director of the Rotary Boys' Camp and to the club generally. The tribute was paid to Rotarian McClenaghan as the president congratulated him upon his appointment as physical director of the new Y.M.C.A. at St. Catharines.

President Dutton also called attention to the tag day on behalf of the Children's Aid Society on Saturday and suggested a larger Rotary contribution in view of the improvement that had been affected in the work of the organization

Rotarian Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, president of the Society pointed out that a change had come over the activities of the local branch of the Children's Aid and now the preventive side was being strongly stressed. Expenses had increased as a result, he said. It was decided to leave the matter of the club's contribution to the directors.

Gordon Munro was in charge of the program and he had provided a very unusual film produced by the Johns-Manville Corporation on "Heat and its Control", telling in picture form the dramatic story of man's age-old struggle to control nature's most powerful force. This picture, based on a wealth of material gathered together during many years of Johns-Manville engineers, research scientists and others, proved a revelation in the information it gave on the subject of heat conservation and on the infinite pains taken in the preparation and testing of the materials used for this purpose. It was stressed that there were three methods of heat transfer, by radiation, by conduction, by conviction, and the means taken to deal with all three in the matter of heat conservation was very effectively illustrated by the film which was a talking picture with a musical accompaniment.

Percy Williams and C. A. Hulse of the Johns-Manville Corporation were present to present the film and they along with Rotarian Munro were thanked when Rotarian Ian McRae moved a vote of appreciation at the conclusion of the showing.

Among the guests was former president Art Runions who was welcomed by President Dutton.

Martial Law

morning before martial law was ordered, the most serious being at Aussig, Graslitz and Kaaden, all Sudeten centres.

The dead included four Sudetens, a Czech soldier, two policemen and a Czech civilian.

Wide spread minor disturbances resulted in a number of persons being injured. Instances of Sudetens attacking public buildings and crossing the frontier into Germany added to the worries of the Government.

Military rule was applied to Falkenau, Boehmisch, Kermau, Karlovy Vary, Elbogen, Eger, Neudeck, Pressnitz and Kaaden, all Sudeten centres.

A responsible government source said the Government would extend martial law to all other Sudeten areas and throughout the entire republic if necessary to preserve order.

Tanks Ordered Out.

Tanks from a nearby garrison rumbled through the streets of Eger, less tan 10 miles from the German border, where frenzied celebrations took place following Chancellor Hitle's Nuremberg speech. The Sudetens in Eger and other towns in the border areas acclaimed yesterday as "the Sudetens' day of joy."

Shops were closed and work abandoned in the Sudeten areas. Celebrations reached their climax in the raising of a large Swastika, display of which is illegal, on the Eger city hall flagpole.

Until the tanks came joyful Germans cheered, paraded and sang folk songs in Inns. "The day of deliverance is at hand," was heard on all sides.

In Prague authorities expressed growing concern over the turbulence in the border areas. Premier Milan Hodza and President Eduard Benes kept in close touch with the situation.

Several members of the Sudeten German party negotiation committee went to Eger to investigate the situation. Hence it appeared there would be no renewal in Prague of the Sudeten negotiations with the government.

While the government's action was described as martial law, officials made it clear troops would not step in unless police and civil authorities were unable to maintain order. It also was made clear that persons arrested would be tried in civil rather than military courts.

Death For Rioters.

The death penalty for disturbers of the peace was ordered and emergency civil court machinery was being set up in Sudeten communities under martial law. The army was ordered to protect the extraordinary courts.

Civil rights were strictly limited. Parades were forbidden and freedom of speech was limited.

Under the emergency laws, a commission of four judges would have power to impose the death penalty for disturbance of the peace. A unanimous decision by the commission would make hanging mandatory within two hours after sentence was pronounced.

Persons condemned to death for political disturbances were entitled to appeal to the president for clemency, but there was to be no extension of the two-hour period before execution.

The commission of judges was to move from town to town accompanied by a priest, doctor and executioner.

The Government order was broadcast at noon through loud-speakers in the streets of many cities.

A report was circulated that the Sudeten leader, Konrad Henlein, had gone to Eger and would later come to Prague, probably tomorrow, to see President Eduard Benes. The report was not confirmed immediately.

Trouble Just Starting.

The belief was widely held here today that "while there is no war now, the trouble is just beginning."

It appeared certain that Czechoslovakia intended to keep herself ready for any eventuality, and that troops would remain indefinitely along the German frontier.

Government officials and much of the country appeared relieved that Chancellor Hitler failed specifically to demand a plebiscite to determine the wishes of the Sudeten Germans.

Hope was pinned to the possibility of finding a workable basis for negotiations and to further reports of Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in the dispute.

There was resentment that Hitler, before the annual Nazi party convention in Nuremberg yesterday, referred to Cezchoslovakia as an "abnormal structure" and charged it abused and assaulted its German minority.

A Government communique said that "shots were fired from a (Sudeten) German group and regrettably answered by Czechs" at Schoenprissen, where two groups met in a street.

Helmuth, an 19-year-old member of the Sudeten party, was killed. A stray bullet killed a Czech locksmith, Rudolf Bacha, who was closing a window of his house nearby.

Although official reports mentioned a third fatality no details were given.

An Arab's View.

JERUSALEM, Sept. 13 (AP). — Chancellor Hitler's references to palestine in his Nuremberg speech drew this comment today from an Arab spokesman: "Now we are not without friends in Europe. Our ultimate success as a nation lies in the hands of Hitler and Mussolini and not in Britain and France."

Hitler's assertion was that the "poor Arabs are defenceless and left in the lurch."

The Fleet Goes Out.

Order Check Up

The British government ordered Major R. Sutton-Pratt, official observer attached to the Prague legation to Eger and Karlovy Vary to investigate rioting there. It is Major Sutton-Pratts duty to inform the British government of the real facts to offset the German and Czech versions.

Viscount Halifax foreign secretary, was present at the meeting between Mr. Chamberlain and the opposition leaders.

It is believed in many quarters here that Hitler's ultimate objective may be to create enough incidents in Czechoslovakia to convince the world he must intervene with troops to maintain order. In that eventuality he could tell the world he is not fighting the Czech government but protecting Sudetens and that the Czech alliances with France and Russia should not be operative.

Prices sagged about two cents at mid-session, due to southern selling and profit-taking, but moderate expert buying and some nervous short covering caused a reversal in price trend.

A general belief prevailed in the wheat pit the European tension was somewhat easier.

Canadian export sales were difficult to trace with some sources estimating transactions to reach about 500,000 bushels.

Country marketings in Western Canada yesterday totalled 1,815,000 bushels against 1,977,000 bushels a year ago.

Coarse grain moved narrowly.

The In-Law Problem Is Always Complex When The Home Has To Be Shared Universally, So It Is Up To Each To Do His Best To Make Life Pleasant

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married three years. My husband is the ideal husband-lover and we are as devoted as we were on the day we married, and we have a splendid baby. The only spot in my clear blue sky of happiness is that we have to live with my husband's mother. Not that she isn't all right, but I want a home of my own. I knew the situation before I married. My mother-in-law is alone in the world except for her son, and before we were married he asked me if I would live with her, and of course I said "yes." But now I am unhappy and discontented just because I want to set up my own home. Please help me. BETH.

ANSWER:

I have said a thousand times in this column, and shall probably say a thousand times more, that I think it is always a mistake for mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law to live together, no matter what sort of female angels they may be.

Because if you eliminate the almost inevitable jealousy there is between two women who love the same man and whom both of them feel that they have authority to run, and the irresistible temptation they have to interfere in each other's affairs, you still have the fact that you are depriving one or the other of the women of the fun of bossing her own home.

If the mother-in-law goes to live with her daughter-in-law she finds her occupation gone and she has nothing to do with the hands that are idle for the first time since she was married. She is like an old general who is suddenly relieved of his command and retired, her authority gone, her experience set at naught, her advice sniffed at, and she is of all women the most miserable.

And if the young woman goes to live with her mother-in-law she is deprived of the thing she really married for: Her own home in which she can do as she pleases. Ever since she could walk she played keeping house and dreamed of the time when she would have her own home and could use her best china every day and have the color wallpaper that she liked. When she has to live in some other woman's house and put up with her taste and cooking, she feels as if her Castle in Spain had been bombed.

So there we are on the housekeeping proposition. It is no crime, but a virtue, for every young woman to want to set up her own Lares and Penates, but Beth, a bargain is a bargain and a contract is binding, and there is honor even among young wives.

So if you promised your husband before marriage that you would live with his mother, it is up to you to do it, and do it graciously without whining or complaining, or acting like an early Christian martyr.

Happiness and contentment are a state of mind, and you can acquire them if you are determined to do so. Quit pitying yourself. Quit thinking about how much you would like to have a home of your own and just make yourself satisfied where you are. And, believe me, you will find a good, reliable mother-in-law mighty handy to have around the house when you want to go to the movies and step out of an evening.

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband gets mad at me and stays mad three or four weeks at a time, each time threatening to leave me. When he is mad he takes his meals downtown. We have been married twelve years and this happens every few months. Can you help me? MRS. R. X.

ANSWER:

Sure I can help you. Quit worrying over your husband's "mad" spells and regard his tantrums as a sort of holiday. When he is eating downtown let up on your cooking and take things easily.

He is acting like a spoiled child, and the more you notice him and the more he thinks he can worry you, the more he will do it. If you had enough sense of humor to laugh at him, you could break him of these silly outbursts. Haven't you some friend or relative that you could go off and visit when he gets "mad?"

Tell him that as he isn't going to eat at home, it is the psychological moment to visit Aunt Sally or Cousin Sue, and that when he gets ready to come home to send you a wire and you will return. That will hold him for a while.

DEAR MISS DIX—We are two modern girls. We believe in petting parties, mugging, drinking, smoking—everything that the up-to-date flapper does. We have plenty of beaux, but among them all we cannot find any man who comes up to our ideal or whom we consider worthy of our love. Why is this? MAY AND SUE.

ANSWER:

I should say that there is a very simple explanation to your problem. It is this: That no worthwhile man wants to marry a girl who pets and smokes and drinks. You can't imagine Sir Galahad being allured by a cheap little sport, can you? Nor can you think of any good reason why a clean-living man, who has fastidious ideals of feminine purity, would desire to kiss a girl whose lips had been a free-lunch counter to every Tom, Dick and Harry and who had been pawed over by every drug-store sheik who took her to the movies.

Nor can you fancy any serious-minded man, the sort of man who marries for keeps and who intends to honor, love and cherish his wife, deliberately picking out for a wife and the mother of his children an alcoholic whom he had seen disgustingly drunk. Nor would the fact that she was a cigarette fiend particularly commend her to him.

For the men who have real stamina; the men who have brains and heart and high purposes; the men who are going to be the big men ten and twenty years from now, have also their ideas of what they want in a wife, and the qualities they look for are not the ability to drink hooch and smoke like a furnace and to have done away with all maidenly reserve. They want their peaches still with the down on them, not the bruised fruit that has been too much manhandled.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half the creeds."
—Tennyson.

"Who never doubted, never half believed,
Where doubt, there truth is,—'tis her shadow." —Bailey.

Dear Friends:

All down through the ages Thomas, because he doubted that our Lord had risen has been held in deep contempt, scorned, derided. But did you ever think of the debt of gratitude we owe him?

Had he not shown this doubt, many of us would have thought the disciples were fooling themselves, that they had wished so much to believe our Lord would rise in three days as he told them, that their imagination got the better of them.

We would have wondered why they were so sure. Unless for Lazarus, whom our Lord had raised from the dead, none other had done so, and now that He was crucified, none other had that power to make them rise.

With them He was a man, eating with them, sleeping with them, getting weary as they did, hungry and tired. They recognized His superiority that He was different, that He could perform miracles. They expected a Messiah, but they never expected Him to mingle with the common folk, nor to choose fishermen and such like for His disciples, in fact everything was contrary to their expectations.

Did you ever feel that God was using you for some purpose? Then you began to wonder if you were getting swell-headed, you remembered all your faults and failings, and you felt sure you were not nearly good enough for that purpose.

So also must these men have felt whom He had chosen as His followers to work with Him and after Him. They must have thought that when He could perform such miracles as they had seen, somehow He would get out of this shameful death by just such a miracle.

Although He had chosen them, remember they were working men just as you and I, not studious men, nor learned, but men who earned a hard living from the sea. Luke was a physician, but we learn nothing of his methods of surgery and such.

While He lived, they were of the elect, close to the Master, looked on with envy by those on the outside. And suddenly all this was taken away from them, they were bewildered, their human minds could not compass the enormity of this awful thing.

Their Leader was gone, their faith low, they were despised where once they had been respected. And then He rose again and showed Himself first to a woman. A woman bore Him and Mothered Him, and a woman was the first to see Him when He arose. He did not leave them out.

And so we come to Thomas. All the rest had seen Him, but Thomas was sad and discouraged, disillusioned, and his mind went in circles as to why his Lord had let these men do these things to Him.

So he said that unless he saw the prints of the nails in His hands and feet, and could touch the wound in His side, he would not believe. So, for all time, for you and me and all the world besides, our Lord showed Himself to Thomas as He was when crucified.

And Thomas said these wonderful words "My Lord and my God." So also do we, after long travail when we think our prayers are going unheard, when we doubt and wonder if there is truly a God Who is interested in us, then suddenly our eyes are opened and our doubts dissolve. Our eyes have not seen Him, but our spirit has, and we know for sure He lives and hears, and answers. Yes Thomas did a wonderful thing for us when he asked to be shown, yet each must find God for themselves, through doubt, and tears, and heartbreak saying with him "My Lord and my God." More later.

Central H. & S. Hold First Fall Meeting

The Central Home and School Association held its first monthly meeting of the fall season Monday evening in the kindergarten room of the school.

The president, Mrs. J. H. Quirt, was in the chair, and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. L. Callendar, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. L. Raper.

The attendance picture went to Mr. Jack Nicholl's room. Owing to the resignation of two of the officers, Mrs. H. Mason was chosen to fill the post of first vice-president, and Mrs. B. Fowler, to act as program convenor.

Reports of committees were briefly given by the various convenors. Mrs. G. Metcalfe, membership convenor, reported that the list was steadily growing. Mrs. Hempstead has had no calls as yet to visit the sick; Mrs. A. Delahaye carried out her duties as telephone convenor.

Two of the teachers, Mr. D. G. Munro and Mr. J. Nicholls, addressed the meeting regarding the forming of a study group, and it was decided to form a group at the next regular meeting, which will be held on Monday, October 3.

Arrangements for the presentation of entrance certificates were left in the hands of a committee. An afternoon tea will be held in the school on Friday, September 30.

During the evening Miss John Reid gave a delightful reading which was heartily applauded.

Before closing the meeting with the National Anthem, Mrs. Quirt invited the gathering to remain for tea, which was prepared and served by Mrs. Honor and Mrs. Payne, the refreshments convenors and their assistants.

Autumn W.M.S. Executive Meets

The autumn executive of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch of the United Church of Canada was held at the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby with eighteen in attendance. The president, Mrs. R. O. Jolliffe presided, and plans were made for the branch meeting to be held next April in Lindsay. The delegation to the school for leaders numbered one hundred and thirty and the Dean, Mrs. W. L. Smyth, Pembroke, conducted morning worship on the theme "Modern Discipleship." Rev. Lydia E. Gruchy, B.A., Toronto, the first woman to be ordained in the United church, gave a series of lectures on worship.

Each day special classes on "Our study books and how to use them" were taught by Mrs. C. R. Carscallen, Mrs. R. G. Dongman and Miss Lois Allen.

Miss Jessie Murray gave an illustrated lecture on "Our work across Canada," and Dr. C. R. Carscallen a lecture on activities at the college.

Miss Minnie Shipley Honan gave an address on "Our fiftieth anniversary in Honan," and several lectures on "Why missions."

Mrs. E. D. Eddy spoke on the Baby Band department, Mrs. R. M. Seymour was in charge of fun night, and book reviews were given by Mrs. Carscallen.

Mrs. C. D. McLellan conducted an evening of missionary education through dramatization when three pageants were presented.

Those who attended the fifth annual school for leaders in connection with the Conference Branch were especially pleased to meet Miss Luella Rorke Port Hope, home on furlough from Japan, and our scholarship student, Tomiko Iyakawa of Japan, who wil spend two years at the United church training school.

Hitler Gained Much

Hitler has made his much-anticipated speech and the troops are not marching as a result. Tension was high the world over and it is not possible to say it was not. It has been that way for weeks; one sees evidence of it in business, in market reports, in conversation and in addresses which men make at various sorts of gatherings.

W. Rupert Davies, editor of the Kingston Whig-Standard, who has just returned from England, says the feeling is that the issue of peace and war hangs on what he terms the "whim" of one man — Hitler. And it was and is all centred on what this one man intends to do with Czechoslovakia.

This little nation of which so much is heard, came into existence following the war. It has a population of some 12 or 13 million people, of whom about 3,500,000 are Germans, and it is these 3,500,000 Germans that Hitler spoke at the tenth annual congress of the Nazi party in Nuremberg.

Looking at the situation as it exists today it does seem that Hitler has already gained much in Czechoslovakia. For all practical purposes the Germans in the borderland are now ruled by Germany. The special form of self-government which the Czechs have been coerced into offering amounts to making the borderland into a puppet state of the Reich as effectively as if it had been annexed and absorbed.

One schooled in tactics should be able to see that with three and a half million Germans in Czechoslovakia ruled from Germany means more to Germany than they do in Czechoslovakia. They are actually a threat to the country in which they live but an active asset to Hitler and his plans for the future. Being in the land of the Czechs they are more useful and available for purposes of threats and pressure and expansion than they would be if the boundary line had been shifted to place them geographically in the Reich. Hitler is probably not so blind that he cannot see this. He may well know that the concessions he has secured are for time being of greater gain and at less cost than anything he could possibly hope for by recourse to open warfare.

It Is Good News

W. L. Jacobson, secretary of Prairie Farm Rehabilitation work, has been making a tour through Southern Alberta because there has been considerable work carried on there with money advanced by the board for the purpose of correcting what had been drought land by the application of irrigation.

Mr. Jacobson referred to one farmer working 100 acres of this drought land. When the year turned his condition was so bad that he had to go to a neighbor and borrow a milch cow to help him carry on until harvest time. Last year he had no crop.

This year he had moisture on his farm and the official report says he will take from 4,000 to 5,000 bushels of wheat from his irrigated hundred acres, which indicates a yield of between 40 and 50 bushels per acre.

Then there was another farmer who recently abandoned 150 acres but was induced to return and put it under irrigation. He did so and he planted nothing but oats. The inspector says he should have 65 bushels to the acre.

And that makes what we call good reading. Of course it has not been on a scale sufficiently large to certify that drought land can and will be conquered on a large scale, but it is still good news. It shows what otherwise ruined farmers have been able to do when they got the backing to enable them to change their system of working. They got the one thing needed, moisture, after which they secured a good crop. In these days when a spirit of helplessness seems to have smothered so many people the world over it is refreshing to read of hard-pressed men in the West who have found a way out.

Plain War Profiteers

Premier Chamberlain was roundly denounced when he refused to take action when ships flying the British flag were bombarded in the Spanish war zone. He was able to prove to the hilt that the ships although of British register and using the British flag, were the property almost in their entirety of foreign interests who found they could secure four times the usual rates for running war material. Premier Chamberlain classed them as nothing but war profiteers, and that was the end of any effort to try and force Britain to fight for that class of business.

The Examiner referred a few days ago to a tramp freighter in port at Montreal loading for Spain. It is under British register and uses the British flag but Greek interests own it. The captain of the freighter Stancroft has been telling of his adventures. There was a time when the Stancroft was running in war material for General Franco, but within recent times it has started doing business with the Loyalist forces. The owners of the freighter do not care a hoot which side wins the struggle; the only interest is in doing business with the side which will pay the greatest amount for the services which the freighter is able to perform. One is left wondering why the right to fly the British flag is extended to foreign interests who are painly seeking nothing but the right to profiteer under it.

Doing a Good Work

The annual tag day on behalf of the Children's Aid Society will be held on Saturday and that should serve to centre attention upon the fact that there has been a very marked change in the character of the work done by the society in recent months. Briefly the difference may be explained by the statement that the greatest emphasis is now being placed on preventive work. No longer is the society waiting for conditions in the home to become so bad that it will be necessary to step in and remove the children, caring for them at the Shelter until suitable foster homes can be located for them.

Rather the efforts of the officials of the organization are directed toward keeping the children with their parents and preventing the development of conditions that would necessitate their removal. It has been found possible to do a great deal along that line and in a number of cases that have been encountered during the past year, the counsel and advice of the Children's Aid Society superintendent, Miss Young, have been successful in so improving the home situation that it was quite safe to leave the children with their parents.

Obviously this is a policy that is well worth supporting. It enables children to be cared for in their natural environment, decreases the demands upon the society's shelter facilities and is a constructive plan that appeals to public as a common-sense way of dealing with a difficult problem.

Good Old England

Good old England! That place can always be relied upon to take off the pressure and give one a chance to breathe easily if only for a short time.

Hitler's speech was taking up the time of the wire in the afternoon. Several people had called the office to know if anything had come through.

Reporters and desk men and some of the people from downstairs kept looking at the wire copy as it was coming off the machine. Yes—Hitler had started.

He hadn't said anything about a move which might mean war—yet—but he had not finished. He was just well started. The machine ground out more cable copy. It was more of Hitler, and again people started walking over to that little machine. They didn't say they felt jumpy but they did.

Then there was a break and the copy started coming from London. It would probably be something semi-official at least as to how the Hitler address was being received there.

But it wasn't.

The wire told that "Leicester City greatly improved its position in the English Football League standing today by defeating Birmingham 2-1." And it was dated at 3.53 in the afternoon when most of the world was hanging on the words coming from Hitler.

It was something that seemed to come at the right time. Made a fellow feel like straightening up and going to the water cooler for a drink or looking out the window for a minute.

Hitler might have a lot of things to say but they were still playing football in England. So we say—Good old England!

Not Making Money

One gentleman who uses train service on his long trips informed the Examiner the railroad companies should be making a nice thing out of the revenue from their dining car service. He was quite sure of it. He put it this way: "I'd like nothing better than to be serving meals and getting the prices they charge. I have no complaint to make about the service they give and the meals are good, and I admit I would rather eat a meal on a train than anywhere else, but I always have the feeling that I am paying a good price. They must be making good money out of it."

But this citizen was wrong. In fact he was quite a bit wrong. Figures for the year 1937 show that neither the C.N.R. nor the C.P.R. made money from their dining car service, and the buffet car comes in the same class.

In 1937 the customer of the Canadian Pacific who paid $1 for food and services was having $1.42 spent on him. The same figures show that the customer who paid a dollar to the Canadian National was receiving in food and service $1.56. Without much knowledge of the cost of meals or services it is easy enough to see that is not the way to make money.

A Farmer Stops To Talk

A farmer about four miles from the city was plowing on Saturday afternoon and when he came to the headland he was willing enough to do a little talking. Yes, it was just about a right day for plowing; cool and easy on the horses; the ground was a little on the dry side but it would probably rain before long. He had something which looked rather good in seed wheat and he was getting ready for it. That would be for next year's cutting.

Some of this year's prices were rather too low; he was not at all certain it would pay him to sell his wheat as a cash crop. It would probably be just as well to put some of it in along with the mixed grain and use it for chop stuff, but he would hold a fair amount of his wheat for a while "just to see what did happen."

And that of course led along to the question of starting on next year's crops now. His outlook was interesting:

"I don't know whether we deserve any special credit for going ahead getting ready for next year when we do not know what it is going to be like, but in this business one has to keep on no matter if the year now starting to close has been good or poor. I will not make as much this year as I have in some better years but I am free to say I have seen worse years. One thing I count on quite a lot is health and we have that and it has spread all over the place this year. In the house we are well and outside we haven't had a sick animal on the place, and do you know that helps a good deal. Then this year we had a good deal of rain so we'd had pasture better than average and we have had water. We're apt to forget that in 1936 a lot of farmers had to draw water or else drive their stock a long distance to where it was, and that pasture was burned up when we were depending on it. Health and rain may not go down in the dollars and cents columns but they are very real just the same.

"But we have to keep on getting ready for next year. We just go ahead and trust we will get a crop and be able to sell it. For the most part we turn our crops into milk and bacon and beef and eggs and chickens. We don't worry much about the prospects for 1939 but just look for the best. You see a farm's one of those things you can't shut down because you think business may not be too good, and you can't even go half-way on that and work just 50 per cent. of your land. Some people say a farmer has to take all the chances and all that, but I don't go too much on that. We just keep on going because there's nothing else to be done about it."

Then the nose of the plow dug in again; it was a nice cool day for such work and not too hard on the horses. When one got over the fence and on the way home it was a wholesome thing about which to think for a bit. The man with the team and the plow liked the day because it was cool and easy on the horses; he had been thankful for the rain this year and more thankful because the folk in the house and the stock in the barn had been blessed with good health.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Toronto is talking about self-liquidating swimming pools. We have an idea, however, that the authorities will find they will have to put water in the things after all.

Ontario farmers have captured 95 per cent. of the prizes at the Canadian National Exhibition. And yet the provincial government refuses to stage an exhibit there.

Premier Hepburn has grown so many onions this season that he cannot get them all in the barn. The solution seems to be to grow fewer onions or have a larger barn.

Now there is the story of the man who had to shoot a large fish so that it would not drag his friends to the bottom of the lake. Perhaps it is just as well that the season is drawing toward an end.

Collegate Institute pupils have been winning more than their share of scholarships—a tribute to their own intelligence and energy and to the soundness of the teaching in the institution.

Westminster township in Middlesex county has 60 miles of roads free of weeds, as the result of chemical killing done in less than a month. That is fine if it does not so happen that weeds from other sections do not come along and spoil all this good work.

Investigators have found that one-fifth of the car drivers in United States when passing other cars in traffic escape death by less than one second. The Yankees are slow as we have a number of drivers who take it for granted that the margin of safety is a second split into any number of pieces.

TALK

(By A. R. K.)

¶ Jim Tassel always likes to talk, no matter if he'll sit or walk, so many things he'll say; if he talks of Japan or Spain, he always starts it off the same, "You know I heard today."

¶ Jim heard some scandal out our way, 'twas something he had heard today, and it was black and blue; the only thing I knew was wrong, as he went spinning it so long, was that it wasn't true.

¶ Jim said the preacher up and quit, so mad he well nigh threw a fit, and he was going to go; he'd heard it whispered here and there, it was a sad and drab affair, once more it was not so.

¶ Jim Tassel told of family strife, a man had skipped and left his wife, and he'd come back no more; I knew the man had gone away, but he came back at noon next day, he'd had some urgent chore.

¶ Jim heard of smallpox in the place, and he knew all about the case, the house was quarantined; they'd boarded up around the doors, for they were scraping off the floors, and having old rooms cleaned.

¶ So every time I meet with Jim, I wait and know that he'll begin, with scandal or with woe; before he even gets a start, or reaches to the tragic part—I know that it's not so.

Go Out Hunting But Take Camera

Editor Examiner:

SIR: The season is approaching when our local sportsmen sedulously clean and oil their precious deer-rifles, and prepare to take a short rest from everyday duties in order to try their luck in the great hunting-grounds to the north. They drive to their lodges in the deer-country, spend a week-end or longer, in the congenial company of their co-nimrods, secure in the absence of their women-folk,—and return triumphantly to the city with the spoils of the "chase"—(ambush, rather!) strapped over the bumpers.

That is the sad part of the business of deer hunting—seeing that lithe and most graceful of forms strapped, bound, cramped into a pitiful bundle; the dark eyes still open, glazed by death; once-proud antlers prostrate in lifeless ignomity; and—revolting, depressing ad nauseam —a caked splotch of black-red where the sped bullet entered the sleek, grey-brown body.

And it's all due to a fatal misunderstanding: a misunderstanding of themselves by these hunters of ours. If they were more given to introspection they might realize that their deer-hunting is merely an excuse for getting into the open, and, whether they know it or not, their chief satisfaction in the hunting trip comes, not (I like to think) from the killing of a helpless and beautiful animal, but from an appreciation of, and a deep sense of affinity with the wild life about them; although this appreciation, this sense of reationship are centainly in the depths of subconsciousness, or our friends would throw their guns in the nearest lake, or keep them to frighten burglars.

Henry David Thoreau (our sportsmen have not read him, so I may be pardoned for quoting a writer so well-known) has said much more clearly what I have been rather vaguely trying to get at:

There is a period in the history of the individual, as of the race, when the hunters are the "best men", as the Algonquins called them. We cannot but pity the boy who has never fired a gun; he is no more humane, while his education has been sadly neglected. This was my answer with respect to those youths who were bent on this pursuit, trusting that they would soon outgrow it. No humane being, past the thoughtless age of boyhood, will wantonly murder any creature which holds its life by the same tenure that he does.....

Such is oftenest the young man's introduction to the forest, and to the most original part of himself. He goes thither at first as a hunter and fisher, until at last, if he has the seeds of a better life in him, he distinguishes his proper objects, as a poet or naturalist it may be, and leaves the gun and fishpole behind.... He might go there a thousand times before the sediment of fishing would sink to the bottom and leave his purpose clear, but no doubt the clarifying process would be going on all the while....Commonly he would not think that he was lucky, or wellpaid for his time unless he got a long string of fish, though he had the opportunity of seeing the beauties of the pond all the while....Thus, even in civilized communities, the embryo man passes through the hunter stage of development.

The only men who can afford to go deer-hunting, are those who also Can afford plenty to eat aside from venison. They have not the excuse of hunger. They are merely indulging a brutal instinct which happens to be sanctioned by society; but of which, if they listened to their own finer feelings, they could not fail to be heartily ashamed. Sell your gun and buy a camera; And tell your friends you're going deer-hunting I thank you.

CAN HAPPEN AGAIN.

(Pembroke Standard-Observer)

THE Arnprior Chronicle last week reveals, if the allegations are correct, a condition there calling for instant action upon the part of the Ontario Liquor Control Board. In beginning his editorial Mr. McFarlane says that he had waited patiently one month for conditions to improve as he did not want to say anything, but as there was no improvement he lifted off the lid, and it is a sordid story we quote....

If this is true it would appear that the proprietors of beverage rooms in Arnprior have lost their heads. They surely remember the days of the old bar when in many places throughout Ontario there was no respect paid to law or public sentiment and at last an outraged public sentiment demanded that the bar should go, and go it did. The very same thing can happen again, will happen again, if conditions like those alleged to obtain in Arnprior, should become general.

So far as Arnprior is concerned, the charges have been made, and they are serious, so it is now up to the Ontario Liquor Control Board to investigate. If they did find that conditions are as disgusting as alleged then a suspension of the licenses will be a salutory lesson.

WOULD BE GRAND.

(Christian Science Monitor).

CONTEMPLATING the National Model Railroad Association's convention at Buffalo, N. Y.—where grown men gather to operate toy trains—one is led to wonder whether these men-with-a-hobby all wanted to be railroda conductors, engineers, or firemen when they were boys and are just now realizing a defeated ambition.

Wouldn't this be a funny world if every lad had been allowed to follow his boyish ambition? The dear old terrestrial ball would have been overstocked with cow-boys, firemen, street car motormen, detectives, and big league baseball pitchers, not to mention railroaders. And tomorrow we would have an oversupply of aviators. Wouldn't it be grand if we could all do what we like and live on Grandpa— like the family in "Yon Can't Take It With You?" Or would it?

So That's What It Is.

There will be no war, says Hitler. Meanwhile peace seems to be spreading in China.

On the "Whim" of One Man

(By W. Rupert Davies, Editor Kingston Whig-Standard).

THE situation in Europe today is very disturbing and only the gods can say whether or not it is going to end in war. During my short stay in England, I endeavored to the best of my ability to study the situation from every angle and to find out as much as I could of what is commonly referred to as "insidestuff." I was forced to the conclusion thit if there was ever an international situation with regard to the outcome of which one man's guess was as good as another's we are faced with it at this very moment. It is regrettable, yet true, as Mr. Winston Churchill said a couple of weeks ago, that the peace of Europe depends upon one man. I think Mr. Churchill might have gone further, and said upon the "whim" of one man. It undoubtedly rests with Adolph Hitler as to whether or not we shall have another European war forced upon us.

I heard many strange and contradictory stories about Hitler. One man, usually well informed, who had just returned from Germany, told me he was convinced that Hitler wanted but one thing, and that was peace. Hitler felt, however, that he was obligated to do something for the Sudeten Germans in Czechoslavak. Another member of Parliament told me and I know he got his information from a German source ,very close to the inner circle that no one knew what Hitler wanted, and that his closest friends often did not know what he would do next.

THERE seem to be one or two points on which people, who should know, are pretty well all agreed. One is, that the Sudeten Germans have some really genuine grievances and that they will never be satisfied until these grievances are redressed. The other point is that the German people, the ordinary, plain, hard-working, German people, do not want another war, and are just as much opposed to war as the people of the British Empire. But it must be remembered that the German people are told through a rigidly controlled press, only what the Government wants them to know. In that way, the most trifling incident in Czechoslovakia can be magnified into an affront against German prestige. In this way German opinion can be inflamed against the Czechs, and their fellow-Germans in that country made to appear in the role of a downtrodden and harased people.

WHEN Mr. Chamberlain cut short his Scottish fishing holidays and came to London to see a specialist about his catarrh. Great Britain was genuinely alarmed. Not in regard to the Prime Minister's health. Oh, no! The British people had not the slightest doubt but that one small dose of the genuine old "European Peace Ointment" would soon cure the catarrh. Britishers were worried about the situation in Europe. Then when Lord Runciman went to Czechoslovakia, and President Roosevelt spoke at Kingston, a very hopeful feeling spread over the land. But Lord Runciman has been in Czechoslovakia for several weeks now. Sir Neville Henderson has been summoned to Downing Street and has gone back to Germany, Mr. Roosevelt's speech has been followed by some candid remarks from Mr. Kennedy, and Ambassador Bullitt has also spoken. It has been indicated by every speaker that a European war would be very unwelcome, and it has been hinted that if one starts just one man will be to blame. Yet, despite all the talking, that one man seems to be verging nearer and nearer one of his week-end coups.

The invasion of Austria was so easy. It was carefully planned, and there were no hitches. Other countries stood by and allowed a bloodless victory and they have stood by and seen a distinguished citizen of the world like Sigmund Freud, exiled from the land he lived in and loved. A new power has arisen in Austria; the German Empire has been extended. And all without firing a shot. Some with whom I talked in England, claimed that Hitler was finding Austria a bit hard to digest, but an English girl, who went to Austria to teach some years ago, married a young Austrian of good family, and now lives there, told me it was the best thing that ever happened to Austria, and the people had taken on new hope.

OUT of all the startling and depressing news, one or two things stand out clearly. Great Britain has been and still is, sincerely and earnestly working to bring about a peaceful settlement. This is Prime Minister Chamberlain's aim, and in this aim he has the sympathy and support of the British people. At the same time she is now by no means unprepared for eventualities. It is, I think fair to say, too, that not since Lloyd George was premier in the terrible war years, has any prime minister enjoyed the confidence Mr. Chamberlain enjoys in Great Britain today. Mr. Baldwin was loved for his many lovable qualities, but Mr. Chamberlain is admired for his strength of character and his splendid leadership. Mr. Baldwin had a reputation of letting other members of his Cabinet make important decisions and then persuade him that they were wise. Mr. Chamberlain seeks advice from every helpful quarter, but he makes his own decisions, always.

Occasionally I heard criticisms in some places that Mr. Chamberlain was too much of a trader, too much of a Birmingham businessman. But by the large majority he is trusted absolutely. Mr. Chamberlain poses as nothing more or less than just plain "Mr. Ordinary Citizen." He does not pretend to have any great occult powers. He is a man with sense which he brings to bear on all questions. And he is a plain man. When he went on his holidays, he went just as do millions of other Englishmen. He secured his own seats in the train and he looked after the loading of his own luggage. There was no secretary or valet doing the little chores. He did them himself Just an English businessman going with his wife on a little fishing trip That is why the English people are learning to love the man in whom, after a few short months, they have implicit confidence.

• Western Horse Now Has Heaves

EDITOR EXAMINER: Sir: Some days ago you had an article in your paper about horses that used to have heaves on the Tenth Concession. You also stated it was the belief there that a horse with the heaves could not be cured but could be doctored so it would look all right for a time.

Now I have a horse that looked all right when I got him. When I was out West two years I had had a chance to buy two horses for what looked like a right price. I could ship them down East and still be ahead on the deal. One of the horses I sold a short time after, but the other one I decided to keep. It was five years old and responded well to pasture and good feeding and I was sure I had a good horse.

When I bought him he was sound and I am sure as can be there was no broken wind. My brother recommended the horse in the first place and he said it was all right, and what's more we had a chance to drive both those horses and tried them on what looked like a small hill on the road and there was no distress in the wind.

About a year ago, I noticed first that sort of double action in expelling air from the breathing and since then it has grown worse and I have tired everything but have not met with much success. I am convinced my horse has the heaves. The nearest I can get by way of explanation regarding cause is that a horse brought from a high altitude to one that is lower is apt to develop heaves on account of the change. I am told others have found the same thing and the rule is that if that horse had stayed out west in the high altitude he would have gone along all right. Whether any other farmers ever had experience this way I don't know, but I do know that my western horse developed the heaves after being in the east for about a year and he still has them.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

LAY not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal; for where your treasures is, there will your heart be also.—Matt. vi., 19-21.

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised;) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works..

But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions..For ye had compassion of me in my bonds and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.—Heb. x, 23, 24, 32, 34.

90,000 TRUSTEES.

(Regina Leader-Post).

THE Ottawa Journal discusses the number of school trustees there are in Canada, noting that J. W. Noseworthy, president of the Ontario Teachers' Council, has been complaining about the abundance of such officials....

One may wonder if Canada's education system may not be top-heavy in control. If the country has 22,659 school boards and 90,000 trustees, there can hardly be complaint about the extent or intensity of school management.

It is largely a case of efficiency. Would larger school areas produce better educational results? Canada is one of the few countries in the world retaining the system of a trustee board for virtually every school.

Belleville Man Loses Permit For Five Years

MADOC, Sept. 13—Pleading guilty to a charge of criminal negligence Monday afternoon, George Morris of Belleville, R.R. No. 7, was placed on a two-year suspended sentence, his driver's permit suspended for five years and assessed the costs of the court amounting to $40.35.

The charge was laid by Provincial Constable A. Dymond of Madoc, following an accident on Aug. 7, just south of this town, in which Lacelot Vader of Massassauga, was instantly killed. Vader was a passenger in the car, driven by Morris, at the time of the accident. It is alleged that the car rounded a curve on the Madoc-Belleville highway, collided with a Mrs. Murphy who was walking on the side of the road, careened across the road into the ditch striking a telephone pole.

Ormond Butler of Belleville, defense lawyer, pointed out that Vader attempted to get out of the careening car before it had come to a stop and the impact with the post threw him from the car. He died almost instantly from a broken neck.

In passing sentence on Morris, Magistrate J. Lloyd of Northbrook stated that "this man is not a real criminal and in view of the fact that he is 68 years of age, I am going to place him on a suspended sentence for two years."

Abrupt and surprising developments, having a far-reaching effect on both business and private lives, is read from the powerful ruling influences. While the present predicament seems drastic and devastating, in the long run there are auguries of splendid culminations of a most unexpected character. Despite some wrangling and irritations, the end may be gratifying, with certain intriguing or mystifying angles.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of sudden visitations of a quite unpredictable nature affecting the business and private lives. While these events may be intriguing, mysterious and entirely unforeseen, they should have a constructive, gratifying and happy ending, with promotion benefits, favors and probable romance in the offing. But in uncertain situations use finesse or diplomacy, shunning disputes and irritability.

A child born on this day may be born for big and startling things of an unpredictable nature. It may be unusually talented, original, progressive and ambitious, with much subtlety, craft, ingenuity as well as romance at the core of its nature.

Trained French Reservists Pour Into Maginot Line

Trained reservists called up by France as a precautionary measure in the latest European crisis are shown in civilian clothes as they entered a railway station at Paris en route to stations on the Maginot Line—the immense line of underground fortresses facing Germany along the eastern frontier. Uniformed French guards are checking the reservists through. Most of the men sent to the fortifications are from Central France and cannot speak German. Thus there was little fraternizing with German soldiers manning the Siegfried line which parallels the French defences on the Nazi border. France has a reserve force estimated at 8,000,000 as well as one of the world's finest regular armies. This photo, made in Paris, was flown to London and radioed to America.

TWO WORLDS

CHAPTER 40

Noel sat silently thinking after Betsy had said that Fay Garwood was not her mother. For the first time Noel was beginning to believe Mrs. Garwood had been telling the truth when she had said that Betsy's mind was affected.

For a long while Noel sat there holding the child in her arms, without speaking. At last she said, "Betsy, you mustn't say things like that. You must promise me that you won't."

Betsy moved uneasily in Noel's arms. "All right, I'll promise you," she said unhappily.

"And you're sorry?" Noel coaxed.

There was a silence. Then Betsy's voice came plaintively, "I'm sorry if—if you want me to be."

"No, you must be sorry because you really are," Noel insisted.

"But I'm not—I hate her!" Betsy cried, another threat of hysteria in her voice.

Once again Noel was puzzled as to how to meet the situation. "We won't talk about it any more, dear," she said gently.

Betsy seemed relieved. She relaxed against Noel. After a moment she lifted her head and looked at Noel anxiously, "I'll try not to hate her, if you won't og away."

Noel explained that if she went away it would only be for a little while. "Promise, you'll come back?" Betsy urged in a trembling voice.

"I'll come back. I give you my solemn promise," Noel told her.

The next day Noel almost wished she hadn't promised Laurie she would spend the night with her and come back to the Garwoods' early the next morning. She wasn't sure she should leave Betsy that long. And because the child clung to her, begging her pitifully to hurry back, it was late afternoon before Noel started to take advantage of her time off.

When she was downstairs, thinking it best to explain to Mrs. Garwood that she would return early in the morning, Noel started to knock on the door of the woman's sitting room. But she stopped, hearing angry voices inside. "I tell you I'm sick of staying in this house," Fay Garwood exclaimed shrilly.

"You're going to be a lot sicker, if you don't look out," Noel heard Hichens say in a most unbutlerish voice. "And next time, don't draw so much money, do you hear?" The man's voice sounded peremptory.

Noel stood there in surprise. Did Hichens have some strange, sinister influence over Fay Garwood? From his tone he seemed to be the one in authority.

Noel heard him moving toward the door then. She stepped back, making it appear that she was just coming downstairs. When Hichens came out, she saw he had a book in his hand. It was "Correct English."

Evidently he didn't want her to see it for he put it quickly behind his back when he saw her standing there.

"I'm leaving," Noel told him. "Please tell Mrs. Garwood I'll return early in the morning."

The butler's face was again impassive.

"Also, Hichens," Noel began, looking him straight in the eye, "if I have any more telephone calls from my friends, I want to receive them."

Hichens gave a start, then quickly recovered. "Very good, Miss," he said stiffly.

It was nearly 6 o'clock when Noel reached the De Luxe. Laurie flashed her a quick smile. "Oh, Noel, it's so good to see you. I've missed you like everything."

A few minutes later Noel saw Julian coming across the street. Her heart gave a lurch. It had been ages since she had seen him, she felt. She had almost forgotten how good-looking he was with that little incipient dimple in his strong chin, and his adorable smile.

Then he was standing before her, both her hands held between his. "How many centuries has it been?" he asked.

He turned to Laurie and spoke a word of greeting with the courtesy that was so much a part of him. "You're looking splendid, Laurie," he said.

A minute later he and Noel faced each other across a table. Julian ordered two substantial meals. "You're ordering too much," Noel remonstrated. "How on earth can I eat all that?"

"You're going to eat it and like it" Julian said with mock severity. He was studying her face. "Are you looking after yourself properly or shall I have to take steps about it?"

"What kind of steps?" she asked audaciously.

Julian shrugged a little. "Oh, I'd probably prescribe a big dose of castor oil and stand by and hold your nose until you swallowed it."

"Always the doctor," Noel scoffed. Then she said, "Julian, we may not have much time, and I want to talk to you seriously." She began telling him then about the queer Garwood household, and some of the things that happened there which she could not understand.

Julian listened attentively. "I know of the family," he said. "They're very prominent, wealthy people belong to the real aristocracy."

"Aristocracy?" Noel questioned, feeling more bewildered.

Julian thought a moment or so. "I'm beginning to remember things about them now. Young Charlie Garwood was killed in an airplane accident a month before his child was born. When the child came, a friend of mine, an elderly doctor, was called on the case. After the child was old enough, Mrs. Garwood went to live abroad. She wanted to get far away from the tragedy, and said she could never bear to live in the ancestral Garwood home again. I understand she never really recovered from the shock of her husband's death. And I'm certain this is the first time she's been back since. The child must be about seven now, or possibly eight."

Noel nodded. "But Betsy seems actually to hate Mrs. Garwood. She even said she was not her mother."

Julian smiled understandingly. "Nervous children often have fancies like that. The child is probably slightly abnormal. She had a bad start in life, you know."

"Julian, I'm not sure I believe the child is Betsy Garwood. She seems normal in every way except when it comes to her mother. And then she becomes infuriated at the sight of her. There's something very peculiar about the people in that house, Julian," she finished earnestly.

Julian seemed impressed by her seriousness. Noel then told him about Hichens, whom she did not believe to be a butler at all. About Mrs. Garwood's bandaged arm, and the two checks she had had Noel write for her and sign. And yet Noel did not believe that her right hand was really injured since she had seen Mrs. Garwood using it easily enough when playing cards. Still, it was possible that she could play cards with an injured hand and yet not be able to write with it.

"I'm trying to remember about the will," Julian observed. "There was an awful lot of money, most of it coming from the paternal grandfather, young Charlie's father. I believe after Charlie's death, and following his father's death, which followed closely after the money was left to the child under the grandfather's will."

"Then it belongs to Betsy?" Noel exclaimed. "Maybe," she went on thoughtfully, "Betsy isn't really the Garwood child. The real Betsy might have died abroad, and Mrs. Garwood and Hichens are pretending she is the heiress, so they still can have control of the money."

"That all depends on whether or not Mrs. Garwood would inherit in case of the child's death. If she only had control of the money while the child was alive, and it would revert that is, most of it, to some of the close Garwood relatives—there might be something in what you say."

Julian was silent for a moment. "On the other hand," he continued, "if she is to inherit after the child, she would have everything to gain by the child's death." Then he smiled and patted Noel's hand. "It's probably your imagination working a little overtime. As I remember Mrs. Garwood, she was a lovely lady and quite devoted to her husband and to her child."

Noel shook her head dubiously. "There's another thing," she said. "The child is not well. The reason is because she stays cooped up in one room so much. She seems actually frightened at the thought of going downstairs. And there are times when I think she is feverish. One of these evenings I'm going to yield to the temptation of slipping out of the house and bringing her to you."

"There is such a thing as ethics, my dear. If Mrs. Garwood doesn't want me for a doctor—"

"I don't care a thing about ethics," Noel returned. "But I do care about Betsy. You'll know there's nothing the matter with her mind when you see her, but she does need a doctor."

They talked for about an hour, then Julian had to go back to the clinic. He knew Noel had planned to spend the night with Laurie. "I wonder," he began just before crossing the street, "if I could see you about 9, or even 10, just in case I get through?"

"Of course," Noel smiled. "I'll be glad to wait."

"You see, Noel," Julian's face grew serious, "I have something important to tell you. Something that will affect our—our—"

Noel met his gaze, her eyes wide. "Our friendship?"

"Yes, decidedly," he admitted. When he crossed the street, an unhappy thought seized Noel. Did Julian's news concern Ruth Chester?

Goodnight Story

By MAX TRELL

"Yes, you may come along with us," Hanid said to the grasshopper.

"Only you can't do any hopping. Just remember that. If you hop you'll tip over the boat," Knarf warned it.

"I won't hop. I promise," the grasshopper said. "I don't want the boat to tip over. I want to go sailing with you around the world." So it sat down very quietly in the middle of the boat which, you will remember, was made of a little matchbox.

"In a little while," Knarf said as they shot swiftly between the two high banks, "we'll reach the ocean. Then we'll sail right across it."

At that moment the rain-river suddenly widened out and flowed into a huge spread of water. The matchbox boat sailed right out into it.

They landed safely on the shore.

"It's the ocean!" cried Hanid and Knarf.

It's Wonderful.

"Oh, how wonderful it is! How wonderful and terrible to see so much water!" the grasshopper said in a voice trembling with excitement.

Now you must know that it was not the ocean at all, but only the pond. But to Hanid and Knarf, who had made themselves as small as match sticks, and to the grasshopper, who was not much bigger than they, the pond seemed just as large as the ocean.

Then suddenly Knarf and Hanid shouted: "Look! Look! A whale!"

Sure enough, there it was, swimming right before them. It was green and it had a huge mouth and great bulging eyes.

All at once Hanid cried: "It's turning! It's coming toward us! Jump!"

And before anyone could say another word the grasshopper jumped with Knarf and Hanid sitting on its back. They landed safely on the shore. When they turned around to look at the whale, they saw that it had jumped, too. For it wasn't a whale at all, but only a little green frog. They were sorry they had left the boat. But it was too late to get back in it now. And that was the end of the matchbox cruise in the river of rain that ran down the road to the pond.

Warsaw Ladies Pay Visit To 4 Factories

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, Sept. 13.—The remarkable progress made in local manufacturing plants in recent years was explained to 34 members of the Warsaw Women's Institute last week when they visited four of the cities' industries and were extended a warm welcome. The visitors marvelled at the advancement made in production methods and the emphasis placed on cleanliness and safety in every one of the plants visited. Mrs. David Taylor was responsible for the arrangements and drivers of the cars were besides Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. F. Sidey, Mrs. A. Latta and Mrs. Ollie McIlvena.

They first stopped at Silverwoods Dairy where G. A. Gillespie took personal charge and acted as guide for the party through the various departments where they were privileged to see milk being processed both pasteurized and condensed, and the minute attention given to buttermaking was also explained in detail. The visitors got a new conception of the extensive work done to satisfy the customer.

At Canada Packers'

It was a surprise to the women to learn at the plant of Canada Packers that thousands of hogs are handled every week, and shipments of meat sent to all parts of the world. Guides assigned to the different groups explained all of the processes from the manufacture of cooked meats right through the various departments to the slaughtering and handling of pork. Canning and tomato juice sections came in for a great deal of attention and the visitors made a few mental notes on the difference in the speed of the factory workers and the pace they themselves keep when doing their ordinary kitchen tasks.

Following lunch the party proceeded to the plant of the Bonner-Worth Mills where the manufacture of yarns was seen, all kinds from the heaviest to fine yarns for clothing. The next stop was at the Quaker Oats Plant, the largest of its kind in the British Empire, where the same courtesy and warm reception accorded the visitors at the other plants was repeated.

Guides started the trip by taking the women to the modern lunch room and rest rooms on the top floor and also showed them an emergency operating room with first aid equipment and a full time nurse. The various processes in the manufacture of corn flakes, oatmeal, muffetts and spaghetti were followed to completion and the women watched the girls in crisp white uniforms working at the machines, chutes and other operations. The guides pointed out the many safety devices which have been introduced to reduce lost time accidents to the very minimum and every department in the huge mill radiated an air of cleanliness, even the employees frocked in white carried out this plan.

James Dutton, manager of Stocks Bread acted as guide when the party visited the Stocks Bread Company. Here again speed, cleanliness and safety were the features of production and hundreds of loaves of bread, different varieties were processed in an amazingly short time while the women watched.

At the conclusion of the visit the guests were ushered into the factory reception room where they found tables set, and decorated with vases of gladioli and an enjoyable half hour was spent over the tea cups. Mr. Dutton proved to be a genial host and the little gesture of serving tea, served to put the finishing touch to a delightful day, for the ru-al visitors.

elimination of the arms embargo. He contended if Canada imposed such an embargo, the aggressor nations could obtain war materials elsewhere.

One delegate attempted to protest the boycott resolution but was howled down by others demanding the vote be taken. Applause greeted the reading of the resolution by Carl Berg of Edmonton, chairman of the resolutions committee, and the convention cheered again when it passed.

Plan Some Pressure

A debate on unemployment insurance furnished the other feature of yesterday's session. The convention sidetracked a proposal to put pressure on any province holding up a federal unemployment insurance scheme. It decided instead to discuss later a proposal that the Dominion government use the emergency provisions in the peace, order and good government legislation to introduce national unemployment insurance.

"So long as we are not represented in any legislature so long will be get the crumbs," commented J. Buckley, secretary of the Toronto district Trades and Labor Council, after expressing skepticism of the Ontario government's announced plan to bring in unemployment insurance at the next session of the legislature.

Fred Collins of Toronto said the Ontario Liberal party, prior to its 1934 election victory, promised unemployment insurance but nothing was done. He added it "did everything to prevent" federal unemployment insurance.

A list of 46 resolutions on unity was referred to the resolutions committee for action. All resolutions stressed necessity of preserving internal unity and sought continuance of the status quo reached at Ottawa last year whereby Committee for Industrial Organization unions remained within the congress pending that body's attempt at mediating the C.I.O. dispute with the American Federation of Labor. At the A.F. of L. convention later, charters of the C.I.O. unions were revoked.

Eighty per cent of the congress memberships consists of unions with A.F. of L. connections. Some observers thought the omnibus unity resolutions might be presented to the convention Thursday.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Sept. 13.—A very lovely miscellaneous shower was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Misses Minerva and Verna Isaacs in honor of Miss Edith Davies, whose marriage is to take place the latter part of September.

Two interesting contests were conducted by the hostesses during the very enjoyable evening, the first, an "intelligence test," being won by Miss Marguerite Brown, and the second, "amateur sculptors" won by Miss Alma Hagerman. The party was divided into several groups for a "scavenger hunt, and the group lead by Miss Verna Isaacs proved to be the victors.

A dainty lunch was served, everyone sitting down at a long table in the dining-room, which was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers.

The many and beautiful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be by Misses Misses Marion Isaacs and Betty Davies, bringing them into the room in a decorated doll carriage. Miss Davies opening and displaying the gifts, expressed her thanks in a few words to the many friends present.

Among those present were: Misses Marguerite Roche, Viola McGowan, Marie McQuigge, Violet Scott, Helen Covert, Muriel Quinn, Helena Davies, Margaret Voyer, Alma Hagerman, Marguerite Brown, Edna Warner, Marguerite Clarke, Laurabelle Wing, Nellie Tinney, Hazel Hamilton, Muriel Poste, and Leatha Vincent.

warning at 10.30 o'clock Monday morning. He had been pinned to the conveyor at which he had been working by two 16-inch timbers and death, it is believed, was instantaneous.

Coroner Dr. Robert McDerment impanelled a jury and opened a preliminary inquest at 9:15 o'clock last night. The jury viewed the remains and adjourned to a date to be set.

The dead man had suffered a fractured leg, jaw and neck with intraranical injury contributing, Dr. McDerment said.

Of the three others injured in the collapse, two are still in hospital. Garnet Russell, Port Hope, working with Boyace when the wall caved, received arm and chest injuries. His condition is not regarded as critical. Russel, trapped in the wreckage, managed to extricate himself and clambered over the debris.

Frank Vogan, Courcelette Road, Toronto, received a fractured pelvis when struck by a falling pole. Vogan, talking with his brother-in-law, H. L. Blake, also of Toronto, and Walford Wick, manager of the plant, was standing outside the doorway of the building when the wall collapsed. As the three ran from the caving wall, Blake was struck on the head by a fragment of flying brick, but Vic escaped injury.

Throughout the day and until 7:30, employees labored in the intermittent rain, hoping against hope Boyace might still be alive. When darkness fell, flood-lights were turned on and the work continued.

Late in the afternoon, when a further portion of the wall threatened to fall upon the toiling men, efforts ceased only long enough to permit its prompt demolition.

Boyace, married, is the father of a 6-months-old daughter. His wife and sister are also employed at the plant.

More bricks are contained in the Great Wall of China than in all the buildings in Great Britain.

fate of the Sudetens is not a matter of indifference to us. If these harassed people feel they are without rights and aid, they will get both from us."

Czechs Must Act.

"On the whole it is a matter of the Czechoslovak Government to arrange affairs with authorized representatives of the Sudeten Germans and to come to an understanding, one way or the other."

"I can assure you that since May 28 the most gigantic fortifications works of all time were begun in the west (on the French frontier). I can assure you the work will be completed before winter sets in."

Twenty-five thousand persons in the Nazi Congress Hall cheered long and frequently, and millions of others by radio at home and abroad heard the speech, of which the purpose was summarized by one spokesman as:

"Gentlemen of Prague, negotiate but be quick about it!"

Nazis here were implicit in the belief that he had created a situation to which Anschluss could be the only outcome—the absorption of the German-speaking Sudetens.

"The Almighty did not create 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans to deliver them over to a hatred foreign regime," Hitler said. "The Almighty has not created 7,000,000 Czechs to act as guardians of these Germans. Depriving these human beings of all right must come to an end."

"If this should lead to force, he gave no indication of the manner in which it would be applied. Nazi commentators were quick to state there existed many possibilities outside military action.

Some Nazis saw as a most important sentence the admonition to the Czech Government to settle the matter with representatives of the Sudetens—because Hitler thus gave the word for resumption of negotiations without himself insisting upon Anschluss.

Pressure to Oust Benes?

There were others in Nazi circles who hoped for pressure that would lead President Benes of Czechoslovakia to resign after Hitler called him a liar.

"Benes invented the lie that we mobilized our troops on May 21," the Chancellor charged. "A great power cannot a second time stand for such a contemptible attack."

He referred to reported troop movements after the shooting of two Sudetens near the Czech-German frontier before the Czechoslovak communal elections, and said that then "not a single German soldier more was drafted beyond those actually serving."

"I have made this the most tremendous effort of all times in order to serve peace. But I will under no circumstances look idly on continuance of oppression of German nationals in Czechoslovakia," he said at another stage of his address.

As evidence of Germany's will to peace, he said that she had renounced all aspirations to regaining Alsace-Lorraine, lost in the Great War to France.

A Great Peace Promoter?

He spoke also of limitation of German naval tonnage to 35 per cent. of that of Great Britain, assurances of inviolability of the Italian and Swiss frontiers, suppression of revengeful propaganda, and said:

"No country in the world has done more for peace than Germany."

He praised Italy, German ally against Communism, and criticized the ideology of democracies as "sycophantic and lying."

He charged there was a united front of democratic nations against Greater Germany, and insisted that Jews were at the bottom of this "alliance."

In a shaft directed at Great Britain he asserted Germany would not let "another Palestine arise" and that while "poor Arabs are defenceless," the "Germans in Czechoslovakia are neither defenceless nor left in the lurch."

One Nazi spokesman observed:

"All the world now knows where we stand. Now it is up to Britain and France to decide whether they wish to throw Europe into the abyss of war. The decision no longer is ours."

Prince Arthur Of Connaught Dies In Sleep

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(CP Cable)—Prince Arthur of Connaught, 55-year-old son of the Duke of Connaught, died in his sleep Monday after a long illness.

The former Governor-General of South Africa had been in poor health for some years and had lived quietly in London.

A bulletin signed by Sir Russell Wilkinson, physician to Prince Arthur, and Viscount Dawson of Penn, physician-in-ordinary to the King said:

"His Royal Highness, Prince Arthur of Connaught, died at 3:30 a.m. while asleep."

He had suffered from a gastric ailment for years but it was stated it had yielded to treatment early this year and that the fatal illness was not of a gastric nature. His condition became critical last Wednesday.

The King and Queen, who are at Balmoral Castle, Scotland, were advised of his death immediately. His Majesty commanded that the court go into mourning for a fortnight, starting today.

The Duke of Connaught, former governor-general of Canada and now 88 years of age, was advised of his son's death at his home at Bagshot Park.

The only son of the Prince, the Earl of MacDuff will retain that title, but becomes the heir to two dukedoms, those of Connaught, held by his grandfather, and of Fife, held by his mother.

2 Weeks' Open Partridge Shoot Desired To Satisfy Deer and Field Hunters

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—Two six-day open seasons for partridge, Oct. 10 to Oct. 15, inclusive, and No. 5 to Nov. 10, inclusive—were announced yesterday by Hon. Harry C. Nixon, Minister of Game and Fisheries.

A total bag for the twelve days of fifteen birds will be allowed. No more than five birds can be taken on any single day.

The two seasons have been so arranged that both deer hunters and field shots will have opportunity to participate in the sport which the department is making available. According to Mr. Nixon the increase in the birds this year has been so general that an open season for the first time in recent years is considered justified.

MAKING PALMOLIVE 3000 YEARS AGO

Slaves made Palmolive 3,000 years ago. In precious metal urns they blended the natural oils of Olive and Palm. And 3,000 years ago, beautiful women used this costly, soothing mixture, crude though it was, to keep their skins smooth, clean . . . soft and youthful.

Since then, millions of dollars have been spent to develop countless beauty recipes. But none can equal in quality the gentle, beautifying effects of these two wonderful oriental oils.

In today's Palmolive, it is these same precious beauty aids, blended as carefully as science permits, that are responsible for Palmolive's wholesome purity; its gentle, healthful, soothing lather; its natural colouring.

Why not give your delicate complexion the benefits of this age-old, time-proven, beauty recipe. Let the new, modern Palmolive bring to all your skin a new, wholesome loveliness . . . a soft refreshing youthfulness.

Big Gold Shipments

NEW YORK. — Incoming shipments of gold today, estimated at around $42,000,000, were the largest amount received here in a single day in nearly two years. On October 7, 1936, about $67,000,000 was received. Most of today's shipment came from England and Holland on three vessels.

Ship Via Hudson Bay Route

CHURCHILL.—Government terminal elevators today held 60,000 bushels of wheat, first consignment to reach the Hudson Bay port this fall for shipment overseas. It is expected 65 trains will carry 3,500,000 bushels from the prairies. The 60,000 bushels arrived yesterday, first grain train to reach the port in two years.

Courtesy Cards To Be Given First Offenders

Legal committee of the City Council in session Monday night passed a motion to purchase 500 courtesy cards which will be used by the police department to notify motorists they have violated the traffic regulations, and a second offence will result in a fine. This is the first step in a campaign to solve the traffic and parking situation which has baffled the council members for months.

The cards will probably be brought into use after several recommendations passed are approved and incorporated in the existing by-law but this will take some time. The courtesy cards it is hoped will educate the people to the changes and facilitate more rigid enforcement of the parking laws.

Recommendations.

The recommendations passed were as follows: Speed limit in school areas is 15 miles per hour; bus stops will be designated at the depot on Simcoe and George and will be properly marked with signs; curb space in front of the city buildings on the south side of Simcoe street will be reserved for the cars of city officials. Parking on George street between Sherbrooke and McDonnell on both sides of the street will be for half an hour only and signs will be purchased and erected asking pedestrians to cross intersections protected by traffic lights, only when the light permits it.

Aldermen Dutton, Cotton and Stocker were appointed a sub-committee to interview officials of the local plant of Canada Packers asking them to move the loading platforms, now located on the east side of George street to the rear of the factory on their own premises.

Alderman Gordon, chairman of the committee presided and City Solicitor Wilfred Huycke, K.C. was instructed to take court action where necessary to collect taxes in arrears.

The Queen Alexandra Home and School Association held its opening meeting Monday evening in the Kindergarten room, with the president, Mrs. V. R. Henry, presiding.

An informative talk outlining the new course of study was given by the principal, J. E. R. Munro. The guest speaker was Dr. Murray Fraser, M. O.H., whose fine address on Infantile Paralysis was much appreciated.

The resignation was regretfully accepted of Mrs. S. J. Reynolds, program convenor and representative of the Local Council of Women. Mrs. H. H. Graham was then appointed as program convenor, and Mrs. H. G. Kelfey as representative for the Local Council of Women.

It was decided to have the presentation of entrance certificates on Monday, September 26. A pleasing part of the well-arranged program was a piano solo by Clare Connell, and a tap dance by Shirley Garner and Kenneth Simmons, accompanied at the piano by Margaret Hickson.

Miss D. Walker's room recorded the greatest number of mothers present.

Peterboro Boy Wrote Music For New Hymn

The appearance of the new Book of Common Praise of the Anglican Church, which went on sale on Monday holds more than usual interest for Peterborough church goers. For contained in the book is a hymn whose music was composed by a 16-year-old Peterborough boy.

The youth is Donald Perks, 800 George Street. He is now 18 years old, but he wrote the hymn, his first to be published, two years ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Perks.

Started As Hobby.

The young man has had a spectacular career in music to date. He began to write music three years ago as a hobby, has now completed three hymns and a vocal solo, although he has had only one published as yet.

The hymn in the current edition of the Book of Common Praise has won much acclaim for its youthful composer. It won the bronze medal at the Stratford Festival of Music and the silver medal at the Oxford Musical Festival at Woodstock. In the Quebec Musical Festival at Montreal it was judged third best.

Donald Perks sent the hymn to Toronto when a church publication, "The Living Message," asked for hymn tunes to be submitted. They accepted it and forwarded it to England where it was accepted for use in the new hymn book. The name of Donald E. Perks is at the top of the hymn music, with words by Rev. Henry Hallam Tweedy.

His ambition is to be an organist, Donald Perks said yesterday. He has studied the organ for two years. He has had outstanding success with music, having won 15 medals and 21 certificates for singing and writing music. He has 21 certificates for piano, theory and singing.

Drunken Driver Gets Seven Days

John De Carlo, 25, living at 543 Parnell street was sentenced by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in city court this morning to seven days imprisonment on conviction of a charge of operating a car while intoxicated. DeCarlo pleaded not guilty to the charge and was defended by Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who argued the man was a nervous type and had taken only the usual native wine which he had consumed with his evening meal, an hour before being arrested.

Traffic Officer Clarke testified that he was in civilian clothes and off duty walking towards his home, when he noticed a car driven by DeCarlo swing wide at Edinburgh street, and stop. He said he walked over to the driver who asked where Murray street was. The officer stated there was a strong odor of liquor and that the man while talking to him slumped down over the wheel in an attitude of relaxation. He ordered DeCarlo to move out of the driver's seat and the officer drove the car to the station.

Sergeant Jack Tompson in evidence told of seeing DeCarlo being brought in and that he staggered noticeably and this evidence was corroborated by Constable Puffer.

Drank Homemade Wine

DeCarlo took the stand in his own defence and said he used a home made grape wine at his meals and had done so all his life. On the night in question he admitted that he had drank three wineglasses full of the wine. This was almost a half bottle and not an unusual amount. Then he had been driven by Clarence Campion to the latter's home, and had borrowed Campion's car to make a call on Murray street. He was not familiar with the city north of Hunter street and had missed the turn. He explained that the reason he swung a wide circle at Edinburgh was so that he might see the street name on the corner of the house at that point. He explained further that he leaned over to talk to Constable Clarke and was not slumped over the wheel.

His evidence revealed that he remembered distinctly all of the facts in connection with the arrest, even to being searched and placed in the cells.

Campion was called as a witness for the accused and said DeCarlo had shown no signs of being intoxicated when he came from his home nor when he sat in the car. Campion admitted however that he smelled liquor off the accused's breath. He said DeCarlo was a very nervous type and the employees where he worked had often mentioned the fact that his hands shook noticeably. He told the court he had given accused permission to use the car.

V. J. McElderry, K.C., County Crown Attorney agreed the minimum penalty would be satisfactory in view of the prisoner's good record.

Japs Are Not Near Point Of Exhaustion

Silt and stones washed down from the mountains in the disastrous floods which struck Kobe, Japan, last July filled the streets to the eaves of two story houses, and relief workers walked across the roofs of the half buried homes, Rev. C. Cooper Robinson on leave from Japan for a year's holiday told a reporter Monday.

Mr. Robinson, who has been on the staff at the Canadian Academy at Kobe for the past two years is visiting his old friend, Canon J. Douglas Paterson, rector of All Saints' church, and intends to spend most of the year in Canada.

He described Kobe as a city of a million inhabitants, situated between the mountains and the sea over a three mile area with the buildings extending well up the incline of the mountains. During the rainy season which starts late in June heavy rainfall is not unusual, but this year it rained constantly for six weeks and the floods resulted.

260 Were Killed.

The vast amount of water rushing down from the mountains in newly formed rivers, washed away everything in its path. Tons of earth and rocks, some weighing tons were swept down the streets of the city and piled against houses, stores and street cars. The official count placed the number of dead at 260 but it is believed many hundreds more perished, either being drowned or crushed beneath tons of debris or rocks.

Houses were buried and others were crumpled like paper. Cellars of stores were flooded, street traffic was paralyzed and in many sections stones were piled three feet deep on the main thoroughfares. To add to the disaster, work of rehabilitation was almost half done when another flood swept the district and undone the labor of weeks. Many more houses were carried away in the second disaster and the death toll increased.

Plenty of Food.

Mr. Robinson said he believed it was an erroneous idea that Japan was near the point of exhaustion of its materia lresources because of the Sino-Japanese war. He explained there was a definite and far-reaching anti-waste campaign in the country at the present time, but aside from this there was no visible strain on the people because of the war. There is plenty of food, and the only restrictions so far are on gasoline, cotton, wool and leather. Taxis in Kobe are only allowed a quota of five gallons of gasoline a day, while in the other commodities named there seemed to be a general tightening up, with the use of substitutes becoming more general.

The hostility of the Japanese towards Great Britain, so often mentioned in the newspapers was purely political, he remarked, and added that the friendliest of relations existed between the Japs and the English speaking people in the country. There has been no anti-British demonstrations nor is there much to indicate to any person living in Japan that the country is at war.

He was proud of the existence of the Canadian Academy at Kobe, and in describing this school said all classes are taught from kindergarten through to fifth form high school. The school was begun by the Canadian Methodist mission in Japan years ago as a place where the children of the missionaries might be educated. It has grown until to-day it is the largest school for foreign children in the whole of Japan, and the only Canadian operated school in the entire Near East. A staff of fourteen teach 260 pupils and the pupils in their final year write the Ontario Matriculation examinations. The school is maintained by the United Church of Canada with the co-operation of the other missions. All religions and all nationalities attend. Mr. Robinson was acting principal during the 1937-38 term when the principal, A. A. Parker, was in the United States.

Mr. Robinson was born in Japan and his father was the first missionary of the Anglican church to be stationed in the country. The first nine years of his life were spent there, and after coming to Canada, he was educated at Ottawa and the University of Toronto. When he returned to the country of his birth after serving overseas in the war, it was as a missionary, and later for many years he taught English in the Japanese government college at Nagoya. The last two years he has been housemaster at the boys' dormitory at the Canadian Academy and has taught the Scriptures to the pupils.

Composed Music For Sacred Number

Proud of her son's accomplishment is Mrs. S. H. Perks, 800 George Street, who is seen here as he shows her the hymn whose music he wrote, now published in the new Book of Common Prayer of the Anglican Church. The boy is Donald Perks, 18, who wrote the music when he was 16 years old. The hymn book went on sale on Monday. (Examiner Staff Photo.)

Licenses For Cars Now Being Sold At Half Price Good For 7 Months

LICENSES for cars are selling at half price these days. The bargain was announced today by J. J. Dorris of the Chamber of Commerce, who did not anticipate any great rush on account of the reduced price.

Licenses purchased now are good until March 31, 1939, Mr. Dorris said. Typical reductions are: 8 cylinder cars—heavy, $10, light $5; 6-cylinder cars—heavy, $5, light, $3.50; 4-cylinder cars $1.

There used to be quite a rush on licenses in September in other years, but the reduced prices all through the year has resulted in most people purchasing theirs at the start. "The sale of licenses this year has been higher all along the line," Mr. Dorris said. He thinks he has sold at least 800 more this year than last.

The Mayor's letter was as follows:

"I desire to express to you my sincere hope that the present effort of the local Children's Aid Society to acquaint citizens with the importance of the society's work and the need for financial aid, will receive the success which it merits.

"I have come to have a deep appreciation of the splendid work of your society and its director, Miss Rachel A. D. Young. I congratulate you on the work of the society which has thrown a protecting arm about many children.

"In order that this protection for children may not weaken in this area, I commend your appeal to the citizens."

Hotel In Lindsay Changes Hands

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Sept. 13. — The Hotel Benson, Lindsay's hostelry, is again under new management. Mr. W. Hyatt, who was joint partner in the management with William Nugent, has retired and the hotel in future will be under the management of Mr. Nugent.

Veronica Halligan of Fenelon Falls suffered injuries in that village on the weekend as she hopped off the running board of an automobile, sustaining serious injuries to her right arm. The injured member was placed in a cast, and she will be laid up for some weeks.

Keith Anderson of Minden was admitted to the Ross Hospital as a result of a fall in that village. His arm was badly fractured.

The residence of R. J. McIntosh of Bobcaygeon, situated at Meadow Springs, Pigeon Lake, was burned to the ground on the weekend. The Bobcaygeon fire brigade was called to the scene and did good service. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Provincial police made a clean-up of alleged illicit whisky dispensers during the Kinmount Fair. Provincial Constable Adair placed four men under arrest for illegal possession, while Corporal Woods, R.C.M.P., apprehended a resident of the district, who will be charged with a similar offence.

A club runs the games and turns the funds over to the medical staff. One game attracted 2,200 and netted the hospital $800.

It was regretted that Miss Staunton, who has been in charge of the knitting society, and has knitted many excellent woollen goods to be sent out West, will be absent for a year.

The correspondence read by the secretary included a very interesting letter from the Rev. Father Smye of Milestone, Sask., which gave a graphic description of western life.

The deanery meeting is planned for Thursday, September 29, in St. John's Church, and the speakers will include Sir Henry Drayton, Canon W. P. Robertson, and Rev. H. R. Howden of Lakefield.

The treasurer's report was given by Miss A. Milburn, who announced that a substantial balance is on hand, with all obligations met. Members learned with regret that the vice-president is moving from the city to Bobcaygeon.

Rev. R. T. F. Brain and Canon Robertson came in at the close of the meeting to welcome the members back to the fall term. Refreshments were in charge of Miss E. Clementi and her committee.

Rowland, 1st, Garnet Rickard 2nd, Harry Kennedy 8th and Fred Martin, Hampton 10th.

Fathers' Night Held At H. and S. Meeting

The first fall meeting of the May's Home and School Association which took the form of Fathers' Night, opened Monday evening, and was well attended.

During the business meeting it was decided to give out entrance certificates on October 5, and a talking film is planned as a highlight of the entertainment.

Presentations were made to two of the teachers who joined the staff of City Schools this year, Miss Gertrude Cox, who was given a cut glass cream and sugar set, and Mr. John Londerville, who was presented with a walnut magazine stand. An address to the departing teachers was read by Mrs. R. Allen, and the presentation made by Mrs. K. Denoon. Mr. W. Wedlock, whose marriage took place during the summer, was also honored by the association, when he was presented by Mrs Denoon with a walnut end table. The address was read by Mrs. P. Halliday.

At the finish of the presentations the meeting closed with the National Anthem. A program of contests, and two delightful solos by Mr. Albert Lee were much enjoyed, under the direction of Mrs. J. Cooper, program convenor.

A late luncheon was then served by the social convenor, Mrs. Albert Lee, and members of the executive.

An executive meeting to discuss plans for an Autumn tea is to be held Wednesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. W. H. Wheeler, 29 Brown street.

Three Crowns On One Head Hurting Sport

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—Reporting conditions in the realm of the National Boxing Association in his address to the annual convention that is being held here, Executive Secretary Edward C. Foster rapped as ridiculous the situation of three world's championships being held at one time by Henry Armstrong.

In flaying the situation of Armstrong, Edwards did not belittle the amazing fistic accomplishments of Hurricane Hank. He has all credit for the three-way title holders.

Branding three crowns on one head as discouraging to boxers in all three divisions, Edwards suggests the N.B.A. "take definite stand and make a statement that it does not believe . . . that a champion of one division should engage in a championship contest with the champion of the division above him unles she first relinquishes his title."

Illustrating his belief Armstrong's three-ply championships harm the game, Foster continues "when a boy in the featherweight division is also the champion of the lightweight and welter divisions, what goal has another boxer to look forward to?"

Suggests Czar.

As solution for the complex situation that exists in "one of the large eastern states," Foster proposed appointment of a boxing Czar, but no nominations for such a position were forwarded.

Despite the fact the first world's professional boxing congress in Italy received neither support nor opposition from the New York State commission in the matter of voting on contentious problems, Foster spoke of progress registered at the session that should make boxing the world over more uni form.

Adoption of the no-foul rule was made at the Rome session. Further, no world's title bout conducted in any of the twenty-one countries represented, will be held in future under 15 rounds.

After a civic reception to the 200 delegates by Mayor Adhemar Raynault, the convention opened at the Mount Royal Hotel. It will continue for three days. The opening day saw a brief morning session in which the executive secretary and President Frank Hogan read their addresses. President Hogan emphasized in his remarks the necessity of the N.B.A.'s various members adhering strictly to the suspensions and re-instatements as handed out by the organization.

Many Suspensinos.

During the past year 132 suspensions were issued and 79 re-instatements took place. President Hogan was pleased to report that with one exception (the Michigan State body) the suspensions were rigidly observed. Since the N.B.A.'s main objective is to protect the public and to insure them that a controlling body has been banded together to do their utmost to clean up and keep clean a condition which existed in boxing at the time the association was formed, President Hogan urged all delegates to stand firm behind such suspensions as the N.B.A. saw fit to issue.

Following this morning's meeting, the delegates left for Ste. Agathe where the Montreal Commission entertained. The M.A.C. will also act as host for the visitors this evening at a dinner.

Real Fishermen Are Born Not Made Ex-Deloro Ballplayer Decides

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Sept. 13.—"Fishermen are born not made," says Bill Regan, former manager and third baseman of Deloro's intermediate ball team. His words seem justified in the light of the local 1933 maskinonge season.

For example, Forrest Dennis who spends the summer at his Crowe Lake cottage, has taken his daily catch almost at will, whereas his father and other companions have had the odd bite, but oftener than not no luck at all. But this is the story, Bill Regan tells before sending the aforementioned proverb home.

Over the weekend his son, Donald, and Alphonse Clemens joined him on a fishing trip to Beaver Creek and the two got their count with honors, going to the youngest. Ron was using a light line and soon had a thirteen pound fish putting up a real battle. Offers of held were scorned. "Let's gaff him," suggested the father. "No, don't gaff him," pleaded the son, who finally did the trick alone.

Fox Gains Eighth Chess Title

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP).—Good enough to come third in the recent American Chess Federation championships, Boris Blumin of Montreal found himself supplanted today as Canadian chess champion by Maurice Fox, another Montrealer, who swept through 18 rounds of the eight-day Dominion tournament here suffering only one defeat.

Winner of the title seven times previously, Fox gained his eighth title yesterday as the tournament drew to a close. His one loss was to J. Rauch of Montreal and his 13 victories and four draws for 15 points gave him a 1½ point edge over J. S. Morrison and Harry Belson, both of Toronto.

Because of his good showing in the American tournament, Blumin was a pre-tournament favorite for the championship. But the Montrealer, who won in 1936 and 1937, could only manage a fourth place tie with youthful Abie Yanofsky of Winnipeg and S. Kitces of Montreal. The 14-year-old Yanofsky, Kitces and Blumin were a half-point behind Belson and Morrison.

Bernard Freedman, treasurer of the Canadian Chess Federation, which sponsored the tournament, announced at the conclusion that Canada would send a team of six players to the international team tournament at Buenos Aires in April, 1939. Freedman said four regulars, a spare and one woman player would be taken.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By FRED CRAIG

THE coaching problem of the Peterborough senior O. R. F. U. club has been solved by the announcement from club headquarters, last night, that Bill Irwin, former Balmy Beach star and for years assistant to Alex. Ponton, mentor of the Toronto squad has been appointed as chief coach of the local footballers. He will be assisted by Curly Krug, former Queen's and Argonaut back fielder. The choice will be regarded as a most happy one as Irwin has already sold himself both to the players and to the fans who have been watching the workouts. He has been one of Balmy Beach's mainstays for half a dozen years, is a fine player himself and knows the game thoroughly In addition he has the temperament that should make him an ideal coach, especially for a team such as the local outfit that is making its first plunge into senior ranks and has to be nursed along and built up. Irwin is enthusiastic about the material that has been uncovered here and he is one of those inspirational leaders who have the knack of getting the best out of the men under his guidance. Krug will assist by giving special attention to the back field candidates.

THE rugby squad had one of the best workouts of the season Monday night at Exhibition Park with a squad of almost thirty players out. For the first time some real scrimmage work was done against opposition and the players did not spare themselves as they battled along the line. It was strenuous going and the squad did not escape unscathed, Joe McNulty hurting his foot and other members receiving some souvenirs of the lively practice. Mick Magee warmed up for the big lacrosse game in Woodbridge tonight by cutting loose on the backfield in last night's workout and the towheaded half back was smashing through with plenty of power. He was hooked up on the half line with Loucks and Jerry Creighton and the trio looked good. Ab Leether, Collegiate quarter-back was a new comer out last night and attracted attention from the coaches by the way he handled himself.

• • • • • • •

THERE was another Deadey in action at last night's football practice, Jack, a brother of Leo of Argonaut fame turning out with the squad. Like his brother he is an outside wing who learned his football at Malvern Collegiate and has played three seasons in the junior O. R. F. U. with Toronto Eastsides. He is a likely looking youngster.

BY the way football fans who want to help boost the Peterborough senior squad are being given their opportunity at Brock Street Gardens Wednesday night when a booster dance will be held on behalf of the club. Every dance will be a prize dance and there will be a special door prize of a wrist watch. These prizes are on exhibition in Ed. Rilye's window and are well worth looking over and incidentally winning. There should be a record crowd at the Gardens to dance to the swing music of Del Crary and at the same time to give Peterborough's senior rugby entry a helping hand. It will be a big night all round.

A SCOUT from the Mcntyre Mines was in town yesterday in search of hockey material. He was especially interested in Bill Calladine and Bunny Kingdon but failed to get into touch with the latter who is at present on a holiday trip to Chicago.

Lacrosse Game Friday

IT has been definitely decided that the return game in the senior B Lacrosse playoff between Woodbrige and Peterborough will be played here on Friday night, instead of on Thursday as originally announced. Friday night has been developed as Lacrosse night in Peterborough and for that reason the local management asked and was successful in having the second game switched from Thursday to the next night. The first game of the series will be played in Woodbridge tonight and the Peterborough squad is confident of holding the opposition in check tonight and winning the thing here Friday. Goals and not games will decide this series.

• • • • • • •

OTHER sports cut into the rugby practices to considerable extent. Four of the football squad, Bob Doll, Eddie Murphy, Leo Deadey and Charlie Kearns are with the Peterborough ball club and are not anxious to take any chances of getting hurt with the Ontario playoffs looming up while Mick Magee, Jerry Creighton and Loucks are with the lacrosse club, also about to begin the playoffs.

• • • • • • •

HAMMERING Hank Greenberg, Detroit first baseman cracked out his fiftieth home run of the season Monday and is now only ten circuit clouts behind Babe Ruth's record of 60 runs in a campaign. Thus Greenberg has a good chance to beat the Ruthian mark, as he is four games ahead of the Babe's schedule. He will however have to better a homer every two games for the rest of the season and that is quite a task, particularly as the Detroit powerhouse has the habit of going into a slump every now and then. The nearest anybody has come to equalling the Bambino's record was Jimmy Foxx's 58 some years ago. Incidently this year promises to see one home run record set up inasmuch as Foxx now has 44 round trips to his credit and a royal chance of boosting his total to 50 or better, making this the first season in which two players have made half a hundred homers.

No Playoff Word

PETERBOROUGH ball club officials are bombing the O. B. A. A. head-quarters with inquiries as to the senior playoff arrangements but so far they have received no definite word as to the next games for the Petes. They are hopeful, however, of having the T. A. B. A. winners play here Saturday in the first game of the second round series. Meanwhile, Hamilton and Niagara have tied their round with one victory each and Stratford and Windsor who were to have started their series Saturday were rained out and will tie into each other this week The mixup in the T. A. B. A. round robin series is causing all the uncertainty so far as the Petes opposition is concerned. Danforth Aces and G. and W. are scheduled to play tonight and the Petes are hopeful of a win for the former as that woud eliminate the G. and W. outfit and clear up the situation considerably. A win then for Danforth over Bright's would give the Aces the title and pave the way for a game here Saturday.

• • • • • • •

SO far Peterborough's senior rugby entry has been getting along without a nick name and that will never do. Imagine the Hamilton team without the familiar Tiger name attached or Ottawa without the Rough Rider title or Sarnia minus the "Imperials". The local squad should have a playing name and we imagine that somewhere in Peterborough there is a fan who knows just the right kind of a handle to attach to the local squad. We will be glad to act as a sort of clearing house for suggestions so you football enthusiasts are invited to send in to us your ideas as to what the Peterborough football team should be called.

ROY COVERT, former local hockey and softball player, had a big part in making it possible for local fans to see today's clash between Oshawa Varcoes and the Point Anne team. It was Covert's long home run that tied up the second game when the Varcoes were facing elimination and then in the ninth frame, with the score all even, it was Covert who started the winning rally with a single and later who carried the winning run in to put the Oshawa tteam on even terms with Point Anne and make a third game necessary.

OSHAWA will have both Junior "A" and Junior "B" hockey teams this winter but there will be no senior club, according to word from the Motor City. The Times sports writer says "the players who came home or moved here are now making plans to leave again and the only other solution seems to be an intermediate team—if somebody will run one."

• • • • • • •

DESE, Dem and Dose—The senior rugby club will hold nightly practices this week and they promise to be lively affairs as the battle for positions is now on. Collegiate footballers were scheduled to hold their first practice yesterday but the initial drill was postponed until today....Balmy Beach, somewhat short of players has dug up a couple of new wing men and Alex Ponton is reported as breathing easier ....Senior footballers may spend the week-end at the Jackson Cottage at Chemong Lake as a training stunt....Little news from local hockey headquarters these days....Peterborough's pitching staff is in good shape for the O. B. A. A. playoffs. No sore arms are reported among the four....Better call it a day, Mac.

Chess Wizard 14, Fourth In Tourney Worries About Time Off At School

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP).—It's to school now for Abie Yanofsky, the 14-year-old Winnipeg chess wizard who took "valuable" time out to participate in the Canadian chess championships here and who likely will be a member of the Candian team going to an international tournament next April at Buenos Aires.

The Canadian tournament, completed here yesterday, and in which he came fourth, meant nearly two week away from school for the slender Winnipeg lad. Abie isn't worried about being able to catch up for a mind that can cope with intricate chess problems should see him easily through his school term, but he still doesn't like to skip classes.

"I guess I can make up the lost time all right but you never can tell. Maybe it won't be so good for me in the long run. And just think, if I'm picked for the Canadian team to play at Buenos Aires it will mean taking a lot more time off from school."

Abie just shrugged his thin shoulders when it was suggested he might be nervous playing against some of the world greats at the international tournament.

"I wouldn't be playing first board for Canada even if I'm picked on the team," he said. "Our Canadian champion probably would be first man. But even if I was playing fourth board it would still mean playing some good players and I could learn a lot from them."

Windsor And Stratford In Playoff Wednesday

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 13 (C.P.).—Windsor Moose Lodge of the City Baseball League and the famed Stratford Nationals will open their Senior Ontario Baseball Association playoff series here on Wednesday. Rain forced postponement of the first game at Stratford on Saturday with the Nats leading 4-0 after two innings. Second game will be played in Stratford on Saturday.

Manager Bert Libby of the Windsor team was forced to place three pitchers in the line-up at Stratford when one automobile of a Windsor caravan failed to reach Stratford in time.

Up to the present time our boys and girls have been fairly successful playing at tournaments around the district, and while this is in no way a complete list of winners, it just touches on the ones who have won trophies. Maybe before the season is over we may be able to add a couple more:

July 8—men's rinks, at Peterborough—Tip-Top Trophy — Skip B. Chesler.

30 Years' Lighting

WELLAND, Ont., Sept. 13. —(C. P.). — Thirty years' service isn't bad for an electric light bulb. Mrs. Charles Collins here has one bought in 1908 which has been in constant use on her back porch since then. It's still strong enough to light a room.

Jacobs And Riggs Get Dusted By Lumb, Hunt

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 13 (AP).—All was more or less chaos in the United States tennis championships today, what with both Bobby Riggs, the No. 2 United States star, and Helen Jacobs, the country's grandest feminine competitor, dusting themselves off.

They were slapped down without ceremony yesterday. Riggs got his lump from Gilbert Hunt, Jr., of Washington, D.C., who was ranked No. 19 in the United States last year, and Helen fell apart before the thumping left-hand drives of Margot Lumb of England, the world's greatest woman squash player.

Riggs, who was expected to play Jack Bromwich of Australia in the semi-finals, recovered sufficiently to say it would be a great lesson to him.

"Maybe I've played a little too much tennis," he admitted. "This was about my 20th tournament this year. I'm going back to Chicago and go to work, and before next summer I'm going to learn to play a forcing game."

Hunt discovered he could reach the net by whipping the ball to Bobby's deep backhand, and once he got to the forecourt he volleyed like a fiend. The scores were 6-2, 0-6, 9-7, 0-6, 6-4. Hunt literally threw two sets away at love and saved his own energy for the big effort.

In blowing Miss Jacobs off the court, 7-5, 6-2, Miss Lumb revealed she has developed into a dangerous tennis contender. She took up tennis seriously because she had run out of real competition in squash.

Somerville Fires 79 In Qualifier; Goodman Cards A 76 As Near Cloudburst Hits Links

By Judson Bailey
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

OAKMONT, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP).—Chips were down today at Oakmont, the old ogre of golf, and as usual under such circumstances Johnny Goodman was in there dealing for the United States amateur championship.

Having his worst year in a long and notable golfing career, the defending champion from Omaha nevertheless came through yesterday's firing four strokes off the first round pace for medalist honors with a steady effort worth the attention of the other 123 contenders left in the field. They are shooting for 64 spots in the match play bracket.

Johnny splashed right through a near cloudburst at a 39-37—76 gait which rivalled the performances of leaders who played under better conditions.

Arrayed against him today were all but one of the five other one-time amateur kings who set forth yesterday in the 18-hole first half of the qualifying test.

Leading the field was stocky Maurice McCarthy of Cincinnati who won the United States intercollegiate championship a decade ago while at Georgetown and added to his fame by beating George Von Elm at Merion, Pa., in 1930 in the record overtime match, winning on the 10th extra hole.

McCarthy Cards 73.

Troubled by hay-fever and a drizzle which misted his eye glasses as well as the still impregnable fortress that Oakmont's par remains, he wrote a 37-35—72 right alongside the par figures and there was none who could bring it down.

Merlin Luther of Fort Erie, Ont., was the shakiest of the three Canadians in the tournament, taking an 88. However, from yesterday's scores it appeared a pair of 81st might be good enough to qualify for to-morrow's match play, so further could not be counted out by any means as the second half of the qualifying round got underway.

Joe Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., shot steady golf for a five-over part 77, while C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, trying for the United States title he won in 1932 at Baltimore, fired 79.

Thompson carried a 41 coming home after shooting 36 on the outgoing nine holes. Somerville played even part for the first seven holes but lost three strokes on the eighth and ninth for a 40 and went four over par on the back stretch, carding 39.

Still Packs Punch

As ballplayers' ages go Al Simmons, ABOVE, is getting along in years but the veteran Washington outfielder is still banging that ball around and despite his unorthodox habits at the plate looks as if he will hammer over 100 runs again this year and tie the record for having done that little thing in 13 different seasons a mark now held jointly by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Name Conacher Referee-In-Chief

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—When the National Hockey League meeting is held in Toronto, Lionel Conacher, who ended his hockey career as a defence played with Maroons, may be appointed referee-in-chief.

Local hockey men said that Conacher had been prominently mentioned for the resurrected job and that no other candidates appeared to be in the running.

Riders Smash Bombers Down By 7-0

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13 (C.P.). — The greatest Roughrider machine in Regina's star-studded football history remains undefeated and unscored upon in this Western Interprovincial Union season.

Undaunted by the loss through injury of their all-star snapback and coach, Dean Griffing, Riders broke down Winnipeg Blue Bombers' defences with a battering fourth-quarter attack last night to hand Bombers their first defeat this year, a 7-0 reverse under floodlights before a record crowd of 6,300 jamming Osborne Stadium.

After three scoreless quarters, the Riders gradually edged Bombers back into their own territory and Howard Cleveland kicked to the deadline for the first point.

Then, with less than three minutes to play, Bombers took to the air. Two short forward passes were completed, but on a third attempt Leo Danaher, Regina half-back, intercepted a toss from Russ Rebholz on the Bomber 40-yard line. He crashed through several tacklers by sheer power, then sprinted wide for a touchdown. Bert Nelson converted from placement just at the final gun.

The Bomber defence could not hold Danaher on line smashes and twice in the early quarters he broke through for gains of 337 and 35 yds. In the clear he showed an amazing turn of speed for a 190-pounder.

Riders made eight first downs rushing to Bombers' seven and gained 204 yards' rushing to Winnipeg's 69. Bombers' only superiority was in forward-passing. They completed seven of 12 passes for a total gain of 118 yards, while Riders failed to complete a pass in four tries. Each team intercepted one pass, the single Bomber miscue resulting in Danaher's last-minute touchdown.

2 Ottawa Pros Are Favored

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 13.—(CP).—Two tiny Ottawa professionals who have shown ability to turn back threats to their titles were favorites to-day at the start of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship at Cataraqui Club here.

Stan Horne, the defending champion, and Bobby Alston, Ontario open titlist the last two years, have been winning crowns regularly in the last two years despite the superior driving of such siege guns as Robert T. Gray, Jr., of Toronto Scarboro, and Willie Lamb of Toronto Lambton, three times P.G.A. winner.

Horne, who came up to the front rank from the caddies' house at Lookout Point Country Club, Fonthill, Ont., won the Dominion professionals' tourney for the first time two years ago. He held the title last year in the face of improved golf from almost every player in the tournament.

The field will play 36 holes to-day and wind up the event to-morrow with 36 more.

All Good Friends Now – But There Was a Time

Drinking toasts to each other are three famous speed demons, representing the same number of countries. LEFT to RIGHT, Kaye Don, England, Count Theo Rossi, Italy, and Gar Wood, United States. For Don and Wood it was a historic meeting, one of friendship and good will, one far different from their last one seven years ago when they were pitted against each other in the race for the Harmsworth Trophy. It was on that famous occasion that Wood tricked his opponent across the starting line, almost cost him his life, and started an international controversy. Seven years later they meet to toast each other and Count Rossi, winner of the Labor Day Gold Cup race on the same St. Clair River that was the setting for their famous near-tragic race.

Cost $68,600

Early in August the Arsenal, famous London football team in the first division of the English league, parted with $68,600 to secure the services of Byrn Jones, ABOVE, inside forward, who formerly played for Wolverhampton Wanderers. The price was an all-time high for the purchase of a soccer player and the Welsh international came through in the first game of the season, played before 58,000 people, to score the first goal as the Arsenal defeated Portsmouth, 2-0.

26 Players Out Mustang Squad

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 13 (CP).—Twenty-six candidates including several newcomers attended the initial drill held by the University of Western Ontario senior rugby squad Monday. Clem Faust, formerly of Hamilton and Dundas, and Osborne Cox, former quarterback of McMaster University, were among the newcomers.

Faust, a fast-moving player, is a quarterback. Cox played snap for McMaster and will likely share the duties with George Willis, captain of the Mustangs.

Herb Hollingsworth and Don McGill, graduates of Malvern Collegiate Institute, Toronto, joined the squad. Hollingsworth is a middle wing and is eligible to play senior this season. McGill is a halfback, but is not qualified to play senior rugby this fall.

Lyn Thompson, former Balmy Beach halfback, was not in uniform but it was announced that he would report within a day or two.

Jimmy Farmer, sturdy halfback, reported weighing 200 pounds. He may be moved to the line. George Willis appeared to be in the pink of condition and was enthused over the new prospects who reported on opening day.

Coaches Bill Storen and Johnny Metras devoted the greater part of the drill to conditioning. The equipment was issued and physical examinations were held.

Several of last year's regulars will bolster the squad today. It is expected that there will be at least thirty-five players in the camp.

Tackling and blocking will be started almost immediately in an effort to have the team in shape for the opening exhibition game of the season which will be played here September 24, when the Royal Military College will offer the opposition.

Greenberg Hits His Fiftieth Homer To Help Detroit Tigers Trounce White Sox By 4-3

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

It's the only race left in the American League, since the Yankees are only seven games away from clinching the pennant, but the test of Hank Greenberg of 1938 against Babe Ruth of 1927 is just about as close as the National League pennant chase.

Hank hit his 50th home run of the season yesterday to help Detroit's out-of-the-running Tigers whip Chicago White Sox, 4-3, in the only game on the major league schedule. He has to hit 11 more to beat Ruth's all-time record of 60, made in 1927.

Greenberg has 20 games, almost all of them in the home park, in which to make those 11 homers. The Babe hit his 50th in his record-breaking year in the 138th game of the season then finished off at about the pace Hank will have to follow—a homer every two games.

Hank's homer yesterday broke a 2-2 tie in a neat mound duel between Al Benton and Jack Knott. A couple of innings later he scored the winning run on Rudy York's double.

In his latest spurt, the Tiger first sacker has connected for four circuit swats in the last four games. On that basis, he should have at least as good a chance of beating out the Babe as Pittsburgh's Pirates have of reaching the end of the season before some rival catches up to them.

Pirates and Giants?

Starting a final East-West series, the National League race continues as the "hot" news in the major leagues. The Pirates have a chance in the next few days to dispose finally of what threat the New York Giants still can make. Victors in 12 out of 19 encounters, the Bucs play three games against the fourth-place Giants, who now are 5½ games behind.

Their closest rivals, Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds, have the same chance to fatten their records against the weaker Eastern clubs, however, and the real test probably won't start until September 24, when the next Pittsburgh-Cincinnati series begins.

These clubs meet seven times in the last ten days of the season, while the Buc tackle Chicago three times. The showdown, obviously, will come right there.

The clinching point in the American League should arrive much sooner. The Yankees, 15 games ahead of Boston and 15½ in front of the Cleveland Indians, invade Cleveland to-day. The Red Sox follow them. And if those encounters don't settle the matter, the Yanks should pick up enough other victories on the side while they're in the West.

W. G. Hetherington Is Laid To Rest

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Sept. 13. — The death of Walter Guy Hetherington, which occurred in the early hours of Friday morning following some months of ill-health, removed a well-known and respected citizen from the community who had been born and brought up at Millbrook, and his entire life having been spent here.

Mr. Hetherington, who was in his fifty-eighth year, was the second son of the late Guy Hetherington, and his wife, Minnie Wallace, both of the families represented by his parents having been pioneer settlers in the village or its immediate vicinity, and their history interwoven with its activities along social, church, and community lines.

Mr. Hetherington held the Crown deed of the farm, just east of the village, which he inherited from his father, and which has been in the Wallace and Hetherington families the boy to his parents.

consecutive years. It was one of the first opened up in Cavan Township, and adjacent to it was the fine farm which his grandfather, the late Squire Hetherington, owned and cultivated, and which also dates back to pioneer days in the township.

Mr. Hetherington had a lifelong connection with the Methodist and United Churches, and was outstandingly faithful in attendance and support. He followed his father as treasurer of St. Andrew's Sunday School, and had the unusual record of holding this office for thirty-eight consecutive years, being absent from his place only five Sundays in all that time, until within recent months when gradually declining health made it impossible for him to continue to attend the school sessions. For many years, ever since the late R. W. Clarke resigned the office and moved to the West to make his home, Mr. Hetherington capably filled the position of recording steward of St. Andrew's Church, and he was also a valued member of the Board of Stewards. In politics he was a Conservative, and in his business career followed his father as an agent for a number of insurance companies, including the Gore, the London Canada, the Liverpool, London, and Globe, the Royal, the Phoenix, and the Western.

He had never married, and the sole immediate surviving relative is one sister, Estella Louise, organist of St. Andrew's Church, at home. The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place on Sunday at 1.30 p.m., from his late residence, King Street East, and the service being conducted by Rev. A. L. Sisco, pastor of the deceased, assisted by his cousin, Rev. C. E. Cragg of Toronto. The pall-bearers were members of the church Board, and included W. H. Coombe, F. A. Kidd, G. E. Burnham, J. A. Brown, W. F. Fallis, and J. H. Might. The flower-bearers were personal friends of the deceased: A. Payne, Ken Kidd, T. Douglas, Earl Edworthy, Arnold Larmer, and Ernest Powell. Interment was in the family burial-plot at Gardiner's Cemetery.

Among those from outside points attending the funeral were Rev. C. E. and Mrs. Cragg, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Payne, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Might, and Mr. and Mrs. George Might of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tully, R. Thompson-Curry, his daughter Mrs. Hagerman and her son Bobby, Miss Emma Might of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O'Hara, Perth; Arnold Larmer of Oshawa.

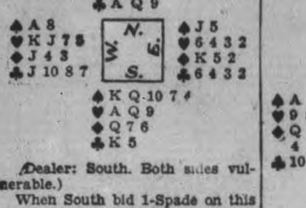
UNNECESSARY NEWS

HUNDREDS, yes many thousands of players, have a tendency nowadays to overdo the matter of showing a new suit after their partners open the bidding. That is all very well and good if the partner had started with a minor suit or no trump. But if he bid a major suit and you hold four cards of it, telling him about another suit is usually news more valuable to the opponents in the later play than to your partner in the bidding. Raise him, as a rule, to the justifiable height when you have four of his suit, unless, perhaps, you have stoppers in all other suits and so like no trump.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

When South bid 1-Spade on this deal and North responded with 2-Diamonds, South was uncertain as to just what his next best response was. He hated to jump the bid in spades because the suit was not too solid and thought 2-Spades or 2-No Trumps too weak. He therefore decided on 3-No Trumps. When North then went to 4-No Trumps, South felt that North must have a very strong hand, so bid 5-Diamonds to show some sort of a fit there and put the problem up to North. When North's next bid was 5-Spades, South went to 5-No Trumps and North to six.

The club J was opened and won with the K. The spade A was driven out and a diamond had to be given up later, so that the contract was down one.

The whole trouble came from North's bad bid of 2-Diamonds, when holding four trumps. His correct bid was 2-Spades and then South would have bid 4-Spades or perhaps chance 3-No Trumps if he felt like shooting. If North should then feel like inviting slam with 4-No Trumps, South should sign off at 5-Spades.

Draper Calls For Ontario Workers Right To Organize; Heenan Backs Jobless Insurance

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 13—(CP)—P. M. Draper, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Monday asked Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests to induce the provincial government to bring in a bill allowing workers to organize. The Congress "would keep knocking at the door" until it got such legislation."

Mr. Draper spoke informally after Mr. Heenan addressed the convention as a representative of Hon. Norman Hipel, Ontario's newly appointed Labor Minister. Mr. Heenan said Ontario "Can't wait" for federal unemployment insurance and hoped to be a member of the government which would introduce such a plan at the next legislature session.

"For the last two sessions of the Ontario legislature I presented a bill to Hon. M. F. Hepburn asking for the right of the workers to organize in this province," said Dr. Draper. "Under the British North America Act that legislation is placed squarely on the doorsteps of the nine provinces."

Points to Examples

Mr. Draper was pleased Nova Scotia and New Brunswick passed the bill and Quebec passed enabling legislation. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia had similar legislation.

"The point I want to make is this—the Province of Ontario the largest, wealthiest and most representative of the workers has failed to date to pass this legislation.

"In the name of the Congress, in the name of the 175,000 workers it represents, I ask Mr. Heenan to place this before the Premier and his colleagues in order that we may expect the government may bring down a bill at the next session giving the right to workers in hisp rovince to organize."

Mr. Heenan recalled the Dominion government last year asked the provinces to change the British North American Act to bring in national unemployment insurance. Ontario "gave the federal government a blank cheque but some of the other provinces did not."

"We can't wait," Mr. Heenan added. "The province of Ontario is big enough that if nobody else will do it we will take the lead.

2 Freighters Ground In Fog Near Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 13 (AP).—A package freighter and an iron ore carrier were sent aground near here yesterday by fog.

Great Lake tugs went to the assistance of the Pittsburg Steamship Company's Governor Miller, hard aground abreast Round Island in Upper St. Mary's River. Building New Mill

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., Sept. 13 — (CP). — Construction of the new 12-ton pulp mill planned here by a newly organized company has been under way a week, it was reported today.

An office building has been completed already. H. B. Gibbs, manager of the organization, said the mill building itself would be finished within 10 days.

Groundwood shipments will be made dry, by using a new dehydrating process, thus saving $3.50 a ton on freight charges to the United States.

With The Boy Scouts

At a round table conference on Tuesday the St. John's Rover Crew discussed fully the suggested items for the season's activities and several interesting items have been slated for some two months ahead. Each rover is fully warned that it must be a legitimate excuse to be absent. Also each boy must name a hobby and bring some object of his hobby to the den to show his fellow members what he does. Only one present could not name a hobby.

At headquarters, a scouters' meeting was held under the chairmanship of District Commissioner J. T. Hornsby. Many good points were brought forward by the officers present and suggestions for activities of the Peterborough City District for the coming season, were brought forward.

Among these items were: Scout jamboree, Cub jamboree, Sports day, Scout craft shows, etc. It is regretable to note that the scout masters are nearly always in the minority at these meetings. The cub leaders always turn out in good numbers.

Another item that I think was overlooked and one we have really neglected in the past. What about a scout toy shop. We have a headquarters now, and I feel that something could be done along this line. What do you other scouters think. Let us have your candid opinion.

We understand that the Scout Apple Day is forging ahead. Only one committee has failed to function up to date, and that is my own.

Several well-known gentlemen have offered their services along this line and we wish Scouter Sturrock and his Apple Day every success. Why not set the objective at say $500.00?

Some 32 boys attended the first fall meeting of St. John's cub pack Friday last.

The meeting consisted mainly of games, a sing-song, and mass instruction on cub promise, cub law, pack rules, cub salute, and parade circle. The instructions were given by Akela, Baloo, and Bagheera.

All cubs are asked to have their parents check over their progress charts and sign same; then the charts are to be brought back next Friday.

All cubs are asked to be present next Friday for the reorganization of some of the sixes. The pack membership will be decreased to the 36, according to the standard set by headquarters last year; some 42 boys were on the roll.

A pack bicycle hike is being organized for next Saturday. Details will be given next Friday.

Keep in mind the pack's paper collection Saturday, September 24. Help us to make it a real success. On Saturday last a hike was held to the 10th Concession; an enjoyable day was spent in wide games and explorations.

Attention.

St. Paul's wolf cubs. The pack will start their fall activities on Friday next, and Akela Miss Bull would like to see all the old lads back in the parade circle; so let us all go.

Sacred Heart Cub pack started off in good style when some 24 boys turned up, only two short of the total roll.

The evening was one of great interest. Several new games being introduced whilst the Red Flower was concluded with a good old corn roast.

Mr. Drum and Mr. and Mrs. Grady were guests of the evening, and had pleasure in witnessing their sons take the cub promise before their comrades in the parade circle. The happy boys were Tommy Drum and Vernon Grady.

Saturday afternoon witnessed another cub investiture, when Kenneth Coss joined the great brotherhood of scouts, by making his cub promise to Akela before the pack. His parents were present at the ceremony.

Afterwards the pack hiked out to the filtration plant, learning of the way in which city waters are purified; after which a treasure hunt for a jack-knife and candies brought to a close a perfect afternoon.

The pack will meet every Thursday night at 6.30 p.m.

The parents of the Sacred Heart pack are asked to meet in the headquarters hut at 8.30 p.m. to-night, immediately after evening devotions. Please do your best to attend.

A meeting of the rover council will be held on Wednesday, September 21, unless unforseen circumstances change that date. So, Rovers, prepare your representatives.

—The Skipper.

Mechanic Forgets Space For Air In Sub Nearly Dies On Trial Cruise

Chicago, Sept. 13.

IT took Barnesy Connett 10 hours and 50 minutes to cross Lake Michigan in his home-made submarine, shaped like a whale, but disaster almost overtook him.

The 32-year-old mechanic nearly collapsed from lack of oxygen yesterday while covering the 38 miles from Michigan City, Ind., to Chicago.

He was taken aboard a sloop which accompanied him on the hazardous trip. Barney spent 45 minutes recuperating while the big steel sub filled with fresh air. Then, like a sardine in a can, he climbed back, adjusted his four-foot periscope and continued his trip at three miles an hour under calm waters.

Connett said he spent six years building his submarine which is 11 feet long, 37 inches high, 23 inches wide and weighs 1,050 pounds.

Kiwanians Plan Big Carnival

The Kiwanis Karnival will be held on September 29 and 30, and on the concluding evening some lucky ticket holder will probably win the Dream House.

The two-day carnival will be held at the Armouries and club officials are busy planning new games for their patrons. They promise one of the best carnivals in years, are assured of excellent crowds on the final evening at least.

The Dream House is nearly completed now and will soon be opened for inspection, probably around the 17th or 18th of the month. It will probably be completely furnished from one end to the other, although the furniture will not be a part of the house when it is won. Merchants are cooperating with the club to furnish the house for its official opening.

Extremely Deadly New Nazi Bomb A Secret Spys Unable To Crack

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP).—United States army circles here new implement of war, little is understand that one of Germany's most closely guarded secrets is a new type of air bomb as revolutionary in character as it is mysterious in its composition and dangerous to enemy lives.

Despite months of effort abroad to crack the secret of this startling new implemgent of war, little is yet known of it here except that it is made of material lighter and more durable than aluminum and is filled with liquid air for its explosive.

This information came from Barcelona, Spain, where such bombs were used about six months ago in a three-day series of raids.

Because of the property damage, destruction of life and demoralization to the people, the raids at the time were reckoned as the worst in history. Preliminary casualty figures were 512 killed and 1,600 injured. That was more than half as many casualties as London suffered during all the Great War air raids.

Although of slight penetrating force, the new type bomb caused terrific damage through its explosive and gas expansion force. ePople were killed an eighth of a mile from the larger bombs and stunned a quarter mile away.

Paris To Call 2 Million More Troops

Shapes Eight Classes For Mobilizing Total Of 4 Million

PARIS, Sept. 14. —(C. P.). —The French government was reported in informed quarters today to have completed plans for speedy mobilization of 2,000,000 more men, or eight classes of army reserves, in case a new grave turn in the European situation makes it necessary.

It is estimated there already are about 2,000,000 men under arms in the French Empire, hence such mobilization would swell the total to 4,000,000.

The classes from 1931 back to 1924 would be included, meaning that men from 27 to 34 years old, inclusive, would be called.

It was said the question of mobilization of more men was one of the main matters considered by Premier Edouard Daladier last night and then was held in abeyance until this morning, when a postponement of proposed mobilization was decided upon.

Ready in Advance.

Mobilization, it was pointed out, would be a natural move if the situation took a sudden, acute turn. Thus it was not considered surprising that plans were completed for its orderly execution. Whether these plans will be put into effect depends upon developments.

A grave view was taken of the situation, despite the clamor of the press for a peaceful solution. Reports from Prague, Berlin, London and other capitals were studied closely for any turn in the situation.

Premier Edouard Daladier passed the day at the Ministry of War.

He conferred with Leon Blum, Socialist leader, this afternoon on what was reported to be a plan for possible formation of a National Union Government, representing all political parties.

Closest contact was being kept with London and views were exchanged at frequent intervals by telephone.

(For story as to Demands for Inquiry, see Page 7.)

TORONTO, Sept. 14. —(C. P.).—Dr. E. R. Frankish, medicolegal expert of the Attorney-General Department left today for Peterborough to conduct an autopsy on the body of Miss Harriet B. Reid, 71, who died Sunday in the Ontario Mental Hospital, Whitby.

Funeral services for Miss Reid, scheduled for today were permitted to be held, Attorney-General Conant stated, but the remains were not interred. The body will be held for post-mortem examination.

Whether an inquest will be held depends upon Dr. Frankish's findings, the coroner's report and other investigation now being made.

Britons Weary Of Tension

LONDON, Sept. 14 (C.P. Cable).—While Britain's leaders studied latest reports of the deepening European crisis to-day, Britain's citizens wondered what the outcome would be.

Newspaper posters proclaiming "Sudeten Ultimatum" and "War—Unless" were met at every street corner.

The man in the street is not worried easily, but is growing weary of constant tension and unending crisis. There is a feeling that matters must come to a head soon.

Some Americans have inquired concerning means of getting home quickly should war come. "One or two" Candians have made similar inquiries, it was learned at Canada House, but steamship companies said they had not noticed any increase in demand for passages across the Atlantic.

Under the heading, "The Twelfth Hour," the Financial News said that at the moment the world's peace hangs by a thread.

King George Speeds To London

War Chiefs In Huddle; German Troops Said On The Move

By J. F. Sanderson
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(CP Cable.)—A statement from Buckingham Palace to-day announced the King would return to London from Balmoral Castle to-night to discuss the grave international situation with his ministers.

The announcement came as the Cabinet met in emergency session at 10 Downing street for the second time this week to hear the recommendations of the chiefs of naval, military and air forces who conferred last night with the Ministry's "Big Four."

The following statement was issued at Buckingham Palace:

"The King, who was proposing to travel south on Thursday night for the funeral of H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught, has decided to proceed to London to-night to have further time for discussion of the international situation with his ministers."

The last time a King broke a holiday in Scotland because of an emergency was when the late King George V hurried to London in 1931 in the midst of the economic crisis that resulted in formation of the National government.

His Majesty planned to return alone, leaving Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses at Balmoral.

War Council Meets.

While the peace of Europe swayed in the balance, Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, conferred with the ministers in charge of the three defence forces and their chiefs of staff.

The recommendations of this "war council" were discussed at a full cabinet meeting today.

The alarming disorders in Czechoslovakia, including martial law and the Sudeten ultimatum against it, loomed large in the cabinet discussions. It was thought possible the cabinet might announce comprehensive, far-reaching precautionary measures of defence, depending upon the degree of gravity with which the situation is viewed in the light of all available information.

Closest contacts have been maintained between the British and French general staffs. It is understood information is exchanged twice daily, particularly reports of German troops concentrations along the borders.

German Troops Moving?

London was full of rumors of new German troop concentrations on the frontier.

There was no adverse criticism here of the Czechoslovak government's declaration of martial law and other defence measures yesterday in the Sudeten district in an effort to quell disorders which started just after Chancellor Hitler's final speech at Nuremberg Monday attacking Czechoslovakia.

On the other hand, a Sudeten demand that the martial law orders be withdrawn was generally considered impudent.

The Times (Independent) said, "Herr Henlein (Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German party leader must know that the acceptance of his demand by the government would be abdication."

BULLETIN

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP).—It was officially announced tonight that Prime Minister Chamberlain would fly to Germany tomorrow to see Reichsfuehrer Hitler and "try and find a peaceful solution to the crisis which is menacing world peace."

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (CP-Havas). — The German broadcasting service announced tonight Chancellor Hitler had received an urgent message from Prime Minister Chamberlain asking a talk with the Fuehrer.

Chancellor Hitler replied he was ready to see Mr. Chamberlain tomorrow at Berchteisgaden, his Bavarian mountain retreat, the announcement said.

Von Ribbentrop Is Called To See Hitler

BERLIN, Sept. 14—(AP).—Chancellor Hitler to-day called Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop to meet him at Munich to discuss what Germany might do in the face of what Nazis called the "new situation" in Czechoslovakia.

Germans generally expected Hitler to make some move, if only a public statement, in view of his warnings to Czechoslovakia in Monday night's speech at Nuremberg, in which he proclaimed his will to protect the Sudeten Germans.

The German Government has maintained a complete silence so far on new disorders in the Sudeten area and the Prague Government's emergency measures to suppress them.

While the Fuehrer and the Foreign Minister conferred in the brown stone Nazi headquarters in Munich, a multitude of rumors circulated in Berlin, causing considerable excitement.

Most of the rumors, such as the reported closing of the Czechoslovak-German frontier, and the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Prague, were promply denied by officials.

Goebbels Breaks Custom

Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels considered the situation so serious he departed from custom and personally gave his views to Berlin's chief editorial writers and correspondents of provincial newspapers at the morning press conference.

The Nazi press meanwhile raged at Czechoslovakia for imposing marshall law in Sudeten German towns, declaring "Europe is under the stamp of terror."

The official German news agency DNB, quoted "informed quarters" denying foreign reports of a "partial German mobilization."

Hitler's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, carried detailed accounts of the disorders in Czechoslovakia under the headline: "Shootings, Outrages, Murder, Martial Law."

One person close to the government privately defined Germany's position as one of "watchful waiting," an attitude which "may change any minute."

Nazi quarters regarded yesterday's demands by Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten party leader, for revocation of martial law steps as logical demands in view of the strained situation, but not an ultimatum.

The newspaper arguments had a familiar ring of the days before Austrian annexation—that a responsible government no longer was "master of the situation."

The Berliner Boersen Zeitung declared, for example: "With lively acclaim of a friendly press of Western democracies, the Czechs maintained time and again they were in position to guarantee order and peace in the land. In what a state Czech order and peace really is,—that is demonstrated by the latest bloody incidents."

40 Dead In Pitched Battles As Frontier Nazi Mobs Open Fire On Czech Police

Troop Reinforcements Said Using Tanks With Heavy Firing On Both Sides; U.S. Advises Nationals To Leave Berlin

PRAGUE, Sept. 14 (AP).—Fighting between Czechoslovak gendarmes and Sudeten Germans armed with machine-guns, rifles and hand grenades at various towns in the Sudeten region near the German frontier today resulted in at least 40 deaths.

PRAGUE, Sept. 14 (AP).—Dispatches from the Sudeten border region tonight said 2,000 Sudeten Germans, using rifles, machine-guns and throwing hand grenades, had attacked the Czechoslovak gendarmerie station at Schwaderback near the German frontier. At least eight persons were reported killed.

When the Sudetens started a demonstration the gendarmerie received orders not to fire, lest shots crossing the border hit Germans and create a still more serious incident.

Virtual mobilization of Czechoslovak troops in Sudeten territory appeared to be under way.

Thousands of troops were seen being transported by railway trains and by highway to the troubled centres.

PRAGUE, Sept. 14 (CP-Havas).—Some 15 Czechoslovak policemen and an undisclosed number of Sudeten Germans were killed in a pitched battle today near Falkenau, close to the German frontier, the Sudeten German Party announced today.

At Haberspirk, in the Falkenau district, a Nazi crowd stormed and took the police station and armed itself with grenades, two machine-guns and took away 40 cases of ammunition.

Police detachments arrived on the scene by car from Falkenau and opened fire on the rebellious crowd, which returned the police fire. The pitched battle ensued.

The Sudeten communique said that armored cars with heavy machine-guns attacked a crowd of some 2,000 Sudetens.

It estimated the Czech losses at 10 to 15 and said the Sudeten casualties, believed to be much higher, could not be estimated as yet.

U. S. Travellers Advised To Leave

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP).—American travellers have been advised "unofficially and informally" by the United States Consulate here to return home "if they could conveniently alter their European travel plans," officials said today.

Members of the Consulate staff disclosed numerous United States citizens had inquired what they ought to do in view of the critical situation in Central Europe. The officials said, however, that American residents in Berlin have not been advised to leave Germany.

Consulates of other countries have given their nationals similar advice.

Sudetens Charge Tanks In Use

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP). — A Reuter's dispatch from Prague today reported that Sudeten German Party headquarters said "a regular battle" was in progress near Falkenau, northwestern Czechoslovakia, between Sudetens and Czechoslovak troops and police.

Sudeten leaders said heavy tanks were being used in the conflict and that between 10 and 15 Czech gendarmes had been killed, according to the dispatch.

Losses of the Sudeten Germans were described as "much heavier," but no figure was given.

The trouble was said by the Sudetens to have begun in a fight between "Communists" and Sudetens. The gendarmes attempted to separate the belligerents without using their weapons, the reports said, but were forced to retreat into a police station, where they were attacked by the crowd.

Shooting then broke out and several policemen were shot down as they attempted to escape from the building.

The crowd seized weapons in the police station, including two machine-guns and a number of hand grenades. The Sudeten version said police reinforcements arrived a short time later from Falkenau and Zwodau and opened fire on the Sudetens, who returned the fire.

PRAGUE, Sept. 14. —(A. P.). — Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Germans, informed Viscount Runican's meditation mission today that the Sudeten committee for negotiations with the Czechoslovak government had been dissolved.

As a result there is a complete breakdown in efforts to solve the dispute over the Sudetens demands for self rule, there being no machinery on the Sudeten side for further discussion.

Meanwhile the government, ignoring the Sudetens ultimatum demanding cessation of martial law in Sudeten regions, commandeered motor buses in Prague to send troops into the regions under military control. The ultimatum expired early today, without immediate results.

The Sudeten party is conducted on the leadership principle—following the Nazi German model—therefore Henlein as Fuehrer alone has authority to discuss anything with the Prague government.

Henlein reported his decision to dissolve his committee to F. T. A. Ashton-Gwatkin, chief lieutenant of Viscount Runciman, and other members of the British mission at a conference at Asch. Henlein's home town, at noon.

The Sudeten leader said that in view of acts of violence in the Sudeten region the party felt that a proper atmosphere for negotiations no longer existed.

Whether Henlein himself could be induced to confer with president Eduard Benes or premier Milan Hodza remained a question.

Martial Law Extended

Meanwhile, martial law was extended over two more Sudeten communities — Komatau and Grasslitz. Soldiers and special police this afternoon were preserving order in 10 frontier districts. Reports to the capital indicated they were doing an effective job.

FRED BENNETT of the Sault has a white Leghorn pullet which seems to have set something of a record, laying four eggs in a 24-hour period. One egg was soft-shelled, but the others were normal. A number of Mr. Bennett's pullets have laid three and two eggs a day.

Minimum Wage For Skilled Labor Opposed

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 14 (C.P.). — Opposition to a minimum wage for skilled or semi-skilled male labor was voiced to-day by the Tradesand Labor Congress of Canada. It passed a resolution reiterating the Congress' previous stand on the question but approved a minimum wage for women.

The Congress urged, however, that before a minimum wage for women be established a survey of the cost of living should be made.

Carl Berg of Edmonton, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, commented minimum wages generally were lower than union wages. Andrew Cooper of Toronto, Carpenters' Union representative, said his union favored a minimum wage under the Ontario Industrial Standards Act, but if the Government established a blanket minimum of the type set in textiles, his union men stood to lose $20 to $25 a month. John Noble, of Toronto, Ontario organizer for the American Federation of Labor, said Ontario proposed minimum wage law in 1937 was "the barest skeleton anyone has seen."

The Congress approved a resolution for representations to all Provincial Governments asking immediate legislation which would cause all restaurant workers to be protected agains accident under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Hospital Inquiry To Open Thursday

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP).—The royal commission appointed to investigate the mental hospital situation in Ontario will begin its sittings in London Thursday afternoon or Friday morning, Eric Silk, law clerk of the Legislative Assembly, acting as commission counsel, said today.

Mr. Silk said it might be impossible to announce definitely when the sittings would start before tomorrow noon, until after further preliminary work has been completed in London. He estimated the London sittings might take from one to three weeks.

Japan Ready To Fight Communism

Lays Czech Trouble To Red Plots; Backs Hitler, Duce

By Clark Lee
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

TOKYO, Sept. 14 (AP).—Japan's readiness "to fight, in every way, with arms if necessary," against Communism was revealed today in a statement by the Foreign Office spokesman.

The announcement held Communist activities responsible for the Czechoslovak-German crisis and said Japan was prepared to join Germany and Italy, allies under an anti-Communist pact, in "fighting against Red operations."

The spokesman said, however, it was "premature to answer the question whether Japan would declare war if Great Britain and France should become involved in conflict with Germany over the Czechoslovak situation.

He said Japan, as a signatory of the November 25, 1936, agreement pledging co-operation against Communism, would assist both Germany and Italy in fighting Communist activities and was equally ready to help either nation individually if "she became involved without the other."

Japanese "admiration and sympathy" was expressed for Chancellor Hitler's demands for settling the Sudeten German problem. The German Chancellor's address in Nuremberg Monday was called a "genuine expression of ardent patriotism which has taken Europe by storm."

Asked For Vote Before?

The statement continues:

"At the time of the founding of Czechoslovakia (after the Great War) the Sudeten Germans demanded that the question of their national status should be decided only in accordance with the principle of racial self-determination.

"But their earnest desire was sacrificed to expediency and the St. Germain treaty fixed their present status, whereby the seed of the subsequent complications of the racial problem was planted.

"It is Communism which took advantage of this situation.

"For the present complication of the Sudeten German question the responsibility lies largely on the machinations of the Communist International which is pulling strings behind the Czechoslovak Government.

Canada To Start Eskimos As Reindeer Ranchers

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 (CP).—Canada's northland will soon have something new—eskimo ranchers—when an agreement now being negotiated between the Department of Mines and Resources and Eskimos is completed. The project envisions what amounts to a new native industry in the northwest territories—reindeer ranching.

R. A. Gibson, direcor of lands, parks and forests branch of the department of mines and resources, just back from a trip to the Northwest Territories, said arrangements for a loan of a herd of 800 reindeer to Charlie Rufus and his father, Rufus Kaleaeuk, were discussed while he was in the north.

Charlie Rufus has received training as an apprentice reindeer herder and he and others trained in the care of reindeer will be given a chance to start on their own. The 800 animals to be loaned under the present agreement will come from the government herd on Richards Island north of Aklavik, N.W.T., where the animals have been summering. The herd numbers 4,500 head, too many to retain on the government reindeer reserve.

When the freeze-up arrives next November, the native herd of about 800 animals will be selected and turned over to the care of Rufus and Kaleaiuk who will move them 150 miles eastward to the Anderson river area. The government chief

Dominion To Press Jobless Insurance

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. Sept. 14 (CP)—The Dominion government will not relax its efforts to obtain nationwide unemployment insurance, Hon. Norman Rogers, Federal Labor Minister, today assured the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"We will not relax our efforts," he declared. "The setback we received last year (when several provinces declined to agree to amending the constitution to make such a sysem possible) was a bitter disappointment to you. It was a bitter disappointment to me as minister of labor in a government which was making every effort to secure this by co-operation."

Talk Disarmament

GENEVA, Sept. 14—(CP-Havas)—The Disarmament Committee of the League of Nations met to-day under the chairmanship of Ernest Lapointe, chief Canadian delegate. The problem of disarmament and protection of civilian populations from aerial bombardment were questions on the agenda.

Mr. Lapointe, who is Canadian Minister of Justice, reviewed the committee's work on disarmament. He analyzed the terms of the resolution of October 23, 1937, recommending conclusion of an international convention concerning national defence expenditures and the creation of an organ of control.

U.S. Business, Finance Ready To Meet Shock Of War

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP). — United States business and finance is prepared to meet the shock of general European war in the opinion of leading Wall Street figures and government fiscal authorities canvassed today.

President William Martin of the New York Stock Exchange said before the regular opening time that there was no intention of closing the exchange on the basis of current information from Europe. His confidence, and that of others consulted, was reassuring to those troubled by the volume of selling at the close of trading yesterday, which forced leading issues down $1 to $6 a share, and which continued in even greater force after the New York close in the San Francisco market.

Business men throughout the country asking what would happen to business and finance in event of general war in Europe may find the answer in the following summary of Wall Street banking and governmental opinion:

1. A general European war probably would be an immediate shock to the financial and business world, as it was in 1914.

2. The financial system in the United States is infinitely better equipped to brace itself and stand up under that shock than it was in 1914. Adequate machinery now exists for swift and effective handling of every financial crisis likely to arise.

Anticipation Aid.

Furthermore, the impact of the shock has been at least partially softened by anticipation—a condition which did not exist in 1914.

3. United States business and agriculture probably would not receive an immediate set-back of the severity of that in 1914 and probably would not pocket profits of the scale of 1916-1918 because of four factors: the vastly greater advance preparation for war today; the depreciated credit status of major European nations; the neutrality laws; and the Johnson Act prohibiting loans to nations which have defaulted on previous obligations. In the end, popular sentiment is expected to determine the effectiveness of these elements—a factor completely unpredictable today.

Narrows, Va., Sept. 14.

FARMER George French allowed as how the big-mouth bass that graced his dinner was the best —and—only fish he ever shot out of the sky. A pre-dinnertime disturbance among his guinea flock took the farmer, shot gun in hand outdoors. A fishhawk, clutching something in its talons wheeled overhead. French let fly and down dropped a pound-and-a-half bass.

The fish was fresh, too. French said. It was breathing when he handed it in at the kitchen.

Amhersburg, Sept. 14 (CP.).

POSSIBILITY the Trans-Canada highway would be completed by 1941 or 1942 was forseen by W. G. Robertson said he was greatly impressed by road work being pushed toward completion in Northern Ontario. The roads being built are not leading into "a wilderness," he said.

Marie Morin, 18, described by Judge Barton as "the bait," was sent to Mercer Reformatory for an indefinite period not to exceed two years less one day.

Czechs Move Troops To Riot Area

Sudeten Ultimatum Is Ignored, New Move Awaited

By Larry Allen
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

PRAGUE, Sept. 14.—(AP).—The Czechoslovak government commandeered Prague city motor busses today to rush new troops into the Sudeten German area and thus strengthen martial law and halt further disorders there.

A government source emphasized there was no special troop movements toward the tense Czechoslovak-German frontier, but said the motorized units were reinforcing soldiers and civil authorities in eight Sudeten German districts where 12 were killed and many injured in clashes following Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg attack on Czechoslovakia Monday.

Soldiers in automobiles patrolled highways leading to the Sudeten German cities. Many residents left their homes there and fled to Prague.

The government ignored a Sudeten German ultimatum against the martial law orders and instead concentrated troops in the troubled Sudeten towns near the western frontier.

Defence Loan Called.

The city of Prague launched a drive for a public subscription to raise national defence funds as the nation awaited the next move and speculated upon possibel action by Germany.

A breakdown in Czech-Sudeten peace negotiations and the Czech Government's virtual refusal of Sudeten German Leader Konrad Henlein's ultimatum against martial law added new tension to the crisis.

Sudeten German declarations that no conditions longer existed for continuing the negotiations and subsequent ultimatum, which expired early to-day, apparently only brought stronger government measures to prevent new disorders by disupatching reinforcements to Sudeten garrisons.

Wait Next Sudeten Move.

Congress Asks Labor Board Be Shaken Up

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 14.—(CP).—Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was on record to-day in favor of a shake-up in Ontario's Industry and Labor Board, the body which administers the province's Industrial Standards Act. The Congress wants labor representation on the Board and objects to the chairman, E. J. Young, former Saskatchewan resident and one-time member of parliament for Weyburn.

After several delegates attacked the Board violently the Congress late yesterday adopted a resolution from Fort Frances Local 2586, Sawmill Workers' Union, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, asking an "immediate change be made in the present personnel of the Board and further that a Labor member be forthwith insalled to act in that capacity."

Ernest Ingles, of London, representative of the Electricians' Union, led the attack on the Industry and herder, Stanley Mason, will supervise the movement.

After the arival of the native herd at its destination its development will be largely up to the Eskimos. Other native Eskimos will assist the two natives to be entrusted with this herd.

The government will retain the ownership of the 800 deer but the natural increase will be the property of the Eskimos. In addition to loaning the reindeer the government is also providing herd dogs, equipment and a quantity of rations for the first year.

When the time comes to return a herd of the original size to the government, it is possible another group of Eskimos will be ready to launch out on their own as herders and the government will lend the animals to them.

The food and clothing to be provided from reindeer herds in northern Canada will serve to augment the ordinary sources of subsistence of the natives, and there is a ready market for surplus meat and hides.

Stock Prices Crash Under Nervous Selling

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (C.P.).—War fears again dominated the stock market to-day and prices crashed down under a load of nervous selling. Early strength, following on news that the trouble in Central Europe might yet be patched up, gave way to another sharp decline in the afternoon on the news of fighting between Czechs and the German rebels. Losses of 1 to 3 points were chalked up among the senior mining and industrial issues and the secondary golds were driven to many new lows for the year or Volume crowded the 1,400,000 share mark, the heaviest in months.

Best Metals Fair.

Selling eased off a little in the last half-hour and a few stocks attempted a rally, possibly on short-covering, but the comeback was far short of equalling the earlier declines and all indices were down by points at the close. Base metals made the best showing, supported apparently by their war profit possibilities.

McIntyre dropped to 41½ and recovered about half its loss, while Dome and Lake Shore finished 1 to 2½ points down. Hollinger took a loss of about 1½. Pickle Crow at one stage was off 65 cents. Final prices showed losses of 20 to 40 cents for Pickle, Sylvanite, Wright-Hargreaves, Macassa, Little Long Lac, O'Brien, Cariboo, Central Patricia, Hard Rock, East Malartic, Kerr-Addison, Premier, Powell-Rouyn, and Uchi.

Smelters was down about 4 points at one stage and it recovered about half the loss, while Hudson Bay, Noranda, and Nickel were off 1 to 3 points at the close. Ventures lost 70 and Waite-Amulet about 30.

The industrial section was spotted with new lows for the year and individual losses ranged from 1 to 4 points. Abitibi Preferred, Massey-Harris Preferred, Cockshutt Plow, Steel of Canada, National Steel Car and the Canadian Car and Foundry issues dropped 2 to 4 points. Walkers Common lost more than 3 points, and all the interlisted leaders, Brazilian, C.P.R., Ford A, and the senior oils declined fractions to a point.

In the Western oil group Royalite was heavy at 35, off 5 points, Calgary-Edmonton dropped at 35 cents, Home 10, Okalta 10, and Anglo-Canadian 5.

Wall Street.

The Wall Street market fought hard to regain its balance today after the shock of its stunning last-hour fall in the preceding session but new outbursts of selling made it a losing struggle in face of continued nervousness over European affairs.

Rebounding swiftly in early dealings, the market near the fourth hour had yielded practically all the advance and many issues showed substantial losses on the day. In a few shares, the declines became extensive. Allied chemical at one time was off 9 points.

Canadian shares swung erratically. Distillers advanced around a point and Canadian Pacific a minor fraction, while declines ranging up to about ¾ of a point were shown by McIntyre Porcupine, Lake Shore and Hiram Walker. Canada 4's were a little lower. Montreal funds slumped .12½ of a cent to 99.31¼, largely in sympathy with the break in sterling.

Weak spots on the sell-off included Johns Manville, American Telephone, American Rolling Mill, Dome Mines, McIntyre General Electric, Owens Illinois Glass and Eastman.

Retaining part of the early rise were Kennecott Copper, Loew's, Texas Corp., Santa Fee, International Nickel and Caterpillar Tractor. But these gains faded fast in a mid-day selling burst.

Prairie Provinces' Five Main Crops Valued At $278,000,000 35 Million Over 1937 Figure

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 (C.P.). — A total value of $278,000,000 was placed on the production of the five principal crops in the three Prairie Provinces this year, in an unofficial estimate to-day.

This is $35,000,000 greater than the value of the same crops in 1937 given by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which estimated last year's production at $243,000,000.

Lower prices this year tend to offset the beneficial effects of higher yields so far as the financial returns to the farmers are concerned. The whole of the prairie farming area, however, will share in the returns from this year's crop, whereas last year a large part of Saskatchewan experienced total crop failure.

The estimate is based on the value of this year's crop at the farm, taking the Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures for crop production and using current prices at Fort William less an allowance for the average freight charge.

In the case of wheat, the Canadian Wheat Board's fixed price of 80 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Fort William is subject to a deduction of 20 cents to allow for freight and handling charges and the spreads between prices for No. 1 Northern and lower grades. The five crops included are wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax.

200 Million in Wheat.

The 1938 wheat production of 334,000,000 bushels will be worth approximately $200,000,000 against a valuation of $157,000,000 placed on last year's crop. Barley, although more plentiful, will be worth $21,000,000 as compared with $28,839,000 last year. Rye at $3,000,000 and oats at $52,000,000 will be approximately the same as a year ago. Value of the flax crop is estimated at $2,000,000, compared with $926,000 in 1937.

Much of the grain produced on the Prairies, of course, is never directly converted into money. The estimate represents the value of the crop if it was all sold at present prices or its probable long range cash value to the farmers.

Large quantities, particularly of the coarse grains, are kept on the farms for the purpose of feeding live stock. Eventually this grain

Nazis Frown on Plebiscite?

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (CP-Havas).—High Nazi authorities today were described as frowning on the idea of a plebiscite in the Sudeten German areas of Czechoslovakia, asserting such a vote could only take place after the Sudetens have obtained full freedom of action in determining their own status.

It was asserted that in such a matter "the western protectors of Prague"—meaning Great Britain and France—"would not need to intervene."

After the Sudetens have had freedom of action to determine their own status, it was added, a plebiscite might be held along the same lines as that held in Austria after Anschluss, when the union of the two countries was approved by an overwhelming majority.

The cabinet made its decision after prime minister Joseph Lyons had discussed the crisis by telephone with Stanley Bruce, Australian high commissioner in London.

Sudeten Quarters Shut.

PRAGUE, Sept. 14 (CP-Havas).—The two buildings occupied here by organizations of the Sudeten German party have been precipitately abandoned, a visit to both places revealed today.

The Bybernka, where the offices of Zeit, official Sudeten organ, are located, was completely deserted. The lobby and stairs were empty and all the rooms and offices closed.

At the Deutsche Haus, headquarters of the Sudeten Parliamentary Club, and the various cultural organizations, visitors found employees hastily packing papers, books and leaflets.

Prince Cancels Trip.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 14 (AP). — Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden cancelled plans today to attend the funeral of Prince Arthur of Connaught at Windsor, England, Friday, and designated his son, Prince Bertil, to represent him.

No reasons were given for the change, but it was understood it was a result of the tense international situation.

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP).—General nervousness over the Czechoslovak crisis was reflected today among foreign business firms in Germany.

Two British concerns, for instance, sent all their British employees to England, leaving German representatives in charge.

Some Frenchmen living in Germany also were leaving.

Kennedy Not Consulted

LONDON, Sept 14 (AP).—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador, issued a statement today declaring no member of the British government had approached him for an expression of the United States stand in the event Great Britain is forced into war.

He also said he had not been asked for an interpretation of how the United States neutrality act would apply in a war in which Great Britain was involved.

The ambassador made his statement in connection with a report in a London afternoon newspaper to the effect Great Britain was "anxious to receive further clarification" through Mr. Kennedy of the United States position.

The report also said "it is believed" the United States might associate herself with some French-British declaration in the present European crisis.

Campbell Trial Jury Locked Up

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 — (CP). — Trial of Oscar Campbell, 41, of Toronto, on a charge of armed robbery opened today at the Fall Assizes of the Supreme Court of Ontario after selection of a jury which took but 10 minutes, belived to be a record time.

Campbell, charged in connection with the robbery of $12,478 from the Bank of Nova Scotia at nearby Richmond last July 19, pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Justice Charles McTague ordered the jury locked up for duration of the trial. "Because of the gravity of this charge and the publicity I understand has been given to it, I feel it is in the interests of justice to lock the jurors up," he said.

The trial is expected to last four days. The crown will call 30 witnesses.

Runs Hay Fever Gauntlet Sneezeless, 15 Year Victim Credits 40-Day Fast

Detroit, Sept. 14.

FOR the first time in 15 years George McKenna, Detroit garage operator, has passed through the hay fever season with nary a sniffle or sneeze. He attributes his immunity to a 40-day fast he undertook last March following the example of his sick dog.

"Fasting will cure anything," McKenna said. "After the first five days you just aren't hungry anymore. A good fast now and then would save people a lot of suffering and expense."

He lost 60 pounds during the self-imposed fast, weighing 90 pounds when he resumed eating. He's back to 140 now. He thinks he has hay fever beaten and that it will never return.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14 (C.P.). — Winnipeg wheat futures soared the five-cent allowable limit to-day on good general buying prompted by reports of a clash in Czechosolvakia between government forces and Sudeten Germans. At the final bell prices were 5 to 4⅝ cents higher, October 66½, November 66⅝, December 66⅛ to ¼, and May 69¾ to ⅞.

Futures hit their peak at the half-way mark after opening three cents higher and moving nervously in the initial hour. It was the first five-cent advance in Winnipeg wheat futures since June 14.

Influence of Liverpool gains of more than nine cents, five cent advances at Rotterdam, four cents at Minneapolis and three cents or more at Chicago brought out excellent mill buying at Winnipeg.

Cash wheat market was unsettled and business difficult to trace. Spreads generally were unchanged.

Coarse grain futures responded to strength in wheat and outside markets. All flax futures and October oats advanced five cents, barley futures 3½ cents and rye 4½ cents near the close.

New 2,500-Pound Mate

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Bill, the 4,500-pound elephant bull who caused the death of Hilda, his pachyderm sweetheart, is going to get a new mate. Bill playfully pushed Hilda, who weighed 3,000 pounds, into a 25-foot dry concrete moat two weeks ago. Prospect Park Zoo officials shot her after they found her back had been broken. Since then Bill has brooded disconsolately in the elephant house. His new mate, gift of a Brooklyn department store, is a svelte 2,500-pounder being shipped from Calcutta.

We Noticed

....In a shop window on lower George street—two little velveteen dresses in jewel tones.

....One was the shade of dark blue ink with the sun shining through it. Fashioned with a shirred bodice, it had row upon tiny row of ecru lace forming a beguiling wing collar. Lace was used for the underside of short, puff sleeves, too, and the skirt was seamed up the front and becomingly flared.

....The other glowed like ruby wine. Zippered from waist to neckline, it had a collar and trianguar pockets of lace trimmed with diminutive velveteen bows. With shirring over each pocket, and a skirt demurely full, it was an adorable frock for teas or dancing.

....And in the same window....a frock designed to hold your audience breathless! Of feather-weight black wool, it had long sleeves, a high neckline finished at the throat with two inches of zipper, and no less than six breast pockets! Three jockeys in gay colors astride three steeds were a brooch at the neck, and raced in trios again across a black leather belt.

Jolly Party At "The Krogh's Nest"

"The Krogh's Nest" on the Otonabee river, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Krogh, was the setting for a jolly birthday party Saturday afternoon when their little daughter, Joan, entertained a number of her playmates on the occasion of her sixth birthday.

Games and races were played during the afternoon, and a happy climax to the fun was a birthday supper at a table centred with a prettily decorated cake topped by six candles and followed by an hour of story reading.

Among the small folk present were: Douglas and Jean Graham, Barbara Latchford, Teddy Williams, Beverly Kidd, Wilfred Jones, Margaret Roger, Autumn Dubay, Betty Merrett, Charles Foster, Donald Dubay and Carol Dorrington.

Inspiring Address Opens Meeting

The Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary met on Monday evening in Reid street hall with a large attendance of members.

The president, Mrs. R. Brown, in an inspiring opening address, presented thoughts and ideals to the members. Brief summaries of the work in foreign mission fields from the book "Through Missionary Windows" were given by various members.

Miss Mina Edwards very fittingly paid tribute to the late Miss Marion Coon. A piano solo by Mrs. H. Dolson was enjoyed, and plans for the coming season were discussed. A social halfhour in charge of the executive closed the meeting.

Initial Meeting Of X. L. Circle

Mrs. R. Kitchen and Miss Jessie Martin were join hostesses to the members of the X. L. Mission Circle, who met for their first fall meeting Tuesday evening.

The brief devotional period included prayer by Rev. Mr. Craik and the scripture lesson read by Gladys Rutherford. Arrangements were carried out for this Circle's share in the Presbyterian rally to be held in Knox United Church on Monday, Sept. 26th. Plans were also made for celebrating the anniversary of the inception of the X. L. Circle in November, when a special church service and lecture will be held.

A very fine introduction to the new study book "The World in Canada" was presented by Zetta Wood, who was a delegate from the Circle to the Whitby School for Leaders. She brought many fine suggestions for program materials which would be in keeping with the new study.

The closing prayer by Connie Wagar and the benediction brought to a conclusion this part of the program, which was followed by the usual social hour. A pleasing feature was the shower presented at this time to Marion Wood, a September bride-to-be.

The service of dainty refreshments by the two hostesses assisted by Mrs. P. Van Nest concluded this initial meeting of the fall season.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

St. Andrew's Y.P.U.

"Unemployment, Its Causes and Cure" was the topic for the meeting of the Young People's Union of St. Andrew's Church Tuesday evening. Gordon Harle, president, was in the chair, and the discussion was led by the citizenship vice-president, Alec Young.

A summing up of the unemployment causes revealed that the introduction of machinery; over-production, and the formation of huge trusts that controlled the markets and seasonal bodies were largely responsible. The cure for unemployment was outlined as follows: Unemployment insurance, co-operative organization, and the gradual socialization of industry.

During the business meeting it was decided to hold a wiener roast at Lock 22 on Tuesday, September 20. Alec Young was appointed to arrange for transportation, and supper arrangements are to be made by the Misses Dorothy Harle, Corine McArthur and Margaret Patoine.

Arrangements were made for Ralph Gordon's concert on Friday, October 7, Harry Vass to have charge of tickets; Gordon Harle and Miss Margaret Emerson to arrange extra musical items. The admission charges to be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Ralph Gordon will probably speak to the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon October 7, and it is expected that he will visit several public schools on the afternoon of that day.

If Marriage Were Entered Into With The Same Determination To Make It a Success That Goes Into a Business, Then It Would Not Fail

WHICH is the more to blame, the husband or the wife, when a marriage is a failure? asks a correspondent. It is a fifty-fifty proposition, I should say. Of course, there are individual cases in which the husband is a brute or a tyrant or a tightwad whom no wife short of a saint and martyr could stand. Also, there are wives who are viragoes and naggers, spendthrifts and whiners with whom no husband could get along in peace, not even if he had the patience of Job and the tact of a diplomat.

But, generally speaking, when a home is wrecked it is an inside job in which the husband and wife have both done their darndest and they are equally to blame. Sometimes it looks as if the only time that many a married couple ever does any real teamwork is when they set out to ruin a marriage that should have been a success.

Of course, all of the divorced men and women will bitterly deny this and represent themselves as the innocent victims of philanderers or grouches or wasters or gadders or incompatibility or not being understood or shiftlessness and laziness or poor cooking and worse providing or what have you in the domestic vice line. Always it was the party of the other part who knocked out the underpinning of their house of happiness so that it collapsed on their blameless heads.

Such is our ability to deceive ourselves, that virtually all of the husbands and wives whose marriages turn out disastrously do believe it was all the fault of the party of the other part and that they are in nowise to blame for the result.

"How can a woman be happy with a husband who is always flirting with other women, who never notices me any more than if I were the vacuum cleaner or the gas range, who never stays at home an evening if he can help it and when he does is about as companionable as a sore-headed bear?" wails the wife.

It does not occur to her that perhaps the reason her husband is a wanderer is because she is a slovenly housekeeper who never provides him with a good meal or a comfortable place to sit; or because she is so absorbed in the baby that she has no time for a mere husband; or because she has let herself get sloppy and unattractive to look at and dull to talk to.

"How can I be happy with a wife who is a human refrigerator, who frets, whines, complains and reproaches me for not making as much money as Jones does and who makes me feel that I am nothing but a meal ticket?" asks the man. He never realizes that the reason that his wife has grown cold to him is because he has quit making love to her or showing any personal interest in her; that her whining and complaining is just self-pity because she thinks herself neglected; that she nags because she is trying desperately to make herself necessary to him, and that the reason she bores him is because he has never made a companion of her and interested her in his hopes and plans.

When men and women say that they were driven to divorce or that their marriages have been failures, they nearly always speak the literal truth. Those to whom they were married made no effort to get along with them or to adapt their tastes and habits to theirs. They refused to make the sacrifices cheerfully that marriage demands. They refused to play up to each other. Often they failed to treat each other with even common politeness.

And flesh and blood couldn't stand it. It slipped the yoke that galled it and wandered off into fresh fields and greener pastures. Given ordinary, decent human beings, as most of us are, every marriage would turn out in fairybook style "and they lived happily ever afterward" if both the husband and wife would start out with the determination of making it a success.

There would be no failures if men and women put as much thought, energy and labor into making a go of their marriages as they do of their businesses and professions. But they don't do this. They trust to luck, or pass the buck to the other one, and no one individual can make a happy marriage. It takes both husband wife, working together to do it. That is why the husband and wife are equally to blame when a marriage is a failure.

DEAR MISS DIX—Does one need a high school education to be successful and happy in life? My family is poor and I have to work outside of school to buy my own clothes. Shall I stop school and go to work or struggle on?

BLUE GIRL.

ANSWER:

By all means go through high school if you possibly can. It will help you to get and hold a job. The very first question that will be asked you when you look for work is how much education you have had, and you will find it very hard to get a good place unless you have been through high school.

A piano solo by Miss Francis Wells was followed by a few words from the president, who spoke on the aims of the association as outlined in the Home and School handbook.

Due to the next meeting date falling on Thanksgiving Day, notices will be sent out to the members notifying them of a change of date in October. JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"As a writer, I have only one desire—to fill you with fire, to pour into you the distilled essence of the sun itself. I want every thought, every word, every act of mine to make you feel that you are receiving into your body, into your mind, into your soul, the sacred spirit that changes clay into men, and men into gods."

—Thomas Dreier.

Dear Friends:

Sometimes when I go along the street and look into men's faces, I think "how are the mighty fallen." I wonder where this Divine spark has gone, whether they have buried it under the everyday things, or whether they have killed it.

For, there are few signs of gods amongst so many of them. Loud raucous voices, empty laughter, greed and selfishness, all these show in so many faces, and only once in a while do I see what I am looking for.

We must work, we must earn a living, each striving against the other, knowing that if we fall or fail, there are many ready to step into our shoes. But we forget that we must also earn our place in the hereafter.

And so I write you each morning, tired maybe, in pain most always, hoping that some words of mine will keep this spark alive. Hoping also that my experiences may solve some of your problems.

Some of you write me in return, such lovely letters which warm my heart,—and some of you forget to write. Yet despite this, if any words of mine will make life easier for you, I am content.

We can rise so high if we but have belief. Our Lord said, "all these things I do, ye can do also, if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed." Quite a small seed isn't it?

Not alone faith in Him. Nothing annoys me quite so much as to hear someone say so piously, "I leave everything to God." We must have faith in ourselves, in the Divinity which lies within us.

Otherwise we are like the beasts of the field, reaching out for the things of the body and leaving out the things of the spirit. And without spiritual things, like them we shall die.

We must have some pleasures in life, some escape from monotony and weariness. Nothing is so devastating as utter boredom, even in doing good, else why were we told "be not weary in well-doig?"

But when we lower ourselves in reaching out for these pleasures we reach weariness of another kind, so that life seems like ashes in our mouth. Yet, if in our desire to live a good life we deny ourselves all the things God gives for our happiness, we become weary in well-doing.

We cannot be all spiritual, we should not be all material, but a healthy blend of the two. Enjoying laughter and good clean fun, enjoying each other's society; and all the inventions which God has shown men how to make.

And the only way to strike the happy medium is—Moderation. It is when we become immoderate in any thing that we come a cropper. If you set a standard for yourself, allow me the same privilege. I will not expect you to follow mine, so don't look for me to follow yours.

The hardest thing to be moderate in is our appetites. Some are immoderate in eating candy, some in drinking tea or coffee, some in beer or strong drink, some in dress, some in housecleaning, and many in speech.

Some have no moderation even in their religion, which never helps. This may help. "It is not good either to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor ANYTHING, whereby thy brother stumbleth or is offended, or is made weak."

I should like to hear from YOU.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Mrs. Beavis Talks On Temperance

The September meeting of St. James' United Auxiliary of the W.M.S., opened with a devotional period, and a tribute to the absent president, Mrs. Elliott, who is seriously ill in hospital. Mrs. E. L. Woodley, first vice-president, occupied the chair.

At the calling of the roll, outstanding donations wer received for the self-denial fund. Mrs Beavis, in a well-prepared paper on the need for Temperance interest on the part of women, said that "British temperance workers are to fight liquor posters with temperance ones, which will be delivered free of charge to those willing to display them. In this fight between the drink trade and the nation, the prize," she said, "is the child, one well worth winning. The movement against alcohol is more than a question of reducing drunkenness, it is a question of saving life from generation to generation."

In her report on Christian Stewardship, Mrs. Craik read a letter from the Presbyterial secretary, and gave a clever version of the 23rd Psalm as applied to Christian Stewardship. Mrs. W. K. Sloane reported on the Missionary Monthly; Mrs. R. Evans for the Mite Box; Mrs. A. David for literature, and Miss Deyell as Stranger's Secretary.

The balance of the program was taken over by Mrs. G. Pearson. It opened with a worship service, followed by a vocal solo and several splendid readings. "Africa" was the study for the day, and the subject was interestingly handled by Mrs. A. McAdams. Prayer offered by Mrs. W. Rose closed the meeting.

Do You Know?

That if you wash oilcloth and table linoleums with warm water and a mild soap, then rub over them with equal parts of cold water and skimmed milk, polishing dry with a soft cloth, the surface will have added lustre?

Steaming is a good way to cook vegetables, as it reduces the loss of minerals and vitamins? It is also economical because you can cook several different vegetables at a time?

If you add a teaspoon of household ammonia to one quart of water and pour over your house ferns once or twice a month it will give them a rich, green color?

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

They Know In Germany

A statement which is not at all short of being disquieting comes from Kitchener, and it is signed by Lloyd Brown and Albert Mustin of the United Rubber Workers of America. The gist of it is that records of members who are German-Canadians and members of the union have had to be kept secret. Trade unions are ruled out in Germany and it has been found that relatives in that country of members of unions in Canada have been subjected to hard treatment by the Nazi authorities.

It is further announced that since the day when the Nazi element took charge of the meeting of the German-Canadian Society in Kitchener there has been quite a marked decrease in the membership of the trades union there. Those of German descent and who have relatives in Germany are dropping out. Fear of consequences has affected them.

The report from Kitchener makes it abundantly clear that the Nazi authorities in Germany are kept correctly informed regarding what is going on in this country. It is said they knew accurately the names of the people in Kitchener and where their relatives are in Germany. That indicates there are Nazi agents in Kitchener who have been close to the sources of all such information, and if Germany is getting such intimate and accurate information in Kitchener there seems to be no substantial reason why they are not—or could not—get it from other places in the Dominion. It probably would be easy enough for the simple reason that we are not a suspicious people in Canada. We do not much question the right of a man to come and go where and when he pleases and for the most part we take it for granted that even a stranger in the community is bent on nothing but legitimate business. That report from Kitchener makes one feel as though there was a hand in the dark which might reach out and touch us. It is not alarmist material because the information comes from responsible heads of a trades union who have signed their names to their statement.

Settle It At The Start

Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, has a constant mission this time of year — opening fall fairs. Likewise Mr. Dewan seldom if ever misses the opportunity of telling those directing these fairs that there is danger of their grants being cut off or lowered if they allow fakirs to operate on the grounds. Mr. Dewan admits there has been improvement but he says there must be more. What's more, most folk believe the Minister means exactly what he says for it would be difficult to doubt the sincerity of the man.

But that does not produce what one could call finality in the matter. The same midway which started the season at Peterborough went to Toronto, and from there it has gone on to London. The same amusements and the same games of chance go together, and it is right to say that what is wrong in Peterborough is also wrong in Toronto or London.

And that in turn suggests that there should be some standard set in the first place as to what is right and what is wrong in all these games. Directors of fairs do not want to swindle the people who attend but they know they have to provide amusement or entertainment or they would not get the attendance. The great majority of the people who attend the fair at Peterborough go to the midway or the grand stand and there are many of them who never go near the stock exhibits, and the same thing is true of Toronto or London or any other place.

We suggest to the Minister of Agriculture that there should be some official standard set for all fairs. The games played are known from the beginning. He might have advice and help from the Provincial Police, and such findings as might be made could say definitely "that game cannot be played." The games which had passed official inspection could be granted a certificate or a ticket of approval which could be displayed when they opened for business. It would be quite a relief for directors of fall fairs all over to have something like this to work on. It would also make matters easier for the Minister of Agriculture.

For Our Information

When a new world crisis arises a good many people seem to know all about it. They speak out plainly and boldly right at the start. A case in point is Czechoslovakia and the rule is that people actually know very little about the place. They have never been there and until something unusual took place they never had much occasion to worry about it. When they do seek for information they begin to read, and for their schooling they have to depend on what some person is telling them. Much of our education comes the same way and it is essential that it should.

Most of us are willing to believe that Germany is essentially in the wrong in the present situation, and this paper associates itself with the majority, but that does not mean we should not listen to those who tell us differently.

Professor Watson Kirkconnell of the University of Manitoba, has returned from Czechoslovakia, and a man of his vocation would be interested in finding out about people and how they are governed more than he would admiring scenery and noting strange customs. Prof. Kirkconnell came to the conclusion after reaching home that people on this continent had not been presented with what he could call a fair picture of what has been going on in Czechoslovakia.

The Westerner does not depend entirely on his own observations but calls in as a witness Prof. Seton-Watson, professor of central-European history in the University of London, and the verdict is that the Czechs of the Sokol group have not dealt fairly with the Germans, the Slovaks or other minorities. During his travels he met an American professor who had been for several months studying the situation and he was certain the feeling against the Czechs was keen and bitter in the minority groups. It was found that eight million Czechs had dominated the situation in a land where there are about seven million people of other races. Prof. Kirkconnell believes it is time the Czechs themselves came to the conclusion "that they can no longer disregard minority rights with impunity." Interesting we think and highly informative to hear from a man who has been in the country and made a careful study of the situation and who is then prepared to give his opinion regardless of whether or not it fits in with our previously held views.

We Grow Too Much Wheat

Wentworth County Council passed a resolution to the effect that the Federal Government should set a minimum price of 80 cents for wheat in Ontario, and when the Brant County Council met a few days after they endorsed the idea.

At the outset we are willing to admit that it would be better for all of us if wheat were selling at a dollar per bushel instead of around 55 cents, and in some cases less for this year's crop. The trouble comes when there is so much wheat that the world cannot possibly use it all. Nearly every month in the year sees a new crop of wheat ready for delivery, and when it is sold the price is that prevailing in the world market, which at the moment is well below the 80-cent mark.

When a set price is paid and that set price is higher than being offered in the open market, then it means that all the people are being called upon to provide that special price. People who grow no wheat would be asked to contribute their share; the farmer who buys wheat rather than sells it would be included. All would be putting into a common fund from which only those who had wheat for sale would benefit. Hon. Charles Dunning when discussing some phase of protection used a phrase like this: "It is taking money from all of us for the benefit of a few of us," and that seems to have direct application on protecting the price of wheat.

If we were to have a fixed price for wheat what would happen? There would at once be a greater acreage given over to the production of that grain and right now we are growing more of it than we can profitably sell as grain. That is why so many farmers are using a good deal of it for feed. Besides all this we doubt whether the Federal Government would consider extending its wheat operations. At the moment it looks as though it had its hands full trying to care for the western wheat where the pegged price of 80 cents at Fort William means about 60 cents to the prairie farmer.

He's a Safer Man

Rather well removed from the day's war talk is the information that Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice for the Dominion of Canada, has been unanimously elected chairman of the committee of the League of Nations at Geneva which deals with the reduction and limitation of armaments.

One of the questions coming before that committee is that dealing with aerial bombardment of civil populations in time of war. For months that very thing has been taking place in Spain and China, and it will probably not stop because a committee of the League of Nations will presently deal with it.

Yet it is difficult to suppress the feeling that the League of Nations might have done a great deal had the membership been composed of men with the outlook and high purpose of Hon. Ernest Lapointe. He would not pledge his word or sign his name to anything which he knew or suspected would not be carried into effect. If the League is ever going to get on its legs again it needs just such men as Canada has been sending there as delegates for a number of years. We would have a happier world if it were listening to Hon. Ernest Lapointe instead of Adolph Hitler.

It Can Happen Here

When the magistrate in London, Ont., opened court the other day he had a number of the routine sort of cases with which to deal. A couple of transients to be dealt with, and about the usual number charged with being drunk.

But there was a pause when the magistrate came to the case of a boy of 15 years who was charged with being drunk. He had been at a drinking party in the basement of a local restaurant at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning. Of course that case, owing to the age of the accused, had to be set over for hearing in the juvenile court. The magistrate was puzzled and said so.

Perhaps you say "that was in London and has nothing to do with affairs here." The answer to that is that the lad of 15 years was some mother's son and some father's son, and what happened in London can happen in Peterborough or elsewhere. Perhaps the best way to bring such a case close to home is to ask the plain question—"What would I do or think if that boy of 15—drunk—were my son?"

Not Asking For More

The will of Daniel Dodge has been filed at Pontiac, Mich., and out of an estate of some $10,000,000 there has been $250,000 set aside for his widow. She was Laurine McDonald, who formerly worked in a telephone office on Manitoulin Island. Shortly after she married the very rich Mr. Dodge he was killed in an accident.

She seems to be just a natural small town girl and it is stated she considered the amount settled on her was quite sufficient. Probably more money than her relatives or friends ever thought about, and likely enough she would prefer having her husband with her today and do without money.

Mrs. Dodge is not like most of the people who enter courts in United States when such matters as dividing a husband's estate are being dealt with. When there are millions involved they always talk in terms of millions. Never do they drop back to the language of thousands of dollars. But this Ontario girl seems content that a sum equal to 1-40 of her husband's estate is quite sufficient, and one can't help admiring her for the decision.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Japanese automobiles are to be limited to a gallon of gas a day. There will not be much pleasure driving done with a limitation like that in force.

Motorists are asked to note that a ten-ton road roller which managed to get into the way of a railway locomotive was carried 150 feet and upset into a ditch.

Officially we frown on titles in Canada but it is also a fact that we elect 90,000 persons across the Dominion who become eligible to be called trustees.

Bank at Windsor was robbed of $1,700 during which operation the staff were forced to lie on the floor. And of course it must be rather tough to have to take a thing like that lying down.

How those scientists do find things out. Now one has discovered that regular shaving prolongs the life of a shirt; in other words rough necks mean frayed edges.

Canada's wheat crop is the biggest since 1932, it is estimated. If that can be turned into greater spending power for the producers, the whole country should soon begin to feel the benefit.

Pierre S. du Pont and John J. Raskob have been informed that they owe the income tax department at Washington $2,100,000. We can go over our list of friends and pick out a long array of names to whom it would do no good at all to send such a notice.

Lois McDonald is the name of a baby who has been allowed to leave Kincardine hospital and go home. When she was born there she weighed less than two pounds and it is also recorded that a few days after birth she contracted pneumonia and recovered. A child of that size could not possibly have a great deal of pneumonia, but we dare say any given amount would look serious enough. At any rate Lois has gone home and is starting on toward her third pound.

SURPRISING

(By A. R. K.)

¶ When I lived on Concession Ten, along with other honest men, we didn't know too much; some days grandfather ailed a bit, and then he liked to rest and sit, or hobble with a crutch.

¶ When he had ailing on his hands, he never talked about his glands, he didn't know enough; if neighbor folk came by our way, why all he'd ever up and say, was that he felt so tough.

¶ He didn't go and read a book, and have his own blood pressure took, he never kept a chart; he never wrote his ailments down, nor did he hasten off to town, to measure up his heart.

¶ He never heard of calories, he just ate up what things he'd please, he had no diet list; he helped himself to what we had, and now and then got looking sad, on something he has missed.

¶ His blood was never analyzed, nor were his tonsils criticized, nor did he have them out; he reckoned when he'd ailed a spell, how in three days he would get well, and then he'd move about.

¶ We know so many things today, that never came grandfather's way, so much that seems all new; in spite of that grandfather stayed, and went his way quite unafraid—till he was ninety-two.

Uncle Tom—War Life In Sumatra

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, the biggest American best- seller of all time began its first publication as a serial in The National Era, an anti-slavery weekly. The story attracted little or no attention!

Uncle Tom, the central figure of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, was a real slave who escaped to Dresden, Ontario, Canada where he became a preacher and where he was buried. His real name was Josiah Hensen, and he lived for 32 years after the famous book was published. He was 93 when he died. During his flight to the American border he stayed 10 days on th property of Charles Morse, a brother of the inventor, and in conversation with the family spoke frequently of "Little Eva" and "Missy Mary," who later became important characters in the novel. Josiah Hensen's autographed picture is now in the rare book department of the Library of Congress.

Uncle Tom's Cabin, upon its publication in book form in 1852, started a building fad. Many storekeepers in Europe remodelled their structures making cabins of them, and over the doors hung the sign, "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Harriet Beecher Stowe began her famous book by writing a description of the death of Uncle Tom. In the completed book this scene takes place nearly at the end of the story.

The popularity of Uncle Tom's Cabin has not waned. Today it has an ever eager market, and the five- and-ten stores frequently carry it as a staple. It has been translated into more than twenty-five languages and while nobody knows with accuracy, it is estimated to have sold over fifty million copies.

Uncle Tom's Cabin is responsible for the popular misconception that the bloodhound is a ferocious beast. Actually there isn't a gentler dog. The so-called bloodhounds of Mrs. Stowe's novel were not really bloodhounds but fierce beasts introduced into Cuba and South America by the Spaniards.

THE WORLD WAR.

DURING the great conflagration hundreds of women, disguised as soldiers, managed to get to the front and to conceal their sex until they were killed or wounded. One a French woman, was awarded the Croix de Guerre for an act so heroic that she was permitted to keep the medal after her deception was discovered.

Animals, fish and insects were used for various purposes during the war. Goldfish were used to detect the presence of poison gases.

The world war was eight times larger than all the other wars ever fought since the dawn of civilization; that is, the world conflagration was larger by eight times than all the 901 other wars combined.

The United States tasted the terror of air raids back in 1918. German submarines raided the coast of Maryland, sinking ships. The ports of New York and Boston were closed. New York's lights were ordered out by the police as a precaution against bombing planes which were feared to have come over with the submarines. New Yorkers were instructed that when sirens announced a raid they should immediately go to cellars. Next day volunteer recruiting exceeded all records.

THERE is a form of cannibalism in Sumatra which consists of the ritual killing and comsuption of old and infirm males. This eating of the old is thought to have its basis in a somewhat misty conception of immortality. The natives believe that by eating him, an old man's wisdom is passed on to the younger generation.

When an old warrior feels his strength declining he climbs into a tree. Below his relations chant as they perform a native dance. The old man finally drops to the ground—symbolic perhaps of the falling of ripe fruit—and is given a few well-directed blows on the head. Thereafter he is promptly consumed.

The most precious gift a Sumatran can be given is a great medicine spoon — over three feet long. They confidently believe such a spoon will insure good health.

Monkeys in Sumatra are trained to climb coconut palms and pick coconuts. They are taught to pick only the ripened fruit.

Dog meat is popular in Sumatra and on big market days the bazaars are heaped with both cooked and raw dog flesh.

It is a wedding custom in Sumatra that the woman, after being married, remain with her own family, the husband living apart. The offspring of the match also remain with the wife's family and are considered a part of it.

The jungles of Sumatra contain infinite varieties of monkeys. Also there are elephants, tigers rhinoceroses and extremely gorgeous butterflies. The plant life is amazingly luxuriant, some varieties of bamboo shooting up like colossal stalks of asparagus, at the rate of a foot or more a day.

SAFER IN VIENNA.

(Detroit Free Press).

VIENNA may not be so gay as it was before the Nazis marched in, but in one respect at least it seems likely to become a safer city to live in.

The Nazified police of Vienna are making a drive against traffic accidents, along the lines that have been tried out in Berlin with considerable success.

They are cracking down on speeding motorists.

And they are sending pedestrians, who attempt to cross the street with the lights against them, to the nearest police station for prosecution.

A few cities in this country have regulations governing pedestrians in traffic and enforce them, but the generality of Americans get very angry when it is suggested that for their own good, they should be required to observe the same rules, while walking, that they have to observe when they are behind the wheel of a motor vehicle.

They don't want to be "regimented."

And, as a result, a vast number of them are "regimented" every year in hospital beds or on the marble slabs at the morgue.

• What $750 Reward Will Mean

THERE were a good many people with power boats searching for the body of Daniel Dodge who was drowned in Georgian Bay. Two men working in a slow-moving boat, Wesley Ryder and Albert Bateman, finally found the body for which there was a reward of $1,500.

When that is halved so each gets a share it means $750.. A story from Little Current gives a rather intimate picture of what $750 will mean to the family of Wes Ryder, and it does look as if the reward had gone to the right place. The story:

On the dock at Little Current, Mrs. Ryder told the story of the family's 13-year struggle which may have ended with the finding of Dodge's body.

"Our bad luck seemed to start about 1925 when we were living at Searchmount, about 31 miles up the Algoma Central from Sault Ste. Marie. We lost everything we had then when our home was struck by lightning and burned right to the ground. Then, soon after the fire both my daughters and I were taken ill. Month after month it was the same thing. Never a month went by that we didn't have a doctor's bill of $50 or more.

"When we were burned out and everything seemed so bad, we decided to make a new start and came down here for the fishing."

In spite of her ill-health, Mrs. Ryder worked side by side with her husband. Together, they built with their own hands "The Turtle," the boat in which Mr. Ryder was searching when he and Bateman discovered the body. And it was because of the fact that their boat was homemade, a frail open fishing launch, that Mr. Ryder is in line for the reward. His boat was a slow one, much slower than those of the others employed in the fleet. As an indication of the manner in which it compared with other boats, he was allowed $16 a day for it while the 11 boats in the search were paid at the rate of $32, two dollars an hour for a 16-hour day. Because of the slowness of The Turtle, Mr. Ryder had left every day since the search began, a half hour ahead of the other boats in the fleet. This brought him to the grounds just about the same time as the other 11 boats.

With their boat built, Mr. Ryder started his fishing operations and for a time they prospered.

"Then a few years ago things began to get bad again," Mrs. Ryder said.

"Both my daughter and I were ill and the medical bills were mounting. Fishing and prices both fell off."

It was at that time, Mrs. Ryder said, that she and her husband decided to put the mortgage on their home. It was not a heavy mortgage and they felt that with improved conditions they would be able to pay it off when it became due. Some time ago it was due and the man who loaned them the money needed repayment. However, he extended it, but two weeks ago repayment became essential. Mr. Ryder's only quickly realizeable assest was an endownment insurance policy. "It was a God send we had that," Mrs. Ryder said.

"We were able to get the money we needed without difficulty and pay off the mortgage."

It was the search for Dodge on which the Ryder family built their hopes of re-instating the insurance policy.

"Every morning before Wes left he would say "Well, today is the day I find the body," Mrs. Ryder said. "Oh, I know there didn't seem to be much chance of us being the ones to find it, but it just seems now as though when one door closes another opens. If Wes gets half of the reward, he will be able to pay off the insurance loan and get equipment which we need badly to carry on our fishing."

• Said It In 1930 . . . Can Say It Now

(From the Woodstock Sentinel-Review).

THERE is one interesting and important field in which the new minister (The Hon. N. O. Hipel) has a great opportunity to make good on an election promise of 1930. That is some time back, but one has never heard of Hipel withdrawing from the position then taken in regard to the gasoline tax. He called for his own election and the defeat of the Henry government on the ground that motor taxation was not being devoted to road purposes. An election pamphlet circulated in South Waterloo and entitled "It's Time for a Change" contained the following passage on "The Fraud of the Gasoline Tax."

"During the last fiscal year the revenue of the Highway Department, including the gasoline tax, amounted to $18,016,125, while the expenditure on account of roads was only $4,855,853. What became of the difference of $12,160,272? Wast that difference used to defray the cost of new roads? The public is under the impression that its money is being so applied. But the money was not so used. The capital expenditure on account of new roads during the last fiscal year increased our road debt from $90,979,648 to $103,721,554. In other words, the government borrowed the money for that expenditure and increased the debt thereby and applied the surplus which they collected to financing their operations in other departments."

That was true as Gospel. And just to bring it up to date and give Mr. Hipel a good start in doing something about it now that it applies—in even more marked degree—to the government of which he is a member a 1938 revision is appended hereto:

"During the last fiscal year the revenue of the Highway Department, including the gasoline tax, amounted to $26,150,000, while the expenditure on account of roads was only $8,420,000. What became of the difference used to defray the cost of new roads? The public is under the impression that its money is being so applied. But the money was not so used. The capital expenditure on account of new road debt from $299,481,097 to $264,471,097. In other words, the government borrowed the money for that expenditure and increased the debt thereby and applied the surplus which they collected to financing their operations in other departments.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

AND God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good....

Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens.

And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.—Gen. i, 31; ii, 1-6.

Millbrook Y.P.U. Annual Banquet Draws Seventy Guests

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Sept. 14.—The annual banquet, under the auspices of the Young People's Union of St. Andrew's Church, was held on Monday evening, at 7 p.m., covers being laid for about seventy guests.

The decorative scheme was tastefully carried out in the Y.P.U. colors of blue and white, in the fluted runners down the length of the four tables, the candles burning in silver holders, the shades on the lights, and in other details; silver baskets of early fall blossoms added to the attractiveness of the supper tables, and baskets of flowers arranged about the large rooms made contribution to the beauty of the whole setting.

Guests at the head table included the speaker of the evening, Rev. M. Bury, of Janetville, and Mrs. Bury; the president of the hostess society, Mr. B. B. Dawson and Mrs. Dawson; the president of the Presbyterial Y.P.U., Mr. Robert Spence of Lakefield; Rev. A. L. and Mrs. Sisco; a number of the Presbyterial officers from Peterborough and other points, and the executive of the local Y.P.U.

Following the banquet, the service of which was in charge of a number of the mothers of the young people, the toast list was expediously carried through, Mr. Dawson acting as toastmaster. The toast to the King being duly honored, Ken Kidd led in a sing-song, with Phyllis Kidd at the piano, after he had, with due gravity, presented the new president of the Peterborough Presbytery, Mr. Spence, with a "car"—a tiny toy model, but indicative of the desire of the young people "to have you get about and visit our societies during the year."

Guests Welcomed

Words of warm welcome were extended from the chair to the guests of the evening, who included a number from Lakeview, Lakefield, Peterborough, Cavan, and other points, the president explaining that the local union will begin its meetings for the fall and winter months on Tuesday, September 20, at 8 p.m., with the Christian Fellowship convenor in charge.

The toast to the Young People was to have been proposed by F. L. Edworthy, but in his unavoidable absence, Mr. Dawson took his place mentioning, among other facts, that there are 100,000 young folk across Canada banded together in "similar unions to the one we represent here tonight," "The fall convention will be at Perth, and next year I expect it will gather at Peterborough."

Phyllis Kidd made a very fine response to the toast, emphasizing the privilege of belonging to the Y.P.U. with its opportunities for Christian training and living, and Bea McDowell followed with a whistling solo, her sister, Marjorie, presiding at the piano. Eleanor Bigelow proposed the toast to "The Church," and Rev. Mr. Sisco made reply, pointing out that "it is the mother of all that is great and worthwhile, and the only group of people that will stand for peace, order, and good fellowship."

The toast to "Our Guests," was proposed by Marjorie McDowell, Robert Spence of Lakefield, responding, bringing greeting from the Peterborough Presbytery executive, and mentioning especially the pleasure of again encountering so many of the young people who had been at the Leadership Training School at Oak Lake during the summer.

The guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Mr. Bury, was introduced by Mr. Dawson, and brought a stirring message on the theme, "Travelling with a Purpose," the need of a planned life, faith and prayer for the accomplishment of the objective in view, and the difference between "doing something," and "doing something worthwhile in life," being among the points emphasized.

Rev. Mr. Sisco dismissed the gathering with the benediction.

Election Is Called

WARSAW, Sept 14—(AP).—Uresident Ignace Moscicki to-day dissolved Parliament to pave the way for new elections, which are to take place within three months.

The President said he took this step because of the wide changes in public opinion since the last elections, in 1935, and because of the necessity of amending the electoral law.

(Poland's Parliament consists of the Sejm of 208 deputies, chosen by the electorate, and a Senate of 96 members, part appointed, part named by electoral colleges.)

The term of the present Parliament would have ended in 1940.

Autopsy Reveals Miner Drowned

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (C.P.). — Drowning caused the death of Nels Hansen, 45-year-old Swedish miner, whose body was found floating in Toronto Harbor on Monday, according to an autopsy performed last night at the Coroner's Building.

Friends believed Hansen was the victim of foul play, especially since blood was on his forehead. When the body was found, $1.35 was found in a pocket and a diamond ring was being worn. A watch he was reported to be wearing was not seen, nor was the $69 he was supposed to have been carrying when last seen.

In view of the autopsy report, no inquest will now be held unless further developments are forthcoming.

Goodnight Story

By MAX TRELL

All the flowers in the garden were talking about Mr. Dandy-Lion's hair turning completely white. It was a very important piece of news. Even the violets, who seldom had anything to say about anybody, whispered to their neighbors, the blue-bells. "Mr. Dandy-Lion's hair used to be yellow. And now it's white."

Knarf and Hanid, the shadow children with the turned-about names, heard what was happening, and they went down to the garden wall to see Mr. Dandy-Lion. They couldn't believe that his hair really had turned white.

But when they came to the spot where he always stood, they found that it was all quite true. His hair had turned completely white and fluffy. He looked a good deal like a powder puff standing on a green stem.

He was quite proud of himself.

Is He Handsomest?

"Of course," he said, "it's very beautiful. I suppose I'm the handsomest flower in the garden now."

"You are," said Hanid.

"You know, it makes me feel quite a bit older than I used to feel, a little like a grandfather. However, I don't mind. The summer is getting on. I'm not as young as I used to be. Some folks get completely bald when they grow old. But me—I'm different. I'll never get bald. Ah, what a lovely breeze!" he suddenly said as a puff of wind came over the garden wall.

He tossed his head in the breeze. As he did so, three or four of the little fluffs of white hair pulled themselves loose and went floating on, across the garden and over the hedge and across the road into the meadow.

"No," he said, "I don't think I'll ever get bald. But if I do—well, I won't mind that either. I can be a grandfather just the same. But I would like to have some grandchildren."

And then Hanid and Knarf smiled. "Oh, you'll have them all right. They're going to grow up in the meadow next spring!"

Mr. Dandy-Lion was very happy to hear that.

TWO WORLDS

BY MAUD McCURDY WELCH

CHAPTER 41

IT WAS good to be with Laurie again, even though the Court street room seemed darker and dingier than ever after the light and airiness of Noel's room on the third floor of the Garwood mansion.

Noel's thoughts were with Julian. He was sometimes enigmatic, she knew, but she could not help believing that his "important news" concerned Ruth Chester. There was some little hesitancy about the way Julian had spoken, also the fact that he had said it decidedly would affect their friendship. What else could he mean—except another girl, she asked herself despairingly.

Then she looked at Laurie and saw that she too looked sad. "You and Jimmy still are not seeing each other?" she asked.

Laurie shook her head. "It only seems to make things worse. I should have gone on and married Cointepas."

"No, no, Laurie," Noel said earnestly. "Some day things will come right for you and Jimmy, I'm sure of it."

The two girls talked for an hour or so. Then Mrs. Blarsom called Noel to the telephone. It was Julian He said he couldn't get away. Then asked if she could manage to see him on Sunday. She told him she expected to be off for some time on Sunday, and would call him and let him know where she would be.

When Noel went back to the room, Laurie said, "He isn't coming, is he?" She asked the question as if she knew the answer and understood the situation even before Noel nodded.

"Something happened," Noel said dispiritedly, sinking into the wooden rocker.

"I'm afraid it's Ruth Chester again," Laurie said, a flash of anger in her eyes.

Noel sat up quickly. "Why?"

"She probably made some excuse to keep him from coming. You see, she evidently thinks—" Laurie faltered, "or maybe it's true, but I simply don't believe it, and you—you musn't either."

"Laurie, what are you talking about?"

"She just—just acts so possessive toward Doctor Paige lately, and—" Laurie hesitated again. "There may not be a word of truth in it, Noel, but Ruth Chester told one of the waitresses at the De Luxe that she and Doctor Paige were engaged."

Th color drained from Noel"s face. That made it look more and more as if Julian's "important news" did concern Ruth Chester. He probably had meant to come and tell her the truth frankly, and then his courage had failed him—could that have been why he didn't come?

And then all the things Julian had said in regard to Ruth came back to emphasize the idea Noel had in mind. He had said that a marriage between himself and Ruth Chester would be most suitable. He had also said that Ruth always managed to get her own way about things.

"I think," Laurie began, almost as if reading Noel's thoughts, "if he does marry her, it will be because she probably has convinced him that she could help him in his career."

"Julian wouldn't marry a girl unless he loved her—or at least thought he did," Noel said with sudden returning confidence.

"She's probably got him hypnotized," Laurie suggested thoughtfully. "She could do it, all right. She's full of tricks."

The two girls went to bed then. Noel was restless and slept very little. The next morning she looked so pale that Laurie felt worried.

"I wish I hadn't told you that last night. "It's maybe nothing in the world but idle talk. Ruth Chester doesn't hesitate to lie. We both know that."

"I expected it's the truth," Noel answered slowly. "I might as well be prepared for it."

But she found it hard to reconcile Julian's attitude toward her, while at the same time he might be expecting to marry another girl. Still, men were queer. The more you thought you understood them, the less you found you did. They were unknown quantities.

When Laurie left for work, Noel said, "Now, listen, honey, your love story can have a happy ending. You just keep your chin up and wait and see."

Laurie shook her head. "How can it when we're up against a stone wall?" But she did seem happier when she and Noel said goodby.

Noel started back to the Garwood home early, but before going on to the house, she decided to go past stone Gate, her former home, and see if there could be any mail. She had been by once or twice before, to find a hastily scrawled letter from her aunt, and a few invitations. She wasn't expecting much mail, as nobody knew where she was.

But, surprisingly, there was a letter from her uncle. It read:

"Dear Noel: I am today depositing to your credit half the amount of the money you loaned me. Shall be able to return the balance in another three months. Am sending this on to Stone Gate as do not know your Paris address. Have a letter from Frankie but with her usual carelessness she forgot to mention it. Love to you both, Your devoted uncle."

So it looked as if the adventure automatically was ended. The money had come just when she had about decided it was no use to go on. She had won in so far as proving to Julian that she did have some of the fighting qualities of her illustrious grandfather. But so far as convincing Julian that she was different from the usual type of society girl—well, she was very far from having accomplished that. Julian evidently had had some curiosity as to how the thing would turn out. But beyond that—nothing.

Noel sighed. Frankie, her aunt, would come back before long. They would start traveling again, go anywhere, it didn't matter, chasing a silly rainbow they never would find.

But Noel wasn't yet quite ready to go back to the old life. There were a number of things to be done. And to little Betsy. She didn't know what she could do for her, but there must be something. At least she was going to try.

When she went into Betsy's room, it was to find the child flushed with fever. Noel felt that she should not have left here last night.

She went downstairs at once to see Mrs. Garwood. Hichens stopped her at the door of the woman's room. "Mrs. Garwood is still asleep," he said.

"I don't care if she is, I'm going to waken her," Noel exclaimed. She pushed past him and went in the room. Fay Garwood opened her eyes sleepily. "Go away and let me alone," she said crossly.

"I came to tell you that Betsy is ill, that she must have a doctor." Noel said firmly. "She has fever."

"She often has fever," the woman said and added. "Forget it and leave me alone." She turned over on her side as if to go back to sleep.

"You are the most unnatural mother I ever saw," Noel suddenly exclaimed angrily. "Sometimes I don't even believe Betsy is your child."

Fay Garwood sat up, her face livid. "How dare you say a thing like that? How dare you?" she screamed.

Noel walked out. Hichens was outside listening, she found when she brushed past him without a word.

All that day Noel sat by the child's bedside, trying to decide what was best to do.

That night, after Betsy was at last asleep, Noel wrote a note to Julian, explaining about the child's condition, and telling him she was thinking of bringing Betsy with her on Sunday when she would have her day off. She hadn't decided yet whether she would attempt it at this time or not. It depended on several things. But she asked Julian to remain in his office until 10 at least on Sunday night. And she would let him know definitely whether to expect her.

She wrote Julian the letter because she didn't dare phone him from the house. Then went out to mail it. The little newsboy was standing there in his usual place, a big pile of papers still unsold. Noel bought one, then remembered she had money again, she slipped a $10 bill into his hand.

Later, when she sat down to read the paper the first thing she saw was the announcement of Ruth Chester's engagement to Julian.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, September 15.

According to the lunar transits of this day, there may be a rather unpropitious and unhappy state of affairs, with much to give concern and uncertainty. There may be much of a reckless, impulsive and tempestuous nature, with tendencies to use expediency or "smartness" in trying situations or temptations. Papers may cause anxiety and speculation. Rash use of funds may bring grave predicaments.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year of anxiety, loss and unhappiness unless they exercise restraint and rigid control, shunning rash and impetuous conduct, reckless use of money and carelessness with writings and papers. There may be many temptations to do the easiest thing rather than the right one.

A child born on this day may be alert, ardent and may be carried to great lengths of speech and conduct by its impetuosity, zeal and audacity. And, while well-meaning it may plunge into extravagance, show, losses and difficulties of a regrettable nature. It should be taken in hand in infancy for training and discipline.

Dewey's 14-Word Question Costs Case, Brands Hinds Fight Mis-Trial

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP).—Because of a 14-word question, District Attorney Thomas Dewey must begin all over again his attempt to convict James Hines of selling political protection to the underworld.

Justice Ferdinand Pecora ordered a mistrial yesterday on the grounds that the youthful prosecutor by a verbal slip had "fatally prejudiced" the jury against the Tammany district leader.

The decision nullified four weeks of exciting testimony by which Dewey had sought to prove that Hines had served as political "fixer" for the multi-million dollar policy lottery racket operated by the late gangster, Dutch Schultz.

It was certain, however, that Dewey, smarting under his most serious rebuff since he began his career in racket "busting," would force another trial. Whether he would seek a new indictment remained unknown.

The "break" that ended the first trial came last Saturday near the end of a trying day as Dewey was cross-examining Lyon Boston, former assistant district attorney. Questioning Boston on the testimony given by William Morgan, Jr., city commissioner of markets, before a special grand jury, Dewey asked:

"Don't you remember any testimony about Hines and the poultry racket there by him?"

Lloyd Stryker, 53-year-old defence attorney who had engaged for weeks in a bitter duel of wits with the young prosecutor, immediately leaped to his feet and demanded a mis-trial.

After deliberations over the week-end Justice Pecora, in a two-hour oral decision in a locked courtroom, upheld Stryker's rule of law forbidding submission of evidence linking a defendant to a crime for which he is not standing trial.

Social Ill Are Caused By Economic Ills

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 14—Social Credit, the economic theory of Major C. H. Douglas, was forcefully presented before Rotarians here Monday by Dr. R. W. Frank, Peterborough. The speaker, who during the summer attended the session of the Canadian Institute of Economics held at Lake Couchiching, stated that he was convinced the Social Credit doctrine offered the only hope for humanity. Most of our social ills—fifty per cent. of the insanity, seventy-five per cent of the suicides, all the poverty and all of the wars are caused by our economic ills which would be remedied if this credit plan were put into effect.

That Major Douglas has made a greater contribution to human happiness than any other living person is the statement made by one of the world's outstanding economists stated the speaker and yet a persistent barrage of criticism from the Canadian press has resulted in a great misconception of this whole theory.

Lack of Sympathy

"Although we have just passed through eight years of the worst depression the world has ever known there is a general lack of sympathy for those unfortunate people without jobs or money. We are just lucky. Tens of thousands are walking the streets without hope. Nor will we ever know better times so long as we cling to our dead financial system.

"How much longer are we going to sit back and repudiate our debts? We in Canada have the greatest opportunity to lead the world towards a new era of economic thought. The policy of leaving the corrective measures to natural forces can accomplish exactly nothing. We made these laws and we alone have the power to change them. It was not over production but under consumption which precipitated the crash of 1929 and the same condition exists today. Everyone would buy if they had the purchasing power."

Present Day Banking

Referring to banks in the present economic set up the speaker urged his listeners to remember that less than one per cent of all our money was actually backed by gold. Dr. Frank told of the drift from the gold standard when in 1914 the war precipitated a rush to the banks by people in England who were demanding gold for their currency.

"Banks," continued Dr. Frank, "are constantly creating credit as they make loans and destroying it as the loans are paid off. That is the basis of all banking and has been for the past 250 years. It is done on what is known as the reserve principal and by this they are enabled to lend $10.00 for every dollar they have on reserve credit."

"Financial credit," continued the speaker, "must be made equal and kept equal to the consuming capacity and this can be done by consumer bonuses—the issuing of financial credit against the real credit of the country." Reminding his audience that the difference between this and inflation lay in the fact that by this system there would be an increase of money together with an increase of consumer goods the speaker explained that unemployment would not only cease but would become impossible.

"I am convinced that Premier Aberhart in view of his statements and promises before the election did not understand Social Credit," and the speaker continued that the lack of success in the Western province was merely due to the inability of the provincial government to enact the necessary legislation without federal accent.

It will take a great deal of mental re-adjustment to proceed along these or similar lines for in our economic thinking we are still in the dark ages. The time is at hand to do something and if we do not take advantage of this golden opportunity we will fall from our economic heights even as did ancient Rome and Greece.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

MORE ABOUT—Czechs Move

waiting the next move by Henlein's followers after advising the Sudeten Germans that the government was ready to discuss the Sudeten demands if they were presented by a delegation in Prague.

Reports persisted that Henlein himself might present a demand for a plebiscite to the government as widespread agitation for such action continued in Sudeten German territory.

The Czech Government took no official notice of the Sudeten ultimatum, but gave a clear indication that while the demands would be considered if presented in Prague, there was no intention at present of revoking martial law.

Czechs generally admitted the gravity of the situation and foresaw a continuing threat to peace, perhaps of all Europe, for the next 24 hours. They declined to predict the course of events for that critical period.

Demands increased for a plebiscite in the Sudeten regions, to determine by whom the German speaking minority should be governed.

There were indications also of new British efforts to effect a resumption of peaceful negotiations with the Prague Government, broken off abruptly by the Sudeten Party leaders.

Many Troops Ready

The troop concentration in riotous Sudeten towns was said to be "considerable." Travellers on western and northern highways saw numerous truckloads of soldiers.

The cabinet met through the night and until early this morning to consider demands of Henlein, former athletic instructor who leads the Sudetens in their campaign for independence in self-government with the endorsement of Chancellor Hitler of Germany.

There was no communique after adjournment, but government attitude was said by reliable informants to be:

President Benes is determined to maintain order, but the way is open for peaceful negotiation.

The government cannot accept the demands sent from Eger, Sudeten border town, for revocation of martial law, withdrawal of special police, reduction of gendarmerie to normal size, and recall of military units in the Sudeten regions.

The Sudetens had allowed six hours for the granting of their demands, and the time limit was considered to have expired at 1.30 a.m., after which the Sudeten party leaders said they would "decline all responsibility for all future developments."

Continuing display of the Swastika, flag of Nazi Germany, was coupled with more disturbances in the Sudeten areas and increasing demands for a plebiscite—by which the 3,500,000 Sudetens, before the world war under the Austro-Hungarian empire, would decide whether they should be annexed by Germany.

MORE ABOUT—
Congress Asks

Labor Board late in the day after the convention made good headway in passing a long list of miscellaneous resolutions.

They included a demand for abolition of one man street cars and busses and trucks, desire for more safety measures for seamen and proposals for a six hour day, five-day week.

Cheer Unity Plea.

Between sessions of considering resolutions, the Congress heard John C. Wilson, member of the International Labor Office at Geneva and former member of the American Federation of Labor executive. Cheers greeting his plea for unity in Labor's ranks were interpreted as a happy omen for tomorrow's important unity debate.

Members are faced with the question of deciding what should be done about the presence in the Congress of Committee for Industrial Organization unions whose American affiliates had their charters revoked by the American Federation of Labor last year. Some observers predicted a tussle but said when it ended the C.I.O. unions still would be within the Congress and final decision on their status would be left to the executive.

Ingles called the board chairman "a dirt farmer from Saskatchewan," while John Noble, A.F. of L. organizer for Ontario, said Ontario's action in going to Saskatchewan for a man to head the board "indicated clearly they never intended it (the Industrial Standards Act) to be enforced."

Ontario Farmers Putting In Silos Most Favorable Crop Of Corn

TORONTO, Sept 14. — (CP). — Ontario farmers are silaging a favorable corn crop and fall wheat seeding is general throughout Western and Southern Ontario, according to the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Recent rains have improved the seed bed in Southern and Western Ontario, but Frontenac and Glengarry counties in Eastern Ontario need rains for seeding and fall pastures. Prescott and Russell counties reported their poorest red clover seed crops in years, although acreage reached near-record proportions.

Light frosts in Wellington county have scarcely damaged one of the best corn crops in years, but heavy frosts in Frontenac damaged corn there, and Sudbury and Algoma in Northern Ontario returned similar reports.

Sudbury farmers said their grain in many cases was not worth threshing and the potato yield was light. Potatoes were frozen badly in the Algoma district last week. Peterborough's potato growers lost much of their crop through disease.

Middlesex reported an excellent tobacco crop was almost harvested and Brant tobacco harvesting will finish this week.

World Learns Nothing

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Sept. 14—(CP-Havas). — General Jan Smuts told an audience here last night that the "great nations from which we sprang have not learned their lesson."

Referring to the European situation he said. "The old world learns nothing and forgets nothing. We have learned to make war and also to make peace.

"They never seem able to make peace."

No Trace Found Of Crash In Anstruther

Fears that an aeroplane had crashed in the heavily timbered Anstruther district sent Forest Rangers and settlers scouring the bushland near Serpentine Lake about ten miles north of Apsley all day Tuesday but their search failed to reveal any wreckage.

The hunt began when Gordon Reynolds, lookout man on a fire tower phoned headquarters at Apsley that he had observed a plane apparently crash in the forest two miles west of his station in Anstruther. The despatcher Barney Blasdorah, phoned Bancroft and the ranger there notified H. W. Crosbie, District Forester at Tweed. A Forestry Department plane was despatched to the section where the first plane disappeared and Pilot McDougall searched the ground for some time but was unable to note any signs of a wrecked plane.

Second Report of Crash

At two o'clock Tuesday afternoon Earle Trotter, a settler in Anstruther reported that he also had seen a plane in difficulties early yesterday morning, and he added that the pilot had cut the engine while he watched the high flying machine. Milton Brault of Bancroft headed a search party of fire rangers and volunteers through the woods on foot between Eel's Lake and Serpentine Lake and the men worked all yesterday afternoon returning last evening with no news to verify the theory that the plane had crashed.

Description given of the plane is of little use as the two men who saw it believe it is a biplane, but could not say whether it was equipped with wheels or pontoons. The country where it is believed to have crashed is wild and rugged, heavily timbered and dotted with numerous lakes. No reports of missing planes have been received, and the search has been discontinued.

CAMPBELLFORD

Social Evening Held By Y.P.U.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 14. — Meeting for their first scheduled gathering of the season, members of St. John's Young People's Union held a social evening in the Sunday School rooms of that church on Monday evening. A large number attended and considerable disappointment was expressed that inclement weather had forced a postponement of the weiner roast slated for the evening. The meeting instead took the form of a worship service and concluded by serving beans, marshmallows and coffee. Taking a leading part in the impromptu program were Miss Ruth Palliser, who admirably filled the gap with a number of poems, and Harolde Kitney, who lead the group in a brief sing-song. The balance of the evening was devoted to a number of amusing games which were directed by Donald Holmes.

Y.P.S. Meets.

St. Andrew's Young People's Society held their first meeting of the season on Monday evening. The vice-president presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. B. Grills, who signified her intention of resigning from the position during the summer. Although a comparatively small number attended the meeting was opened with a brief devotional period, following which arrangements were made for the reorganization of the society at their next scheduled gathering. Plans for the program of the organization meeting were place in the hands of Miss Dorothy Reynolds.

Report Ordered On Death Of Harriet Reid

Bruises on the head and hands of the body of 71-year-old Harriet Reid, who died in the Ontario Hospital at Whitby Sunday and found by Coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young, has resulted in the Attorney-General's Department being notified yesterday afternoon. The latter has ordered a full report on the woman's death.

Dr. Young refused to reveal the name of his informant who had suggested that he view the body and if necessary report his observations to the proper authorities. Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., when asked if he had been consulted on the case stated he had nothing for publication.

Ira A. Humphries, Deputy Attorney-General, admitted that he had requested a report on the case, but declared he knew little about the circumstances at the present time.

"I do not know if an investigation has been already held at Whitby," said Mr. Humphries. "Usually there is one held when a person dies in an institution. I expect to receive a full report very soon."

Miss Reid is one of the last survivors of a fine old family that settled this section more than a century ago. She was for many years a school teacher, and also taught a Sunday School class for years. Fifteen years ago she took up residence at the Anson House, and failing health forced her removal to Whitby about twelve months ago. Her nearest relative in this city is her brother, Arthur, of Lansdowne street, who is in his eightieth year and is blind.

The body of Miss Reid rested in the funeral home of A. Comstock & Sons, and was buried in Little Lake Cemetery this afternoon.

Alderman Robert S. Cotton, was sworn in by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., as a Justice of the Peace. MOVING FURNITURE.

A. D. Runions of the Kemptville Agricultural School was in Peterborough on Monday making arrangements to have his furniture moved to the house he will now occupy on the school farm. "There has been no chance of getting a house there up to the present," said Mr. Runions, "but with a change in the staff there was a vacant dwelling and now we are going to start housekeeping once more. It was necessary to live in residence there for quite a while, but the moving's on now." Mr. Runions reported that two or three of the young farmers from Peterborough County were making plans to attend the Kemptville school this term.

Tablet Erected To Memory Of Dr. Potter

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—Members of the congregation of MacVicar Memorial Church on Sunday commemorated a notable pastorate of more than a quarter of a century with the unveiling of a bronze tablet in memory of the late Rev. James G. Potter, M.A., D.D.

The unveiling was carried out at the close of the morning service in the presence of many members of the Church and visitors, including Mayor Joseph Beaubien and aldermen of Outremont; Ald. Dave Rochon of the Montreal Council and Mrs. Rochon, and officers and members of Royal Albert Lodge, A.F. and A.M., of which Dr. Potter was for many years the chaplain, and members of sister lodges.

The tablet was unveiled by John McFarlane, representative elder of the church, with the words: "To the glory of God, I unveil this memorial, erected by the congregation to the memory of James G. Potter in humble gratitude for his faithful and distinguished service."

The memorial tablet is of bronze surmounted by a gothic cross. The inscription, in raised letters, is as follows: "To the glory of God and in memory of the Rev. James G. Potter, M.A., D.D., for 25 years minister of this Church. Ordained May 14th, 1880, died October 24th, 1937. This tablet is erected and an endowment fund established by the congregation in loving remembrance of his faith and unwearied labors among them."

Robert J. Bell, chairman of the board of managers of the church, accepted the tablet officially on behalf of the congregation. The services were conducted by Rev. C. Ritchie Bell, B.A., B.D., minister of the Church, and the special preacher was Rev. Frank W. Alsatian Pup Is Believed Mad

A six-months-old Alsatian Shepherd pup frightened residents of Bethune street when it went into hysterics Tuesday night and began bouncing back and forth between two walls of houses about six feet apart.

Clarence Blodgett the dog catcher lassoed the dog, then took the animal to the pound where it is being kept in a separate pen. Dr. Thomas Johnston, veterinarian for the Humane Society, intends to examine the dog today. The dog catcher is of the opinion the animal has been driven mad by a common dog disease. The animal was snapping and frothing at the mouth when taken a prisoner.

The owner of the dog cannot be found, and it was discovered between two houses on Bethune street, south of King. Hanging to its collar was a 1938 dog tag issued in the city of Oshawa.

Term In Jail Given Man Selling Liquor

Maxwell Vincent was convicted of selling liquor before Magistrate A. E. Gee in city court today and sentenced to two months in jail with no option of a fine. He was defended by W. J. A. Fair, with Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., prosecuting.

Contradictory evidence featured the case which lasted three hours and the entire gallery of spectators went without dinner to hear the verdict. Basil Reid now serving a two months term for illegal possession was the main Crown witness and testified he had purchased a bottle of gin from Vincent for $1.25 and was later arrested by Traffic Officer Clarke when he was taking a drink from the bottle in a car in Jackson Park. Clarke seized the liquor and it was produced as an exhibit. Clinton Reid, brother of Basil corroborated much of his brother's evidence except that he had not entered the Vincent home but had waited outside in a car with a girl, who contributed twenty-five cents when Basil came out once saying he needed another quarter.

Max Vincent, taking the stand in his own behalf said he had never seen Reid before in his life until Reid contacted him and told Vincent he would tell the court Mrs. Vincent had sold him the liquor unless Vincent paid any fine that might be imposed as a result of Reid being caught my police in Jackson Park. Vincent added that on the night in question he had not been home between the hours of six and eleven but had been downtown with a friend, Alfred Marshall. He dubbed Reid "as the biggest liar he ever met."

Told Same Story

Marshall told the same story, and added that he was a boarder at Vincents during the month of July and most of August and remembered going downtown the night in question with Vincent because they had to walk and the car was broke down. He further testified that during the seven weeks stay at the Vincent home he had not had one drink in the house.

Clinton Reid in his testimony said Mr. and Mrs. Vincent had come to the Reid home and told Basil that they would pay his fine if he would not tell police where he had purchased the liquor. Lawyer Fair failed to shake his evidence on this point, and he denied that his brother had at anytime threatened to squeal on Vincent unless the fine were paid.

Constable Gordon Puffer was called by Mr. McElderry to sample the contents of the bottle, and after taking a drink from the pint flask which was labelled John Collins Gin, stated in his opinion it was gin and intoxicating. Mr. Fair made strenuous objection to such a procedure saying that unless Puffer was identified as an expert at samling liquor the test should not be permitted.

Mr. Gee—The court understands your objection, he is not being produced as an expert merely as the ordinary garden variety and will give his opinion as to the contents."

At the conclusion of the evidence His Worship stated the Crown had presented a clear cut case and the main witnesses for the Crown had not hesitated nor quibbled. He added he was not impressed by the evidence given by Marshall nor was he accepting Vincent's evidence but he added he believed Vincent may be mistaken on the night and because of that had testified as he did.

He was found guilty and the Magistrate dealt with the case as a second offence, the information recording that Vincent had previously on January 12h of this year been convicted of having liquor in his possession while being an interdicted person.

Drowning Averted

HASTINGS, Sept. 14.—A drowning was narrowly averted here this morning when a fisherman who had been standing at the railing overlopking the rapids took a fit and hung for several moments on the edge of the cliff. Paul Barry and Claud Hoard, who were near by, noticed the man and got to him before he dropped over the 20-foot cliff.

Street Taggers Are Needed For Saturday

"There are a number of firms in the city that could help our society and are not doing so," said Rachel M. Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday afternoon. At Miss Young's suggestion, a committee was appointed to contact such firms personally.

Reporting for Mrs. J. S. Fanning, who is absent from the city, Miss Young stated that plans were well under control for the tag day to be held Saturday, September 17, but that there is still need for more street taggers.

Ald. Walter Stocker reported that the metal roofs at the Shelter were covered with small pin-holes caused by rust, and badly in need of repair. He was authorized by the board to have the roofs covered with tar-paper at an approximate cost of $40. Ald. James Dutton recommended that the City Council do everything possible toward assuming the cost of the hospital care of the society wards, and moved that the society seek the advice of its solicitor, T. J. Carley, K.C., to determine the status of the society with regard to the Hospitalization Act.

A change in the Government rating from E to D, which took effect the first of April, means a yearly increase in grant to the society of $500. The correspondence report by the secretary showed that $165.65 had been left to the society by the Robert W. Reid estate.

Life Memberships

The suggestion was made by Rev. P. J. Kelly that interest might be increased in the financial receipts of the society if a life membership were granted to contributors. This met with the approval of the board, and a committee of five was appointed to look into the matter and bring it before the board at the next meeting. Headed by Rev. Kelly as chairman, the committee is as follows: Reeve W. A. Anderson, E. B. Fowler, Rev. R. T. F. Brain, Mrs. W. J. Oke.

In her report, Miss Young said: "We are facing a new season, one that is going to present new problems to us. Business does not appear to have improved, and this society will likely feel the effects of it. At no time has there been a greater need for each one of us to face this situation with an honesty of purpose and a full realization that it is children who are depending on us to work together to provide for them their rightful opportunity."

The month of June, stated Miss Young, was started with a responsibility for 46 families, and the month of September with 61 families, an increase of 15 families. During the month of August ten families not previously known to the society were referred to it for service. In the children directly under the society's care, there has been an increase from 92 to 99. August statistics showed that the number of visits made by Miss Young were 176, office interviews 109, letters sent out 158, and number of addresses 3.

Two Car Crashes Near Norwood

Two car crashes in the vicinity of Norwood Village during the last few days resulted in considerable damage to all vehicles concerned, but no persons were injured in any of the four cars involved.

On the Norwood-Hastings road a car owned and driven by J. Irwin, of Beaverton, crashed into another vehicle being driven in a southerly direction by W. Burgess, of Norwood. It is believed that a car going in the same direction as Burgess and ahead of him had blinding headlights which caused Irwin to hug the shoulder of the road, and then when he turned back on the travelled portion his car met the Burgess machine as he was temporarily blinded by the headlight glare. A mutual settlement was reached and all escaped injury.

On Tuesday a car owned by George Baker, of Norwood, was making a left-hand turn off highway No. 7 into a farm lane, when it was struck by another car owned and driven by George Bible, of Toronto.

THE CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE BANQUET will be held in ST. ALPHONSUS LYCEUM THURSDAY NOON (12.00 p.m.) All Catholic women of the city are cordially invited.

PETERBOROUGH LACROSSE TEAM WINS FIRST GAME IN PLAYOFFS

Woodbridge Beaten By 19 To 9 As Petes Run Wild On End After Close Battle Most Of Way

Peterborough's hustling lacrosse team got away to a great start in the O.A.L.A. Senior B playoffs on Tuesday night when they invaded Woodbridge and trimmed the Rowntree-coached team of that town 19 goals to 9. The second game will be played here on Friday night, and the Petes should settle the argument then, taking the series in two straight.

Last night's game until the last period was nothing in the nature of a walkaway for the winners, however. True the Petes were in front at the end of each period, but their margin was small until the last session, and then an unlucky break for Woodbridge broke the game wide open. A few seconds after the period started Franklin, the Woodbridge goalie, was hurt by a hard shot from Emmett Creighton, and from then on goals came quickly.

The Randle outfit led 4 to 2 at the close of the first period, but were outscored 5 goals to 4 in the second, and thus only had a one-goal lead at half-time. They picked up another in the third session and were leading 11 to 9 when the last chapter opened. Then came the accident to Franklin and the Petes ran in eight fast goals.

The whole Peterborough team went well and the scoring points were fairly widely distributed. The teams and summary:

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (A.P.). — They say now that Leo Durocher and Jimmy Wilson have the inside track for the Brooklyn managerial job, with Charlie Dressen of Nashville not yet out of the picture.... Frankie Frisch, who is sitting on his porch at New Rochelle and eating fresh corn for supper, probably will hook up with the Giants—where he belongs....Young Jack Sharkey, who shows a lot of promise as a featherweight, has placed himself under the wing of Max Waxman, who doubles as business mnaager for Jack Dempsey.

Gil Hunt, who bowled over Bobby Riggs in the tennis nationals, is making a rep as the Dizzy Dean of big time tennis....Early on the morning of the day he was to meet Riggs, a tennis official found him prowling the streets...."I need the exercise," said Gil, and let it go at that....P.S.: So did the Forest Hills office....Recession note: Junior colleges on the Minnesota iron ranges report record football turnouts....No work in the mines, so the boys are going to play a bit.

Thanks a million to Bert Wetmore, acting news editor of the Halifax, N.S., Mail, for paying this collum its nicest compliment. . . . On the occasion of our third anniversary, Mr. Wetmore ran this album of song at the top of colums 1 and 2 on the front page....I don't know what the idea was, but it sure looked good up there and we got a good old thrill out of it.

Maj. Frank Wandle, Yale's famus football trainer, is being treated for a stroke in New Orleans and is doing fine....Old Walter Johnson still is pitching to win....He has just won the Republican nomination for commissioner of Montgomery County, Md., his first fling at politics....As usual, the "big train" won in a breeze.

Red Wings Upset Bears 3-2

(By the Canadian Press.)

A veteran hurler and a rookie pitcher today put Buffalo Bisons and Rochester Red Wings respectively over their first hurdles in the International League race for a place in the little world series.

Floyd Beal, just up from Ashville of the Piedmont League, turned the trick for the Red Wings in an upset 3-2 victory yesterday over Newark Bears who finished well in front in the regular International League season.

While Beal was knocking in runs for the Wings, George Uhle, coach of the Buffalo Bisons, stepped into the breach and protected a 3-2 margin by striking out the third Syracuse Chief in the ninth inning with bases loaded.

Despite Red Wings' win in the opener of their series with Newark for the Governor's Cup, the Bears still were favored to clinch the best five of seven games engagement on the basis of their walk-away finish in the regular season.
